Farmer Nearly Killed by Angry Bull—Chicken Thieves at Belvidere—Death of Mrs. McKague

Rev. Manly Wilson is conducting revival meetings at Kirkland this month.

The sneaking sneaks known as chicken thieves are making life miserable for poultry fanciers in Belvidere.

Three hundred and five young men are taking the short course in agriculture at the University of Wisconsin this year.

John Alexander Dowie ordered the expulsion from Zion City of two mormon missionaries who were gaining converts.

Lord's park, Elgin, has received a donation of three buffaloes and two elk for the zoo. A Rockford man will give the animals from his private park.

There were 184 lynchings in the United States in 1885. The number rose to its apex in 1894, when there were 235. There were 104 in 1902 and 87 in 1904.

A gang of would-be bandits, ranging in age from 11 to 14 years, has been discovered at Elgin by the police who recovered $100 worth of stolen property.

Fernando Wyman, a young farmer residing near Sycamore, was nearly killed by an angry bull Monday. The animal was later killed to prevent any further antics.

For a broken leg, which injury later resulted in an amputation, Mrs. Mary Plummer of Aurora was awarded damages to the amount of $10,000 against the city of Aurora.

A. E. Napper, a Lake Geneva Nimrod, reports a record for the fall shooting season of 281 ducks, of which 18 were canvas-backs, 51 red-heads, 50 mallards and 162 just ducks.

The small boy and the circus patrons will be interested in knowing that Georgia produced 4,000,000 bushels of peanuts this year, so that there is no danger of a famine.

Public indignation reached fever heat in Yorkville Saturday afternoon when a young fellow came driving into town with a team that was showing effects of merciless driving, one horse with its left hind leg broken and plodding along on the bare, exposed stump. Such a case of insensate cruelty to animals was never before witnessed there.

Harry Casey and Miss Anna Nead of Kirkland were married at Belvidere Tuesday at one o'clock. After the ceremony the couple went to Rockford where they will spend a few days and then go to Kirkland where they will reside until spring and then take up their residence on a farm owned by the father of the groom at South Grove. Both the young people are well known in Kirkland and have many friends.

Mrs. Mary Ann Ault-McKeague, who died at her home northwest of Sycamore Thursday, January 5, 1905, was 80 years of age, and had been a resident of this county for nearly half a century. She was a daughter of Samuel and Catherine Ault, and was born in Munice, Penn., on March 9, 1824. She came with her parents to Kane county, Ill., in 1850. She was married on March 5, 1854, to Norton McKeague, and they moved to DeKalb county in the fall of 1857, settling on the homestead farm where she died. Mrs. Kate Cole of Kingston is a daughter of the deceased and Mrs. Kate Baker of the same village is a sister.

WIN AND LOSE

Sycamore and Genoa High School Teams Play

There were two exciting games of basket ball at Crawford's hall last Friday night. The Genoa first team was defeated, the score being 25 to 18. Both teams were good at interference, keeping the field goals down to a small count. Following was the line-up of the teams:

GENOA.	SYCAMORE.
Crawford lf	Martin
Evans rf	Frickman
Harvey c	Butsaw
Mackey lg	Stroberg
Downing rg	Love

Genoa's second team was too strong for its opponent, putting up a snappy, interesting game. The teams lined up as follows:

GENOA.	SYCAMORE.
Browne rf	Chambers
Harvey lf	Meeker
Stott c	Sells
Little rg	Blagford
Stephens lg	Morgan

The score was 31 to 17 in favor of Genoa.

ROCKFORD TONIGHT

There will be a whole lot of excitement at the hall this (Friday) evening when the Genoa High School boys and girls will meet the Rockford teams. The local athletes are putting in over time this week in preparation for the fray. Turn out and encourage high school athletics. You will help a good cause and at the same time get your money's worth in excitement and shouting. There is more quick moves in one minute of basket ball than in an hour of base ball or any other game.

