NOTES FROM THE COURT HOUSE

Hinckley Youths Are Fined For Creating a Disturbance

CARRIERS OF MOONSHINE FINED

Bill in Partition of Farm Land Filed By Arthur Johnson of Rockford Against Heirs

John A. Bremner, Cecil Hawley and Stanley Bastian of the village of Hinckley were brought up before Police Magistrate Mitchell of Sycamore on Monday, November 6th, on charges of disturbing the peace in the village of Hinckley, Saturday, October 9th. They created a disturbance in the streets of the village.

The trio when brought before the police magistrate by State's Attorney Poust entered a plea of "guilty" and were assessed a fine and to pay the costs of prosecution amounting to the sum of $52.70, which they paid and were discharged.

Charles N. Hurley, a railroader of DeKalb, who was arrested in Sycamore by the Chief of Police on charges of possessing liquor was brought up before Judge Pond in the county court on information filed against him by State's Attorney Poust, and after a hearing was assessed a fine of $100 and costs.

Hurley last Saturday drove into Sycamore in his Oldsmobile machine and after procuring some gasoline started his car and when in the middle of State Street collided with Frank Miller, 11 years old, riding on a bicycle. The boy was knocked from the bicycle and injured. Hurley's actions seemed peculiar after the accident and when searched a pint bottle of moonshine was found in a pocket. He was promptly arrested.

The testimony at the hearing showed that Hurley was not to blame entirely for the accident as the boy was riding his bicycle on the wrong of the street. Hurley testified that his nervous actions were the result of the scare after he had hit the boy. He admitted purchasing the booze and having it in his possession and for this violation of the law was fined as above stated.

Fidelia Ford of the village of Hinckley was declared to be incapable of managing her own affairs by a jury before Judge Pond on Monday afternoon, and A. O. Skaggs of Hinckley was appointed conservator for her. She is 95 years of age and has the life use of a farm in Hinckley which she rents and from which she derives a small income.

Anna M. Benson of Rochelle obtained a judgment by confession on November 6, in the circuit court for the sum of $416.40 against Robert Benson of DeKalb county. The judgment is based on a note executed by the defendant on October 3rd for the sum of $360 bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent.

The Citizens National Bank of Sycamore recovered a judgment by confession in the court on November 3, for the sum of $417.15 against Helen J. Snow and Byron J. Snow.

T. Arthur Johnson of the city of Rockford, filed a bill for partition in the circuit court on November 4th, 1922 against Edward G. John, Reuben R. Johnson, Minnie E. Ryan, Mary Benson, Martha Perias, Pearl Eames, Tille Mohrhood and Irving Eames.

On September 7th, 1922 Andrew J. Johnson, the father of T. Arthur Johnson, the complainant died, possessing the south-west one fourth of Section 35, Township 40 north range 3 also Lot 2 in Block 7 of Lewis Huntley's addition and Lot 1, Block 11 of H. D. Hunt's addition in the city of DeKalb.

At the time of his death T. Arthur Johnson left surviving the complainant and the defendants, his children and only heirs at law. By reason of the death of the father each of the children are entitled to an undivided one-ninth of the property.

Irving Eames is a tenant on the first piece of the above described property under a lease which expires March 1, 1923; Tony Miller occupies the second piece of property of James and Caroline Field and asks that in the event a division cannot be made then that all of it be sold and the proceeds be divided.

Judge Slusser after hearing several default matters and motions excused the petit jury of the circuit court until November 27th, at which

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Heckman of Fargo, North Dakota

Word was received by the Republican office late last week of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Heckman of 1015 Second Avenue, So., Fargo North Dakota of a banquet in honor of that esteemed couple's fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Heckman were former residents of Kingston, altho Mr. Heckman is now a member of the Genoa lodge I. O. O. F.

The following letter was received: 1872-1922

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gardner served a seven o'clock dinner Monday evening, November 6, at their home at 1015 Second Avenue So., Fargo N. D. in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the later's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Heckman.

The invited guests present were: J. B. Mead, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Gardner, Miss Mary Gardner, Joseph Schak, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McKinnon (Faith Gardner) and daughter, Mary Jean, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gardner all of Fargo.

The aged couple were the recipients of substantial gifts of gold from immediate family, invited guests and distant relatives.

Following the dinner, Mrs. F. L. Gardner read a fine poem appropriate to the occasion. H. B. Gardner made a presentation speech in behalf of invited guests and Miss Mary Gardner gave several selections from her repertoire of readings.

Mr. and Mrs. Heckman were married November 6, 1872 at the home of Mrs. Heckman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Mead, now deceased, east of Kingston, Ill. For 46 years they lived in Kingston and vicinity, removing to Fargo in 1918. Their family of three children are all living.

Of those who attended the wedding in 1872, the following are living: J. B. Mead, Fargo, N. D., Mrs. Kate Arbuckle, Miss Sue McDonald of Kingston, Dan S. McDonald of Elgin and Ben O. Mead of Marengo.

SHORTAGE OF GRAIN CARS

Drastic Measures Taken To Insure Movement of Grain

"EMPTIES" ARE IN THE EAST

In Case an Individual Cannot Secure Grain Car, Notify the Illinois Agricultural Association

The DeKalb County Soil Improvement association has received a letter from the Transportation Department of the Illinois Agricultural Association which sets forth several facts that are of interest to every farmer and shipper. A copy of the letter follows:

"During the past several weeks complaints have been coming to us relative to the shortage of cars for the loading of grain at country elevators, and we have endeavored to take care of the individual complaints with the railroads involved.

Figures of the American Railway association show that on October 1, 1922, railroads in the Allegheny and Pocahontas regions had from 30 to 48 per cent more cars on line that owned, while carriers in the central and western regions had approximately 16 1/2 per cent less cars on line than owned, as of the same date. This shows that cars belonging to western lines were accumulating on the rails of the eastern lines.

This developed the fact that the Illinois railroads were loading a great many cars to eastern lines and were not receiving the return of empty cars as promptly as they should.

Of all the factors contributing to the present grain car shortage, this seemed to be the biggest one and accordingly the efforts of the Illinois Agricultural association and the American Farm Bureau federation was directed along these lines, before the Interstate Commerce commission, the Illinois Commerce commission, and Car Service division of the American Railway association.

After a careful study of all conditions and becoming impressed with the emergency arising, the American Railway association issued a Service Order on October 25.

This order is the most drastic ever issued and was promulgated for the purpose of aiding farmers and other shippers in the movement of their products.

The car supply for the loading of grain has been generally bad. Illinois lines were able to meet about 20 to 50 per cent of the actual requirements.

Recent reports indicate the movement of empty cars to western connections and in some instances eastern lines are bringing empties in train loads. This will gradually relieve the situation and we believe that by the end of the week the situation will become more improved.

We suggest that all those interested make it a point to see that orders for the proper number of cars are placed with local agents and that their elevators are given their proper quota of cars.

We wish to mention that two of the principal factors given consideration in car distribution are the quantity of grain on hand and the ability to load promptly.

Reports in individual cases of inability to obtain cars should be directed to the transportation department of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In gathering the election returns for the two precincts of Genoa we mislaid two seemingly important ballots; namely, the soldiers' bonus and the light beer and wine ballot. Please accept our apologies and read the following:

BEWARE SMALLPOX

The Safest Way is to be Vaccinated at Once

The epidemic of small pox that has been infesting our neighboring communities on the south and now has reached Charter Grove has put this city up in arms. We do not want it here and we are not going to get it if preventative measures can stop it.

Therefore it has been ordered the authorities of the city of Genoa that all Children who attend school must be vaccinated at once or be put under a 20-day quarantine.

Dr. Rodney Wright, state health officer for this district will be in Genoa at 5 o'clock this (Thursday) evening to confer with the city council, and both school boards about other measures that should be taken to keep the sickness away.

JUDGE POND WILL SPEAK

Friday Evening at the Genoa Opera House on the New Constitution

County Judge W. L. Pond will speak Friday evening in the Genoa opera on the new constitution. He is entitled to talk on this subject to anyone for he is a member of the state committee on submission and address and it is his business to see that all of the people learn the truth about the new set of basic laws and their improvements over the old constitution.

There will be other speakers, too, who will talk on the subject of the adoption of the new constitution or its rejection on Tuesday, December 12. But, whatever you do, do not fail to hear Judge Pond Friday evening at eight o'clock.

Everybody is welcome. No admission fee is charged.

A PIONEER LAID AT REST

Geo. White, one of Ney's Oldest Settlers, Buried Saturday Afternoon

George White, son of John and Margaret White, was born on the farm homestead north of Genoa on October 14, 1849 and died November 9, 1922. He was a family of seven children, four boys and three girls. His father and mother and two brothers, Charles and John, having preceded him in death.

