Horses Bring High Prices at Sale at Gilberts—Two Streator People Poisoned by Eating Chicken

Rockford, Belvidere, Janesville and Beloit to be connected by the I. I. & M. according to a statement made to Rockford shippers by President Seaman.

The struggle for the job of handling out the mail from Uncle Sam's office in Belvidere has broken out with Frank Moran, the present incumbent and E. O. Andrews in the field.

The authorities of Lake Geneva have succeeded in closing up the blind pigs in that city, and in so doing they seized $8,000 worth of liquor which they were unable to get off their hands.

The Highway Commissioners of Marengo township have purchased a mammoth road roller, which is to be used in smoothing the highways and especially for rolling new gravel down level and hard.

An exchange remarks that if the good time ever comes when men are as good as their obituaries, and women as good as they look, then the recording angel in heaven can take a long needed vacation.

At the horse sale at Gilberts, Ill., last week 287 head of horses were sold, the total amount footing up $47,838. Teams of draft horses sold for as high as $540; 21 head more sold on an average of $207 each.

An Irishman walking through a graveyard, saw a tombstone on which was inscribed: "Here lies a lawyer and an honest man." "Be jabbers," said Pat, "O! wonder how they came to bury both in them fellers in wan grave?"

John D. Rockefeller's wealth in silver dollars would, some one has estimated, weigh as much as two first class battleships; in $1 bills it would make a double girdle around the earth and leave a remnant 1,500 miles long.

The members of the Modern Woodmen of America are rejoicing over the fact that they have no assessment to pay for April and that there have been over twelve thousand new members adopted during the month of March.

Two members of a Streator family were poisoned by eating chicken and dumplings which had been allowed to stand too long in the pot in which they had been cooked. A prolonged, but a successful effort was made to save their lives.

A newspaper man may devote a column to the praise or commendation of a man and he will forget about it in a couple of weeks, but a two line item that is not altogether pleasing will be remembered by the average reader for years.

Tillie Reidel, 11 years old, of Woodstock, died of hydrophobia at the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago Saturday night as the result of a dog's bite. On February 23 a Shepherd dog, belonging to Mrs. Muldon, a neighbor, attacked the girl, biting her on the nose and leg.

It is estimated that the total area for farming purposes in the United States is 841,000,000 acres, an area larger than England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Japan, Germany, Austria, Spain, France and the Transvaal. There are 14,439,000 persons engaged in agricultural pursuits, while all other industries employ but 18,845,000.

Obituary of Mrs. Elizabeth Seanor

Mrs. Elizabeth Seanor, maiden name Dalby, was born the 8th day of May 1839, in Braham, England, and died at her home in Riley township, Wednesday evening, March 29, 1905, being 65 years, 10 months and 10 days of age at the time of her decease.

She came from old England to the United States with her parents when she was about twelve years old and settled at Sycamore, Ill., where she lived until a young woman.

She was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Seanor, September 15, 1859 and then Mr. and Mrs. Seanor moved to Riley where they have lived ever since. There were born into their home one son, Mr. David J. Seanor of Riley who survives his mother.

Of her father's family there is but one surviving member, Mrs. Ruth A. Maude of Reamsville, Kansas. Besides her sister she leaves her bereaved husband, Mr. Joseph Seanor, who is bowed down in sorrow over his great loss, and her only son, Mr. David Seanor, who naturally mourns as one must over the death of a loving mother. She also leaves four grandchildren and a great many neighbors and friends who sorrow over the departure of a good Christian woman.

Mrs. Seanor was a beautiful Christian character. She was converted when a young lady about eighteen years of age at Sycamore, Ill., and from that time to the day of her death she was a faithful, helpful, consistent Christian woman.

The Bible to her was the one book above all others which she loved most. Prayer was her daily refuge. An abiding hope in the future life never forsook her.

When Mr. and Mrs. Seanor moved into this community they both united with the old M. E. church at Genoa, Ill. and they attended a great deal when Mrs. Seanor's health would permit at the Ney M. E. church.

Mrs. Seanor always regarded herself as a member of the M. E. church and her name was placed on the old church records many years ago.

For several years her health has been poor and for the past five months she seemed to think that God would soon call her. She suffered but she was patient, always remembering that her Saviour suffered also.

She was a good neighbor always ready to help in times of sickness, distress or death. She was a dutiful wife and a loving mother. She believed in God's word and died in its faith.