CLAIMS DAMAGES

Anton Ludwick Wants Milwaukee Road to Pay

Anton Ludwick, the foreigner who was injured on the C. M. & St. P. railway in this city some weeks ago, has put in a claim for damages, having "retained" the services of a lawyer. Mr. Burns of the claim department was out last week to look into the matter and brought with him the written document sent in by Ludwick's lawyer. It was very much lacking in convincing evidence against the company and Mr. Burns sees no reason why the company should pay. Ludwick was injured while on the right of way, it being fenced in on either side. Had the accident happened at a crossing he would be in line for damages.

Welcome Shurtleff

Marengo gave Speaker Shurtleff a rousing reception Saturday evening on his return from Springfield. The opera house was packed with people. There were several speeches made, the band played and the citizens marched. The city is sensible to the honor that has come thru its distinguished citizen.

SUPERVISOR McEWEN DEAD

Succumbs to Severe Cold While Walking Home from Train

Lewis M. McEwen, supervisor from DeKalb, was frozen to death Monday evening while on his way to his farm from the railway station.

Monday evening Mr. McEwen left his home entirely well, taking the Spring Valley train to Carlton and from there started to walk to his farm one and one-half miles distant. He never reached there and his body was found Tuesday morning by his tenant, Mr. Hart.

Mr. McEwen was seventy-seven years of age and had been a resident of this county over half a century. He was supervisor at the time of death.

WED AT SYCAMORE

Fred Robinson and Miss Ella Hines Exchange Vows

At the Congregational parsonage Wednesday occurred the marriage of Fred Robinson and Miss Ella Hines, both of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left Thursday evening for Dakota where the former has secured employment.

The groom is a son of the late Fred T. Robinson and has been a resident of Genoa all his life. He is an excellent musician and withal a jolly good fellow who counts all his acquaintances as friends. The bride has long been a resident of Genoa and was a great favorite among her friends. She is a beautiful woman and possesses those charms that make and keep friends.

May they have their full share of prosperity and happiness is the wish of all.

High School Lecture Course

A fine travel lecture will be given in the opera house Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, as the third number of the high school lecture course. It will be given by Dr. John R. Reitzel of Chicago. Mr. Reitzel is a man who has traveled extensively and has the ability to express himself well. His subject is "The Devil and the Turk in His Own Country." The title is somewhat ambiguous but it is assumed that it is the Turk's country that we shall hear about rather than the other. Mr. Reitzel is highly recommended by no less a celebrity than Dr. Gunsaulus. Other men of note speak highly of his work. This is the only travel lecture on the course and those who are interested in this sort of thing should not fail to attend. There are no more lectures on the course. The other numbers are not lectures. Usual price of admission. Tickets can be obtained at Hunt's Pharmacy beginning Monday.

After Business

For the coming business campaign this spring and summer Jas. R. Kiernan has secured the services of T. A. Casey of Burlington as salesman. Mr. Casey is a young man of pleasing manners whom it is a pleasure to meet. He will make Genoa his home and his entire time will be spent on the road looking after the business, making sales and locating customers. Mr. Kiernan handles everything for the farmer from a wheelbarrow to the celebrated Advance threshing outfits. His name is known thruout this section of the country. With Mr. Casey's assistance it is probable that a much larger territory will be covered than ever before.

We have an assortment of purses ranging in value from 15c to $1.00, slightly shop worn, your choice at 10 and 25c while they last. Hunt's Pharmacy.

MARRIED MANY YEARS

GENOA COUPLE EXCHANGED VOWS 67 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hollembeak Oldest Married Couple in DeKalb County—Biography

On the 12th of January, 1838, in Crawford county, Pennsylvania, just sixty-seven years ago, occurred the marriage of Mr. Aramont Noble Hollembeak to Miss Parmelia Decker, Elder Jesse Church officiating. These estimable old people are still enjoying life and are counted among the most honored residents of Genoa.

