ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER, SEPTEMBER 16, 1904, AT THE POSTOFFICE AT GENOA, ILLINOIS, UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF MARCH 3, 1879

GENOA, ILLINOIS, NOVEMBER 28, 1919

VOLUME XV, No. 6

GOING ON RECORD AS AMERICANS

American Legion Post of DeKalb Expresses Views by Resolution

ONE HUNDRED PER CENT. LOYAL

To Fight I. W. W., Bolshevism, Communism, Anarchy and All Kindred Movements

At a recent meeting of the American Legion post in DeKalb the following resolutions were adopted, showing just where this organization stands on questions of Americanism: "Resolved that the DeKalb Post, No. 66, affiliated with the national organization of the American Legion, in regular session assembled is cognizant of the national unrest prevalent at this time and recognizes the fact that drastic steps are necessary to rid the country of this disturbance which threatens to destroy the fundamental principles of our national liberty, our government and everything that was accomplished by our forefathers and by the armed forces of the United States in the late war just ended one year ago.

"Resolved that this post of the American Legion condemns any and all radical element or elements which are the cause of the present industrial and political strife and herewith pledges itself in accord with the policy of the government to eradicate all disturbing elements.

"Be it further resolved that this post go on record as opposed to Bolshevism, Sovietism, the organization known as I. W. W., and all "Reds" and anarchistically inclined societies or organizations.

"Resolved that this post go on record as condemning the action of the I. W. W. members who shot into a parade of ex-soldiers in Centralia, Wash., on November 11, during the celebration of the anniversary of the signing of the armistice and urges the immediate trial and punishment for the perpetrators of the shooting.

"Resolved that every individual of this post pledge himself to work and work incessantly for the eradication of all communism, anarchism, Bolshevism and kindred movements and to spread the gospel and propoganda of 100 per cent Americanism at all times and to personally check any attempt to spread anti-Americanism in the community.

"Resolved that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the meeting and a copy be sent to the state headquarters."

OLIVER COMPANY GROWS

The Oliver Typewriter company finds it necessary to increase its output of machines in order to take care of the large number of requests for typewriters. This company is making immediate plans to add 100 machines a day. It will mean running some of the departments extra shifts and also adding about 300 new employees.

John Whitworth, the superintendent, states that orders are coming in so fast that it is impossible to take care of them. The foreign demand for Olivers is gaining all the time and either the foreign or domestic trade would take the entire output of the factory. At the present time the company is about 10,000 behind.

NOTICE ELECTRIC RATES

To patrons of Illinois Northern Utilities Company:

The Illinois Northern Utilities Company hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Illinois an application for authority to continue in effect for a period of one year from December 31, 1919, or until the Commission shall otherwise order, the electric rates now in effect and charged by the company, as authorized by Order of the Commission entered July 25, 1919.

All parties interested in this proceeding may obtain information as to time and place of hearing upon this matter by addressing the Secretary of the Public Utilities Commission at Springfield.

MARRIED 65 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Kirkpatrick of Waterman celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary on the 16th of November.

FORMER SHERIFF DEAD

"Ott" Holcomb Passed Away at Sycamore November 19

True Republican: Orator S. Holcomb, pioneer, veteran of the Civil War, former sheriff of DeKalb county and for many years deputy sheriff—widely known, popular, jolly "Ott" Holcomb—passed peacefully from this life at his home on East High street at about 11 o'clock on Wednesday night, Nov. 19, after many months of failing health, of a complication of diseases. His death brought a widespread sorrow.

Orator S. Holcomb was born on the Mt. Hunger road, northeast of Sycamore, on August 11, 1843, the year after his parents moved from Cattaraugus county, N. Y., to DeKalb county, Ill. His parents, Fleming and Louisa (Stone) Holcomb, were among the pioneers of this county, having settled here on June 14, 1842. They were six weeks on the way from Sycamore, and on their arrival remained for some time at the home of Fleming Holcomb's brother, Sylvanus Holcomb, who came here in 1839, until their own log cabin could be erected.

Orator S. Holcomb attended the district school and was employed on the farm. Then came the Civil war, and he enlisted, with his elder brothers, Reuben J. Holcomb and Linus Holcomb, the last named being killed in the battle of Averysboro, N. C. After the close of the war Mr. Holcomb was employed for number of years in J. E. Ellwood & Bro's drug and grocery store. He then served as deputy sheriff while his brother Reuben was sheriff. In 1886 he was elected sheriff and served well for four years. It was also engaged in the livery business for several years and in the grocery business. For many years last past he had been deputy sheriff, except during the incumbency of Dan Hohm as sheriff, when Mr. Holcomb served as bailiff.

TO STRAIGHTEN RIVER

Marengo Farmers Expect to Reclaim Many Fertile Acres

Straightening the Kishwaukee river near Marengo is a project to be taken up by farmers within the township of Marengo who say that much valuable land is made worthless because of overflow when the river is high.

A petition is being circulated, seeking the signatures of farm land owners within the proposed area to be reclaimed, section 20 to 31 inclusive being within the territory where reclamation of the land is sought.

The Kishwaukee curves and angles at various points as it flows westward through the township of Marengo and into what forms Kent creek in Boone county. By the process of straightening the river, a considerable acreage of fertile land long worthless will be made fertile and productive, promoters of the project say.

A majority of those who own the largest acreage of land within the area sought to improve are in favor of the plan, it is claimed.

BOYS TO HARVEST BEETS

This is sugar beet harvest time at the State School for boys at St. Charles and they are about to get busy. This yield is 70 tons per acre and $10 per ton has been offered. The production will help lessen the shortage of the sugar supply which has been so acute this year. The institution operates a farm of several hundred acres and all of the work is done by the boys. The food produced is largely consumed by the inmates but there is a fine income from the sugar beets and other products sold on the open market.

SANITARIUM FOR SOLDIERS

Over at La Salle County Sanitarium in South Ottawa the new Soldiers' Pavilion has been completed. This pavilion is the latest thing in sanitarium construction, and will be used exclusively in housing patients of the government—soldiers who have contracted tuberculosis from effects of illness, gassing or in any way whatever, while in the army or after they returned to their homes.

FINDS DEAD EAGLE

Last Tuesday while working in the field on his farm near Hinkley Thomas Austin found a large black eagle dead, which had been wounded by being shot. The bird measured 7 feet and 2 inches from tip to tip and weighed ten pounds. The eagle was sent away by F. I. Blake to be mounted.

PREPARE WAY FOR CONVENTION

Constitutional Convention Delegates in Preliminary Meeting at Aurora

TO CLIP POWER OF THE BIG CITY

Down State Delegates Will be Prepared for Anything that Chicago May Try to Put Over

Delegates elect to the Constitutional convention to be held at Springfield in January from the 35th District Messrs. Alvin Warren and Edward Brewster, attended an informal meeting of the delegates elected from the north part of the state at the home of Lee Mighell in Aurora on Monday says the Sandwich Free Press.

A similar meeting is to be held at Urbana, December 1. It seems to be the purpose of the downstate delegates to get together, familiarize themselves with the questions that will come before the convention and be the better prepared to handle them.