The deceased spent all his life on the farm, was painstaking and industrious, a good farmer and splendid neighbor. He was always held in the highest esteem by those who knew him.

It was in the church that he found the greatest enjoyment outside his home, serving for many years as trustee of the Ney Sunday school, teacher and superintendent of the Ney M. E. church. He was also vice-president of the Farmers State Bank from the time of its founding until his death.

Mr. White had been in failing health for two years and about two months ago he suffered a light stroke which confined him to his bed and from which he did not recover. Thursday morning, November 9, he passed to his reward.

The people of this vicinity lost a good neighbor and friend and while we together sorrow at his being taken away, we have joy in the knowledge that he lived to glorify God. He was an obedient follower of his Saviour, patiently endeavoring to do his will and humbly trusting in his mercy for salvation.

The burial was in the Genoa cemetery, Rev. Robeson officiating.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank those friends and neighbors who helped us so generously during the sickness of our beloved brother and for the beautiful flowers so freely given after his death.

Signed—Two sisters, brother, nephews

RUDOLPH VALENTINO

On the Road of Good Intentions

LEGION'S BAZAAR A SUCCESS

Woman's Auxiliary Serve Over Three Hundred—$50 on Fancy Work

Holidays may come and go, the 4th of July may be a national day of rejoicing, but Armistice day, November 11, is the day of the whole year for the members of the Bayard Brown Post American Legion and the Woman's Auxiliary as well as all other posts and affiliations, to justly celebrate that great day when the old whiz-bangs ceased to whiz and a buddy could safely stick his head over the top of a trench and look at the beautiful scenery. Such a celebration was fittingly staged last Saturday in the Genoa opera house. At twelve o'clock the auxiliary started serving dinner and they continued until over three hundred had partaken of the delicious chicken.

The fancy work and candy booths were patronized liberally as were the stands of the legion on the north side of the hall.

In the evening supper was served to about one hundred guests and then things were cleared up to make way for the dance.

Promptly at eleven o'clock the drawing of the Ford automobile took place, being won by Miss Gladys Montgomery. A hand made table cover was won by Mrs. Frank Haskins and Mrs. Charlie Duval was awarded the wild animal (a large chicken.)

The Auxiliary cleared about $215 and the boys escaped with $90 to their credit, which was remarkably considering the present condition of things in general.

The members of the Legion and the Auxiliary desire to thank everyone for the splendid co-operation and donations and hope that it will be with in their power to return the many favors at an early date.

MRS. J. D. CRFAT PASSES AWAY

Former Genoa Resident Died in Chicago Wednesday Evening, Nov. 8

Mrs. Emma Donahue Craft, age 60, passed away at her home in Chicago last Wednesday evening, November 8. Funeral services were held at the home and burial took place in the Genoa cemetery Saturday morning, November 11.

The deceased leaves to mourn her death her husband, J. D. Craft and sister, Mrs. Joane Foster and brother Ed, Donahue. Mrs. Ash Hewitt, Ella and Maggie Donahue and Mrs. Will Martin have preceded her in death.

Besides the above mentioned relatives she leaves a host of friends and relatives in and around Genoa where she once made her home, who mourn her sudden departure.

BASKET SOCIAL

Given by the Jolly Club at Friedens church Friday Evening, Nov. 24

The Jolly Club committee on entertainment will sponsor a basket social Friday evening, November 24, at the Friedens church. The baskets have been limited to an amount not to exceed three dollars.

The game of bunco will be played in the early part of the evening, favors being awarded to the two highest players and a consolation prize to the poorest player.

Everybody is welcome, come.

DINNER, BAZAAR AND DANCE

Under Auspices of The St. Catherine's Church of Genoa

THURSDAY THE 23RD NOVEMBER

Chicken Dinner at 12 O'Clock in St. Catherine's Hall—Bazaar and Dance in the Genoa Opera House

All eyes are focused on the chicken dinner, bazaar and dance to be given by the people of St. Catherine's parish next week Thursday November 23. This is an annual event which needs no introduction because of its customary huge success and large attendance.

To begin with the ladies will serve a chicken dinner at noon in St. Catherine's hall and in the afternoon the bazaar will be held in the opera house. That there is sure to be a superabundance of fancy work and hand made articles it is useless to say, for one will find the booths literally swamped with the choicest things imaginable.

In the evening a dance will be held on the opera house floor with music furnished by a good Belvidere orchestra.

Everybody welcome. Come and spend the day.

MILK PRODUCERS' CO. HARD HIT

Treasurer Resigns—Price Cut Last Hope to Save 'Selves—Rockwell

A break in the ranks of the committee of nine of the Milk Producers' Cooperative Marketing company came last Tuesday with the announcement that Daniel C. Gilly has pledged himself to the board of directors of the milk producers by reducing the would resign from the committee.

Well Known Among Dairymen

Gilly, one of the most prominent dairymen in the so-called Chicago district and treasurer of the association in a signed statement, made at a meeting of directors declared "he cannot see where the marketing company is serving the best interests of the milk producers by reducing the retail price of milk in Chicago."

"Mr. Gilly's resignation will have much to do to clarify the present situation," said President Holt of the association. "Mr. Gilly has been representing the committee of nine as representing the producers' association. It placed him in an embarrassing position."

No Successor Named

The Elgin Courier says: Whether Gilly's place on the committee of nine is to be filled could not be learned today. It was stated that the committee was appointed to solve problems of milk producers. The Sapiro contract is the result of their work.

"I do not look upon the cut in milk prices by the marketing company as a slap at the association, but rather their last hope to save themselves," was the statement of Secretary E. C. Rockwell of the association.

Through retail dealers the marketing company Monday announced a plan whereby milk is to be sold direct to consumers at 10 cents a quart, a two cent reduction from the prevailing price.

Plans for conducting a membership campaign were adopted at Monday's meeting of association directors.

NOMINATE JUDGE SLUSSER

To the Supreme Bench at the Republican Judicial Convention

Circuit Judge Massini Slusser of Wheaton, has been nominated by the republican judicial convention for justice of the Illinois supreme court, to fill one of the two offices created by the proposed constitution which comes up for ratification at a special Frederick R. DeYoung of Hervey is election to be held December 12, the Cook county republican nominee.

Election of the two additional justices allotted to the present seventh supreme court district, embracing the counties of Cook, Lake, Will, DuPage and Kane, depends upon whether the constitution is ratified. If the measure is defeated at a vote of the people December 12, these offices are nullified.—Elgin News.

Judge Slusser is a member of the judicial circuit and sits in court at Sycamore.

NOTICE

Any one found trespassing on my farm will be prosecuted. Albert Morehouse.

HALF SOLES ON TOP OF LADDER

Polecats, Without a Game to Their Credit Will Claw Someone Thursday

Last Thursday evening witnessed the sixth successive win of the shoe factory Half soles and the fourth straight loss of the polecats. Other teams have one and lost so they are not eligible to the championship, cellar or otherwise.

In the opening game of the evening the Spark plugs fired where others failed and slipped a pail of lard under the greashound's nose thereby enabling them to twist the tail of the hound for a victory. The second game between the Moon dogs and the Half soles was finished as per order of the Imperial potentate cutter who ordered the tongues out of the soles and proceeded to lace the Moon dogs into submission. The last game was rather one sided for, the Moondogs being mad at the severe whipping administered by the Half soles, immediately sought solace by treeing the Pole cats under an avalanche of runs, in fact so dense was the score book with figures that the final count could hardly be decided—as to the number of runs the Moon dogs should have.

This (Thursday) evening the Polecats and the Moon dogs' hook up in the opening game and the Spark plugs and Half soles play the second game. The third game will be a contest between the Grease-hounds and the Pole cats.

GENOA BOYS IN TOILS

Maurice Bowman and Walter Wilcox to Co. Jail—DeFault Payment Fine

Maurice Bowman, 22 years of age and Walter Wilcox, 19 years old, and both of this city, after consuming a quantity of the forbidden beverage proceeded to cut capers on the streets of our town. Officer Wm. Heed in company with Henry Wahl, saw the two me and decided that their spree should be ended and arrested both of them.

The two young men were arraigned in the county court on Monday before Judge Pond on information filed against them by State's Attorney Poust and on their plea of guilty to the charge of possessing and transporting liquor were each assessed a fine of $100.00 and costs. In default of the payment of the fine and costs they were committed to the county jail.

A FEW ARTICLES LEFT

At the bazaar held last Saturday under the auspices of the Bayard Brown Post American Legion and the Woman's Auxiliary, there were a few aprons, handkerchiefs and towels that were not sold. Anyone wishing to purchase them may do so by making an appointment with Mrs. F. W. Duval at her home.