She selected her own text for her funeral service and some of the hymns. Of her it can be said:

"Oh, the joy of holy rapture Home at last: home at last!"

The funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon at one o'clock from the home and at 1:30 at the Riley church. Rev. T. E. Ream of Genoa officiated at the services.

A number of friends and relatives from Marengo attended the services.

Card of Thanks

I desire to express my sincere thanks to the many friends who voted for and placed me in the collector's office. The kindness is more than appreciated.

THE ART EXHIBIT

Teachers and Pupils of Genoa Schools Deserving of Praise

The art exhibit at Crawford's hall last week was a decided success both from a standpoint of art and financially. Each evening the hall was packed to the limit with all well pleased, and, in many cases, very much surprised people. Few had any idea of the work being done by the school children in the way of drawing and basket making or raffia work.

Some specimens of workmanship in the latter could be excelled while the proficiency in drawing is astonishing.

Each room had a pretty decorated booth in which were shown the results of the pupils work.

The drawings by Miss Mohr, the instructor in that line, were greatly admired. She is an artist of rare ability and the school is indeed fortunate in having her services. The programs in the evening were interesting. Prof. Stout's stereoptical lecture on birds was instructive and held the attention of children as well as the older people.

THE SEWER PROPOSITION

Ira J. Mix Makes an Offer that Should Receive Consideration

At a special meeting of the village board Monday night Ira J. Mix made a proposition on the sewer question that should receive careful consideration by Genoa citizens. Mr. Mix intended to put in a six inch sewer pipe from his creamery to the river, but later, learning that the city was agitating the question of a sewerage system, decided it would be advisable to help the city and at the same time get as good results for himself. If the board vote to put in a twelve inch pipe, which is about the size desired, Mr. Mix offers to contribute to the undertaking the amount of money it would require to lay a six inch sewer pipe, about $700. Or, he offers to put in a twelve inch sewer and the city can pay him the difference between cost of that and the six inch.

This seems like a fair proposition and Genoa will never again have an opportunity to lay the pipe so cheaply.

Sewerage is something that must come, and soon, if Genoa continues to expand as it has during the last few years and here is a chance to lay the main pipe at half price. Shall we accept the proposition?

MAY BE IN FALL

Because of the Meeting of the Head Camp at Milwaukee in June

There is a movement on foot to change the time of the annual picnic held by the Woodmen of Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin to August or September this year to avoid conflict with the meeting of the head camp at Milwaukee, which will be held in June, the month when the picnic is held.

The picnic this year will be held at Beloit, the date to be set when the committee meets next month.

Freeport wants the picnic next year and a movement was started in the Boone camp some time ago with a view of landing it for Belvidere in 1907.

Do We Live Again?

Mrs. M. A. Burland will speak on the above subject, Wednesday evening, April 12, in the Odd Fellow hall at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Burland is well known in Genoa and should have a large audience.

How They Lost Their Home

Through the gambling instinct. They let their insurance run out. Money enough went down in drink and up in smoke to have saved their home.

They subscribed for everything they could pay on the installment plan.

They tried to do what others expected of them rather than what they could afford.

They thought it small to insist on having an agreement or understanding put down in writing. The daughters thought it beneath them to work for a living, but were bound to dress well.

They drew their money out of the savings bank to put it into some "wild cat" scheme, and lost it.

They never formed the habit of putting in the savings bank money which they did not immediately need.

They did not know that giving full power of attorney to an agent or lawyer put their property at his mercy.

The extravagance of the children who had not been trained to economize or to take care of their pennies, swamped their home.

Through lack of honest ambition and a disposition to interpret too literally the text, "Take no thought for the morrow."

When the shoe began to pinch they "really did not see where they could retrench." Habit made luxuries seem necessities.

They ran accounts at the stores instead of paying cash, did not realize how rapidly bills were running up and never knew how they stood.

SIGLIN THE FAVORITE

ELECTED SUPERVISOR BY OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

Wm. Dumolin Elected Highway Commissioner—The Township High School Proposition is Voted Down

As a result of the township election it was demonstrated that Joshua Siglin of Charter Grove is still the choice of the people for supervisor, having won out over H. H. Shurtleff by overwhelming odds. The result of the caucus was evidence of what the election would be and no one looked for a contest. Mr. Siglin has served the town faithfully in the past and we may be assured that the same good judgement and careful consideration will govern his actions in the future.

