MAKING LAND VALUES

THAT which is not desired cannot be said to possess a value. But that which is desirable and in demand possesses a value according to its desirability—the value being regulated by the demand. Farm lands vary in value according to their location, their productive qualities and their accessibility to the markets.

The character of crops must be regulated according to the market at hand and every community necessarily directs the character of the product brought to town by the farmers.

There must be a market for the farmer. There must be some place where he can realize on his crops and receive in exchange a fair value in money or in such merchandise as will supply the necessities of those dependent on his efforts—to say nothing of the luxuries that have become practically necessities.

The day has gone by when the farmer and his family raised and produced by home manufacture all the things needed. We have become creatures of conditions entirely new. We must have stylish clothing to take the place of the home-spun worn by our forefathers. We must have pianos and organs, upholstered furniture, chinaware, crockery, tinware, aluminum utensils, self-binding harvesters, threshing machines, together with modern machinery and tools of all kinds. Our wives and daughters must have millinery and all sorts of fashions which, bless them, they are entitled to have and to wear.

Our day is no longer a period of appreciation of beauty unadorned or a disregard for the good things of life. We need, or we think we need, which is the same thing, a lot of things which cannot be produced on the farm, therefore we incline our motives and our endeavors to obtain such things.

In answer to the demand for such things we have established communities for a general exchange of these things; for the exchange of the farm products for money and for merchandise. Now that we have established a standard of values for everything we figure everything in dollars and cents and if we are dealing with a storekeeper who carries a stock of the things we require and wish to buy and who wishes to buy that which we have to sell, there is no other about making the deal.

In our community we have storekeepers who have equipped their places of business with everything we need. They have invested their money in merchandise just as the farmers have invested their money and their time in lands and machinery and cattle and in crops.

In this manner there has been created a certain market for a proportion of the crops raised by our farmers. The marketing of the balance of the crops is readily attended to by the mere fact that we have a community, a headquarters for buying and selling; the greater the size of the community, the better facilities.

IF A COMMUNITY IS POOR AND UNPROSPEROUS, THEN THE FARMER CANNOT MARKET HIS CROPS SO PROFITABLY.

The prosperity of a community rests entirely with the people in that community, this, of course, including those who live on the outskirts and who really form a part of the community, because of the fact that they do their marketing there. If they bring their products to the community market and sell them there and then spend their money with the local business men, the community will grow and prosper. Land values will increase and the earnest toilers and workers will become wealthy.

But if either the farmers or the storekeepers fail to do their full share in the way of complying with the business requirements then there will be a lack of success and the community will not grow or prosper. Land values will not increase.

There is a division of responsibility, practically equal. The interests of the storekeepers and of the farmers must come together. Without a due appreciation of these requirements, no community can look for progress.

If the storekeepers do not carry the merchandise ready to meet the requirements of the farmers they realize that they cannot expect to do the business. But the failure is not here.

The great trouble in our community, now, is that the shower of mail order catalogs has descended on the land and the farmers are inclined to believe that no harm can come of diverting their trade from the local storekeepers to the mail order houses in the big cities.

We must keep our money in circulation in our own town. We must protect our local storekeepers. We must create and build up conditions of prosperity right here at home or there will be no increase in land values. In fact, they will decrease if we send our money to the mail order houses.

IF WE DESIRE PROSPERITY, WE MUST HELP TO CREATE IT OURSELVES BY SPENDING OUR MONEY AT HOME.

CALF WEIGHS THIRTEEN POUNDS

Influx of Farmer Tenants into McHenry County
—Opera House Owner in Electrocutted
Dogs Kill Nine Sheep

The fiftieth anniversary of the Congregational church at Woodstock will be celebrated October 23 and 24.

Nine head of sheep owned by Marshall Bros., at Belvidere, were attacked and killed by dogs on Friday last.

The call extended by the Congregational church at Belvidere to the Rev. Mr. Murray of Kirkland has been accepted by that divine.

The E. Hunter Boat company of McHenry has just closed a contract with Sears, Roebuck & Co. for one thousand row boats, to be ready for delivery by April 1.

The Hampshire Business Men's association was organized last week with the following officers: President, F. R. Brill; Secretary, J. H. Hildebrandt; Treasurer, Lincoln Scott.

The South State street hardware store operated by W. W. Ray, mayor of Belvidere, was entered by burglars sometime during Wednesday night and goods carried away valued at about $80.

M. R. Fowler, a farmer living near Aurora, is the possessor of a diminutive heifer calf which is a wonder. It was born about two weeks ago and weighed but thirteen pounds. Since then it has gained about four pounds and is real frisky. It appears to be a normal specimen except for size.

John Benson has quite an agricultural exhibit in The Chronicle office window at DeKalb. It is a mangel beet which was grown here in his garden and which weighs the small total of 23 pounds. The beet takes up nearly the whole window and looks as though it would make a bushel if it was sliced.

With the Van Sicklen Speed-meter company swamped under orders which 200 employes are unable to fill and the Elgin Tool works working night and day to turn out lathes to satisfy big orders, a return of prosperity to Elgin is seen by men who have been studying manufacturing and commercial business there.

Robert Kneeder, owner of the Opera House at Collinsville, Ill., was electrocuted last week while attempting to repair a moving picture machine at the theater. Several hundred patrons waited five minutes for the pictures to reappear on the screen and when they became restless an employe started the investigation which led to the finding of Kneeder's body. Announcement of the accident was made from the stage and the audience filed out of the theatre solemnly in silent respect for the dead.

Harvard Herald: The influx of tenant farmers from the counties of Grundy, Will, DeKalb, Kendall, LaSalle and Livingston is more noticeable this fall than ever, farm owners in McHenry county say. High prices prevailing for land in the counties named are the reasons, it is claimed, tenant farmers not caring to keep on paying $8 and $10 an acre as annual rent when they can come to McHenry county and find much of the land that is nearly as productive and rent it for much less, but more often obtain farms on shares or buy outright at what they believe are moderate prices compared with prevailing prices in the counties from which they come.

ROAD DRAGGING

Town Boards Must Make Provisions for Dragging Roads in Their Districts

Town boards which fail to make provisions for dragging the roads in their districts at stated seasons of the year, incur the liability of a fine of from ten to twenty-five dollars for each offense under the Tice road law as amended by the last legislature.

There may be some excuse, however, for neglecting this important duty since the first of July when the law went into effect, for the reason that copies of the session laws, passed by the last general assembly, are scarce articles. At least few if any, have been seen in these parts.