BASKET SOCIAL

The Base Line school will hold a basket social Friday evening, November 24. Home-made candy and popcorn balls will be on sale. Ladies will please bring baskets. Coffee will be served.

W. A. EXTEND THANKS

The ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary wish to thank all and especially those outside of the unit who gave so willingly of food, fancy work and aprons in order to make the bazaar a success.

True Happiness.

EIGHT G. O. P. SENATORS OUT

Al Smith's Success in New York Starts His Boom for Presidential Nomination—Turkish Nationalists Goading the Allied Nations to Drastic Action.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

AL SMITH, former governor of New York, has been elected to that office again by a huge plurality and already is being boomed for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1924. Regardless of party affiliations, do you think he would make a good nominee, and a good President if elected?

REPUBLICAN control of congress was almost swept away in the Democratic landslide at the election on November 7. According to the returns at this writing, the G. O. P. in the next congress will have 53 senators, compared with 60 now, and the Democrats will have 42 compared with 36 now. Doctor Shipstead, who defeated Senator Kellogg in Minnesota, represents the Farmer-Labor party.

The lower house of the Sixty-eighth congress will be composed of 225 Republicans, 207 Democrats, one Socialist, one Independent and one Farmer-Labor member. If these figures are not changed by the revised returns, the Republicans will have a majority over all of 15.

Nine senate seats were lost by the Republicans, by the defeat of Senators DuPont in Delaware, France in Maryland, Townsend in Michigan, Kellogg in Minnesota, Frelinghuysen in New Jersey, Calder in New York, Poindexter in Washington, and Sutherland in West Virginia, and of Albert J. Beveridge in Indiana. The Democrats lost two seats through the downfall of Senators Hitchcock in Nebraska and Pomerene in Ohio.

Among the outstanding results of the election was the great victory of Al Smith in New York. He defeated Miller for the governorship, which he once before held, by a plurality of more than 390,000. This makes him a logical possibility for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1924, and already his enthusiastic admirers are booming him for that honor. One possible rival, Senator Pomerene, is removed by his defeat for re-election by Fess, Republican, but it is likely Cox will want to try again. Another man who may be put forward by the Democrats is S. M. Ralston of Indiana, who defeated Beveridge for the senate and who is very popular among the Hoosiers.

Necessarily the election has its effects, also, on Republican presidential probabilities. Some politicians in Washington think President Harding will not seek another nomination because the great reverses sustained by his party are interpreted as the expression of dissatisfaction with his administration. However, if he should wish to lead the ticket again, two likely contenders for the place are now out of it—Beveridge of Indiana and Miller of New York. But there are other strong Republican possibilities.

Senator Hiram Johnson of California was returned with a big plurality; Gifford Pinchot won the governorship of Pennsylvania by 255,000 plurality; and Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania easily won re-election. Any one of these may reasonably ask the presidential nomination, and so, too, might Governor Allen of Kansas. There is some talk even of Senator McCormick of Illinois as the choice of the progressive Republicans; and of his party in Indiana, might get ambitious and offer himself. His followers, as well as those of Senator New, are accused of having knifed Beveridge at the polls, and the charge seems to be true, as Republican congressmen were elected in nine of the thirteen Indiana districts.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts just managed to weather the storm. His plurality over Gaston was about 8,000—a fourth of what it was in 1916. W. N. Ferris, who defeated Senator Townsend in Michigan, announces that his first effort when he gets to Washington will be to unseat Senator Newberry.

Irrespective of partisan feeling, there will be widespread regret over the defeat of Senators Kellogg of Minnesota and Poindexter of Washington, for both have proved themselves able, honest and industrious servants of the people. The same may be said for Hitchcock of Nebraska. Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, who was repudiated by his party two years ago, goes back for a third term with a majority of 34,000. Shortly before the election former President Wilson wrote a letter saying that if Reed were returned to the senate he would "of course be there a man without a party."

FOES of prohibition were considerably elated by certain features of the election. Illinoisans voted two to one for amendment of the Volstead act to permit beer and light wines; California defeated the proposed state enforcement law; Massachusetts rejected a proposal to harmonize the state prohibition law with the federal enforcement act; Governor Edwards of New Jersey, "wettest of the wets," was elected senator; New York Democrats won on a platform with a light wine and beer plank; and in Minnesota Congressman Volstead, author of the enforcement act, was defeated. The wets believe they have gained at least 30 and maybe 60 votes in the house.

On the other hand, the dries won a test vote in Ohio by 100,000, and their leaders insist they will still control congress. While Volstead was retired, the man who bent him, Rev. O. J. Kvale, Independent, says he is "firmer than Volstead." However, Volstead will normally be succeeded as chairman of the judiciary committee by Graham of Pennsylvania, who is decidedly liberal in the matter of prohibition.

It was a sad day for the once weaker sex. Of all the woman candidates for seats in the senate and house, only one was elected, and her term will end on March 4 next. She is Mrs. Winnifred Mason Huck, who will fill out the unexpired term of her father, the late Congressman-at-Large William E. Mason of Illinois. Moreover, as Representative Alice M. Robertson of Oklahoma was defeated by a mere man, there will not be one woman in the Sixty-eighth congress.

PRESIDENT HARDING still hopes to have the ship subsidy bill passed by this congress and therefore has called an extra session to begin November 20. The measure is almost certain to encounter stubborn opposition in the senate, and many leaders of both parties believe it cannot get through.

MUSTAPHA KEMAL PASHA and the Turkish national assembly are not satisfied with the victories they have already won and are threatening to stir up a lot more trouble in the Near East. The sultan's ministry having resigned, Rafet Pasha, nationalist governor of Constantinople, assumed power there, and the allied high commission accepted the new regime. But about the same time the Angora government demanded that the allied troops be removed from the city at once, stating that its occupation by foreign soldiery was inconsistent with Turkish independence. The nationalists also announced that foreign warships could not enter the straits without permission and then only one at a time, and that only one vessel of each nation should be stationed at Constantinople. These demands were firmly rejected by the allied high commission, the French agreeing with the British that no such concessions should be made tary control over the city until peace had been established and that the terms of the Mudania agreement must be observed. The request of the nationalists that the Turkish railways in Europe and Asia that have been under temporary allied control be handed over to them also was refused. Thereupon the Turks, reiterating their demands, called three additional classes to the colors and mobilized large forces near Constantinople. Lieutenant General Harington warned Rafet Pasha he would permit no usurpation of allied authority.

The allied governments admitted the situation was acute and growing dangerous. The British suggested postponement of the Lausanne conference, but M. Poincare for France urged that it open without delay. It was said that Lord Curzon, Poincare and Premier Mussolini all would attend the meeting because of the fear that the soviet Russians would try to persuade the Turks to join them in a combine for the domination of the Near East.

TO CELEBRATE the fifth anniversary of the Russian revolution, some 400,000 soviet troops and armed workers marched in review in Moscow last week before the delegates to the Third Internationale now in session. It was an inspiring sight for the communists who dream of world revolution. Premier Lenin did not appear before the Internationale, but others told of the Red progress in various lands. Leo Kamenoff admitted that there is "a temporary victory for reaction, capitalism and imperialism in the western countries, especially in Italy and Germany," but told the workers they must hold tight to their rifles. German delegates said there would be a Red revolution soon in their country.

FOLLOWING the advice of the international economic and financial experts, the German government has asked the reparations commission for a two-year moratorium on all reparations payments—coal, iron and other goods as well as cash—and for outside financial help. The experts assert that the stabilization of the mark, the first essential for the recovery of Germany, is impossible under present conditions and charge that the existing catastrophe is due to internal financial policies combined with the impossible conditions of the Versailles treaty. They propose the establishment of a currency bank which should have the support of foreign banks and also 500,000,000 gold marks from the Reichsbank's reserve. The lifting of restrictions abroad against German trade and giving to Germany full customs rights are recommended.

DECLARED, as they themselves declare, to smash the Irish Free State government or die in the attempt, the Irish republicans are keeping Dublin in a state of perpetual disorder and alarm by sniping, looting and incendiarism. Sometimes they get even bolder, as on Wednesday when they placed machine guns on housetops and made an attack on the Wellington military barracks. There were numerous casualties before the rebels were ousted. Mary Mac-Sweeney, sister of the late lord mayor of Cork, is in Mountjoy prison and has started on a hunger strike, declaring she will starve herself to death as did her brother in a British prison. Other republican prisoners have joined her in this.

JAPS INELIGIBLE FOR CITIZENSHIP

California Decision That Nipponese Not White Upheld by High Court.

