SKIDOO CLUB AT ELGIN

John C. Snyder loses 45 Hogs in two days from Poisoning, on his Farm Near Sycamore

All men are capable liars—but married men have the greater opportunities.

The Elgin board of trade has been the price making factor for fancy creamery butter in this country for over thirty years.

A society lady in a nearby town made the mistake by using canvas shoe cleaner for rouge. Now her face squeaks every time she talks.

We saw a girl on the street the other day who does so much caldousing that she is forced to wear a veil to keep the paint from blistering.

A scientist says that 100 years ago folks lived on pork and doughnuts and ate mince pies every night before retiring. Well what was the result? Are they not all dead?

One of the most unique and interesting clubs ever organized in the Elgin Y. M. C. A. is the skidoo club, composed of 23 boys, meeting on the 23rd of each month at 23 minutes past 7.

According to reports in DeKalb papers S. M. Hunt of DeKalb, who retired recently from his connection with the Sycamore Foundry company, and A. N. Wheeler, present superintendent of the same concern, will start a similar institution in DeKalb.

An Irishman once answered a telephone. He was unfamiliar with the instrument and got in some of his accidental wit. "Hello," said he. "Hello," came the answer. "Is this 87425?" continued the operator. "Begorra," ejaculated Pat, "do ye be taiken me for a box cair."

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wylde and Mr. and Mrs. Will Wylde and children left Belvidere last week for Los Angeles, California, where they will spend the winter and may locate permanently. Two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wylde are already living there.

Another public school has discarded modern fads. Woodstock's educational board recently threw out, body and soul, the spiral system of teaching arithmetic and the vertical system of penmanship and introduced the Smith series of mathematics and the good old slant writing.

The largest settlement secured in payment of a death through negligence of a railroad company in the state of Illinois was paid the other day to Mrs. Catherine McCann of LaSalle, administratrix of the estate of her son, Phillip McCann, deceased, when the Northwestern road paid over to her $6,000.

Sycamore Republican:—Of 45 hogs belonging to John C. Snyder on the Cuttleton farm, north of town, all but four died in two days. Those familiar with the symptoms, say they were not those of hog cholera. The animals appeared to be well one day, and were dead the next. There is suspicion that they were poisoned.

The most crying need of the country just now, is men. The newspapers report that 25,000 more men are needed in the corn-fields of Illinois, to finish taking care of the corn. What is true of Illinois, is equally true of Iowa and Nebraska and the probabilities appear that the women of these states will have to come to the rescue and go out in the fields to shuck the corn.

BURNED TO DEATH

Wife of Lutheran Minister at Hinckley is Victim of Awful Accident

Mrs. Jacob Rathman, wife of Rev. Rathman, pastor of a German Evangelical Lutheran church at Hinckley, was burned to death at her home Wednesday evening, Oct. 31, at 10 o'clock by the overturning of a lamp which she had placed on the floor.

In great agony the woman cried for help, and although every aid was rendered that medical assistance and solicitous neighbors could furnish, she died after several hours of intense suffering.

The woman went upstairs to look for an article in one of the second floor rooms, and while looking around, placed the lamp on the floor. A swishing of her skirt overturned the lamp, and when the glass fell off the blaze caught her skirt and soon enveloped her in flame.

Before her husband could come to her aid from the main floor of the house, she had been badly burned, so that even her facial features were almost unrecognizable.

Death resulted at one o'clock. She was 38 years of age, and leaves, beside her husband, five small children, the youngest of which is but five months old.

BURLINGTON GIRLS

Engage in a Frolic Which May Result to their Sorrow

As a St. Paul freight pulled into the yards at Freeport Monday night the policeman at the station noticed something under one of the cars which looked like skirts.

Investigation proved that it was a young woman who claimed Burlington as her home but who refused to give her name. She said she had a pal and the latter soon appeared from somewhere.

Both admitted they were beating their way, riding the bumpers under the cars just like men and after some parley with the policeman were ordered to make an immediate getaway to avoid arrest. They started Rockfordward afoot.

A New One

Dr. James A. Egan secretary of the state board of health says: "You may quote me as saying emphatically that the burning of leaves at night or in the evening should be stopped by ordinance and the ordinance should be enforced to the letter. The smoke from burning leaves will not give any one diphtheria or other throat diseases, but the smoke is irritating to the throat and renders the organ much more susceptible to the lodgement of the germs of these diseases. The leaves may be burned in the day time just as well. The sun is then out and the air is clearer and the smoke is dissipated without any danger and with greatly diminished annoyance."

At night the air is foggy and the smoke remains near the ground and penetrates every sleeping room and makes life miserable in general.

"Old Hayseed" Great

Morris & Freil presented "Old Hayseed" at the opera house last Thursday evening to a fair sized audience. The piece was worthy a full house. The play itself was not only brim full of life and interesting situations, but the characters were the best that have appeared in Genoa in many a day. Crawford & Stott are deserving of congratulations and better support in their efforts to secure such attractions.

"Our Leader," galvanized iron pail, only 25 cents, worth double, at Perkins & Rosenfeld's,

DO YOU WANT THIS FACTORY?

The members of the syndicate and others in sympathy with the movement are well pleased with the sale of lots thus far. At this time about thirty have been placed, with good promises for the disposition of more. Now is the time for all to push. Let every person who has signed for a lot get someone else to take one. Thirty men working to the one end of disposing of these lots will close up the deal in one day, whereas if it is left to two or three they must necessarily spend much valuable time. Foundations should be under way this weather. Let everybody push the lots. It can be done with a clear conscience, for the lots are worth all that is asked for them.

There are no vacant houses in Genoa for rent today. This condition has been true about all summer and fall. Many persons moving into town have found homes after considerable looking around. This is not a bad sign; on the other hand it speaks well for our town.

People who live here are well satisfied and well to do in the main. Quite a few persons have moved into town this fall and summer and more farmers and others will each year hereafter move into Genoa rather than to Sycamore and elsewhere as our conveniences and public utilities grow and increase.

There are good prospects for Genoa to grow considerably this coming year. A large amount of building is planned and the town is not only increasing in size but improving as well. When the Thompson factory is in operation next spring there will be a stronger demand for houses and in view of this there will be quite a number of residences go up in the west part of town and especially in the beautiful new Oak Park addition. It is encouraging to the business men who have supported this factory movement to know that the name Oak Park meets with general approval. It is quite descriptive of this addition.

Men about town well informed as to the growth of Genoa say that no better location for the Thompson piano factory could have been selected, with the permanent interests of the town in view.

It is rather well assured that the Illinois Central will put a switch in, coming east from the switch tower or water tank to the Thompson plant. The Illinois Central people are impressed with the spirit of progress of Genoa and recognize that this is not the only factory which is going to locate in Genoa and therefore are willing to do their part. They also recognize that factories in the future are going to locate in the neighborhood of the Thompson plant, a little to the west where some land is reserved by the Business Men's Association for factory sites.

All of this points to the growth of the addition and permanent value of the Oak Park lots now being offered at prices not one cent above their actual value, the moment they are all sold, for that moment the great piano plant is assured. Some of these lots will be sold at a profit over what is now paid for them, before July next.

John Lembke said a day or two ago that he felt that in putting a few hundred dollars into these lots he was not only helping the town directly but that he was making an investment that is safe and sound and one that would yield him a profit before long.

James J. Hammond said that he is confident that anyone who buys a lot in Oak Park will not regret it.

The business men who have projected this factory movement have been careful to plan to give every lot purchaser his money's worth. No one desires to see the Eureka lot addition repeated. This folly need never have occurred if the buyers of lots had consulted business men about town. The Eureka factory had already been located and there was no occasion to sell lots in this addition except to make some profit for outsiders. If Eureka lots had been built on or if the town had naturally been inclined to grow in that direction the value of these lots would have increased each year. Lots in other parts of town have increased in value each year.

Lots on Genoa street three years ago sold at from $90 to $115 and $125. The same lots have been resold, some of them and built on this last spring for $500 a lot and they were not corner lots either.

Lots in Oak Park addition will each year increase in value because the demand will increase for property in that section of town not alone on account of the Thompson factory but because other factories in the future will locate there. When you come to think of it Genoa is no slow town. There has been considerable building this past summer and fall. Every building contractor in town has had as much as he could do all year. And building as long as houses are required is the best evidence in the world of the permanent and profitable growth of a town.

Information from headquarters of the DeKalb-Sycamore inter-urban electric road indicates that this road will be completed north from Sycamore through Genoa within a year. The company has men working on the right of way and there are other evidences that the road is going to be built. The main reason why the road will be built is because it will be a paying one. The road will pass right in front of the Oak

KILLED WHEN HUNTING

Batavia Boy Meets Death by Accidental Discharge of Shot Gun

While hunting rabbits near N. Aurora Henry Benson, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Benson of Batavia, was shot and killed shortly before noon Sunday. The Benson boy in company with Albert Anderson and Lyall Reynolds started to cross a farm in search of game but on being told by a farmer that there were no rabbits in that vicinity, the lads mounted a gate to decide whether to proceed farther. With the intention of discharging his gun preparatory to going home young Benson endeavored to cock it but the trigger refused to work and the boys jumped to the ground. In the leap from the gate the gun caught in Benson's clothing, discharging the shell in his face. His companions summoned his father who was on the scene in ten minutes and found him still gasping for breath. The top of his head had been blown off. He was taken to his home in Batavia where the inquest was held Monday.—Elgin Press.

ALFRED CORSON DEAD

Popular Marengo Citizen Passes Away at Chicago Hospital

Alfred Corson of Marengo, well known thruout this section, passed away Tuesday morning in the Presbyterian hospital, Chicago, after having submitted to three operations.

Mr. Corson was in business in Marengo for many years and was a man honored by all. He had a great number of relatives in this vicinity, being a brother of Mrs. T. L. Kitchen, Mrs. Kathryn Green, Mrs. Lovina Bennett of California and the late Susan Mackey.

The funeral took place a Ney this (Thursday) forenoon.

WORLD'S STAR KNITTING CO.

Manufacturers of "World's Star" Hosiery, the Kind that Wears

Mrs. Nettie Maitland has been appointed agent for the sale of World's Star Hosiery. She will call upon the people to inspect her samples, which so far have been highly praised. Persons needing anything in the hosiery line before she reaches them will find her at her home on Second street from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. and from 5 to 9 p. m. Call before buying elsewhere.

The Corn Shredder

S. T. Heath had his left hand caught and crushed Saturday afternoon in a corn-shredder at the farm of Fred Durley, three miles south of Capron.

Mr. Heath, who lives in Capron, has run a corn-shredder for a number of years in that section. When his hand was caught in the rollers he shouted to the engineer and by main force prevented the arm from being drawn into the machine. The engine was instantly reversed and the hand released.