It is announced that under provision of an amendment to the Tice road law, adopted by the last general assembly, commissioners of highways are compelled to provide for road dragging in their township during the coming year. The road must be designated by the commissioner and contracts must be made with individuals for the purpose.

According to the new act, the town clerk in each township is required to set aside not less than $3 nor more than $5 of the road and bridge fund for each mile of road to be dragged and the commissioner of highways must make the contract for the dragging, the maximum price being one dollar per mile for each dragging. Not more than six miles can be awarded to any one person.

It will become the duty of the town clerk and commissioner of highway to make provisions for the enforcement of the new law at the regular semi-annual meeting of the board, which is held the first Tuesday in September every year.

U. S. AFTER "NEAR BEER"

Allege it Contains Over Legal Percent of Alcohol

Federal revenue agents began this week to sample every brand of "near beer" in Northern Illinois and visit all the oases of "dry" communities.

Arthur Burrage Farwell of Chicago gave the government a "tip" recently that is expected to result in the collection of several thousand dollars in revenue and possibly scores of prosecutions.

Farwell discovered that at least one popular brand of "almost beer" contains more than one-half of one per cent alcohol, and that means that the maker, bottler and retailer of this beverage must all purchase government licenses.

The campaign began in Hyde Park, Chicago, where Farwell's Law and Order League has been battling for many years against alleged "speak easies" and widespread "near-beer" emporiums. The revenue agents expect to collect several hundred dollars there before they start in on other parched localities outside Chicago.

The Hyde Park "dry" leader purchased a small bottle of the "near-beer." He explained that the city chemists had analyzed it and found that the liquid contained nearly twice the alcohol that federal laws say may be sold without a license.

The revenue laws say that the brewer must pay a tax of $1.50 a barrel. If any liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol is bottled before it is sold, then the bottler must pay $50 for a wholesale license. And finally, the retail dealer must pay $20 for a license.

ANOTHER VETERAN

H. N. Peavy Passes Away at His Kingston Home

IN CO. F, 17TH ILLINOIS CAVALRY

Spent Greater Part of His Eight Years in this Vicinity—Funeral Services Tuesday Afternoon

H. N. Peavy, a veteran of the civil war, an old and respected resident of Kingston, passed away at his home on West street at 1:30 p. m. last Saturday, October 9. He had been in poor health the past few months due to two slight strokes of paralysis, and owing to his advanced age, he suffered a general breaking down which was the direct cause of his demise. He was a resident of Kingston and vicinity for over thirty years, and engaged in farming in his earlier days. At one time he was landlord of the Kingston hotel and a few years later served his official duties as tax collector.

On December 10, 1863, he enlisted as a private in Co. F, 17th Illinois cavalry at St. Charles, Ill., and served his country faithfully for two years and eight days. In 1854 he was united in marriage to Miss Catherine Smith at Derrith, Clinton County, Michigan.

Horation Nelson Peavy was born January 19, 1835, at Allen, Allegheny County, N. Y. When three years old he came to Illinois with his parents, and three years later moved to Michigan, moving back to Illinois in 1857 and settled in Charter Grove and then to Kingston, where he has since resided.

He leaves to mourn his departure his beloved wife, two sons and five daughters, and several grand children, besides a host of other relatives and friends.

The funeral was held on Tuesday at the home at 12:30 o'clock and 1 o'clock in the Baptist church, with the pastor, J. W. Green officiating and burial was in Kingston cemetery.

DIETZ OF CAMERON DAM

Extraordinary Attraction at the Garland Theatre Next Tuesday Evening

On another page will be found an ad of Cameron Dam entertainment to be given at the Garland Theatre on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19.

The contract was made by a son of J. F. Dietz, who visited Genoa this week. It will be remembered that the elder Dietz refused to let the Chippewa Lumber Co. build the dam on his land to raise the water so they could float down their logs on the Thornapple river across his land, they having repudiated the contract to sell him the land for the price agreed upon because it had greatly increased in value. He resisted the officers, who attempted to force the issue in what he considered an unjust way, and in so doing shot one of the deputies, shut himself up in his home and withstood an extensive siege. Forced at last to surrender, he was tried, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, but before retiring from the governorship, McGovern commuted his sentence to twenty years, ten of which was to be on parole. He now has a little more than four years to serve and will probably be pardoned out before that time. During the siege he was shot in the arm, one of his sons and his eldest daughter were seriously wounded. More than 1000 shots were fired. The dam was rebuilt, the movies were staged and will be shown in this city next Tuesday night at the Garland.

GOOD FOR ANYONE

F. A. Crawford's Baths are Invigorating and the Best Known at Health Resorts

Those who have tried a bath at F. A. Crawford's place in the Slater building are more than pleased with the results. The writer, who recently returned from Excelsior Springs where he went to get the benefit of medicated Turkish baths, tried one at Mr. Crawford's Saturday night and found it to be just as good as the ones he traveled nearly 500 miles to get. For one who is suffering with stomach trouble, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc., there is nothing that will equal these baths. They are especially beneficial to persons who use tobacco and any one who leads a sedentary life. This system, patented by Mr. Powell of Excelsior Springs, is considered the best used there and is the bath that cured Mr. Crawford of his rheumatism. New patrons are coming in every day and no doubt another cabinet will be added to take care of the business. The place is open every forenoon and evening for men and afternoons for ladies, a lady being in attendance.

Owing to the medical properties of the vapor used in the bath and the treatment after bathing, there is no danger of one taking cold in any weather. Mr. Crawford is not paying one cent for this article, nor does he know that it is being published. The editor's only desire is that his friends may take advantage of this rejuvenating process. It is a good thing for Genoa and should receive enough patronage to make it a permanent institution.

F. F. Farmiloe, Pullman.
E. J. Rose, Lockport.
C. A. Briggs, Sr., West Peotone.
E. K. D. Hester, Antioch.
W. H. Lock, Kingston.
T. E. Ream, Libertyville.
W. H. Tuttle, Pearl City.
C. S. Clay, Rockton.
J. E. DeLong, Roscoe.
W. S. Feldwisch, Hampshire.
Benj. Rist, Sycamore.
H. E. Rompel, Belvidere.
T. L. Parker, Kirkland.
T. E. Buckley, Marengo.
W. H. Pierce, Wabash Ave., Chicago.