LAW MEANS CAUCASIAN RACE

Supreme Tribunal's Final Decision Holds That Enlightenment and Culture of Mikado's People Is Not Germane to Controversy.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The United States Supreme court held that Japanese are not white within the meaning of the American law and are not entitled to citizenship in the United States. The decision was a confirmation of a ruling by the California Circuit Court of Appeals in a test case brought by Takao Ozawa of Honolulu, who claimed he was "white" and therefore eligible for citizenship in the United States. The Supreme court of the state of Washington was upheld in denying citizenship to Takju Yamashita and Charles Hio Kono of Seattle in the same decision.

The decision held that the two Japanese were not entitled to naturalization under United States laws and therefore could not enter a business partnership.

The Supreme court's decision in these cases has long been awaited, particularly on the Pacific coast, where anti-Japanese feeling exists. Ozawa contended he was entitled to American citizenship as a descendant of the white tribe of Aisu. He started his fight for citizenship several years ago in Hawaii, but was defeated in the courts there and also in the higher courts in California. Ozawa has lived in Hawaii since his childhood and was educated in the American schools there.

Yamashita presented an argument similar to that of Ozawa. He appealed to the Supreme court when the courts of the state of Washington denied him the privilege of incorporating a real estate company because of his ineligibility of citizenship.

Officers and Crew, Twenty in Number, Save Selves—Cargo Was Valued at $500,000.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 14.—After being buffeted by a heavy storm for two hours and springing four large leaks, the Nordland, package freighter of the Chicago and Milwaukee Steamship company, sank eight miles off St. Francis, near Milwaukee, in Lake Michigan. The vessel carried a cargo valued at $500,000.

The officers and crew, twenty in number and all of Chicago, took to the small boats fifteen minutes before the ship sank and rowed safely to shore despite a strong wind and high waves.

Mrs. W. H. Avis
Council Bluffs, Iowa.—"A few years ago after motherhood I could not gain back my strength. I developed quite a severe case of woman's trouble, suffered with bearing pains which would be so severe I would have to lie down. I became so weak that all I wanted to do was lie and rest. It seemed that every spark of vitality had left me. I consulted a doctor and he said nothing but an operation would help me, but I would not consent. I had seen Dr. Pierce's medicines advertised, so at once began taking the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it was not long until I noticed my appetite was returning, I could eat, so I knew the medicine was doing me good. I took about twelve bottles and it was well worth it for it completely restored me to health, without the operation."—Mrs. W. H. Avis, 314 S. 19th St.

HAVOC IN HOUSE OF DEAD
Egyptian Mourners for Departed Break All Mirrors and the Choicest of the Chinaware.

When a member of an Egyptian household passes away, every mirror in the house is taken out and smashed, together with the choicest of chinaware to be found in the home. It is always the women who do the breaking, while the men sit quietly in a room on the lower floor of the house and smoke.

Professional wailing women go to the home which has suffered a loss as soon as the news reaches them. They are not invited, but go of their own accord, taking with them drums, upon which they beat a loud tattoo. When the family, the professional mourners and the friends are all assembled at the house of mourning, the preparing of the house in honor of the dead begins. All of the pictures are turned face to the wall, the furniture is carried into the yard, the mirrors are taken out and smashed against a stone, and the choice china suffers the same fate.

While the women wail and break the mirrors and china they beat their faces until they are black and blue, and tear their hair until they are completely exhausted.

During all of this time the men have been silent, not even shedding a tear.

FAMOUS AS ANIMAL'S FRIEND
Irishman Father of Law Which Aimed to Put a Stop to Their Ill Treatment.

Richard Martin introduced into the British parliament in 1822 an act providing punishment for the "ill treatment of cattle," and by the force of his personality forced its passage as a law.

"Humanity" Martin, so named by King George IV because of his introduction and support of the law, was an Irish nobleman with immense estates in Galway.

Less than a year after Martin's death at Boulogne, France, in 1834, his original act was amended, and bull and bear baiting and cock fighting were prohibited throughout the British Isles.

Two years after the passage of the act Martin organized the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Queen Victoria later giving her approval to the addition of the word "Royal" to the title. From this society originated the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Hook and Eye Becomes Popular.
In the sixteenth century the manufacture of silk, which had formerly been imported from the East, was taken up in Italy, and the vogue of this lighter material created a demand for smaller and lighter dress fasteners. The hook and eye became more popular. Their manufacture was also made easier now by the application of water power to wire drawing, and from that time until the present day they have been continually in use.

The first modern improvement on all these fasteners of old were the attempts at spring fasteners made for the close-fitting gloves when they succeeded the gauntlet. About 1800 a sewed-on fastener with a spring was successfully tried out on all sorts of clothes, and the making of these little snaps has now become a world industry.

They have their place in the museum at Prague, but what a long road leads back through time from the snap fastener to the bone pin of the caverns in the Pyrenees!

Elk Teeth as Ornaments.
Indian braves decorated themselves with necklaces made of claws taken from the most ferocious animal in America, the grizzly bear. Only the squaws wore elk teeth as decorations, and they used only those from the animals killed for food and clothing. Now the white men are following the fashion of the squaws, but are paying a price that tempts the lowest characters to slaughter and waste the elk for these really worthless trinkets. A fuller understanding of the history and significance of the custom of wearing elk teeth should have an influence in deprecating the market for them and thus removing the incentive for this wanton destruction of our noblest and most valuable game animal.—Exchange.

Somewhat Odd Phrases.
"We use many phrases very glibly," said a college professor, "which have an entirely different meaning from the one we intended. We all speak, for instance, of a man being a scholar and a gentleman. It's supposed to be highly complimentary. Now I have spent the most of my life trying to be a scholar and I hope I am a gentleman, but why should we make the distinction? Another phrase insults a much larger class. It is the use of the word 'but' in the phrase, 'poor but honest.' This is a confession, of course, that it is a remarkable thing for a poor man to be honest."

If you are in doubt about the cream on your milk, add a tiny drop of spirits of salts. You can, by the way, also test your vinegar by the same method. If it is bogus vinegar a little spirits of salts will turn it a brilliant green.

It was the eighteenth time the place had been captured since the city was built.

MAKE EVERY SHADE OF TOOTH
Modern Dentist Able to Supply Every Color of Molar That May Be Demanded.

The manufacture of sets of jet black false teeth represents an out-of-the-way side of British enterprise. It will be news to most people that there is a definite trade in black teeth between England and the Orient, rendered necessary by the practice, so popular east of Suez, of chewing betel nut. As a masticatory the betel nut leaves chewing gum far behind, for it is reckoned that one-tenth of the human family indulge in it, but it stains the teeth of its votaries black as ebony. Hence, when they need artificial teeth to replace losses, those teeth must be black.

A definite side of modern dentistry is represented by these black teeth. No longer is it necessary for clients to accept teeth which stand out in challenging distinction to their neighbors and proclaim their artificiality to the world. Every shade and shape is now matchable. Even the bo'sun who for thirty years has been "rolling his quid" can be supplied with teeth bearing the counterfeit stains of tobacco juice. The ordinary person has 25 different shades at his disposal, and shapes seem to be innumerable. Even teeth with make-believe gold fillings are supplied.

RECOGNIZED POWER OF MUSIC
In All Ages the Value of Sweet Sounds Has Been Acknowledged by the Wise.

A leading educationalist has this to say concerning the value of music: "I cannot think of an ideal home without music, for it would surely be very incomplete without it. To me, the beauty of music cannot be described in words. There seems to be no state of mind that one can be in which music is not welcome. Even in the Bible we read that David played on the harp for Saul to quiet his troubled mind. We need music every day in our home more than any other place, for the good of our mind and body.

"The benefits of music are also reaching the hospitals, the homes of the sick, and busy people after a hard day's work find it refreshing to come home and hear its soothing strains.

"We also enjoy music in our homes of learning—the schools. The school orchestra and the songs we sing in assembly make us feel like starting out on the day's study in an excellent mood."

American "Molly Maguires."
The first organization known as the "Molly Maguires" was formed in Ireland, with the object, it is believed, of generally misusing process-servers and others engaged in the prosecution and eviction of tenants, and was composed of young men who, in some localities, assumed women's clothing, blackened their faces, and otherwise disguised themselves, the Detroit News remarks.

It remained, however, for the American "Mollies" to terrorize whole counties and leave a blood-red trail behind them in the coal regions of Pennsylvania from 1854 to 1877. The murders and outrages they committed were numbered by the hundreds, and the victims in most cases were well-known and respected men.

Finally the secrets of the order were revealed and many of its members were brought to justice.

Polite to Make Noise While Eating.
When an Abyssinian and his guest sit down to the table a woman is stationed on each side of them, not to dine, but to see that they get plenty to eat. These women cut the food and cram it into the mouths of the men with as much speed as possible.

To show their appreciation of the food which is set before them, the Abyssinians must make as much noise as possible in eating. The man who can manage the largest bites and make the most noise while doing so is held in high esteem by his fellows, and considered quite well bred.