The victim of the accident insisted on being taken in a buggy to Capron, where Dr. Hutchinson, assisted by Drs. Pestal and Mariet, amputated the hand at the wrist joint.

Piano Factory for Genoa

The enterprising citizens of Genoa have secured the location in their city of the Thompson Piano company, a Chicago concern, which will give employment to about fifty skilled laborers. The concern is rated as first class financially and will prove a valuable addition to that thriving city. A bonus of $12,500 was given to secure the factory.—Marengo Republican.

THEY VOTE STRAIGHT

ENOUGH REPUBLICANS STAND BY TICKET TO DO WORK

HENDERSON DEFEATS OLSON

Altho Many Republicans Break from the Ranks and Support the Later Sycamore Bolts

The great majority of those republicans in Genoa who did turn out and vote Tuesday stood by the regular primary nominees. Out of 176 votes cast (less than one-third the regular vote) there were 103 straight republican tickets, five democratic, twelve prohibition and two socialist. Olson, the democratic candidate for county clerk, from Kirkland, received a total of 34 votes and Henderson 120. All the other democratic candidate for county offices received just seven votes each.

The result of the vote in Genoa for representative was as follows: Sheldon, rep, 192; Tindall, rep, 195; Gehant, dem, 19; Ahrens, pro, 100 1/2.

The latest returns from the several precincts of the county show that Henderson defeated Olson for county clerk about two to one. Olson, the democratic candidate, carried Sycamore, Pierce, Franklin and Somonauk and one precinct in DeKalb. Outside of this one precinct Henderson was the winner by five to one in the city of DeKalb.

The result in Sycamore does not signify that the republicans in that city have cast their lot with the democratic party. It means that republicans "bolted" or in other words kicked over the traces. There were bolting republicans in other towns as well, even Genoa furnishing a small quota. The reason given by most of the Genoa Republicans for voting for Olson was that they knew him to be a good man, and knew nothing about Henderson. 'Tis said that was not the motive in Sycamore however. DeKalb was friendly to Henderson.

The entire ticket which has been elected is good and one which will be a credit to the republican party, the state and county. Just cast your eye down the following column of officers elect and pick out the flaws. They look good to us.

State treasurer, John F. Smulski. Public instruction, Francis G. Blair.

Representative in Congress 12th district, Chas. E. Fuller.

Members general assembly, 35th district, Harvey L. Sheldon, rep; Geo. M. Tindall, rep; Henry F. Gehant, dem.

State Senator, 35th district, Chas. H. Hughes.

County Judge, W. L. Pond. County Clerk, S. M. Henderson. Sheriff, Daniel Hohm.

County treasurer, L. C. Shaffer. County superintendent of schools, W. W. Coultas.

No More "Squeezing"

The "strangle hold" position in dancing is a thing of the past. Hereafter all dancers must follow the new rules. The man must hold his partner somewhere within hailing distance, but not so near as to be accused of the unpardonable offense of "squeezing." His right hand must rest lightly on the center of his partner's back, while her arm rests on his, and with left hand his arm bent loosely at the elbow and held a little below the hip, he must loosely clasp her right hand. Such at least is the recent decision of the American Society of Professors of Dancing.

LATE RETURNS OF ELECTION RESULTS

HUGHES DEFEATS HEARST IN NEW YORK STATE.

Republican Candidate Is Victorious, but Plurality of 60,000 Is Considered Small—Democrats Gain Congressmen in Illinois—Gov. Davidson of Wisconsin Wins—Other States.

Exercise of the Franchise.
Edward L. Thorndyke, writing on education, especially high school education, in the Bookman, says a knowledge of the duties and privileges of the exercise of the franchise ought to be one of the cardinal teachings of our high school.
"The exercise of the franchise," he tells us, "is no longer chiefly a matter of honesty and good-will and wisdom in choosing between two clear lines of party policy or between two sets of officials. It is a matter of more or less expert knowledge.
"A future voter ought to know that for a city to give a traction company the use of its streets is identical with giving a neighbor the use of part of your house, wise or unwise, according to who the neighbor is and what he pays you; he ought to know that laws can do more against consumption than medicine can; he ought to believe that one man's gain need not be others' loss, as surely as he believes that two and two are not five; he ought to understand as clearly as he understands addition that a man's contribution to the world is to be measured by the number and worth of the wants he satisfies, and that a man's cost to the world is to be measured by the deprivations he causes. Is it not silly to let the youth of the land spend twelve years in school and at its close be unable, even though he wishes, to protect common property as well as his own, ignorant of the simplest rudiments of public hygiene, possessed by the fallacy that what others have been taken from him, and burdened with the superstition that a man gives to the world what he spends in it and takes from it the wealth he acquires. Is it not a calamity that although eight out of ten of our high school graduates will live in cities or city suburbs, there is apparently in no high school a course on municipal problems?"

Higher Education.
In his Chancellor's Address at the fourth centenary of Aberdeen University, Lord Strathcona compared higher education in Great Britain with that in Germany and the United States. While praising Aberdeen, he held that the Old World has much to learn from the New. He was convinced that on this side of the Atlantic our institutions of learning adapt themselves more easily and readily to the needs of their constituencies. "They found out long ago that law and medicine and theology are not the only legitimate points of academic study; and in their faculties of applied science they are training their young men to do work that is most loudly called for. They have never accepted the view that universities must necessarily be institutions cloistered and apart from the main current of public life and service." In this country there is, indeed, little danger that the college-bred man may sacrifice practical utility to remote ideals. But, as Mr. A. C. Benson lately remarked in his paper on "The Uselessness of Knowledge," the pursuit of knowledge as an end is not inconsistent with practical activity. This is easily to be seen in Germany, which, with her high university standards, has combined advanced and successful methods in industry and commerce. Give a youth a trained mind, and then, if he chooses to be "practical," he can be more intensely so than any of your rule-of-thumb men.

The Velocity of Light.
Light moves with the amazing velocity of 185,000 miles a second, a speed a million times as great as that of a rifle bullet. It would make the circuit of the earth's circumference, at the equator, seven times in one beat of the pendulum. For a long time the light was thought to be instantaneous, but it is now known to have a measurable velocity. The discovery was first made by means of the eclipses of Jupiter's satellites. Jupiter, like the earth, casts a shadow, and when his moons pass through it, they are eclipsed, just as our moon is eclipsed when passing through the earth's shadow. Jupiter's shadow far surpasses in magnitude that of the earth. His moon revolves around him more rapidly than our moon revolves around the earth, and their orbits are nearly in the plane of the planet's orb. Consequently, says the Hesperian, they all, with the exception of the fourth and most distant satellite, pass through the planet's shadow and are eclipsed at every revolution.

A Danish estate has been purchased by the dowager empress of Russia. Evidently she recognizes the necessity of providing herself with a place in which she may retire after she and Pobiedonosteff find it impossible to go on running things in Russia.

A football player was killed in Michigan the other day, which shows that the new rules are not nearly so unsatisfactory as people supposed they were.

Election returns show that the next congress will be Republican in both branches. The political complexion of the senate shows a Republican gain of one in Colorado. There are two or three close legislative contests, but they are chiefly between individuals, and the senate will stand nearly as at present, with 58 Republicans and 32 Democrats, leaving a Republican majority of 26. The returns indicate a Republican membership in the house of representatives of about 227, which is a majority of 63 over the Democrats.

HEARST LOSES IN NEW YORK.

Charles Evans Hughes, Republican Candidate, Elected Governor.

New York.—The state of New York elected Charles E. Hughes, Republican, its governor by the substantial plurality of 60,000.
The remainder of the Republican ticket also seems to be elected. The feature of the voting was the big poll for Mr. Hearst in the large cities and in the manufacturing towns.
Mr. Hughes was elected by Democratic votes. Mr. Hearst made gains in almost every Republican stronghold, and lost in the rock-ribbed Democratic counties. While he received a normal Democratic plurality in Greater New York it was not made up entirely of Democratic votes, and it is plain that but for the scratching of Hearst by thousands of Democrats in this city he would have been elected.
Tammany elected its entire judicial senate and assembly tickets.

MICHIGAN 100,000 REPUBLICAN

Gov. Warner Re-elected by a Large Plurality.

Detroit.—Gov. Fred M. Warner and the entire Republican state ticket are re-elected by what will probably be the largest plurality ever given a state ticket in Michigan. Warner's plurality, based on present returns, will exceed 100,000, with the rest of the ticket slightly lower.

The Republicans also elect a solid delegation to congress, with hardly a semblance of a contest. In fact, in four of the congressional districts the Democrats did not take the trouble to nominate a candidate.
The state legislature is almost solidly Republican, with the possible exception of two or three men. This legislature the coming winter will choose a United States senator to succeed Russell A. Alger. Three prominent candidates, William T. McMillan, of Detroit; Congressman William Alden Smith, of Grand Rapids, and Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, will claim a majority of the legislature chosen are favorable to them. Congressman Townsend is also a candidate for Senator Alger's place.

Result in Iowa Doubtful.
Des Moines.—The Democrats claim the election of Claude R. Porter, their candidate for governor.
Returns received from 245 precincts, covering about one-eighth of the state, gave Cummins 30,123; Porter, 25,850. The same precincts in 1903 gave Cummins 33,581, Sullivan 19,538. This Summer Earnings of Students.

The Columbia university committee of students reports that out of 581 who applied for positions during the recent summer vacation, 313 reported earnings aggregating $140,240. Most of the men received positions as tutors, but some worked as secretaries, clerks and salesmen. Their earnings averaged $113.43. The law students averaged $334.59, and the medical students $202.19. The women of Barnard were employed as clerks, stenographers, companions and governesses.

shows a loss of 3,458 for Cummins and a gain of 6,312 for Porter.
The Republicans, while admitting that the result will be close, have not abandoned hope that Gov. Cummins has been re-elected.

ILLINOIS CASTS SMALL VOTE.

Democrats Regain Some Congressional Districts.

Chicago.—The Illinois Republican state ticket has been elected with a plurality of 120,000 for John F. Smulski. Cook county furnishing 50,000.
All the Republican state candidates have been successful, Smulski running a little behind Francis G. Blair for superintendent of instruction, who has a plurality of 130,000, according to first returns—the largest Republican plurality ever given in an off year election, with one exception.

A total of 825,000 votes were cast throughout the state—the smallest vote cast in a state election in 14 years, and 251,000 less than in the presidential election of November 3, 1904.