W. M. Satterfield, corresponding secretary Wesley Memorial Hospital, Chicago.

The return of R. E. Pierce to Genoa gives general satisfaction among the members of the church. During Rev. Pierce's pastorate many changes have been made in the local church, not only in the church edifice itself, but in the methods of bringing things spiritual to the people. Rev. Pierce is modern in his ideas and has by his methods caused the young people to take a greater interest in church affairs. The Genoa church is the best equipped of any in this part of the country for taking care of the physical needs of the members, thereby enhancing the opportunities of attending to their spiritual welfare. May the next year see still greater results for Rev. Pierce.

Mr. Patterson had been able to get about town until the last week, altho in a feeble condition. During the last few days of his sickness, however, he was practically helpless and death, altho a shock to the family, came as a relief to the sufferer.

Funeral services will be held at the home this (Friday) afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. R. E. Pierce officiating. Interment will take place in Genoa cemetery.

Henry R. Patterson, son of Hezekiah and Lydia Newton Patterson, was born in Amity, Erie county, Pennsylvania, July 11, 1834. He came to Illinois in 1853 and settled near Kirkland. Since that time the deceased was known through the country as "California" Patterson, this title being given him on account of his trip to the west and clung to him thru the years following as an identification, there being another Henry Patterson in the village.

In the fall of 1864 Mr. Patterson bought the eighty acres now owned by C. H. Awe and continued to reside there until 1881 when he moved to the village of Genoa. He resided here continuously from that time until his death.

U. S. FIRST: WILSON

TELLS D. A. R. ALL CANDIDATES SHOULD BE CALLED ON TO DECLARE STAND.

IS IN HURRY FOR LINE-UP

Fiancee Hears President Urge Ostracism for Those Who Use This Country's Might to Aid Other Nations During Great War.

Washington, Oct. 12.—President Wilson for the first time bitterly attacked hyphenated Americans who sought to stir up trouble for the United States. His attack was made in a stirring address before the Daughters of American Revolution, who celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of their society.

"I would a great deal rather draw pepper up my nose than incur the hostility and dislike of my neighbors," the president said. "Anything is preferable to ostracism. This is just the sort of discipline should be meted out to those within our borders who do not think of America first."

"Now we have come to a time of special stress and test," the president declared. "There never was a time when we needed more clearly to conserve the principles of our own platform than this present time. There have been some among us who have not thought first of America, who have thought to use the might of America in some matter not of America's originative and they have forgotten that the first duty of a nation is to express its principles in the action of the family of nations and not to seek to aid and abet any rival or contrary ideal."

Anxious for Line-Up. "I would not be afraid upon the test of 'America first' to take a census of all foreign-born citizens of the United States, for I know that the vast majority of them came here because they believe in America. I am not deceived as to the balance of opinion among the foreign-born citizens, but I am in a hurry to have an opportunity to have a line-up and let the men who are thinking first of other countries to stand on one side—biblically, it should be the left—and all those that are for America first, last and all the time on the other side."

Boston, Oct. 13.—One more game is all the Red Sox need to keep the world's championship in Boston. Bill Carrigan's men turned the tables on the Philadelphia team for the third consecutive time and by the identical score that they achieved their other triumphs, 2 to 1.

Ernie Shore came back for the Red Sox and wreaked revenge for the beating the Phils handed him in the opening game. His slab opponent was George Chalmers, and a pitchers' battle it was all the way. The Red Sox again outbit their rivals, but it was by the close margin of 2 to 1. Barry and Hobby were the heroes who scored for Carrigan, while Cravath saved the visitors from a shutout.

WHITE SOX WIN CITY FLAG

Defeat Cubs 11 to 3—Capture Series From Nationals for Fifth Successive Time.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—It's all over now. Those rampant White Sox went out yesterday, tore the hide off the Cub forces with an impressive exhibition of skill, copped a one-sided clash by 11 to 3, brought home their fifth successive city championship and sent a howling mob of 32,866 away from Comiskey park convinced that it was more than a "fix" that routed the West side clan so decisively in four out of five games played.

Wisconsin Hotel Held Up. Racine, Wis., Oct. 9.—Two masked automobile bandits held up the Lake Side hotel south of the city limits, and taking valuables and jewelry escaped after a wild chase toward the city.

CITY TAKEN BY TEUTONS

Austro-Germans Capture Town and Forts of Semendria on the Danube—Bulgars Cross Border and Start Hostilities Against Serbs.

London, Oct. 13.—The foreign office officially announced that the Bulgarian minister had been handed his passports and that diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Bulgaria had been broken off. The minister will leave England today.

Bulgarians Invade Serbia. Two blows at Serbia from different directions marked the progress of the war in the Balkans. They were: Bulgarian invasion of Serbia at Garbhogaz, near Kniazhevatz. Capture by the Austro-Germans of the Serbian Danube river town of Semendria, with its fortress.

The war office announcement at Berlin said the Austro-German forward movement over the whole Serbian front is making good progress. All Bulgarian attacks on the Serbs have been repulsed thus far, the Serbian legation announced. It was said the invasion began in the direction of Vlasina.

The Bulgarian divisions are engaged in the attack on the Serbs near Kniazhevatz, said an Athens message received by the London Star. Russians to Aid Serbia.

Paris, Oct. 12.—Russian troops will be fighting in the Balkans today. There is complete accord between France, England and Russia, and all have sufficient troops to throw into the Balkans without weakening any front. These declarations were made in the chamber of deputies by Premier Viviani in reply to a resolution adopted earlier in the day by a committee.

Serbs Claim Gains. Nish, Oct. 13.—Austro-German troops which crossed the Danube southeast of Belgrade have been driven back across the river with heavy losses, the Serbian war office announced. A force that reached Semendria was annihilated, those who escaped from the Serbian bayonets drowning in the Danube.

Belgrade Taken by Germans. Paris, Oct. 11.—An official statement issued by the war office at Nish was given out in the afternoon at the Serbian legation here and is as follows: "Belgrade has fallen into the hands of the Germans after a desperate resistance."

British artillery and forces of marines under Admiral Ernest Troubridge of the English navy, that were defending Belgrade, are reported to have retreated in the direction of Kusgrad.

Belgrade in Ruins. Three-quarters of the city of Belgrade has been destroyed by 6,000 Austro-German shells and the fighting continues, according to an Athens dispatch to the Matin. Telephone communication between Belgrade and Nish has been cut off.

The Austrians and Germans encountered desperate resistance from the Serbs at Belgrade and for two days a terrible battle with bayonets raged in the streets before the capture of the city was completed.

RUSS PIERCE TEUTON LINES

Two Thousand Men and Sixty Officers Taken Prisoners on the Stripa River—Guns Also Captured.