Mr. Hollembeak was born in the town of Warsaw, Genesee county, New York, February 5, 1816. Mrs. Hollembeak is a native of Manchester, Genesee county, New York, born May 17, 1817.

Immediately after his marriage Mr. Hollembeak came to Boone county, Illinois, and spent the winter at Shattucks Grove. Leaving his wife at the Grove he went to Chicago and found work at his trade during the winter. On his return in the spring he built a log house on his claim, of one hundred and sixty acres, which was in DeKalb county, and that season broke twenty acres. Mr. Hollembeak has still his patent from the government, the land never having been transferred. In his log cabin he put up a bench, using the house for a shop as well as a dwelling. In an early day Mr. Hollembeak had quite a reputation for curing poll evil in horses. On that farm he resided until 1877, and during the intervening years, like all other settlers, had his seasons of prosperity. On the whole he has, however, done better than most men who began as he did with nothing but willing hands and strong heart as capital. Being of an ingenious turn of mind he has invented and taken out patents on barb wire and various other devices, including a wind mill, which he manufactured for a number of years.

In 1877 Mr. Hollembeak erected a comfortable cottage in Genoa where he moved with his family, and has since been living quietly at peace with the world. Mr. and Mrs. Hollembeak are Spiritualists in religious belief. In politics he is a Republican, and in times passed took an active interest in political affairs. He served as supervisor for his township two terms, several terms as assessor, and also held other minor offices, and served six years as police justice in Genoa. For about forty years he has been a member of the Masonic lodge in Genoa.

On the 12th of January, 1898, Mr. and Mrs. Hollembeak celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. About thirty relatives were present to partake of the festivities. The day was spent in an enjoyable manner and all had a glorious good time. An elaborate dinner was served, the tables fairly groaning under the load of good things.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollembeak are quite well considering their advanced age and bid fair to see several more years added to the remarkable record.

KIRKLAND GIRL KILLED

Minnie Peterson Falls and Meets Death in Peculiar Way

Two shocking accidents which resulted in the death of one of the victims took place in the family of Henry Peterson of Kirkland on Friday and Saturday, says the Belvidere Northwestern. On Friday Albert Peterson was thrown from his wagon by a runaway team and a heavy wheel of the farm wagon passed over his face crushing the bone so that he will be disfigured for life.

On Saturday evening the heavier blow fell when Minnie Peterson, the sister of the injured man, had hurriedly left her father's house to go to the home of a neighbor and ran against a saw horse standing in the yard over which she fell and sustained internal injuries from which she died on Sunday evening about 7 o'clock.

The young woman was 28 years of age and highly esteemed in the community which has been plunged into deep sorrow by reason of her shocking death.

The girl had just left the home Saturday night to go to a neighbor when the family heard her scream and rushed out to find her lying over the saw buck suffering the most intense agony. Dr. Spears was hastily called, but after an examination said nothing could be done except to make the few remaining hours of the unfortunate girl as comfortable as possible. The blow sustained in the abdomen either when she struck or fell upon the obstacle had caused a rupture of some of the organs and her death was but a matter of hours.

In spite of the best efforts of the physicians she suffered intensely through the night and following day and died almost exactly twenty-four hours after the accident took place.

Her only brother, Albert Peterson, lies at his father's home fearfully but not fatally hurt in the runaway accident which befell him on Friday. The young man was driving a spirited team and as he crossed the railway track in the village gave them their heads for a moment which resulted in their escaping from his control. In the runaway which followed he was thrown from the wagon, the heavy wheel of which passed across his face crushing the cheek bone and upper jaw in a fearful manner.

Butter Market

The quotation committee declared the official market firm at 29 cents Monday. The sharp blustery winter that was in evidence Monday morning did not hinder the factorymen from turning out in numbers, all apparently anxious to get a line on the market conditions. Outside markets were reported firmer, some showing an advance, and all were short of fine goods. The supply of storage is being reduced very rapidly, and prices have advanced during the week. Factorymen reported no increase, rather otherwise.

