

NOTES FROM THE COURT HOUSE

A. Kelley, Alias Robert E. Hale, Accused of Confidence Game

CAUGHT BY THE CHICAGO POLICE
Grace Burbank of Kingston Files Suit For Divorce—Asks to Regain Her Maiden Name

Vain, bright, smooth talker, taste fully and neatly dressed, 23 years old, effeminate and harmless looking—that describes fairly well Harry A. Kelley, who as Robert E. Hale, secured employment with Herbert L. Shel leto on his farm near Sycamore on April 28. He labored on the farm for just one week and then stated with apparent ease that he had considerable money in Chicago banks and it was necessary for him to go to Chi cago to draw some of it out and purchase some clothes. When asked by Mr. Shelletto if he wanted some of the money he had earned the past week, he stated he always made it a practice never to draw money in advance. On May 7 while Mr. Geo. F. Hoyt, a neighbor, was visiting Mr. Shelletto, Kelley inquired of Mr. Hoyt would he oblige him by cashing a lit tle check for him in Sycamore, only $45.00. Believing him honest, Mr. Hoyt consented and the same evening Kelley had $45.00 in his jeans. He left for Chicago on Sunday morning taking with him a bank and check book of Mr. Shelletto.

Sheriff Decker was advised by Chi cago police authorities last Thurs day that Kelley was in their custody and that they found on his person the bank and check books. The sheriff notified Mr. Shelletto and he in turn Mr. Hoyt who called the bank where he had cashed Kelley's check and found to his surprise that the check had been returned on Friday morning marked "no funds." Kelley was brot back to Sycamore Friday evening from Chicago on charges of working a confidence game and when taken to task by the state's attorney made a detailed confession. He admitted that he never had any account with the Cottage Grave Bank of Chicago, on which he drew the check and also the theft of the bank and check book. Tuesday while in Chicago he extended in the check book all withdrawals and deposits so that the check book showed a balance of over $2,000. He then proceeded to the Mid City Trust Bank in Chicago for the pur pose of cashing another check, but he admitted his nerve failed him and he did not cash it. The $45 he obtained from Mr. Hoyt he spent partly for clothes and the rest in live company.

This is not the first offense of Kel ley as the state's attorney learned he was arrested on a like charge in Du Page county about a year ago. Kelley claims to have been born in Madisonville, Ky. and to have attend ed college there for two years. He blames his arrest on the books found in his possession because it made the police suspicious that a man with over $2,000 in the bank should be found riding the bumpers. On charges of obtaining money by means of a confidence game, Kelley was bound over to the June grand jury, by State's Attorney Post before Police Magistrate Mitchell, last Sat ursday, under $2,000 bail in default of which he is held in safe and secure custody by the sheriff.

After nearly two years of married bliss Grace M. Burbank of the village of Kingston, filed her bill for divorce against Walter E. Burbank on ground of cruelty. She alleges in her bill that she was married to the defendant on August 24, 1920 at Kingston, Ill and since her marriage she has always be haved herself toward him as a chaste, dutiful and affectionate wife. She further states in her bill "that the said Walter E. Burbank wholly dis regarding his marriage vows and has been guilty of extreme and repeated cruelty; that particularly on or about June 15, 1921, the said Walter E. Burbank choked, slapped and struck your oratrix, and thereby injured and bruised her; that again on July 2, 1921 the said Walter E. Burbank again shook and struck your oratrix with his first." No children were born out of marriage which complainant asks be dissolved. Complainant also asks to be allowed to resume her maiden name of Grace M. Armbruster.

Another bill to set aside a last will and testament was filed in the circuit

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION

Declares Decoration Day Be Held on Tuesday, May 30, 1922

To the People of Illinois, Greeting: It is our great privilege, at an ap pointed time each year, to join in a national tribute of gratitude and at tention to our soldier and sailor dead. The blue-clad heroes of the Civil War, soldiers and sailors of the War with Spain and men of the great armies of the American Expeditionary Force lie in honored graves, at home and abroad. They gave their services and their lives for a united country, for humanity and civilization. We mourn the valient dead and deplore the great crises in our national life which re quired of them "the last full measur e of devotion;" but we have a great national pride in their bravery and patriotism which have preserved to us, intact, the heritage of free insti tutions handed down by our fathers to be held as a sacred trust for our children and their children. Their galant deeds, on land and sea, have ever maintained unsullied the honor of our great American nation. Their hands have borne aloft and raised high in the heavens our starry ban ner of freedom as a symbol of cour age, purity and justice, and as a promise of liberty to the oppressed peoples of the earth.

