ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST TO GENOA AND VICINITY

Elgin Aldermen Fitting at a Public Mass Meeting—Anti-Spitting Ordinance is Enforced at DeKalb

Paderwski pays $4,000 a year insurance on his artistic fingers. Should they become impaired the great pianist would receive $50,000.

Frank S. Rowan is an avowed candidate for the mayoralty in Belvidere. He is putting up a systematic fight and will no doubt win out.

New York bricklayers who are to get 70 cents an hour for a twelve-hour day, will not care if $9-a-week clerks do pass them on the street with a haughty air.

Eight carloads of citron were received at the Sycamore citron works the last few days. It came all the way from Italy. The works will now resume operations in full force.

The Frost Creamery Co., of Delevan, has recently installed a 27-ton drier for reducing milk to powder. The company claims it is the only machine of its kind in United States.

A Peoria butcher has hung up a sign in a conspicuous place in his shop on which is the following inscription: "The United States Supreme Court has declared that there can be no trust in the beef trade. From this date our terms are cash."

Seventeen young natives of Argentina have arrived in the United States to put in a four years' course of study at various American institutions. Their ages range from 18 to 20 years and they will study agriculture, mining civil and mechanical engineering.

A new city slaughter house, covering two acres, and to be used for the killing of the horses, donkeys, and mules for food, has been opened in Paris with a banquet, at which horse and donkey flesh were the only meats served. It is stated that 25,000 horses, donkeys and mules are killed annually in Paris for food. The use of their flesh is increasing.

DeKalb Advertiser: The ordinance against spitting on the sidewalk became effective last Sunday and it is said it will be enforced. One arrest has been made thus far. If your memory fails you temporarily while walking along the street it is likely to cost you what loose change you have in your clothes. Better try to remember.

Elgin aldermen who voted for the municipal electric lighting lease were flayed before the bar of public opinion last week and steps taken to undo the work. At a mass meeting in the Elgin Opera house the intense feeling aroused by the lease of the city's lighting plant to the Elgin, Aurora and Southern Traction company took concrete form and committees were appointed to begin whatever litigation is deemed necessary, to secure finances to carry on the fight and to appeal to the Mayor Hubbard to veto the ordinance. Bankers, members of the professions and men prominent in the business affairs of the city were present to register their protest.

Lost a Horse

Dr. A. M. Hill lost a valuable horse last Sunday morning, it having been an especially good one for the doctor's use. It was found in the stall in the morning with its leg broken. It is supposed that the horse in the next stall had been up to a few kicking stunts the night previous. There was no way to save the animal, so it was put out of its misery by a rifle shot.

FROM THE PACIFIC COAST

Entertaining Letter From the Genoa Colony at Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Cal.

Feb. 28, 1905.

Editor Republican-Journal,

Dear Sir:—Thinking perhaps you would like to hear again from some member of the Genoa colony in Los Angeles, I will try to let you know how we are all enjoying life in this land of "Flowers and Sunshine." While we are enjoying warm weather and gentle showers and bright sunlight day after day, we read in the papers of severe cold weather which less fortunate beings are enjoying(?) in your homes, yet we cannot realize it unless it be in the dreams that seem so come to us of the past when we too were plowing about in the snow and cold.

The very coldest weather experienced in Southern California this winter has not been below the freezing point and we have only seen frost once or twice during the time of our stay here, and that left no effects.

This is the rainy season for California and corresponds to our spring back home. Rainy in this sense does not mean that it rains continually or even every day, as I believed of California before coming here. A storm will occur probably once in two weeks and last sometimes three or four days after which it will clear off and be pleasant weather until the next storm. At the beginning of this season the hills and surrounding country, with the exception of the irrigated districts, were bare of green vegetation and looked quite desolate, especially in the districts where cactus grows which is nearly every place not under cultivation. Now all is changed and the hills and valleys are covered with a luxuriant growth of grass and other verdure, and are certainly a lovely sight to behold.

On Washington's birthday we three boys all managed to get off from our work in the afternoon and went to Long Beach, an ocean beach resort about twenty-five miles from Los Angeles, and spent a very enjoyable afternoon. A large crowd was there and one of the sights was the bathers in the surf. Just think of taking a swim in February. Don't it make you shiver? Well, we didn't for it was warm.

Another of the attractions was the Japanese daylight fireworks. Large bombs are shot in the air and explode sending out figures of animals and other things which float away in the wind and make a very pretty effect.