The convention will be overwhelming Republican, 34 delegates out of 102. The downstate will have 64 delegates and Cook county 38.

A fixed determination to restrict in the future the representation in the legislature of Chicago or any other densely populated district developed at the meeting. The delegates were also opposed unanimously to the present minority representative act which aims to prevent a dominant political party in a district electing all the members of the legislature from the district. The present constitution is a good constitution and about 75 per cent of its provisions should be incorporated in the new charter the delegates said. They were positive that the constitution should and would be a non-partisan document.

In explaining why they favored restricting legislative representation of great centers of population the delegates said it was very apparent that people living in dense communities would have desires and aims which would be entirely unsuited to peoples in other communities. New York and Pennsylvania have started to restrict representation of great cities like greater New York and Philadelphia and the plan has worked well for all concerned it was asserted. It was said that Cook county would probably be willing to have representation in the legislature patterned after representation in congress, every county having the same number of senators, with representatives in the lower house based on population.

Objections to this plan were that the big cities would control the lower house and the smaller communities the senate a situation which would result in a great deal of bargaining.

The objection to the present plan of minority representation was that it has resulted in the election of undesirable men who would have been defeated in their home districts where known best if the majority were free to choose all representatives.

There was no action taken at the meeting which was in no sense a caucus. The first of its kind to be held since election it was called by Atty. Lee Mighell, of Aurora, that the delegates might get acquainted and hear Dr. Dodd, of the University of Chicago, a teacher of constitutional law, speak on the problems of procedure which will confront the legislature. A similar meeting for down state Republican delegates will be held at Urbana December 1, with Atty. Henry I Green of Urbana and Senator Henry Dunlop, of Savoy, as hosts. The delegates were entertained by Mr. Mighell at his home. After supper there was an athletic program and a showing of educational pictures. At the supper every delegate spoke two minutes. The great part of the time was given to Dr. Dodd's exposition of constitutional law making. He is an authority appointed by Governor Lowden to gather information for the constitutional delegates.

Dr. Dodd said that to facilitate the convention procedure the number of committees should be as few as possible. He thought 20 would be enough. There were 39 in the last constitutional convention.

Dr. Dodd was of the opinion that the greater matters coming before the convention are: Legislative, executive, judicial, revenue, bill of rights, initiative and referendum and phraseology.

HAS MANY GENOA FRIENDS

WOULD OPEN MARKET

The Illinois Packing Co. at Ottawa will ask its stockholders to authorize the issuance of stock to build a four-story addition to the plant and open 45 or 50 retail stores in nearby towns to dispose of the meat.

HUNTLEY TO HAVE FACTORY

The Elgin Stove and Oven company may purchase the Borden plant building and other property at Huntley, for the establishment of a branch factory. It was announced by a director of the concern this morning.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS

Do Not Start Auto Engine in Enclosed Garage

Motorists take warning! That the starting of an automobile in a closed garage is dangerous in the winter time, is the statement of garage men, who say that numerous deaths have been caused from lack of proper care in this connection says the Elgin News.

"Many drivers start their engines running with the doors of their garages closed and the gases from the exhaust are very poisonous," said one garage owner. "At this time of the year it is a very frequent occurrence to hear of someone being poisoned by the gases in his garage, oftentimes with fatal results. Motorists should see that the doors of their garages are opened when they start their cars."

A few years ago, according to garage men, deaths caused by gases from the exhaust were practically impossible happenings because the quality of the gasoline used was much better than it is now. The gasoline sold now is low test and their are more harmful gases thrown off.

The doors of garages should be opened wide as the gas is heavy and remains near the floor, not going up to the top of the garage and thus through the ventilators. Opening the doors of the building will allow the gas to be blown out.

Many people are killed by not getting a few years ago, according to garage men before starting their machines. Elginites will remember the death of Frank Bosworth, prominent coal dealer, last year at this time from exhaust fumes.

It will be remembered that a motorman from the Woodstock & Sycamore Traction Co. was killed by exhaust fumes in the Genoa car barns some years ago.

"A DOLLAR AN HOUR"

Prairie Farmer Says a Few Things Regarding Wages

The following editorial appeared in a recent issue of The Prairie Farmer: "Carpenters, masons and other men in the building trades of Chicago are being paid a dollar an hour. Special labor everywhere is looking at this wage as a proper one, and one that it hopes to get soon.

"If skilled labor is worth a dollar an hour, surely doctors, teachers, preachers, other professional people, who spend much more time than the skilled laborer in preparation for their calling, are entitled to an equal wage.

"And if all these people are worth a dollar an hour, surely the farmer is entitled to the same pay for his time. It takes as much skill to milk a cow as to file a saw. Planting corn in straight rows is as difficult as laying brick. A dollar an hour on the farm will add tremendously to food prices and to the city man's cost of living. After we have gone all the way around we will find that none of us are any better off than before.

"As a matter of fact, we can have more than we produce. No man's time is worth a dollar an hour unless he produces a dollar's worth in that hour. Indiscriminate raising of wages without regard to the amount of work done for that wage is bound for disaster."

WOULD OPEN MARKET

The Illinois Packing Co. at Ottawa will ask its stockholders to authorize the issuance of stock to build a four-story addition to the plant and open 45 or 50 retail stores in nearby towns to dispose of the meat.

HUNTLEY TO HAVE FACTORY

The Elgin Stove and Oven company may purchase the Borden plant building and other property at Huntley, for the establishment of a branch factory. It was announced by a director of the concern this morning.

IT'S THE BIGGEST SOCIAL EVENT

Bayard Brown Post American Legion to Give Its First Party

OPERA HOUSE DECEMBER FIVE

Dance and Basket Social—Ladies Asked to Bring Baskets to Place on Sale at Auction

With new members coming in at every meeting, the local post of the American Legion is rapidly becoming a life sized organization that will add life and strength to the community. Over thirty-seven names are now on the books and there are prospects for many more in the near future.

The work of the Post will be to make every citizen an American, and when one is an American, he can not be a part of anything else. To uphold and defend the constitution of the United States and keep safe the laws of society is the duty of every American, and this is the course all members of the American Legion propose to follow.

On the evening of December 5, the Bayard Brown Post of Genoa will give a dance and basket social in the opera house. The proceeds from the above entertainment are to be used in fitting up a club room for the local chapter.

The girls and ladies are especially requested to bring baskets in order that a goodly sum may be derived from them, for the sooner the money is in the treasury; the sooner the boys who thought for Uncle Samuel will have a place to congregate and talk over old times.

Everyone is invited to attend and help make the evening a success, not only financially but socially as well.

GRANT HIGHWAY SETTLED

Route thru Elgin, Hampshire and Marengo Named

State highway officials have decided upon the original course from Elgin to Marengo as the Grant Highway route of $60,000,000 bond issue hard road instead of through Dundee and Huntley according to a report received by Theodore Schmitz, president of the Elgin Motor club.

Representative Edward Shurtleff of Marengo is said to have notified Huntley authorities that they had lost in efforts to get the road through that city and the message leaked through to Elgin yesterday.

Clifford Older, chief state road engineer, told The Elgin Daily News today that a decision had been made by state road officials on the routing of the road between here and Marengo but would probably not be made public officially until late this afternoon or tomorrow.

