

HOMECOMING A GREAT SUCCESS

Hundreds of People from Surrounding Towns Visit Genoa

BAND PLAYS FOUR CONCERTS

Genoa Lost Game 3 to 4; Beautiful Floats; Excellent Dinner by Woman's Auxiliary

The Home Coming staged last Thursday under auspices of Bayard Brown Post No. 337 American Legion was a huge success from every point of view. The weather was perfect, the attractions many, a large crowd attended and the ball game, an excellent exhibition of the great pastime, and dance were well attended.

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion started the ball rolling with a dinner that was "fit for the gods," and about two-hundred partook of the delicious food, served in an elaborate style in Odd Fellow Hall.

At 1:00 o'clock the running races, three legged races etc. for men and boys were held, with many participants in each.

Next the Burlington band gave an excellent concert which the hundreds of people enjoyed greatly, showing their appreciation by loud bursts of applause.

Headed by the band a number of beautiful floats passed along Main street amid loud cheers of the people who thoroughly enjoyed seeing such artistic and original creations.

The crowd then journeyed to the ball diamond where the Hampshire team was waiting to do battle with the Genoa aggregation. Outside of a few players who played the bench both teams were nearly all "outsiders". Hampshire "loaded up" with Elgin Legion men, while Genoa partook of the Rockford Orioles and a few more fast men.

Right from the start the game was slated to be a pitchers' battle, both heavies being in top form. Although the score gives "Dolly Gray credit for pitching a winning game and allowing only eleven hits, Beltz showed his class by holding Hampshire to 3 hits, 2 doubles and a single, and but for a couple of costly errors the ball game was Genoa's before the thing started, however such is luck, and as there is no way of getting the two teams together again, that is the same line-up, we will have to concede Hampshire the game, regardless of the merits of the pitchers.

Real brilliant plays on both sides, both infield and outfield featured the game.

In the ninth inning Genoa had men on second and third and one out. The pitcher snapped the ball to third, and caught McCabe napping. Ted Kohn then struck out for the first time that day and the game was over although it did seem in our grasp at most any moment.

During the supper hour many people partook of sandwiches and hot dogs at the various lunch stands playing the "wheels" and riding on the merry-go-round. After seven o'clock the moving picture shows in both theatres opened and the huge crowds were further entertained, those not caring for the pictures remaining to hear another excellent concert by the band.

One of the largest crowds ever handled attended the dance at the Opera house, where amid the saxophones' blaa and the piano's ringing many danced until the beginning of a new day.

Earned runs Hampshire 1, Genoa 1. First on balls of Beltz 2, off Gray 2. Left on bases, Hampshire 5, Genoa 10. 1st base on errors, Hampshire 5, Genoa 0. 2 base hits, Kohn, Thisell, Shultz, Hampshire

WHAT OTHERS THINK

Genoa Police Chief Makes Good Impression in Rockford

The Republican has on several occasions referred to the excellent work of E. E. Crawford as a police officer. The following letter to Mayor Hutchinson only emphasizes the general opinion thruout this part of the country.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 21, 1921.
Mr. Jas. J. Hutchinson Mayor, Genoa, Illinois.
Dear Sir:-

Your Chief of Police, Mr. E. E. Crawford, was in this city yesterday to testify in the preliminary hearing of Halsey Smith and Floyd Shook who were arrested by him last week for stealing an automobile and during his stay in Rockford I had quite a visit with him.

Having been in the police business for over thirty years myself and Chief of Rockford for the past twenty-eight year, I feel that I know a real police officer when I meet and talk to him. Mr. Crawford is a born police officer, a young man, ambitious, intellectual, initiative and a man with ability. It is hard to beat a combination of this kind and I want to congratulate you and the city of Genoa in having a man of his calibre at the head of its police work. He made a good impression upon me and I want some of his friends to know how the police in other cities feel about him.

He is young and a boost won't hurt him and it gives me great pleasure to say a good word in his behalf.

Yours respectfully,
E. Bargren, A.
Chief of Police

MRS. H. G. WRIGHT INJURED

Wife of Senator Wright Breaks Nose in Auto Accident

Mrs. H. G. Wright while en route to the Sandwich fair suffered injuries which most people would be glad to give way to and return home at once but not so with Mrs. Wright.

Allen Brckaloo and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Duncan and Dr. and Mrs. Wright were on the way to the fair when the car struck a bad place in the road near Hinckley. Mrs. Wright was thrown from the seat towards the top of the car and as she fell back into the seat, struck the iron bows of the top. She suffered a broken nose and a slight cut about the face.