One of the sights recently viewed by one the Genoa boys is the celebrated pigeon farm where between 25,000 and 50,000 pigeons are housed all the time and it is a wonderful sight to see a flock of several thousand birds in the air at once. They are not confined but are allowed the freedom they desire. You cannot imagine the peculiar noise made by their wings in their flight. The pigeons are raised for the market and it is said that the owner of the farm is becoming wealthy from his business.

Another attraction recently visited by one of the Genoa boys is the ostrich farm. There are over 200 of these large birds in this place and for homely birds I think the ostrich takes the prize. These birds are raised for their plumage and are plucked twice a year. The ostrich is quite vicious and to pluck them it is necessary to blindfold them, when they become docile. To give you some idea of the size of their necks will say that I saw them swallowing good sized oranges whole. Now that is what I call a good example of rubber neck. One of the party offered one of the birds a piece of paper which it greedily devoured and looked for more as tho it was a very rare treat.

I must close for this time and the boys join with me in sending regards to all our friends hoping they have not quite forgotten us.

Yours respectfully

Robert H. Lord.

AFTER LONG ILLNESS

MRS. L. P. KELLOGG PASSES TO THE GREAT BEYOND

Funeral Held Wednesday at the Home in Ney—Obituary of Jas. Risdon who Passed away last Tuesday

The following words spoken by Rev. T. E. Ream at the funeral of Mrs. Kellogg are better and more fitting than any we might produce, he having been well acquainted with the estimable lady who passed away:

"Our deceased sister, Mrs. Harriet M. Kellogg, was born in Port Niagar county, New York, September 21, 1827, and died at her own home in Genoa township, DeKalb County, Ill., March 6, 1905, being 77 years, 5 months, and 15 days of age as the time of her decease.

"She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hutchason who resided in Western York State for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchason came from New York with their family in 1845 and settled in Genoa township. Mrs. Kellogg was a young lady eighteen years of age at the time, and from 1845 to the time of her death has always resided at Ney in Genoa township.

"On the 20th day of January, 1847, she was united in marriage to Mr. Leander P. Kellogg at Sycamore, Ill. and into their home seven children were born, one daughter and six sons, two sons having died, one in infancy and one when a young man about eighteen years of age.

"In her departure she leaves her aged and sorrowing husband, Mr. L. P. Kellogg, who walked side by side with his faithful and devoted wife for more than fifty-eight years, and her five living children, all of whom feel the unspeakable loss in the death of their sincere Christian mother.

"The surviving children are: Mrs. Jennett Wilcox of Genoa, Ill., Mr. Leslie, Hutchason, and L. D. Kellogg, all of Genoa township, and Mr. Edward E. Kellogg of Cedar Falls, Ia. She also leaves of her father's family two brothers and one sister, one half brother and one half sister.

"Her brothers are: Mr. Wellington Hutchason of Admire, Kansas, and Mr. Waitland Hutchason of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Her sister is Mrs. Lucy Reed of Seattle, Washington. Her half brother is Mr. Abraham Manning of Seattle, Washington, and her half sister is Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor of Cooperville, Mich.

"Mrs. Kellogg also left an adopted daughter, Mrs. Mary Prescott Tate, residing at Comton, Ill. But in addition to her immediate family and those related to her, she leaves a great many neighbors who feel in her departure the loss of a life long friend.

"Coming to this section of country in early day and touching many of the hardships incident to the early settlers of this community her life and work has been very intimately connected with the many things about us that bless the present generation. She was not only a hard worker in her own household, and for her own loved ones but for more than fifty years her life has been a blessing to scores who resided in this community. With her own hands she ministered the sick and dying, and with her own lips she prayed for and comforted those in sorrow and affliction.

"In younger days God blessed her with robust health and she was not afraid to use her strength for the blessings of others. Those in need of food and clothing and care in sick hours, and comforting in sorrow, all shared in the blessings of her sympathy and helpfulness.

"Her Christian life was most remarkable in the fact that she confessed Christ as her Saviour for more than sixty years.

"When a young girl back in her York State home, but sixteen years old she gave her life to Christ and lived a faithful consistent life to her journey's end.

"She was baptized and united with the M. E. church in New York State and afterward united with the Free Methodist church at Sycamore, Ill., but later in life it her church home at the Ney M. E. church of this community.