Frank Bennett, head of the state department of public works, and Samuel E. Bradt, state highway superintendent, could not be reached at Springfield today for further information.

Mr. Bennett, Superintendent Bradt and Engineer Older held a meeting in the army here last Tuesday to hear claims for and protests against routing through Dundee and Huntley.

The logical and most direct route would have been through Genoa and this route may have been possible had Genoa some kind of an organization to present its claims.

A BOY SCOUT OF '61

J. H. Munroe, famed after the Civil war as the "drummer boy of Shiloh", is dead today at the age of seventy years. He entered the northern army at the age of ten years, from Burlington, Ia., and served as a drummer boy in Company I, sixth regiment, Iowa volunteer infantry. A statue of him as a drummer in on the Soldiers' monument in Des Moines, Ia.

"SILK STOCKING" HOGS

Speaking of hogs, Henry Uitteboogaard of Sheldon, Ia., held a hog sale two weeks ago at which he sold 34 head for $18,830. Last August he sold 41 head that brought $19,270, or a total of $38,100, and he has two more sales listed, one for January and one for February. He is owner of Evolution, the $25,200 stock hog purchased some months ago.

BASKET SOCIAL

There will be a basket social at the McDonald school house Tuesday evening, Dec. 2. Everyone is invited to attend. Ladies please bring baskets. Zella Morehouse, Teacher.

High School Notes

Earl Russell, Editor

The Freshman Party was a decided success. All present had a fine time, but during the midst of the fun Miss Shoessel was called away unexpectedly, (to the others present).

The Juniors and Sophomores are planning a skating party to be given in the near future. The Physics note books were due last Friday and most of them were turned in.

Myrtle Van Wie is again at school after several days illness.

Prin. Harold Mackenzie was at the annual meeting of High School Superintendents at Urbana, Ill., the latter part of last week.

The name of Miss Dorothy Shierk has been added to the Soph. class Roll. Miss Shierk is a very fine young lady and she will no doubt soon become a popular figure in the high school. "Yes the Sophs. are very proud of their new member." The students listened to a series of high class records last Tuesday. No jazz records go anymore.

School is not in session now because of the Thanksgiving vacation. The American Literature class is developing a debating society. Several debates took place on Friday of last week and Monday of this week.

The attendance has been quite regular this week and Glenn's Ford is again running. Strange, isn't it?

The basket ball teams have started practicing in the opera house. They are being coached in that line by Mr. Mackenzie and M. D. Burgess, both of whom have had considerable experience in basket ball. Mr. Burgess coached the team at River Falls, Wisconsin; had charge of the team at Menominee Falls high school and Taylor Wis. He also played on several of Wisconsin's strongest teams and was with the aggregation that defeated the famous "Red Wings" of Minn. in 1914.

Mr. Mackenzie played on the Wheaton high school team when it was considered a strong "five" and was captain of the Wheaton college team when it claimed the State championship. He also coached strong teams at Rockford and Forsythe, Mont. With these instructors it is certain that the G. T. H. S. will turn out a strong team in the future because there is the material on hand.

Miss Schoessel will have charge of the girls' athletics. She is a graduate of Grinnel college and helped materially in physical training in that school. Miss Schoessel will be assisted by Miss Margaret Finlay in this work.

Jeannette Shierk has taken up the duties of the seventh grade and is now a student in that class. The eighth grade has planned on a Thanksgiving party Friday night in the church cellar.

A petition for literary programs were signed within an hour. We hope it goes through. The high school students were partially frightened when the bell for fire drill rang.

The seventh grade held a class meeting Tuesday afternoon.

According to a report from Mr. Mackenzie, the following students stand the highest in their respective classes: Seniors, Ella Handaw, Ester Tyler; Juniors, Klea Schoonmaker, Mabel Montgomery, Paul Molthan; Sophomores, Helen Weideman, Ervin Lackner; Freshmen, John Dyer, Harry Adler, Franz Grams; 8th grade, Marcella Hammond, Garnet Swan; 7th grade, Lois Cooper, Harold Corson.

Two terms of school have passed and the following list of students have attended school regularly since Sept. 1: Marjorie Hemenway, Klea Schoonmaker, Harriet Doty, Helen Weideman, Florence Brown, Nellie Geithman, Kenneth Field, Marcella Hammond, Naoma Hermanson, Nina Hoffman, Clarence Russell, Garnet Swan, Ralph Atlee, Harold Durham, Arthur Geithman, Elsie Leonard, Lois Cooper.

A list of standings in the grammar grades will be published next week.

RECORD PRICE FOR LAND

A new record price was paid for Bureau county farm land last week when S. A. and C. J. Swanson bought the old Carpenter place, comprising 92 acres on the Country Club road southeast of Princeton, for $50,000. The land brought $543.47 an acre.

PHONE SERVICE IS RESUMED

Genoa Again "Connected up" After a Long Delay Due to Strike

EXCHANGE CLOSED FOR 45 DAYS

None of the Striking Operators Return to work, Having Secured Positions Elsewhere

After forty-five days of telephone silence in Genoa, the exchange in this city was re-opened Monday morning with enough operators to give service that thus far is entirely satisfactory. None of the striking operators have returned to work, however, one of the girls having been married recently and the others securing work elsewhere.

The Genoa operators walked out on the 9th of October and that they did mean business in their determination to secure better pay was evidenced in the length of time Genoa went phoneless.

Operators from out of town are employed on the day shift at the exchange, while Stiles Henderson is on duty at night.

LICENSE TO TRAP

New Law Makes it Necessary to Pay for Privilege of Gathering Furs

City Clerk R. B. Field has just received a lot of application blanks and blank licenses for trappers, a new feature of the game law in Illinois. The license fee is the same as for hunting licenses, $1.00.

The law reads as follows, in part: "Trapping licenses will be issued to no person under the age of 16 years without the written request of the father or mother or legally substituted guardian.

"Trapping licenses will be issued (a) to residents of the State of Illinois and citizens of the United States; (b) to non-residents of the state of Illinois, but citizens of the United States; (c) to foreign born persons who have procured their final naturalization papers, and to minor children of such persons.

"All trapping licenses shall expire upon the 15th day of March of each year.

"It shall be the duty of each and every holder of a trapping license to make a report to the Department, within thirty days after the expiration of the license, upon blanks furnished by the Department for such purpose; of all hides of fur-bearing animals taken, sold, shipped or dealt in, together with the names and addresses of the parties to whom the same were sold or shipped. Failure on the part of the holder of any trapping license to make such report as hereinabove required, shall prevent his or her securing a subsequent trapping license.

"The owners and tenants of farm lands, and their children, actually residing on such lands, shall have the right to trap fur-bearing animals upon such lands of which they, or their parents, are bona fide owners or tenants, during the season when it is lawful so to do, without procuring trapping licenses."

THE "UNLOADED" RIFLE

Marion Katalber, seven years old, of Cary Station, was killed by a shot from a rifle handled by her twelve year old brother James last Sunday morning. The children had just returned home from a trip in the country. James picked up the 22-calibre rifle. The other children gathered around him as he examined the gun. Not knowing that the rifle was loaded, he started to test the trigger spring. The gun was discharged and the bullet entered Marion's side, penetrating her heart. Death was instantaneous. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.

