

SCHOOL DAYS OVER

Nine Graduate from the Genoa High School Friday Night

FINE ADDRESS BY KINGSFORD

Class Night Program was Exceptionally Good while the Music on Both Nights was the Best Ever Heard in Genoa—Alumni Picnic

Four boys and five girls graduated from the Genoa high school last Friday evening, the excellent program being presented before a large and appreciative audience. The music by Dr. Patterson's orchestra was immense, eliciting no end of praise and favorable comment from the audience. Some of the most difficult selections were rendered in a manner that would have done the composer's heart good.

Everett Ryan's salutatory was about as good a composition as one could anticipate from the lips of a high school student and he delivered it in a pleasing manner. Miss Mary Aurner as valedictorian acquitted herself equally as well, leaving a most favorable impression with the audience.

Prof. A. S. Kingsford of Aurora delivered a masterful address, it being out of the ordinary. The words of advice were good for everyone in the audience as well as those of the class. He is an orator of pleasing personality, and his wide experience in educational fields makes him a resourceful speaker.

The hall was filled, there being only a few vacant seats. Approximately four hundred people were present.

The class night program on Thursday evening was a little different than that of former years, the class play being eliminated and a varied program put on. The music by the Toenniges quartet was up to the Toenniges standard, and that means all that the word "music" implies.

The readings by Miss Edith Reed and Marion Bagley were received with well earned applause by the audience as were the class prophecies by Everett Ryan and piano solo by Dillon Patterson.

The one act drama, "The Teeth of the Gift Horse," was put on well, all the characters being good.

The only thing to mar the joyous commencement week festivities was the terrific storm on class night. The rain came down in torrents at the time the doors of the hall were opened, causing many down town people to stay at home and making the trip for the people from the country almost prohibitive.

The class of 1914 can always look back to commencement week, however, with a feeling of having done their work well and of their efforts having left a lasting and favorable impression with the people of Genoa.

The time for preparation of the two programs was short and for the manner in which things were rounded into shape Miss Zada Corson must be given great credit.

The following received diplomas:

- Everett Ryan of Irene.
- Mary Aurner of Kingston.
- Maynard Corson.
- May Ritter.
- Dillon Patterson.
- Violet Graham.
- Frank Schrader of Kingston.
- Edith Reed.
- Marion Bagley.

Mr. Stone's Luck.
When the agent paid Mrs. Stone the amount of insurance her husband had carried, according to Everybody's Magazine, he asked her to take out a policy on her own life. "I believe I will," she said, "as my husband had such good luck."

How a Portion of the Main Group of Exhibit Palaces at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Looks Ten Months Before the Gates Open

THIS view, taken from the roof of the completed Palace of Education and Social Economy, shows nearly fifty acres under roof. Along the bay shore, beginning at the left, are the Palaces of Food Products, Agriculture, Transportation and Mines. In the distance is the completed Palace of Machinery, covering about nine acres, in which exhibits are now being installed. To the right are the Palaces of Liberal Arts, Manufactures and Varied Industries. In the left background is the Golden Gate. The photograph was taken during the latter part of March, and great progress has been made since that time. The picture was selected because it shows the vastness of the building operations.

THE GANG IS HERE

Elgin Daily News States that Gasoline Line Will Resume

Reorganization of the Woodstock-Sycamore Traction Railroad company, which has experienced considerable financial difficulties during the past year, is expected to be concluded next week. Resumption of traffic on the line will follow immediately. According to Attorney T. E. Ryan of St. Charles, who represents a large per cent of the stock and bond holders, everything is harmonious now in the road's affairs. He says that the old management has been almost entirely retired and that the new interests have already taken control.

"We have gangs of men at work on the line putting it in condition for immediate use," declared Mr. Ryan. "Cars will be operated within ten days and a regular schedule will be inaugurated at an early date. The cars are being repaired also."

At present the road connects Sycamore and Marengo. It is the plan of the new management to extend it to Woodstock during the summer. A portion of the road bed between Marengo and Woodstock has already been prepared.—Elgin News.

John Seymour, the contractor who built the road, and who has been in litigation with the company for some time over settlement, went to Chicago Wednesday morning to engage labor for getting the road in shape for traffic.

Mr. Seymour states that he has reached a temporary settlement with the company and that one of the cars will soon be in commission. Charles Cole was put to work at the car barn Wednesday morning.

Burlington will Celebrate
The village of Burlington will celebrate the Fourth of July, a program worthy a city several times its size having been arranged. A dance platform 60x100 feet will be constructed, a street vaudeville has been booked, ball game between Genoa and Elgin, street sports galore, speech by Attorney Abbott of Elgin, a merry-go-round, and all other stunts and attractions which usually go with a celebration. The fact that Burlington is the only oasis in this great belt of dry territory will insure a crowd on the fourth.

Butter up One-Half
Butter climbed another half cent on the Elgin board of trade Monday, 152 tubs being sold to J. P. Younger at 26 3/4 cents per pound. There is a noticeable scarcity of butter throughout the middle west.

FARMERS NOT ENTIRELY EXEMPT

Industrial Board says Each Case Must Govern Itself and be Decided on its Own Merits

In our issue of last week we stated that the farmer did come under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act, citing a case in which the farmer has been relieved of liability in case of accident.

A. O. Fosse is in receipt of the following letter from W. V. Conly, Secretary of the Industrial Board of the State of Illinois:

"Replying to your letter on the 28th ultimo will state that the Industrial Board has made no general ruling as to whether or not farmers are subject to the Workmen's Compensation Act."

"We have two cases in which farmers were the employers, and the Industrial Board has ruled in one case the farmer was subject, and in the other that he was not liable under the Compensation Act."

"Each individual case must govern itself and be decided on its own merits."

It is the opinion of the writer (Mr. Conly) that the farmers generally are subject to this act.

NEW GARAGE FIRM

Ammon Frazier and Son Purchase Machinery and Equipment of Robert Furr

Robert Furr, who has been conducting an automobile garage in the new Whipple building on Emmett street, sold his equipment to Ammon Frazier and son this week, the new firm taking possession Monday. Mr. Furr recently went thru an operation for appendicitis and owing to his weakened condition he will take a long rest. Since coming to Genoa Bob has made many friends, courtesy and affability being two of his valuable assets.

The new firm is not unknown to Genoa people, the older member having conducted a farm north of the city for many years. The son recently graduated from an automobile school in Chicago and is especially fitted to take care of the wants of auto owners. They have two touring cars and will do a livery business, both being licensed drivers.

The Little Things

To show how little things pile up, an exchange remarks that: One more grain of wheat on each stalk would add fully 20,000,000 bushels to our harvest this summer. If president Rea could get a 2-cent stamp more every time his railroad hauls a ton of freight 10 miles he could double the Pennsylvania's dividend. When the steel trust can figure out how to get 10 cents profit more each day on the work of every employe it can increase its dividend disbursements by $10,000,000.

GENOA WINS A GAME

Rockford Maroons Defeated Last Sunday to the Tune of Five to Two

In a gilt edge game at the local base ball park last Sunday the Genoa team defeated the Rockford Maroons five to two. The Genoa line-up was strengthened with a battery from Elgin and these two have been signed for the balance of the season, provided the fans turn out and support the team. The visitors were considered one of Rockford's best amateur teams. They did put up a good game, but Genoa did a little better.

CHAUTAUQUA DATE SET

Lincoln Syndicate will Put on Annual Event in Genoa July 31-August 5

Genoa's chautauqua will be held this year during the week beginning July 31 and ending August 5. The guarantors of the entertainment will soon have a meeting and the committees appointed to take charge of the various preliminary tasks. Last year Dr A. M. Hill was elected president of the club and C. D. Schoonmaker secretary.

Alumni Picnic

Members of the Genoa High School Alumni Association and their friends held a picnic down on the river banks Monday evening. The weather was ideal for the event, it being neither too hot nor too cold. A full moon without a cloud to interfere, furnished plenty of light. A bountiful lunch was served.