Congressman Henry T. Rainey, the only Illinois Democrat in the Fifty-ninth congress, has been re-elected. Ben. F. Caldwell, the Democrat defeated two years ago by Zeno Rives, the young Republican of Litchfield, has defeated Rives in turn. In the Twenty-third district Foster, Democrat is elected over Congressman Dickson.
These, with the district regained in Chicago, give back to the Democrats three of the districts they lost in 1904, and the Illinois congressional delegation stands 21 Republicans and three Democrats.

The Republican congressional districts were carried by large pluralities. Outside of Cook county Congressman Fuller was re-elected in the Twelfth district by 14,000; Frank O. Lowden in the Thirteenth by 2,000, Congressman McKinley in the Fourteenth by 4,500, Prince in the Sixteenth by 3,500, Sterling in the Seventeenth by 7,500, Cannon in the Eighteenth by 6,500, McKinley in the Nineteenth by 4,500, Rodenberg in the Twentieth by 10,000, Chapman by 1,500 in the Twenty-fourth, and Smith in the Twenty-fifth by 3,000.

In the legislature the Republicans will have 89 house members and they have elected 23 of the 27 senators. They had 21 of the 24 hold-over senators. The joint ballot which will re-elect Shelby M. Cullom to the United States senate will poll 183 Republican votes out of 204.

West Virginia.
Wheeling, W. Va.—Partial returns from scattered counties in West Virginia show the probable success of all five of the Republican congressional nominees. The legislature will be Republican, insuring the reelection of Senator S. B. Elkins.

REPUBLICANS HAVE INDIANA.

Entire State Ticket and Legislature Won by Party.

Indianapolis.—Republicans have elected their entire state ticket in Indiana by an estimated majority of between 40,000 and 50,000. The next legislature will be Republican. Republicans have elected six congressmen in the First, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth districts. The Democrats have elected two, in the Third and Fourth districts.

Frederick Landis, Republican candidate for congress in the Eleventh district, is defeated, his Democratic opponent, J. A. M. Adair being elected by 1,800. The defeat of George W. Cromer in the Eighth also is conceded by Republicans, and the election of Watson in the Sixth is in doubt. Cromer ran 3,000 behind in his own county.

The Republican state ticket carried several Democratic strongholds, which elected Democratic county and legislative tickets, and in other places the opposite was true. The vote in the state was surprisingly light. In Indianapolis not more than two-thirds of Princeton Alumni.

Exclusive of the class of 1906 there are 7,190 living alumni of Princeton. Of the 6,522 classified according to their occupation, 2,285 are in business, 1,498 in the law, 924 in the ministry, 699 practicing medicine, 433 teachers, 230 engineers, 104 journalists, 50 ranching and farming, 50 gentlemen of leisure, 41 students, 34 in the army, 31 civil service, 26 architecture, 19 chemists, 10 artists, 9 authors, 7 in the navy, 5 librarians, 4 musicians and 4 dentists.

the full vote was polled and the shrinkage was largely in the Republican wards.

The Democrats have elected the prosecuting attorney and probably the auditor in Marion county. Republican majorities have been reduced from the figures of two years ago.

California.
San Francisco.—The Republicans have swept California, electing the entire state ticket, eight congressmen and the state legislature. James N. Gillett, for governor, will have a plurality of about 25,000.

Nebraska.
Omaha, Neb.—Returns indicate the election of Sheldon for governor and the balance of the Republican ticket, with the possible exception of one or two minor offices.

Colorado.
Denver, Colo.—There is no reason to doubt the claim of Chairman Vivian of the Republican state central committee that the entire Republican state ticket with one exception has been elected by majorities from 15,000 to 30,000.

Delaware.
Wilmington, Del.—The Republicans have carried Delaware and elected Burton for congress over Marvel, Democrat. They also will control the Delaware legislature that will elect a successor to United States Senator Allee, Republican.

Kansas.
Topeka, Kan.—The state chairman of each party claims the election of Mr. Roosevelt's intervention, no possible thought of Hughes, and the Republican candidate would have been defeated by 250,000 votes.

Morally a Republican Defeat.
World.—Let nobody mistake the meaning of the narrow victory that Charles Hughes has won over William R. Hearst. Mr. Hughes' election is morally a Republican defeat, a popular repudiation of the corrupt Republican machine and its alliances with corrupt corporations. The Hearst vote is a striking illustration of the popular temper in regard to the abuses of corporations and the demand for effective regulation.

Only by the votes of tens of thousands of Democrats who refused as a matter of personal and party honor to support the candidate of "rottenness and riot" was the Republican state ticket saved from complete annihilation.

The people of New York are tired of corporation piracy. By an unexpected small plurality they have selected Mr. Hughes to do the work that Mr. Hearst was clamoring to do, but there can be no question as to their demand that the work shall be done.

Herald Glad, That's All.

Herald.—The voters of New York have entered their verdict at the polls. Mr. Hearst is defeated. Faith in the moral sense and sagacity of the people to decide, and decide aright, when emergency arises—that faith which lies at the foundation of popular government—will everywhere be renewed and strengthened by to-day's elections.

That Hearst was defeated by an emphatic plurality appears the more satisfactory in view of the peculiar nature of the campaign. With unprecedented machinery for publicity, an organization specially devised to advance his political ambitions, and with lavish use of money, the boasted "creator of an organized hatred" was able to spread far and wide his inflammatory appeals to passion and prejudice and his bribes to the discontented and the poor in the form of alluring promises.

Despite all this Hearst's vote in this great city fell 50,000 short of that cast for a Democratic candidate for governor a few years ago.

Narrowness of Victory Humiliating.
Times.—Satisfaction there may be, and heartfelt thankfulness that we have escaped at all, but in the margin of our deliverance there is no cause for enthusiastic rejoicing, rather for a season of humiliation and a searching of minds and hearts that the people of this great commonwealth may discover how it came about that this strange and reckless desire for overthrow and dangerous adventure has possessed so many of them.

Time was when a party plurality of 60,000 in New York would have been a great victory. Mr. Roosevelt was elected governor by 17,000 and Mr. Odell in 1902 by 8,000.

But a plurality of 65,000 against Mr. Hearst is not enough. When we consider the nature of the issue his candidacy presented to a million and a half of voters it is a mere trifle, hardly to be looked upon as clearly decisive of the people's thought and will.

Result a Solemn Warning.
Press.—The meaning of the election in New York yesterday is that the American people are radical. Anyone who could not have discovered this fact on the day before election, as well as this morning, was simply blind to the most obvious political signs that ever ushered in an election. Yet there Wonders of Nature.

As a wonder, nature produces fine work. Certain tree barks and leaves furnish excellent cloth, as, for instance, the famous tapa cloth used in the South Sea islands. Nature is a glassmaker, too. By discharging her lightning into beds of quartz sand she forms exquisite little pipes of glass. She makes valuable ropes of various kinds in the shape of tropical vines and creepers, and she is even a lace maker, as witness the lace trees of the West Indies.

were Republican managers so utterly ignorant of public opinion that they would have dared, had they been permitted, to nominate for governor some stalling horse of the special interests who would have been beaten as badly as the simple idiots of this campaign thought Hearst would be defeated, when, as a matter of fact, he has polled the biggest vote ever polled by a Democratic candidate for governor of New York.

There was the heedlessness that on the eve of election informed the robbed and wrathful policy holders that the next secretary of the treasury would be Mr. G. B. Cortelyou, who had the spending money of the widows and orphans collected from the insurance grafters. There was the folly that sent Mr. Ellhu Root here to tell the voters how to cast their ballots, when he is regarded by Republicans as well as by Democrats and Independence leaguers as the faithful servant of the trusts.

Well, Mr. Hughes won in spite of all this, as he deserved to win. But he has won by so narrow a margin, with Republican wreckage strewn all the state, that we guess that those who have been wont to deny public sentiment, will at last realize that this is a final warning.

Can't Convince Hearst Papers.
American.—At this writing, midnight, there is every reason to believe that William Randolph Hearst has been elected governor of New York by a substantial plurality.

There is also every indication that a determined and desperate attempt is being made by the defeated party of the trusts to steal the election won by the people.

Early in the evening the belief that Mr. Hearst and his cause had triumphed was universal. Timothy Woodruff acknowledged that the people's candidate had carried most of the principal cities of the state.

But defeat is not to be endured by the confederated "interests" in the state now, any more than it was in the metropolises one year ago.

The word went out to hold back the returns.
Mr. Hearst is perfectly willing to accept the will of the people, whether that will declares for or against him honestly.

But he is not willing to submit to fraud perpetrated by criminal politicians in the employ of the trusts.

DAVIDSON WINS IN WISCONSIN

Entire Republican Ticket Elected by Good Pluralities.

Milwaukee.—The entire Republican state ticket was elected in Wisconsin by pluralities of 50,000 and more.

Indications are that ten Republican congressmen have been elected in 11 districts, and that the next legislature is overwhelmingly Republican. Most counties report the election of Republican county officers.

Returns show Gov. Davidson ran ahead of his ticket and that Connor was scratched considerably.

The situation in some of the congressional districts is close, but indications are ten Republicans will be returned to Washington.

In the Third district a hard fight was made by La Follette men, many of whom scratched Congressman Babcock, former congressional chairman, and supported the Democratic nominee, J. H. Murphy. Babcock probably has been defeated. Murphy's plurality is estimated at from 300 to 400.

Kentucky.
Louisville, Ky.—Returns in the Democratic primary for United States Senator show that Gov. J. C. W. Beckham is gaining.

Returns indicate that the only change in the Kentucky delegation to congress would be in the Third district, where the Republicans apparently have gained a seat. This, with the two they already hold, gives eight Democrats and three Republican representatives.

For the governorship the race is close, Samuel W. Hager having only a slight lead over N. B. Hayes.

Missouri.
St. Louis.—The returns show conclusively that the Democrats have regained Missouri. It is only a question of how big the majority will be. The Democrats have elected 12 of the 16 congressmen, thereby regaining seven of the districts they lost in the landslide two years ago.

Poison Gas Thrown Off.
In the Auvergne region of France a large amount of carbonic acid gas comes from the soil and is one of the last traces of the former volcanic activity of this region. The springs that yield the gas are found generally in the fissures of the ground which allow the water to rise. One of the Mont-pensier springs has been known as the "poisoned spring." Animals which descend into the cavity to drink are soon asphyxiated by the gas which is given off by the water.

ARCTIC EXPLORER NEAR NORTH POLE

ROBERT E. PEARY AND HIS PARTY REACH BEYOND 87 DEGREES.

Compelled to Subsist on Dog Meat and Musk Oxen When Caches Are Swept Away by Ice Thrown Up by Gale.

New York, Nov. 2.—The United States now holds the record of "furthest north," 87 degrees six minutes.

This feat was accomplished by Commander Robert E. Peary, of the United States navy.