WHEREAS, the laws of Illinois provide for the observance of the thirtieth day of May as a holiday; NOW, THEREFORE, I, Len Small, Governor of Illinois, do hereby ap point and designate Tuesday, the 30th day of May, 1922, to be celebrated throughout the state as Memorial Day, and I ask the cooperation of the peo ple of Illinois with the Grand Army of the Republic, the United Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion, the veterans of foreign wars, and their allied organizations in an ap propriate observance of the day by garlanding with flowers and decorat ing with flags the graves of soldiers and sailors; and I further ask that in all communities there be held public memorial services and patriotic ex ercises in honor of our heroic dead.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state of Illinois to be affixed. Done at the city of Waukegan this 11th day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1922 and of the state of Illinois the 104th.

court by Irel Dibble of the town of Kingston against Mattie McElhaney, Gertrude B. Miller and Grant Dibble, in his own right and as executor of the last will of Sophronia Dibble, de ceased. According to the allegations contained in the bill it would appear that Sophronia Dibble, the mother of complainant late of Kingston, on March 1, 1921, executed her last will and testament and afterwards on March 27, 1921, died leaving besides the complainant as her heirs, Grant Dibble and the other defendants. The last will provides that the complain ant is to receive $250 and the rest and residue of her property is to be divided between the people named Grant Dibble, Mattie McElhaney and Gertrude B. Miller in equal shares. The complainant states in her bill that Sophronia Dibble at the time she executed the last will was not of sound mind and memory but that her mind was not so impaired as to render her incapable of making a just di vision of her property. The charge of improper restraint and undue influ ence is also made in the bill.

ALEXANDER KARR TO SPEAK SUNDAY

First Address at 2:30; Second at 8:00 O'clock at the Opera House

DEVELOPMENT COMMUNITY SPIRIT
The Greatest Need of Today is "A Better Community Spirit Among All People," Says Dr. Karr

Genoa will be honored Sunday in having with her, for the benefit of the citizens, Dr. Alexander Karr, of Far go, N. D., who is here under the aus pices of the DeKalb County Soil Im provement Association. Dr. Karr will deliver two very interesting lectures at the Genoa opera house. The first will take place at 2:30 in the after noon and the second at 8:00 p. m.

There will be no church services at the M. E. church that evening and every one is cordially invited and urged to attend. His talk will be well worth your while and you will be re paid 10-fold for your attentiveness. His whole theme is community work and life and spirit in all its phases.

Defines Community Spirit
"Thinking kindly of each other and helping some," is what makes com munity spirit, says Mr. Karr. What we think of each other determines what we will do for each other or to each other. Community spirit is the new basis of American Liberty. We need to get a new vision of our indi vidual liberty and our collective re sponsibility, with emphasis on the latter. He was vigorously applauded when he said he believed that no man should be allowed to vote that could not speak the language of his coun try. There are 13 million people in America today who cannot speak the English language. It is impossible to make good American citizens of them until they are first taught the lan guage of this country.

Organized hatred has been the greatest curse to civilization. It has been the cause of all our wars, of all devastation to the countries of the world. In the last war it well nigh destroyed civilization. What every community needs is to organize the good forces, to teach the brother hood of man, to learn to work and play together. He spoke of the im mense propaganda for evil there is in this country. It must be counter acted with a propaganda for the best things. The strength of America is not in the large cities, but it is rather in the smaller towns and in the country people. The greatest asset of any community is the boys and girls. How tremendously important it is that we look after their social side, that we provide the things they need for development into useful men and women.

I. N. U. CO. TO SPEND $250,000

Will Provide Double Service to Every Town and City—Finished by Fall

Vive President E. D. Alexander of the Illinois Northern Utilities com pany this morning announced further improvements made by this com pany throughout northern Illinois which call for an expenditure of about a quarter of a million dollars. The im provements call for the construction of more than 104 miles of high ten sion line, much of this to replace 13,000 volt lines which are now in use.