The vote for highway commissioner was a surprise to everyone. At the caucus Wm. Dumolin won the contest by only one majority. From this fact it was naturally expected that the election would be close and exciting. Such was not the case however. There were enough straight tickets to elect Dumolin with some to spare, and when the split tickets were counted that gentleman had a majority of 93 votes.

There were 18 votes less cast for Corson at the election than at the caucus, while Dumolin made a gain of 74 votes. Mr. Corson's loss is probably accounted for in the fact that many will not split their tickets for fear of making an error in marking and consequently vote the straight regular ticket to make sure. Mr. Dumolin's gain was made in rounding up more friends from his neighborhood. There were 468 votes cast in all, ten of which were defective, making only 458 that could be counted. The result follows:

For Supervisor

Joshua Siglin.....362

H. H. Shurtleff.....80

For Town Clerk

T. G. Sager.....391

For Assessor

J. W. Sowers.....392

For Collector

W. C. Cooper.....392

For Commissioner

Wm. Dumolin.....273

A. Corson.....180

For Justices of the Peace

G. E. Stott.....387

Genoa will have no township high school this year, the voters having so decided by a majority of 72 votes, out of a total of 376 votes cast. It was hardly expected that the proposition would carry this year as it is not thoroly understood. There will now be twelve months more in which to give the matter serious and careful consideration before it comes up again. It will come to a vote next spring without a doubt unless there are some other plans devised in the meantime for improving Genoa's excellent schools.

Marengo to End Row

The question of saloons or no saloons which has been the cause of almost endless litigation in Marengo the past five years will be settled at the coming spring election in that city. The two factions have united on a ticket composed of representative business men. At the bottom of the ticket is an opportunity to vote either "yes" or "no" on the election of license.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Why Track Walker Doolin Flagged the Belated Express.

P. Doolin was a track walker on the Erie railroad. He attended a wake one day shortly before it was time for him to go on duty, with the lamentable result that early in the evening he seemed ambitious to walk on both sides of the track at once.

The Thunderbolt Express was due to pass the Haskell road at 8:45.

At that time Doolin reached the road, but the train did not appear. She was still invisible at 9, and Doolin began to worry about her in a maudlin way.

"YE'RE LATE!" SAID DOOLIN.

lin began to worry about her in a maudlin way. When she was twenty minutes late, he could control his anxiety no longer and began walking the track toward her as fast as he could in his unsteady condition.

The Thunderbolt meantime was flying along at unusual speed. She had been delayed by a trifling wreck, and the engineer was making up lost time. Suddenly a lantern whirled like a giant pin wheel in the gloom far down the track.

The engineer's face whitened. The brakes ground into the complaining wheels; the engine rocked and trembled; passengers lurched in their seats, and, with hiss of air and steam, the Thunderbolt stopped.

Dropping from his cab, the trembling engineer ran up to where P. Doolin stood.

"What—what's the matter?" he gasped. "Ye're late!" said Doolin. "Fwhat kept yez?"—Earle Hooker Eaton in Harper's.

A Generous Bridegroom.

People are said to differ perhaps on no question more than as to the proper tip for a wedding fee. There are many stories told in this connection, but the following is certainly unique, besides having the virtue of being quite true.

Dr. Madison E. Peters was the victim. He chanced to be stopping in a small town one summer when a couple from the neighborhood asked for his services.

It was a very isolated place, and the couple were unsophisticated. The ceremony over, the bridegroom approached the clergyman confidently, with extended hand. It contained three half dollars.

"Now, just help yourself, parson," said he. "Don't be modest, but take all you want."

The doctor's good taste prompted him, of course, to take but one of the coins.—Denver Republican.

Spoke In English.

Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota looks like a Scandinavian, but is not. Nor can he talk in their native tongue to citizens hailing from "the land of the midnight sun."

HAIRY ELEPHANTS.

The skin of the elephant is practically destitute of the hairy coat which is the distinctive covering of mammals. But the extinct mammoth had an undercoat of reddish brown woolly fur, in which dark, bristly hairs were thickly set.

A natural history journal has called attention to the fact that there is now a hairy elephant in the Zoological gardens at Basle. So thick is the growth that at the congress of zoologists at Berne in August, 1904, the remark was made—of course in jest—that the animal was really a mammoth.