Spiritualist Meeting

Under the management of the State Board meetings will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall in Genoa on Sunday, Jan. 15, at 10:30 o'clock a. m. and at 2:00 and 7:30 o'clock p. m. Mrs. Laura G. Fixen, vice president of Illinois Spiritualist association, Norman Speight, treasurer, and Ella J. Bloom, secretary, with others will speak. A very instructive and enjoyable meeting is expected. Mrs. Fixen is an old friend and co-worker of Frances Willard. Come all.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD

MORE TALK REGARDING POSSIBILITIES OF TROLLEY LINE

Genoa May Have Direct Connection with Elgin, Belvidere and Sycamore—Let Us Wait and Hope

Electric road circles were thrown into a state of excitement last week by the announcement of the news that there are three proposed routes to Belvidere now under discussion, says the Elgin Press of Wednesday.

The question of the hour now is which one of the three will ultimately be chosen. Will the one that goes out Highland avenue and takes in Hampshire and Genoa cutting out Marengo, the one that takes the Huntley road and parallels the Northwestern line to Belvidere, running through Union, that runs to Hampshire then branches off to Marengo be the ultimate choice of the Illinois Inter-urban Traction Co., which is believed to be a mask, behind which a well known traction company is hiding.

The recent visit of one of the officials who gave his name as William C. Levitte is taken as an indication that the people mean business. He called at several of the offices in town, made known his errand and stated that he could not tell who or what he represented. But he finally gave up his name, and stated that he was working for the Illinois Inter-urban Traction company.

It was then that he chose the three lines as possibilities. He spent some time here last week, and walked the entire distance between here and Hampshire. He was favorably impressed with the route from here to Hampshire and thinks that the construction of the track and roadbed, would be much simpler and less expensive via the Highland avenue route, than by any other. He did not state his plans further, but has promised to return. It is thought that the company will take active steps in the spring.

The visit of Mr. Levitte has caused general speculation among electric road officials. Should the Hampshire-Genoa route to Belvidere be chosen it would mean that the DeKalb-Sycamore electric road people would follow out their long cherished plan and build to Genoa. This would connect DeKalb, Sycamore, Genoa, Belvidere, Rockford, Beloit, Freeport, Elgin and Aurora in one vast interurban line. It looks, therefore, as if the DeKalb-Sycamore people have a finger in the pie, and that the Illinois Inter-urban company was a blind behind which several electric road corporations were hiding.

Should the Hampshire-Marengo or Marengo-Huntley line be chosen it means that the DeKalb people would build directly from Sycamore to Belvidere, and thus the same cities with the addition of Marengo would be connected. However DeKalb and Elgin would be a long ways apart, and from the barb wire city's stand point it would be better to have Elgin and DeKalb as well as Aurora and DeKalb connected by an electric line.

At the same time it is intimated that the Rockford-Freeport-Belvidere people are talking of extending their line from Belvidere. If so then the Hampshire-Genoa route will be a possibility for a new company would hardly try to compete with both the Northwestern railroad and the Rockford Interurban for the Marengo trade.

The furniture store of Wm. Heeg at Shabbona was destroyed by fire last week.

SPEAKER SHURTLEFF TALKS
 Makes Clever Speech in Accepting Post of Presiding Officer

In accepting the post of speaker of the house of representatives last week E. D. Shurtleff made a speech which is in every way characteristic of the man. It is short but means much and expresses his sentiments in regard to honest and fearless legislation. Following is an extract from the speech:

"If I were not at this time deeply sensible of the honor and of the responsibility that is conferred upon me, I should not be sensible of anything in this life. I have been embarrassed somewhat at the beginning of this election by the placing this morning of a fragrant flower upon my coat. I have been led to believe that flowers would not hide a homely face, and I think this is the first one I have had for forty years.

"I shall not be your dictator. I shall be your servant. You will make this house and this legislature what you are, and what the majority of this house says it shall be. The gavel will not be used to throttle the minority. It is always well for the minority to remember that they are the minority and not the majority, and the gavel will be used to promote and secure what the majority of the people of this state may demand."