The party returned to Hinckley but finding no doctor there went on to Sandwich and stopped at the Horatio N. Woodward hospital, where she was given surgical attention.

After the DeKalb woman had received attention she was determined to see the fair and spent the remainder of the day with the party and seemed to enjoy the day as well as any in the party.—DeKalb Chronicle.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The Genoa Community Club will meet Monday, October third, at two-thirty at the Rest Room. The program for the afternoon will be in charge of the Legislative department of which Mrs. A. C. Reid is chairman. The discussion on present legislation is of vital importance to everyone.

Inquiry has been made as to proper method of withdrawing one's membership from the club; the answer is, to send a written notice to that effect to the recording secretary, which office will be filled temporarily by Mrs. Chas. Schoonmaker Jr.

Mabel Baldwin, Cor. Sec.

	ABR	H	2B	3B	HR	BB	SO	RH	SB	PO	A	E
Chamberlain, rf.	3	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1
Petchow ss.	3	0	0	0	0	0	1	3	0	0	0	2
Bowen, 2b.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	0
Olsen, c.	4	1	1	1	0	0	2	0	0	1	2	1
Anderson, L. 3b.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	2
Kernins lf.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	0
Steinmetz cf.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	4	0
Bowman 1b.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	6	1
Gray, p.	4	1	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	3
Totals	28	4	3	2	0	0	2	9	0	0	27	14
Kohn lf.	4	1	2	1	0	0	1	2	0	0	2	0
Thisell 2b.	4	0	1	1	0	0	0	2	0	4	3	2
Shultz cf.	4	1	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0
Anderson A. ss.	4	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	2	0
Hansen, 3b.	4	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	2	0
Cannon rf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	4	0
Kernins lf.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	1	3
Bean c.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	1	3
McCabe, 1b.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	7	2
Beltz p.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	3	0
Total	36	3	11	4	0	0	0	10	1	0	27	14

Struck out by Beltz 9, By Gray 10. Double plays Thisell to McCabe to Hansen. Gray to Bowen to Bowman. Passed ball, Hampshire 1. Hit by Pitcher, Bowen.

MARENGO DAIRIES HAVE ORGANIZED

Organized for Independent Producers' Association

PRODUCERS HAVE FILED CHARTER

Dairymen Expected to Demand at Least $2.00 for October Milk

The Independent Milk Producers' association, organized at Marengo within the past week by local dairymen, filed its charter in the recorder's office at Woodstock Monday. John Sullivan is president of the organization and Ralph Metcalf is secretary. The Marengo men, who are representatives of the old Milk Producers' association organized the new association to take the place of the Marketing Co. in this vicinity.

In Chicago Tuesday at a meeting of special delegates of the Milk Producers' association it was declared that the dairymen will demand at least $2 per hundred pounds for October milk, the present price as fixed by the marketing company being $1.50.

However, definite action on both the October price and the wrangle between directors of the Milk Producers' Co-Operative Marketing Company was postponed until next Monday, when the special meeting will reconvene.

F. H. Reese, of Dundee, treasurer of the marketing company, is quoted as saying: "Delegates generally expressed themselves as unable to hold their locals together unless the October price is around $2 per hundred pounds."

Secretary E. C. Rockwell of the Milk Producers' Association, in explaining the deadlock between the directors of the Marketing company placed the blame on an effort of J. T. Williams to approve several alleged illegal board meetings by passing a bank resolution.

"Mr. Rockwell, as well as several others, felt as though the alleged illegal meetings should be taken up one at a time," said Mr. Reese. "He explained that this point resulted in the deadlock. We did not want to be recorded as favoring action that he had voted against three or four months ago."

Rockwell's statement, read immediately after the afternoon session had convened, went into detail on the trouble between the directors of the marketing company. He stated that in his opinion if all of the meetings in question had been taken up one at a time the situation prevailing today would not have arisen.

Table Indorsement

A resolution to support the marketing company brought amendment after amendment, and as a result the resolution was tabled. More than 300 delegates attended.—Marengo Republican.

C. J. COOPER RETURNS

Spoke in Every County in State of Vermont

C. J. Cooper is just back from the state of Vermont where since last December he has been working in the interests of the Farmers' associations. Mr. Cooper's year has been a pleasant one barring his absence from home. He has spoken in every county in Vermont and in every village and city of any consequence in the state. His smallest meeting was 17 persons and his largest meeting was about 15,000. He spent one day at the late Franklin K. Lane's home, and while President Harding was in the state he met him too.

