THE GENOAREPUBLICAN

VOLUME II.

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

GENOA, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1903.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.

NO. 9.

Opened Monday Afternoon at the County Seat.

NINETEEN

A Large Crowd Present to Hear Evidence in the Important Cases .-- List of Jurors Chosen for the Term.

[Special to The Genoa Republican.]

The February term of the De-Kalb county Circuit court opened Monday at Sycamore. Judge Bishop was on the bench. On the docket for the term are ten criminal cases, sixty-one in com-Nineteen divorce cases were set jurors for the term are as follows:

GRAND JURORS.

W. S. Kellogg, Paw Paw. Lewis M. Johnson, Milan. W. L. Stephens and A. R. Puffer, Malta.

Charles Lloyd, South Grove. John Paulson, Franklin. Albert Beveridge, Victor. Andrew Gilchrist, Clinton. Michael Gallagher, Afton. John Olsten and Peter Warberg, DeKalb.

William Graham, Mayfield. H. M. Stark, Kingston. Thomas Devine, Somonauk. Charles Sedgewick, Sandwich. A. H. Von Ohlen, Squaw Grove. of estate; bond $5200. Casper Phifer, Pierce. John Mc Cabe and Franklin

Stearns, Cortland. O. H. Smith and M. F. Carlson, Sycamore.

Arthur Brown, Genoa.

PETIT JURORS.

Ernest Chapman, Paw Paw. Davis and John Gable, Shabbona. approved. Milton Adee and James Byers, South Grove.

Fred Aves, William Anderson, Hayes Burchfield, Ed. Ferrell and Fred Griggs, Franklin.

George Breckbiel, Victor. Fred Brown and Adam Bridge,

Floyd Crego and Chas. Camp, DeKalb.

William Ault, Mayfield. Dell Aurner, Kingston. Don Coleman, Somonauk. William Berry, Charles Dyas, G. C. Gage and Gustave Good- Charles B Smith, De Kalb

man. Sandwich. George F. Bark, C. A. Bastian, Harvey I Burroughs, Genoa and G. M. Kuter, Squaw Grove. Oliver Anderson, Ed. Butzow, Fred Butts, Sycamore M. F. Crane, V. I. Clark, Fred Elizabeth Kanies, Sycamore

Sycamore. Henry Burroughs, M. J. Corson and John Geithman, Genoa.

statement from the circuit clerk: Charles W Ramer, DeKalb "As this term of court closes Margaret J Fisher, Colona, M the service of the present judges Oliver Brown, Sycamore for the present term of six years, Jennie Alden it seems appropriate that a re- W Hommedieu, Fremont, Ind 23 port was received from New for Genoa, and it is to be hoped years. view of the judicial term be made. Cornelia Graham, Victor At the beginning there seemed to H D Diedrich, Afton be a lethargy of court and bar. Minnie J Ilseman, Afton Cases were commenced, but no R H Fenn, Leavenworth, Kan 38 one seemed anxious to press the Marie L Garvey same to trial. The result was the calendar continually grew larger. Now the reverse is the case. Two-thirds of the cases commenced are tried the first term. The old cases are also closed out and are off the docket, Harper, sw one-quar, nw oneand while the number of cases quar, sec 15, and s one-half, ne tried are not much greater, the one-quar, sec 16, $7,200. certainty that they will be reached induces the litigants to become results in a settlement out of court. Under these conditions it does not seem strange that the present judges were renominated for another term without a single dissenting voice."

The grand jury was sworn in and Andrew Gilchrist was made foreman. The case of J. E. Tur-DIVORCE CASES pin vs. Emily L. Haymond, cognovit, is to be dismissed.

In the case of Melvina Frankquist vs. A. G. Johnson, et al, bill to set aside will, T. M. Cliffe was appointed guardian ad litem for Gertie and Emogene Nilson, minor defendants.

In the divorce case of Elias Williams vs. Catherine Williams, time to answer was extended to Wednesday, February 25.

The injunction recently obtained by Lundquist & Martinson, mon law and sixty in chancery. proprietors of the Swedish bakery at DeKalb, against John Lindfor hearing. The grand and petit holm, was made perpetual. Mr. Lindholm is restrained from again opening a bakery in De-Kalb.

In two cases of the Farmers' State Bank at Genoa vs. M. S. Rudolph Younggren, Shabbona. Campbell and Ida M. Campbell, assumpsit, were settled in open court and dismissed. A tender of $610 was made by the defendants and accepted.

> vs. P. J. Coffey, appeal, the order half 18, bl 6, $500. waiving jury, entered last term. was vacated.

PROBATE COURT

Estate of—

Helen MacEachron. Samuel Henderson appointed conservator Martin Duffey. Conservator's inventory approved. John T Woodley. Estate declared settled and guardian discharged.

Ann W Buckingham. Claims of Luella and Bertha Buckingham allowed.

Louis N Lovell. Inventory John Cox, O. J. Falk, Roy and proof of notice to creditors part nw one-quar, ne one-quar of Genoa and Attorney J. B.

Josephine Stromberg. Frank of persons and estate of Vernie and Floyd Stromberg; bond lot 6, bl 34, $1.

$1000. John Stern. Michael Stern's claim allowed.

John Carnes. Duane J Carnes bl 16, Fuller's $1229.65. appointed administrator of estate; bond $22,000; April term for

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Mary J Flinn Verna M Morrison Cornwall and R. B. Graham, Nicholas Hutter, LaSalle Co Anna Ulrich 25 Jacob Floen, Sandwich 39 To the docket is appended the Anna Johansen, Leland

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

PAW PAW. James Harper to Archibald reasonable in their demands, and lots 1, 2, 3, 8, 9 & 10, bl 5, & lots 1903.

Residence of F. H. Jackman

In the case of John Crawford 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 & 17 and e one-

SYCAMORE.

M E Belles to John Ryan, part lot 3, bl 3, $4,000.

Josephine E Stutenroth to Richard Ronan, lots 3, 4, 5, bl 2, Wharry's, $300.

H C Snow to H H Mitchell, lot 8, Patten's, $3,800.

DEKALB.

Charlotte Anderson by heirs to Carrie D Mosher, lot 8, bl 1, Rettig's, $2,800.

W M Hay to Charles Erickson, lot 3, bl 1, sec 14

lot 25 of n one-half, sec 14, $75. oa will take definite shape today, sec 14, $100. A Stromberg appointed guardian Young, lot 2, bl 2, Rettig's $350.

SANDWICH. G W Culver to Frederick S Mosher, part of lot 9 and lot 10, SQUAW GROVE.

H D Wagner to Laura A Miller, lot I, ne one-quar of ne onequar, and other land on sec 15, $3,000.

CLINTON. Christian Baie to A C Baie, ne one-half sec 13, $1.

BUTTER GOES UP.

After a fifteen minute session the quotation committee of the <sup>25</sup> Elgin Board of Trade decided on 26 twenty-seven cents firm as the $150,000 00. The securing of such 19 market price of butter. No re- an industry will be a great boom 23 York Monday on account of the observance of a legal holiday.

FURMER MARKETS
	Sold	Price
Feb. 16, '03	0	26
Feb. 24, '02		28
Feb. 25, '01	0	231/2
Feb. 16, '00	0	24
Output for this dist	rict,	509,000
pounds.

Books Now Open.

FRED C. DUVAL. | F. Swan, Elgin.

provements.

MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY

of $150,000.00, Are Well Pleased With Genoa and Its People.

C T Stuart to William Plank, Eureka Electric company in Gen-M V Wilder to C L Barber, February 27, when Mayor Stott Stephens of Sycamore meet the Helen A Rollins to Daniel De- officials of the Electric company Chas. Snow Was Thrown From His Cutin Chicago. The citizens of Gen-James Welch to Mary J Adams, Wednesday evening were introoa, who met in the mayor's office senger, president and general against a telephone pole.

manager of the Advance Electric
Mr. Snow was neatly dropped is expected to protect the in- was done. terests of the company and the citizens and pave the way for the rapid erection of the factory.

The delay in the proceedings has been occasioned by the merger of the Eureka and Advance companies. The Eureka company will absorb the Advance company, the consolidated concern representing a capital of that proper arrangements will be made today, and that the new

At the Monster Mill End Sale.

Hump hooks and eyes-two train for California. dozen, 1c; 500 yards spool basting thread, 2c; ladies' gingham

A NEW CREAMERY.

Ira J. Mix Dairy Company Proposes to Make Extensive Improvements.

Plans are being made for a fine new creamery for Genoa, to be erected by the Ira J Mix company. The growth of the company's business here, under the able management of Jas. Hutchison, makes the erection of a large and modern creamery advisable, and work will begin on the new structure this spring.

Details as to location, size, etc., done in Genoa.

FIRST GROUND BROKEN.

Promises to Be a Prosperous Season

The first house of the season was started Tuesday by Jas. J Hammond, who put six men to work digging a cellar on Genoa street, next to C. H. Smith's residence, in the Moan addition.

G. E. Stott is the lucky owner, and hopes to move in May 1. He Citizens of Genoa Hustle For Im- proposes to have a thoroughly modern two-story frame dwelling, with city water, furnace heat, and all modern improvements. He will spend about $2,500 on the

In a few weeks Mr. Hammond Tenor Solo......Selected Chicago People, Representing a Capital will break ground next door to Mr. Stott's place and erect a Reading.....Selected house of his own. Others are B. L. Main. talking of building, and it looks In Alsence.....Buck as though Genoa would be greatas though Genoa would be great-The proposition to locate the ly improved before the end of the Hymn of Creation.... Beethoven season.

Last week Friday two small duced to I. J. Kusel, president of but naughty little pup dogs the Eureka Elecrtic company; frightened the horse Charles Harry Kusel, treasurer of the Snow was driving, and the animal Eureka company; V. H. Mes-shied, overturning the cutter al company of Chicago; the in the road near the Milwaukee architect who will design the new tracks, somewhat surprised, but factory, and Promoter Funk. J. uninjured. The horse ran madly B. Stephens of Sycamore was through town, but was stopped present to note the various points by Agent Jones and Expressman agreed upon, from which he will Bowers at the Illinois Central draw up a legal document which depot. Strange to say, no damage

FORGER'S FATE.

Penitentiary for Eight Years.

Chas. Hughes, who passed cially. forged checks on Sycamore merchants during last month, was awarded to Miss Ruby Pierce, sentenced at Des Moines, Iowa, Chas. Geithman and Lloyd Whiplast Saturday to the Iowa state ple. The elegant slumber robe penitentiary for a term of eight was carried away by Will Cooper.

to Des Moines and there under Hines of Genoa, assisted by G. factory will be running here soon. the name of J. R. Miller he H. York, cornetist, of Hampshire. passed other forged checks. He The successful entertainment was arrested while boarding a made many friends for Evalina aprons-plain hem and stripe Next week Wednesday, Mr. borders, 10c; long sleeve fine and Mrs. Arthur Low, Harry ribbed vests, 19c; children's fleece Low, Lorenzo Low, Ace Snyder, lined ribbed vests, sizes 16 to 24, and Miss Laura Porter will leave The collector's books for the 9c; sizes 26 to 34, 19c; ladies' fast for the state of Washington, Friday evening, the ladies of the taxes of 1902 will be open at the black, ribbed top, fleece lined where they will make their future Rebecca lodge held a pleasant store of Clefford & Perkins on hose IIC; children's double knee home. While enroute, they will social in Odd Fellows' hall, Re-C C Ashcraft to C W Haish, and after Monday, February 2, fast black stockings, 8c. Theo. be joined by parties from central freshments were served, and a Illinois.