The intrepid arctic explorer failed to reach the north pole, as he had confidently hoped to do with his specially constructed vessel, the Roosevelt, but he penetrated nearer to the pole than the duke of the Abruzzi's expedition, which had held the arctic record, 86 degrees 34 minutes. What Commander Peary did and his experiences during the past year in the frozen north are rather briefly, but certainly vividly, summarized in a communication received Friday night from Peary by Herbert L. Bridgeman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club. This communication follows:

Peary's Dispatch.
"Hopedale, Labrador, via Twillingate, N. E., Nov. 2.—Roosevelt wintered north coast Grant Land somewhat north Alert winter quarters. Went north with sledges February via Hecla and Columbia. Delayed by open water between 84 and 85 degrees. Beyond 85 six days. Gale disrupted ice destroyed caches, cut off communication with supporting bodies and drifted due east. Reach 87 degrees six minutes, north latitude over ice, drifting steadily eastward. Returning at eight dogs. Drifted eastward delayed by open water, reached north coast Greenland in straightened conditions. Killed musk oxen and returned along Greenland coast to ship. Two supporting parties driven on north coast Greenland. One rescued by me in starving condition. After one week recuperation on Roosevelt sledged west, completing north coast Grant Land and reached other land, near one hundred meridian. Homeward voyage incessant battle with ice, storms and headwinds. Roosevelt magnificent ice lighter and sea boat. No deaths or illness on expedition."

Receipt of News Surprises.
After furnishing press the contents of Commander Peary's report, Mr. Bridgeman said that the receipt of any news from the explorer now was quite a surprise to him, because he had supposed it had become too late in the season for Commander Peary to send news of his venture. Mr. Bridgeman added that the message spoke for itself and that since he did not know more of the results of Commander Peary's effort to reach the pole than the public did, he could hardly comment upon the dispatch. There was little doubt, however, he said, that Commander Peary was coming home. This seems to be borne out by the routing of the dispatch. Hopedale or Hoffenthal is a Moravian mission station on the east coast of Labrador. Twillingate is a port on the east coast of Newfoundland. Mr. Bridgeman said the message was probably mailed by Commander Peary from Hopedale to the most accessible cable port.

MONOPOLY IN NATIONAL PARK.
Boat Company Charges High Fare for Trip on Yellowstone Lake.
Washington, Nov. 5.—According to the annual report of Maj. John Pitcher, acting superintendent of the Yellowstone National park, the monopoly enjoyed by the Yellowstone Lake Boat company for the transportation of tourists from Upper Geyser basin to the Thumb is becoming a serious problem.
Maj. Pitcher has recommended that competition be established in some way or that the stage lines be permitted to operate their own boats in order to give their patrons the choice of boat or land transportation to the Thumb.
The Yellowstone Lake Boat company charges three dollars a head for the trip, which is 18 miles distance. Its franchise expires July 21 next.
Maj. Pitcher emphasizes his recommendation of last year that the garrison at Fort Yellowstone be increased to a four-troop squadron post.

A FOOL FOR LOVE

By FRANCIS LYNDE

CHAPTER V.—Continued. Here the matter rested; and, having done what she conceived to be her charitable duty, Virginia was as anxious to get away as heart—the heart of a slightly bored Reverend Billy, for instance—could wish.

CHAPTER VI. While the technologist was dispensing commissary tea in iron-stone china cups to his two guests in the "dinky" field office, his chief, taking the Rosemary's night run in reverse in the company of Town Marshal Biggin, was turning the Rajah's coup into a small Utah profit.

Having come upon the ground late the night before, and from the opposite direction, he had seen nothing of the extension grade west of Argentine. Hence the enforced journey to Carbonate only anticipated an inspection trip which he had intended to make as soon as he had seated Adams firmly in the track-laying saddle.

Not to miss his opportunity, at the first curve beyond Argentine he passed his cigar case to Biggin and asked permission to ride on the rear platform of the day coach or inspection purposes.

"Say, pardner, what do you take me for, anyhow?" was the reproachful rejoinder.

"For a gentleman in disguise," said Winton, promptly.

"Sim'larly, I do you; savvy? You tell me you ain't goin' to stampe, and you ride anywhere you blame please. See? This here C. & G. R. outfit ain't got no surcingle on me."

Winton smiled. "I haven't any notion of stampeding. As it happens, I'm only a day ahead of time. I should have made this run to-morrow of my own accord to have a look at the extension grade. You will find me on the rear platform when you want me."

"Good enough," was the reply; and Winton went to his post of observation.

Greatly to his satisfaction, he found that the trip over the C. & G. R. answered every purpose of a preliminary inspection of the Utah grade beyond Argentine. For 17 of the 20 miles the two lines were scarcely more than a stone's throw apart, and when Biggin joined him at the junction above Carbonate he had his note-book well filled with the necessary data.

"Make it, all right?" inquired the friendly balliff.

"Yes, thanks. Have another cigar?" "Don't care if I do. Say, that old fire-eater back yonder in the private car has got a mighty pretty gal, ain't he?"

"The young lady is his niece," said Winton, wishing that Mr. Biggin would find other food for comment.

"I don't care; she's pretty as a Jersey two-year-old."

"It's a fine day," observed Winton; and then to background Miss Carteret effectually as a topic. "How do the people of Argentine feel about the opposition to our line?"

"They're red-hot; you can put your money on that. The C. & G. R.'s a sure-enough tail-twister where there ain't no competition. Your road'll get every pound of ore in the camp if it ever gets through."

"I suppose you stand with your townsmen on that, don't you?" he ventured.

"Now you're shouting; that's me." "Then if that is the case, we won't take this little holiday of ours any harder than we can help. When the court business is settled—it won't take very long—you are to consider yourself my guest. We stop at the Buckingham."

"Oh, we do, we do? Say, pardner, that's white—mighty white. If I'd 'a' been an inch or so more'n half awake this morning when that old b'ler-buster's hired man routed me out, I'd 'a' told him to go to blazes with his warrant. Next time I will."

Winton shook his head. "There isn't going to be any 'next time,' Peter, my son," he prophesied. "When Mr. Darrah gets fairly down to business he'll throw bigger chunks than the Argentine town marshal at us."

By this time the train was slowing into Carbonate, and a few minutes after the stop at the crowded platform they were making their way up the single bustling street of the town to the courthouse.

"Ever see so many tin-horns and bunco people bunched in all your round-ups?" said Biggin as they elbowed through the uneasy, shifting groups in front of the hotel.

"Not often," Winton admitted. "But it's the luck of the big camps; they are the dumping grounds of the world while the high pressure is on."

The ex-ranger rider turned on the courthouse steps to look the sidewalk loungers over with narrowing eyes.

"There's Sheeny Mike and Big Otto and half a dozen others right there in front of the Buckingham; that couldn't stay to breathe twice in Argentine. And this town's got a police!" the comment with lip-curling scorn.

"It also has a county court which is probably waiting for us," said Winton; whereupon they went in to appease the offended majesty of the law.

As Winton had predicted, his answer to the court summons was a mere formality. On parting with his chief at the Argentine station platform, Adams' first care had been to wire news of the arrest to the Utah headquarters. Hence Winton found the company's attorney waiting for him in Judge Whitcomb's courtroom, and his release on an appearance bond was only a matter of moments.

The legal affair dismissed, there ensued a weary interval of time-killing. There was no train back to Argentine until nearly five o'clock in the afternoon, and the hours dragged heavily for the two, who had nothing to do but wait. Biggin endured his part of it manfully till the midday dinner had been discussed; then he drifted off with one of Winton's cigars between his teeth, saying that he should "take poison" and shoot up the town if he could not find some more peaceful means of keeping his blood in circulation.

It was a little after three o'clock, and Winton was sitting at the writing table in the lobby of the hotel elaborating his hasty note-book data of the morning's inspection, when a boy came in with a telegram. The young engineer was not so deeply engrossed in his work as to be deaf to the colloquy.

"Mr. John Winton? Yes, he is here somewhere," said one clerk in answer to the boy's question; and after an identifying glance, "There he is—over at the writing table."

Winton turned in his chair and saw the boy coming towards him; also saw the ruffian pointed out by Biggin from the courthouse steps and labeled "Sheeny Mike" lounging up to the clerk's desk for a whispered word with the bediamonded gentleman behind it.

What followed was catalytic in its way. The lounge took three staggering lurches towards Winton, brushed the messenger boy aside, and burst out in a storm of maudlin invective.

"Sign yerself 'Winton' now, do ye, ye low-down, turkey-trodden—"

"One minute," said Winton, curtly, taking the telegram from the boy and signing for it.

"I'll give ye more'n ye can carry away in less'n half that time—see?" was the minatory retort; and the threat was made good by an awkward buffet which would have knocked the engineer out of his chair if he had remained in it.

Now Winton's eyes were gray and steadfast, but his hair was of that shade of brown which takes the tint of dull copper in certain lights, and he had a temper which went with the red in his hair rather than with the gray in his eyes. Wherefore his attempt to placate his assailant was something less than diplomatic.

"You drunken scoundrel!" he snapped, "if you don't go about your business and let me alone, I'll turn you over to the police with a broken bone or two!"

The bully's answer was a blow delivered straight from the shoulder—too straight to harmonize with the fiction of drunkenness. Winton saw the sober purpose in it and went battle-mad, as a hasty man will. Being a skillful boxer—which his antagonist was not—he did what he had to do neatly and with commendable dispatch. Down, up; down, up; down a third time, and then the bystanders interfered.

"Hold on!" "That'll do!" "Don't you see he's drunk?" "Enough's as good as a feast—let him go."

Winton's blood was up, but he desisted, breathing threatenings. Whereat Biggin shouldered his way into the circle.

"Pay your bill and let's hike out of this, pronto," he said in a low tone,

"You ain't got no time to fool with a Carbonate justice shop."

But Winton was not to be brought to his senses so easily.

"Run away from that swine? Not if I know it. Let him take it into court if he wants to. I'll be there, too."

The beaten one was up now and apparently looking for an officer.

"I'm takin' ye all to witness," he rasped. "I was on'y askin' him to cash up what he lose to me las' night, and he jumps me. But I'll stick him if there's any law in this camp."

Now all this time Winton had been holding the unopened telegram crumpled in his fist, but when Biggin pushed him out of the circle and thrust him up to the clerk's desk, he thought him to read the message. It was Virginia's warning, signed by Adams, and a single glance at the closing sentence was enough to cool him suddenly.

"Pay the bill, Biggin, and join me in the billiard room, quick!" he whispered, pressing money into the town marshal's hand and losing himself in the crowd. And when Biggin had obeyed his instructions: "Now for a back way out of this if there is one. We'll have to take to the hills till train time."