Mr. Cooper tells some remarkable facts. The young men have been seeking the cities and better farms out west leaving the care of the Vermont farms to the old folks. Many times he saw men over eighty years old at the milking. Vermont that used to raise the best sheep in the world and that got the highest price ever received for a buck, now has fewer sheep than dogs. Indeed the last census showed 435 more dogs in the state. The same is true of cattle.—Sycamore Tribune.

GEORGE OLMSTEAD STRICKEN

George Olmstead was stricken with paralysis at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning; the entire left side being paralyzed. Up to this time, Mr. Olmstead had been in unusually good health.

FULLER A CANDIDATE

Consents to Run for Congress on Any Terms

With party differences in Illinois to iron out, with feelings of unrest all over the country; with doubt and uncertainty everywhere apparent; with a fight in prospect for one side or another against every man proposed as the one to harmonize those differences, it is with a sense of relief and gratitude we can turn our faces to one name that meets with public favor from every side. Turn where you will; go where you will, the name of our Congressman, Chas. E. Fuller is upon every lip as the one man who can have united support for re-election. Word comes from Kendall, from Winnebago, LaSalle, from DeKalb, from his home county of Boone, that the voters are solid for his return to Congress. With this united front Congressman Fuller has been asked to lend his name for re-election and he has consented. When approached at first he looked at the situation and all its trying exactions with a degree of hesitation. The fearful demands on his health, which 365 days a year seasons were making, quite naturally brought out the thought—'is not my health entitled to some consideration. This consideration compelled him to state that he would not make a campaign for votes and could not do so anyway as congress will be in a continuous session until after April primaries. But with the repeated assurances of support he has consented to be a candidate for re-election. Congressman Fuller knows us all; he is our friend. Thru thick and thin he has fought the battle of his constituents. The greatest of all questions is looking after our soldier boys. Nothing can equal it in importance and so we find that as chairman of the committee which has to do with soldiers' needs, Congressman Fuller is the most influential man in congress to handle those questions. To let him retire would be suicidal. With such tremendous consequences at stake, this district may well congratulate itself that Congressman Fuller will consent to run on any terms. With one accord his constituents have agreed to meet them.—Sycamore Tribune.

JUDGE A. C. CLIFFE NOT RUNNING

Spoke at a Meeting of the Kiwanis Club in Elgin Last Week

Judge Adam C. Cliffe of Sycamore is not a candidate for any public office, governorship included, according to his introductory remarks in an inspiring address on "Patriotism" before members of the Kiwanis club, their wives and ladies, at the Elgin State hospital last night.

That a growing sentiment was sweeping Illinois to have the judge of the sixteenth judicial district become a candidate for the Republican nomination of governor was suggested by A. L. Paulson, who introduced the speaker.

"I assure you that I am not a candidate for any office," Judge Cliffe responded. "The highest ambition of my life has been obtained. The governorship has been filled by some wonderful men.

"Confidentially, if I were governor I would take Dr. Ralph T. Hinton and Col. Adams and such men as these and put them in command of the great interests of Illinois. There must be no partisan politics.

"No man in Illinois has any greater honor than our good Dr. Hinton, who has accomplished a great work. I hope the governor or any other governor will recognize efficiency and high mindedness in filling the place the doctor holds as head of this great institution."

PHONE RATE INCREASE

DeKalb County Telephone Company Asks Increase in Rates

A number from DeKalb county attended the hearing before Commissioner A. T. Spivey of the Illinois Commerce commission at Springfield on Wednesday, on the petition of the DeKalb County Telephone Company for an increase in telephone rates.

The telephone company was represented by Attorney John Faisler and by J. C. Joslyn, its general manager and secretary. Attorney H. D. Fisk of DeKalb represented DeKalb Waterman and Shabbona, while Attorney F. E. Brower of Sycamore, represented Sycamore, Genoa and Kirkland.

The company asks permission to increase rates in Sycamore, Genoa, DeKalb, Waterman, Shabbona, Maple Park, Kirkland, Hinckley, Lee, Kings-ton and Esmond. All were not represented by attorneys.

General Manager and Secretary Joslyn was on the stand most of the day and was very sharply cross-examined by Attorneys Fisk and Brower.