Going to Washington.

The Northwestern University Glee Club Concert.

WORKERS' DANCE

Brief Mention of the Entertainments of the Week, -- All Were Well Attended and Proved Profitable Ventures.

The Northwestern University are not yet fully decided upon Glee club was welcomed by a by the company, but Genoa may large audience in the M. E. expect the new building to be a church last Saturday evening, and credit to the community. It will the event proved both pleasant be equipped in the best possible and profitable for the Epworth manner, as the company hopes to League. The boys proved to be constantly increase the business good singers, every number of the program eliciting an encore.

Mr. Barnlund's numbers were particularly pleasing, his beautiful tenor voice showing to good advantage in solo numbers.

B. L. Main brought down the house with his Yankee dialect, and responded to encores.

Chas. Briggs has always been a favorite with Genoa music lovers, and his smooth baritone voice won for him unusual applause.

The chorus work of the club was good, the jolly college songs pleasing the audience thoroughly. Many expressed the hope that the club would again appear in Genoa in the near future. The program is as follows:

Prelude.... E. S. Albritton. The Bugle Song............Hatton Glee Club.

A. Barnlund.

F. Herron Smith (Basso)

Sleep My Sweet.....Hatton Just a Song at Twilight... Molly Glee Club.

Reading.....Selected B. L. Main. Baritone Solo.....Selected

Chas. A. Briggs Jr. Farewell.....Jensen Glee Club.

Members of the club sang in various churches of the large cities of Illinois over Sunday.

EVALINA LODGE.

The opera house was filled last Friday evening, the occasion being the annual entertainment given by Evalina lodge, Mystic Workers of the World. The Chas. Hughes Is Sentenced to the Iowa evening was a pleasant one, the masquerade proving to be a great success both socially and finan-

The handsome prizes were

The music was a splendid From Sycamore Hughes went feature, being furnished by Prof.

> lodge, and the committee in charge is to be complimented for the careful arrangements.

DAUGHTERS OF REBECCA.

After the regular meeting last pleasant social hour enjoyed.

POLITICAL NOTES

For Collector.

the Republican caucus.

GEO. W. BURBANK.

I am a candidate for tax collector of Genoa, and will be thankful for the support of the CHARLES WHITE. voters

War Tax Off.

Our 50c tea now sells for 45c. Try it. We guarantee everything we sell. F. O. Swan.

At the Monster Mill End Sale.

Mill ends of heavy tennis flannels all in desirable patterns, 5c; mill ends of heavy percales, 7c; mill ends of Lonsdale muslins, 6c; mill ends of Lonsdale cambric, 9c; mill ends of crash towelings, 4½c; mill ends of pretty dress lawns, 5c. Theo. F. Swan, Elgin.

New Landlord.

operation of the hotel. Mrs. lows: Williams and sons will move to Chicago.

Died at Zion City.

The death of John Brooks oc- gin curred at Zion City Wednesday, Some months ago Mr. Brooks sold his farm near Herbert, and in company with his son went to Zion City to live. News of his sudden demise is quite a shock to many relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Miss Marie Garvey Weds.

The marriage of Miss Lucile Garvey and Mr. Russell Fenn was solemnized at Sycamore last Monday evening. About seventyfive relatives and friends were present. Throughout the evening music was furnished by Gualano's orchestra. The many friends of the happy couple here extend good wishes.

Entertained Little Frieds.

brated her eighth birthday last half miles west of Riley Town ceased altogether. Saturday by entertaining a few House and one and one-half ton's lawyer sent for Wyndham and little friends. Those present miles east of Williams factory, at told him of a will in his possession by were; Misses Zula Hewitt, Irma 10 o'clock a.m. on Friday, Feb- which Craig Wyndham was made sole Perkins, Ruth Slater, Marion ruary 27, 1903. Slater, Gladys Brown, Lottie Ream, Lorene Brown, Marion be sold, including 6 milch cows, long as he lived, and there were sev-Bagley, Helen Holroyd, Margery 6 work horses, 2 single buggies, Holroyd and Agnes Holroyd.

At the Monster Mill End Sale.

Ladies' dress skirts of all wool materials in black, cadet and brown mixed, $2.69; children's S. Abraham, Auct. worsted dresses, 49c; misses long Owen McKeown, Clerk. coats, satin trimmed, $1.69; women's coats of Oxford grey cheviots with trimmed collar and reveres, 2.98. Winter garmen's at mill end prices. Theo. F. Swan, cottages Are Soon to Be Built at St.

Methodist Announcements.

Services at Genoa church as usual next Sunday. Rev. H. G. Grove and Rev. T. E. Ream at ported that material for the Ney at 4 p. m. Sunday.

a business session and the read- begin when the weather permits. self suddenly a very rich man. ing circle will meet with Miss night.

The Ladies' Aid society will hold an all day work meeting today (February 27) at the home of Ren. Robinson.

The regular business meeting world a wrong. of the official board will be held Tuesday evening at the church. different pair of eyes.

CARLOADS OF CATTLE.

A. H. Olmsted Received Two Carloads on Tuesday.

C. V. Varnum, a well known tockman from central Iowa, brought two carloads of steers to Genoa on Tuesday. He bought I wish to announce to the voters them in Chicago for A. H. Olmof Genoa that I am a candidate sted, and the sixty-five animals for the office of collector and will be turned out to grass, fatted respectfully ask your support at up in good shape, and re-sold in did not need him." Chicago some months later.

The stock is not from the and added: western ranges, but was raised mostly in Iowa and Illinois. Mr. Olmsted has been very successful in fatting this kind of stock for the Chicago market.

At the Monster Mill End Sale.

Celluloid collars, 3c; men's fine Jersey fleece lined underwear, 33c; men's working shirts of heavy twills in dark stripes, 35c. Theo. F. Swan, Elgin.

TO PICNIC AT ELGIN.

Odd Fellows Select that City for County Meeting Next Summer.

Elgin has been selected as the place for the picnic of the Kane county Odd Fellows association to be held sometime next sum-Chas. Hartzell of DeKalb has mer. This was decided by the taken possession of the Williams social association of the order hotel in Sycamore. Mrs. D. which held its annual meeting on Grimes and daughter will move Monday at St. Charles. Officers to Sycamore and assist in the for the year were elected as fol-

> President-D. J. Dumser, Elgin. Vice Pres.—Mrs. Van Alstine, Montgomery.

Secretary-F. A. Goddard, El-

Treasurer - F. E. George,

The prospect is that the meeting will be largely attended.

Horse Drops Dead.

Al. Oursler lost a good work horse Tuesday, the animal dropping dead in the harness. Dr. Danforth's diagnosis was acute

PUBLIC AUCTION.

and Will Have Sale Friday, February 27.

cided to quit farming, will hold a police was exerted to bring about his public sale on what is known as capture, but even such a sensational the Frank Pierce farm, in the affair was soon partially forgotten, and the newspaper comments diminished Miss Amerette Harlow cele- township of Riley, two and one- from columns to paragraphs and then

A vast number of articles will to James Ferguson a stated annuity as lot of corn fodder, 3 sets double clause: harness, and other articles too numerous to mention.

sale. Dinner served at noon.

FOR BOYS' HOME.

The trustees of the St. Charles Home for Boys met last Wednesday. Superintendent McLean reerection of two cottages is already aware of its contents. Inasmuch as on the site of the proposed home Burr Pendleton had no near relatives, The Epworth League will hold at St. Charles and building will

The trustees have prepared a Carrie Arnold next Monday circular letter to Governor Yates frequently at the club, on the street and the members of the legislature. The board will meet in Mexican to throw himself constantly Springfield March 2nd. - Elgin

To be original look with a

The Knife Throwers

VAN RENSSELAER DEY,

Author of "Not Like Other Men," Etc.

By Frederic Van Rensselaer Dey.

"I could not find him." "Couldn't find him, eh? Well, it doesn't much matter. Fortunately, I

Then he introduced Biggs all around

"Come into the Savarin. We'll have luncheon anyhow."

When they were seated at the table and the order had been given, he turned to Biggs again and asked:

"Did James tell you where he had

"I couldn't find James either." "That's strange."

"I went back three times and rang repeatedly each time, but nobody answered. Perhaps he did not go to his own rooms last night."

During this conversation Wyndham had glanced in the direction of Escudera several times, but if the Mexican heard what was said he gave no indication of it.

"Oh, yes, he did," replied Wyndham in response to the last remark. "Senor Escudera went there with him from the club. Did I not so understand you, senor?" he continued politely, turning to the gentleman from Mexico.

"What did you ask, Mr. Wyndham?"

said Escudera calmly. Craig Wyndham smiled, but he found it difficult to conceal the gleam of satisfaction that came into his eyes, for he felt that the Mexican had slightly overdone his part in that counter move. When the question was repeated. Escudera replied:

"Why, yes. I went with Mr. Pendleton from the club to his place of residence. I believe it was his intention to remain there last night, although I do not know. Perhaps he has been called away again."

The subject was changed after that, and when luncheon was finished the party separated. But Craig Wyndham thrust his arm under Biggs' and drew him along with him.

"Come with me," he said. "I have one or two things more to attend to, and after that we will go up town together. If we do not find Burr at the club, then we will go around and look him up. I shouldn't wonder if he was sleeping and had given James orders to admit nobody. He has done that thing before, you know.'

CHAPTER VI.

WHAT JAMES KNEW ABOUT THE PAST. T is not necessary to describe in detail the discovery of the body of Burr Pendleton or the effect that the discovery and its consequences produced upon the community and particularly upon those who knew him in-

The mysterious disappearance of the servant James pointed the finger of suspicion in his direction and naturally diverted it from other suggestions. Not even a faint indication of such a thing or thought. The coroner's jury found that death had been caused by a dagger in the The undersigned, having de-the deceased, and every effort of the legatee of all the property that Pendleton had owned. It directed him to pay eral minor bequests of like nature. The will also contained the following

"I make also the following express wish: With this my last will and testament I will place in the hands of my Terms made known on day of attorney a certain sealed envelope which will be delivered into the hands of my legatee and executor, Cralg Wyndham, as soon as convenient after he has been made aware of the contents of this my will. The contents of the envelope aforesaid will explain to my executor certain duties which I desire him to perform in the event of my death and which I believe he will perform to the best of his ability and care to embody in this document. I do, however, consider it just that I should here ask pardon for placing such grave responsibilities upon him and also for keeping secret from him the fact that I have done so."

The will was drawn and executed immediately before Pendleton departed for Mexico, and only the lawyer who drew it and Pendleton himself were the will was probated without objection, and Craig Wyndham found him-

In the meantime he met Escudera and in divers places. Indeed it seemed to him that it was the intention of the in his way, but between them on the occasion of such meetings there was always exhibited the utmost cordiality.