"Didn't take you more'n a week to change your mind about pullin' it off with that tin-horn scrapper in the courts, did it?"

"No," said Winton.

"Taint none o' my business, but I'd like to know what stampeed you."

"A telegram—shortly. 'It was a put-up job to have me locked up on a criminal charge, and so hold me out another day.'"

Biggin grinned. "The old b'ler-buster again. Say, he's a holy terror, ain't he?"

"He doesn't mean to let me build my railroad if he can help it."

The ex-cowboy found his sack of chip tobacco and dexterously rolled a cigarette in a bit of brown wrapping paper.

SOLDIERS IN CUBA TO TRAMP COUNTRY

PRACTICE MARCHES PLANNED FOR AMERICAN TROOPS IN THE ISLAND.

Officers and Men Are Warned of the Necessity of Manifesting Courtesy Toward Cubans Irrespective of Their Political Affiliations.

Havana, Nov. 5.—It is the intention of the provisional government to have the American troops here make extensive practice marches throughout the country. This should not be interpreted as a threatening demonstration; the step is taken for its moral effect on the restoration of confidence. In a general order Gen. J. Franklin Bell enjoins all officers and enlisted men of the American army of occupation to manifest all possible courtesy towards Cubans of all parties, and to take no active part in the suppression of disorder, except in extreme emergencies rendering interference for the protection of life and property necessary. The duties of the American forces are, generally speaking, limited to the tendering of good offices for the prevention of friction between conflicting elements.

To Move Leper Hospital. Upon the recommendation of Carlos Garcia y Velez, inspector of public institutions, San Lazaro hospital, in which there are several hundred lepers, probably will be shortly removed to an island off the northern coast of Mantanzas province. The removal of this hospital has long been desired, but the project has been opposed by the wealthy private corporation by which it is controlled.

American Is Imprisoned. Americans on the Isle of Pines are excited over the arrest and imprisonment of a countryman named Holmsburg, on the charge of cutting down a tree, on the boundary line of his own property. A committee has come from the island to request Gov. Magoon to depose the present mayor and appoint as acting mayor Second Lieut. Robert Titton of the marine corps.

There have been rumors for some days past of a projected uprising of moderates in Santiago province, but no importance is attached to them.

Lieutenant Has Yellow Fever. Second Lieut. Noble J. Wiley, of the Fifth infantry, whose discovery on board the transport Summer Saturday with yellow fever caused five hours' delay in the departure of the vessel, has been removed to Almás hospital. His illness was diagnosed as yellow fever of a mild type. Lieut. Wiley boarded the Summer to go home on leave of absence. He arrived here recently on the transport Tarnholm, and lodged in Havana. He did not visit Camp Columbia.

MINE BOSSES IN FATAL FIGHT

Drunken Men Kill Companion and Escape Being Lynched.

Barboursville, W. Va., Nov. 6.—At Stone Branch, 20 miles south of here, Sunday night G. W. Wright and Andrew Childers, mine bosses, both intoxicated, became enraged at John Kelley, another boss, assaulted him with clubs and beat him into insensibility. Kelley died 30 minutes later.

Wright and Childers captured mules and escaped, but were later captured and safely locked up in the Logan county jail.

After their apprehension by deputy sheriffs they were hidden on a train by Conductor Cowherd and, though 100 men surrounded the cars, the prisoners were buried by trunks so well that they escaped the committee that went through the cars.

Convict Girl of Manslaughter. New York, Nov. 7.—Florida Harrio, the girl who has been on trial in the Somerset county court at Somerville, N. J., charged with the murder of Alexander Dipolo, was found guilty of manslaughter by the jury. She was convicted of having shot and killed Dipolo last June. It was brought out during the trial that Dipolo had squandered all her money. The defendant contended that the shooting was accidental. Sentence was deferred.

FOR SALE?

HERING ADMITS HIS GUILT

CHICAGO CASHIER GIVEN INDETERMINATE SENTENCE.

Will Serve From One to Fourteen Years for Part in Looting Stensland Bank.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Henry W. Hering, former cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, pleaded guilty to forgery and embezzlement in Judge Pinckney's court Monday afternoon and was sentenced to the penitentiary. His term for forgery will be from one to 14 years under the indeterminate sentence act, and for embezzlement from one to ten years. The court announced the sentence would run concurrently.

Hering will not be sent to Joliet at once. State's Attorney Healy announced before the next grand jury.

This is believed to mean more indictments in connection with the looting of the bank.

He will also be a witness against Walter Frantzen, who, as teller of the savings department, stole $68,000, and against the directors who are under indictment.

His sentence to prison came at the end of dramatic stories of the wrecking of the bank told by both Paul O. Stensland, former president, and by Hering.

At the same time, it was said about the criminal court building that Mrs. Hering had decided to obtain a divorce, declaring that she would not stand by her husband unless he established his innocence.

PLANT TO RIVAL WEATHER MAN

Bureau of "Twigs and Leaves" to Be Established on Coast.

Pacific Grove, Cal., Nov. 6.—Information has been received here of the intended establishment of a rival weather bureau in San Francisco. In Cuba and Mexico there has been found a "weather plant" said to have extraordinary powers in forecasting not only atmospheric, but seismic disturbances. Its botanical name is abrus precatorius nobilis.

Prof. Josef Norvack, an Austrian, recently arrived in England with 20 cases of these remarkable plants. They have been found peculiarly sensitive to magnetic and electric influences. When charges in these occur its twigs and leaves perform peculiar and abnormal movements, each of these having its definite significance.

By its aid weather forecasts can be made from two to seven days ahead of rain or fog, and earthquake forecasts as much as 26 days in advance over an area of 300 square miles. It also predicts volcanic eruptions and accumulations of fire damp in mines.

Norvack will establish bureaus in San Francisco, Bombay and Tokyo.

BANK AT LA SALLE, ILL., ROBBED

Two Bandits Secure $7,000 From Cashier and Escape.

La Salle, Ill., Nov. 6.—The Farmers and Miners' bank, of Ladd, a mining town, was held up and robbed Monday afternoon.

The assistant cashier, J. J. Hurley, was alone in the bank when two men entered and asked for some pennies. The next moment, covering Mr. Hurley with revolvers, they ordered him to throw up his hands.

The robbers then marched Hurley to a back room, where they bound him hand and foot.

The robbers then helped themselves to cash and escaped. They left $130 in gold besides a quantity of silver on the bank counter and disturbed little in the vault.

The amount of their booty will be about $7,000 as near as the bank officers were able to estimate the loss.

Save Two Adrift on Lake.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—After drifting in the lake for 60 hours in a fishing boat and being mourned as drowned, Louis Wright and William Thornton, of Michigan City, Ind., with three companions, Dipolo last June. It was brought out during the trial that Dipolo had squandered all her money. The defendant contended that the shooting was accidental. Sentence was deferred.

FORMER PASTOR IN TROUBLE.

Rev. Isaac G. Cook Arrested on Complaint of Child.

Peoria.—The Rev. Isaac G. Cook, formerly pastor of the Methodist church at Bartonville, a suburb of Peoria, was arrested on the charge of attacking the 13-year-old daughter of Charles W. Robinson, vice president of the Gippis Brewing company. The attack, it is alleged, took place on Moss avenue, the exclusive and popular residence portion of the city.

The girl says she was followed out of a drug store by the former clergyman, who accosted her, hugged her, and repeatedly kissed her. On the description furnished by the girl her assailant was arrested and placed behind the bars.

Cook denies the charge. The girl was accompanied by a little dog, and Cook admits that he stopped to fondle the family pet, but did not place his hands on the girl.

Odd Fellows to Meet.

Chapin.—What promises to be one of the greatest events in the history of Illinois Odd Fellowship is the cooperative meeting of a large number of lodges which will be held in this city November 8. Plans for the event have been in progress for several weeks past and now all is in readiness for the occasion. Every lodge in several central western Illinois counties has promised to send delegates and aside from these gentlemen there will be hundreds of visitors from other lodges. The counties active in the work are Schuyler, Adams, Pike, Brown and Morgan.

Identity Made Known.

Waverly.—The identity of the man who was found dead in a box car in this city was established when a brother came from St. Louis and took the body home. The dead man was Benjamin Engle, and he was of a well-to-do family. He had been assisting one of his brothers in an undertaking establishment in St. Louis, but when this was sold he began to rove over the country. An uncle, who is a wealthy merchant in Medora, was in the city and identified him as Benjamin Engle.

GAMBLERS ROUTED IN ELGIN.

Begin to Move Apparatus as Result of Hot Crusade.

Elgin.—A crusade against gambling and all forms of law violation has been begun by the local authorities, including both Chief of Police Younger and State's Attorney John R. Powers. Gamblers moved out furniture and apparatus from one joint. The trouble started when J. L. Baker, alleged handbook operator, brought civil suit against A. C. Snow to recover $200 said to have been lost at poker. Snow's gamekeeper and Baker were both arrested and fined for gambling. Another gambler has been fined and two saloon keepers have been arrested charged with selling liquor to minors. All are scared at the stir caused by Rev. Mr. Rood and his sermon three weeks ago.

PANA WOMAN WOULD DIE.

Miss Bessie Wilson Creates Sensation at Railroad Station in Decatur.

Decatur.—Miss Bessie Wilson, an unusually pretty girl from Pana, made a sensational attempt to take her life in the Illinois Central station rather than go back with her mother.

The girl was found at a hotel and was forced by her mother to go to the station. She kept protesting that she would kill herself and suddenly drew a bottle of poison and drank a portion of it before the mother could strike it from her hand. A few moments later she fell in a faint and physicians summoned worked for an hour before she could be removed to the hospital. It is believed that she will recover.

Will Organize a New League.

The following cities were represented, all of which will be in the league: Quincy and Jacksonville, Illinois, and Oskaloosa, Ottumwa, Keokuk, Burlington, Waterloo, Clinton and Muscatine, Iowa. The last two named cities were represented by proxies. It was suggested that Hannibal, Mo., be admitted. He got away and evaded over a hundred deputies and others, who searched this and adjoining counties all day.

THE THOMPSON PIANO

IT IS A MODEL OF PERFECTION IN QUALITY

OUR REBUS SALE IS ON

And it Gives You the Chance of Securing a Thompson Piano at a Very Reasonable Price

If you ever expect to purchase a piano, make the purchase during this sale as this sale will positively close Dec. 10, 1906. Now is your opportunity of securing an artistic piano at our factory prices. You pay no middle-men's commission. Does that mean anything to you?

Remember after this sale is over we will wholesale no more pianos to retail trade, then if you wish a Thompson piano for your home you must deal with our Chicago house, as our factory which is to be erected here, will be a factory only, and not a retail store.

