R. B. Field. City Clerk OUR CHAUTAUQUA LOCAL INSTITUTION

Progressive, Public-Spirited Citizens Arrange for Service

GIVEN IN GENOA JUNE 8 to 12

Purely of American Origin Now Being Adopted by Other Great Democratic People

As a local institution, arranged for, nanaged and directed by our most representative and public-spirited citizens, our Chautauqua deserves the active support of every good citizen. Those who have taken the initiative in arranging for the Chautauqua have done so without thought of reward or remuneration of any kind, except the satisfaction of rendering good public service, and every individual who believes in the community and its future will, we believe, be found heartily backing up and working with the committee to whom has been intrusted the management of the Assembly. This committee has employed experts who make up the central association to assist in the building of the program, the planning of the advertising campaign, supplying of mum service and program quality may be had at a lower price than by any other plan.

The Chautaqua is a great, free forum for the open discussion of community, national and international problems. It is etirely American and similar institution was known in any other part of the world. Theodore Roosevelt called the chautaugua "The most American thing in America." Judge Lindsey said that "The chaunome, the church and the school," It was called by its originator, John H. Vincent, "The People's College," and

Motorists on the highway between Greenfield and Pendleton have been having considerable difficulty in getting through a certain bad spot in the road. A few days ago an automobile sunk to axle depths, but, after a titanic struggle, succeeded in backing out. The destination was forward, however, so the driver went to a farmhouse near by and asked a boy whether there was any other road he could take to

"Only road to Pendleton," the boy answered. "Ain't no other way." "Oh, there must be some other way," the motorist insisted. "Nope, no other way. Just go on into the hole and pa will be along in a little bit an' pull you out for $4."-Indianapolis News.

HUMOROUS IN HIS PROTEST

Max Beerbohm Wanted No Book Written About Him, and Said So in Amusing Manner.

Twenty-two years as you please—to Bohun Lynch, when the latter communicated the news that function, there were 216 Jewish farm he was about to write "Max Beerbohm in Perspective."

But admirers of Beerbohm will agree that the Beerbohmian protests against farmers was 12,029. Today more than its publication in themselves justify the volume, according to the Living Age. Here they are:

"I remember several book« about men who, not yet dead, had blandly aided and abetted the author; and I remember what awful asses those men seemed to me thereby to have made of themselves. "My gifts are small. I've used them very well and discreetly, never straining them; and the result is that I've made a charming little reputation. But that reputation is a frail plant. Don't over-attend to it, Gardener Lynch! Don't drench and deluge it! The contents of a quite small watering can will be quite enough."

"Gardener Lynch," however, was not to be deterred, and his readers may rejoice therefor. He produced an amusing study of an amusing writer, not a flippant study, but not a pair fully serious one, either.

Country's National Parks.

There are nineteen national parks with a total area of 10,859 square miles, under the supervision of the secretary of the interior and seven national military and other parks under the supervision of the secretary of war, and a number of other national monuments, such as the petrified forests of Arizona, etc., under the jurisdiction of the secretaries of the interior, agriculture and war. For many years the Hot Springs reservation of Arkansas was the only national park. In 1832 an area of 11/2 square miles on which are 46 hot springs possessing curative properties was set aside as a national park. It was not until forty years later that another national park was created, the Yellowstone, in Wyoming. The other 17 have been created within forty-two years, and seven of these within the last decade, the interest in conservation probably accounting for the larger number. The only one in New England is Lafayette park in Maine, on Mount Desert.

Miss Christina Merriman, head of the disarmament division of the League of Women Voters, said at a dinner party in Washington: "Disarmament, when it comes, will

HE DIDN'T QUITE UNDERSTAND FORMER SALOON NOW CHURCH

Remarkable Transformation for Which the Congregation Is Very Literally Responsible.

The Bronx, New York's famous residential section, has a home-made church. It began life as a saloon in the period antedating the year 1, A. V. (ante Volstead). Then followed a spell as a billiard parlor. Rev. A. V. Vos, an Episcopal clergyman, next appeared upon the scene. He rented the ex-saloon, organized a congregation, and with a big shoe-case for an altar and a dozen rude benches for the accommodation of his flock, which included Germans, Italians, Hungarians, Irish and Americans, the initial service was held. In course of time the little congregation increased to about fifty, bought the place, paid off the debt in sums of $15 and $20 at a time and at length laid aside a reserve fund. And this is what they did with it

Including in their number carpen ters, bricklayers, cement workers, electricians, etc., they had a chuurch meeting, parceled out the work imong themselves, and on the night of December 3 last they began tearing out the front of the building. Each night thereafter, as soon as supper was disposed of, the volunteer workers got back on the job and by working every night save Sundaysometimes well into the morningthey have succeeded in making over the place into a pretty little concrete edifice of the old Spanish mission type. It includes not only the chapel proper, but a dining hall, social hall, kitchen etc. Rev. Mr. Voss says: "It isn's a cathedral, but to us it is the finest church building in the world because we have reared it with our own hands." Plans are being formed for the consecration of the building by Bishop Manning at an early date.