Mr. Joslyn testified at some length regarding the increase in cost of operating expenses in labor and material which he claimed the company has been compelled to bear since the rates were last increased.

CORTLAND SCHOOLS CLOSE

Scarlet Fever Cases Break Out, Necessitating the Shut Down

The presence of a severe case of scarlet fever among the children of Cortland resulted today in the village school being closed, the order stating that the period would be at least a week.

Little Marion Vinson is the unfortunate child to be afflicted with the disease. She was taken ill several days ago and played about with her little friends until her sickness became more severe. When a physician was called he diagnosed the ailment as scarlet fever and as several had been exposed it was deemed wisest to promulgate the closing order.

"Rubalyat." "Rubalyat" is the plural of "rubal." The "rubal" is a quatrain or stanza composed in such style of stanza.

Helping Hand

Introducing Our Teachers—Io!one Gallagher

Genoa high school is proud of its faculty. It is not many schools that can boast of an experienced and specialized staff of teachers. This is true in our school and we are proud to announce the fact. The faculty as a whole, are probably known by sight, but we thought that the public would be interested in knowing them a little more personally.

Mr. Mackenzie leads the list, as he leads the school. We are sure that Wheaton high school, of which he is a graduate is more than proud of his record. He is also a graduate of Wheaton College, where he obtained an A. B. degree and where he specialized in languages and mathematics.

A later course at the University of Montana, where he specialized in "The Botany of the Rocky Mt. Region" and a year of graduate work at the University of Chicago, constitutes his college course.

Not only has he a record in college work, but also in athletics. He was captain of the basket ball team and earned letters on other teams. Beside this, he was editor of the college paper, President of Excelsior Debating Club, and Secretary of Oratorical League. His present recreation is playing tennis in spite of the fact that his potatoes need digging and his greatest Genoa accomplishment is having learned to milk.

His record as a teacher is good. In 1910 he taught at Rockford; for eight years he was principal at Forsyth, Montana. He has been with us three years and we are hoping that he will be here another year.

Mr. Waggoner comes to us from New Lebanon in Southern, Ill. He attended McHenry Academy and Illinois University, where he obtained a B. S. degree. It is interesting to note that he specialized in agriculture and is teaching it here along with the science classes. Mr. Waggoner is going to coach the boys' athletic teams and we are certain that he will establish a banner record.

Miss Reimer is a graduate of Beloit high school and also of Beloit college. At college she specialized in history and minored in English. Last year she taught mathematics, history and coached the girls' basket ball team at Polo. Our school has tried hard for a girls' team, but as yet has never succeeded. Miss Reimer has offered to coach for the girls and we are hoping for a team that will give the boys a stiff opposition and we will surely have one for she backs the girls if they stand by her. (To be continued.)

Weekly Items

Miss Skinner was absent from school on Monday and Tuesday on account of illness. Her cooking and sewing classes were in charge of Mrs. Perkins, a former teacher in Genoa schools.

No school was held on Wednesday afternoon on account of the funeral of Mrs. Mary Burzell. Nor was any school held on Thursday because of the Legion picnic.

Miss Reimer met the Glee club members at four o'clock Friday.

The New Literary Club

On Friday evening September 23, 1921, eight members of the Genoa high school met with Miss Irwin at the Merritt home for the purpose of organizing a literary society. At a previous election in general assembly that John Dyer was made editor-in-chief of the literary staff. At this meeting the motion was made and carried that

SENATOR WRIGHT IS THE CANDIDATE

Particular Emphasis on the "THE" According to Opinion of Constituents

ATTEND MEETING AT DIXON, ILL.

The Senator Host to Number of Newspaper Men and Colleagues, Last Saturday

That Senator Harry G. Wright of the 35th district will be re-nominated is an assured fact. It is also an assured fact practically that there will be no other candidate for the office, if the sentiment expressed at the meeting in Dixon last Saturday is any criterion of the sentiment in the district. Men representing every county in the district were present and all seemed of the same mind.

The newspaper men of the district several of the senator's colleagues and friends were his guests at dinner.

Judge Adam C. Cliffe acted as toastmaster and called upon several for speeches. In every instance the candidacy of Senator Wright was endorsed, and many gave concrete reasons for the endorsement, especially those who had served in the senate with Mr. Wright. It was repeatedly pointed out that Senator Wright made unusual headway as a new man on the floor and thru his energy and ability to get what he went after, secured constant recognition of his district. One speaker eulogized the work of Adam C. Cliffe as senator from this district and finished by saying that a better and more efficient successor could not have been selected than Harry G. Wright. And this speaker is a man who has been in the senate many terms.