Our Rebus which appeared in the last issue should be of great interest to you, for not only do we give you benefit of our low factory prices, but also the opportunity of winning one of our Rebus prizes as well.

The Thompson Piano is no experiment. It has been on the market for 36 years, and, can we not say without egotism that surely we know how to build a thoroughly high grade instrument?

Our Claim for the Thompson piano is that we build it just as well as we know how, that we employ only the best workmen, that we use the utmost care in the selection and purchase of material, that our constant effort is to build a piano that has the highest degree of perfection that it is possible to attain in piano structure.

We Guarantee the Thompson piano to be practically perfect in every mechanical detail—we guarantee the tone to be lasting—we guarantee the piano to stay well in tune, and we believe that with proper care, it will last as long and produce as good music as long as any other piano that was ever made.

We want the Thompson piano to be as perfect as possible, the price comes afterward. We could build a piano for less money than we do but it would not be as good a piano. We know that no piano can be made for less money and possess the qualities it ought to possess. There is no piano sold at the same price that is equal to the Thompson. That is a plain statement but we mean every word of it.

It Costs You Nothing to examine the Thompson; failure to do so may cost you the price of a piano. The instrument you get may be what you want but you cannot tell until you have seen the Thompson.

Yours for courteous treatment and fair dealing.
THE THOMPSON PIANO CO.
W. C. RADEBAUGH, Factory Representative.

In Time of Peace
In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by G. H. Hunt.

ARRESTED IN AUTOMOBILE

Dealer Pursued Hunt from Genoa, Ill., to Jersey City

The following article appeared in the New York Herald of October 31:

"On a warrant charging him with being a fugitive from justice, William T. Hunt, twenty-eight years old, of No. 99 Kensington avenue, Jersey City, was arrested in an automobile yesterday in the Hudson Boulevard by Detective Van Horn.

"E. H. Cohoon, an automobile dealer at Genoa, Ill., alleges that he sold a runabout to Hunt, who conducted a livery stable at Byron, Ill., and received in exchange mortgages on the automobile and a team of horses. A month ago, Cohoon alleges, Hunt sold the livery stable and the mortgaged team of horses and drove the automobile to Chicago, where it was expressed to Allentown, Pa. From that city Hunt drove the machine to Jersey City.

"Hunt offered the Westerner $150 on account or offered to return the automobile, but Cohoon insisted upon having the entire amount. Hunt was paroled in the custody of his counsel, John Wahlquien."

Mr. Cohoon arrived home this week and states that he secured full value for the automobile in cash and a diamond. He left left Hunt behind the bars.

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by G. H. Hunt.

A Wisconsin lady decided to scare her husband, who was quite a hard drinker so he would reform. To do this she procured the costume of a devil he had worn at a masquerade. The next time the erring spouse came home feeling happy she quickly donned the costume. As he opened the door she stepped forward and said in sepulchral tones: "Come with me; I am the devil." The result rather startled her, as the response which greeted her was: "Zat so? Shake, 'old boy. I'm your brother-in-law; I married your sister."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. NEW ACHIEVEMENTS OF GREAT SURGEONS Operations That Almost Seem Incredible Now Successfully Performed as a Matter of Course.

Most Recent Is the Work of Dr. Karl Garre of Berlin, in Which Devoted Mother Gave Part of Her Own Throat to Convert Her Idiot Daughter Into a Bright Little Girl.

New York.—Medical men here and abroad are awaiting with considerable interest a report from Berlin giving complete details of a most daring and unusual surgical operation performed there a few weeks ago.

An idiot child, the six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Louis Wolff, a resident of Berlin, has been converted into an intelligent being by the process of grafting part of the mother's thyroid gland upon the child's pancreas. Reduced to plainer language, this means that part of the mother's thyroid gland was transferred by the grafting process to a gland, or tissue, lying directly at the back of the stomach. By this operation the dull, inactive brain of little Lena Wolff has been awakened so that it is now performing the duties for which it was intended.

This, in the history of medical science, is without a parallel, not only because such an operation was never attempted before, but also because of its seeming vagueness. The idea of grafting part of the throat of a mother to the pancreas gland of her child with the expectation of converting the child from idiotcy to a normal, mental condition would seem at first glance unworthy of serious consideration. But Dr. Karl Garre, professor of surgery in the medical faculty of Breslau university, to whom the operation has been pronounced a complete success.

Professor Garre is an eminent German surgeon whose success in the transplanting of organs from one animal to another and even from the lower animals to human beings, has attracted the attention and admiration of surgical men all over the world. When his report of how he changed Lena Wolff from an idiot into a bright and intelligent little girl is completed it will form a valuable addition to the list of modern miracles of surgery.

An Idiot From Birth.
From the details of the case already received from Germany it appears that Lena Wolff was born an idiot six years ago, says the New York World. Reason never dawned for her as in other babies. She had come into the world without one apparent spark of intelligence and seemed doomed to pass her whole life without knowing the joys and sorrows of living.

Her case was called to the attention of Professor Garre, who was interested from the very beginning, because in it he saw a possibility of being able to prove the correctness of a theory on which he had been at work. This involved the probable action or influence that certain substances or secretions found in the ductless glands of the human body have upon the blood.

It is the blood, as everybody knows, that feeds the brain, keeping it active and clear and in good working order. If the blood is thin or sluggish the brain is first to record that fact. The great German surgeon knew that the reason Lena Wolff's brain was dull and inactive was because the blood was not feeding it as it should.

One of the principal duties of the pancreas, situated just behind the stomach, is to superintend the regular feeding of the brain with good blood, according to the theory of the German surgeon. In the case of Lena Wolff he believed the pancreas was minus one very important digestive essential, without which it could not do its work properly. That very important essential had to be supplied by grafting a portion of a ductless gland from another living person.

The child's mother readily offered herself as a sacrifice. She was perfectly willing to undergo the necessarily painful and tedious operation of having part of her throat grafted on the body of her little daughter if only it would give Lena her reason.

The operation took place in one of the large hospitals in Berlin, and by the grafting process one end of the mother's thyroid gland was released and stretched over to the exposed pancreas of her idiot daughter.

For days neither mother nor child was permitted to move. To insure a successful grafting operation they had been tightly bound together, the child's body against her mother's neck, and there they remained until the severed end of the thyroid gland had knit firmly to the pancreas, forming a living, pulsating link between mother and daughter. Then the link was cut, leaving a portion of the thyroid gland grafted successfully to the child's pancreas. It is believed now that both mother and child will recover. The complete success of the operation, cannot, however, be announced yet, as too short a time has elapsed since the operation was performed.

First Dawn of Reason.
But it is known that the dawn of reason came to little Lena Wolff almost immediately after the thyroid gland began to knit. For the very first time the idiotic stare gave place to a look of intelligence. She may grow up to be a very bright young woman.

Dr. Swale Vincent, professor of physiology in the University of Manitoba, at Winnipeg, Canada, has prepared an extremely interesting article on the duties of the thyroid gland, the pancreas and other ductless glands, which appeared in a recent issue of the London Lancet.

"It is believed," he says, "that these ductless glands manufacture and pour directly or indirectly into the blood stream some substance or substances which are of service to the economy, either by supplying a need or by destroying other substances which are needless or positively harmful. This last function is usually prescribed to the thyroid and parathyroid glands.

"It is obvious that, in the broadest sense of the expression, all tissues and organs of the body may be said to have an internal secretion—i. e., the blood which leaves by their veins contains different chemical substances from that which enters by their arteries.

"The most usually quoted example, however, of a gland which has both an external and an internal secretion is the pancreas. A relation between diseases of the pancreas and diabetes has long been suspected, but Minkowski and Mehring first definitely showed that complete removal of the pancreas in the dog, cat and pig is followed by diabetes having the usual symptoms of that disease in man. That this is caused by the absence of an internal secretion is proved by the fact that it does not occur if the gland be left in situ and the duct tied, nor does it occur if a portion of the pancreas be grafted in some situation remote from its normal position. How the internal secretion of the pancreas normally prevents glycosuria is not clear. We can only say that it exerts some influence upon the carbohydrate metabolism, either by favoring the formation of glycogen in the liver from the dextrose taken to it by the portal vein or by furthering the oxidation of dextrose in the tissues generally."

Sight Restored to Child.
Equally remarkable and interesting is the operation by which sight has been restored to the blind eyes of little Margaret Huber, aged ten years, of No. 524 East Eighty-fourth street, New York city. She has become the subject of widespread interest among ophthalmologists by reason of her "pinhole camera" eyes. Eye surgeons who have followed the case at the German Poliklinik declare it to be, so far as their observations have gone, without an exact parallel.

Nobody knows exactly how Margaret became blind. The liquid matter constituting the lens of the eyes became atrophied and was entirely absorbed, leaving the lens a thick opaque, fibrous cap, which shut out every glimmer of light. This was three years ago, when the little girl was only seven.

Several operations were tried, but with no good results. The membranes of the eyes were punctured, but they immediately closed again over the openings like sheet rubber when a hole is made in it.

Dr. John A. Price, chief surgeon of the ophthalmic department of the German Poliklinik, took charge of the case, performing three operations in February, March and April, 1894. The third one restored the sight to the left eye. The right eye remained stone blind until two weeks ago, when he performed a most unusual and successful operation upon it.

He first made a peculiarly shaped pair of scissors, the under blade pointed and the upper blade blunt. This instrument he inserted through an incision in the cornea made at the top. Pushing the points down through the pupil, with the sharp blade he punctured the opaque membrane of the lens capsule and cut it squarely in two. The task of the surgeon was to cut so delicately and precisely as to divide the obstruction and let the light into the eye again.

The operation was entirely successful. The dead lens matter remains in the eye and on either side of the pupil a speck of the opaque substance can yet be seen. This in time may be absorbed.

Some Surgical Marvels.
Philadelphia and Toledo, Ohio, have recently contributed to the list of marvels of surgery through operations on the brains of incorrigible and mentally defective boys. A still more recent case is that of Carl Fredericks, aged nine years, of No. 200 Clinton street, Hoboken. He is under observation at the Rahway Reformatory preparatory to the practical reconstruction of his brain.

The doctors say the boy's brain is so peculiarly constructed that it prevents him from being good for more than an hour at a time. The head is of abnormal shape, the skull coming to a point. The ears are small and protruding, and the eyes are as sharp as a ferret's.

Tests made a few days ago showed that the boy had no sense of right or wrong. This is attributed to an abnormal brain growth. As a result of the operation, which includes the cutting out of certain parts of the brain, it is expected to relieve the boy of his wicked tendencies and transform him into a model youth.