Thos. Nelson Dead

Thos. Nelson passed away at his home in this city Monday, June 8, after a long illness. Funeral services were held at the home Wednesday afternoon, interment taking place in Genoa cemetery. The Nelson family moved to Genoa from Kirkland a few years ago. The deceased was fifty-three years of age.

TEACHERS ALL ENGAGED

Prospects for a Good School Next Year with Able Man at the Head

At a meeting of the board of education recently Mr. O. E. Taylor of Galena, Illinois, was selected from several dozen applicants and the board members feel that they have made no mistake. He is strongly endorsed by members of the Illinois faculty and his record in other cities has been invariably of the highest order. He was superintendent of the Warren, Ill., schools for five years and could have returned for the sixth year had he so desired. In East Dubuque he made a similar record. Mr. Taylor has a family of three children. He expects to move to Genoa within a week and occupy the Crawford house on Genoa street.

All the other teachers will return next fall except Miss Barr, who will teach in her home town, Trear, Iowa. Miss Mary Pierce, daughter of Rev. R. E. Pierce of this city, has been engaged to fill the position left vacant by Miss Barr. She graduated from Denver college this spring. Miss Pierce is a pleasant little lady and should make an excellent primary teacher.

The board is fortunate in re-engaging the services of the other teachers, all of whom have made good during the past year and some of them in years before. Following is the list of teachers. Superintendent—O. E. Taylor of Galena.

- Principal—Mrs. Margaret Spraker of Chicago.
- Science—Miss Ruth Morgan of Evanston.
- Grammar—Mrs. Esther Snyder of Genoa.
- Fifth and Sixth—Miss Cora Christian of Sycamore.
- Third room—Miss Keuhl of Burlington.
- Second primary—Miss Mary Pierce of Genoa.
- First primary—Miss Birdie Drake of Genoa.

Increase in Autos

At a recent meeting held in Lewistown to explain the workings of the Tice road law, S. E. Bradt, secretary of the state highway commission, stated that the hard roads are bound to come and gave statistics to prove that the automobile traffic will force it. In 1905, statistics show, 95 per cent of the traffic consisted of conveyances drawn by horses and five per cent by automobiles. In 1910 there was 50 per cent by each and in 1911, the date upon which the last estimate was made, the automobile was 60 per cent and the travel by horses 40 per cent.

MISSING LETTER!

With this issue the Republican-Journal is running "Missing Letter" advertisements of representative Genoa business firms. Each of these advertisements contain unusual inducements worth ACTUAL CASH to anyone desiring to purchase goods in the lines offered.

All readers of this paper should carefully read these advertisements, study them, digest the good things offered and profit thereby. From each advertisement one letter has been intentionally omitted. The person who first correctly informs us of these missing letters will receive a cash prize of $1.00; the second person will receive a cash prize of 50c.

These prizes will be given to the persons residing in the city who find the missing letters and mails the list to the Republican-Journal editor. The same prizes will be given to contestants residing in the country or on the rural routes. To designate the difference between city residents and those in the country, we will make this distinction. All those getting their mail at the postoffice in Genoa, other than mail routes, will be considered residents of this city. The country contestants will be considered those who get their mail on rural routes out of Genoa or from any other postoffice.

Allow us to give you a pointer: When you receive this issue of the Republican Journal, take a piece of paper and sit down and write the name of the first advertiser appearing on the double page made up exclusively of booster announcements. When you have found the missing letter, write down after the name the missing letter, also the word from which it is taken. Continue thus with all advertisements. No person shall be allowed more than one prize.

RULE NO. 1

The territory covered by this contest will be divided into two districts equal prizes being awarded in each district, and the districts to be known as the Genoa district and the outside district.

The Genoa district will include all those who get their mail at this postoffice, other than the rural routes.

The outside district will include all patrons of the rural routes out of Genoa and all persons who get their mail from any other postoffice.

RULE NO. 2

From each advertisement in the list of "Missing Letter Contest" ads one letter has been intentionally omitted. The person who first tells us the missing letters will receive cash prizes as follows:

- 1st prize—City district, $1.00.
- 2nd prize—City district, 50c.
- 3rd prize—Outside district, $1.00.
- 4th prize—Outside district, 50c.
- A fifth cash prize of $1.00 will be given to the person (either district) who makes the longest sentence (in count of words) using only the missing letters of the ads., it being understood that the missing letter may be used any number of times in the sentence.

All answers to the "Missing Letter Contest" must reach the office of the Republican-Journal at Genoa, sealed in an envelope, either sent by mail or delivered in person. As the replies are received they will be labeled with the contestant's name and numbered in order as received, and the time received will be written thereon. They will be written in the order as numbered.

RULE NO. 3

No person shall be entitled to more than one prize.

RULE NO. 4

Employees of the Republican-Journal or members of their families are not eligible to the contest.

RULE NO. 5

The contest is for the issue of the Republican-Journal, dated June 12, 1914, only; so send in your answers at once.

Address all communications in care of the BOOSTER DEPARTMENT.

The Fly Question

Killing flies is of little permanent benefit. So long as there is abundant food for them in the shape of putrescible dirt, and breeding places in the shape of manure, garbage, etc., nature will see to it that a sufficient supply are on hand to clean up after careless humans. Theoretically one pair of flies which have escaped the swatter could in a season become the ancestors to enough to give even New York or Chicago its customary swarm. The only remedy for the fly pest is to remove the breeding places, as it is the only remedy for the mosquito pest. When our stagnant ponds, are all drained, and all the city free from decaying garbage and manure, then we may hope for a flyless town.

Corson Picnic on 18th

The annual Corson picnic will be held at the farm of L. Robinson on Thursday, June 18. The Corson clan look forward to this event with joyous anticipation. It is a time for a gathering of the largest family in Northern Illinois, a time for renewing the bonds of friendship and getting acquainted with new relatives who get into the family every year.

HEAT CAUSES DEATHS

29 DEAD IN CLEVELAND, SEVEN AT DETROIT AND THREE AT CHICAGO.

HOTTEST JUNE SINCE 1872

Thermometer Reaches 95 at Chicago and High Temperatures Are Reported From All Sections of the Middle West—Many Are Prostrated.

Chicago, June 10.—Deaths, prostrations, an attempted suicide and a renewal of the menace of hydrophobia from the bites of savage stray dogs came with the wave of merciless heat which sent the mercury to 95 degrees. It was the hottest day of the year so far and the hottest June 9 since 1872, when 98 degrees was marked.

Police and hospital returns held the heat wave responsible for three deaths, 24 prostrations and one attempted suicide. Six persons reported having been bitten by dogs.

Heat Causes Twenty-Nine Deaths. Cleveland, O., June 10.—All heat records were broken for this season of the year when the official weather bureau thermometer registered 92 degrees. The bureau's thermometer on the public square at the ground level registered a maximum of 105 degrees. The entire city sweltered as there was little breeze and the percentage of humidity was high. Since Sunday when the heat wave started the heat has caused the death of 29 persons, 20 of whom were babies. More than a score have been prostrated and the suffering in the congested districts of the city is intense. Prospects of a strike among the ice men caused much concern. If the hot weather continues it is feared the city will face a milk famine as the milk dealers are having trouble filling the demand.

Seven Dead at Detroit. Detroit, Mich., June 10.—In Detroit seven deaths were reported and eight prostrations. The maximum temperature was, official, 92, and unofficial, 102.

98 Degrees at St. Louis. St. Louis, June 10.—The hottest day of 1914 in St. Louis and vicinity was recorded here, the minimum being 77 at 5 a. m. and the maximum 98 at 4 p. m. Three prostrations and no deaths were reported.

Temperature 94 in Kansas City. Kansas City, Mo., June 10.—With the mercury reaching 94 degrees yesterday was the hottest of the season. While the humidity was high and everybody sweated, no prostrations resulted and no deaths were ascribed to the heat.