This was not a gathering of politicians merely. There were farmers, bankers and men from other walks of life—men who had watched the career of Senator Wright and know him for his true worth to the state and to the 35th district especially.

"The one outstanding quality in the senator's make-up as a public servant is that he always has his cards on the table, face up," said one of his colleagues to the writer. This is the one quality that has made Judge Cliffe so popular a man and public servant. In emulating his predecessor in this one characteristic, Senator Wright is bound to retain his popularity.

COURT HOUSE NOTES

Real Estate Transfers

Kirkland—John MacQueen wd William Foster lot 5 and 6 pt. 4 blk 3 Rowan & Grouts $1500.

Genoa—Amelia Langworthy wd Bert Baker pt. lot 2 blk 3 Stephen's 3rd $600. Cora Danforth wd Frank Wyldes lot 2 blk 1 Patterson's 3rd $1.

Mayfield—Wm. Henenway qd Chas. A. Benson w 1/2 sec 3/4 sec 3d and nw 1/4 sec 31 $1.

Marriage Licenses Issued

Alva R. Maves, aged 21, Sycamore, Marion Woodard, aged 18, DeKalb, Henry Huss, aged 52, Mendota, Anna Worsley, aged 61, Mendota.

Elroy M. Bollinger, aged 23, Sycamore, Charlotte M. Kitchner, aged 21, DeKalb.

Franz E. Johnson, aged 25, DeKalb, Mary B. Heyward, aged 24, Kirkland.

$400 IN TIRES STOLEN

Burglars Tuesday night broke into the Earlville garage and stole more than $400 worth of auto tires. The loot was hauled away in a motor truck.

Several in the town saw the truck, but it was not until some time later that the burglary was discovered. The truck was last seen driving east.

the editor-in-chief should also serve as president. Bertha Peterson was elected secretary and Marcella Hammond treasurer.

Four members were appointed as program committee, namely, Marie O'Bright, Iolene Gallagher, Ruth White and Clarence Russell.

The following members were appointed to draw up a constitution for the society, Lorene Ford, Kenneth Field, Harold Nelson and Irving Peterson.

It was decided that a meeting should be held every two weeks and that the first regular meeting should be held September 29, at the home of Ruth White near Charter Grove.

SUPERVISORS' PRICINGS

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of DeKalb County, Illinois, was held at the Court House in Sycamore, Ill., on Saturday, Sept. 15, 1921, and was called to order by George S. Hyde, Chairman.

ANNUAL REPORT OF S. M. HENDERSON, COUNTY AGENT.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Board of Supervisors: I have the honor to submit to you a statement showing the financial operations of DeKalb County from September 1st, 1920, to August 31st, 1921, both inclusive.

Table with multiple columns listing various financial items such as 'Board of Supervisors', 'County Agent', 'County Jail', 'County Jail', 'County Jail', etc., with corresponding dollar amounts.

valuation in addition to the maximum of all other county taxes which the County is now or may hereafter be authorized to levy. Said tax is not subject to reduction under Jewell law, does not require a vote of the people and can be used for the County purpose.

The Board was then excused for committee work and adjourned on motion of Mr. Jarboe, to meet at 9:30 a. m., Wednesday.

Wednesday A. M., September 14th, 1921. The Board met at 9:30 a. m., and was called to order by Chairman Hyde.

The roll being called, all members were found present, except Mr. Warren.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

Mr. Jarboe reported that the Committee on the State Highway Department had appointed a committee of three to act with the Superintendent of Highways in the matter of the State Highway Department.

and S. M. Henderson, County Clerk; and Geo. A. James as delegate to the Circuit Clerk's Convention, and Walter M. Hay to the Treasurer's Convention; the resolutions all to be held in the City of Alton on September 27th, 28th and 29th, 1921.

Mr. Stoney presented and read the following Report of the Superintendent of Schools, and the Report of the Superintendent of Highways, and moved that it be accepted and adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AND REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Board of Supervisors: Your Committee on Education beg leave to submit the following report:

We have examined the accounts of Warren Hubbard and Geo. McKenzie, and every particular with his report submitted to the Committee on Education.

We further find that he has been employed during the time beginning June 13th, 1921, up to and including September 13th, 1921, in office work and in conducting the local institute five days; in holding teachers' examinations two days; and in other official duties four days.