Engineers for the company have completed a survey for a new line which will start at Stillman Valley and proceed easterly to Kirkland, a distance of 20 miles. Genoa will be able to tap this new source of power in case the Waukegan power plant is off. The new line will go north from Kirkland to Belvidere and thence east through Garden Prairie, Marongo and Crystal Lake to Waukegan where im mense steam plants are rapidly near ing completion. The 13,000 volt line will be torn down and a 33,000 volt high tension copper line will replace it.

The new line will be a welcome to everyone and the constant supply of electricity will be more than a joy to housewives, merchants and factor ies.

GOOD WORDS FOR ESSEX COACH

Rykert & Son Are Selling Many Sycamore Patrons These Handsome Cars

The Essex Coach was built because the manufacturers were convinced that motorists preferred a closed car to an open one, except for rather material margin of price, and because they believed that enclosed bodies, once the right study and system of manufacture were applied to them, could be produced with an economy and efficiency which would overcome the price differential.

This belief has been well sustained by the record of Coach sales. From the moment the coach appeared, there has been a constant and growing demand for it. It has met a pub lic want, affording at once the com fort and luxury of a closed car with the price attraction of an open one.—Advertisement.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Given at High School Friday and Sat ursday Nights, May 26, and 27

"SAFETY FIRST"

The Genoa township high senior class play, "Safety First" will be given in the high school auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 26 and 27. Tickets will be on sale at Baldwin's pharmacy next week.

The two night schedule is necessary owing to the limited capacity of the assembly. No more tickets will be sold for any one night than there are seats, and as the distance from one end of the hall to the other is not very great, and the least sound is audible in every corner of the room, it is that that reserved seats are not necessary.

The boys and girls have been work ing for weeks on the play under the direction of Miss Irwin and Mr. Mac kenzie. The show itself will be good and the added attraction of home tal ent will prove a great drawing card. The cast of characters is as follows:

There will be no services at the Church of God chapel, except Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. while the tent meetings are in town. Elder Har linson of the Moody Institute comes to our town well recommended by pastors of different denominations and is truly a man of God working for nothing but the salvation of souls and the upbuilding of God's kingdom and deserves the prayers and co-op eration of all ministers and children of God. AMBROSE WYRICK AND ASSISTING ARTISTS AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

TO those who have heard Ambrose Wyrick, nationally known tenor, it is only necessary to say that he will appear on the third day's Chautauqua program, at both the afternoon concert and the evening musical prelude. To those who have not heard him we want to say that Ambrose Wyrick is one of those wholesome singers of the John McCormack type, who, whether he is singing a song from grand opera, or a simple, little ballad, puts a certain something into it which makes it different—fills it with life, meaning and de light. When it is announced that Mr. Wyrick will be supported by two su perb artists, Ethel Murray, noted English cellist, whose concerts abroad and in this country have endeared her to the musicloving public; and Karl James Jude, concert pianist, a crowded tent may be anticipated. Our Chautauqua committee takes particular pride in presenting this artist company.

GENOA MIDGETS WIN

Trin Sycamore Tigers to the Tune of 31 to 13

The Genoa Midgets, composed of Keith Saul, Donald Field, Jay Wil liams, Albert Rudolph, Montford Ber nett, Sammy, Nimmy, Oliver Pat ter son and James Randall traveled to Sycamore last Saturday and whaled the daylight right out of the Sycamore Tigers. The final score was 31 to 13. Genoa started scoring right off the real and never failed to count in any of the nine innings and the 4th squeezed across 8 runs.

In a few years Genoa is going to have a real lot of young ball players that will know the game from A to Z.

GENOA NATIONALS BEATEN

The Genoa town team journeyed to Sycamore Sunday and engaged the enemy on their own grounds in mortal combat. The final score was ?? to ? in favor of Sycamore. Oh, well, bat ter luck next time.

Genoa is now scouring the woods for a pitcher, LeDeaux having left the precincts of Genoa for those of Milwaukee where he will play on a shoe factory nine in that city.

5,800 WILL TRAIN AT CAMP GRANT

Five hundred and seventy-six na tional guard officers and 5,244 enlisted men will undergo training at Camp Grant this summer according to or ders issued by the Sixth Corps area headquarters.