One Death at Cincinnati. Cincinnati, June 10.—One death and a score or more prostrations was the toll exacted by the terrific heat in this city. The highest mark reached was 95 degrees at three o'clock in the afternoon.

MILLIONAIRE IS FOUND DEAD

Francis A. Ogden, Madison, Wis., Succumbs Suddenly in Texas—Left Fortune of $6,000,000.

Houston, Tex., June 10.—The coroner investigated the death of Francis A. Ogden, said to have been a multi-millionaire from Madison, Wis., who died suddenly in a cheap rooming house here. Ogden, who was eighty-two years old, was very eccentric, and it was not until an examination of some papers found in his pockets had been made that it was discovered that he left a fortune estimated at $6,000,000. According to information here, Ogden's estate consists of hotels in Madison and Superior, Wis., business property in the heart of Chicago, houses and lots in Houston and other Texas cities, farm lands in Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Texas.

COULON PUT OUT IN THIRD

Johnny Williams of Baltimore Wins Bantamweight Championship From Chicagoan.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 10.—Johnny "Kid" Williams of Baltimore is the new bantamweight boxing champion of the world. The wonderful little Dane knocked out Johnny Coulon of Chicago in the third round of their scheduled 20-round fight in the Tom McCarey arena at Vernon. Coulon was outfought and outclassed. A stiff blow to the chin in the third did the trick.

The Chicago veteran fought like a prematurely old man and was no match at all for the powerful "Wolf Boy." The result was not unexpected, Williams being a 2 to 1 favorite.

SEES BIGGEST WHEAT CROP

Government Report Promises 900,000,000 Bushels Will Be Harvested This Season.

Washington, June 9.—The biggest wheat crop in the history of America—900,000,000 bushels—is the estimate of the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture in a report based on the condition of crops June 1, as made public. The previous high record was last year, when 735,000,000 bushels was predicted. Nine hundred million bushels of this season's estimate is divided as follows: Winter wheat, 638,000,000 bushels; spring wheat, 262,000,000 bushels. Other grain totals are: Oats, 1,216,000 bushels; barley, 206,000,000 bushels.

H. C. WOLLMAN

H. C. Wollman of Springfield, Mass., was elected president of the American Library association at its convention just held in Washington. He is connected with the Springfield public library.

LONDON MILITANTS AGAIN ATTACK KING GEORGE

Suffragette "Furies" Cause Wild Furore at the International Horse Show—Dogs and Guns Guard.

London, June 9.—Suffragette "Furies" caused pandemonium to break out at the International horse show by making another attack on King George and Queen Mary.

While the king and queen were watching the judging of the competitions for the King Edward gold challenge cup, a woman who had been standing near by made a dash for the royal box.

As the woman reached the edge of the box she shouted, "Your majesty, I protest—" Before she could get any further she was seized by two policemen, one of whom placed his hand over her mouth, cutting off further utterance.

The suffragette struggled violently in an effort to continue her declaration, but was carried kicking and wriggling from the building.

The attack on the king and queen was only a beginning of a demonstration never witnessed before within the walls of Olympia. The "furies" created continuous disorder throughout the horse show. As soon as one was ejected another rose to take her place, only to be thrown out in her turn.

Guardians of ancient structures in all parts of the country have adopted the most stringent precautions to protect the buildings against the vandalism of the militant suffragettes. Guns and dogs have been requisitioned for this service.

EX-MAYOR IS FATALLY SHOT

"He Refused to Treat My Sick Child," Says Assassin of Doctor Dunn at Duquoin, Ill.

Duquoin, Ill., June 8.—D. D. Winton Dunn, formerly mayor of Duquoin, was shot and fatally wounded here by Jesse Joplin.

"He refused to treat my sick child because of an unpaid bill," said Joplin in extenuation of his act. News of the shooting so inflamed the community that the authorities took the precaution of hurrying Joplin to Pinckneyville, where he is held in the Perry county jail. Doctor Dunn was taken to St. Louis on a special train soon after the shooting, but died in a hospital later. He had been wounded in six places by Joplin, none of whose bullets failed to hit the physician.

THREE THOUSAND ON STRIKE

Westinghouse Workers Said to Have Been Discharged for Joining Allegheny Congenial Union.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 6.—Approximately 3,000 men and women, employees of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company, refused to go to work when the whistles at the East Pittsburgh factory sounded. They formed in line and marched to the playgrounds at Turtle creek, a mile away, where the leaders said they would discuss their grievances. Announcement of the strike was made by representatives of the Allegheny Congenial union, who declared the company had been discharging men for no other reason than that they had joined the organization, which had been formed early in the year to obtain "better working conditions."

Ask Wilson's Aid in Strike.

Washington, June 9.—A joint resolution asking President Wilson to appoint a commission of five specialists to settle the Colorado coal strike was introduced in congress by Representative Keating of Colorado and Senator Owen, after the latter had consulted the president. A report is asked by December 1, 1914.

Goes for Nordica's Body.

New York, June 8.—George W. Young sailed for Marselles, where he will await the arrival of the body of his wife, Mme. Lillian Nordica, who died in Batavia on May 17. It has not been decided where interment will be made.

U. S. BODY IS UPHELD

SUPREME COURT HOLDS COMMISSION RATE MAKING POWER LEADS ALL OTHERS.

DECISION IS VERY SWEEPING

Believed to Be Most Thorough Declaration in Favor of the Government Authority Yet Made by the Supreme Court of the U. S.

Washington, June 9.—Holding that the rate making power of the interstate commerce commission takes precedence over the jurisdiction of state commissions in situations where the reasonableness of interstate rates is called in question, the United States Supreme court handed down a decision upholding the efforts of shippers of Shreveport, La., to prevent alleged discrimination against them by the Texas railroad commission in favor of Houston and Dallas, Tex.

The decision is believed to be one of the most sweeping declarations in favor of the dominant authority of the federal government that the Supreme court has yet made.

The interstate commerce commission found that class and other rates from Shreveport to Texas points were unreasonable and ordered rates to be equalized so that Shreveport would not be discriminated against in favor of Dallas and Houston.

Justice Hughes said there were several ways of conforming to the commission's order. Reviewing the objection of the railroads that the commission could not reduce intrastate rates to conform with interstate rates, Justice Hughes said the power of congress was adequate to meet all the emergencies that arise out of local interference with national intercourse.

Justice Hughes said that congress, not the state, might prescribe the rule when state and national interests conflict.

"Congress is entitled to keep open the highways of interstate commerce in the interest of fair treatment to all persons," said Justice Hughes.

He indicated that the government must control rates in the interest of interstate commerce. Whether congress reduces intrastate rates to conform with interstate rates was not material, the court said.

The Shreveport litigation grew out of a protest made by shippers of Shreveport, La., against discrimination by the Texas railway commission. The Louisville railroad commission joined in this protest. It was contended that the Texas commission fixed rates so that business which should have come to Shreveport because of its geographical location near the Texas line, went to Houston and Dallas. In other words, Shreveport could not get business in competitive territory in Texas—territory which was a fair commercial field for the activities of all three cities. The Louisianans appealed to the interstate commerce commission, claiming that the rates from Shreveport to Texas points on the Texas Pacific railway and the Houston East & West Texas railway were unreasonable and discriminatory. The commission decided they were unreasonable and prescribed lower interstate rates.

DIVA WINS DIVORCE SUIT

Mme. Schumann-Heink Granted Separation From Husband, William Rapp, Jr., in Chicago Court.

Chicago, June 10.—Mme. Schumann-Heink was granted a divorce from her husband, William Rapp, Jr., by a jury in Judge Sullivan's court. The verdict was returned upon instructions of the court following the overruling of objections made by the attorneys for the defense to the plaintiff's motion for the court to instruct the jury to decide in the diva's favor. Rapp's attorneys fought the motion bitterly. While a great crowd filled the small courtroom and the corridors despite the intense heat, the attorneys argued the motion for two hours in chambers. Later Judge Sullivan returned to the bench.