All of which is respectfully submitted. W. H. STONEY, Chairman, F. E. WRIGHT, J. H. JARBOE.

To the Board of Supervisors of DeKalb County: I beg leave to submit the following report of the County Superintendent of Schools for the time beginning June 13th, 1921, up to and including September 13th, 1921.

During the time I have been employed in office work six days; in conducting the annual institute five days; in holding teachers' examinations two days; and in other official duties four days.

The annual reports of the Institute and the Distributable Fund were submitted herewith.

There is a balance of one thousand seven hundred and fifty-one cents on hand in the Non-High School Fund. All of which is respectfully submitted.

County Superintendent of Schools, ALVIN WARREN.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my Annual Report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 0.00 March 14—State School Fund..... 25,684.57 Interest on State School Fund..... 214.10

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 322.35 Sept. 3—Institute funds..... 45.00

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 322.35 Sept. 3—Institute funds..... 45.00

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

lution regarding same had been prepared by the State's Attorney. Mr. Bartlett moved that the matter of the proposed road be referred to the Highway Committee. Motion carried.

The Board was then excused for committee work and adjourned on motion of Mr. Jarboe, to meet at 9:30 a. m., Thursday.

Thursday P. M., September 15th, 1921. The Board met at 1:30 p. m., all members being present except Mr. Aurner.

Mr. Jarboe presented and read the following Report of the County Superintendent of Schools, and the Report of the Superintendent of Highways, and moved that it be accepted and adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AND REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Board of Supervisors: Your Committee on Education beg leave to submit the following report:

We have examined the accounts of Warren Hubbard and Geo. McKenzie, and every particular with his report submitted to the Committee on Education.

We further find that he has been employed during the time beginning June 13th, 1921, up to and including September 13th, 1921, in office work and in conducting the local institute five days; in holding teachers' examinations two days; and in other official duties four days.

All of which is respectfully submitted. W. H. STONEY, Chairman, F. E. WRIGHT, J. H. JARBOE.

To the Board of Supervisors of DeKalb County: I beg leave to submit the following report of the County Superintendent of Schools for the time beginning June 13th, 1921, up to and including September 13th, 1921.

During the time I have been employed in office work six days; in conducting the annual institute five days; in holding teachers' examinations two days; and in other official duties four days.

The annual reports of the Institute and the Distributable Fund were submitted herewith.

There is a balance of one thousand seven hundred and fifty-one cents on hand in the Non-High School Fund. All of which is respectfully submitted.

County Superintendent of Schools, ALVIN WARREN.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my Annual Report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 0.00 March 14—State School Fund..... 25,684.57 Interest on State School Fund..... 214.10

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 322.35 Sept. 3—Institute funds..... 45.00

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 322.35 Sept. 3—Institute funds..... 45.00

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

Jennie E. Little, copy, People vs. Case 3.50 2.50 W. H. Decker, Sheriff, mis- cellaneous expenses 20.20 25.20 W. H. Decker, Sheriff, dieting prisoners, etc. 782.40 782.40

Thursday P. M., September 15th, 1921. The Board met at 1:30 p. m., all members being present except Mr. Aurner.

Mr. Jarboe presented and read the following Report of the County Superintendent of Schools, and the Report of the Superintendent of Highways, and moved that it be accepted and adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AND REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Board of Supervisors: Your Committee on Education beg leave to submit the following report:

We have examined the accounts of Warren Hubbard and Geo. McKenzie, and every particular with his report submitted to the Committee on Education.

We further find that he has been employed during the time beginning June 13th, 1921, up to and including September 13th, 1921, in office work and in conducting the local institute five days; in holding teachers' examinations two days; and in other official duties four days.

All of which is respectfully submitted. W. H. STONEY, Chairman, F. E. WRIGHT, J. H. JARBOE.

To the Board of Supervisors of DeKalb County: I beg leave to submit the following report of the County Superintendent of Schools for the time beginning June 13th, 1921, up to and including September 13th, 1921.

During the time I have been employed in office work six days; in conducting the annual institute five days; in holding teachers' examinations two days; and in other official duties four days.

The annual reports of the Institute and the Distributable Fund were submitted herewith.

There is a balance of one thousand seven hundred and fifty-one cents on hand in the Non-High School Fund. All of which is respectfully submitted.