Escudera retained his quasi member-One mean man does the whole ship in the club, and always Wyndham watched him furtively while he awanthe air of one who was killing time as you had been to Mexico?"

pening of some expected event, but what that event might be Wyndham could not even conjecture.

The interview between Wyndham and old James had taken place - in fact, several of them-but at this point it is necessary only to refer to one of

They had, as usual, at such times been engaged in discussing the incidents that had happened to Pendleton in Mexico and for the third or fourth had already connected the name of Romero with that of Escudera and was now.'

of the opinion the two were related. "Did you ever see the man with whom your master fought the duel?" he asked of James.

"Yes, sir; I saw him two or three times.' "Did the man who was with Mr. Pendleton the evening we found him resemble the duelist at all?" "Not at all, that I remember." "Now, James, go back to the moment you first knew that a duel was to be fought. How did you know about it?" "Mr. Burr told me." "Tell me how he told you; tell me just what he said."

"He asked me if I remembered an incident that occurred one afternoon on the Paseo when he defended a lady from the attentions of a man who had offended her. I"-

"Tell me about that incident, James." "We were on the Paseo together, walking. I was a few feet behind Mr. Pendleton. We were near what is known as the Indian statue, which is located rather farther up the avenue than pedestrians usually go. A little way in advance of us was a lady and her maidservant. When we got near the statue, a man appeared suddenly from behind it or one of the big cypress trees, I don't know which. He walked rapidly toward the lady, and she stopped still, as if she were frightened, but I do not know if that was the reason, although I think it must have been."

"What time of day was that, James?" "About 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The sun was shining, and there were hundreds of people within call: so I do not think the man really meant anything like violence.

Well, go ahead. What happened then?"

"The lady was a hundred feet or so in advance of us when the man confronted her. We were walking slowly toward them. Whether Mr. Pendleton was looking at them or not I do not know, but I was, for I thought the actions of both rather strange. I noticed that they talked rather excitedly and that they seemed to be known to each other. In the meantime we were drawing nearer to them. We had almost reached them when the lady turned suddenly away, as if to leave the man, and he reached out and seized her by the arm.

"That was more than Mr. Pendleton could stand, as you know, sir. He stopped instantly, raised his hat, addressed the lady in Spanish, as though he had known her all his life, and at the same time utterly ignored the man. As for him, he hesitated an instant, and I never saw such a fiendish expression on the face of a man as that which swept over his at that instant. But he did not say a word. Instead he turned away and walked rapidly down the av-

"The lady murmured a few words to Mr. Pendleton. 1 think they were words of thanks. He raised his hat, said two words in reply, and we continued on our way. "That, sir, is all there was of that incident, but the man who afterward insulted my master and thus compelled him to send a challenge was the same man, Captain Romero, who is called the deadliest duelist in Mexico; so you see, sir, there must have been some connection between the two affairs."

"Undoubtedly, James." "And now, sir, if you will permit me to surmise a little, I have an idea." "Let me hear it, by all means."

"The evening before the duel Mr. Pendleton was busy for some time preparing his affairs. Then he went out, ostensibly to the opera, but I know he did not go there, for about midnight or a little after Captain Agramonte, who was to be his second, called and told me so, inquiring for him. The following morning I received a note in his handwriting telling me to defer all action twenty-four hours longer than he had told me to do when he went away, and the note was brought by the same person who on the preceding day delivered one to my master in the pateo of the hotel just as we were going out for luncheon, and, sir, what is more important, it was the same person who came to me a few hours before Mr. Pendleton's return and gave me a verbal message to have everywhich, for reasons of my own, I do not thing packed and in readiness. That last message I am sure my master did

"I know that Mr. Pendleton engaged in the duel with Captain Romero, and I know that he shot him, for I heard him ask Captain Agramonte just before our train left the station about the condition of Romero. It is my opinion, sir, that the lady who was doubtless the real cause of the duel sent for him that evening when he was to go to the opera, and I believe that she tried to prevent the meeting. This is only guesswork, sir, but I cannot help thinking that the duel was a consequence of that encounter on the Paseo, and that the murder of Mr. Pendleton is somehow related to both

"No doubt, James; no doubt whatever. But I believe we may go back even farther than that and say that all three of the occurrences grew out of the causes of your master's journey to Mexico. We will have to search farther back than the encounter on the Paseo ed replies to certain inquiries he had for the motive for the taking of the life sent out to Mexico and to other places. of Burr Pendleton. James, was this It seemed to him that Escudera had trip you made with Borr the first time a moment. Then, more to himself than north and left her there he expected to his companion, he said:

about it now."

was your second visit to Mexico, then?" "My third, sir."

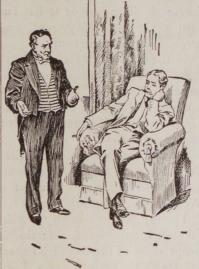

"Indeed! Tell me about the others." ther of Mr. Burr, but I promised him her during that year at her request. I time referred to the duel. Wyndham that I would never speak about it, sir, am sure that nothing else could have to anybody, and I never have until kept him here waiting."

"Not even to Burr?"

"No, sir; not even to him." "That was wrong, James."

"That may be, Mr. Wyndham, but I believed I was doing my duty." "We need not argue that point. Tell me when you went there first." "It was shortly after I became a member of the Pendleton family. I was "The man was Captain Romero, the deadliest duelist in Mexico."

twenty years old. Mr. Robert Pendleton, Burr's father, was, I think, about thirty. It was during the same winter when Burr's mother died."

"How old was Burr?" "Not quite two years, sir." "Well, what took you there?"

"Mr. Robert Pendleton had some business there that had been left by his father. I do not know much about that, sir, for I always tried to keep my place and to mind my own affairs. He intended when he started to remain only a short time, but we were in the City of Mexico three months, and I saw very little of my master during that time. We had rooms at the Hotel Iturbide, where I remained, but Mr. Pendleton was rarely there either day or night, and I only know that his time was passed at a house in Tacubaya, at a fine residence which he told me he had purchased, but which he subsequently disposed of.'

"When and how?" "That I do not know, sir."

"Why did he buy the house and why did he pass his time there instead of at his rooms in the hotel?

"I did not know until long afterward, Mr. Wyndham, but the fact is he had fallen in love with a Mexican lady and married her.'

"Ah, I begin to see daylight, James. Tell me all you know about that event.' "I know very little-only that he married within a month after we arrived in Mexico and therefore within four months of the death of Mr. Burr's mother. Perhaps it was for that reason that he insisted upon keeping the matter a profound secret and made me promise that I would never refer to our visits there to anybody under any circumstances. I have kept that promise until today, sir." "Do you think that Burr knew of this second marriage of his father, James?" "I am quite sure that he did not, sir."

"I mean at the time he went to Mexico-at any time before his death." "I do not think he ever knew of it,

Mr. Wyndham." "Do you know the family name of the lady who became Mrs. Pendleton?" "No, sir, and, besides, there is another thing, sir, which may be important - the lady was never known as Mrs. Pendleton. We traveled in Mexico under another name, but I cannot tell you that name, Mr. Wyndham, because I have forgotten it.' "Forgotten it, James?"

"Yes, sir, I have forgotten it." Wyndham did n believe this statement, but no amount of argument could induce James to change his reply to the question, and it was finally abandoned. "Tell me about your second trip

there, James," he proceeded. "We were called there by the illness summons at once and in another moof the lady who was Mr. Pendleton's | ment was standing at the curb beside wife. She died and was buried before | the vehicle. we arrived. He was greatly shocked. We did not remain very long-about from the club occupied the rear seat of ten days, I think. I saw very little of the carriage. Opposite her was another him then, as before. He did not seem woman. Both were veiled. He rightly like himself at all, and he never recov- guessed that they were mistress and ered from the shock. Although he liv- servant and therefore bestowed only ed many years afterward, it affected one quick glance upon the woman who him until his death.' children by that second marriage, while he tried in vain to peer through James?"

know, but I think not. I think Mr. evidently arranged with an attempt to Pendleton would have told me had such been the case.

"Let me sum this business up a little. that it effectually concealed the fea-According to your statements, Mr. Pen- tures of the wearer. Closely woven dleton lived with his second wife two and dotted here and there by black months and then came north again. Is spots and doubtless doubled, it was that right?"

"About that, sir." made the second trip to Mexico?"

"About a year-a little more than ed was young and beautiful. that, I think. No, sir, pardon me; it was something less than a year. My memory is not as clear as it used to him, for he did not remember ever hav-

that he remained so long a time away

"I hardly know how to reply to that. I know that he was very fond of her,

James hesitated and looked away for and it is my belief that when we came that she would follow him very soon. "It can do no harm for me to tell I think there was some trouble of some kind, but I never knew what it was. "It is your duty to tell everything He was overwhelmed with business. I that will help me to clear up this mys- know that he received letters from her, tery," said Wyndham sharply. "That or at least from Mexico, constantly, and I know that he wrote to her very often. I think it likely that her coming was delayed from week to week "I was there twice, sir, with the fa- and that he refrained from going to

"He did not take you into his confidence in this matter, then?

"No, sir; only concerning the marriage itself."

"Did you ever see the lady?"

"Never, sir "Nor a picture of her?"

"I did not." "I wish you could remember the name under which your master lived in Mexico, James." "I am sorry that I cannot," replied the old man obstinately, "but it has gone from me entirely. I would not recognize it even if I should hear it."

It was plain to Wyndham that James had determined that he would not reveal the name and had adopted the plan of forgetfulness as the best means of avoiding argument, and the old man's resolution could be accounted for in only one way, which was that he had given an absolute promise that he would never tell it.

"Robert Pendleton must have had a strong reason for binding his servant to such inviolate secrecy," mused Wyndham, "and he also must have had a strong reason for adopting it in the first place."

He turned to James again.

"Why did Mr. Pendleton make use of an assumed name at all?" he asked. "He never told me that, sir,"

"Do you know? "I think so-partly. I do know that it had nothing to do with his marriage, for he chose the name before we left New York, and he never saw her until after we arrived in Mexico. He went there on some business that had been his father's. He believed that he could best attend to it if he were not known. And you must remember one thing, sir-although people in Mexico knew him by a name not his own, his wife, although she never bore his right name openly, must have known what it was, for the letters he received were properly addressed. I believe others were deceived, but that she was not. Now, sir, I have really told you all I know-more, in fact, for I have made bold to conjecture a great deal. Perhaps out of it all you may find the missing links in the broken chain. I am sure I cannot help you any more unless you take me to Mexico and let me point out the house where he lived. That might help you, sir."

CHAPTER VII.

WYNDHAM'S GAME OF DOUBLES. FTER that there was a biatus which lasted several weeks, during which nothing worthy of record here happened. Wyndham and Escudera continued to meet as they had done before, and there were other interviews between

James and Wyndham, which, however, developed nothing new The letters sent to Mexico by Wyndham were answered, but from them he derived no information that was of benefit to him in his search for the defiant mystery that had shrouded the life of Burr Pendleton. With the exception that now and then some incident would recall the event to the memory of a reporter, the tragedy of which Pendleton was the victim was almost forgotten.