Petrograd, Oct. 13.—Russian forces have pierced the Austro-German lines on the Stripa river. They have already taken prisoner more than 2,000 men and 60 officers and have captured four guns and ten rapid-firers. The Russian advance is being pushed vigorously.

Successful operations against the Germans in the vicinity of Dvinsk are recorded in the official statement issued tonight at the headquarters of the general staff.

London, Oct. 13.—The Germans still are making a determined effort to envelop Dvinsk, which is costing them severe losses," says the Times' Petrograd correspondent.

"In the direction of Dvinsk the initiative again has passed to the Russians. In the southeast General Ivanoff has won back more than half the ground he abandoned after the evacuation of Lutsk, and a corresponding advance has been made by the Russians on a 60-mile front."

U. S. ANSWERS GERMAN NOTE ON FRYE CASE

Washington Tells Germany That Passengers Must Be Saved When Vessel Is Torpedoed.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The United States, in a note dispatched to Germany, to be presented by Ambassador Gerard on the case of the American ship William F. Frye, asks that if it is found necessary to destroy American ships carrying absolute contraband, passengers be removed to a safer place than small boats.

The American government accepts the German suggestion in reply to the American proposal concerning a commission to fix damages for the Frye, agreeing to dispense with the umpire and leave the case to two experts, one from each country.

In agreeing to submit to arbitration the interpretation of the treaty of 1828 to decide whether it gives Germany the right to destroy American ships to stop contraband traffic, the American government holds that not only must warning be given and passengers and crew saved, but that small boats are not considered a "place of safety" within the meaning of international law.

The United States has not insisted upon this heretofore with reference to Americans traveling on ships under a belligerent flag. Officials here, however, feel that the treaty was a special arrangement between Germany and the United States expressly drawn for the purpose of protecting the vessels and lives of subjects of either party in war time.

Articles of the treaty specifically provide for the delivery of contraband out of the cargo of an American ship and then states that the vessel can proceed to its destination, the American government draws the inference that it never was intended that American vessels should be destroyed.

EMBARGO IS BELIEVED NEAR

Villa and Leaders of Other Factions Will Be Unable to Obtain Munitions—Skinner Expected to Be Appointed Ambassador to Republic.

Washington, Oct. 11.—A formal announcement was made by the secretary of state following a Pan-American conference which assures the recognition of Gen. Venustiano Carranza as president de facto of Mexico.

Here is the statement issued by Mr. Lansing. "The conferees, after careful consideration of the facts, have found that the Carranzista party is the only party possessing the essentials for recognition as the de facto government of Mexico, and they have so reported to their respective governments."

U. S. to Recognize Him. In accordance with this decision the United States immediately will accredit a diplomatic representative to General Carranza.

It is believed in Washington the European governments will follow the lead of the United States.

The president is considering Robert P. Skinner, who has been withdrawn as consul general in London because of British objections to the character of trade reports he submitted to the state department, for appointment as ambassador to the Carranza government.

To Reply Arms Embargo. Diplomatic relations thus being restored between the United States and Mexico, as presided over by General Carranza, President Wilson will enter into negotiations for settlement of the various questions which have arisen as a result of the revolutions that have devastated the neighborhood "republic."

It will be the president's duty, in accordance with the obligations to the head of a friendly state, to prevent the United States from serving as a base for revolutionary movements.

He will issue a proclamation reapplying the embargo on munitions, as far as Mexico is concerned.

In other words, General Villa is no longer to enjoy any support from this country.

U. S. AVIATOR IS DROWNED

Lieut. Walter R. Tallaferro Falls 1,000 Feet With Aeroplane into San Diego Bay.

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 12.—Falling with an army aeroplane 1,000 feet into San Diego bay, Lieut. Walter R. Tallaferro, stationed at the United States army aviation school at North Island, sank with his big tractor machine in fifty feet of water and was drowned. All efforts to recover his body have been futile.

Tallaferro was one of the foremost aviators of the United States army. On September 17 he established a new American record for sustained flight by remaining in the air for nine hours and forty-eight minutes. He was thirty-five years of age, a native of Kentucky and had only recently married Miss Leicester Sehon, a daughter of former Mayor Sehon of San Diego.

CHICAGO'S LID ON SUNDAY

Only 13 of City's 7,136 Saloons Open—Thirsty Residents Leave Town During Day.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Chicago's first week end on the water wagon was a complete, unqualified success. For twelve long hours the Sahara desert, the Congressional Record or any of the other notable dregs had absolutely nothing on Chicago. The few minor infractions of the law discovered by the police only served to emphasize the general observance of the law. Thirteen of the 7,136 saloonkeepers in the city were declared to have failed to observe the Sunday closing order to the letter. Many residents found it comparatively simple to get outside the corporate limits of Chicago and quench their thirst.

CRIME INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Fletcher Dobyns of Chicago says in a published statement that his investigations as attorney for the city council crime commission have influenced him to go out and fight the saloon as the greatest source of crime in Chicago. He asserts that almost all crimes are committed by abnormal persons, and that in tracing the source of these abnormalities he has found it to be, in a large majority of cases, the liquor evil.

"Before I started my investigations in regard to crime," says Mr. Dobyns, "I was not a total abstainer or an advocate of closing the saloons. But now I believe that alcoholic drinks do more than anything else toward creating the abnormal person. We must face the liquor problem. I say it not as a prohibitionist, but as a student of crime."

PRACTICAL SALOON SUBSTITUTE.

The Illinois Steel company started a campaign against drinking among their employees in their South Chicago mills a short time ago. The saloonkeepers, by the way of retaliation, established elaborate free lunches and advertised the fact. They posted signs which told of the bad effects cold lunches have on digestive organs. Over the doorways of saloons pictures of large steaming bowls of soup were painted. One sign read: "Don't come in to drink; come in to eat."

The steel company came back with the establishment of a restaurant in the plant with the following menu: Bowl of Soup 2c

Menu table with items like Roast Beef and Potatoes 5c, Ham Sandwich 2c, etc.

ALBERTA DRY.

Alberta, Canada, is the first dominion province to abolish the saloon by direct vote of the people. It voted dry July 21 by 20,000 majority, the law to go into effect July 1, 1916. This great newly white territory comprises 260,000 square miles, an area larger than the combined states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

A factor of great influence in the victory was the indorsement of the prohibition measure by the medical men of Calgary who thus placed themselves in the front rank of efficient and up-to-date physicians who are everywhere declaring the evil effects of alcoholic beverages.

HAD SIGNED THE PLEDGE.

The artist was painting—sunset, red, with blue streaks and green dots. The old rustic, at a respectful distance, was watching.