WITH Roosevelt at the head of the nation, Deneen at the head of the state and Shurtleff yielding the gavel over the house of representatives there will be no monkey business for some time.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD CLEAN

CHEERFUL WOMEN.

Despondency is a thing of evil origin and evil results. Worry produces nothing but wrinkles and wretchedness. Let the reader put up a little note on her bureau, on her desk, and at the head of her bed, just two words, DON'T WORRY. Worry is the greatest foe to the happiness of any household. An anxious, despondent face, a fretful, complaining voice, will make every one uncomfortable. A woman's nerves are more truly the cause of worry than outside troubles. The nerves are to a woman's body the telegraph system, which surely warns her of any trouble in the feminine make-up.

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured over ninety per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that would make it easily procurable.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

News of Kingston and Vicinity as reported for the GENOA REPUBLICAN-JOURNAL, of the week Ending January 13, 1905

CARELESS LEGISLATION.

Much vicious legislation is due to carelessness. The volumes of repealed and amended laws are tokens of this thoughtlessness. In 1873 the legislature of New York passed a charter for the metropolis, and the repealing clause threatened a general jail delivery. The governor refused to sign the measure until an amendment rectified this careless error. In 1882 the legislature of the same state passed a municipal code, and a whole page of the original was omitted from the copy sent to the executive for approval. Through a legislative blunder the supreme court of Ohio was robbed of a large portion of its jurisdiction two years ago, and an act of a special session of the legislature was required to override the mistake. A repealed or amended law is sometimes an indication of a change in conditions. More often it is a confession of weakness or of shortsightedness. Our tendency to constantly amend makes laws shifting as the sands.—S. P. Orth in Atlantic.

The Spread of English.

Some people believe that English will one day be the universal language and look upon the report that the empress dowager of China has undertaken to learn English in her old age as another proof of this. English has had some remarkable ups and downs in its own home. For 300 years it was suppressed—from the Norman conquest on to 1362, when it was introduced as the language of the law. When the house of Hanover was installed it was anticipated that there would be another suppression of the English tongue. The wife of George II.'s eldest son could not speak English, and it was suggested that she should be taught. "That is unnecessary," said her mother; "the house of Hanover having been above twenty years on the throne, to be sure most people speak German as often and as well as English."

Laws on Election Betting.

An old Pennsylvania law provides that if any one shall make any bet on the result of an election within the commonwealth or shall offer to make any such bet by verbal proclamation or written challenge he shall forfeit three times the amount bet or offered to be bet. Probably every state has a statute prohibiting betting on the election. The New Haven Register in referring to the Connecticut statute passed in 1701 says that so far as is known no prosecution has ever taken place under it, nor has it ever deterred any one who saw fit to make a wager from doing so. Betting on elections is clearly unlawful, and the ancient laws prohibiting it have not become extinct by nonenforcement. Like many other enactments, they are sleeping.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Opium and China.

William Edgar Geil, who has traveled much in China, thinks that the great peculiarity of the Chinaman is that he lives in a fictitious environment. To him the world is one of unrealities. He worships demons. Enormous sums of money are paid by the Chinese to locate the devil. Coal mines are not worked because it is held to be wicked to disturb the demon who lives in the bowels of the earth. "Shall we drive shafts into his back?" the Chinaman asks. One misfortune is the common use of opium. "Vast sections of the land are devoted to the growth of the poppy. On the steamboats, on the canals, in the great business houses, everywhere, men lie down and smoke opium. It is a national mania, everywhere acknowledged to be bad."

An Elephant's Strength.