Even Wyndham himself began to despair of ultimate success, or, rather, he had about made up his mind to go to Mexico himself, where he believed the solution of the affair was located, when an event occurred which altered all his plans and which brought things ultimately to a climax.

He was sitting idly in the clubhouse one afternoon, wearily thinking over all that had occurred and endeavoring to decide what was best for him to do next, when one of the servants informed him that a lady in a carriage at the door wished to speak to him. He rose wenderingly, for Craig Wyndham was in no sense a ladies' man. He never sought their society and, in fact, avoided them when he could. That one should drive to the clubhouse door

and ask for him was so utterly unprecedented that he was for the moment nonplused. However, he obeyed the

The lady who had summoned him occupied the front seat. The other he "Was there a child or were there regarded earnestly, for an instant only, the meshes of her veil. "No, sir - that is, I don't really It was an artfully constructed affair, conceal the fact that it was intended for a disguise, and yet, so cleverly worn only sufficiently transparent to permit Wyndham to discern two glowing eyes "How long after that was it that you behind it and to guess rather than to see that the face to which they belong-

Perhaps there was something in her voice which impressed that idea upon ing heard one just like it before or one "How do you account for the fact | that suited him quite so well.

"Are you Mr. Craig Wyndham?" she asked the moment he approached her.

· (Continued on Page 5)

The Kingston News.

As reported by Harry S. Heckman for THE GENOA REPUBLICAN of the week ending February 27, 1903.

Over Ten Dollars.

The Lists Given Below Present the Name and Amounts to Be Paid by the Kingston Citizens.

For the information of those interested, the following list is home. printed, showing the personal taxes to be paid by the citizens Monday. of Kingston township. The first list gives the names of those who reside in the township but outside the village and are assessed

over ten dollars for	personal taxes:
Aves, Wm	.$ 18 28
Aurner, W. R
Arbuckle, D. B
Ball, D. W
Beers, Geo. R
Brainard, Alto
Branch, Mrs. H. F
Brendemuhl, Chas
Burchfield, Hiram
Crane, John	. 10.37
Casey, Joe	. 22 02
Colvin, Jefferson
Clark, Henry
Cole, John	. 10.12
Cole, W. L	. 10.08
Dibble, A. W
Ellwood, I. L	. 83.49
Fosdick, L. C
George, Albert
Hill, Leonard
Holroyd, Albert	. 10.57
Kruger, Wm	. 10.06
Kæller, L. A
Kæneke, Wm
Little, E. B
Lampard, John	. 11.04
Little, Esther	. 24.89
Lettow, A. J	. 15.92
Lanan, Henry A
Little, J. L	. 15.17
May, Grant
Nelson, Alfred
Nichols, Chas. M
Ollman, Ferdinand
Ollman, C. F. & Sons
Parker, Frank
Pierce, A. V
Ruback, Carl	. 13 49
Stark, H. M	. 18.67
Shandelmeier, J. G	. 11.70
Shrader, Stuart
Strong, W.S	. 15 04
Strong, C. RStuart, J. Y	13 50
Stuart, J. Y	. 126 17

9
in the village and who pay	OVE
ten dollars:
Aurner, C. L	12.6
Aurner, J. F	32.8
Allen, Mary	14.0
Arnold & Biggs	10.6
Burton, C. R	23.5
Cole, M. W	330
Clark, Mrs. S. J	13.7
Gross, J. K	115.5
Heckman, J	15.4
Harper, Mrs. O	28.1
Hart, Thos	11.3
Ludwig, J. B	12.8
LaShell & Gochnaur	30.3
Landis, Henry	11.4
Merrill, Margaret	10.6
Miller, A. J	59.9
Moore, G. W	16.7
Moyers, John	27.6
McCollom, I. A	12.0
Rowen, F. R	178
Robinson, Mrs. Kate	24.4
Shaffer, L. C	38.6
Taylor, John	36.3
Thompson, E.A	15.4

TAX PAYERS Uplinger, J. H...... 37.40 Vickell, O. W..... 1161 measles. Weber, Harriet M..... 13 24 Of Kingston Township Who Pay Weber, N...... 22 96 Iowa, is a guest of his brother

KINGSTON PERSONAL MENTION

Arthur Starks was here Mon-

Mrs. S. Witter was in Genoa Uplinger, Kingston.

with measles.

business trip.

28 cago Monday. Miss Ora Jaquish of Kirkland sent here from Kirkland.

was here Saturday. Thos. Gathercoal and wife have been on the sick list.

Frank Wilson called on friends in Kirkland Monday.

Harley Rowan of Kirkland was here on business Tuesday.

Dan McDonald was here from Elgin the first of the week.

Lloyd Branch was home from 12 Chicago the first of the week. Miss Anna Moran is the trained nurse for Mrs. S. D. Whitney. Considerable repairs are being made on the Stuartville bridge. were visitors in Elgin on Mon- Atlanta.

A. L. Clark of Mayfield had business in Chicago Friday and 89 Saturday.

were passengers to Chicago last sleeping cars, buffet-library-smok-and are guests of her sister, Mrs. Orleans. 6 O. W. Vickell.

dere visited at the home of her ion cars through to Los Angeles parents the first of the week.

well and Mildred Gibbs were home from DeKalb Saturday.

for Grundy Center, Iowa, where night from Chicago. he has a position in a creamery.

Hiram Burchfield and family Stuart, Ed..... 22.05 moved their household effects in-Stuart, J. A..... 10 42 to their new home at Rockford Schwebke, J. G..... 14 04 last week.

Vandeburg, I...... 11.72 church Sunday morning and Vosburg, Frank...... 10.82 evening.

Wait, Fred ...... II.31 Fred Patrick of Columbus, be mailed free circulars Nos. 1, 2, Watson, Wm...... 10.36 Ohio, a former Kingston resident, 3, 4, 5 and 6, and others as they

A. H. Brush of Loleta, Pa., is Dubuque, Ia. Following are those who reside in Sycamore on a visit to his er father, Rev. A. C. Brush. He will remain about a week.

> store of L. C. Shaffer after a and St. Louis, February 21 and lengthy period of faithful service. March 14. Entire trips in special > the February term of the DeKalb service. Fascinating trips comcounty circuit court which opened plete in every detail. Monday at Sycamore. Aurner is a petit juror.

> where he preaches every other for book describing this most Sunday. His other charge is at interesting of health and pleasure Ohio Grove.

Last Wednesday at noon, Miss Full Particulars concerning all 62 Hazel Mayberry and Earle V. of the above can be had of agents Reed were united in marriage at of the Illinois Central, or by adthe home of the bride at Spring.

Both are well known young peo"Central."

dressing the nearest of the undersigned representatives of the "Central." of ple and have many friends who 30 wish much happiness along life's A. H. Hanson, G P. A. Chicago. journey. They will reside on the J. F. Merry, A. G. P. A., Dubuque, Uplinger, B. F.......... 43.48 Fred Reed farm.

Geo. Campbell is ill with the

Will Burton of Iowa Falls,

Ami Gibbs has sold his fine collection of Indian relics to M.

Full line of harness, prices ranging from $19 to $28, for farm team harness. If in need of anything of the kind be sure to call. Phil Arbuckle spent Sunday at | Meet all competitor's prices. All goods fully guaranteed, J. H.

The 3:15 passenger train was Miss Maude Bradford is ill delayed about an hour Tuesday at Chapman's crossing, owing to Geo. LaShell Jr. is home from a the breaking of a connecting bar on the engine. The damage was Edgar Burton returned to Chi- partially repaired and the engine sidetracked here. An engine was

KINGSTON TIME CARD.

Passenger Trains
No.	Eastbound	No.	Westbound
	6.00 a m	21	10.30 a m
36	7.16 a m	9	3.15 p m
IO	11.50 a m	35	5.21 p m
24	3 48 p m	7	6.56 p m
	Local	Freights
92	9.05 a m	91	5.10 a m
94	1.10 p m		12.25 p m
	O $W$	Vickell	agent

ANNOUNCEMENTS!

Illinois Central R. R.

Revival services are in order at the Weslevan shareh in Moufeld St. Louis to Jacksonville, and the Wesleyan church in Mayfield. Chicago to Jacksonville. Route Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burton via Nashville, Chattanooga and

New Orleans A delightfully unique city for the tourist to visit. Winter tourist rates now in effect. Double daily service and fast steam-heat-Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Arbuckle ed vestibule trains with through ing car service and all meals Mrs. Lilly and daughter of Duran illustrated book on New

Mrs. Martin Dunbar of Belvi- California Personally conducted weekly excursand San Francisco as follows: via Misses Edna and Zada TazeNew Orleans and the southern route every Wednesday from Chicago; every Tuesday and Friday from Cincinnati. Via Omaha John Helsdon Jr. left Monday and the scenic route every Friday

Homeseekers The passenger department of the Illinois Central Railroad company is issuing monthly circulars concerning fruit growing, vegatable gardening, stock raisfarmer, or homeseeker, who will forward his name and address will Webber, P. C. 12 98 was a visitor here several days month, on application to J. F. Weber Walter S. .... 11.68 last week.

> Mexico Special tours to Mexico and California via The California Illinois Central and New Orleans, un-Frank Wilson has severed der the auspices of Raymond & Whitcomb, will leave Chicago H. M. Stark is grand juror for private vestibuled trains of finest pullmans with superb dining car

> > Hot Springs, Arkansas

Rev. A. C. Brush, formerly of Kingston now of Sycamore, makes regular trips to Cherry Valley where he preaches every other than the contral's fast pullman versibule "Limited" train. Send resorts,

L. C. SHAFFER

Announces a Change in the Business, an interest having been taken by

Edmund Holmes

We have concluded to continue the business at the old stand and serve you with the best goods at the Lowest Possible Prices.

Groceries

The most Satisfactory Groceries are found at this store. Remember that we always have on hand the celebrated White Pearl Flour. We constantly carry the best stock of goods in Kingston, having the exclusive agency on many famous lines of goods that have been successfully handled by this store for years.

When you feel a longing for a really good cup of Tea or Coffee-pure, refreshing, healthful, and reasonable in price-try some of our famous brands.

Drugs

We carry a fine stock of Drugs and Remedies. L. C. Shaffer is a Registered Pharmacist and can compound your Physician's prescriptions accurately from the purest ingredients. We carry a nice line of Perfumes and Fancy Goods.

School Supplies

School Books, Tablets, Slates, Slate Pencils, Lead Pencils, Pens, Ink, Paper, the Best Line of Fancy Stationery ever shown in Kingston.

Fine Line of Crockery

We are always in the lead with the best brands of Staple Goods. Our Prices are always the Lowest when comparisons are made. Nothing but dependable Groceries bought-nothing but dependable Groceries sold. Give us a trial.

L. C. Shaffer

Kingston, III.