They will be divided into three training groups, the first of which will report June 12, the second July 3 and the last July 18, each group to receive two weeks' training. The largest group will be that to report June 12 when 3,000 guardsmen will enter training.—Belvidere Republican.

ANNOUNCEMENT

There has been a decision issued by A. C. Holden, deputy commis sioner, that eye-glass chains, pins, roots and spectacle cases are taxable as jewelry. The new law removed the tax from eye-glasses and spectacles and their component parts' but this does not include the articles here named and they, the aboved men tioned articles, will be held for the tax. OVER 10,000 CHAUTAUQUAS IN 1922

Genoa to Have One of Them--The "Community Chautauqua"

WILL BE HELD JUNE 8 TO 12

Chautauquas Have Given 51 Years of Service to The Communities of America—Have Spread Over World

This year—this summer—will find the country dotted with Chautauquas—more than 10,000 of them. The many big kahki-colored tents will be pitched in every state in the union. Truly this is actual evidence that some good—some real and valuable com munity service is being rendered to many towns and people.

Fifty-one years ago there was but one Chautauqua—that founded by Lewis Miller and John Heyl Vincent on the shores of a little lake in New York state. A few years later, circuit chautauquas started. Multiplying rapidly, these circuit chautauquas have helped to spread throughout the country all that is best in art, liter ature, music, science and drama, even to the most remote sections.

Later years brought an era of pop ular inventions. The telephone and automobile arrived to shorten distanc es. They brought the country and town closer together. Then the pho nograph came to increase the public appreciation of good music. And the motion pictures to provide inex pensive entertainment which now also is showing more inclination to combine with that entertainment educational features. And the chautauqua keeping pace with all this progress, has been attracting to its platform in increas ing numbers, really great artists and orators and adding new features for community betterment, as well as im proving and perfecting its service for the conduct of assemblies, thus making it possible for all communi ties to benefit thereby.

Today the chautauqua holds a unique place in the hearts of millions. It is more than mere entertainment—even more than practical educa tion. It is a powerful institution for real community service and better ment.

We are going to have a Community Chautauqua this year. The men and women here who have made it possible for the chautauqua to come, deserve a lot of credit for their fore sight. They know that behind the chautauqua itself is a big, definite program—a program which calls for the upbuilding of communities. Every citizen should be as much interested in the success of the chautauqua as those to whom had been assigned definite tasks in this work, because these officers and committee chairmen have only undertaken the work as representatives of the community and in the belief that they would have the support of every man, woman and child. It should be considered a civic duty, as well as a privilege for every person not only to buy a chautauqua ticket for himself or herself, but to see that his or her neighbors also interest themselves in this community enterprise.

Fifty-one years of service is the fine record of the chautauqua movement. Let us make the most of this. Our Community Chautauqua will be held June 8 to 12 inclusive of both dates and we bespeak for it the earnest and sincere co-operation of every good citizen so that we may take a pride in its success and may demon strate what may be accomplished by thorough co-operation.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES
Sunday school 10:00 a. m. Morning service 11:00 a. m. We extend a cordial invitation to our services.
On Sunday, May 21, we will withdraw our evening services to unite in the "Community Rally" at the Opera house. Dr. Alexander Karr, of Fargo, N. D., a speaker of national reputa tion, will speak at the community meeting.

The first talk will be given in the afternoon at 2:30. The subject will be "Community Service." In the evening at 8:00 p. m. his talk will be on "Community Co-operation."

DANCE
Season's opening dance at the Genoa Opera House Friday, May 19. The famous DeLuxe colored orchestra of Elgin will furnish the beautiful music. If you don't dance, come and hear the great colored quartet sing and play all the latest pieces.

"QUO VADIS"

At the Grand Theater on Saturday Evening, May 20

Speed, thrills, excitement, high tension hustle and bustle, is the life of today. Limited trains speed at the rate of a mile a minute Airplains travel faster.

In "Quo Vadis", one of the most spectacular and massive motion pictures ever made, thrills, sensations and adventure follow in rapid succession. This picture shows more thrills in one hour than one can behold in a lifetime.