The elephant is great as a traction power. Experiments have shown that a horse pulls about one-sixth of its own weight, whereas an elephant can pull its entire weight. This might be emphasized by the fact that an elephant is six times as big as a horse. In India for centuries it has been the custom to utilize elephants to push instead of pull wagons, but now it has been shown that they are unequalled as pullers. Two of them in carefully arranged tests raised 6,500 pounds. One raised a safe weighing more than a ton. That was dead weight, and the feat, as one will see, is different from mere pulling. Recently at Bridgeport there was a tug of war between elephants and a locomotive, in which the huge beasts developed surprising pulling power. The engine was nearly wrecked.

Do Not Suppress a Cough

When you have a cough, do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a symptom of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop of itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For sale by G. H. Hunt.

THE MASS OF THE STARS.

To determine the masses of the stars, situated as they are far off in space, it is generally necessary to know their distance, and this has been determined for only a few stars. In a paper submitted at the Cambridge meeting of the British Association For the Advancement of Science Dr. H. N. Russell of the Cambridge observatory called attention to the fact that the masses of the stars could be found by Kapteyn's formula in terms of the star's magnitude and proper motion. Proceeding on this basis, he found that the average mass of fifty-five binary systems was about three times that of the sun and that many groups of stars were of the same mass, despite the fact that they varied greatly in their brightness and proper motion. The binary stars seemed to be of the same order of mass, though their brightness, motion and specter varied.—Harper's Weekly.

German Army Discipline.

Discipline is severe in the German army, and the treatment of privates is sometimes unjustifiable. At Dessau a sergeant who had been drinking to excess insulted two young women who were escorted by a couple of men in the ranks. The privates protested to the minor officer, who drew his sword and attacked them, in his drunkenness wounding one of the girls. In the affray which followed the sergeant was disarmed and felled to the floor. All three were put on trial. The sergeant was sentenced to prison for five months, while the unfortunate privates were condemned to five years behind the bar at hard labor, were dismissed from the service and were deprived of their civil rights. Service as a private in an army so regulated cannot be a cause of pride in time of peace.

An Irish Fire Hero.

Sir James A. Power, mayor of Waterford, Ireland, was the hero of a fire in Waterford about two years ago. An entire square of buildings was completely consumed. Two men were overcome in one of the upper stories of one of the burned buildings. Sir James rushed to the rescue, but, owing to the rapid spread of the flames, was forced to abandon the stairways and carry his men to the windows. By tying bed-clothes together he succeeded in lowering his men safely to the street, but to save himself he was compelled to jump. It was a thirty foot leap, and he was carried unconscious to a hospital, where he remained six weeks. Shortly afterward he was elected mayor of his city, and one of his first official acts was to organize an efficient fire brigade.

Africa's Inland Waters.

In 1859 some distance southeast of Lake Nyassa, in central Africa, Livingstone discovered Lake Shirwa, a body of water about thirty miles long and fifteen miles wide, which has now entirely disappeared with the exception of a few ponds. Lake Nyami, discovered by Livingstone at the same time, has also disappeared. The cause of the change appears to be a gradual drying up of bodies of water in central Africa. As marking the results of a single half century the changes named show a rapidity of mutation in those inland waters not equaled elsewhere in the contemporary geographer's survey, though the shrinking of Salt lake in Utah is also very remarkable.

Tolstoi and His Sons.

Tolstoi the Great divided his real estate between his five sons before setting out on his reforming mission. In this way he protected it from confiscation in the event of exile. A mine has been found on the estate of Leo which makes him the richest member of the family. None of the brothers resembles the old count. In Paris they follow the lead of grand dukes. One of them served as an officer in the war. They all like to belong to the heavy swell class.—London Truth.

A small boy living at Anniston, Ala., proved himself to have a good deal of courage as well as a level head. He had gone to bed when something stung him on one of his fingers. He got up quickly and saw a big rattlesnake near his bed, which had crawled into his room in some unknown way. The boy realized that he was close to death and ran and got an ax, with which he cut off his finger just below the spot where the snake had struck. His quick action saved his life, but it must have taken a lot of pluck.