RAILWAY TIME CARD

AT GENOA, ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO,	MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL
Lv Geno	a Ar Chicago
	6.05 a m 7.55 a m
	7.23 a m 10.00 a m
	8.58 a m 10.25 a m
	. 11.58 a m 1.45 p m
	3.54 p m 5.55 p m
	8.25 p m 9 55 p m
Ly Chica	ngo Ar Genoa
No. 21	8 20 a m 10.24 a m
	9 35 a m 11,03 a m
*+ 0	1.30 p m 3.09 p m
	2.05 p m 5.13 p m
	4.05 p m 5.33 p m
7	5.15 p m 6.50 p m
	10 25 p m 12.11 p m
† 1	6 00 p m 7.30 p m
* Ex	cept Sunday.
† Do	not stop at Genoa.
	J. M. Harvey, agent.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL RY

ILLINOIS CENTRALS ALL
Lv Gene	oa Ar Chicago
	4.40 a m 7.00 a m
36.	7.10 a m 10.05 a m
32.	11.06 a m12.55 p m
4.	7.45 p m 9.30 p m
2.	8.03 a m 9.30 a m
Lv Chic	ago Ar Genoa
No. 3.	8.15 a m 9.47 a m
31	3.45 p m 5.18 p m
	2.55 a m 4.22 a m
35.	2.10 p m 4.36 p m
	6.10 p m 7.41 p m
All tra	ains daily except Nos. 31
	which are daily except Sunday. Trains No. 1, 2 and 5 do not stop at Genoa.

THE CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN.

H. J. Jones, Agent.

AT SYCAMORE.

Dubuque, St Paul 10.23 a m
Minneap's, Des Moines \ 12.44 a m
St Joseph, Kansas City   8.02 p m
Holcomb, Rockf'd, Byron 5.42 pm
Going East
Chicago Suburban *6.00 a m

Chicago Suburban	. *6.00	a	m
Chicago Limited	. 7.35	a	m
Chicago Local	. 7.55	a	m
Chicago Suburban	. 7.45	a	m
Chicago Special	.I2.IO	p	m
Chicago Express	. 7.35	P	m
Sycamore-DeKa	lb

Lv Sycamore	Ar DeKalb
8.05 p m	8.20 p m
7.20 p m	7.35 p m
2.45 p m	3.00 p m
Lv DeKalb	Ar Sycamore
5.50 a m	5.59 a m
7.30 a m	7.44 a m
7.05 p m	7.20 p m
*Daily except	Sunday; all others daily.

L. E. Palmer, agent. C. & N. W. RY .-- AT HENRIETTA.

North bound.	South bound.
No.306.9.07 ai	n No.319. 8.00 am
320.2.45 pt
310.8.50 pt	n 309. 6.22 pm

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

C. A. PATTERSON day. DENTIST

Hours:—8:30 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5 p. Saturday. m. Office over Exchange Bank.

C. H. MORDOFF, M. D. their parents Sunday.

Office and Residence, South Side of Main street. Office Hours:-I to 3 p. m., 6:30 to 8 p. m.

A. M. HILL, M. D.

Office over Witt & Shork's jewelry store. Hours, 6:30 to 8 p. m., 12:30 to 2 p. m. Residence on East Main street. Calls promptly attended to, day or night.

E. A. ROBINSON, M. D.

Office at residence West Monroe St.

Hours from 2 to 3 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. T. N. AUSTIN

Physician and Surgeon.

Office over F. E. Wells' Store. Office Hours:-7 to 9 a. m., 1 to visited friends here last Sunday 2:30 p. m. and 6:30 to 8 p. m. X-Ray laboratory in connection.

EVALINE LODGE man. No. 344.

Meets second and fourth Tuesdays of each month in last Sunday. I. O. O. F. hall.

John Riddle, Prefect Fannie M. Heed Sec.

Herbert Notes

F. A. Reed shipped a car load of hogs Monday night.

Fred Lane moves on Thursday to the Mc Master farm north of Belvidere.

Miss Bessie Berger of Chicago attended the Reed-Mayberry wedding on Wednesday.

Miss Laura Brainard has been on the sick list the past few days, but is much better at present.

Miss Ruth Hill has returned from her home in Auburn, Nebr., where she has been visiting her callers at Genoa Thursday.

Mr. Waite, who has had charge of the station during the absence of Mr. Robinson, has returned to Union Grove.

Geo. Wait shipped a car load of horses Tuesday. He goes immediately to southern Wisconsin, after another load.

Robinson, and family have re- Lebanon friends, returned to her turned from a two months' vaca- home in Hampshire Monday. tion. We are all glad to have them return.

fined to the house for some time Misses Adgate, Porter, Huck, with rheumatism. He is looking after the interest of the pickle factory since his return.

Wade Hatch won the guitar and John Sheahan the chair at Sheley's. They were given to those who had purchased the 24. 1903, one fare for the round most goods by February 14.

Miss Hazel Mayberry and Mr. Earl Reed were married at the home of the bride, Wednesday, of fifty cents extra. For further February 18. Among the gifts were a number of checks, including one from Hon. George Reed, the groom's grandfather, of $100. The bride and groom are both highly respected in this community and have a large circle of friends who wish them much

Colvin Park

Chas. Cole was a Kingston visitor Friday

Miss Mary Crosby returned home Thursday.

Mrs. John Babbler was a Genoa shopper Thursday.

John Kæneke was a Freeport passenger Thursday.

church in Genoa Sunday.

Belvidere shoppers Friday. Ed, Lettow and family attended church at Genoa Sunday.

Arthur Sherman of Belvidere

The entertainment at the school house in district No. 12 has been postponed until March 6.

Mrs. Jefferson Colvin is dangerously ill with pneumonia. A trained nurse is in attendance.

Charter Grove

one day last week.

Amy Jinks visited friends here a few days last week.

Edmund Holmes drove to Kingston last Sunday

John Haines drove to Hampshire one day last week.

Howard King was shopping in Genoa last Friday evening.

Mesdames Jones and Babbler

Mrs. Addie Naker was shopping in Sycamore last Saturday. Will Whitacre, night operator here, has a day position at Cole- One way, 35c; round trip, 5oc.

Jas. Kiernan of Genoa was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Naker and son were shopping in Sycamore

James Whitacre has sold his tore here to Mr. Fisher of Elgin. The deal was made last Saturday.

Vern Haines, who has been working in the wire factory at Sycamore, has returned home on account of sickness.

New Lebanon

Several loads of grain were hauled to the elevator Monday. Joe Dumoulin had business at

Hampshire Saturday. John Awe and son, Fred, were

Miss Emma Awe spent a few days with her sister at Genoa.

A great number from here attended the sale at O'Brien's near Hampshire Monday. Arthur Krueger has fully recovered from the whooping cough and is able to be at school again. Miss Mabel Adgate, who visit-Our genial station agent, Mr. ed the past week with New Among school visitors last week were Mesdames Porter, Tom Sheahan has been con- Huck and Ellithorpe and the Dumoulin and Spansail.

Excursion.

Mardi Gras carnivals, New Orleans and Mobile, February 18 trip via Chicago Great Western railway. Tickets on sale February 17-22. Good to return February 28 or March 14 by payment particulars apply to any Chicago Great Western agent or J. P Elmer, G. P. A., Chicago, Ill.

Very Low Rates.

To points in Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, British Columbia, Utah and Colorado, in effect daily from February 15 to April 30, via Chicago Great Western railway. For full particulars apply to any Chicago Great Western agent, or J. P. Elmer, G. P. A., Chicago, Illinois.

Special rates to California and Arizona, via Chicago Great Western railway. Tickets on sale daily from February 15 to April 30. Available in tourist sleeping Fred Ollman and wife attended cars. For further particulars apply to any Chicago Great West-Walter Cole and wife were ern Agent or J. P. Elmer, G. PA., Chicago, Ill.

C. M. & St. P. R. R. Excursions

Commencing February 15 and was a guest at W. L. Cole's Sun- continuing until April 30, the C. M. & St. P. Ry will sell special Mrs. Jno. Babbler was a guest second class colonist tickets to of Mrs. H. J. Jones at Genoa last western points at very low rates. San Francisco and California Albert Ollman and family and points, $33; Portland, Tacoma ohn Ollman and family visited and Seattle, $32.40; Helena, Butte and Anaconda, $28.40; Ogden & Salt Lake City, $28.40; Billings, Montana, $23 40.

Intervening points at similar low rates; three through Pacific trains daily, pullmans, tourist sleepers, chair cars, etc.

J. M. Harvey, Agent.

John G. Smith was in Genoa GENOA AND SYCAMORE BUS LINE

Leave Genoa at 9 a. m. daily.

Leave Sycamore at 4 p. m. daily.

PARCELS DELIVERED, 10c FARE:

Renn Robinson, Prop.

Leave orders or wait at the Republican office.

Massillon Ohio Lump

West Virginia Splint

SOFT COAL

BLACK BAND, UNEQUALLED

K. Jackman & Son

Centerville Illinois Lump

Indiana Block for Engines

SUBSCRIBE for

Chicago Journal

Because by subscribing now you are able to avail yourself of the unusually favorable arrangements completed by the Republican whereby for a limited time we offer

THE CHICAGO JOURNAL, regular price $3.00 THE GENOA REPUBLICAN, regular price 1.00

> BOTH 1 YEAR FOR 2.50

Send us $2.50, either express or money order, money or personal check, and on receipt of same we will see that your name is properly entered on both lists for a year's subscription. A combination that can't be beat. Res The Chicago Journal gives all the news of the world. The Genoa Republican gives all the home news.

Dumser @ Dougherty

THE KNIFE THROWERS

(Continued from Page 2)

He thought-it seemed to him, and yet he was by no means sure—that there was a slight touch of accent in the words, such an accent as a young girl for a long time at school abroad might acquire.

Yes," he replied, "I am Craig Wyndham. I do not think, however, that I have the honor of your acquaintance," he added bluntly.

"No," she assented. "I am unknown to you, Mr. Wyndham. Will it serve as sufficient introduction for the present if I tell you that I was Mr. Pendleton's

"His friends-that is, his real friends -may count upon me as a friend, madam," was the diplomatic reply.

"Did he never mention to you one whose given name is Carmen?" she inquired next. "Never."

"Did he not tell you about the duel in Mexico?" was her next question. "He mentioned it; that is all. I never heard the particulars."

She was silent for a moment then. but suddenly she extended one hand toward him and he saw that it contained

"I will not mystify you any longer, Mr. Wyndham," she said. "There is my card. I have written upon it the Would you like to hear the particulars upon you?" of the duel to which I have already referred?"

"I should, very much indeed."

"If you will call upon me this evening, there is much that I would like to tell you. The woman who is with me now is my servant. She will be present when you call, but she does not understand a word of English. Will you come?"

"Most certainly I will come. Will you name the hour when you will expect me?" "At 8. I have a private parlor, where we can converse undisturbed. Now, one more question, Mr. Wyndham."

He bowed, and she continued: "Do you know of a gentleman who is here from Mexico, by name Escudera?"

"I hope, for the present at least, that he may not learn of my presence in the

"Nobody will learn that fact from me. I can assure you of that."

"How abrupt and how direct you are, Mr. Wyndham! Too much of both in coping with such a man as Escudera, if you will pardon me for saying it. But I did not mean my remark as you understood it.'

"Will you tell me what you did mean?"