The spectator will see Christians devoured by lions; see Ursus the great crush a savage bull to earth; see the mighty Roman chariot races; the ancient tradition of gladiators fighting and slaying each other, and the weakling Nero fiddle and make merry while Rome, the Eternal City, burns to the ground.

At the Grand theatre, May 20. No advance in price.

AUXILIARY MET

At the last meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary it was decided to have the children of the grades gather flowers for their own bouquets to be carried in the parade Decoration Day.

Representatives of the Auxiliary will canvass the town for flowers. All those who have them please bring to the Legion rooms by Monday evening, May 29. Any member of the Auxiliary who can help tie bouquets, please be at the Legion rooms Monday evening.

HORRIBLE MURDER?

Shades of Macbeth but the gilded dagger doth cut deep quoth Wm. H. Heed, superintendent of police and the city water works pumping station Thursday morning when he was informed over the telephone that a corpse of a woman was seen lying in the gravel pit west of town. Immediately Policeman Heed called on the reserves, one barber, leaving a mail half shaved in the chair, to go.

They jumped into the trusty "Allen" patrol and were whisked away to the spot where the body was said to have been. Arriving at the scene of the crime the men hurried to the form on the ground and the testimony from their lips betokened a fowl deed of unusual proportions had been committed. However, one of the men, more brave than the rest, carefully scrutinized the "dead form" and gave a disgruntled oath and laughed until his sides ached. The form was none other than that made use of by dressmakers to fit dresses. Silently the men wound their weary way back to the city thoroughfare and as they passed the various business houses laughing faces could be seen protruding from the doors. Yes, it was an awful death, but my what a jolly funeral.

J. W. PRATT SURPRISED

Wednesday had been set as the evening for the Adult Bible class, but instead of just a class meeting, a surprise had been planned for J. W. Pratt, superintendent of the Sunday school. The whole school was invited in honor of Mr. Pratt's birthday. A fine program by the younger pupils, talks and music by the Sunday school orchestra was enjoyed. After the entertainment Rev. Robeson, in behalf of the school presented Mr. Pratt with a beautiful gold watch as a token of esteem and appreciation of his faithful work. Mr. Pratt replied in his usual pleasing manner. A bountiful luncheon with a huge birthday cake closed a most pleasant evening.

P. E. O.

Mrs. Libby Kirby was hostess to the P. E. O. Wednesday evening, May 10. The program was in charge of Mrs. Lois Brown, who read an interesting and instructive article on "Lapland." At the close of the program all enjoyed the refreshments served by the hostess.

"THE BLOT"

Lois Weber's triumph, "The Blot," is a drama of pride and sacrifice. A human heart story bigger than "Hamlet"—A picture advertised by the honest, unashamed tears of millions of people.

Lois Weber, the world's foremost woman producer of motion pictures, has an uncanny genius for picturing life's intimate phases as no one else ever does on the screen.

This will be shown at the Grand theater May 27.

ELKS BLAZE OF LEGAL WIT

Page the whole family—the sensation of the comic age. Trial docket of the Elk's May term of court, case entitled "The Widow Zander vs. Benjamin Gump alias Uncle Bim." Members of the local bar have taken sides in this litigation and some startling testimony will be uncovered at the trial testimony which takes place at Townsend's theatre, Sycamore on May 22, 23, and 24. The Chicago Tribune which imported Uncle Bim from Australia has consented to the plea of the Sycamore Elks lodge to stage this real trial and have promised to furnish some material form.

So remember the dates and be present to see and hear the outcome of these legal proceedings.

Has Bettered Humanity.

Conservation

On the Milwaukee Railroad's purchasing list there are 72,000 items—steel and stationery, linen and lumber, pins and padlocks, coal and cabbages, etc., for which it spends close to fifty million dollars every year.

As this material is spread over 11,000 miles of railroad careful supervision is necessary to prevent waste and misuse.

For years a continuous Conservation Campaign has been under way and every month hundreds of letters are sent in by employes showing what they saved by salvaging material and otherwise avoiding waste and loss.

Little Banking Stories

LUCKY ESCAPE.

ONE SATURDAY EVENING a man made a purchase of $40.00 worth of goods, to be paid for in three monthly payments

When he went to make the last payment he was surprised to learn that the store wanted $27.00 rather than $13.50 which he expected to pay. They claimed only one payment had been made.