The women vie with one another in trying to see who can feed the Abyssinian men the swiftest, and express keen pleasure when their particular charge makes the most noise while eating.

COMING TO SYCAMORE
Dr. Dieterich, specialist in internal medicine for the past eleven years. Does not operate. Will be at the Ward hotel Thursday, November 23 with office hours from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

One Day Only
No charge for consultation. Dr. Dieterich is a regular graduate in medicine and surgery and is licensed by the state of Illinois. He visits professionally the more important towns and cities and offers to all who call on this trip free consultation except the expense of treatment when desired.

According to his method of treatment he does not operate for chronic appendicitis, gall stones, ulcers of the stomach, tonsils or adenoids.

He has to his credit wonderful results in disease of the stomach, liver, bowels, blood, skin, nerves, heart, kidney, bladder, catarrh, weak lungs, rheumatism, sciatica, leg ulcers.

If you have been ailing for any length of time and do not get any better, do not fail to call, as improper measures rather than disease are very often the cause of your long standing trouble.

Remember above date, that consultation on this trip will be free and that his treatment is different.
Address: 336 Boston Block, Minneapolis, Minn.

Little Banking Stories

An Important Fact

Several men were talking one evening about some advertising the bank had sent them.

"I don't see why the banker wants us to go to him for advice," said one of them. "He has never been a farmer and he can't tell me how to farm."

"You don't get the right view point Tom," another man replied. "That banker is not asking you to come to him for advice. He asks you to come and talk with him about your problems so that he can understand you better and help you win."

"I've talked with that banker a good many times and I am very glad I have, for it has been a mighty good investment."

What do you think about it?

WORKS FOR CHILD MUST KEEP WELL

Mothers in a Like Situation Should Read This Letter from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 469 N. Carpenter St., Chicago, Illinois.

Often the mother is obliged to support her children and good health is necessary. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine you can depend upon. It is a medicine for women's ailments and the relief it brought Mrs. Enrico it may bring to you. Keep well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Coated Tongue Nature's Warning of Constipation. When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus replaces it. Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

In Feathers. "Feathers of the bird of paradise are now prohibited." "Then how do the women—?" "Oh, there's some bootlegging going on, of course."

DYED HER BABY'S COAT, A SKIRT AND CURTAINS WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her old, worn, faded things new. Even if she has never dyed before, she can put a new, rich color into shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything. Buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade or run.—Advertisement.

Watch Her Step. "She called me a cut." "Let it pass." "I won't let it pass!" "Do you propose, my dear, to prove she's right?"

Weak and Miserable? Are you dull, tired and aching—both-ered with a bad back? Do you lack ambition, suffer headaches and dizziness—feel "all worn out"? Likely your kidneys are to blame. Lameless, sharp stabbing pains, backache and annoying urinary disorders are all symptoms of weakened kidneys. Don't wait for more serious trouble. Get back your health and keep it! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands of folks tell their merits. Ask your neighbor!

An Illinois Case Mrs. M. Y. Cox, 614 Van Buren Ave., Dixon, Ill. says: "I had a heavy rain in the small of my back and it was painful for me to stoop or straighten up. I also had headaches and frequent dizzy spells. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and bought some. I used one box of Doan's and they entirely relieved the trouble."

Mary Marie

By ELEANOR H. PORTER

CHAPTER VII—Continued. —17—

AUGUST Well, of all the topsy-turvy worlds, this is the topsy-turviest, I am sure. What do they want me to do, and which do they want me to be? Oh, I wish I was just a plain Susie or Bessie, and not a cross-current and a contradiction, with a father that wants me to be one thing and a mother that wants me to be another! It was bad enough before, when Father wanted me to be Mary, and Mother wanted me to be Marie. But now— Well, to begin at the beginning. It's all over—the love story, I mean, and I know now why it's been so hard for me to remember to be Mary and why everything is different, and all. They don't want me to be Marie. They want me to be Marie. And now I don't know what to think. If Mother's going to want me to be Marie, and Father's going to want me to be Marie, how am I going to know what anybody wants, ever? Besides, it was getting to be such a beautiful love story—Father and Cousin Grace. And now— But let me tell you what happened. It was last night. We were on the piazza. Father, Cousin Grace, and I. She got up and went into the house for something—Cousin Grace, I mean—and all of a sudden I determined to tell Father how glad I was, about him and Cousin Grace; and how I hoped it would last—having him out there with us, and all that. And I told him. I don't remember what I said exactly. But I hadn't anywhere near said what I wanted to when he did stop me. Why, he almost jumped out of his chair. "Mary!" he gasped. "What in the world are you talking about?" "Why, Father, I was telling you," I explained. And I tried to be so cool and calm that it would make him calm and cool, too. (But it didn't calm him or cool him one bit.) "It's about when you're married and—"

"Married!" he interrupted again. (They never let me interrupt like that!) "To Cousin Grace—yes. But Father, you—you are going to marry Cousin Grace, aren't you?" I cried—and I did "most cry, for I saw by his face that he was not. "That is not my present intention," he said. His lips came together hard, and he looked over his shoulder to see if Cousin Grace was coming back. "But you're going to some time," I begged him. "I do not expect to." I fell back in my chair, and I know I looked grieved and hurt and disappointed. As I almost sobbed: "Oh, Father, and when I thought you were going to!" "There, there, child! He spoke, stern and almost cross now. "This absurd nonsensical idea has gone quite far enough. Let us think no more about it." "It isn't absurd and nonsensical!" I cried. And I could hardly say the words, I was choking up so. "Everybody said you were going to, and I wrote Mother so; and—" "You wrote that to your mother?" He did jump from his chair this time. "Yes; and she was glad." "Oh, she was!" He sat down sort of limp-like and queer. "Yes, she said she was glad you'd found an estimable woman to make a home for you."

"Oh, she did." He said this, too, in that queer, funny, quiet kind of way. "Yes," I spoke, decided and firm. I'd begun to think, all of a sudden, that maybe he didn't appreciate Mother as much as she did him; and I determined right then and there to make him, if I could. When I remember all the lovely things she'd said about him—"Father," I began; and I spoke this time, even more decided and firm. "I don't believe you appreciate Mother." "Eh, what?" He made me jump this time, he turned around with such a jerk, and spoke so sharply. But in spite of the jump I still held on to my subject, firm and decided. "I say I don't believe you appreciate my mother. You acted right now as if you didn't believe she meant it when I told you she was glad you had found an estimable woman to make a home for you. But she did mean it, I know, because she said it before, once, last year, that she hoped you would find one. Yes, and that isn't all. There's another reason why I know Mother always has—has your best interest at heart. She—she tried to make me over into Mary before I came, so as to please you."

"She did what?" Once more he made me jump, he turned so suddenly, and spoke with such a short, sharp snap. But in spite of the jump I went right on, just as I had before, firm and decided. I told him everything—all about the cooking lessons, and the astronomy book we read an hour every day, and the pink silk dress I couldn't have, and the self-discipline. And how she said if she'd had self-discipline when she was a girl, her life would have been very different. I talked very fast and hurriedly. I was afraid he'd interrupt, and I wanted to get in all I could before he did. But he didn't interrupt at all. He did not even stir until I said how at the last she bought me the homely shoes and the plain dark suit so I could go as Mary, and be Mary when Aunt Jane first saw me get off the train. When I said that, he dropped his hand and turned around and stared at me. And there was such a funny look in his eyes. Then he got up and began to walk up and down the piazza, muttering: "So you came as Mary, you came as Mary." Then, after a minute, he gave a funny little laugh and sat down. Mrs. Small came up the front walk to see Cousin Grace, and Father told her to go right into the library where Cousin Grace was. So we were left alone again, after a minute. It was "most dark on the piazza, but I could see Father's face in the light from the window; and it looked—well, I'd never seen it look like that before. It was as if something that had been on it for years had dropped off and left it clear where before it had been blurred and indistinct. No, that doesn't exactly describe it either. I can't describe it. But I'll go on and say what he said. After Mrs. Small had gone into the house, and he saw that she was sitting down with Cousin Grace in the library, he turned to me and said: "And so you came as Mary?" I said yes, I did. "Well, I—I got ready for Marie."