FORMER ELGIN MAYOR

Franklin S. Bosworth of the F. S. Bosworth and Son coal and lumber firm, died of pneumonia early this morning after a few days' illness, at the home of his son, Rev. E. I. Bosworth, Oberlin, O., where he had been for the past year.

THE KING IS DEAD

King Segis Pontiac Alcanta, $50,000 prize bull, owned by John H. Artman, of Middletown, N. J., was killed by swallowing a nail, according to the report of veterinarians made today. The animal died Saturday.

Criticism and Citizenship

It is the plain, public duty of every citizen to criticize proposed government measures believed to be harmful.

Swift & Company is in a better position perhaps, than others, to understand the meat packing business in all its relations to public and private interests, even though the others may have been giving the subject a great deal of sincere attention.

Swift & Company is convinced that interference with its legitimate business function by governmental agencies, however well intentioned, would be an injury to every man, woman and child who wants meat to eat, as well as to the men who raise the meat and to those who dress and distribute it.

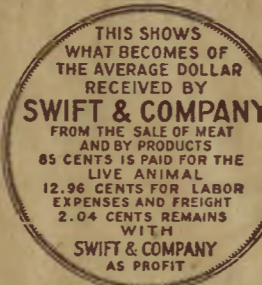

Maximum service that cannot monopolize because of keen competition and lack of control over sources of supply is furnished at a minimum of profit—a fraction of a cent per pound from all sources.

Therefore Swift & Company is taking every legitimate step of citizenship to prevent such interference.

These advertisements are intended to help you, and to help Congress decide what is best to be done. Mistakes are costly and apt to be harmful in these trying times.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

Influence.
The high school teacher was giving a review biography of John Milton. "His life influenced a great many of his poems," she told the class, "and Milton had a very unhappy life indeed. His first wife and he were very unhappy." She talked a few minutes and then asked: "Now what poem did this unhappy marriage cause him to write?"
"Paradise Lost," came back from one of the listeners.

Determination wins; persistence is always rewarded.

Home-Made Christmas Presents

Pretty Gifts That You Can Make for Your Friends at Slight Expense

By JULIA BOITOMLEY

Home-Made Toys

The perennial rag doll that appears this year is made of any ribbed goods—as a ribbed stocking—tinted pink. It is cut out by a pattern, sewed and stuffed with cotton. The face and hair are the result of red, black and white water color. The doll is then dressed up in blue cotton crepe and a blue stocking cap.

A ball made from scraps of velvet is a fine gift for a very little boy. It takes twelve pieces, measuring three inches across at their widest part to make it. They are sewed together, leaving an opening for stuffing with cotton, and the brighter the colors used the better.

A Novelty in Fans

Small palm-leaf fans, all decked out with pretty furbelows are among the novelties that have been brought out for Christmas gifts. These fans are first painted any desired color and then varnished. Then the edge is bound with ribbon having a picot edge or with gold or silver braid or other fancy binding. A spray of millinery flowers is tied against the handle, on one side of the fan, and the handle wound with ribbon that is tied in a bow below the flowers. Or flowers may be painted on the fan or made with scolding wax, as in the fan pictured here. This sample is bound with silver braid and has a long tassel of silver tinsel besides a ribbon bow on the handle. It is pretty in turquoise blue, rose color, red, etc., with ribbon and flowers in colors that harmonize, and is easy to make at home.

Gifts Made of Paper

Among inexpensive gifts that are at the same time elegant and worth while there are many little convenient articles made of prettily colored, heavy paper. Telephone and laundry lists, small portfolios, envelopes in which to place memoranda, etc., are among them. Two articles made of bright blue mottled paper are shown in the picture. The envelope for recipes is made by folding a straight strip of the paper into a pocket and flap. The sides of the pocket are fastened down with little bows of blue ribbon and the flap is ornamented with a painted spray of flowers in pink. The lettering is done in black.

A long strip of the same paper folded over at each end carries one or more sheets of white paper on which a telephone list is to be written. Small white squares outlined with black ornament it and suggest that this is a man's list. It is tied with a bow of blue ribbon at the top.

Little Wall Pockets

Here are two pretty wall pockets to hang beside or on the dressing table, ready to hold whatever their owners choose to put in them. Disks of cardboard covered with gayly printed ribbon make the frivolous and dainty pocket at the left, and it is suspended by plain satin ribbon that ends in small bows at the sides. At the right two heart-shaped pieces of cardboard are covered smoothly with red satin and fastened together. The edges are finished with narrow puffing of ribbon, and the same ribbon serves to suspend the pocket. This smooth and matter-of-fact affair is evidently intended as a gift for a man. Two hearts with but a single pocket are quite meaningful. But one might use a diamond, a spade or even a club to make a similar pocket, and anyone of them will hold a deck of cards, score cards, pencils and such things, or pins, needles and thread for a bachelor.

A Fad for Flowers

There is a fad for artificial flowers to be used instead of natural flowers for household decoration just now and every home-loving woman will be sure to enjoy a gift of this kind. Small garden roses, nasturtiums and chrysanthemums are great favorites and these particular flowers are cleverly made. They appear in baskets and vases as shown above and make a charming Christmas gift.

Pretty Gift Cushions

Cushions were never so numerous or so beautiful within the memory of the oldest gift seeker as they are now. They are made for chairs, window seats, lounges, couches and the floor, of all sorts of cheerful materials. Here is a handsome specimen in which brocaded and plain satin ribbon are used and embellished with satin-covered cord and a cluster of roses and leaves made of satin ribbon.

Christmas Slippers

At the top is a gay little pair of ribbon slippers for the young girl. In the center there are elderdown bedroom slippers for any member of the family, and just below a pair of satin booties for baby, lined with plush or elderdown and bordered with fur. At the bottom is a pair of handsome bedroom slippers made of ribbon that will delight any woman.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair; a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage. Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get a little Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.—Adv.

When money talks to the most of us it is at the other end of a long distance phone.

Shave With Cuticura Soap
And double your razor efficiency as well as promote skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. No mug, no slimy soap, no germs, no waste, no irritation even when shaved twice daily. One soap for all uses—shaving, bathing and shampooing.—Adv.

No one has a more vivid imagination than the man who imagines he knows it all.

FOGGY?

If Bilious, Constipated or Headachy take "Cascarets."

Tomorrow the sun will shine for you. Everything will seem clear, rosy and bright. Your system is filled with liver and bowel poison which keeps your skin sallow, your stomach upset, your head foggy and aching. Your meals are turning into poison, gases and acids. You cannot feel right. Don't stay bilious or constipated. Feel splendid always by taking Cascarets occasionally. They act without griping or inconvenience. They never sicken you like Calomel, Salts, Oil or nasty, harsh pills. They cost so little too—Cascarets work while you sleep.—Adv.

A woman dislikes men who understand her.

Colds Break

Get instant relief with "Pape's Cold Compound"

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quiff blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a cold and ends all gripe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of your head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness, stiffness. "Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. Insist on Pape's! —Adv.

Its Nature.