"Ah," said the artist, looking up suddenly, "perhaps to you, too, nature has opened her sky-pictures page by page? Have you seen the lambent flame of dawn leaping across the livid east; the red-stained, sulfurous islets floating in the lake of fire in the west; the ragged clouds at midnight, black as a raven's wing, blotting out the shuddering moon?"

"No," replied the rustic, shortly; "not since I signed the pledge."

WILL STAY IN JAIL.

With tears in his eyes Charles Boyer, sixty-three years old and a prisoner in the Multnomah county jail, Oregon, pleaded with county officials that he might be kept in the jail until the state goes dry on January 1, 1916. "Every time I get near booze," explained Mr. Boyer, "I get drunk. Every time I get drunk I hire a rig and go for a ride. Every time I hire a rig for a ride I bring the horse back to the stable." "We will keep you in jail until January 10," the judge assured the prisoner when he heard the plea. "The state ought to be good and dry by that time."

GOVERNMENT FIGURES.

According to statistics made public by the treasury department, internal revenue collections on spirits are decreasing about $1,250,000 a month, and this despite the emergency "war tax" levied on wines by the last congress. That there has been marked decrease in the amount of distilled spirits consumed in the United States the past year is shown by the following figures: From July 1, 1913, to May 1, 1914, the taxes were $135,518,495. From July, 1914, to May 1, 1915, they were $121,804,705—a decrease during the ten months of $13,713,790.

CONDITIONS IN VERMONT.

When Vermont first went back to license, in 1903, 90 cities and towns voted that way. This year there were but 17, and two of these (Burlington and Rutland), the only ones of any importance which remained wet, stayed so by but from 25 down to 12 majority. Its return to prohibition by popular vote on March 7, 1916, seems assured.

ABOUT BEER.

Beer is more prolific in producing certain organic diseases of the liver and kidneys perhaps than any other form of alcohol. The end of the beer drinker is often a "hob-nailed" cirrhosis of the liver or Bright's disease. Its food value is hardly worth mentioning.—William Edgar Darnall, M. D., F. A. C. S., Atlantic City, N. BACK TO OLD FASHION

SEAMS ARE AGAIN CONSIDERED IN HEIGHT OF STYLE.

Recent Change in Opinion is Most Marked, and Has Much to Recommend It—Some New Ideas in Sleeve Models.

The new fashions do not insist upon the darts which give the bust prominence and outline a strong curve toward the small waist, because there is too much orientalism in clothes yet to allow of a small waist, but the shoulders are fitted and the chest is smoothly covered.

The shoulders are often made more narrow in appearance by a drooping line or a cap to which the sleeve is gathered; but nothing must take away from the attenuated back that is made to look smaller by reason of several seams running from shoulder to waist or hips, if the garment is a coat. There is no longer any prejudice against seams. What would have been considered too old-fashioned for anything except the family album is now very good style.

Another accepted fashion of recent years that must be avoided is the three-quarter sleeve. No matter for what hour the garment is intended during the day, the sleeve must be long. There is no uncertainty there. It may be full or tight, leg-of-mutton or prolate, cuffed with muffs of fur, or finished with a silk cord; its style depends upon the type of blouse, and its length depends upon the present law.

There is no tendency to allow the least evidence of fullness at the wrist; whatever the width at the elbow—and it is usually considerable—the wrist part fastens in as snugly as a glove. Happily this is so, for it is one of the best lines a woman can adopt if she wants her hand to look well.

The sleeve that is gathered to a small cap at the shoulder, bulges out

MOST USEFUL IN BATHROOM

Receptacle for Towel, Sponge, or Soap That May Easily Be In Every Household.

A receptacle for the towel, sponge or soap is seldom if ever provided in a bathroom where it can be reached from the bath, with the result that these articles are generally balanced along the edge of the bath, and sometimes they fall into it and at other times they fall on to the floor. Here we give a sketch of a useful article for hanging upon the wall by the side of the bath that the amateur carpenter can "knock together" in a few moments, and in which towel, soap and sponge may be placed and be within easy reach of the bather without any fear of these articles slipping into the water.

It is composed of two pieces of well-planed board, one-half inch in thickness and 18 inches in length. The back board is 10 inches in width and the front 8 inches in width. These two boards are joined together with triangular pieces of wood fastened on at either end with thin sharp nails. At the upper edge, at the back of the holder, two large picture rings are screwed in by which it may be sus-

WAR BRIDE HAT OF MOURNING

In Europe, where half the women are in mourning, this hat, which Courneur of Paris, its designer, has appropriately called the "War Bride's Hat," is meeting quite a vogue among the young widows, who appreciate its smartness and chicness. It is made of black crepe, with a touch of white veil, and is draped, permitting it to hang loose down the back.

over the elbow and is held in below is the one that the majority of French designers have sent over. It has taken the place of the bell-shaped sleeve which was featured last winter in coats and frocks. That style is out, unless it is occasionally used on a luxurious long topcoat of velvet or fur.

The eighteenth century sleeve, which is made of white batiste or organdie and ends with a frill over the hand, held in place by a tight bracelet of black velvet ribbon, is returned to fashion; it is used on that new kind of winter house frocks which Mme. Joire of the house of Paquin accentuates, made of taffeta and organdie, of velvet and organdie. These sleeves are placed in a jumper blouse of blue or black taffeta, and there is a wide band of the same summerlike material on the skirt or edging the ends of the sash.

Purple is Autumn's Favorite. In the realm of fashion, where many delightful rumors come true, it is said that purple will be a favored color for late summer and autumn. Soft shades and wistaria, as well as the very deep shades of reddish purple, all bid for recognition. Dark colors have already gained such prominence one sees little of the bright colors.

The tango and other brilliant, harsh colors which have been so popular have entirely passed, and black and navy blue are most favored by fashion leaders for suits, dresses and coats.

In line with the craze for things black and white are the new handbags of silk, which have striped lining to match, or in direct contrast, are gayly lined with flowered satins or silk. The handles are of the black and white silk or of black moire, as when the bag is all black, ornamented with the gilt clasps.

Checkerboard Furs. Let a fad get started, and it is surprising to see to what extreme lengths it will run. The fad for fur on summer costumes is Parisian, and established. Fancy a checkerboard collar and cuffs of black and white fox fur on a coat sponsored by Balcom! On the coat or wrap necessary for the dozen and one uses of summer, what could be more chic?

pended from nails in the wall, and when completed it should be painted with white enamel.