But then I didn't quite understand, not even when I looked at him and saw the old understanding twinkle in his eyes. "You mean—you thought I was coming as Marie, of course," I said then. "Yes," he nodded. "But I came as Mary." "I see now that you did. Well, Mary, you've told me your story, so I suppose I may as well tell you mine—now. You see, I not only got ready for Marie, but I had planned to keep her Marie, and not let her be Mary—at all." And then he told me. He told me how he'd never forgotten that day in the parlor when I cried and he saw then how hard it was for me to live room and shut the door. I heard it. And he was still there when I went up to bed afterward. How do you suppose Mother's going to feel when I tell her that after all her pains Father didn't like it at all. He wanted me to be Marie. It's a shame, after all the pains she took. But I won't write it to her, anyway. Maybe I won't have to tell her, unless she asks me. Oh, dear, dear me! Why couldn't Father and Mother have been just the common live-happy-ever-after kind, or else found out before they married that they were unlikes?

SEPTEMBER Well, vacation is over, and I go back to Boston tomorrow. It's been very nice and I've had a good time, in spite of being so mixed up as to whether I was Mary or Marie. It wasn't so bad as I was afraid it would be. Very soon after Father and I had that talk on the piazza, Cousin Grace took me down to the store and bought me two new white dresses, and the dearest little pair of shoes I ever saw. She said Father wanted me to have them. And that's all—every single word that's been said about that Mary-and-Marie business. And even that didn't really say anything—not by name. And Cousin Grace never mentioned it again. And Father never mentioned it at all. Not a word. Father's been queer. He's been awfully queer. Some days he's talked a lot with me—asked me questions just as he used to, all about what I did in Boston, and Mother, and the people that came there to see her, and everything. And he spoke of the violinist again, and, of course this time I told him all about him, and that he didn't come any more, nor Mr. Esterbrook, either; and Father was so interested! Why, it seemed sometimes as if he just couldn't hear enough about things. Then, all of a sudden, at times, he'd get right up in the middle of something I was saying and act as if he was just waiting for me to finish my sentence so he could go. And he'd go, just as soon as I had finished my sentence. And after that, maybe, he wouldn't hardly speak to me again for a whole day.

And so that's why I say he's been so queer since that night on the piazza. But most of the time he's been lovely, perfectly lovely. And so has Cousin Grace. And I've had a beautiful time.

CHAPTER VIII Which is the Real Love Story. BOSTON. FOUR DAYS LATER. Well, here I am again in Boston. Mother and the rest met me at the station, and everybody seemed glad to see me. Just as they did before. And I was glad to see them. But I didn't feel anywhere near so excited, and sort of crazy, as I did last year. I tried to, but I couldn't. I don't know why. Maybe it was because I'd been Marie all summer, anyway, so I wasn't so crazy to be Marie now, not needing any rest from being Marie. Maybe it was 'cause I sort of hated to leave Father.

And I did hate to leave him, especially when I found he hated to leave me. He said he'd be with me at the junction. He asked me had I been a little happier there with him this year than last; and he said he hoped I had. He said I would never know how he missed me after I went last year. He said you never knew how you missed things—and people—till they were gone. And I wondered if, by the way he said it, he wasn't thinking of Mother more than he was of me, and of her going long ago. And I told him I loved him dearly, and I had loved to be with him this summer, and that I'd stay his whole six months with him next year if he wanted me to.

He shook his head at that; but he did look happy and pleased, and said I'd never know how glad he was that I'd said that, and that he should prize it very highly—the love of his little daughter. He said you never knew how to prize love, either, till you'd lost it; and he said he'd learned his lesson, and learned it well. I knew then, of course, that he was thinking of Mother and the long ago. And I felt so sorry for him. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

His Time. There is a story told of Mark Twain's boyhood. He was staying with his brother, who was a model Christian. One morning, shortly after the family were seated at breakfast the voice of the young boy was heard from upstairs: "Has the Scripture been read?" "Yes," they answered. "Family prayers over?" "Yes." "All right, I'll be down in a minute."

Horrid Thing! "We had a splendid time in the country," said Mrs. Newrich, "and my husband has turned out to be a good shot. The men went out one day to do some shooting, and my husband got what they call a bull. And some mean old farmer made him pay for it."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

How many people think the world is drab-colored and life a failure, and so have done or said something they regret all their lives, when a vegetable pill or a brisk walk would have changed their vision completely.—An American Officer.

UNUSUAL DISHES These dishes are prepared from everyday materials, but so combined to make the dish out of the ordinary. Eminence.—Duck a la Newburg.—Pick small bits of meat from the bones, using the bones for a vegetable soup. Add the chopped giblets and meat from the neck. Make two cupfuls of cream sauce and add the prepared meat, two hard-boiled eggs cut in eighths, one cupful mushrooms; if fresh, par-boiled; the juice of half a lemon, one teaspoonful of paprika, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one-quarter teaspoonful of mustard, one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one-half teaspoonful of grated onion, one well-beaten egg, one tablespoonful of finely-minced parsley. Bring to the scalding point and then remove from the fire. Serve with waffles instead of toast. Garnish with parsley. Armenian Goulash.—Take two hearts of lamb, slit them and wash, removing the arteries. Cut in one-inch blocks and parboil, then drain. Mince nine eight large onions, three green peppers, and place in a deep saucepan with the hearts, one teaspoonful of thyme, a pinch of sage, and one quart of boiling water; cook until the meat is tender, then add a dozen small dumplings. To prepare, take one cupful of buttermilk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one egg and flour to make a drop mixture, adding salt to taste. Drop with a teaspoon and cook well-covered eight minutes. Lift the dumplings to a hot platter, thicken the gravy slightly, arrange the goulash around the platter and garnish with parsley. Cranberry Roll.—Take one cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, three tablespoonfuls of fat, mix with enough ice water to make a mixture to roll. Roll out one-quarter inch thick, cover with sweetened cranberries, roll up, brush the edge with water and place in a baking pan. Baste with sugar and water with a quarter of a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Eat either hot or cold.

"Surely, man is a wonderful, vain, diverse and wavering subject; it is hard to ground any directly constant and uniform judgment on him."

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY For those who think meat mince meat too hearty the following will be enjoyed: Fruit Mince.—Take one pound each of seeded raisins, dried peaches, one-half pound of dried apricots, one-half pound of candied citron, orange and lemon peel shredded fine, two quarts of cranberries. Put the above mixture through the coarsest knife of the food chopper. Place in a preserving kettle and add two pounds of white sugar and one and one-half pounds of brown sugar. Cook very slowly for one hour, then remove, cool and add five pounds of apples core and chopped without peeling. Add one pound of seedless raisins, four tablespoonfuls of cinnamon, one tablespoonful of ginger, one of allspice, one of cloves, one-half tablespoonful of grated nutmeg. Cover with a quart of boiled cider, boiled for ten minutes. Roman Pudding.—Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in three tablespoonfuls of water for one-half hour. In a saucepan place one cupful of milk, one-half cupful of sugar, the yolk of an egg, bring to the boiling point, add the gelatin and two teaspoonfuls of vanilla. Set aside to cool. Now add the stiffly-beaten white of the egg and beat all together for five minutes with a Dover egg beater. Pour into molds. Set on ice to chill and serve with stewed or canned fruit. Pumpkin Pie.—The sweet pumpkin cooked and prepared at home is always an improvement on the canned pumpkin. Cook the pumpkin until rich brown and dry. Take one cupful of the pumpkin, put through a sieve, add a little salt, a teaspoonful of ginger, a pint of rich milk, two slightly beaten eggs, one-third of a cupful of sugar, more or less, depending upon the sweetness of the pumpkin; a few drops of lemon extract; bake in a rich pastry shell in a slow oven until firm; at least an hour's baking will be needed. If liked very dainty, serve with whipped cream sprinkled with grated cheese. Beets and Spinach.—Cook beets until tender, drain and plunge into cold water to remove the skins. Scoop out the centers, leaving a thin shell. Fill the beet cup with boiled spinach that has been well seasoned, brush with beaten egg, roll in crumbs and fry in hot fat until brown. The center portions of the beet may be chopped and served with butter for another day's meal.

WESTERN CANADA for Wheat Growing, Cattle Raising and a Happy Home of Your Own

Prosperous Farms and Happy Homes await those who are desirous of enlarging their present resources and securing for themselves homes in a country that, while yet in its infancy, has made itself famous by the quality of the grain it produces and by the excellence of its live stock. There are Millions of Acres of the highest class of soil available for the man whose object in life is to become his own landlord, and who wishes to share in the opportunity which has given wealth to the thousands of Americans who, having started on Western Canada farms with but small means, are now writing home to their friends, telling of what they have done. Lands are cheap and homesteads farther from lines of railway are free to settlers. Upon these lands can be grown the best of wheat, oats, barley, flax, grass, hay, fodder corn and sunflowers. Cattle winter in most places without shelter; dairying is highly successful. Taxes only upon land (not on improvements). Perfect climate, attractive social conditions, good neighbors, churches, schools, telephones, excellent markets and shipping facilities. ### WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

SQUARE DEAL, THEIR SLOGAN

Commander and Buddies of Portland Oregon, Post No. 1, Insist on Fair Treatment of Men.