"I will risk offending you and reply. I mean that I doubt very much if you go anywhere without the knowledge of that man, and therefore I hope that you will see to it tonight that you are not followed and therefore unconsciously betray me."

For the first time since the interview began Wyndham smiled.

'Thank you," he said. "I confess I had not thought of that possibility, but I think I may assure you that Senor Escudera will not know where I call this evening.'

"Do you speak Spanish, Mr. Wyndham?" she asked quite irrelevantly. "Yes," he replied, still in English; "I speak several languages.'

Then if you will tell my coachman to return to the hotel I will be obliged. I gave him other orders when we started. He does not understand English.

"Does he understand the city sufficiently well to drive you about?

"Quite so, thank you." Wyndham raised his hat and closed the carriage door; then, having given the necessary directions to the driver and standing motionless while the vehicle rolled away, he turned and reentered the club. As he mounted the steps he happened to raise his eyes and, peering at him from one of the windows, was the smiling and handsome face of Carlos Escudera, who nodded at him genially. Wyndham could barely repress start of apprehension lest the Mexican had seen and recognized the lady or one of her servants. It was impossible to determine whether he had or not, but he recalled with sudden emphasis the word of warning that Carmen del Puente had given him.

He walked through to the back parlor of the club and, having seated himself beside the grate, dropped the card that he still held in his hand upon the coals and watched it until it had burned to ashes. Then with the poker he destroyed the ashes, punching them down among the glowing embers. As he straightened up in his chair he heard the soft voice of Carlos Escudera behind him.

"Have pity on a poor fellow, Wyndnam," he said, "and give me the benefit of your society a little while. In my language there is no word which expresses my feelings, but in yours there is one which fits it exactly. It is homesickness. Did you ever experi-

"Often. Take a seat, Don Carlos. Have you an engagement for this evening?" "No: nothing."

"Then I have an idea—one that will cheer you up, I hope. I will ask two or three others to join us at my rooms, and we will have a game of cards." "That is kind of you, Wyndham."

"I'm not so sure of that. You may find the evening an expensive luxury." "I'll take my chances of that," plied Escudera, with a grim smile. He was notoriously expert with cards and

"Suppose we make the affair an innovation?" continued Wyndham reflectively. "It is 3 o'clock now. We will begin the game at 6 precisely and play till 6 in the morning. I can make up a party to do that, I'm sure, I'll have my man serve us something good to eat at midnight. How does that him. strike you?"

He heard the soft voice of Carlos Escudera behind him.

"As a good idea."

at 5. In the meantime I will have stand along the western side of Madion hand at that time.'

parted. Escudera left the club at once, but Wyndham loitered until he had gone and then looked up Biggs, who was in the library.

name of the hotel where I am stopping. me a very great favor. May I depend | could hope to discover him at that fa-

"Certainly, Craig. What is it?" "I have got a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to be one of us.' "It strikes me that the obligation is on the other side, old man."

"Wait. You have not heard me through. The party is to convene at 5. At 6 we are to begin a game of poker, which is to last until 6 in the morn-

that sort of thing, Craig. And you know' you cannot afford such things, and you do right in keeping out of them, but this is an extreme case. I have another engagement for tonight, one that is very important, one that I must keep and which I desire to remain a mys- tion, but the earnest, steadfast eyes, tery. Do you understand-an engagement that I do not want anybody to that shone in the face of Carmen del know about, an important business engagement; understand?"

"I begin to-yes."

trust you. At half past 7 precisely I want you to drive to my door in a four wheeler that you will have engaged at Madison square or anywhere, so that it is not here at the club. Pay the driver in advance. Tell him to hurry to my door, and tell him when a vehicle he is to start off at once without a word and drive as fast as his man. horses can go to the corner of Thirtythird street and turn the corner toward Sixth avenue. There, after he has turned the corner, he will pull up until he hears the door of his carriage slam riage will be awaiting me, and if any- annoy or astonish you.' body tries to follow me that person you think?"

"Now for the remainder of your ingreatest haste, all out of breath, and which all that. We will be at the game. Say something apologetic for interrupting us and then whisper something-anything-in my ear. I will look amazed and a triffe annoyed. I will say aloud. 'At the Waldorf?' You will reply: 'Yes, and they are going away in an hour. I knew that you wanted particularly to see them, and I have looked everywhere for you. At last it struck me that you might be here. My cab is get there in time.' That ends your part | to you, he did not speak of me." of the scheme. I will ask the others to excuse me-important business, won't keep me an hour, and all that, you and play for me till I return. You consent, and I'll do the rest. Will you do it all, Carleton? I'll never forget it." "You can count on me to the letter,

Craig." "I knew I could. Here is some money. I don't know how much, but never mind; don't let anybody see you take it. Remember, half past 7.'

"I'll be there. Will you be long away?" "I cannot tell - an hour or two or three at the most. Play my hand freely. I won't mind if you lose considerably to keep them interested. You understand?" "Yes."

"Biggs, you're a trump. I cannot tell you how you have relieved me."

After that Wyndham wrote several boys, with instructions to bring replies. They were all in by half past 4 and worried when he left the club and re- the case, but only in the effort to find paired to his own apartments, which, by the way, were the same that had formerly been occupied by Burr Pendleton. The servant who waited upon him there also looked strangely like James. However, he answered to the of beard dyed black and a perfectly when his master had company, and you have grasped the situation. whom Wyndham had referred in his he did not mention the fact that he talk with Escudera as "my man," so suspected Escudera of the crime, and there was no danger that James would he said nothing about his belief that be seen by those who might recognize an explanation of the motive could be

At 5 precisely Don Carlos arrived. and by half past 5 the expected guests were all there. There was a luncheon prepared for them, but all claimed that in anticipation of the midnight dinner they had already "stayed their stomachs," so that it went untasted.

At 6 the game began, and it proceded merrily without interruption for an hour and a half, when the doorbell rang, and an instant later Carleton Biggs rushed in.

He played his part beautifully. There was not a hitch anywhere. Within ten minutes after he entered the room Craig Wyndham left it, rushed down the one flight of stairs to the street, leaped into the carriage and was driven away. And back in the parlor of his apartment the game went on almost without interruption.

If Escudera felt annovance at this sudden departure of the host, he gave no sign of it. If there were, as Wyndham now suspected, others in his employ on the watch to dog the footsteps of the American, they succeeded only "Very well. Meet me at my rooms in following an empty carriage to its made up the party and have everybody son square. As for Craig, he changed to the second vehicle without trouble This was agreed to, and the two men and at 8 o'clock was in the presence of Senorita del Puente and her duenna, but it was in a hotel much farther up town than the Waldorf, and if there had been watchers on his track they 'Carleto," he said, "I want you to do would wait a long time before they mous hostelry.

CHAPTER VIII. SOME STARTLING REVELATIONS. RE you quite sure that you were not followed?" she inquired after their greetings were over. "Quite so, senorita," replied Wyndham, with a smile.

that he had done to obviate such a pos-"I didn't know that you went in for sibility, and she laughed heartily at his considerable excitement, "I have seen description.

Craig Wyndham had prepared to en- and so have you!" "Wait; wait! I know, of course, that counter beauty when he entered the presence of Carmen del Puente, and yet when the reality was before him he was conscious of a shock of surprise. Beauty in women had never affected him beyond the point of mere admiraperfect features and high character Puente awoke some hitherto dormant sense of appreciation within him. Before he had been ten minutes in her "Well, this is what I want you to do. presence he felt as if they were old You will understand how thoroughly I friends, as if somehow or somewhere they had known each other always. There were sincerity, truth, earnestness, high purpose and indomitable resolution in every expression of her features, in every gesture she made, and Wyndham, who rarely trusted anybody until that person had been thoroughly gentleman comes out and gets into his tried, felt that he might with complacency put implicit trust in this wo-

"We have a long interview before us, Mr. Wyndham," she said presently. "I want you to be comfortable and thoroughly at your ease, so I have taken the liberty of providing some very exshut, when, without looking around, he cellent cigars for you to smoke. You will drive on and return to his stand, need not hesitate. You know, in my wherever that may be. You will give country we are accustomed to tobacco him $5 for his trouble. He will be glad smoke. You will be more comfortable to do it, but be particular to have him if you can waste your temper on the do it just as I have said. My own car- end of a cigar when I say things to

He took her at her word without will have a good time of it. What do comment. They sat opposite each other at one end of the room, while the duenna remained at the other, industriously sewing or knitting or doing structions. Rush into my room in the drawnwork, Wyndham could not tell

"I believe our talk was to be about the duel," he began by way of opening. "I think," she replied slowly, "that the duel is only an incident among many others we are likely to discuss. I told you this afternoon that I was a former friend of Mr. Pendleton. That statement was quite true, though somewhat misleading. I was his friend, but he did not know it. It is possible that he regarded me in a contrary light. at the door. Take that, and you will It is strange, if he mentioned the duel

"He might have done so, senorita, had his life been spared a few hours more. We were to have discussed his know, and ask you to take my hand affairs the evening of his death, but he was murdered before I arrived." "Murdered!"

She leaped to her feet with flashing eyes and for support grasped the back of the chair on which she had been seated. For a moment she stood gazing, wide eyed, at Wyndham, and then slowly she reseated herself.

"Did you not know that he was murdered?" asked Wyndham calmly.

"No. I knew that he was dead, of course. Word came to me of that in a letter from this city, but there was nothing said about violence."

"The papers were full of the affair." "Ah, yes. But such news seldom reaches us in Mexico. Murdered! My God! It is awful! I should have warned him of his danger. I might have done so, but I did not regard it as necnotes, which he sent out by messenger essary. Tell me about it, Mr. Wyndham.

"There is not much that I can tell. were evidently satisfactory, for Craig | The affair is a great mystery. I believe Wyndham did not look in the least the detectives are still at work upon a man whom I know to be innocent." "Tell me about it," she repeated.

"Tell me all you know about it." She uttered the words in the tone of one who has the right to know, and Wyndham, with sudden confidence name of Thomas, only that the smooth | that was inexplicable to himself, comface was covered by a heavy growth plied. He related in detail everything that occurred from the moment when made wig of the same hue. Add to he first met Pendleton after his return that the fact that he rarely appeared from Mexico until the discovery of the body and the sending away of old James in order that he might be sus-He was not, however, the person to pected. Two things only he omittedfound in the secret matter connected with Pendleton's visit to Mexico. Nor did he refer to that brief instant when he stood before the dead body of his friend and glanced back toward the with you in"open door as if to measure the distance. He had thought then that the weapon was thrown at its victim from the doorway, but he had never mentioned that idea to anybody. Even now he remained silent concerning it.

She heard him through to the end without uttering a word in reply, but when he had finished she said very quietly:

"Describe to me again the room where you found him; or, better-have you a pencil?-draw me a diagram of and earnestly. Presently she asked: "Is there nothing between this point"-she placed the point of the pencil on the spot which he had indicated as the position of the chair-"and this?" She touched the place marked doorway. "I mean by that, is there no chandelier or table with a tall object upon it directly on a line drawn from here to here?" And she indicated the two points again. "Nothing whatever - not even chair," he replied. Carmen rose from her chair and crossed the floor twice. Then she returned and resumed her seat.