"How did you find the naturalist's lecture on sponges?"
"Of absorbing interest."

THE SUREST FOUNDATION

Thirty years ago a severe prostration, Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine was brought to the market in 1890 and has stood the test. To-day it has the reputation of being of the highest reliability. Its manufacturers always keep and keep to the great rule formulated by Andrew Carnegie: "Subject all products to more rigid tests than purchaser requires. A reputation for producing the best is a sure foundation upon which to build." Thousands of those who suffered from loss of appetite, torpid bowels, flatulence, headaches, nervousness, etc., never forget to recommend it to their friends. They know that it helps. And others again have convinced themselves that Triner's Angelica Bitter Tonic is an excellent re-builder of energy, that Triner's Cough Sedative is unsurpassed for colds and coughs, that Triner's Liniment gives a quick relief in rheumatism and neuralgia. Your druggist has all these remedies in stock.—Joseph Triner Company, 1333-33 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill. Adv.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1890 the govern-

Women Who Recovered From Being Nervous Wrecks

Murphysboro, Ill.—"When I began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines I was just a nervous wreck, I could hardly be on my feet. While not able to work, I tried to keep up. I was advised to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, and I took both. I began to get better, and when the treatment was finished I was much stronger and better able to work. The remedies took and fully satisfied me."—Mrs. Wm. Blackburn, 627 N. 14th St.

Elgin, Ill.—"When I reached middle life I was miserable with 'heat flashes,' dizzy spells, bearing-down pains, nervousness, sick headaches and sleeplessness. I remembered that when my mother was going through the same period of life she depended upon Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the 'Pleasant Pellets.' She came through the change so well that I took these two remedies and my health improved at once. All of the annoying and distressing conditions that I had suffered with disappeared, and I came through the 'change of life' just as strong and well as my mother had years ago. I can highly recommend these good medicines to all women at this critical period."—Mrs. Annie Vandenburg, 256 Franklin St.

Streator, Ill.—"I am very glad to be able to add my testimonial to the worth of Dr. Pierce's excellent remedies. They have been used extensively in my mother's family, and also in my own, and always with the most remarkable success."—Mrs. Ada Graves, 106 W. Morrell St.

Off to School-

Did you notice a boy like this going to school this morning? No, not a boy same of face, but same clothes, for there are a number of boys in this community that are wearing "Woolly Boy" Standard Clothes. They are the type of clothes that give that neat and manly appearance. Every garment possesses 16 special features.

1. Lapel in neck-band guarantees perfect satisfaction.
2. Carefully shaped collar insures perfect fit on neck.
3. Reinforced shoulder pads prevent sagging.
4. Hand-shaped coat fronts—retain neat appearance.
5. Buttons hand-sewed with strong linen thread.
6. All belts, belt loops, uniformly finished.
7. Pockets, linen stayed, always look right.
8. Coat bottoms turned and felled—prevents sagging.
9. Inserted pencil pocket.
10. Watch pocket in waist band.
11. All inside pant seams taped, preventing ripping.
12. Pant full lined to give double durability.
13. Adjustable buttons at pant bottom.
14. Cloth faced pant pockets.
15. All sewing with strongest pure dye silk.
16. Pant fashionably bloused.

These features mean longer wear—mean greater clothes value—mean lower clothes cost per month—for "WOOLLY BOY" CLOTHES LAST LONGER.

We have a large selection of these suits in stock now. Bring your boy along—select a "WOOLLY BOY" for him. You can obtain a desirable suit at $10.00 to $16.00. There are a few boys' Overcoats at $10.00 to $14.00.

Of Special Importance to Boys

In the inside pocket of every "WOOLLY BOY" Standard Suit there is an interesting "Sail-Me" Airplane. You can make it do all the tricks that the regular airplane goes through—volplanes, glide, loop the loop, turn somersaults and return to you. These airplanes are free to all purchasers of "Woolly Boy" Standard Suits.

"Bully Service for Builders"

That's what a customer said the other day when he looked over the first delivery of materials for his house. "If you keep this up," he said, "I am sold on your quality and service."

What we did for this man we will do for you, whether it be lumber, UNIVERSAL cement, shingles, or whatever you may need in the building line. Every man at Building Headquarters knows our policy—to treat our customers right.

This is a good time to build. Later, materials may be hard to get and labor probably will be scarce.

Barbara Louise Kohn was seven years old Sunday. Since it is not the custom to have birthday parties on the Sabbath, this little Miss entertained thirteen girl friends Saturday afternoon. After playing games and enjoying Victrola music for an hour, the guests were ushered into the dining room, where the table was prettily decorated. Green and yellow crepe paper streamers lead from the chandelier to the table, making an arbor affect for each little head. Three large "Kewpie" dolls, clever place cards and yellow candy baskets completed the table decorations. Ice cream, cake and macaroons were served. Several pretty gifts were presented the little hostess.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Out of the more than 3,000,000 Ford cars now in use, about sixty percent have been sold to farmers. Probably no other one thing has brought to the farm so much of comfort and profit as has the Ford car. It has enlarged the social life, doubled the facilities for marketing, brought the town next door to the farm, multiplied for the farmer the pleasures of living. On Catamount Road

By IZOLA FORRESTER

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Audrey listened anxiously. Surely there came the unaccustomed throb of a motor somewhere along the hill road. Didn't they know, she thought, that no cars ever used it, that it zigzagged along the edge of the ravine with a sheer drop of two hundred and eighty feet to the bottom of the river? She rose, the tin pint pails filled with huckleberries dangling from a rope around her waist, and pushed back her hair to shade her eyes.

"Say!" she called as loudly as she could. "Say! Look out for the road!" She held her breath for an answer, but the hum of the motor drowned her voice, and as the low gray roadster swept around the bend, it hit a broken place in the road, and was gone crashing down into the tree tops before she could make a sound.

No adventure and excitement became unexpected guests in Catamount valley, and for weeks there lay in the Pendleton cabin a woman with wide, somber, dark eyes and silent lips, who groped her way back from the shadows almost regretfully.

The chauffeur and two men had been taken up to the hospital at Kingsley. Audrey heard that one of them died. Mrs. Stewart had not seemed interested when she told her this, nor had she even asked which one. Audrey hoped privately it wasn't the young one with the curly blond hair and little short-cropped mustache in the army uniform. There had been only two boys to go out from the valley to wear khaki, and she felt an added interest in this youngster who seemed to have escaped the perils of war to become acquainted with death in Catamount ravine.

Then one day, when she was helping Mrs. Stewart to slip into a negligee and try to sit up awhile, she turned over a folded leather case in her smaller suitcase. It opened and she saw a photograph of the same face, only younger, and this time its owner wore yachting clothes. Mrs. Stewart glanced at her as she bent over it absently.

"Was he the one?" she asked in a hushed tone, and her fingers twisted the knotted fringe of the white coverlid.

"Why, I don't know," Audrey answered eagerly. "I liked him best. The old man swore terribly when they were carrying him, and this one never said a thing and they had to get him up with ropes."