HUERTA ASKS U. S. GUARD

Dictator of Mexico Fears for His Life and Would Enter Army Lines at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, Mex., June 10.—Provisional President Huerta, General Blanquet and what is left of the Mexican cabinet are planning to come to Vera Cruz to complete the mediation negotiations, if possible. The plan is for General Blanquet to come first, accompanied by the Brazilian minister, who is to talk to General Funston to inquire if the proceeding is possible and if Huerta will be welcome. It is said that the dictator realizes his position in the capital is unsafe and that he and his family are in danger. It is reported that General Blanquet has reached the outskirts of the American lines and is awaiting permission to enter.

Identify Suffragette.

London, June 6.—The suffragette who appealed to King George at the court levee to stop the forcible feeding of women prisoners was identified as Miss Mary Blomfield, daughter of Lady Blomfield. Miss Blomfield's sister was also present when the appeal was made.

DR. WILLIAM A. TAYLOR

Doctor Taylor, at present chief of the bureau of plant industry in the department of agriculture, will succeed Dr. B. T. Galloway as assistant secretary of agriculture in August when the latter will resign to become dean of the college of agriculture at Cornell university.

WOMEN'S CLUBS ARE IN TWELFTH BIENNIAL SESSION

Thousands of Delegates and Visitors Attend Meet of Federation in Chicago—Convention to Last 7 Days.

Chicago, June 10.—About fifteen thousand women, a fourth of whom are delegates, are in Chicago for the twelfth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which opened in the morning with a meeting of the council. Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, the president, was in the chair and matters concerning the conduct of the convention were discussed. The convention proper opens tonight at the Auditorium theater. Mrs. Fanny Bloomfield Zeisler will give a piano recital and Miss Jane Addams will deliver an address.

Chicago has made extensive preparation for hospitality. Committees on an enormous scale have been at work and the Auditorium theater, the Art Institute and many other halls have been decorated especially for the convention.

All women's spheres of work and play will receive consideration—and most of the delegates hold to the belief that women's spheres are identical with men's. Even such subjects as conservation of national resources, and the art progress of the United States will be dealt with in liberal fashion.

After the seven working days of the convention, in which reports of officers will be made and department work discussed, the delegates and visiting club members will be taken on a sociological pilgrimage. Automobiles will convey parties over the boulevards and through the parks of Chicago, with visits to the Chicago university, Hull House, Gad's Hill, the Federation house and the leading public play grounds, where the children will give exhibitions of their work, or some phase of entertainment for the visitors. There will also be excursions to the leading stores and shops of the city, to view arts, crafts and textiles.

FAVORS HARVESTER COMPANY

Supreme Court Sets Aside Fines Imposed on Concern by Kentucky Tribunals.

Washington, June 9.—Fines imposed upon the International Harvester company by Kentucky courts for violation of the anti-trust and anti-pooling laws of that state were set aside by the United States Supreme court. The trust was fined $5,000 by each of a half dozen county courts of Kentucky and the fines were upheld by the court of appeals of that state. It was alleged by Kentucky officials that the International Harvester Company of America, which was defendant in these cases, had increased prices by pooling its business with the Deering Harvester company, the Milwaukee Harvester company and others. The Supreme court affirmed the decree of the Missouri supreme court ousting the International Harvester Company of America from the state and fining it $25,000 for violation of the state anti-trust law.

40,000 MINERS RESUME WORK

Bituminous Coal Workers in Pittsburgh District Go Back to Mine Under New Contract.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 10.—Many of the 40,000 bituminous coal miners in the Pittsburgh district who have been idle pending adjustment of the wage scale for the ensuing year, returned to work following the signing of the new working contracts. Machine men are to be paid 69 cents a ton and pick men $1 a ton. Each miner is to be supplied with an electric safety lamp supplied by the company. The lamps probably will cost the coal companies about $250,000.

SUGGESTIONS FOR ICE TRUST

Just a Few Reasons Why There Should Be an Advance in Price of Summer Necessity.

- 1. The ice trust having offered a silver loving-cup for the best excuse which might be invented for raising the price of ice after the cold winter, we hopefully submit the following:
  - The ice being so thick and heavy, it costs more to handle it.
  - The blocks are so large that there is great waste in cutting them up for the retail trade.
  - The ice is so cold it freezes solid in the storage houses and is very difficult to get out.
  - As the winter has been so cold, the summer will necessarily be very hot, and the demand for ice very great, so that it is doubtful if there will be enough to go around.
  - The ice being extra thick, extra cold, and extra quality all through, it is only proper that an extra price should be demanded.
  - The price of ice never had any relation to the cost of production, anyhow.—Life.

HAD NO RATIIONS TO SPARE

Good Reason Why Confederate Commander Was Willing to See His Prisoners Escape.

When, at Gaines Mill in 1862, the Fifth Texas captured two whole regiments of Union soldiers, the Texans were all very proud of their achievement. One of them has described an amusing scene in connection with the surrender.

When the Union officers gave up their swords to Colonel Upton they were so prompt in the duty that he was compelled to lay down the frying pan which he carried in place of a sword and hold the weapons presented in his arms.

Just then he noticed a commotion at the far end of the captured regiments. That was near the timber, and a squad of the prisoners were making an effort to pass by "Big John" Ferris of Company B, who stood there unaided, endeavoring to intercept them.

Springing upon a log, the armful of swords dangling about in every direction, Upton shouted: "John Ferris, what are you trying to do now?"

"I am trying to keep these fellows from escaping," yelled Big John. "Let them go, you fool!" shouted back Upton. "We'd rather fight than feed them!"

Forget-Me-Not.

"Ah, yes, there are still true and loyal souls in this sad world," murmured the solemn individual in the tortoise-shell glasses. "I used to know a dear girl—it was ten long years ago—and not a year has passed since that she hasn't written me a birthday letter. Always what she writes is about the same: 'Dear Alfred, I can't ever forget, not if I live to be a hundred, this day of all the days in the year. Let me once again wish you long life and happiness with all my heart,' etc." "Very sweet of the girl," said the stout young man with the amazing waistcoat, "very sweet of her, indeed." "Very," replied the solemn individual; "only, you see, she writes that dashed letter to me on a different day every year."

The Fingerless Kind.

Lillian Russell, during a recent visit to Atlantic City, was amazed to see the number of slashed skirts that still prevailed on the Boardwalk.

"They must be last spring's leftovers," she said. Just then a young girl in a skirt outrageously slashed at back and front, asked her companion, in passing:

"How do you like my new dress? Fits like a glove, doesn't it?" "Fits like a mitt, she'd better say," murmured Miss Russell, with a smile.

Followed Her Vanished Nest. This story of a thrush that missed, and caught its train comes from Limavady, in Ulster, Ireland. The bird had built its nest under a first-class carriage immediately over the steam heating pipe, and notwithstanding that the carriage traveled between Limavady and Londonderry, the nest contained four eggs.

The institution of the summer service of trains caused trouble. The carriage left Londonderry in the evening at 4:40 instead of 4:50, and when the mother thrush, who had presumably been on a foraging expedition, returned, she found carriage, nest and eggs had disappeared. She was noticed at Londonderry in apparent distress, and the station master apprised Limavady of the circumstances and asked the railway people there to look out for the bird, suggesting that she would probably arrive by the next train. The bird duly arrived at Limavady either by train or air and resumed her task of hatching the eggs.

The sympathetic railway officials have decided to withdraw the carriage from service pending the hatching of the eggs.

A calf arrived at the farm of Theo. Getzleman, the Hampshire Holstein breeder, about a month ago. It looked just like any ordinary calf, being uncertain on its legs and with the eyes of the cowlet. A few days after birth the calf buyer, Cyrus Getzleman, happened along and offered the owner $12 for the calf. The breeder refused the offer, however, having different plans for the future of the little fellow. Last week in Chicago at the Haeger and Getzleman sale of Holsteins this calf, now four months of age, sold for an even $20,000.00. At the same sale the cows averaged about $500.00 each. DANGER IN OZONE.