"Mr. Wyndham," she said slowly and impressively, "did you ever hear that a favorite pastime among Mexicans is knife throwing?" "Yes."

"How far is it from the door to the chair where you found him?"

"About twenty feet." "My friend-you will permit me to so regard you-the knife or dagger or whatever it was that took the life of Burr Pendleton was thrown from the doorway, and he did not even see the Then in a few words he related all arm that hurled it. But, Mr. Wyndham," and she leaped to her feet in that arm and that hand many times,

> "Possibly," replied Wyndham, unmoved.

"You know, then? You know?" she "No, senorita, I do not know; I only suspect. But I mean to know some "Ah, but I know now. I do not suspect-I know." "Well?"

Carmen buried her face in her hands, but she did not weep. She was thinking.

"I can see it all," she said finally 'He pretended to have the rooms, but he did not do so. He remained. He watched his opportunity. When it came, he stepped to the door, pushed it softly open, wide enough for his purpose, and then he threw the knife and walked quietly out of the house. Yes, I can see it. I know it is so.'

"Of whom are you speaking, senorita ?" "I am speaking of Carlos Escudera, my own cousin." "Good God!" exclaimed Wyndham.

"What? Did you not suspect him?" "Yes, but"-"But it shocks you to hear that he is related to me?

"Yes. I think that is what startled me.' "I thank you for that thought, Mr.

She leaped to her feet with flushing eyes. intended it should or more than you thought when you uttered it. mother was a Romero. Escudera's mother was her sister. His name is, in Spanish, Escudera y Romero. My name is Del Puente y Romero. Do you understand?"

"Yes. Who, then, is the Romero with whom Burr fought the duel?"

"Ah! We have not arrived at that point vet. I will explain it all to you when we do, but first let us finish with this one. Does Escudera know that you suspect him?"

"I don't know; I don't think so. Pardon me if I insist upon returning to the name of the duelist. Tell me, is Escudera related to him?"

"They are cousins also." "And is Captain Romero also a cousin of yours?" "I do not like to admit that, Mr. Wyndham. Please remember that I have not done so. You will think all my relatives are murderers.'

"Pardon me. I am a brute. I am"-"You are the living friend of the man who was foully murdered. I am the cousin of the brute who murdered But I am even more than that, Mr. Wyndham; more than that even to Carlos Escudera, for I am his affianced wife." It was Wyndham's turn to leap to his feet, more agitated than he remembered ever to have been before. His heavy brows drew down in an ugly scowl over his eyes, half shading them, and his with indomitable resolve. But the exutter contempt.

brought me here to induce me to spare from the electric chair the murderer whom you would marry, whose wife here at the bidding of Escudera, to was dead. I would have come at once worm out of me for his sake all I know. You would make me an accomplice interview for all that we have to talk

She held up one hand, and he paused. There was no anger in her face. He to give careful thought to what there saw with amazement that there were is to do. Ah, Craig"-she uttered the tears in her eyes, and he ground his teeth in renewed rage when he discovered that she was smiling through them.

"You forget that it was I who denounced him, not you. You did not permit me to finish what I was saving,' she said. "I am the affianced wife of Carlos Escudera, but I hate him-oh, how I hate him! As only a woman of He did so, and she studied it long Pendleton. For that, woman though I am, there is no torture to which I would not willingly consign him. He killed Burr Pendleton! He killed my"-

She broke down and wept then with sobs that shook her as a raging storm troubles the sea, sinking upon the chair again and burying her face in her hands.

Craig watched her silently. He was wise enough to know that it was best to permit the storm to pass without interruption. He felt that a great revelation had fallen upon him like a flood of light. A great pity for her filled his heart. He knew how engagements are entered into in Spanish countries and that the woman is never consulted regarding the choice that is made for her, and he knew-he thought he knewthat this woman had loved Burr.

That of itself was sufficient in his heart to render her and her wishes dear to him. He asked himself in that moment of waiting, "If I, a man, loved Eurr Pendleton so dearly, how utterly must she, a woman, have loved him?" When her sobs ceased, he was standing beside her, and he touched her gently upon her shoulder. He forgot his own harsh words, forgot that he had uttered them, for he knew, in the other and greater sorrow, she had not heeded them.

"Was he so dear to you, senorita?" he asked. "Did you love Burr like of his friend good night and was drivthat?"

his eyes. Then she rose and stood be- in the corridors. Then he had himself side him. "Yes," she said, "I loved him. I think

I would have worshiped him had he and the party were just leaving the lived. He was all that I had left to card table to devour the ample spread love, but he died without knowing it- that had been prepared for them by without knowing me." "Without knowing you?" repeated

Craig. "I do not understand." She placed one delicate hand on either of his shoulders and looked steadily into his eyes with an expression garding the matter. that Craig Wyndham never forgot.

"You were his friend, and you will be my friend," she said. "Mr. Wyndham, Burr Pendleton's father was my father. He was my brother. I was his sister, and he is dead and never knew it. Oh, if I had only told him all that can is the biggest loser, but I think it night! But I did not dare-I did not dare. You will believe me? You will in the game. Half the time he didn't not doubt me? He was my brothermy brother! And I was so proud of him! I loved him-I loved him!"

In her great serrow she forgot all else. She remembered only that she was in the presence of the man who had been her brother's friend and who would be her friend, and she laid her head against his stalwart shoulder and wept anew.

CHAPTER IX.

A SERPENT WITH ITS FANGS DRAWN. A THEN Carmen had recovered and the two were seated again, both silently thinking, it occurred to Craig to glance in the direction of the duenna. Apparently she had not moved or glanced in their direction, for she was still placidly engaged upon that indescribable work.

It was Craig who broke the silence. "Miss Pendleton," he began, and she looked up in amazement. "That is your true name," he continued, "and I think I should so address you," he added.

"Not if you are to be the friend I need, as you will know after you have heard all that I have to tell you," she said demurely.

"What then?" he asked.

"Carmen," she replied simply. "So be it," he said gravely. "I will address you by your given name, and in all things I will try to be to you what Burr would have been had he lived. But that is not what I intended to say. There is something concerning the death of Burr that you should know. Perhaps you have heard that he left his fortune to me." "No," she replied, "I had not heard

"He did, absolutely, as people suppose, but that is not true. It was left to me-that is, the bulk of it was left to me in trust for you." "In—trust—for—me?"

"Yes."

"But he did not know"-

"He suspected. There was a document left to me with his will. That we will read over together later. He only believed that there might be a half brother or sister somewhere in the world, probably in Mexico, and he directed me to search.'

She raised one hand and stopped him. "Mr. Wyndham"- she began, and he interrupted ber.

"You have forgotten something, Carmen." he said. "What is it?"

"My given name." "Oh, well, I will finish what I was about to say. I have a reason, a very strong reason, which you will understand after we have talked about the square jaws set themselves together duel, why I do not want one word said | Mount St. Vincent to make arrangeabout Burr's property yet. The time is | ments for that luncheon, and with all pression lasted only an instant. Then not at hand until we have discussed the his straightforwardness he would have his face cleared into a settled look of duel, and I cannot go into that tonight. laughed to scorn any implication that I inherited my mother's property and he had done it for any other reason "So," he said, "you brought me here am what you call rich. Still it was than the exercise; but all the while as to trap me with your beauty. You that very subject that brought me to be walked there were bright-no, bril-New York.

'What subject?" "Burr's estate. You must remember of the woman to whom he intended to you would become. You brought me that I did not know that my brother be a brother! was murdered. I only knew that he had I known. Let us wait for another over. I am dazed tonight, I think. I must have time to compose myself and *Will you come to me tomorrow at noon?" she asked.

name quite naturally - "you do not know half the story yet. There is so much more. Will you come to me tomorrow at noon?" she asked. "Yes.'

"I will have breakfast served here in this little parlor at that hour, and you will share it with me."

"I offer an amendment, Carmen, I will call here with a carriage at noon. You and I and the stone image at the other end of the room will drive out together and have luncheon at a place I know."

She assented without question, and neither could foresee what grave complications this arrangement was destined to bring about.

A moment later Craig bade the sister en to the Waldorf, where for ten min-She raised her face and looked into utes he showed himself conspicuously driven directly to his own apartments.

> Wyndham's orders. Of course they chaffed him about his absence. Men always do that sort of

It was midnight when he entered, cudera alone had nothing to say re-As soon as there was an opportunity Carleton Biggs drew Wyndham aside thing, and Wyndham expected it. Es-and whispered: "Awfully sorry, old man. I played as recklessly as I could, but I won like a house afire for all that. The Mexiis because he seemed to have no heart seem to know what he held, and almost always he had to be told when to come in. Funny thing, that. I have been told that he is an expert with cards."

"It's all right, Carleton," replied Craig. "I am glad you won. The winnings are yours, you know; the losses would have been mine. Not a word. You have done me a greater service than you know. I think I know why Escudera did not pay much attention to the game, but it does not matter."

The game was brought to a close according to the arrangement, at 6 o'clock in the morni departing Escudera, who had partially retrieved his losses of the earlier part of the game, loitered behind the others and was the last to bid his host goodby. Wyndham guessed that he had something to say, but he was hardly prepared for what came. "I should not think you would enjoy living in these rooms," he said. "Why not?" asked Wyndham.

"Oh, nothing; only there is something suggestive of the uncanny about a place where a man has been murder-

"Not when that man was your best and dearest friend, senor. On the contrary, these rooms keep me reminded of something that I have to do.'

"What is that?" "Bring the murderer to justice." The Mexican shrugged his shoulders.

"I will confess," he said, "that I have felt rather grewsome here. I have not been here before since that night. You know I belong to a superstitious race. Good morning." "Now, what the devil was he driving at?" muttered Wyndham after Escuwonder what it was that made him nervous. Was it because he was in the rooms where he had killed a man or was it because he was worried over my absence? Whatever it was, his time

dera was gone. "He had something else to say, but he didn't dare say it. I for uncertainty is short. He at least will soon know the worst." Instead of taking a few hours of rest, as most men under the circumstances would have done, Craig Wyndham plunged into a cold bath, after which old James gave him a thorough "rub dowu." Then, although it was still so early that he knew none of his acquaintances would be abroad, he went out on the street and took a sharp walk of three miles or more. "If a man avoids stimulants, takes brisk exercise and cold water baths, he can do without sleep for seventy-two hours," he said to a park policeman to whom he talked while he rested from his brisk peregrination.

He had walked all the way out to liant-eyes leading him on, the eyes of the sister of his dead friend, the eyes

ITO BE CONTINUED.

About Folks Know

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to People Coming and Going in and About Genoa D Local Notes

Coal at K. Jackman & Son's. Bert Millard was here from Elgin Sunday.

John Awe of New Lebanon was man & Son's. in town Saturday.

Wm. Heed was a visitor in here Saturday. Sycamore Sunday.

Jos. Lanan of Mayfield was here Saturday on business.

L. N. Jackman of Elgin spent Sunday here with relatives.

Jas. Hutchinson made a busi- range. K. Jackman & Son. ness trip to Chicago Saturday.

Jas. J. Hammond spent Sunday with his parents at Hampshire.