Dinner With Austrian Emperor.

The Emperor Francis Joseph has a rule of life which greatly perturbs some members of his court. He dines every day at half past 5, and he has done this since the beginning of his reign.

As that hour does not suit everybody, it follows that the personages who are honored with invitations to dine with the emperor find it very difficult to muster an appetite for dinner at tea time. They suffer in silence for the most part, but it is said that a certain great lady resolved to act.

Why the Hermit Kingdom?

Oppressed by her neighbors for centuries and overrun with war, her people decimated, her cities, her temples and her libraries sacked and destroyed; her nobles and maidens driven off to China and her artisans to Japan, the most ambitious and unscrupulous of her subjects constantly stirred to intrigue and conspiracy by foreign powers, it is small wonder that Korea has endeavored to shut herself off from the world and, by becoming the Hermit Kingdom, has effectually barred the way to all progress.—Century.

The Wall Street Tonic.

Henry Clews, who is seventy, tells an interviewer that there is something in the Wall street life which keeps a man young in spite of years. "Here the pulse of life beats fastest. Wall street throbs with the daily ebb and flow of millions, infusing life into our vast enterprises.

The Halifax Dockyard.

The great Halifax dockyard, established 150 years ago, is to be abandoned by the British admiralty. Its closing with only a week's notice threw 300 men out of employment.

The Oldest Journal.

Kinpan, an official paper of China, is the oldest journal in the world, dating back to 911. It became a weekly in 1361, a daily in 1800 and is now a tri-daily. The regular issue is 8,000 copies.

Picture Post Card Censors.

Picture post cards are subjected to stern censorship in some continental countries. In Russia those bearing the portrait of Tolstoi have been suppressed.

Japan's Christian Advance.

The following is from an essay on the Japanese written in the recent grammar school examinations by a lower schoolboy: "Until recently the Japanese used to fight with bows and arrows, but now they are equipped with the complete arms of a Christian."

STATE LEGISLATURE

What the Solons at Springfield Are Doing for the Commonwealth.

STATE HAPPENINGS RECORDED

News of Illinois Prepared for the Benefit and Convenience of Our Readers.

Springfield, Ill., March 31. — Dixon's "anti-loan shark" bill came up as a special order in the senate, and after the adoption of several amendments it was advanced to third reading.

The bill provides that no assignment of wages or salary by a married person shall be valid unless executed and acknowledged by the assignor's wife or husband, as the case may be, and that all assignments tainted with usury shall be void.

The first bill to be killed on the floor of the house was the senate bill making the obtaining of money by false pretenses or conspiracy to obtain in sums exceeding $15 a felony.

The Haus bill fixing a time limit of one year with a notice of sixty days on personal injury suits against cities, suits otherwise being barred, was amended so that the time limit on notice to the city of pending suit for injury is placed at six months instead of sixty days.

McSurely's "shot-firers" bill was also read for the first time, and the bill prohibiting common law marriages was read the second time.

Springfield, Ill., April 1. — There was no question of a quorum in the house yesterday morning. It simply was not there, and the house settled down to the advancement of bills on the calendar, no attempt being made to pass measures Appropriation bills, including $325,000 for the ordinary and contingent expenses of the Illinois National Guard and $20,000 for a monument to Colonel "Dan" McCook's brigade at Kearsaw mountain, were advanced to third reading.

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—Adjournment about May 20. This is the latest forecast of Republican leaders in the house. It may come a few days earlier, but not much prospect is now seen of getting through with the vast amount of absolutely necessary legislation before the middle of next month.

Most of the time of the house this week will be devoted to the consideration of house measures, to the exclusion of senate bills, and this programme will be carried out in the committees as well as on the floor of the house.

Chunk of Iron in Its Throat.

Bloomington, Ill., April 5.—The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Matthews, of De Witt county, was taken to a surgeon to discover the cause of its inability to swallow anything but liquid foods.

Death of a Pioneer Woman.

Rockford, Ill., April 1.—Mrs. Aurilla Blinn, aged 91 years, is dead of old age. She was the oldest settler of Winnebago county and came west from her home at Conneaut, O., in 1834.

Steam Versus the Trolley.