"We ask no favors, only the square deal." James J. Crossley, former major in the World War, and commander of Portland Post No. 1, Portland, Ore., declares the foregoing is the only platform on which he and his buddies have based their battles—and they've not been few—in behalf of former service men.

James J. Crossley

Since the boys came back to set their feet once more in the paths of peace, some of them bewildered by the changing conditions, all having lost several precious years from their lives in the matter of competing successfully in their work or professions, Mr. Crossley has spent much time and energy seeing to it that his comrades did receive a square deal, did have an opportunity to earn a livelihood unhampered.

Recently Commander Crossley took up the cudgels for two former service men who had passed the civil service examinations for a municipal position with grades higher than the man whom the mayor and city commissioners had decided to name. The successful candidate was undertaking, it was charged, to persuade the two former service men to withdraw, and seeking to use political influence gained through a considerable city service to aid him. Crossley immediately took the matter up for his post. He carried the fight straight to the mayor and commissioners. And the appointment went to the highest competitor—the former service man.

"We have been unusually fortunate in Portland," the commander is quoted as saying, "in placing our buddies in positions of trust they are capable of filling. Our municipal judge, the superintendent of the women's bureau of the police department and the chief clerk of the park bureau, saw service in the World's war. I believe one of the greatest duties of the American Legion is to fight for its members as against political influence which seeks to deprive them of positions and give them as plums of politics. Legion officers should be ever on the alert. Often those with authority to make appointments are glad to choose Legion men, if only the Legion shows an interest and asks that it be done. We must always be ready to present our case whenever it is necessary. The American public wants to see its former soldiers receive justice. The Legion is the public's representative as well as the veterans'."

PRAYS FOR BOY'S RETURN

Gray-Haired Mother of Leo Crete, Fisherville, Mass., Seeks Help of American Legion.

There's a mother in Fisherville, Mass., who says she has only one hope, one joy in life left to live for—and that's to see her son again. He has not written to her, nor has she heard from him for more than two years. And daily she prays, she writes the American Legion national headquarters, that Leo Crete, the son, be returned to her.

"Now I am writing you, with a mother's prayer, to try and locate my son," the mother, Mrs. Wilfred Crete, Providence Road, Fisherville, says, in her letter. "I have prayed and prayed for the last two years with no reward. I keep worrying and worrying over him, and now I am a gray-haired mother, longing for my boy. My heart is filled with anguish. I want him so; want him to come home to me."

The accompanying picture of Leo was taken when he was overseas, with the Army of Occupation in Germany. His mother describes him as being five feet five and one-half inches tall; weight 140 pounds. He is dark-complexioned and has dark brown eyes. The mother heard from him last at Conneaut, O., where, after he had started home from Salt Lake City, Utah, he wrote he was going to work on the Great Lakes boats. Leo enlisted in the regular army when fifteen years old and, after serving in France, returned to the United States and reenlisted, serving one year.

Soil Analysis Worth While

For the last 18 years a systematic work of chemical soil analysis has been carried out by the agricultural experiment station of the University of Illinois. Up to date we have brought to the laboratory for analysis over 10,500 samples of soil from over eighty counties of the state. The experiment station and the state of Illinois spend a considerable amount of money for work, and expect to carry this huge project to its successful completion. To the layman, who is not familiar with the aims and the technical details of this important piece of soil investigation, which was started by the late Dr. C. G. Hopkins, a natural question presents itself: What is the value of this work? Does or will the money spent for soil analysis bring returns to the agriculture of the state? In the language of the street: Is it a worth-while proposition?

The value of chemical soil analysis, generally speaking, is twofold. In the first place, we endeavor to have a complete inventory of our natural soil resources. It gives us definite information, as to the exact amounts of the plant-food materials stored in the various soils of the state. Knowing how much of plant food different crops require for their normal growth, by means of the chemical soil analysis, we learn of the inherent possibilities of the various soil types, so far as their productive power is concerned. It is with this valuable information at hand, supplemented by the results of field experiments, that the agronomy department of the University of Illinois is able to advise farmers of the state as to the exact needs of their soil, and this advice is being followed by thousands of the progressive farmers of the state with very gratifying results. The ultimate test of the value of this work lies in the crop yields, and the thousands of farmers who are practicing in their field operations the Illinois system of permanent soil fertility, enjoy far better and bigger crops than those who have not yet been converted to the ranks of its supporters. The Illinois system of permanent soil fertility, originated by Dr. C. G. Hopkins, is based primarily on the results of soil investigations of which chemical soil analysis is a very important part. The improvement in crop yields of the individual farmers is beginning to reflect on the crop yield of the entire state. The following data are of considerable interest in this connection:

The ten-year average yield of corn for the United States decreased from 27 bushels per acre of 50 years ago to 26.1 bushels for the ten-year period of 1910-1920, while for the same period in the state of Illinois, it rose from 30 to 34 bushels, and the total increase was produced during the last 20 years. This corresponds with the period of actively executed program of soil fertility investigations and teaching. This four-bushel per-acre increase, while the country at large experienced a slight decrease in the corn yield, with 8,500,000 acres of land under corn gives the farmers 34,000,000 bushels of extra corn every year, which at even 25 cents a bushel would bring more than $8,000,000 a year. What is true of corn is to some extent true of other farm crops. Of course, increase in soil productivity of the state could not be attributed entirely to the knowledge of chemical composition of these soils. Most of the soil investigators, however, had this knowledge as a basic foundation.

This latter consideration brings us to the second purpose of the chemical soil analysis. It serves as a starting point for further soil studies. Although our knowledge of soil in the last 40 years has been broadened considerably, yet, on the whole, it is very fragmentary, and for this reason very insufficient in order to solve all the numerous soil problems that present themselves to the farmers of Illinois. If the soil productivity is to be indefinitely maintained or systematically increased, the soil investigations should be developed in parallel with the investigations along other agricultural lines. For all these soil studies of the future, the chemical soil analysis will always serve as a sound and necessary foundation upon which the future structure of our soil research will rest, bringing bigger and better farm crops to the farmers of Illinois.

Facts Regarding Tenancy
Over 100,000, or 42.7 per cent, of the farmers of the state are tenants. According to the 1920 census report, 29 counties in the north central part of Illinois had upward of 50 per cent of farmers who were tenants. Since the greatest amount of tenancy is always found on the most fertile land, it may be stated that more than half of the agricultural production of the state is in the hands of tenants.

Over 40 per cent of the tenants in some counties are closely related to tenancy constitutes a logical step to land ownership. The young tenant cannot hope to acquire land ownership until he has proved to be a desirable farm operator and has acquired experience. However, danger does lie in the fact that the period of tenancy may be too long and under circumstances that do not make for economical production and rural progress.

Frequently rented farms are not organized in a way that permits the most economic production. This reduces the tenant's possible income and lengthens his period as a tenant. Results from 70 Woodford county farms show that for every 200 acres in crops, the "tenant farms" had 97.3 acres of corn, 77.5 acres in corn, 60.4 acres in oats and 49 acres in other crops. This means a much better rotation on owner farms. Also the yields were about 8 per cent better. There were only slight differences in the acreages of crops found on farms where the tenant was related to the landlord and on farms where no relationship existed. The acreage of crops worked per man was 87.7, and per horse was 22.2 on tenant farms, compared to 80.2 and 20.7 on owner farms. This may be partly due to the smaller amount of live stock found on tenant farms.

A greater difference between tenant and owner farms is shown in a relative amount of live stock found on the farms.

|                          | Owner-Operated | Tenant | Percentage of Total |
|--------------------------|----------------|--------|---------------------|
| Average number horses... | 6.8            | 6.3    | 7.0                 |
| Average number cattle... | 11.3           | 16.3   | 17.4                |
| Average number hogs...   | 19.6           | 38.3   | 50.7                |
| Average number sheep...  | 1.4            | 2.5    | 2.9                 |
| Average size of farms... | 171.1          | 186.0  | 192.3               |

The larger number of cattle and hogs found in the last two groups is of real significance from the standpoint of good farm organization. If the leases and the working relations between the landlord and tenant, provided for as efficient organization and operation of tenant farms as of owner farms, the tenancy problem would be less serious. These facts do not tell the whole story because the data does not represent average conditions. Tenants who keep farm records are usually farming under better conditions than the average tenant, also the percentage of relationship between landlords and tenants in Woodford county is unusually high.