While It Kills Some Germs, It May Be Injurious to Health.

That ozone is a most desirable thing, that it is a purifier of the air, a destroyer of noxious bacteria, a wholesome stimulant to the lungs, is a popular belief that cannot be banished too quickly.

Ozone is a poisonous gas. It is injurious to the throat and lungs, irritates the endings of the sensory nerves, corrodes the epithelial cells and causes indirectly changes in the blood which produce headache, depression and drowsiness.

The very latest word on ozone is in the form of two articles in the Journal of the American Medical Association. One by Dr. W. A. Sawyer, director of the hygienic laboratory of the California state board of health, and his coworkers, Beckwith and Stolfield, denounces the use of ozone machines in theaters, schools, offices and other places where it is desired to purify the air. The other, by Drs. E. O. Jordan and A. J. Carlson of Chicago, describes a long series of experiments with ozone performed by them.

So far as its effect upon bacteria is concerned, ozone is valueless in the opinion of all these experts. It undoubtedly does kill some germs, they agree; but, in the words of Drs. Jordan and Carlson, "human beings are injuriously affected by amounts of ozone far less than are necessary to produce even this slight bactericidal effect. * * * Ozone has no place in room disinfection."

Neither is ozone a deodorizer. It sometimes disguises odors, but more often paralyzes the olfactory nerves so that the nose is incapable of smelling them.

Ozone gives a certain "tang" to the air, a "tang" that may temporarily whip up a fagged brain. But Drs. Jordan and Carlson consider this no more beneficial than "a whiff of smelling salts or a puff of the cigarette."

Dr. Sawyer reports that ozone in concentration sufficient to kill typhoid bacilli in several hours will kill guinea pigs in an even shorter time.

Thus is another theory that has been taught as a fact in school textbooks on chemistry and physics—if it is not taught still—thrown into the scientific rubbish heap.—New York World.

Queer Wedding Effigy.

There is a curious custom still prevalent in the Bellary district of India in connection with the wedding ceremonies among certain Brahman families. Just prior to the close of the feasting a hideous effigy of a male figure, fantastically robed in rags, supposed to represent the bridegroom's father, is carried along the streets in procession under the shade of a sieve adorned with tassels of onions and mango leaves. Every few yards during the procession the feet of the effigy have to be reverently washed and its forehead decorated with a caste mark by its living spouse, the bridegroom's mother. The bridegroom's other female relations have several mock attentions paid to them by the women of the bride's party.—St. James' Gazette.

Respect For Funerals.

A French friend of mine who has been staying in Glasgow for a short time is amazed, not to say shocked, at the indifference of the crowd during the passing of a funeral. They do things differently in France. Even in the crowded streets of Paris every one lifts his hat or cap at the sight of a funeral. In many cases the onlooker stands bareheaded till the cortege has filed past slowly. My French friend assures me that in some parts of his country one would run the risk of almost being assaulted if the observance were neglected.—Glasgow News.

One of Greatest High Schools Due to Chautauquas' Influence

Township and Students Got Big "Hunch" as Celebrities Visited Community.

A town not very far away has the most celebrated high school in two states. Its equipment as well as its teaching force is the best that can be found. It has won thirteen inter-high school debates and has placed seventeen of its students in the honor class in as many leading universities of the nation within the past four years. It has produced some literature and much business service, which has been highly acceptable and well paid for. It has aroused its commuwest and far west are gradually increasing; who know why—quite distinctly why—they severally choose to farm or become merchants of one kind or another, or enter the professions, and when they choose to do these things they do so after they have made "surveys" and have given detailed attention to each of them. It is a wonderful school. When the men who are responsible were asked recently how it all came to pass and the fact was uncovered that the school

Getting Even.

A couple of fellows met at the club the other night, and one of them seemed to be feeling a bit put out, don't you know.

"What's the matter, old top?" asked a fellow member.

"I deucedly hate to say it, but Gadsukes has insulted me vilely."

"Rotten bad form in him, I should say. Well, are you going to get even with him?"

"Yes, by Jove!"

"In a perfectly gentlemanly way, I presume?"

"Oh, yes. I have given my chauffeur orders to be to his chauffeur the next time they meet."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Pa Just Looked On.

"Did your father ever spank you when you were a boy?"

"Certainly not."

"Was he opposed to corporal punishment on principle or were you so good that you didn't need spanking?"

Up in the Air.

"What time was it when this trouble happened?" asked the justice.

"Well," replied the witness, "at the sun had been shining it would have been 'bout two hours and a half by sun, but as the sun didn't show his face at all that day I couldn't say for certain just what time it was."—Atlanta Constitution.

Out of His Element.

One of the men in a company of militia made a disparaging remark about the man in front of him. The victim turned with indignation and assumed a fighting attitude. Then the captain remarked sharply: "That will do there. We don't want any fighting men in this regiment."—New York Globe.

Can You Find the Answer?

A farmer asked a blacksmith what he would charge to join five pieces of chain of three links each. The blacksmith answered, "A cent a cut, and a cent a weld." "Let me see," said the farmer, "that would be eight cents." "No, six," replied the blacksmith. It took the customer a long time to see how the two extra cents could be saved.—Youth's Companion.

COMMUNITY DOCTOR ON BIG PROGRAM

Man Who Treats Localities and Cities as Physicians Prescribe For Patients.

CHAUTAUQUA BRINGS EXPERT

The University of Illinois has recently created a department known as the community advisory department.

The purpose of this department is to send a gifted, trained man into a community who, co-operating with local leaders and thinkers, will undertake to make what is termed a "survey" of gree of efficiency than the people at present enjoy.

He will also consider the social, educational and religious interests of the community. In short, it is the purpose of the university, acting through this officer, to help the community bring about its own largest results and service through a careful study of its institutions, organizations and activities. The man chosen to take charge of this field work is Professor R. E. Hieronymus, known widely throughout the state as an educator and organizer.

Professor Hieronymus will appear in this city on the Lincoln Chautauqua program. He will, if it is desired, meet leading members of the community and its organizations in conference before, or preferably after, his platform address. His wide knowledge and experience and the resources of his position will be placed at the disposition of the community.

Every town on the Lincoln map of Illinois and Wisconsin is thus securing not only the advantage of entertain-that vicinity. They will study its institutions, such as the school, the church, the civic organizations, etc., in connection with the economic life of the community, particularly the agricultural conditions prevailing or any other dominant industry. This officer, with his local board, suggests means intended to bring about a greater dement, but the co-operation and advice of one of a few men in the United States recognized as "community experts and authorities." Professor Hieronymus is a big, kindly, genial gentleman and will be glad to meet committees or groups of people in council concerning local matters of any general interest whatsoever.

"THE SOUL OF THE OLD PIANO," CLASSIC

Fahlen-Breach Concert Company to Appear Soon in Big Six Day Program.

FAVORITES IN ILLINOIS.

"The Soul of the Old Piano" is an interpretation, an impersonation. No audience ever having been privileged than please the fancies of imagination. Here is a single number in a single program that has undoubtedly made a lasting fine impression upon the minds of hundreds of thousands of people. It is a justly celebrated platform classic. What it has done by way of inspiration for people whose musical instincts were dormant no one may assume to say.

Besides Mr. Breach's interpretations and monologues, the Fahlen-Breach Company gives its audiences a remarkable song recital by Miss Fahlen, whom the Quincy Daily Journal of Illinois calls "marvelous" and whom the Clinton Morning Journal designates as its "favorite." And then there is Miss Ruby Guy of Uncle Joe Cannon's town, who has pleased the old Republican warrior and his friends until her fame has spread throughout the state. This concert is just one of twenty-to hear Mr. Breach in this remarkable monologue but that retains it in memory like the clear outlines of a cameo. Much that is good, that is wonderful, after mature meditation seems not quite finished. "The Soul of the Old Piano" is like Hawthorne's "Great Stone Face" or Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn"; it never ceases to inora four numbers that you get during Lincoln Chautauqua week. It is part of one of twelve programs that the season ticket guarantees to you. If you like it as much as you deem the season ticket worth just keep the balance and round out the rest of the week in company with your neighbors and friends under the big tent.