Bloomington, Ill., April 4. — The new interurban competitive service of the Chicago and Alton will commence on April 9. Three trains will be run each way daily between Bloomington and Pontiac and four each way daily between Springfield and Girard.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Uses of Borax as Medicine and as a Cleanser.

To clean marble, stairs and all woodwork, add a tablespoonful of borax to a pint of hot water and use a flannel or soft cloth. If very dirty, add more borax. To clean a nursery bottle after the bottle has been used rinse in warm water, then fill with warm water containing a tablespoonful of powdered borax.

Buying Blankets.

In buying wool blankets get the best makes, but not too heavy. Before using at all cut apart and bind the raw edges to correspond with the upper ones, then follow the English housekeepers' custom of covering the end of the blanket or comfortable that comes next the face of the sleeper with a strip of thin muslin or cheesecloth, which can be readily replaced when soiled.

Renovating a Carpet.

After having the carpet well beaten and shaken and nailed down again on the scrubbed floor take a mixture of ox gall and water in the proportion of one pint of gall in three gallons of soft warmed water.

The following are the letters at the Genoa postoffice that remain uncalled for: Mr. Arthur Ramie. Mrs. Walter Dalton Jr. Mrs. E. C. Sand. Rev. F. Winger. Mr. Emil Van Landugt. Postal: Miss Flossie Lee. Mr. Frank Euman.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

The More Players the Greater the Fun In Game of Buzz.

Buzz is a very old game, but is always a very great favorite. The more the players the greater the fun. The way to play it is as follows: The players sit in a circle and begin to count in turn, but when the number 7 or any number in which the figure 7 or any multiple of 7 is reached they say, "Buzz," instead of whatever the number may be.

Agility of Insects.

There was a certain little fly that was observed to run three inches and make in doing it 440 steps, all in one-half a second of time. To equal this in proportion to his size a man would have to run at the rate of twenty miles a minute.

The common flea leaps 200 times its own length. To show like agility a man six feet tall would have to leap a distance of 1,200 feet. The cheese mite is about one-quarter of an inch in length, yet it has been seen to take the tip of its tail in its mouth and then, letting go with a jerk, to leap out of a vessel six inches in depth. To equal this a man would have to jump out of a well from a depth of 144 feet.

Composite Animals.

Each player is asked to write on the top of a piece of paper the name of an animal. The paper is then folded over and passed to the next neighbor, who writes the name of another, and so on until the first player's paper reaches the player at the end of the row. The papers are then unfolded, and each player has to draw on the paper a composite animal containing some feature of every animal mentioned. The results are very amusing. It is best to use the names of familiar animals.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last four years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.

Best Cough Medicine for Children

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is also a certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. Death of John Wall

John Wall, one of the oldest residents of the county, died at his home in Mayfield last Thursday, of infirmities due to age.

Mr. Wall was born in Ireland in 1827. He worked for Mr. Dennis so faithfully for a number of years that when the latter died he willed his farm to him, a striking tribute to the high characters of both parties.

Mrs. Wall, whom Mr. Wall married before he left the old country, survives him. There were born to them five children, all living—William, of DeKalb; Thomas and John living at home; Patrick, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Powers, living near Elgin.

The funeral was held Monday and the body was interred in the Catholic cemetery.

Cheated Death

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had kidney trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety but I took Electric Bitters which effected a complete cure. I also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble and keep them constantly on hand since, as I find they have no equal." Hunt's Pharmacy guarantees them at 50c.

The Weekly Fashion Letter

Tucks give a strapped seam effect to many tailored coats, and ruffles and tucks will ripple all the way from hem to waist on skirts.

Smart women are becoming rather tired of the plaited skirt, and some exclusive spring gowns are being made up with plain skirts, or when trimming is used it is laid on flat about the bottom.

Runting which sells at 10 cents a yard is going to be made up this spring into stunning little shirt waist suits.

Jaunty suits of checked material are being shown in the shops for early spring walking gowns.

The new embroideries are exceedingly lovely. In flowered effects the de-

SUMMER GOWNS.

Many of the dressy spring and summer silk gowns will be trimmed with garlands of lace ruffles arranged on the skirts in festoons and caught with chiffon rosettes in the tone of the coloring.

A pretty idea for a garden party gown is to catch the festooned lace ruffle with a flower and the accompanying hat adorned with the same flower. Orchids are very smart for this purpose, and orchid colorings generally will be used extensively in the spring.