Mrs. HARRIET M. KELLOGG

"She was a woman who never allowed her faith in eternal things to waver, she was true to Christ, made the Bible her guide book of life, made prayer her daily delight and to the very last looked forward confidently to her reward.

"For the last two months her health began to fail rapidly, and toward the end her suffering at times was intense, but in all this she found that God's Grace was sufficient for her and trustingly she gave herself into the hand of 'Him who doeth all things well' until at last he said, 'It is enough go up higher.'

The funeral services were held at the home in Ney, Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. Rev. T. E. Ream officiated. There was a large attendance.

JAMES A. RISDON

The following obituary was read by Rev. T. E. Ream at the funeral of James A. Risdon, the facts being taken almost entirely from Mr. Risdon's autobiography:

"Our deceased brother, Mr. James A. Risdon, a citizen of Genoa for 55 years, was born at Moscow, Livingston Co. N. Y. on the 8th of March, 1825, and died at the home of his step-son, Mr. George Johnson, of Genoa Ill., Feb. 28, 1905, being 79 years 11 months and 20 days of age at the time of his decease.

"He was one of a family of five children and for the first 25 years of his life his home was in New York State and Michigan. In the year 1847 Mr. Risdon left Michigan and returned to the east spending about three years at New Haven, Conn., and while there learned the trade of carriage maker.

"On December 5, 1849, he came to Illinois and July 5, 1850, he reached Genoa, and has resided here ever since.

"On November 10, 1850, he was united in marriage to Miss Rachael Durham and into their home five children were born, three sons and two daughters. One daughter died in infancy and the other when a little girl, four and one half years old. The three sons survive their father. They are James H. Risdon of Elgin, Ill., Sidney Risdon of Waterbury, Conn. and Frank A. Risdon of Waltham, Mass.

BOTH TEAMS VICTORS

FIRST AND SECOND BASKET BALL TEAMS AT MARENGO

The Second Genoa High Still Undeatable—Both are Fast and Furious Games—Play DeKalb Tonight

The Marengo first and second high school basket ball teams were again defeated, on their own floor, by the teams from the Genoa high school last Friday evening. Both games were fast and furious from the start, all four teams being on edge. Stott played a fine game at center with the second, while Harvey put up his usual good game with the firsts. Following is the score in detail:

Genoa	FIRST	Marengo

Evans	f	Patrick
Harvey	c	Smith
Downing	g	Rob
Mackey	g	Betts

Field Goals for Genoa—Harvey 6, Evans 3, Brown 1. For Marengo—Patrick 2, Seward 5, Betts 1, Smith 1. Free throws for Genoa—Evans 3, Brown 4. For Marengo—Seward 7. Score 27 to 25.

Genoa	SECOND	Marengo

WARM GAMES TONIGHT

The warmest and last game of the season, as far as Genoa is concerned, will be played at the opera house tonight when the boys' and girls' teams of Genoa and DeKalb will meet and contest for honors. The DeKalb youngsters constitute two of the strongest teams in Northern Illinois, but you know Genoa is numbered among the strong ones.

Should we win this game (which is the intention) the Genoa teams will have a still stronger grip on the championship, despite the protests of Belvidere. Same old prices will prevail. Turn out and shout. It's your last chance.

JUBILEE SINGERS

Give an Entertainment of Rare Merit Wednesday Evening

The entertainment given by the Glazier Jubilee Singers at the opera house Wednesday evening was all and more than was claimed for it. Each succeeding number of the high school lecture course seems to be better than the preceding.

The Carolinians are no doubt the best troupe on the road. The pianist, Walter Carter, is a wonder while every voice shows the natural gift as well as excellent training. There may be others, but none quite as good as Glazier's Carolinians. They were greeted by a goodly audience and it is safe to say if they were to appear again the house would not hold the people.

No Base Ball at Kirkland

Those who had the matter in charge to raise funds to support a base ball team at Kirkland this season gave up the task as a bad job. The citizens there are not sufficiently anxious for the sport to dig up the where withal.

BARNARD DOUBTS MESSAGE

Former Financial Manager for Zion Refuses to Believe Accusation Against Him

Charles Barnhard, a financial manager for Zion, has returned to his home in the northwest part of the township. In regard to the personal trouble he had between himself and Dowie, the Chicago Daily Journal of March 3 has the following to say:

"Declaring every insinuation or influence of wrong doing, in what he chose to term an 'alleged message from Dowie' absolutely false and without foundation, Deacon Charles Barnhard, formerly financial manager of Zion, said only personal trouble between himself and Dowie had brought about his resignation.