Odds and Ends. All millinery shows the influence of the love of subdued tints. The high-crowned hat that seemed to give the needed dignity of appearance demanded by many women as a sign of the times is seen in pastel shades of velvet that are infinitely beautiful.

Plum and raisin tones in soft tints in velvet and satin give the note of subdued brightness that is not out of keeping with dress worn for practical needs, and no charge of undue extravagance can be brought against any woman who may naturally prefer to wear a tint more advantageous to her appearance than a more sober shade.

Practical Ribbons. Many of the hats that are designed to wear with street suits are ribbon trimmed. Ribbon always durable, is also especially suitable to the sailor shape that is winning out as the most desirable of the simple walking hats. Satin sailor hats and those of white felt and pongee are all popular. White kid is used, too, by some of the exclusive milliners, usually touched with a vivid touch of red, blue or green.

Separate Skirts for Fall Wear. Separate skirts, which for many years have been associated with the summer season, are offered in very attractive models for autumn wear. The new skirts are made on circular lines, and many of them have graceful redingote tunics, becoming alike to the stout or slim figure.

HIS OWN GUARD ON WAY TO JAIL

David Esaacson Hopes in Prison to Invent Something for Government.

MAN OF MANY PARTS

Had Premonition of Fate and Feels He Will Still Be of Some Use —Believes in Upholding Law.

Atlanta, Ga.—David Esaacson, bowed by age and troubles, poor as a church mouse, inventor, alchemist, dreamer, swindler, on his way to the federal prison here, boarded the steamship City of Columbus at her pier in New York city. Searching out Captain Diehl of the steamer, Esaacson announced himself as a United States officer, charged with taking a prisoner to Atlanta.

"And where is the prisoner?" asked Captain Diehl.

"I am the prisoner," Esaacson replied to the astonished captain. "I am at once prisoner on parole and my own guard, for I have given my word that I will deliver myself."

Esaacson, sixty years old, was convicted in the federal court in New York city of having used the United States mails to swindle many persons through a manufacturing company, of which he was president. Esaacson was sentenced to imprisonment of a year and a day in the federal prison here and to pay a fine of $200.

Passengers Ignorant. Not knowing who he was, Esaacson's fellow passengers were delighted with him; his conversation proved him a man of the world; the seascapes he painted delighted the other voyagers. Landing at Savannah, Esaacson dined there a day or two, then came here and relieved himself of his duty as a deputy United States marshal; he delivered himself to the warden of the jail, Esaacson said.

"Marshal McCarthy is one of the best of God's noblemen. He said to me: 'Esaacson, I am going to let you take yourself to Atlanta, not because I am partial to you—for I would do this for any man in whom I had confidence—but because your case has appealed very strongly to me.' Such kindness from a man accustomed to handling prisoners penetrated the very core of my being."

Esaacson claims to have rediscovered an art which the ancient Etruscans practiced—that of enameling a pebble so that it resembles exactly a precious stone; only an expert can detect a false stone. He has not completed his experiments in this direction. He added to the correspondent:

Felt It Was Coming. "It was the saddest moment of my whole life the day I left New York. I never felt so crushed in spirit, but I am going to bear it philosophically. For, believe it or not, this series of experiences was preordained. Years ago I had a premonition that certain events would occur in my life; I could almost see the future and discern their nature."

Esaacson denied the accusation that he had bled his dupes for $500,000.

"A few thousand, a few thousand," he said, "of which I have not a centime now."

"Old as I am, I have not completed my work, my honest work, by a great deal," he concluded. "While in Atlanta I shall continue that work, pursue my discoveries, and, together with my painting, I shall keep busy. Some day—and I can see it as clearly as I see the light now—I shall invent something that will be of use to the United States government, in the enforcement of whose laws I believe thoroughly. My experience will be one that in years to come will bring some benefit, and if I can devote myself while in Atlanta toward the invention of something that will be of service to Uncle Sam, I shall not count my time as having been spent in vain."

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I. PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and I overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 84 Progress Avenue, Providence, R. I.

From Mrs. Maria Irwin, Peru, N.Y. PERU, N.Y.—"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was very irregular and had much pain. I had lost three children, and felt worn out all the time. This splendid medicine helped me as nothing else had done, and I am thankful every day that I took it."—Mrs. MARIA IRWIN, R.F.D. 1, Peru, N.Y.

From Mrs. Jane D. Duncan, W. Quincy, Mass. SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. DUNCAN, Forest Avenue, West Quincy, Mass.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

F. W. Olmsted, Genoa

Nelson Carte, uncle of Mrs. F. O. Swan of this city, passed away at his home in Elgin last Wednesday, death being due to paralysis. Mr. Carte was 68 years of age and a veteran of the civil war, having many acquaintances in Genoa.

A blaze in the roof of E. C. Crawford's residence at four o'clock Sunday morning called out the fire department. It was not necessary, however, to hook up the hose as the fire was put out with water from pails.

L. W. Miller, who was laid up several weeks recently with a broken arm, due to an automobile accident, received a check last week from the Illinois Commercial Men's Association for $239 28, covering his claim for disability.

If that clock is continually stopping, loses or gains time every day and has a general air of depression, take it to Martin. It may need no more than a cleaning. If that is all it needs you will have to pay for no more than that. Martin deals with you honestly.

M. J. Corson has purchased thru the local agent, J. R. Furr, a seven passenger Jeffery automobile. The car will be delivered this week. Oley Seeberg has purchased the Briscoe five passenger car which Clarence Butcher has been driving. The latter will buy a new car of the same make.

The Trolley League championship was awarded to the Elgin base ball team at Elgin Sunday after they had defeated Dundee in a very exciting and interesting game. The final count was 11 to 5, but does not give evidence of the tight contest. A large floral horseshoe was presented to the winning team after the final put-out.

The Genoa High School Literary Society has arranged with Mr. Kirschner to direct the high school orchestra which is composed of high school students. Any student who can play a musical instrument may join the organization. Miss Rogers of Genoa will probably train the high school quartet and chorus. Some interesting musical numbers may be heard this winter at the high school entertainments.

Nearly a mile of washed gravel has been placed on the Ney road, north from Wing's crossing. It is not pleasant to drive over now, but next spring it will make one of the best in the country. Plans should be made right now to oil this stretch next year and every year thereafter. The road from Ben Awe's to Chamberlain's corner demonstrates the value of oil as a road preservative.

Wm. Wolter is confined to the house with a leg badly cut and severe bruises about the body, the result of a runaway mix-up last Monday. Wolter was driving Seward's mules out north of Genoa when the pesky animals took a mule notion into their heads and started to tear things to pieces. That Wolter was not killed is simply a piece of luck. He was thrown directly under the heels of the mules and they proceeded to kick as only such critters can. Fortunately none of the heels struck the victim about the head.