Splendors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Revealed by Its Present Progress.

SUPERB WORKS OF SCULPTURE AND ART IN COLOSSAL EXHIBIT PALACES FOR AMERICA'S PANAMA CANAL CELEBRATION.

GLINTS of gold from vast oriental domes, Venetian blue on minarets, prodigious works of sculpture and the arrival of notables from all parts of the globe give glimpses of the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition as it will appear when its gates swing open to the world on Feb. 20, 1915.

Not for many years will the world be enabled to enjoy so marvelous a collection of the works of contemporary sculptors. The World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago first proved that the greatest talent might be engaged to produce work of even temporary value. Since then more and more attention has been given at each succeeding exposition to sculpture as a form of decoration, and the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco promises to surpass even Chicago's exquisite display.

Every phase of the exposition is far advanced. Thirty-three of the world's nations will participate with government displays, Argentina leading with a government appropriation of $1,300,000 gold.

AIRSHIPS WILL RACE AROUND THE GLOBE FROM SAN FRANCISCO IN 1915.

AERONAUTS from all the civilized nations of the globe with every standard type of air craft driven by motors will participate in an aerial race around the world, which will be a feature of the sporting events to be held during the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915.

The race will start from the grounds of the Exposition in May, 1915, and will end there. Three hundred thousand dollars has been hung up in prizes for this stupendous world girdling contest. A number of the world's greatest aviators have signified their intention of entering the races. The recent flight of Stoeffler, ending at Mulhausen, Germany, in which he covered 1,375 miles, convinces aviators that long flights are a matter of adequate supply stations. The above photograph shows the route around the world and the various supply stations.

Polka Originally Bohemian.

The polka came originally from Bohemia, where it has been danced by the peasants from time immemorial. Its introduction into fashionable society was due to Josef Neruda, who saw a girl dancing it one Sunday afternoon in the market place of Elbeletitz, and noted down the melody and steps.

Had Her Doubts.

"Confucius was a great and wise man," said Maude. "Maybe he was," replied Maymie. "But I've attended a lot of Chautauqua lectures and he was never one of the speakers."—Washington Star.

Varieties of Oaks.

There are 55 oaks in the United States, about evenly divided between the east and the west. The eastern species, and particularly white oaks, are the most valuable.

Training Animals.

The psychology of animals is curiously like that of young children. Interest must be won; it cannot be forced. No appeal, save a direct one to instinct, is admissible. Penalties are quite meaningless except as obstacles in a particular path, and as such they must never arouse active fear. It will be seen therefore that the opportunities for cruelty are necessarily limited. Trainers may abuse their charges, but each time they do so they court disaster.

"Giving Quarter."

The phrase, "giving quarter," originated in an understanding between the Dutch and the Spaniards that the ransom of an officer should be one-quarter of his pay. Hence, to beg quarter was to offer a quarter of their pay for their ransom, and to refuse quarter was to decline the money as a ransom.

nity to make many practical improvements such as playgrounds and other high privileges for children who otherwise could not have them. This school's interests in the political, social, religious and agricultural workings of the country are practically as keen as are its interests in the educational policies of the community. It is turning out scores of young people each year who know why and how it comes about that the economic and political influences of the east are waning, and these same influences in the middle has scarcely any debt and that it turns thousands of dollars annually back into the treasury, the answer was, "It all came about through the activities of the Chautauqua people of this community. A few years ago they sent some wonderfully constructive and thoughtful men here who gave us the 'hunch.' We took it, and now we are just beginning to see what our possibilities are. The things we have done are not to be mentioned in comparison with the things we think we see how to do."

One Way to Decrease Jags.

In Copenhagen the police have decreased the number of drunkards by a novel plan of "tit-for-tat." If a man is found drunk in the streets he is escorted home in a cab by a police officer, and the cab fare is charged to the publican who served the man with liquor. Needless to say, publicans take very good care that none shall drink too much on their premises, in case they should be called upon to pay the cab bill.

Good Help.

A 5 cent lump of smooth or rough pumicestone is a valuable help at the kitchen sink. Use it to remove all sorts of stains from the hands; also to scour off burnt food from granite ware. It will not chip the ware as a knife does, not injure in any way. It also cleans and at the same time sharpens steel knives.

Shop Girl's Chance to Rest.

Shop girls in London have a country house where they rest at intervals from their labors.

Significance of the Ring.

The signet ring and seals were used in Bible times as pledges of different kinds from owner to owner in business transactions. The "Gimmel," or wedding ring, also of Bible times, was a cunningly devised affair in two sections, and at the ceremony one was given to the bride and the other to the groom. This ring has been reproduced at several weddings in recent years as an odd fancy.

Peculiar Order.

There is much in a name. A ship belonging to a man named Heaven was due to sail from Cardiff with a cargo of coals, when it was discovered that she had not received her full loading. The shipping agent startled his clerk with the command—"Telegraph to Heaven for more coals."—Kansas City Journal.

Right combination to help my husband. "I believe that's the best." "Yes," said the druggist. "I see this medicine is good for men."—Seemed What She Wanted.

Felicia's Dive Into Society

By TEMPLE SAILEY.

Felicia packed into a little trunk her one white party dress, a pretty gray dinner gown, a half dozen shirt waists and an extra hat, and away she went to town to visit her cousin, Mary Barnes.

Mary's brother Roger met her at the station.

"Mary is planning no end of things for you," he told Felicia when he had settled her in the carriage. "She is going to give a luncheon and a tea and a theater party and a dance. It will be a lively existence for you, little girl."

"Oh," Felicia leaned forward, "I shall love it! My greatest excitement for a year has been a church social or a sleigh ride, and I am longing for society."

"Mary spells society with a big 'S,'" Roger told her. "She is a slave to it, and she needs a rest. She is as thin as a wafer and as pale as paper."

"But think what a lovely time she has!" Felicia said.

"Humph!" Roger said. "You don't know when you are well off, little Felicia."

But Felicia fell on Mary's neck when she reached the great stone mansion.

"I can stay two weeks," she said. "The school board gave me a vacation, and I am going to have the time of my life."

"Indeed you are," Mary said and carried her away to a delectable bedroom.

"I'll get into my kimono, and then we can talk," Felicia said joyously as she opened her little black bag. But Mary shook her head dubiously. "The girls are coming for luncheon in just half an hour. There are ten of them, and the table decorations are to be in pale pink, your favorite color."

"What shall I wear?" Felicia asked. "I have a gray gown and a white one, and the white one is for evening."

"The gray will be all right with a ducky little knot of pink carnations and lilies of the valley. The florists are doing them that way now, and Roger can get you some."

Roger got the flowers, but the gray gown was not gorgeous, and beside Mary's shimmering chiffon creation Felicia felt depressingly shabby.

But the luncheon was exquisite, and the girls were friendly, and Felicia did not have much time to think of herself, for there was a tea on immediately after, and she was carried off by Mary and Roger, wearing a long and splendid wrap of Mary's, for her own simple tailor made jacket was out of the question.

"No one will notice that it is mine," Mary assured her, "in the crush," so Felicia, feeling very elegant, swept through the crowded rooms and talked as fast as she could to dozens of people and came out breathless.

"Wasn't it awful?" Roger asked her. "I shouldn't have gone a step if it hadn't been for you."

"It was delightful," Felicia gurgled—"the pretty women, the lights, the music, the ices and everything."

"Triumph!" Roger grumbled, and Felicia made a little face at him and said, "You're an unsociable bear, Roger," and Roger said, "Oh, it's such a waste of good material for you to spend your time with such people when you might be talking to me, Felicia."