While he insisted that things personal between him and the general overseer were matters that concerned the public in general and the people of Zion in particular, nevertheless the former financial manager could not be dragged into a discussion of Zion City's money matters.

To questions which are worrying the holders of property in Zion, Deacon Barnhard with a knowing smile replied 'Why, ask them about it,' meaning Dowie and his lieutenants.

Seated in the kitchen of his son's farmhouse, with mud spattered jeans and boots, Deacon Barnhard read over and over again the words of Dowie contained in the 125 psalm.

At first he was not inclined to discuss the charge that he had turned aside into crooked ways.

'I do not believe Dr. Dowie could write such a message as that,' he said. 'I should want to have his signature under it or hear it from his own lips.'

'And why couldn't he write it?' was asked.

'Because he had no reason for it. I want to say'—here the deacon caught himself.

He read the message again. His face flushed when he reached the words of the psalm.

'The Lord shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity.'

And he read them over and over again.

'I want to say again that I don't believe that Dr. Dowie would make that charge,' said Barnhard. He left his poise with an effort.

'And my reason is that he had no occasion; any such charges from anybody is absolutely false I court the most searching and public investigation of my term as financial manager. I have always courted it.'

'I went from the Commercial Bank to Zion with a recommendation signed by everybody from the president to the janitor, and it will take more than Dowie to efface my good record.'

'What were your reasons for your resignation?'

'They were personal and I can't give them out now.'

'Will you say that Zion's finances are sound?'

'You will have to ask them.'

'Are the householders in Zion who are buying their homes secure in their titles? Will the new mortgages effect them?'

'I don't know. You will have to ask the managers in Zion.'

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used a great many remedies," he says. "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.

EASTER VERY LATE

Social Season Before Lent Much Longer than Usual

This year Easter Sunday will be celebrated on April 23. Only nine times in two and one quarter centuries has Easter fallen as late as it does this year. Only five times in this period has it come later in the spring than it does 1905, and it is not possible for it to fall more than two days later. In all the time from 1789 to 2013 there is not one occasion when it falls later than April 25, and only twice does it come on this date of the month. During this period it comes three times on April 24 and four times on the 23rd.

As a result of a late Easter, Lent of course, will be correspondingly late, and this means a very long social season this winter which will last until March. Lent can come as early as February 4 and as late as March 10, but it more often begins from the middle to the latter part.

Following are the dates during more than two centuries, when Easter has fallen or will fall as late or later than this year:

1791, April 24.
1848, April 23.
1859, April 24.
1886, April 25.
1905, April 23.
1916, April 23.
1943, April 25.
2000, April 23.
2011, April 24.

The late easter season makes a great difference throughout the world along the trade lines. The established custom of extending the social season until the opening of Lent and the feminine habit of "doing up" the spring sewing during the Lenten season obtains in all parts of the States. The late Lent serves to bring the spring and summer seasons more closely together, and is not so good for the merchant. There is also a popular belief that a late Easter presages a late spring, and with several feet of snow covering the entire Western country from the Missouri state line to as far north as Uncle Sam's domains extend, this popular belief is in fair way to be full verified this year.

The Weekly Fashion Letter

The summer frock will be a thing of fluffiness and beauty with its ripples and swirls of lace and ribbons. Flounces are to be more used than ever. Three tiered skirts with fitted DEMISEASON HAT. flounces are to be a favorite summer model for gowns that do not visit the laundry.

A very pretty and new belt is of dull soft gray suede leather stamped with peacock feathers in their natural colors.

In the shops are found ready made flounces of embroidery that come by the yard for skirt ruffles and berthias.

Bodices are tight and pointed and are much shirred in up and down lines. Surplised effects, too, are to be a feature of the summer frocks. A dainty little dainty dress is made with full skirt shirred about the waist ten inches deep, with a wide hem at the feet.

The bodice is shirred at the shoulders, and about the surplised fronts are bands of swiss embroidery outlining a chemise of tucked lawn. The sleeves are puffed to the elbow and finished with a shirred ruffle. A ribbon girde completes the attractive little frock.