Mrs. Stewart shuddered. She tried to put from her the reality of that last drive that was to have ended in a finality so different to the one that overtook them all. Ivan had been very silent. She had told him when they left Kingsley that she would give him his answer before they reached their destination. And Dick had sat with her in the back, talking and laughing all the way on the last stretch, never dreaming how, in his joy of youth he was turning her from the thought of marrying simply for money and the rest from eternal worry. They had passed mountain shacks along the way, and she had looked at them with curious eyes. Could women be happy in such places with only love?

It was the fourth week when he came, the young one, as Audrey always called him to herself. It had been the chauffeur who had died, he told them. Mr. Radloff was doing well, in fact intended returning to New York on Monday and calling the following week. Mrs. Stewart never even colored at his news, and Audrey wondered which one she cared for.

Then followed weeks of enchantment. Mrs. Stewart had insisted on making the journey back to the city for special treatment, she said, and while she was gone Dick Granger stayed at the cabin. Her father liked him. It roused him to have some one to talk to, and Dick liked to go over his collections with him and help him. It was such an old story to Audrey she never realized what a strange life they led up on the side of Shanokin mountain, she and the old scholarly naturalist.

"It's just always been this way," she told Dick. "I was born right here, and my mother died here. I love it all, and I've been away to school twice, but I always long to come back. It's so free, don't you know? Why, your car was the first that has ever come over our road. Everybody knew how dangerous it was. It's lucky you're alive."

"Isn't it?" Dick smiled down at her standing six feet two in his lieutenant uniform. "Do you know, I wish I could always stay here now. I haven't any real home. My mother's married again, but my mother's married again, and I'm rather the odd gosling. I used to wish when we were coming back that I had some one who was waiting for me over here."

"Wasn't—" Audrey checked herself. Possibly Mrs. Stewart would not like to have her use her name. But Dick caught the inference and shook his head.

"She's never thought of me twice seriously. Radloff can give her everything she wants in life. They're going to be married in Paris."

"They are?" Audrey leaned forward in amazement. "Why, I thought of course she was coming back here."

"For you?" she said briefly, quite as if he had been some part of Mrs. Stewart's luggage which she left behind.

"What on earth did you stay here so long for if you didn't expect her back?"
"I like it here," Dick told her firmly. "Maybe when I leave the army I'll take a slice of the mountain, too, and live near your father. I'm sick of noise and turmoil and everything like that. I want—well, just this."

He half closed his eyes and looked down at the panorama outspread below them. Hills breaking from the morning haze, acreage of green fields in little tilted squares down in the valley, with the river glittering like silver here and there, and back of them the mountains and green silences.

"I am coming back to stay here," he added. "Aren't you glad, Audrey?"
"I don't know," she frowned. "Father likes it, but he's old, and I like it, I guess because it's home, and I don't know any better, but you're a man, Dick. You don't have to stay away from people and things that are happening. I'd hate to think you'd lost your pace. I always think of you as a fighter. Maybe it would have been better if you had married Mrs. Stewart. I've seen her look at your picture, and I'm sure she would have cared for you if you'd only tried harder."

"I didn't want to," he answered. "I met them both in Paris while she was in war work there, and I was lonesome. She was mighty kind to me, and I suppose I was a bit sentimental, but, Audrey, that isn't love."

Audrey stood up suddenly and pointed down the valley. There was a fire in his eyes she could not meet.

"On clear days you can see way down to the little hill this side of Kingsley."
"Isn't that nice," laughed Dick. He reached over her shoulders, and took her hands in his, drawing them back to his lips. "Maybe we'll build our shack right here, Audrey. You can't send me away when I want to stay. I've fought all I want to. Now I want a home and you."

WARRIORS IN GAY UNIFORMS

Soldiers of Uncle Sam in Samoa Make Picturesque Appearance on Parade Ground.

The Fita-Fitas, or native soldiers of American Samoa, are considered the most picturesque of all the American army. That country is under the control of the navy department and the naval officers of Pago Pago form the governing body of Tutuila and the five other small islands. The women among the bluejackets are the valuable office assistants. The Fita-Fitas are the outside unit. Their duties are municipal as well as military. They act as policemen, and also as guards of honor for the governor on inspection tours.

The fatigue uniform consists of a sort of black knit with a bright red stripe around the border. Above the waist and below the knees the uniform is of native's own. A leather belt, carrying a dagger on the side, holds the knit, or lava-lava, in place. The dress uniform consists of the fatigue uniform with the addition of a sleeveless white vest. The pretty, vivacious Samoan belles "fall" for this uniform as readily as their American sisters do for the khaki.

The principal feature of the Fita-Fita organization is a native brass band, which has mastered music so well that its repertoire includes a wide range of classical and popular airs. It plays on all the boats that stop at the harbor, while the passengers dance. The band also provides music for the dances at the naval station.

AND ALL DONE WITH HAIRPIN

Some Few Things That a Woman Can Do Successfully Without Elaborate Kit of Tools.

With a hairpin all that is "doable" can be done. With a hairpin a woman can pick a lock, pull a cork, peel an apple, draw out a nail, beat an egg, see if a joint of meat is done, do up a baby, sharpen a pencil, dig out a silver, fatten a door, hang up a plate or a picture, open a can, take up a carpet, repair a baby carriage, clean a lamp chimney, put up a curtain, rake a grate fire, cut a pie, make a fork, a fishhook, an awl, a gimlet or a chisel, a papercutter, a clothespin, regulate a range, tinker a sewing machine, stop a leak in a roof, turn a flapjack, caulk a hole in a pair of pants, reduce pressure in the gas meter, keep bills and receipts on file, cut patterns, tighten windows, clean watches, untie a knot, varnish floors, do practical plumbing, pry shirt studs into buttonholes too small for them, fix a horse's harness, restore damaged mechanical toys, wrestle with refractory bottle stoppers, improvise suspenders, shovel bonbons, inspect gas burners, saw cake, jab tramps, produce artificial buttons, hooks and eyes, sew, knit and darn, button gloves and shoes, put up awnings and doctor an automobile. In short, according to the Farm Journal, she can do what she wants to; she needs no other instrument. The hairpin is king.

Searchlight Telephone.

One of the latest inventions of talking through the air without the use of wires is the searchlight telephone, developed by Dr. A. O. Rankine of London. By it conversation is transmitted by a beam of light.

The inventor said the apparatus had been tested over a distance of 1 1/2 miles with much success. In an illustration he received clear and distinct messages in a building a considerable distance from the transmitter.

Only by the interception of the beam of light can the conversation be tapped, the new plan differing in this feature from wireless messages, which are scattered broadcast. Either artificial or natural light can be used.

STURDY AND SENSIBLE SCHOOL DRESS

Dressing the girl in her early teens for school ought to be a simple matter, easily disposed of—and it is with mothers who are gifted with good judgment coupled with the courage of their convictions. But the young person from thirteen to seventeen or eighteen is apt to be self-conscious and self-centered; she is not always willing to defer to the judgment of older heads than hers, and here is where difficulties confront the mothers. Schools that require a uniform make things easy; there is no room for comparisons where all are dressed alike, and dress does not distract the attention of the young people from their work.