A dainty little plain linen dress of Du Barry rose is made with a perfectly plain plaited skirt. The blouse is cut in a broad V at the throat and

LINGERIE HINTS.

The nightgowns in lingerie sets have the sleeves set in with the finest of beading and the long skirt seams put together in the same way.

Some of the smartest nightdresses are embroidered in large sprawling designs not unlike those used on shirt waists.

The French are substituting the elaborate chemise in place of the corset cover, but here in America the corset signs are delicate and scattered. Heavy padded embroidery is used on both linen and cloth gowns.

A novelty in trimming is a combination of broderie anglaise and Japanese hand work. This joining in one design of two such diametrically opposite schools of embroidery is very happy in effect.

Hand embroidered yokes and cuffs for nightgowns are to be purchased from 50 cents up.

The stunning gown of pearl gray taffeta herewith illustrated is one of the dainty models for early spring wear. About the full skirt are bouillonnés and tiny ruffles of the taffeta silk. A bertha of silk trimmed with shirtings and ruffles is draped around an empiecement of lace threaded with filled in with a glimpse of openwork batiste. A broad turned back collar and deep cuffs are features of the gown. They are buttonholed at the edges and embroidered in a raised design. A scarf of black silk coning under the collar and knotted in front is a pretty touch.

Voile or nun's veiling, which is what voile really is, makes an awfully nice shirt waist dress. It is light and easily sheds dust and dirt.

Tulle for evening gowns is embroidered with gold and silver and has incrustated between the designs motifs of lace.

Another popular separate skirt is laid in narrow box plaits at the waist and stitched to the knee, where the plaits gradually spring out wide and flare becomingly at the feet.

The blouse illustrated is of Havana brown cashmere. The wide bands forming the square yoke and the center trimming and sleeve bands are of darker brown panne edged with cream cover is sharing honors with the chemise. Some of the new covers are marvels of fine hand work embroidery.

China silk slip petticoats are growing in favor. The prettiest of the new ones have shirring and lace and hand embroidered dots by way of trimming.

Lingerie blouses are things of beauty with their fairylike traceries of hand embroidery and fine inset laces. The sewing on these blouses is as exquisite as the materials.

Silk golf petticoats come very much frilled, and the short woman may profit by this elaborate golf finery and purchase them for ordinary wear.

Hats of hand embroidered linen and batiste are trimmed with liberty ribbon and flowers.

Petting hats of embroidered batiste have wreaths of shaded roses around the crown.

The airy little toque illustrated is of swathed white tulle. It is dented into a becoming shape, with knots of the tulle holding a bunch of peacock feathers at the side.

PARASOL NEWS.

The parasols on view in the shops have elaborately carved handles showing animals' heads with jeweled eyes. Many of these handles may be bought separately and adjusted to odd parasoils. The handle on a white taffeta silk parasol is formed of a swan's long curved neck and head. The eyes are small black beads.

A stunning parasol is of black peau de sole, lined with white silk and trimmed with motifs of white lace. Violet silk treated in the same way is charming.

A scarlet parasol has a handle of black onyx, with a knob incrustated with mock rubies.

All the smart parasols have large bows tied about the handles.

A new automobile parasol of silk has a wide border of scalloped leather about the edge and a matlike piece at the top.

Little round French crowns appear on the new hats. A smart hat is called the "polo." It has charming little curves and is simply trimmed with a bunch of flowers or an aigret and chou.

Jaunty suits of checked tweed are shown in the shops for early spring wear.

A summer fad will be the wearing of colored silk girdles with hair nets to match.

Light blue linen for shirt waist suits will be very much worn. This linen sells for 50 cents a yard.

Heavy padded embroidery is used on light cloth and linen gowns.

The strapped shirt waist with a long silk scarf pulled down through the strap is a smart model.

The tiny tot's gown illustrated is of heavy linen. The skirt is box plaited. The smart reefer jacket has inset cuffs and a collar of blue linen. Large pearl buttons fasten the coat.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured

"I have been subject to sciatic rheumatism for years," says E. H. Waldron, of Wilton Junction, Iowa. "My joints were stiff and gave me much pain and discomfort. My joints would crack when I straightened up. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have been thoroughly cured. Have not had a pain or ache from the old trouble for many months. It is certainly a most wonderful liniment." For sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.