Geo. Brown of Sycamore spent Sunday here a guest of his sisters. Fred Duval was at New daughter, Mrs. William Cooper. Lebanon Tuesday collecting tax-

Miss Mae Burroughs spent

John Riddle and family spent Sunday with relatives in Kirk- Hadsall were in Chicago last residing in the village on Sycaland.

is visiting his mother, Mrs. L. E. has been the guest of Mrs. Carrie here Wednesday on his regular Dean.

DeKalb visited in Genoa over son have purchased new type-Sunday.

Sunday.

Mrs. M. W. Ferslew was here from Sycamore Monday calling W. H. Laidley & company, had on friends.

Miss Emma Swanson will leave to visit her sister for several boy Wednesday morning.

den of Sycamore were here last Brown several days last week. Sunday guests at the home of K. Jackman.

Flora and Cora Buck and Tivoli Son. Taylor were visitors in Chicago the first of the week.

household goods into the J. B. man Valley, February 27. Smith home Monday business call Wednesday.

are well acquainted here. Mr. day. of Elgin, and the firm is meeting B. Clefford, will return to her with great success. The wonder- home in LaFayette, Indiana, this ful electrical equipment of the week. D. C. Cook Publishing company's Lost-Monday forenoon, beplant at Elgin is regarded as a tween Genoa and Sycamore, a model, and shows what Mr. Law- new sable fox boa. Finder return son's firm can do. Mr. Lawson's to this office and receive suitable work takes him into nearly all the reward. large cities in the Mississippi valley. Genoa people will be glad to know of his prosperity.

There is no necessity anymore will be served. for any man, woman or child to use two pairs of spectacles. Prof. Miss Bessie Berger of Chicago Madison, Chicago's expert opticand Miss Blake of Belvidere were ian, has no trouble fitting guests of Miss Libbie Browne the spectacles which are perfect to first of the week. see to read, and sew, and to also see three feet, three yards or three miles—in fact see any dis- purchased from J. W. Wylde four tance and do any kind of work; lots, one occupied by Mr. Kier-

Commercial Hotel, Genoa, March week from German Valley, New 2 to 6 inclusive. During the past Jersey, to visit Geo. Hoffman. six years, Prof. Madison has fitted They plan to settle in this locality. more than 5,000 pairs of spec- For raising calves without milk tacles in Belvidere and surround- use Blatchford's calf meal. As ing country—fully 200 in Genoa— to the practical utility of same we every pair guranteed. No one refer you to Messrs. E. H. Olmcould get a better recommenda- sted, Henry Burroughs and tion-all lenses will be changed Andrew Peterson, who have used free for five years. Examinations it quite extensively. K. Jackman free. Next visit about October. & Son.

D. S. Brown was in Sycamore Monday.

Bring your grain to K. Jack-

Phil Arbuckle called on friends

Mrs. Polly Witter has been quite ill the past week.

J. D. Taplin made his usual business trip here Friday.

HARD COAL - nut, egg and John Fish of DeKalb visited acquaintances here Saturday. Ave May was over from Kingston on business last Saturday.

Asa Powers is a guest of his Clefford & Perkins are displaying a new line of porcelain ware. Monday.

Mrs, Carrie Dumser left Tuesseveral days of last week at Kirk- day for an extended visit in the is now employed at Grajek's bareast.

John Downing and Amory

M. M. Dean of Anamosa, Iowa, Miss Alice Walters of Elgin L. Dumser.

Harry Foster and mother of Amory Hadsall and Otto Swanwriting machines.

Mrs. H. J. Jones entertained Miss Flossie Kellogg returned Mrs. John Babbler Saturday and to Chicago Monday after a short visit with her parents.

John Bryner, representing business here Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abraham of the last of the week for Gilberts, Chicago welcomed their second Miss Sadie Brown of Elgin was Fred White and Beulah Blag- a guest of Misses Lottie and Ret.

Just received another consignment of Black Band-best soft Mrs. C. C. Corson and Misses coal on earth. K. Jackman &

Invitations have been received here for the closing ball given by A. S. Yalden moved his Yalden's dancing school at Still-

Mrs. D. A. Sivers returned to Carl Huppert of Chicago, her home at Charleston after a representing the Deering Har- visit of several weeks at the home vester company, made Genoa a of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lawson of Charles Cushion of Minnesota, Elgin were here Monday visiting who was the guest of Thos. Sager old time friends. Both were last week, started in as motorman formerly Genoa residents, and on a Chicago street car line Mon-

Lawson is now engaged in Miss Hattie Watson, who has electrical work with W.S. Skinner been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A.

A "Phantom Social" will be given Friday, February 27 by Golden Star chapter, O. E. S., in The greatest blessing on earth. Slater's hall. Light refreshments

Miss Pearl Reed of Herbert,

On Tuesday, Jas. R. Kiernan all in one frame and warranted. nan's warehouse and another by a This is to catch cottage. The property is just your eye and west of the old Pacific hotel.

inform you that Lemuel Hoffman and Freeman Prof. Madison Hoffman and family and will again be at Hezekiah Ader came here last

F. O. Swan's for boiled cider.

Ole Taylor is ill with la grippe. Try our Black Band coal. K. ackman & Son.

Frank Parker was here from Kingston Friday. John Uplinger of Kingston was here Wednesday. Jas. R. Kiernan was in Hampshire last Tuesday. For your kitchen-ware, see : J. H. DANFORTH M. D. V Clefford & Perkins.

Watch for the REPUBLICAN'S monthly calendars. Indiana block coal for husking.

K. Jackman & Son.

Earl Prouty went to Hebron Friday to welcome a son. Miss M. Alice Davis went to Herbert Wednesday night.

Fred McDonald of Charter Grove was here Wednesday.

John Vosburg of Kingston was here on business Wednesday.

Gallon cans "Hamberg" apples, 25c at F. O. Swan's. Guaranteed. Jesse Geithman came home Dixon Wednesday on account of

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson were shopping in Belvidere on

Andrew Gebhardt of Milwaukee

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Low are more street. Dan Linker of Shannon was business trip. Jas. R. Kiernan and daughter, Miss Della, were visitors in Sycamore Tuesday. FOR RENT-Store on Main street; good location. Apply to C. H. Mordoff.

Call on Clefford & Perkins and see their splendid line of porcelain ware.

One seed mill for cleaning seed .... grain for sale at a bargain. K. Jackman & Son.

Mrs. Frank Brown of Belvidere spent the first of the week here with relatives.

Mrs. Nora Moon of Chicago was a recent guest at the home of her father, Martin Malana.

Livery and Feed Stable

......

Veterinary Hospital

Dr. Danforth is a graduate of McKillip's Veterinary College, Chicago Best attention given in all cases.

GENOA, ILLINOIS

Furnish You with Business Cards, Wedding Invitations, Calling Cards, Wedding Announcements, or anything in that line. Stylish, neat and inexpensive.

The Genoa Republican

THE EXCHANGE BANK

Established in 1882.

GENOA, ILLINOIS

Does a general banking business.

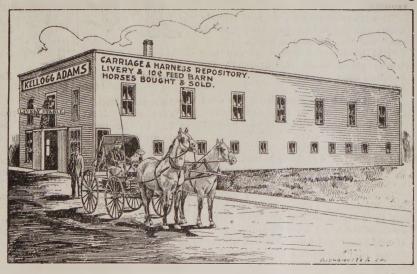

Buys and sells foreign and domestic exchanges.

Sells banker's money orders payable in New York, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco, New Orleans, Toronto, Montreal, Winnepeg, Vancouver and Mexico City.

Residence property—improved and vacant—for sale,

Can this be True?

Kellogg & Adams have just received the LARGEST Shipment of new buggies, surries, runabouts, carts, spring wagons, etc., ever seen in DeKalb County!

The second story of this mammoth barn is filled with elegant vehicles, harness, and everything for the horse.

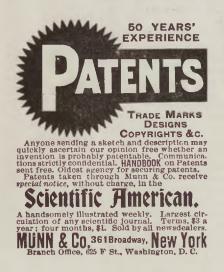

WE have bought our goods from the leading manufacturers, such as the genuine Columbus Buggy Co. of Columbus, Ohio. We also handle the celebrated STAVER Buggies of Chicago and the Brookville Buggies of Brookville, Indiana. Ask dealers elsewhere for these goods, and they will tell you they are too high priced for their trade. We know these makes are THE BEST, and are selling large numbers of these famous makes. There is nothing too good for our

If you are sure, however, that you want a low priced vehicle, don't order from a catalogue house until you see the snaps we have in low priced goods. We will trade buggies, or trade horses; we also buy and sell horses.

HARNESS SNAPS

We bought over One Thousand Dollars' worth of handmade Harness from a concern that was being closed out. We bought these goods at less than cost and are selling them accordingly. We challenge the whole country to compete with our goods and prices.

Kellogg & Adams

A MILLION YARDS at least thousands and a thousand yards of Embroidery, Lace. Appliques, Medallions,

and All Overs, will be placed

on Sale next MONDAY MORNING

For the season of 1903 fashion authorities are unanimous and emphatic in stating that these Trimmings are to be used more than ever. We are ready for the demand. Infinite care has been taken in the selection, and we now offer

VÉRVÉRVÉRVÉRVÉRVÉRVÉRVÉRVÉRVÉRVÉR

The Largest Stock We Have Ever Shown

Convinced that you need but investigate its merits to be satisfied that Styles and Prices are Right. We respectfully invite your patronage, and call attention to some attractive values offered.

Embroideries from |c a yard upwards.

Embroidered Sets (edging and insertion to match) 5c to $1.25 a yard. 400 Dozen Val. Laces at | Oc a Dozen.

3000 yards Normandy Lace (2 to 6 inch widths) | Oc a yard. 5000 yards Cotton Torchon Lace, 5c a yard.

All Overs (suitable for entire waists) 40c to $4.00 a yard.

Point de Venise Appliques, 10c to $5.00 a yard.

Will you want a Confirmation Dress? Are you going to Graduate? Will you be a June Bride? A summer Tourist? We had you in mind, and provided just the "Loveliest Trimmings" for your outfit. You know the good things go first. Come as soon as you can! We are CLOSING OUT

CHONS at 3c a yard.

one Lot of Cotton TOR- G. W. Peck - various publications wherein Sears, Roebuck & Co., offer Wheeler & Wilson sewing machines, we wish to warn the public that they are not our authorized agents and that we do not sell our machines to them nor any other catalogue house or department store.

Their advertisments are not for the purpose of promoting the sale of our machines. They are using our reputation as makers of the highest grade machines only, in order to get the names of possible buyers and persuade them to purchase one of their cheap STENCILED MACHINES, the manufacturers of which they are, evidently, ashamed to

If you want a genuine Wheeler & Wilson machine, do not waste your time writing to anyone who is unable to furnish it. The genuine Wheeler & Wilson machine, made by us and backed by our warranty, is for sale by our authorized dealers only. When you buy a Wheeler & Wilson, you get a machine that is a machine, backed by a reputation of 50 years' unparalleled success.

Wheeler & Wilson Mfg. Co., Chicago, III.

For Sale by

Cohoon & Lawyer GENOA, ILL.