Scientific surgery is gradually solving the problem of making us over piecemeal. Raymond Moore, aged 20, of Baltimore, lost the sixth and seventh ribs on the right side. Dr. Hamilton Brown replaced them with artificial ribs of hard rubber tubing.

By an operation at Fordham Hospital, Joseph Reichler was supplied with a silver windpipe to replace the original, which had been damaged beyond repair by a hard fall.

Dr. Kaintsky, the famous Russian surgeon, recently astonished the medical world by furnishing a man with artificial arteries. The operation took place in Dr. Kaintsky's private laboratory at St. Petersburg. The patient, a very rich farmer and cattle raiser, Ivan Potinkask by name, had collided violently with a stump while driving in a sleigh. He was hurled out and impaled upon a broken branch. The jagged piece of wood struck him below the hip joint and ranged down for about four inches. The wound was an exceedingly ugly one. It was directly over and in line with the femoral artery, which supplies the entire leg with blood. Dr. Kaintsky saved Potinkask's life by removing the injured part of the femoral artery and replacing it with an artificial one.

The Berlin surgeon, Dr. Seyfried, has succeeded in giving a man a new top for his skull, made from the skull of an ox.

Restored to Rationality.
At Stamford, Conn., a unique operation on the skull of the two-year-old son of Michael Gunther has given the chance to grow. Immediately on recovering from the anaesthesia, a look of normal intelligence showed in the child's eyes, proving the theory of the doctors that the skull had been pressing unduly on the brain. With the pressure relieved, the brain was free to exert itself. The doctors believe the boy will soon be able to talk and act as rationally as the brightest of his little playmates.

Dr. Guthrie and Dr. Carrell, of the University of Chicago, have been making a series of remarkable experiments in surgery. Hearts of dogs have been successfully moved up into the animals' necks and there performed their functions. The circulation of blood in canines has been reversed without causing the animals any apparent inconvenience.

"What we have learned," said Dr. Carrell a short time ago, "gives us hope that some day we may replace wounded and worn-out hearts in human beings with the healthy, youthful and strong hearts of living monkeys."

Sewing Up Stabbed Heart.
A recent dispatch from Milan described a wonderful surgical operation there by Dr. Meda. A workman had been murderously assaulted, a knife in the hand of an assassin actually piercing his heart. He was attended by surgeons who cut a way through his breast to reach the wounded heart. Three stitches were required to close the wound, which had almost entirely healed five days after the operation.

To restore sight to the blind eyes of Wilton Heinar, of Washington, the specialists at the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital have grafted the transparent membrane of a Belgian hare's eyeballs to Heinar's eyes. The most recent reports on this operation indicate that it is going to be a success.

C. A. McCartney, a young contractor of Pasadena, has survived the unusual experience of having his heart and lungs exposed, washed, mended and replaced. He was injured last June by falling from a bicycle upon the upturned prongs of a hayrake. He is almost as well as ever.

boy rationality. The child was born with normal mental and physical endowments and began to show, when a year old, signs of general deficiency in all his senses. It was finally determined by the surgeons interested in the case to explore the child's skull. Dr. J. T. Higgins, of New York, assisted by Drs. Whitehorn and Hogan, of New York, and Howell and Loeb, of Stamford, performed the operation at Stamford Hospital a few months ago. They removed a strip of bone from the skull three inches long and one-half inch wide, to give the brain a chance to grow. Immediately on recovering from the anaesthesia, a look of normal intelligence showed in the child's eyes, proving the theory of the doctors that the skull had been pressing unduly on the brain. With the pressure relieved, the brain was free to exert itself. The doctors believe the boy will soon be able to talk and act as rationally as the brightest of his little playmates.

To Keep Alive Coronado's March.
Several thousand dollars have been raised by public subscription for a monument to commemorate the march of Coronado into New Mexico. It will consist of a huge granite boulder from the Glorieta mountains, to be polished on four sides and suitably inscribed. It will be erected at Las Vegas.

Case of Rank Injustice.

Not in years has rank injustice been dealt to a man as it has been to J. T. Harahan, vice-president of the Illinois Central railroad, since the sensational meeting of the stockholders of the company a few weeks ago. The ethical mistreatment accorded Mr. Harahan has been through press reports emanating from unreliable sources. During the past ten days all sorts of rumors regarding the future presidency of the Illinois Central have been circulated, the chief allegation being the selection of Capt. Grammar of the New York Central lines to succeed Stuyvesant Fish. This story was out of whole cloth and was written by a traveling newspaper space writer. It was offered to a number of papers and refused, and finally accepted by one from which it was telegraphed throughout the country. The only explanation is that the man who wrote needed the money, for Capt. Grammar was never offered the presidency of the Illinois Central. If Mr. Fish were elected to succeed him, it is quite certain that J. T. Harahan has been Mr. Harahan more than half a dozen others who have popularized the Illinois Central. He has worked while others slept; he has traveled over the big system continuously, and knows its patrons, passengers and shippers, the newspapers and legislators. He never countenances a crooked deal; he has been on the level with everybody, and back of everything is the fact that he is one of the best operating and traffic managers in the country. The silly space stories have worked harm to all concerned—Fish, Grammar, Harahan and Stubs—and furnished no news, and there will be no real news until the directors meet.

Kaiser Won Bride for Officer.

A curious instance of the active part the kaiser takes in arranging the marriages of relatives and friends is recorded. A personal aide-camp of his majesty was very much depressed by the lady of his choice giving him a refusal. The same afternoon the kaiser drove to the house of the young lady, the daughter of a wealthy Berlin banker, and pleaded the cause of his aide-camp with such eloquence that the marriage took place a month later.—Reynolds' Newspaper.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. A Rule and an Exception.

According to the New York Tribune, a country paper lays down this rule of etiquette: "When a lady and gentleman are walking in the street, the lady should walk inside of the gentleman."

It seems a little strange that this simple rule, so long current among the cannibal tribes of the Andaman and other islands, should find its way into a rural journal of more or less civilization. It would appear that the etiquette editor of the paper in question was either too careless or too hurried to note any exceptions to the rule. Otherwise he would have explained that when the gentleman was thirsty and desired to enter a cafe, the lady would walk on the outside.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sculptor Alleges Injustice.

Information comes from France, where George Gray Barnard is working on the marble groups which are to be the chief adornment of the new state capitol at Harrisburg, that the sculptor has told intimate friends that he will wreck his creations before he will let them be taken across the ocean without a fair compensation for his several years of labor. He was to have $100,000 for the work, but the payments have been delayed. An order to prepare replicas of his statues for exhibition at the opening had been nearly completed when it was countermanded, although Barnard had expended $4,000 upon it.

HARD TO SEE.

Even When the Facts About Coffee Are Plain.

It is curious how people will refuse to believe what one can clearly see. Tell the average man or woman that the slow but cumulative poisonous effect of caffeine—the alkaloid in tea and coffee—tends to weaken the heart, upset the nervous system and cause indigestion, and they may laugh at you if they don't know the facts.

Prove it by science or by practical demonstration in the recovery of coffee drinkers from the above conditions, and a large per cent. of the human family will shrug their shoulders, take the drugs and—keep on drinking coffee or tea.

"Coffee never agreed with me nor with several members of our household," writes a lady. It enervates, depresses and creates a feeling of languor and heaviness. It was only by leaving off coffee and using Postum that we discovered the cause and cure of these ills.

"The only reason, I am sure, why Postum is not used altogether to the exclusion of ordinary coffee is, many persons do not know and do not seem willing to learn the facts and how to prepare this nutritious beverage. There's only one way—according to directions—boil it fully 15 minutes. Then it is delicious." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville, in pkgs. ON ENGLISH LINES.

LOSS OF LIFE BY ACCIDENT HAS BEEN BELITTLED.

Recently Published Statistics Prove That Claim to Greater Safety There is Not Supported by Facts.

More people were killed on English railways last year than at any period during the last 16 years. This startling fact—just brought to light in a government report—makes no reference to the terrible Salisbury accident which happened on July 2, this year; and added another monumental halo to the category of English railway fatalities. England has always made a point of emphasizing and advertising the "reckless disregard of human life," exhibited by American railway management. Since the awful Salisbury disaster, however, in which so many Americans lost their lives, there has been significant silence; and now that the board of trade report is published, it reveals another case of stone-throwing from glass houses.

As a matter of fact, during the past three years, there have been so many serious disasters on English railways, the conclusion is justified that, taking the total mileage of the two countries, England has no reason whatever to boast of its immunity from accident. Considering that America has more miles of railway than all the other nations of the earth put together, the statistics of fatal accidents compare very favorably with those of other countries. When it is borne in mind that England only has 38,421 miles of track, and that the greater portion of this is a "double," and often "four-track" system—greatly reducing the element of natural danger—and considering that, even with this double and four-track system, some of the accidents in England are quite as terrible as those on the worst American single-track lines, the United States has cause almost for gratulation rather than otherwise.

When, again, inquiry is made into the cause of accidents on English railways, the fact is revealed that many mishaps are due to the crass negligence of underpaid, overworked officials; or else to defects in the construction of the much-bragged-about "English roadbed," costing $200,000 a mile. It will be remembered that the cause of the disaster at Salisbury was the sharpness of the curve at the station—a clear case of miscalculation on the part of the engineers responsible for the construction of this section. Without accusing government officials—who are certainly above such practices—of deliberately juggling with accident statistics, it must be pointed out that the figures in the board of trade report exhibit certain peculiarities which, to say the least, do not set forth the full facts. For instance, it is pointed out that while, in 1905, 1,099 persons were killed and 6,459 injured by accidents due to the running of trains, or the movement of railway vehicles, strong emphasis is given to the fact that only 39 passengers were killed. It is almost implied by the report that the other 1,066 deaths "didn't count."

At the same time, it must be remembered that many of these "39 deaths," not included in the fatal 39, were caused directly by peculiarities of English railways. Certain of these accidents could not possibly have happened on American trains. For instance, 33 deaths were due to persons falling out of carriages during the running of trains, while 46 persons were injured from the same cause. These fatalities are directly attributable to the fact that nearly all English railway carriages open by a number of doors on each side of the train. These doors are often fastened by old-fashioned spring-locks which fail to "catch," or by other crude devices. As a consequence, passengers are liable, while a train is moving rapidly—especially on local lines—to lean up against these doors, which are not locked. In many instances, doors fly open and passengers get killed. And yet, in the board of trade report such fatalities are not included under the head of "accidents," but are set down as carelessness on the part of travelers.

Safest Place in Trains.