Reach Out for Business
The trade territory of a town is not at all dependent upon the distance to neighboring trading points. The territory depends upon the enterprise of merchants and residents of that town. If a town does not reach out after the trade it will come only as fast as it is forced to. But if the merchants go after the business in the surrounding country, advertising in every possible way, and make good every word of their advertising, trade will come from an ever increasing radius, and the town will gain reputation for being awake, and will forge to the front.

OLDEST PAUPER DEAD
Charles Rosebeck, Forty-three Years in Poor House, Is Dead
The death and burial of Charles Rosebeck passed almost unnoticed, yet his history had in it elements of more interest than has the life of the average citizen of the commonwealth. He possessed one distinction—if it may be called such, and one so humble—for he had passed more years in the DeKalb county poor house than had any other person. He had been in the poor house 43 years.—True Republican.
$3,000 to Employees
Almost three thousand dollars distributed among their employees within the past three years and six months, in addition to all wages paid, is the enviable record of the C. F. Hall Co., Dundee, along the line of profit sharing, in which they were the pioneers in this section. The seventh semi-annual meeting of the members and employees of the firm was held on Tuesday evening last at Hotel Dundee, and the third largest of the seven dividends was at that time declared. The banquet, served at 7:00 o'clock, was partaken of by some thirty guests, chiefly members of the C. F. Hall Co. force. Following the last course some brief remarks were made by members of the firm and the checks, ranging in amount from two to seventy dollars, were then distributed. The remainder of the evening was spent in pleasant social fashion in the hotel parlors. The C. F. Hall Co. has announced that they will continue the practice of declaring these semi-annual dividends, being convinced that they are amply repaid by the cordial good feeling existing among their employes and the practical interest felt by each in increasing the amount of business done.

MORE FREE LAND

Uncle Sam Will Give Away 7,000 Farms in Montana

Some time during late summer or early fall this year Uncle Sam will unwrap and distribute the biggest bunch of farms in history.

Seven thousand farms of 160 acres of land embraced in a tract of 150 miles along the Big Horn and Yellowstone rivers are in the interval to be turned into an irrigated farming paradise by ditches that will be prepared in advance by the government.

It will be the first distribution of irrigated lands, and the plan is to apportion among those who take the lands the cost of the irrigation works. The exact date for opening these lands which now are part of the great 4,000,000 acre tract constituting the Crow Indian reservation, has not yet been fixed by Presidential proclamation because many details have yet to be arranged.

The tract has been declared by engineers to be the most nearly ideal piece of territory for irrigation purposes that investigation has yet discovered. There is plenty of water, its supply is sure, the grades are just right for its distribution, and the land is of great fertility. People who secure farms will have the advantage of settling among the best neighbors in the west, as the Crow Indians are the most civilized in the country and the richest community of its numbers in America.

The lands will be offered by the lottery plan, which has been on the whole satisfactory in recent experiments, but a number of changes will be made in the methods. Among these, it is expected, will be a stronger guarantee of good faith than the $5 registration fee charged for the Rosebud and Devil's Lake openings. This is to be done because so large a proportion of those who drew lands at those openings were not settlers but land gamblers. No less than 100,000 people registered for the Rosebud drawing, though only 1,940 farms were offered. Yet today less than half the Rosebud lands are occupied or claimed. It is proposed to give the good-faith settlers all the chance of winning possible in Crow drawings.

A Grim Tragedy

Is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, and death claims, in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley of Oakland, Ind., writes: "My wife had consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c and $1.00 by Hunt's Pharmacy. Trial bottles free.

WILD DEER

Herd of Twenty Roaming About in Winnebago County

A herd of twenty wild deer was discovered roaming along the banks of the Kishwaukee river south of Rockford. The deer were on the farm of William McLarty, living about four miles south of Rockford. The animals have been there for the past two or three days and have been eating much of the corn in shock and doing other damage. It has been many years since live deer have been seen there. The hunting laws prohibit the shooting of the animals, though hunters are trying to get at them.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Theodor's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Theodor's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Theodor's Black-Draught.