Felicia opened her eyes wide at that. "Do you like to talk to me, Roger?" she questioned, and Roger laughed and said, "Yes, but you don't deserve it." And Felicia, feeling very much flattered, leaned back in the carriage and peeped at Roger, while Mary mapped out the program for the next day.

"There are the Deering luncheon and three teas and the art exhibit and the Colburns' dinner and a box party after, and then the cotillion."

"Oh, stop!" Felicia pleaded, looking at her cousin with startled eyes. "Do you expect me to do all that in one day, Mary?"

"She does," Roger asserted, surveying his country cousin with melancholy eyes, "and where, oh, where in all that program will you have a minute to spend with me?"

"I am not worrying about that," Felicia told him, dimpling, "but what am I going to wear, Mary? What am I going to wear?"

"There's your white dress," Mary said slowly.

"But I can't wear that one dress to a luncheon and three teas and a theater party and a dance. What are you going to wear, Mary?"

"My pale blue broadcloth will do for the luncheon and the tea and the view. Then I shall wear white lace to the dinner and the rest of the evening."

"When in all that rush will you find time to change?" was Roger's question.

Mary leaned back in the corner of the carriage. She was very pale, and there were dark circles around her eyes.

"Oh, I don't know; I don't know," she said. "Sometimes I feel as if I were on a treadmill and no one would let me stop."

Felicia looked at her with startled eyes.

"Why, I thought you liked it," she gasped.

Mary straightened up at that.

"Oh, when I get into it," she said, trying to speak lightly, "it's not so bad, but I have felt the strain this winter awfully."

Between rushes that night Roger caught Felicia for a moment alone in the library. "Mary is dreadfully blue," he told her. "She broke her engagement with Bob Carruth in the summer, and she hasn't seen him since, and she misses him."

"What did she break it for?" Felicia asked.

"He wanted her to go south with him and settle in a little town where he could practice medicine, and she wouldn't give up society, and now I think she regrets it."

"Oh," said little Felicia, "if I loved a man I would go to the end of the world with him!"

"Would you?" Roger asked.

"Yes."

"Well, I am leaving for Japan next week," Roger said.

Felicia gazed at him with intense indignation for a moment; then she turned her back on him. "Silly!" she said.

When Felicia went to bed that night she was so tired that she could not sleep. The next morning she was as pale as Mary. For a week the two girls dragged their engagements, finishing up on Saturday night with another cotillion.

Felicia wore her white dress. It was mussed, and she knew that she was not looking her best, but she was so tired that she did not care. Roger had sent her a bunch of violets, and her dance card was filled with names, but the fact gave her no satisfaction.

The fourth dance was Roger's.

"Enjoying it?" he asked briefly as he swung her out on to the floor.

"Oh, I am so tired I shall drop," she said. "Can't I go home, Roger?"

She looked so like a little weary child that Roger laughed.

"Baby," he teased and then tenderly, "I'll hunt Mary up, and we will cut the rest of it."

In the carriage Mary collapsed. "I didn't dream I was so tired," she sobbed, with her head on Felicia's shoulder, and Roger, surveying the pair with twinkling eyes, said, "Let me prescribe."

"Well?" came back in muffled agreement.

"You pack your trunk, Mary," he planned, "and go home with Felicia. It's lovely in the country now, and I'll come up and bring Bob Carruth with me."

Mary sat up, with her face ablaze.

"Bob Carruth?"

"Yes. I had a letter from him yesterday. He's coming up for a visit."

Faint pink tinged Mary's cheeks.

"Do you think he will want to see me, Roger?" she asked wistfully, and Roger said gently, "I know he will, Mary."

So Felicia packed her little trunk, and Mary packed a larger one, and away they went to the country, where the trees were crimson and gold and brown and where the air was like wine. And there Bob Carruth and Roger followed them.

"So she is really going to marry him and live in a country town," Roger commented, and he and Felicia followed Mary and her lover along a path that seemed to end in a golden sunset.

"Yes," Felicia said.

"And you are going to marry me and come and live in the city," Roger ventured.

"I haven't promised yet," said little Felicia. "I am afraid that some day I should be saying, 'Give me again my hollow tree, my crust of bread and liberty.'"

"You aren't afraid of anything of the kind," Roger told her. "You know we would live happy ever after."

"Oh, well, if you are so sure," said Felicia as she tucked a confiding hand through his arm and looked up at him with happy eyes, "I guess I shall have to say yes, Roger."

Children Need Protection. Because they have less resisting power, children are more susceptible to all kinds of disease germs than older persons. This is why every child should be early taught to avoid the habits which lead to infection. It is little short of a criminal risk to allow a child to work or play in a room or yard that is not clean as it can be made.

The Wrist and the Arm. The real wrist, as one might say, is the elbow joint. It is all hand, practically speaking, from that point to the tips of the fingers. When you turn your wrist it is the whole forearm that makes the twist, and every movement of the fingers is controlled by the muscles of the forearm. The power to turn the wrist to and fro at the elbow joint is possessed only by human beings and monkeys, and even the higher apes are not able to do the trick nearly as well as we can. In this movement the great biceps muscle in the upper arm is importantly concerned, its powerful action in turning the forearm outward being accountable for the fact that we are able to put so much more strength into a twist in that direction than the opposite way. Many of our most familiar tools indeed, such as the screwdriver, are made with reference to the anatomical peculiarity in question. It is for this reason and no other that all screws turn to the right.

Insulted by a Look. A cat may look at the king, but apparently Brestau citizens may not look at Prussian policemen. A local photographer who for some time had strained relations with a policeman stationed on the Dominikaner platz considered one day that the policeman was paying him pronounced official attention. So he stood still and looked straight at him "in a vexatious manner," according to the charge.

The policeman considered him self deeply insulted by the photographer's gaze and reported the affair. The offender was haled to court and a petty jury sentenced the luckless photographer to fourteen days' imprisonment for "insulting" an official.—London Express.

John Hancock. John Hancock, the first signer of the declaration of independence, was the first aristocrat of Boston to join the revolutionary party. He was often chairman of liberty meetings. He was a member of the great and general court, deputy to the provincial congresses and presiding officer, also deputy to the continental congress and for two and a half years its president; the first governor of the commonwealth of Massachusetts and ten times re-elected.

DAYS OF THE PRESS GANG.

Life in England's Old Georgian Navy Was Hard and Brutalizing.

There can be no question about it—life in the Georgian navy was insufferably hard. According to Mansfield, "it was brutalizing, cruel and horrible, the kind of life now happily gone forever, a kind of life which no man today would think good enough for a criminal. There was barbarous discipline, bad pay, bad food, bad hours of work, bad company."

This is putting the case strongly, and to one not born or bred to the sea it is exactly what it must have seemed. How then did they get men to enter the service? There were several ways in vogue. A captain on being appointed to a vessel, besides attending to her armament and equipping her for a voyage, had also the responsibility of furnishing her with a crew. He set about this by establishing a recruiting office ashore, generally at a sailors' tavern, and placarding the fact through the town and the surrounding country with the announcement that "Captain Blank, R. N., was now fitting out H. M. ship So and so for a cruise in foreign waters."

Following this came promises of unlimited rum, prize money and the king's bounty. When the gullible one came to the bait he was plied generously with drink and flattery, the king's gold jingled before his staring eyes and his befuddled brain filled with stories of the joys of life in the king's navy loudly bawled in the sea ballads of the day. That these joys were not unknown is shown by the fact that the bounty was at one time above 270 sterling.

When these gentle means failed to complete his number the captain sent a few boat loads of sturdy fellows ashore after dark in charge of an officer. This party or "press gang" proceeded to the resorts of merchant sailors and picked up any stragglers they found in the streets. In times of need no male between boyhood and old age was safe.—From "The Old Man-of-War's Man," by W. J. Aylward, in Scribner's.