MAN OF FAITH AND LEARNING

Origen, surnamed Adamantius, who lived from 185 to 254 A. D., is considered by some authorities as the greatest of the early church fathers. Alexandria, in Egypt, the great seat of learning of the time, is thought to have been his birthplace. He was a teacher and deep student of philosophy and of the Scriptures, and he became a great defender of the Christian faith. His literary productions were numerous and several have come down to the modern world, among them being a treatise on theol ogy, a few sermons or discourses of that nature, parts of commentaries on the Gospels of St. Matthew and St. John and St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans. His greatest work is his defense of Christianity against the attacks in the writings of Celsus, an Epicurean philosopher of the Second century. Celsus' work is not extant, but the character of it is made cleur in Origen's refutation, which contains argument indicates clearly the line of to wit;

Where Business Moves Slowly. Business methods are invariably slow in the Near East, according to Miss Grace Willis who has returned recently from a period of service with the Y. W. C. A. in Constantinople, Stamboul and Beirut. "It takes at least a half a day to deposit a check and even longer to draw one out, says Miss Willis. "The general condition that exists in business houses is undoubtedly due to the fact that so many nationalities, each with their own way of doing things, are gathered under one roof. The girls of the Near East are particularly keen for business courses and there is a tremen dous demand in the many commercial houses for well-trained clerical workers and stenographers. I consider that when, from the business courses given by the Y. W. C. A., efficient business women have been turned out after nine months' training, a remarkable piece of work has been accomplished." Veteran.

Purpose.

Ambition is more than a wish; it is desire intensified into determined purpose. All that is needed for the accomplishment of our ambitions is a desire so strong that we will sacrifice whatever may stand in the way of our success. The law of compensation never fails. If we would gain one thing we must give up another. How many people have you known who complain of failure through bad luck, when your own knowledge of them tells you that their downfall came through lack of really trying? They were not willing to forego pleasures or extravagances which interfered with their success.

RED-TOP 30 x 3½ Extra Ply of Fabric—Heavy Tread

Price $17.85

FOR poor roads, for heavy loads, for hard use anywhere the Fisk Red-Top cannot be equaled for small cars. An extra ply of fabric and a heavy tread of extra tough red rubber make a strong tire built to meet exacting conditions.

Time after time one Red-Top has outworn three ordinary tires. Its distinctive looks indicate your selection of a high-grade tire while its extra mileage more than justifies your choice.

There's a Fisk Tire of extra value in every size,

Synopsis.—With his grandfather, small Ramsey Milholland is watching the "Decoration Day Parade" in the home town. The old gentleman, a veteran of the Civil war, endeavors to impress the youngster with the significance of the ster with the significance of the great conflict, and many years afterward the boy was to remember his words with startling vividness. In the schoolroom, a few years afterward, Ramsey is not distinguished for remarkable ability, though his pronounced dislikes are arithmetic, "Recitations" and German. In sharp contrast to Ramsey's backwardness is the precocity of little Dora Yocum, a young lady of little Dora Yocum, a young lady whom in his bitterness he denomi-nates "Teacher's Pet." In high nates "Teacher's Pet." In high school, where he and Dora are classmates, Ramsey continues to feel that the girl delights to manifest her superiority, and the vindictiveness he generates becomes alarming, culminating in the resolution that some day he will "show" her. Several town loafers attended the meeting, but the only person connected with the university who came was an oriental student, a Chinese youth of almost intrusive amiability. Linski made a flery address, the towns men loudly applauding his advocacy of an embargo on munitions and the distribution of everybody's "property," but the Chinaman, accustomed to see students so madly in earnest only when they were burlesquing, took the whole affair to be intended humor, and tittered politely without cessationexcept at such times as he thought it proper to appear quite wrung with laughter. him, adding that the improvement was probably due to Ramsey's having passed through "terrible trials like that debate."

Ramsey kept to their rooms more than his comrade did, one reason for this domesticity being that he "had to study longer than Fred did, to keep up;" and another reason may have shyness at all. For Fred was a cheery spirit difficult to abash, and by the coming of spring knew all of the bestooking girl students in the placeknew them well enough, it appeared, to speak of them not merely by their first names but by abbreviations of these. He had become fashion's sprig, "fusser" and butterfly, and he reproached his roommate for shunning "Well, the truth is, Fred," said Ram-

So, only, did he refer to Milla. Fred said no more; and it was comprehended between them that the past need never be definitely referred to again, but that it stood between Ramsey and any entertainment to be obtained of the gentler but less trustworthy sex. And when other brethren of the "frat" would have pressed Ramsey to join them in various frivolous enterprises concerning "co-eds," or to hastening to overtake him and called be shared by "co-eds," Fred thought it his name, "Ramsey! Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupify the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

Children Cry For

Have You Tried It?

Everybody has read the above headline; how many believe it? Have you a little-one in the home, and has that dear little mite when its stomach was not just right felt the comforts that come with the use of Fletcher's Castoria? You have heard the cry of pain. Have you heard them cry for Fletcher's Castoria? Try it.

Just help baby out of its trouble tomorrow with a taste of Castoria. Watch the difference in the tone of the cry, the look in the eye, the wiggle in the tiny fingers. The transformation is completefrom pain to pleasure. Try it.

You'll find a wonderful lot of information about Baby in the booklet that is wrapped around every bottle of Fletcher's Castoria.

Ingenious Device That Will Assuredly Be Welcomed by All Absent-Minded Husbands.

Stay-at-home husbands are prone to forget to water the flowers that adorn the sitting room, even though specially charged to do so by absent wives. New Attitude Toward Marriage Is Seen to Be Awakening Among the Women of China.

Closely related with the new home idea in China is the new idea on marriage; that is, individual choice rather than family choice; "for love, not by

Like the new home this will be a matter of slow evolution. For in China the individual is not thought of or looked upon as an entity; he is but a part of a family which is the unit, the entity and which at all costs must be preserved and perpetuated. Hence, individual desires must be subsidiary to the wishes or the benefit of the family. The practice of this principle throughout the long centuries has instilled in children a submissiveness to parents, to family, that is engulfing of personality, though it is the steel gers and officials, by sweeping steadthat gives strength and form to the fly with improvised brooms for two structure of the Chinese nation.