This man came to the bank to ask our advice. He said he was sure he had paid the bill—that he remembered writing a check for the payment.

It took but a minute or two to find that cancelled check.

Of course the store gladly corrected their mistake when they saw this cancelled check. Mistakes occur once in awhile no matter how careful you are. But you will never have to pay an account twice when you can show a properly cancelled check to prove that you have actually paid as you claim.

AGRICULTURE
Prepared and Edited by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois

On Feeding Corn
Bulletin No. 238, entitled "Feeding Farm Work Horses and Mules," recently issued by the University of Illinois has elicited a number of comments, especially in the southern part of the state.
There is no better evidence than this that one part of the world knows very little about what another part is doing. The fact of the matter is that there is no more debated question in live-stock feeding than the question whether corn is good feed for work horses. Traditionally horse feeding has come to us from New England, where timothy is the principal hay and where oats are used as the source of nitrogen and minerals; and in spite of all that could be said, this practice has continued west into the corn country, especially in the North where oats are common, and to a degree that is little less than appalling from the economic point of view. It is next to impossible to convince a farmer in Michigan, Wisconsin, northern Ohio or northern Illinois that corn is fit to feed horses, especially in hot weather.
On the contrary, in the South, where oats are not much grown, corn is a common feed for working animals, especially mules. In this case, however, it is necessary to find the nitrogen and the minerals from some other sources; and of all the sources, clover and alfalfa hay are the cheapest known.
The Southern method of feeding horses, by which they get the power out of corn and the nitrogen and minerals from the less expensive fodders, is by all odds the cheaper of the two methods of horse feeding, and while this experiment in question, in confirming the Southern practice may seem to have taught little that is new, it was after all an exceedingly important thing to Northern farmers. Indeed, it was not without its lesson to both, for the Southern farmers are prone to neglect providing the horse with the proper amount of nitrogen in the leguminous fodder, when depending almost entirely on corn for grain.
As a matter of fact, the experiment cost nothing beyond the expense of printing the bulletin and weighing the feed. It was performed with the work animals of the farm.
It would be well, therefore, for those who criticize this bulletin to first inform themselves about the various practices in horse feeding before they criticize the institution for performing an experiment which cost nothing and which, if the lessons are followed, will save some thousands of dollars to Illinois farmers.
In brief, the question is: Shall Illinois farmers follow the Eastern custom of feeding on timothy hay and oats, or shall they establish their own custom, reversing the process and feeding on alfalfa and corn?

Legumes and Incomes
Back in 1912, before so much was heard about growing legumes, the dairy department of the University of Illinois made a survey of 650 farms in Kane and McHenry counties and one of the many significant things which appeared when the data were studied is shown by the following table:
Proportion of Percentage of Farm Hay Acreage Total Number Income in Legumes of Farms Over two-thirds..... 5 $90 One-third to two-thirds 7 816 Less than one-third.... 16 538 None..... 71 467
There was not an acre of leguminous hay grown on 71 per cent of the farms, on which dairying was the principal enterprise and the average labor income was but $407. The average labor income of the other groups of farms increased with the proportion of hay acreage of legumes.
Other factors undoubtedly, influenced the farm labor income but whether or not it is admitted that growing a larger amount of legumes tended to increase the profits, the fact remains that the better farmers who were getting the largest labor incomes grew the most clover and alfalfa.
The average yield of hay on the farms and the amount of crude protein produced per acre explains to some extent the cause of greater profits when legumes were grown.
Hay Average Yield Crude Protein per Acre
Timothy1.16 tons 70 lbs.
Clover1.50 tons 228 lbs.
Alfalfa2.26 tons 500 lbs.