The Kansas Wheat Crop

If the wheat crop of Kansas justifies present indications it is given out that in less than one-half of the state 25,000 men will be needed to do the harvesting and that as many as 45,000 will be required for the whole state. Kansas was popularly understood to have been parched to a cinder by the long drouth and heat of last summer, but it now promises to produce enough wheat almost to feed a nation for a year.

DOCTOR REFUSES AID, KILLED

Dr. D. Winton Dunne, Prominent Duquoin Physician, Is Shot by Man Who Called Him to Attend His Sick Child.

Duquoin.—Accused of the murder here of a physician who would not attend his sick child, Jesse Joplin is a prisoner at the county jail at Pinckneyville. His victim, Dr. D. Winton Dunne, was one of the most prominent physicians in southern Illinois and a former mayor of Duquoin. His refusal to attend Joplin's family is said to have caused the bullet that caused Dunne's death were fired through the office after he had put Joplin out. Though mortally wounded, the physician was able to drag himself to a telephone and call another doctor. He was hurried to a St. Louis hospital, but died soon after reaching there.

Bloomington.—Rev. Harry Caldwell of Alton has been made defendant in a suit for damages filed by James T. Jackson of the same place, asking $10,000 and alleging alienation of his wife's affections. The clergyman is accused of advising Mrs. Jackson to leave her husband. Mrs. Jackson is a relative of the minister, and has been making her home with the family of the defendant since the estrangement.

Pearl City.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of Simon Ploeger, a farmer, with all its contents, which included a tin box containing $800 in currency. Mr. Ploeger, eighty-nine years old, had been saving the money for a long time, intending to give it, before his death, to a favorite daughter who had cared for him in his old age.

Freeport.—Freeport brewers have asked Attorney General Lucey for an opinion as to whether they may lawfully establish shipping stations in the adjoining township of Silver Creek, the township of Freeport having been voted dry. If Lucey holds it is legal, all the local breweries will establish stations there and reshipe beer back into Freeport.

Mount Vernon.—Warren E. Moore and Miss Julia Carlisle were married here. The bridegroom was made to wheel his bride in a wheelbarrow to a railroad station, where they boarded a St. Louis train amid a shower of rice. Mr. Moore is southern Illinois representative for a St. Louis firm. The bride for many years taught school here.

Chester.—The Retail Merchants' association was organized and the following officers were elected: President, L. A. Kennedy; first vice-president, Edmund Gilster; second vice-president, Allen A. Short; third vice-president, A. P. Gorsuch; secretary, Fred H. Middendorf; treasurer, Louis H. Schlemmer.

Anna.—Rev. Edwin Sabin, pastor of the Presbyterian churches at Ava and Campbell Hill, married Miss Jessie Gordon of Ava. Rev. George Gordon, an uncle of the bride, and pastor of the Ava Baptist church, performed the ceremony. The couple will reside in Ava.

Christopher.—Prof. W. A. D'vorak, a violinist and director at the Southern Illinois College of Music at Carlinville, has disappeared. D'vorak received his musical education in Austria and until recently resided at Reading, Pa. He organized the college here.

Bloomington.—William E. Burns, a farmer, committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid at his home near Brock, Dewitt county. Before ending his life Burns endeavored to induce his wife, from whom he had become estranged, to take similar action.

Freeport.—Two deaths resulting from attempts to rekindle fires in kitchen stoves by means of kerosene occurred here within a few hours of each other. The victims were Mrs. Rhoda Townsend and Joseph G. Gallagher.

Chicago.—Delegates from every part of the United States and from a dozen foreign countries attended the opening of the eighteenth annual meeting of the Associated Harvard clubs at the Blackstone.

Shannon.—Hog cholera is raging in many parts of Carroll county and hundreds of porkers on farms in this vicinity have died within the past two weeks.

Belvidere.—Friends of Rev. H. E. Rompel, Methodist ministers, are urging him to seek the Progressive nomination for member of the assembly.

Savanna.—Henry Bowman of Wacker reported seeing a pack of eight wolves running through an orchard on the Dauphine farm, each of this city.

Freeport.—The local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution unveiled a tablet in honor of Col. Benjamin Stephenson, after whom Stephenson county was named, and also a large portrait of the colonel. The tablet is placed at the entrance of the courthouse and the portrait in the corridor. The memorials were unveiled by Miss Virginia Winchester Freeman of Chicago, great-granddaughter of Colonel Stephenson.

ILLINOIS STATE NEWS

Anticipation.

"One summer I chanced to be back in the ridges of Tennessee," said United States Senator Blair Lee of Maryland, as he leaned back in his chair, "and a couple of mountaineers got into an argument. High words led to blows, and one of the men was killed. One of the party volunteered to ride on ahead to the dead man's cabin and break the news to the widow.

"She was seated at a table eating apple-dumplings when the man rode up. He broke the news as gently as possible. The woman listened quietly with a dumpling poised in the air half way to her mouth. When the man had finished, she stuffed the dumpling into her mouth and said: "You-all jest wait till I finish this hyer dumplin' an' then you-all'll hear some hollerin'."

SCALY PSORIASIS ON LIMBS

Troop H, 6th U. S. Cavalry, Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wis.—"I was troubled with psoriasis for nearly two years. Portions of my arms and limbs were affected mostly with it. It appeared in scaly form, breaking out in very small dots and gradually grew larger and white scales formed when about the size of an ordinary match-head. The looks of it was horrible, which made it very unpleasant for me. It itched a little at times.

"I tried several treatments which cured me for a month, but it always broke out again. One day a friend saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper and I sent for a sample. They helped me, so I purchased two more boxes of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Soap and Ointment to complete my cure." (Signed) Walter Mahony, Oct. 22, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

For the Collection Box. Jimmy, aged four, had been sent upstairs by his mother to get ten cents, which she intended to use for the purchase of postage stamps.

Not knowing exactly what a ten-cent piece looked like, Jimmy called downstairs: "Mother, is ten cents a little piece of money?"

"Yes, Jimmy, the smallest piece of money in my purse."

"Oh, I know now, mother! Church money!"—Judge.

AGAINST WOMEN'S POCKETS

New York Newspaper Gives Eight Reasons for Its Opposition to Proposed Move.

- 1. Because pockets are not a natural right.
2. Because the great majority of women do not want pockets.
3. Because whenever women have had pockets they have not used them.
4. Because women are expected to carry enough things as it is without the additional burden of pockets.
5. Because it would make dissension between husband and wife as to whose pockets were to be filled.
6. Because it would destroy man's chivalry toward woman if he did not have to carry all her things in his pockets.
7. Because men are men and women the women. We must not fly in the face of nature.
8. Because pockets have been used by men to carry tobacco, pipes, whisky flasks, chewing gum and compromising letters. We see no reason to suppose that women would use them more wisely.—New York Tribune.

His Coffin Finished, He Dies.

After seeing that his coffin was made, J. Welch, father of Mrs. Nelson, died from the ravages of cancer. He came from Oakland last fall to live with his daughter. Three months ago he requested that his coffin be made, so it might be finished before his death.

His son-in-law and daughter were able to postpone the unpleasant task, but Nelson yielded to entreaties of his father-in-law ten days ago, and unwillingly began the work to please the aged sufferer, finishing it before death came.—Fall River Mills (Cal.) Dispatch to the New York World.

Not Complimentary. An English showman, while traveling in the north of Ireland, met an old farmer who happened to be a little deaf.

"I say," said the showman, "did you see a cart and monkeys passing this way?"

Farmer—A what did ye say? Showman—Did you see a cart and monkeys passing this way? Farmer—Did ye fall out?

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1642 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case.

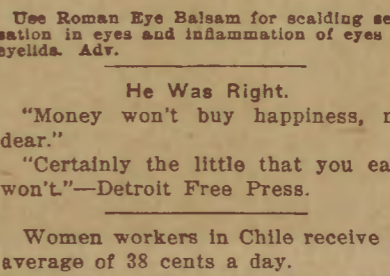

Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABRIL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women

are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.