There is another advantage in the uniform. It teaches the young girls that it is not so much what they wear as how they wear it, that counts; a lesson that will be valuable in after years when the matter of apparel becomes important to them. But where no uniform is required, it falls to the lot of mothers to teach their daughters to suit clothes to occupation and occasion, and to value neatness above everything else.

Sturdy materials and fast colors are required for school clothes. They must be well made and it was no so much the better. The school dress for a young girl, shown above, will look well in either wool or cotton goods. It has a plaid skirt and plain middie blouse, with plaid belt and neck binding. It is as good a model for school wear as one could ask; of a character that is guaranteed not to take the young ladies' minds off the intricacies of "square root," "decimals" or any of the "logarithms." "Algebra" and "Latin" and "Arithmetic" occupy the school hours of the smaller girl and play absorbs the balance of her waking hours. She rejoices in middie or one-piece frocks that do not interfere with her freedom. A dress for her school days, shown in the picture, is made of dark colored wool cloth, with a collar and inset in the cuffs of lighter colored wool, or some strong color contrast, as red with dark blue or dark gray. It is made with a straight panel at the front. The simplest sort of pattern is applied with narrow braid at the top and bottom of the panel. Two narrow belts of the same material as the dress slip through cloth slides and are fastened with buckles at the front.

Blouses Increase in Importance

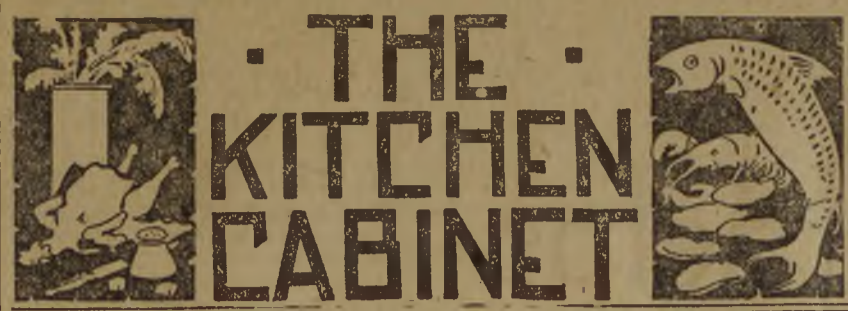

An excursion through the shops in search of new blouses is as intriguing as an expedition after wild flowers. Where there is so much variety and beauty to be found there is an equal amount of zest in making selections. The autumn brought variety in styles, in materials, in methods of decorating the new blouses and, for several reasons, their place in the wardrobe is increased in importance. One of these reasons is the "high cost of dressing." The suit blouse is not confined to tailored styles nowadays, but undertakes to fit a suit for many occasions. In the company of a handsome separate skirt, lovely blouses are able to face any occasion with assurance.

The overblouse and the smock style are the important new features in the season's showings. In the overblouses, two materials or two colors of one material are used to make the blouse—as crepe georgette over chiffon, or net or satin. In the smock style the blouse has a peplum and a 'girde,' as shown in the figure at the right of the picture above. This particular model embodies several details of the mode in the flaring sleeves, the shape of the neck opening, the silk cord and tassels forming the girde, and the management of the embroidered decoration. It is made of georgette crepe and embroidered with silk floss. In place of silk cord and tassels, short girdeles of gold or silver brocaded ribbon add their brilliance to some of the models and gold or silver threads are introduced into silk embroidery, maintaining the season's devotion to rich, metallic decorations on about everything we wear. Another item to be noted is the inconspicuousness of fastenings; they are not apparent and leave us guessing as to how blouses are got into. High-necked blouses are not as plentiful as others, but they are good style and favored by matrons, to whom they prove more becoming than round or "V"-shaped neck openings. A georgette blouse with high neck and long sleeves, at the left of the two models pictured, is carefully designed to prove becoming. It has shoulder yokes to which the body is gathered back and front, and a narrow plain vestee with groups of little buttons set at each side of it. Silk embroidery is responsible for a touch of rich-looking decoration, to which scintillating beads are often added in blouses for dressy wear.

If instead of a gem, or even a jewel, we could cast the gift of a lovely thought in the heart of a friend, that would be giving as the angels give.—George MacDonald.

THINGS WORTH REMEMBERING.

When going upstairs place the whole foot on the stair and keep the body erect; this manner of climbing stairs will not strain any muscles unduly.

A dish mop used for washing dishes is a great saving on the hands as the water may be used much hotter and the process is finished quicker.

When raisins and prunes stick to the paper which wraps them, hold them a moment near the steam of a tea-kettle.

A baby, no matter how young, should be given frequent drinks of sterilized water. A bottle is the best way to give it until the child is old enough to drink from a cup.

Orange juice for babies, given between meals, is a most wholesome and refreshing drink.

A harmless laxative which will be a pleasure to the children to take is the following: Grind through a meat grinder one pound each of figs, dates, raisins and softened prunes, with five cents worth of senna leaves. Mix and knead well, form into a loaf and wrap in waxed paper; keep in a cool place. For a child a piece the size of a peanut is sufficient; adults may take a larger piece. This will keep for weeks, is entirely harmless and much less expensive than many drugs sold for the purpose.

Add preserved citron to the mince-meat; it adds greatly to the flavor of this time-honored pie filling; the citron melen which is home prepared, but not that used for cake.

Citron melen, if grated before preserving, may be used for many dainty dishes or garnishes for ices, giving a delicate flavor well liked and adding to the variety of good things as well.

One may boil a pudding in a double boiler instead of in the old-time pudding bag. Line the upper part of the boiler with oiled paper, turn in the pudding and it will come out in good form.

When it is necessary to clean upholstered furniture indoors, cover with a dampened cloth and beat; the dust clings to the cloth.

Coffee custard is prepared by steeping two tablespoonfuls of ground coffee in two cupfuls of milk; then strain, add the eggs and sugar and cook as usual.

There is only one way to get ready for immortality, and that is to love this life and live it as bravely and faithfully and cheerfully as we can.—Henry Van Dyke.

GAME IN SEASON.

A young tender rabbit is a delicious dish when properly cooked and served. Wash and wipe the meat carefully; cut in serving-sized pieces; brown in a little fat, then add water and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, cooking slowly until tender. Thicken the gravy and serve as one does fricassee chicken. If an older rabbit is to be cooked, it should be parboiled in water with a tablespoonful or two of vinegar until tender, then brown as above.

Roast Wild Duck.—Clean and truss the duck; sprinkle well with salt and pepper and cover the breast with thin strips of salt pork. Place on a rack in a dripping pan or roaster; add a little water to the pan; place in a hot oven and cook for half an hour. Baste at least five times during the roasting. Serve with currant jelly. An onion or two may be put into the cavity of the bird, or a bunch of celery, removing before serving. These flavors add much to the flavor of a wild duck. Most epicures agree that the highly-seasoned stuffings overpower the delicate flavor of the bird. For those who still cling to the method of stuffing, the following will be enjoyed:

Raisin Stuffing.—Soak one quart of bread crumbs in cold water and squeeze dry; add two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one cupful of chopped raisins and one-half cupful of chopped celery.

Roast Venison.—Rub the roast all over with the cut side of a lemon; lard it with strips of fat salt pork, and roast 15 minutes to the pound, basting occasionally; cook until tender but rare. Serve with spiced grape jelly. If one cares to improve the flavor, add a small chopped onion and carrot to the roasting pan.