Turning Cream Into Gold
In order that the market may be supplied with the higher quality butter which it now demands, creamerymen are adopting the practice of grading their cream before it is churned. In some localities the quality, together with the butterfat content, is taken as a basis of payment, and it is very likely that in the near future this system will be the universal custom. It will then be necessary for the farmer to produce cream of high quality if he is to receive maximum returns for his product.
What, then, are some of the causes of poor cream? Most bad flavors are due to the addition of bacteria because of lack of proper care in the handling of the milk, the use of dirty utensils, and improper storing. A few undesirable flavors, such as the onion flavor, are caused by the feeds which the cows eat. If left uncovered, milk or cream will readily absorb odors from the air, which fact explains the presence of such flavors as creosote, gasoline, kerosene, or musty cellars.
Remedies.
The following suggestions will be helpful for the production of high quality cream:
1. Avoid contamination of the milk with dirt in every way possible, and keep it away from all volatile substances, such as gasoline.
2. After using, wash all utensils thoroughly with hot water and washing powder (not soap) and rinse with scalding water.
3. Before using, rinse all utensils with scalding water.
4. When not in use, store all utensils in a well ventilated place, with plenty of sunshine.
5. Never keep milk utensils covered so that air cannot circulate through and around them.
6. Keep the cream in a cool, well ventilated place. A tank containing cold running water will serve the purpose.
7. Wait until freshly skimmed milk has been properly cooled before adding it to previous skimmings.
8. The separator should be washed each time it is used.
9. If possible, do not allow cows to eat such feeds as wild onions, ragweed, beet tops, or rape within three hours of milking time.
10. Market the cream at least three times a week in the summer and once a week in winter.
11. Do not allow the cream to freeze.
12. Cover the cream with a wet piece of gunny sack while it is en route to the cream station in the summer time.
If the above suggestions are followed, it will be possible to produce a high-quality cream and one that will bring the maximum market price.

Plan Now for Eggs
"It is none too early to begin planning for the type of eggs we desire to have the pullets lay next fall," says L. E. Card, head of the poultry department at the university. "The reason is to be found in the fact that there is a strong tendency for a pullet to lay eggs which, in size, shape and color, are very much like the egg from which she herself was hatched."
"This means that a little time and trouble taken now in the selection of eggs to be used for hatching will yield a good return in the shape of a higher value per dozen for eggs laid next fall and winter," he said. "Top prices will be paid for only the best grade of eggs. A discriminating buyer can afford to pay a higher price for eggs which run uniformly throughout the entire case and do not have to be sorted for size and color. This sorting and grading can ordinarily be done more cheaply on the farm than anywhere else, if a reasonable quantity of eggs is being marketed.
If a white egg breed is kept, incubate none but chalk-white eggs. A few tinted eggs in a case will reduce the entire lot to a lower market grade at a lower value per dozen. If a brown-egg breed is kept, strive for a uniform shade of brown, either light or dark. Avoid incubating eggs that have uneven, rough or thin shells. Do not use long, narrow eggs or short, round eggs. Incubate no eggs that weigh less than two ounces each. Large eggs produce large chicks which grow rapidly and at maturity will themselves lay large eggs."

Pump With Electric Motor
The advisability of running a pump with an electric motor depends upon the cost of the electricity and the amount of water to be pumped.
Where cheap electricity is obtainable from a transmission line, all pumping not taken care of by the windmill is best done with the electric motor.
The water supply for the house is always furnished best by an electric motor. The amount pumped is relatively small, hence the total cost unimportant. The convenience and safety of such an arrangement for the housewife is worth all it costs.
However, where electricity is generated on the farm and put through a storage battery, it costs five times as much to pump with it as it does with the gas engine direct. With large volumes of water being used, as with a dairy herd, the gas engine is much to be preferred to home-made electricity.
Song of Six Pens.
Sing a song of six pens,
All are full of chicks;
The farmer did no culling,
So no eggs in all the six.

MAKE COLLECTION OF GERMS
Institutions in Europe and the United States That Preserved Them for Investigators.

The first "guide book" of what may be popularly called the germ "zoo" has just been issued by the British Medical Research Council. The body, as previously announced, hit on the happy idea of making a national collection of living germs of disease so that any doctor or investigator requiring some particular germ for his work might be able to get it at once, alive and active.
There are similar collections at the Pasteur Institute, Paris, at the Museum of Natural History, New York, and at Vienna. The British collection is housed at the Lister Institute, and fresh additions of new "strains" and "forms" are constantly being added.
The catalogue gives the name of each germ, the name of its donor, and the year of the gift.

FIRST TO COMPRESS FEET
Favorite of Chinese Emperor, Many Centuries Ago, Said to Have Originated the Custom.