Buttons are used in every conceivable place on a frock—up and down the skirt, down the back of the coat and in any becoming part of the jacket.

A demiseason hat is shown in the cut. It is something of a tricorne shape, covered with heavy silk and bound with a wide piece of velvet. About the crown are massed rather large roses without foliage. Falling becomingly over the hair at the side are two short ostrich feathers.

MILLINERY MATTERS. The spring hats promise to be rather small affairs and are to be worn tilted well forward over the face. For dressy occasions the picture hat will have its GUIPURE LACE WAIST. accustomed place. The modified Gainsborough is the shape most approved of fashion for this purpose.

Wings are to be a feature of the new millinery arranged in pairs—for instance, a pair of wings with a rosette of ribbon or velvet or an owl's head holding them in position.

Feathers are to adorn the large hats, and some of the smartest artists are mingling flowers with the feathered beauties.

Marabou is used bunched up in elegant fashion. Indeed, any kind of an upstanding arrangement of trimming is the mode, the flat effects having gone "out."

A tulle toque made up with two silver wings immediately in front of the little creation and a good sized rosette of silver gauze ribbon in the center is a smart piece of evening headgear.

Puritan fancy favors the marquis hat, the brim turned up in a variety of ways with the trimming massed at the back.

Lace is more worn than ever, especially the finer makes, such as alencon and brussels. Nothing in the way of a lace waist could be daintier than the model illustrated. It is of all over guipure lace simply gathered from an oddly shaped yoke of fagoted ribbon. Little ruffles of ribbon edge the collar all around. The sleeves are puffed and ruffled at the elbow.

opera hoods. Most of these scarfs are black, cream or white, with designs in gold or silver. They are handmade, and no two are alike. The simpler scarf may be bought for $12.

Now is an excellent time to buy handsome furs at reduced prices. There is a month or so to wear them yet this season, and the furrier will store them through the summer months and see that they are in good condition for the first cold days of fall.

One of the novelties in jewelry is the miniature scarfpin containing the tiny portrait in oils upon porcelain of the wearer's favorite horse. For women favorite dogs and cats pose for these miniatures, which are set in a gold brooch or lace pin.

For the hair is a shell pin with jeweled chains attached which forms a is shirred slightly a few inches from the shoulders and blouses in platted fullness over a lace girde. A collar of lace fastens with a chon of silk and a bunch of orange flowers. The puffed sleeves have a band of lace catching the shirrings.

SLEEVE MODELS. Sleeves are the crucial test of the up to date frock. If the sleeves are in style, much in the want of modishness is forgiven the rest of the dress. A very practical way of making over the sleeves of yesterday is to turn them upside down. The bagging fullness at the wrist is easily pushed up the arm and smartened with a deep cuff. These cuffs must be buttoned, and much of the grace and style of the lower sleeve is lost if it does not fit snugly to the arm.

Skirts are wide and many gored, twenty-one gores being not an unusual number for a skirt to possess. A new and swagger skirt is formed of alter-

New white neck and sleeve ruching, which comes by the yard, is now polka dotted.

Very modish and stunning is the bridal gown illustrated. It is evolved from the softest kind of peau de soie. The skirt is laid in plaits at the waist and trimmed at the bottom with an exquisite piece of brussels lace. This lace is made into medallions, and in the center of each alternate one is set a bunch of orange blossoms. The bodice

In wash fabrics Scotch plaids and checks are to be used. Linen lawn and dimities in the thin materials are favorites for summer frocks.

Taffeta with a soft finish and in pin stripe effects holds first place among spring silks.

The illustration shows a practical way of renovating an old sleeve to look like a new one. The upper portion of the sleeve was originally of lace, which in the new edition forms the cuff, while the fluffy wrist fullness is promoted to the top of the sleeve.

When You Have a Cold

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy liquifies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by G. H. Hunt.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or an attack of the grip, and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. This remedy is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results. For sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.

A Highly Proper Person.

A remarkable admission was made at an inquest the other day at Llanelli on the body of a railway servant named Sutton, who died during the night without receiving medical attention. The widow said her husband was unconscious for some hours, but she did not fetch a doctor because it was not proper for a young woman to be seen out at 10 o'clock at night. She could not do it even to save her husband's life; neither could she fetch his parents, who lived in the next street.—London Telegraph.

Oldest Matches.