Several of the neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Corson assisted them in celebrating their tenth wedding anniversary last Saturday evening. The affair was in the nature of a surprise, arranged by Mr. Corson's mother. The guests enjoyed themselves to the limit and made the tenth anniversary one to be remembered by the Corsons. Numerous gifts of tinware were presented, each piece of tin being accompanied by a short piece of "poetry," some of which was sure good. A fine lunch was served.

Farmers are now getting into their corn fields, the frosts of last week putting a quietus on all vegetation. There is very little, if any, fully matured corn in this part of the state. Some may be marketable at full value, but there will be more that the frost caught before denting. In many fields no ears had formed at all, this being due to a second and third planting.

Assisting Ambition

Men of ambition—with the desire to forge ahead—need revitalizing food to help them to compel success.

Grape-Nuts

is a success food. It is made from whole wheat and malted barley and, pound for pound, contains far more "go" and "get there" than ordinary foods.

It retains all the nutriment of the grains, including their natural mineral salts—Phosphate of Potash, etc., often lacking in ordinary food, but essential to thorough upbuilding of sinew, brain and nerves.

Grape-Nuts is partially pre-digested and agrees with all. It's the ideal vigor-food for child and adult.

LITTLE IMPORTANT THINGS.

The store was on fire. The fire department had left a card in the office, locating the nearest alarm box; but somebody had mislaid the card or thrown it into the waste basket. Nobody knew where the nearest fire alarm box was, and fifteen minutes of time was wasted hunting for it.

A telegram arrived at ten o'clock requesting the head of the firm to be in another city on the morrow. At 10:30 o'clock a limited train left the city, arriving at its destination at two o'clock the next afternoon. The next train was not due to arrive until after the close of business. The telephone was out of order, and there wasn't a time table in the office. When one was procured, the 10:20 limited had departed.

There were half a dozen rugs upon the parlor floor, and no water close by. The wife's dress caught fire from a lighted match. Her husband ran for water, instead of wrapping one of the rugs about her. She is scarred for life. The husband, like hundreds of others, didn't know what to do.

One of the woman clerks in the office fell in a faint. Her companions lifted her from the floor and supported her head, instead of laying her down with her feet slightly elevated. It was some time before she recovered consciousness. How few people know what to do in similar emergencies!

Johnnie had a sore throat. Mother thought it might be serious, but grandmother differed from her. They bound it in liniment and applied other home remedies, instead of sending for the doctor. It was diphtheria, but the doctor was not called in until a few hours before Johnnie died.

Thousands upon thousands of people have neglected the symptoms and invited the disease, instead of placing themselves in the hands of a reputable physician.

When in doubt, call the doctor. Don't take chances with yourself.

Miss Smith was a stenographer. She didn't know how to spell a certain word, and she inquired of a dozen fellow-clerks, none of whom could spell it. The dictionary was within half an arm's length from her all the time. About one-tenth of 1 per cent of us realize that the dictionary will answer about nine-tenths of all everyday questions, and we fail to consult it.

If man treated his machine as he treats his stomach, the machine would be out of order most of the time. He enters a restaurant, orders a dish, does not like the taste of it, thinks it may not be fresh, but eats it, and ptomaine poisoning keeps him in bed for a week or more. He would not treat his engine that way, but then an engine isn't human and must be cared for.

How many of those who work are thoughtful enough to have an extra pair of stockings and shoes, or even another suit of clothes, in the office in case a sudden storm drenches them?

If you haven't any common sense, go out and get some, even if you have to pay for it. Common sense is worth more than dollars, and double discounts money in any market.

AFRICAN BEAUTY'S EARRINGS

Large Ornaments Are Much in Demand Among the Women of the Dark Continent.

Large ear ornaments are coming more and more in fashion and the effect of these ornaments, whether of gold, silver or varicolored stones, is to give the face of the wearer a picturesque, exotic expression. Some of the metal rings for delicate pink ears seem overweight. That woman will undergo a considerable discomfort to be in the fashion is a daily demonstrated truism, and it does not need a photograph of a blithe Masai matron to show how deep-seated the failing is in the sex.

The lady, who is representative of the first families of Africa, is proud of her collection of ornamental junk—and the word is used literally and not in the slang sense to which we are accustomed. She carries a load of copper, brass, steel and iron, and she would be at a loss to understand why you did not admire her ears.

They are wonderful cars, to be sure, for they are so weighted with metal that they have been pulled out of their normal shape and hang like flaps, to which the ornamental weights are attached. She is the lady with the elongated lobes. Queer what freaks fashions take, isn't it?

With a Fine Outlook.

"I engaged the rooms for my holiday," he said, "because the landlady wrote me that they overlooked a superb garden of 200 acres, richly adorned with statuary, where I was at liberty to promenade."

"Well?" Jones inquired.

"It was a cemetery," he said, bitingly.

OPENING A BANK ACCOUNT.

The days of the teapot depository for money have passed, or are rapidly passing away, and the provincial stocking is no longer considered seriously.

Comparatively few financiers or business men carry more than a few dollars in their pocketbooks or at home, and they seldom, if ever, pay a bill except by bank check.

The millionaire and the man of extensive business do not often see or handle more than a few hundred dollars in bills a year.

Comparatively few wholesale business houses carry in their money drawers or safes more than a hundred dollars at a time, except on pay days.

National banks and trust companies have become the depositories for cash, and practically all of the business of the world, today, is done by check and draft.

Bills have little circulation except for small transactions or in the retail stores and for pay rolls. Even in the last named case many employees receive their weekly or monthly wages or salary by check.

Even when national banks and trust companies fail, the depositors seldom suffer any loss, because they are preferred creditors.

All banks of deposit are subject to examination by the United States government or their state governments, and most of them are conservative, few of them taking speculative chances in the investment of their money. At any rate, money deposited in a national bank or trust company is far safer than that carried on the person or in the bureau drawer.

Nearly all the national banks and trust companies pay from 1 1/2 to 2 per cent interest on daily balances of sums from $300 to $500.

I should advise every young man and every young woman in business to open an account in some national bank or trust company. If you have any doubts as to the standing of the bank, ask the advice of two or three leading merchants, who are likely to know the reputation of all financial institutions within their city or town.