Clean Separators Need Attention

A tester in one of the cow-testing associations reports that he has tested every separator being used in his association, and that most of the separators leave from .03 per cent to .05 per cent of fat in the skim milk. One month a separator was tested and it was leaving 2 per cent fat in the skim milk, which amounted to 22 pounds of fat for the month, or a cash loss of $11. This separator was not running at the proper speed. A separator must be operated under the following conditions if efficient skimming is to be obtained:

1. Gain the proper speed gradually and turn at the speed which is recommended by the manufacturer (usually found on the separator handle).
2. Good, clean, light oil must be used.
3. The machine must be cleaned after each separation.
4. The bowl must be in perfect balance.
5. Milk should be 85 to 95 degrees F. at time of separation.
6. Allow the float to regulate the inflow of milk. Never start the inflow until the machine has reached its proper speed.
7. Set the separator to deliver cream 18 and 50 per cent, preferably 30 to 45 per cent.

University Registration

Registration in the University of Illinois has increased by more than 400 students over the total registered at this time last year, it was revealed by figures released by G. P. Tuttle, registrar of the university. At present there are 9,220 students registered in the university, of which 895 are attending the three Chicago colleges, leaving 8,325 in Urbana.

Tanlac Put Him Back on Job, Says Davis

"I've never been much of a hand at praising medicines, but I can certainly say something good for Tanlac," said Geo. Davis, 110 Naglee St., San Francisco, Calif.

"I had a bad case of ptomaine poisoning and it came pretty near laying me out altogether. For three months I was in an awful condition and suffering constantly from diarrhea. I became weak all over and was going from bad to worse. I tried everything I knew of, but it was beginning to look like nothing would ever reach my case.

"Then, a friend of mine recommended Tanlac to me. And it's a fact, four bottles have made a clean sweep of my troubles and built me up to where I feel like a new man. I am working every day now and when it comes to recommending Tanlac I can't put it too strong."

Yesterday while I was seasick it seemed to me I couldn't stand six days more of it or any more of it. Which reminded me of a remark I once heard a very old man make. He was ill and was telling me of his troubles. Without thinking I said: "I don't see how you stand it!" The old man thought a while and then replied feebly: "I have to stand it!" ### ANYTHING TO BE OBLIGING

Little Thing Like That Mentioned Was Nothing to This Applicant for American Citizenship.

At each hearing where applications of foreign-born persons seeking citizenship in the United States are considered and passed on, incidents come up which add humor to the otherwise serious process. At a recent hearing before Judge W. W. Thornton of the Superior court, Room 1, George Mackay, United States naturalization officer, was quizzing an applicant regarding his knowledge of the inner workings of the government and regarding the history of the United States.

"Who was the first President of the United States?" he asked.

"Washington, D. C.," replied the anxious applicant.

"Just leave off the D. C.," said Mr. Mackay.

"Oh, I don't care," said the applicant cheerfully, with an accompanying gesture of his hand.—Washington Star.

PRESCRIPTION FOR LONG LIFE

According to This German Physician, It is Easy to Add to One's Years of Usefulness.

The gathering of centenarians which took place the other day recalled the case of the eminent German physician, Doctor Fischweiler, who died recently at the age of one hundred and nine. He often declared that he possessed an infallible rule for securing longevity, which he would reveal to the world in his will. Upon his death, then, this formula was disclosed: "Put your bed, orienting it by means of a compass, so that you will have your head placed north, and lie in a horizontal position. Sleep solidly with closed fists."

"This is the whole secret. This position, it is asserted, brings the body in communication with the great tellurian currents coming from the north and insures an extremely happy blood circulation.

Speed Necessary.
"Of course," said Miss Cayenne, "I am willing to pay more for rapid work."

"How rapid must it be?" inquired the dressmaker.

"Rapid enough to keep a dress from going out of style between the time I order it and the time I get a chance to wear it."

To be womanly is the greatest charm of woman.

It's hard to get money and it's harder to keep it.

Do you hear the clock strike the night hours?

HOW often you have heard people say, "I can't drink coffee; it keeps me awake nights!" They've learned from experience; have you?

If you are a coffee drinker and fail to get sound restful sleep, it means that your nerves are over-stimulated and that health needs protection from coffee's drug, caffeine.

There's no sacrifice in making health safe, as so many thousands have found who have turned from coffee to Postum. It has a delightful coffee-like flavor, and is free from any element that can harm you. As many cups as you like, and no regrets.

Your grocer has Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

Postum FOR HEALTH

"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

The two forms of Postum are equally delicious; and the cost is only about 1/2c per cup.

NEW CONSTITUTION IS LIKED

Numerous Organizations From All Over State Endorse the Work

Urbana, Illinois, November 16: Growing sentiment in favor of the proposed constitution is indicated, Henry I. Green, chairman of the Committee on Submission and Address, declared today, by the large number of organizations which are getting behind it.

The new constitution has been endorsed by the following organizations: Illinois Agricultural Association, Chicago Association of Commerce, Chicago Woman's Club, Woman's Civic Club of Chicago, Chicago Bar Association, Illinois Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Illinois Bankers' Association, Synod of Illinois, representing all Presbyterian churches in the state, Illinois Teachers Association of the Upper Illinois Valley District, Citizens Association of Chicago.

"In addition to these organizations," Mr. Green said, "a large number of commerce, civic clubs, farm bureaus and others, have sent in copies of resolutions endorsing the constitution. Sentiment throughout the state is growing very rapidly in favor of the proposed new constitution.

"We find that wherever the constitution is explained opposition to a large extent has disappeared. I do not believe that the organized influences which are endeavoring to create a prejudice against the new constitution because it does not contain some pet doctrines will mislead the people. They realize that the question is not between this new constitution and some ideal constitution, but merely whether or not the new constitution is an improvement over the present constitution."

time probably a number of chancery matters will be heard.

A motion was made on behalf of Lula Johnson in the divorce proceedings brought by her against Albert Johnson, to modify the injunction issued by the court against the defendant restraining him from selling, assigning, etc., of his personal property. The court on a hearing of the motion entered an order directing that the household furniture, the property of the defendant be sold by Deputy Kirkpatrick and the proceeds thereof to be deposited with the clerk of the court.

Bow That Will Stay Fastened.
When you are tying the final bow of your shoe lace pass the loop through the knot twice instead of once, and the trick is done. This fastening can be undone in a moment by simply pulling the two ends, though it never comes unfastened of its own accord.

Why Girls Don't Throw Straight.
It has always been an interesting fact that girls cannot throw straight. There are two reasons. First, a girl's clavicle or collar bone, being shorter than a boy's, gives her a smaller play of forearm. Second, direction in overhead throwing depends chiefly upon the shoulders and chest being carried forward with the swing of the arm.

With a boy this is the heaviest part of his body, but a girl is heaviest at the hips. Consequently, instead of the girl's body swinging straight forward, it frequently turns around at the waist, thus completely spoiling the aim.

Women and Words.
A student who has given the matter some study says that it is a perfectly natural trait of femininity to engage in small talk and quick talk. Woman is quicker to understand, quicker to answer and quicker to utter what is in her mind and is habitually voluble. The cause of this difference between the speech or talk of two sexes lies far back into the occupational history of each, but some great social changes now in progress may modify the present condition.

The Value Of A Railroad

Rail and ties, bridges and buildings and land constitute the physical railroad.

The value of such property within the limits of your community may amount to tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands of dollars, but what is the real value of the railroad?

If the tracks and structures were removed what would be the money loss to your community—in purchases by railroad employees; in trucking charges on lumber from the forests; on coal from the mines; on your local products to distant markets; as well as in the regular service enabling you to make emergency trips to any point in the country?

An established railroad with close supervision by those trained during long years in the business, is able, under favorable conditions, to benefit its patrons in reduced rates as the result of increased efficiency.

The Milwaukee Railroad, for instance, of its own volition, while under private control, steadily reduced its average hauling charge year after year until it reached the low mark in 1916—the year before the War.

These and other features invest a railroad with value immeasurably greater than the cost of the material of which it is built.

Opening of TOYLAND
Saturday, November 18
at "The Christmas Store"

Santa is here, Children! He is waiting in the Store to greet you with a great pack of toys. Yes, he has brought just about everything here from his home among the icebergs. Dolls? Why there are so many of them you will hardly be able to count them. Dolls that can walk, dolls that cry plaintively when you rock them to sleep and dolls that call loudly for mamma. Scores of pretty doll cabs, too, and many other things to delight the little girls.

Santa has remembered all about the good little boys, too. He wants you to come and see him and pick out from all these dandy playthings just what you want for Christmas. Autos that are built just like Daddy's. Trains that whiz around the curve. Drums to beat and horns to toot and blocks to build sky high. Educational toys and games to amuse and a thousand other things we know you would like to receive for Christmas.

Old hearts will grow young again watching the youngsters' eyes grow bright over the wonders in this great Fairyland of Toys. Plan to come Saturday, and bring the children with you, to the Opening of Toyland in the great second floor store.