The matches we now use will soon be taking their place with the tinder box relics owned by a St. Louis man. Electricians say that electrical devices will take their place. Matches have been in the fashion for a long time now, but a couple of hundred years ago they were not thought of. Tinder boxes were used then, and much ingenuity and taste were exercised in their making. The wood was elaborately carved by skilled artisans.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Test Seed Corn
One of the recent bulletins issued by the Illinois Experiment Station treats of testing seed corn and among other things says;
We believe it would be possible for every ear of corn planted in Illinois to be tested for vitality. If an ear does not come to the standard we may discard it and plant only seed which will grow, and materially increase the stand of our corn crop the coming year. It will seem like a heavy task to germinate three or four kernels of corn from every ear in the bushel, and yet two or three evenings a week, for a few weeks, on the part of only one person, would test enough ears to plant his own crop at least. The kernels could be placed between folds of blotting paper in a moist box, or moistened between two common dinner plates. It is not difficult to keep track of the ears from which is taken each set of kernels. One kernel should be taken from the butt of the ear, at least one from the middle, and one from the tip. If all the kernels grow the ear may reasonably be supposed to be good, otherwise it should be discarded.

A MOTHER'S DREAD.
A fear clutches at the heart of the mother that her own little one may not live long. She dreads its second summer, or that it may never wake from its sound sleep. All mankind loves to see a mother love her child. A baby and its mother are insured against illness if the mother takes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a tonic for women that Dr. R. V. Pierce invented over a third of a century ago for women's ills. This is a vegetable tonic, made only of barks, roots and herbs, which puts the female system into perfect, healthy action. Before baby's coming it is just the uterine tonic that puts the woman's system into a proper condition to make the birth painless and to insure a healthy child.
Many mothers of families in the United States have reason to be grateful to the person who recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It does not cure eczema, catarrh in all its forms, nor heart disease, for it is put up for the single purpose of curing disease peculiar to women. It has a reputation of over thirty-eight years of cures, and has sold more largely on this continent than any other medicine for women. Another point in its favor; it does not contain a single drop of alcohol nor of any narcotic. This Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does, as no other remedy can: It cures the drains and weaknesses of women, and the manufacturers offer to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.
WHAT MARRIED WOMEN should know is contained in that book of 1000 pages, over 700 illustrations, which has now reached its sixty-second edition, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume, the cost of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

1869 and six years later, March 17, 1875, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Louisa Johnson. His married life with his second wife extended over a period of twenty-eight years, when she died November 7, 1903, and from that time until his death he has made his home with his step-son Mr. George Johnson of this place.

"Mr. Risdon was a man loved and honored by all who knew him. He has a splendid record in this community as a man of honesty, sincerity and lovable traits of character. As a workman he could stand among the very best in DeKalb county.

"Mr. Risdon was also a noble Christian character. He was converted when a young man about eighteen years old. He was then baptized into the Christian faith and joined the Baptist church at Highland, Michigan in 1843. He was a believer in the Holy Bible and was a man of prayer. For the past two years he has attended services here at the M. E. church when his health and strength would permit.

"He was also an honored charter member of the Masonic order of Genoa, Ill., being the last of the original thirteen members.

"Mr. Risdon's faith in Christ and hope for the future life led him to look forward to the Better World with joy and triumph.

"Among the last words of his autobiography are these: 'I hope to receive my pardon and to meet my loved ones who have gone before, and I hope for forgiveness from all.'

"Many, not only among the members of his own family, but everywhere in this vicinity will naturally feel that there has gone from us a Godly man."

OUR 7TH

MONSTER MILL END SALE

Will Open in our Store on Saturday, March 11, and continue until Tuesday, March 21.

To those who are not familiar with the meaning of the Mill End Sale, we would say that mill ends are properly the left-over ends in the looms of the fabric weaver after the full pieces are cut into regular piece lengths. But other manufacturers have what might be termed as mill ends, for shoe factories, hosiery and underwear factories, foundries, book publishers, glove factories, corset factories, in fact, every manufacturing establishment, whether mill or factory, have odd lots, accumulations, seconds and many articles with slight manufacturing imperfections that cannot be sold or shipped in the regular way. The Mill End Sale is the natural outlet for these accumulations, and our store is selected by the Mill End Syndicate because of our ability to dispose of immense quantities of merchandise quickly, and properly care for the vast crowds of people who attend the Mill End Sale.

Come any day of the sale; bargains await you at every counter