The advantages of carrying a deposit subject to check are:

1. Your money is safe.
2. It gives you ready money without the danger of loss.
3. You can pay your bills by check, which is the better way, as the check in itself is a receipt.
4. It assists in establishing your credit.
5. Acquaintance with bank officials is always advantageous. They are the most acceptable of references.

Savings bank deposits are not subject to check, and cannot be used for the payment of bills. Some savings banks require a notice of withdrawal, although the majority of banks waive this right.

The savings bank is for the laying away of money, while the national bank and trust company should be used as a convenience.

Most national banks and trust companies will open an account for a sum as low as $200 or $300, and some will accept even $100.

Many a man is known by his bank.

IN NEW HEBRIDES WILDS

Tastes of the Natives Are Very Gradually Being Weaned From Humans to Pigs.

Many of the natives of these islands are employed upon the plantations of the white men, but the majority live the lives of primitive beings in the jungle, where the chiefs rule with rods of iron for the most part. To have killed a man, no matter in what way, is a great honor, and gives the right to wear a special plume of white and black feathers.

It is in the recruiting of workers for the plantations that many abuses arise, London Tit-Bits says. Intoxicating liquor plays a part in this traffic, and, where fair means fail in the securing of hands, foul methods are introduced, and flagrant kidnaping is by no means uncommon.

Describing one worker on the plantations named Bourbaki, Dr. Speiser explains that, before the native enlisted, he had been a professional murderer and provider of human flesh to his chief.

"He was one of the few natives," writes the doctor, "who openly admitted his liking for human flesh. A year ago, when visiting his village, he had been inconsolable because he had come a day late for a cannibal feast!"

And on these islands, only a few days' sail from Sydney, there are pygmy races. Volcanoes there are, and wonderful lagoons. Forest covered mountains and green plateaus may be seen, and there are beach villages whose inhabitants spend a greater part of their time actually in the sea.

Regrets.

For all we know, the gaudy butterfly may have moments in which it regrets the fine times it had as a caterpillar.—Puck.

FALLS INTO CREEK; HANGS ON TO BALL

Right Fielder Saves Game for His Team in the Ninth Inning.

St. Louis, Mo.—Although he fell into a creek while attempting to stop a line drive in a baseball game between the Orville St. Louis County Tribunes and the Creve Coeurs, Clarence Hackmann, son of Assessor H. H. Hackmann, and right fielder on the Creve Coeur team, held on to the ball and saved the game for his team in the ninth inning.

The teams were playing at Orville, where the grounds are partly surrounded by a deep ravine. The ravine runs near the right field.

A batter on the Orville team knocked a swift grounder through second base and toward young Hackmann. Clarence Quetham, second baseman, missed the ball and ran after it. In the meantime Hackmann caught it, and was leaning over the edge of the ravine. Quetham could not stop running and collided with Hackmann, knocking him over the five-foot embankment to the water, which is about five feet deep.

Hackmann was submerged and became stuck in the mud, but held the ball.

When he gained his feet he threw the ball to Quetham, who in turn threw it to the catcher, and the batter was put out at the home plate. The Creve Coeurs won the game by a score of 4 to 3.

AND MOTHER DID JUST THAT

"You Ought to Give Her Good Spanking," Says Prosecutor to Mother of Girl.

Chicago.—If Mrs. McDermott of 225 East Forty-third street kept the promise she made to Municipal Judge Graham, her daughter, Mary, felt the power of the hand that rocked her cradle recently. It happened thus:

Detective Sergeants Sheehan and O'Brien happened past the McDermott's home a few moments after she had arrived with Arthur N. Beck of 21 East Fifty-sixth street. Beck was trying to shove her into the door, but each time she bounced out like a jack out of a box. Each leap left portions of Beck's face beneath Miss McDermott's nails.

"I don't wanna go inside!" Miss McDermott was shrieking when the police drew up. She was still clawing.

"I took Miss McDermott home, but she wouldn't stay," Beck testified. His face was covered with scratches.

"O, I get that way sometimes," explained Miss McDermott wearily.

"You ought to give her a good spanking, even if she is twenty-one years old," said Assistant City Prosecutor E. N. Luebeck, turning to Mrs. McDermott.

"I will give her one, and a good one, your honor, if you'll let her go," said the mother.

Her tones carried conviction, and while neighbors of the McDermotts would not be quoted, they said they believed Mrs. McDermott must have kept her word.

IS SKINNED BY LIGHTNING

Bolt Partially Paralyzes Kansas Man as it Passes Down His Back.

Scandia, Kan.—Word from Orlando, Fla., tells of the narrow escape from death by lightning of Charles Nystrom, a former Scandia citizen. Striking him on the back between the shoulders, the bolt passed down his back and legs, partially paralyzing him from the waist down.

He was literally skinned alive and his outer skin was burned to a crisp. Mr. Nystrom lived in Scandia for many years, moving to his present home only a few years ago.

At last accounts he was regaining the use of his limbs in spite of his terrible experience, but it is thought cannot recover.

Enterprising White.

A writer gives a little sketch of black and white in Natal. He tells how he came across a white boy, some fourteen years old, and a group of raw natives playing a game. They were shooting with an old muzzle-loading shotgun at a bottle on the top of a case. When the youngster smashed a bottle he received a "licky" (a threepenny bit) from the natives.

When a native hit it he received threepence from the boy.

"That seems a funny sort of game," remarked the witness to the boy.

"Oh, the game's all right, sir," replied the lad. "You see, I load the gun."

The John Deere Spreader

THE SPREADER WITH THE BEATER ON THE AXLE

The John Deere spreader has many exclusive features of merit over the ordinary spreader. The simplicity of its construction, the care with which it is made, the light draft and the fine quality of work it does under all conditions at once appeals to the user. It has only one-half as many parts as the simplest spreader heretofore manufactured. All the parts are mounted on the main axle. There are no clutches to give trouble, no chains to get out of line, and no adjustments to be made. All the strain is borne by the axle, and none of it is transmitted to the frame of the machine itself. It is simply a wagon when out of gear. As the machine is low down it is only necessary to lift the manure thirty-eight inches when loading. The John Deere spreader is very simple—it does not get out of order, and is always ready for business.

ASK HIM TO LET YOU COME TO OUR STORE AND PICK IT OUT. YOU SEE IT--HE DOESN'T.

WHEN YOU COME IN YOU WILL FIND A RANGE WHICH WILL DELIGHT YOU.

THEN THE BREAD AND PIES YOU CAN BAKE WILL DELIGHT YOUR HUSBAND AND THE WHOLE FAMILY. EVERYBODY WILL BE HAPPY.

ASK HIM TO-DAY.