J. P. Donovan, authority on Chinese customs, in an article called "Romance in Chinese Literature," published in the Forum, writes:
"The ideal of beauty and the mark of gentility for a woman used to be small feet, the compression of which was not imposed by law but was a craze of fashion, as slender waists were at one time in England. Several accounts are given as to the origin of the custom of foot-binding, but probably the following is the correct one:
"It is said that Yao Niang, the beautiful concubine of Emperor Li Yu (975 A. D.), was light and graceful in all her movements, being able to dance with ease and elegance. She gave so much pleasure to her lord and master that he caused to be made golden lily flowers with movable petals for Yao Niang to walk on from her apartments to the palace. To gratify the emperor still further, she compressed her feet, in order that they might look like a lily bud unopened, until they were three inches long."
Just the Person.
I was taking Junior for a walk one afternoon, and he was playing with a little football which neither of us had been able to inflate. I was watching Junior when a neighbor came along.
She sat down beside me. After a little while Junior came up and asked Miss Jones if she would blow up his football for him. She asked him why he thought that she would be able to do so after I had already failed.
His answer was, "Cos my dad says 'at you is the longest winded woman 'at ever breathed.'"
Criticism.
Theodore Dreiser, the novelist, said at a tea in Greenwich Village: "Criticism is a lost art. The average critic understands the work he criticizes about as well as—as—"
"But here's a story. A woman was going through a picture exhibition with her husband. They came to a picture called 'Saved,' which represented a dripping Newfoundland dog standing over a dripping and unconscious child that he had just rescued from the river flowing in the background.
"The woman was deeply interested in this picture. She said: "No wonder the poor child's fainter after dragging that great big dog out of the water."
No Press Facilities.
"According to this authority, Mouselah lived only a trifle more than eighty years."
"If that's the case, how did he get the reputation of being so old?"
"I'm best if I know. There were no newspaper reporters in those days to interview him every time he celebrated a birthday and add ten or twenty years to his age so the 'story' would be worth a front-page position."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Here's Good Advice: Relieve Your Fatigue With Sleep. Avoid Stimulants
THERE is nothing in the world so reconstructive as sound, refreshing sleep. During sleep the system rids itself of the fatigue poisons that have accumulated during the day. The food elements are taken up by the various tissues that require rebuilding nutriment.
It is important that you get plenty of health-bringing sleep. Anything that interferes with your sleep hampers and hinders you—mentally and physically.
A common cause of physical weakness and mental depression is the reaction following over-stimulation by the drug, caffeine, and other elements found in both coffee and tea.
If you have an idea that coffee or tea drinking may be injurious to your health, why not stop it for a week or so, and drink delicious, fragrant Postum instead.
Postum is a rich, golden-brown, pure cereal beverage. It contains no harmful elements of any kind. You can drink Postum as many times a day as you or the children desire a grateful, refreshing beverage.
Your grocer sells both forms of Postums Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.
Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

"Alloy." The word "alloy" is derived from a literal Anglification of the French phrase "a la loi"—"according to law." The phrase was transported across the channel in connection with gold or silver reduced in value by admixture with inferior metals in accordance with regulations established according to the law, but the English insisted on pronouncing the French "loi" as if it were spelled "loy" and finally dropped the second syllable entirely, thus coin-ing the word "alloy."

Moon Opens Philippine Plants. The light of the moon when it beams down strongly in the Philippines will cause the leaflets of various legumes to open and spread out nearly as much as they do during the day sunshine. F. C. Gates of the Kansas State Agricultural college told the Ecological society at Toronto. At twilight the leaflets normally fold up for the night.—Science Service.

Pink Milk.
If you are in doubt about the cream on your milk, add a tiny drop of spirits of salts. If the milk has been adulterated to give it a rich appearance, it will turn pink—and then you can turn the milkman pink by showing him how the trick is done! You can, by the way, also test your vinegar by the same method. If it is bogus vinegar a little spirits of salts will turn it a brilliant green.

Divining-Rod Is Poor Guesser.
Australia's Royal Society of Victoria has decided, after an investigation of the divining-rod as a water-finder, that it "was a subject for investigation by the psychologist rather than the geologist." Discoveries are sometimes made by chance, but few hear about the many failures.—Popular Science Monthly.