Rabbit With Vegetables.—Place a thick layer of onions in a casserole, then a layer of rabbit cut in serving-sized pieces, a sifting of flour and seasoning and another layer of onions, and rabbit until all is used. Cover and cook in a moderate oven.

As no moisture (except that in the mixture), is added, care must be taken to keep it from scorching. Serve with mashed potatoes.

THE HAPPY STATE OF MIND.

The happy state of mind so rarely possessed in which we can say "I have enough," is the highest attainment of philosophy. Happiness consists not in possessing much but in being content with what we possess. He who wants little always has enough.—Zimmerman.

MILK DESERTS.

Milk, the food best suited to children, makes the best foundation for wholesome desserts, good for the young, wholesome for those of weakened digestion.

A smooth, nice custard may be made using two eggs and a pint of milk. If one wishes to have the custard thick enough to mold, three to four eggs should be added. The more egg the more nutriment, so it is a dish to be recommended when eggs are at all reasonable in price.

Baked Custard.—Beat four eggs slightly, add a half cupful of sugar and a quart of fresh milk. Cook over water in the oven, sprinkling in a bit of cinnamon, nutmeg or any flavor desired. A pinch of salt should also be added to all milk dishes. Do not allow the water to boil at any time during the baking or the custard will whey. Any egg and milk combination should always be cooked at a low temperature. To test the custard to know when it is done dip a knife into the center; if it comes out clean the custard is ready to be taken from the oven and hot water. If the cups are allowed to stand outside the oven in the water they will often overcook.

Ginger Custard.—Line buttered custard cups with pieces of canton ginger, then pour in a thick custard, using four eggs to a pint of milk, a third of a cup of sugar, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of vanilla. Beat the eggs slightly, add sugar, salt, milk and flavoring and strain into the mould or moulds. Set in hot water and bake until firm. Serve with a spoonful of canton ginger sirup poured over each serving.

Caramel Custard.—Melt in a smooth omelet pan one-half cupful of sugar, add gradually four cupfuls of scalding hot milk and stir until the caramel is dissolved. Beat five eggs, add half a teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of vanilla and strain into a mould rinsed in cold water. Bake as usual. Serve with a caramel sauce.

No man or woman of the humblest sort can really be strong, gentle, pure and good without somebody being helped and comforted by the very existence of that goodness.—Phillips Brooks.

SOUR MILK AND CREAM DISHES.

Cooked food made from sour milk or sour cream has a flavor and texture which is especially good. Cakes made with cream or sour milk keep better and improve in flavor.

Waffles.—Mix and sift one cupful of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt and one one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat one egg, add one cupful of sour milk, then the flour mixture; beat well; add a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in half a teaspoonful of water, and when well mixed add a tablespoonful of butter; beat again and cook on a hot waffle iron. Serve hot with maple sirup.

Sour Milk Biscuit.—Mix and sift together one quart of flour, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful each of salt and sugar; cut in two tablespoonfuls of shortening and moisten with one and one-half cupfuls of sour milk. Roll out and bake in a hot oven. Serve with honey or maple sirup.

Boston Brown Bread.—Mix thoroughly one cupful each of whole wheat flour, cornmeal, and graham flour. Mix two cupfuls of sour milk and one-half cupful of molasses and a teaspoonful of salt with one teaspoonful of soda. Stir in the dry ingredients, beating thoroughly. Turn into well-buttered baking powder cans and steam two hours. Remove the covers and dry out in the oven for 15 minutes. Raisins and nuts may be added if desired. Cut in neat slices, using a string.

Spoon Bread.—Take one pint of coarse white cornmeal, half a teaspoonful of salt, and enough boiling water to make a smooth paste. Add one egg, one cupful of sour milk or buttermilk, and a half teaspoonful of soda. Beat until smooth; pour into a hot, well-buttered baking dish and then bake quickly.

Sour Cream Cookies.—Cream half a cupful of shortening with one and one-half cupfuls of sugar; add two beaten eggs, half a cupful of sour cream, one teaspoonful of soda and flour to roll; flavor with nutmeg and chill before rolling.

Dohm Tank Heater

The Dohm Tank Heater gives you an exceptional amount of heating surface with no waste of heat. Besides warming the water throughout the tank by radiation from its surface, it heats water to a boiling temperature in a reservoir which is a part heater, and when not wanted for scalding feed this hot water can be made to circulate all through the tank. That's why it heats faster than any other tank heater.

The Dohm Tank Heater has a downward draft, so heats the water in the tank quickly without waste and with least possible fuel. Its 24 square feet of heating surface make it extremely economical of fuel.

The Dohm Tank Heater is 48 inches long, 24 inches high and 21 inches wide and weighs 160 lbs., complete with two lengths of 6-inch smoke pipe, scraper, poker and two anchoring rods. It can be used in any kind of tank; wood, metal or concrete. We guarantee it for materials, workmanship and efficiency. It burns any kind of fuel—wood, coal, trash—anything that's handiest for you to use. Sold on 10 Days' Free Trial—Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back

The Can't Clog Feeder

The Can't Clog Rotary Hog Feeder is a well built, durable article that will last for many years. Base and trough are made of 22-gauge galvanized steel. Half of the galvanized iron cover turns on a pivot to permit pouring of feed into feeder. Adjusting screw regulates space between base and drum according to kind of feed used or the speed of feed flow wanted.

The Can't Clog Rotary Hog Feeder can be used for feeding any kind of ground feed or small grain, including shorts, middlings, shelled corn, tankage, etc., etc. It holds about thirteen bushels.

The Can't Clog Rotary Hog Feeder is offered you on a basis of actual performance. If you don't find that it saves you feed, and gives complete satisfaction, return it and get your money back. We're willing to let you be the judge. If the Can't Clog doesn't sell itself to you by what it does, we don't want you to keep it. Can you ask anything fairer?

Try One Brunswick Then Decide

The best way to know for yourself the superiority of the Brunswick Tire is to buy one and compare it.

That is, if the very name of Brunswick isn't sufficient proof to you, as it is to most men, that here is an extraordinary tire.

Thousands of men who have known the name of Brunswick for years, realize that a Brunswick Tire has to be the best—for a mediocre product could never bear this historic name.

Long before the Overland Trail became famous, the House of Brunswick was established. It was one of the chief users of rubber for fifty years before automobiles came into use.

No concern with such a history could afford to offer anything but the best. For reputations are built slowly, but can be quickly destroyed.

This is a practical guarantee that Brunswick Tires offer more than the usual, yet at no added cost.

Get it straight that what you've hankered for in pipe or cigarette makin' smokes you'll find aplenty in P. A. That's because P. A. has the quality!

You can't any more make Prince Albert bite your tongue or parch your throat than you can make a horse drink when he's off the water! Bite and parch are cut out by our exclusive patented process!

You just lay back like a regular fellow and puff to beat the cards and wonder why in samhill you didn't nail a section in the P. A. smokepasture longer than you care to remember back!

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Tippy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidors—and—that clever, practical pound crystal glass humidor with sponge moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.