"I have one rule for my family when they travel," said the conductor of the suburban train, "and that is for them never to ride in the rear coach or the first one, and, preferably, not in the coach next to the last or first. The reason for it is so obvious that I should think the foremost and last cars of a train would have scant patronage from anybody who reads of railroad accidents. If there is a smash up those are the coaches that suffer."

"It seems strange that some kind of a buffer is not put behind the locomotive tender and at the rear of the train. How many lives would be saved by a device of the kind one has only to study the statistics of railroad accidents to figure out for himself."

Neatly Stopped.
A passenger on a certain railway train expressed his opinion about the extremely slow time that was being made, and concluded by saying: "This must be the train the jokebooks tell about."

The conductor happened through the car at this moment. "Is that so? Well, I've been on this road for five years," he began, but was interrupted with:

"Indeed? At what station did you get on?"

WOMEN'S WOE

Thousands of women suffer daily backache, headache, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and a dozen other symptoms of kidney trouble, but lay it to other causes. Make no mistake. Keep the kidneys well, and these aches and troubles will disappear.

The urine was greatly disordered and I began to have the swellings of dropsy. I was running down fast, when I started using Doan's Kidney Pills. A wonderful change came and after using them faithfully for a short time I was well."

Keeping Parents in Subjection.
In the life of the very rich some parents still seek to resemble those curfew incarnate in humble life who keep the girls at home and the boys out of the barrooms. Middle life and old age are too hidebound to get accustomed to the manners of the new generation of young men who are old and worn before they graduate and of young women who win or lose large sums at gambling. Children have a right to expect from their parents docile obedience. At first this may be difficult, but, as Aristotle says, "Virtue is a habit," and it can be acquired. —N. Y. Evening Post.

"For over thirty-five years I was a severe sufferer from eczema. The eruption was not confined to any one place. It was all over my body, limbs, and even on my head. I am sixty years old and an old soldier, and have been examined by the Government Board over fifteen times, and they said there was no cure for me. I have taken all kinds of medicine and have spent large sums of money for doctors, without avail. A short time ago I decided to try the Cuticura Remedies, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, two treatments in all, I am now well and completely cured. THEY CURE RHEUMATISM

A Particularly Painful Form of This Disease Yields to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Of the many forms which rheumatism takes, that which is popularly known as sciatic rheumatism probably tortures its victim more than any other. That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured this stubborn as well as painful trouble is a fact proven by the following statement, and no sufferer who reads this can afford to let prejudice stand in the way of trying these blood-making pills.

Rheumatism is now generally recognized as a disease of the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make—actually make—pure blood. When the blood is pure there can be no rheumatism. Mrs. Thomas Bresnahan, of 64 Mill street, Watertown, N. Y., says:

"My trouble began with a severe cold which I took about a week before Christmas in 1894. I began to have rheumatic pains in my back and limbs and after a time I couldn't straighten up. I suffered the most awful pain for months and much of the time was unable to leave the house and I had to take hold of a chair in order to walk and sometimes I could not stand up at all.

"The disease was pronounced sciatic rheumatism and, although I had a good physician and took his medicine faithfully, I did not get any better. After some six weeks of this terrible pain and suffering I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and that is the medicine that cured me. After a few boxes the pain was less intense and I could see decided improvement. I continued to take the pills until I was entirely cured and I have never had any return of the trouble."

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or the remedy will be mailed postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

LINER RAMS A BATTLESHIP

THE VIRGINIA AND MONROE COLLIDE IN HAMPTON ROADS.

Steering Gear of Fighting Craft Comes Deranged, Causing Her to Sheer From Her Course.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 5.—The battleship Virginia was rammed Saturday in Hampton Roads by the Old Dominion liner Monroe. Both vessels came afterward to this port. The Monroe inward bound from New York, landed her passengers at her pier, while the battleship following shortly under her own steam proceeded to the Norfolk navy yard.

The Virginia sailed from Old Point about nine o'clock, bound for Norfolk. Shortly afterward the Monroe came in, following the battleship through Hampton Roads. Off Sewells Point the Virginia slowed down, apparently, and the Monroe immediately rang down.

The Virginia's steering gear seemed to become deranged, and she sheered out of her course. The Monroe could not stop nor could she change her course in time, she struck the battleship on the after part of her armor belt and raked her starboard quarter. One set of the battleship's davits were turned in board while two of the battleship's 6-inch and one of her 3-inch guns were raked and probably materially damaged.

The Monroe sustained a bad twist of her steel prow and the damage to her may prove more serious than now apparent. A survey will be made of both vessels.

There were many immigrants aboard the Monroe, and when the ships crashed the women set up a loud outcry. They were soon calmed.

It is stated that the battleship had no Virginia pilot aboard at the time of the collision.

The Old Dominion officials here state that the Monroe is not seriously damaged.

NOTED THEOSOPHIST INJURED

Col. Olcott Sustains Serious Hurts in Italian Railway Wreck.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Col. Henry Steele Olcott, of Adyar, India, the president-founder of the theosophical society and coworker in her lifetime of the late Helen F. Blavatsky, has been seriously injured in a railway wreck in Italy, according to private advices received Sunday by a member of the society in this city.

Beyond stating that he had been placed in a hospital and is "in a bad way," no details are given.

Because of his advanced age fears for his recovery are entertained.

Col. Olcott at the time was on his way home to India from Chicago where he had presided at the annual convention of the American section of the Theosophical society, held in that city in September.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3.—Five indictments for peonage against well-known manufacturers were returned by the federal grand jury here Friday as the result of a special investigation by Assistant Attorney General Charles Russell, of the department of justice in Washington.

Those indicted are: F. B. Cole, one bill; Jean Reinhold, two bills; and H. L. Ziegler, two bills, all of Newman, Ga.

The investigation was instigated by the complaints of a number of German immigrants who were induced to come south by the southern immigration bureau of New York under promise of employment in a furniture factory at Newman.

ENGINE SMASHES INTO SALOON

Two Men Killed in Accident to Freight Train at Rome, N. Y.

Rome, N. Y., Nov. 5.—A locomotive drawing an east-bound freight train on the Central railroad jumped the track here Sunday, and plunged into a saloon at the corner of James street and the railroad.

Engineer Albert Brown, of Little Falls, was caught in the wreckage and scalded to death.

The wrecked engine was hauling a train of 50 loaded cars. At the station in this city the engineer received the signal to cross over to another track. Romance in Writers' Lives.

A strange comedy and tragedy was woven into the lives of Ibsen and Bjornson. As young men they were great friends; then politics fung them apart; they quarreled and never met for years and years. Strange fate brought the children of these two great writers together and Bjornson's daughter married Ibsen's only child. The fathers met after a quarter of a century of separation at the wedding of their children.

The Ideal Family Laxative.

Is one that can be used by the entire family, young and old, weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects. It should have properties which insure the same dose always having the same effect, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. These properties can be found in that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, because its ingredients are of the purest herbal extracts, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which allows them to mellow. We do not believe there is a laxative on the market that is so carefully made.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pills your grandparents used. They have been in use for over a century and are for sale everywhere, either plain or sugar-coated.

Uncanny Chinese Legend.

There are the two celebrated towers of the imperial city, the Bell tower and the Drum tower. As to the casting of the bell in the former there is this legend: There had been two unsuccessful attempts and the life of the founder was threatened in case of a third failure. His daughter discovered by occult means that nothing but the blood of a virgin mingled with the molten metal would insure success. So at the next casting she sacrificed her life by throwing herself into the molten metal, leaving only one shoe behind. The casting was perfect. But when the bell was first struck "all were horror-stricken as, under the heavy boom of the bell, came a low wail, as of a girl in agony, distinctly saying the word 'heish,' shoe. And to this day people when they hear it, say, "There's poor Ko-ai's voice calling out for her shoe."—Shanghai Times.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters—Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician at this critical period.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude; when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and from mothers, expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them, have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., at Lynn, Mass.

Miss Mills has written the two following letters to Mrs. Pinkham, which will be read with interest:

We are Thirteen Years Old.

As a Birthday Party We hold a Wonderful Sale--A Grand Bargain Event

Looking backwards forty-one years to our small beginning in Elgin, we will liken the store we had then to the little acorn. It was thoroughly sound and the meat was fertile and ready to begin a lusty growth.

The "meat" was square dealing—honest values—dependable merchandise—the public's confidence—a cash policy. And it thrived and grew, till thirteen years ago we moved into our present commodious, convenient and well-lit building.

The Mighty Oak from the Little Acorn Grows

Our very little store of forty-one years ago was a healthy "little seed"—it grew marvelously. Since moving into the bigger store thirteen years ago it has continued to grow.

Not often do we exult or crow, but really we are proud of our growth—the success of our store, proud of the appreciation our earnest endeavors have met with—and above all, proud of the loyalty of our store friends,

So much for retrospective views

Now for the celebration of the Thirteenth Anniversary of our occupancy of our present store—for we are going to round up these resultful years with a celebration—a glorious, gala one—a birthday party—a sensational selling event of brand new merchandise.

The coming week will be a week EXTRAORDINARY from the opening of the doors Saturday morning—this store will distribute special bargains in every department, and exhibits of new merchandise will be on view.

When we announce a sale we expect to pay a revenue. And we do, for profits are all on your side now.

Sale will open Saturday, Nov. 10
and continue for an entire week

We are Thirteen Years Old.

As a Birthday Party We hold a Wonderful Sale--A Grand Bargain Event

Looking backwards forty-one years to our small beginning in Elgin, we will liken the store we had then to the little acorn. It was thoroughly sound and the meat was fertile and ready to begin a lusty growth.

The "meat" was square dealing—honest values—dependable merchandise—the public's confidence—a cash policy. And it thrived and grew, till thirteen years ago we moved into our present commodious, convenient and well-lit building.

The Mighty Oak from the Little Acorn Grows

Our very little store of forty-one years ago was a healthy "little seed"—it grew marvelously. Since moving into the bigger store thirteen years ago it has continued to grow.

Not often do we exult or crow, but really we are proud of our growth—the success of our store, proud of the appreciation our earnest endeavors have met with—and above all, proud of the loyalty of our store friends,

So much for retrospective views

Now for the celebration of the Thirteenth Anniversary of our occupancy of our present store—for we are going to round up these resultful years with a celebration—a glorious, gala one—a birthday party—a sensational selling event of brand new merchandise.

The coming week will be a week EXTRAORDINARY from the opening of the doors Saturday morning—this store will distribute special bargains in every department, and exhibits of new merchandise will be on view.

When we announce a sale we expect to pay a revenue. And we do, for profits are all on your side now.

Sale will open Saturday, Nov. 10
and continue for an entire week
Until and including Saturday, Nov. 17

COME EARLY IN THE DAY—YOU'VE HEARD OF THE EARLY BIRDS.