County Superintendent of Schools, ALVIN WARREN.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my Annual Report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 0.00 March 14—State School Fund..... 25,684.57 Interest on State School Fund..... 214.10

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 322.35 Sept. 3—Institute funds..... 45.00

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 322.35 Sept. 3—Institute funds..... 45.00

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

Sept. 1st, 1921— Fines and fees from State's Attorney 705.00 From Co. Collector to date 174,139.71

Thursday P. M., September 15th, 1921. The Board met at 1:30 p. m., all members being present except Mr. Aurner.

Mr. Jarboe presented and read the following Report of the County Superintendent of Schools, and the Report of the Superintendent of Highways, and moved that it be accepted and adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AND REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Board of Supervisors: Your Committee on Education beg leave to submit the following report:

We have examined the accounts of Warren Hubbard and Geo. McKenzie, and every particular with his report submitted to the Committee on Education.

We further find that he has been employed during the time beginning June 13th, 1921, up to and including September 13th, 1921, in office work and in conducting the local institute five days; in holding teachers' examinations two days; and in other official duties four days.

All of which is respectfully submitted. W. H. STONEY, Chairman, F. E. WRIGHT, J. H. JARBOE.

To the Board of Supervisors of DeKalb County: I beg leave to submit the following report of the County Superintendent of Schools for the time beginning June 13th, 1921, up to and including September 13th, 1921.

During the time I have been employed in office work six days; in conducting the annual institute five days; in holding teachers' examinations two days; and in other official duties four days.

The annual reports of the Institute and the Distributable Fund were submitted herewith.

There is a balance of one thousand seven hundred and fifty-one cents on hand in the Non-High School Fund. All of which is respectfully submitted.

County Superintendent of Schools, ALVIN WARREN.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my Annual Report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 0.00 March 14—State School Fund..... 25,684.57 Interest on State School Fund..... 214.10

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 322.35 Sept. 3—Institute funds..... 45.00

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, DEKALB COUNTY, ILL., Board of Supervisors, September 14th, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: As required by law, I herewith present my annual report of receipts and disbursements of the Institute and Distributable Fund for the year closing 30th day of June, 1921.

Date Rec'd From All Sources Amount 1921 July 1—Balance on hand..... 322.35 Sept. 3—Institute funds..... 45.00

Respectfully submitted this 14th day of September, 1921. WARREN HUBBARD, County Superintendent.

WIFE TAKES HUSBANDS ADVICE

And Is Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"The doctor told my husband that I had to have an operation, otherwise I would be a sickly woman and could not have any more children on account of my weakened condition. I refused to have the operation. My husband asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it would not help me. For the first four months I could do but little work, had to lie down most of the time, was nervous and could eat hardly anything, but my husband was always reminding me to take the Vegetable Compound, which I did. Of my eight children this last one was the easiest birth of all and I am thankful for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend it to my friends when I hear them complaining about their ills."—Mrs. M. NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass.

Sickly, ailing women make unhappy homes, and after reading Mrs. Natale's letter one can imagine how this home was transformed by her restoration to health. Every woman who suffers from such ailments should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. It is surely worth while.

"Gibraltar of America." The city of Quebec is sometimes called the "Gibraltar of America," because of its well-nigh impregnable position and strong means of defense, both natural and artificial.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Loves the 'fruity' taste of 'California Fig Syrup' and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine 'California Fig Syrup' which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say 'California' or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Elderly gentlemen seem to have a penchant for younger ladies.

Of course you know the reason why millions of men like Lucky Strike Cigarette

—because it's toasted which seals in the real Burley taste

When the body begins to stiffen and movement becomes painful it is usually an indication that the kidneys are out of order. Keep these organs healthy by taking GOLD MEDAL WARMER OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles. Famous since 1696. Take regularly and keep in good health. In three sizes, all sizes in good health. In three sizes, all sizes in good health. In three sizes, all sizes in good health.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

W. N. U., CHICAGO, NO. 40-1921.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

Of course you know the reason why millions of men like Lucky Strike Cigarette

—because it's toasted which seals in the real Burley taste

When the body begins to stiffen and movement becomes painful it is usually an indication that the kidneys are out of order. Keep these organs healthy by taking GOLD MEDAL WARMER OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles. Famous since 1696. Take regularly and keep in good health. In three sizes, all sizes in good health. In three sizes, all sizes in good health.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

W. N. U., CHICAGO, NO. 40-1921.

The Mystery of the Silver Dagger

By Randall Parrish
Author of "The Strange Case of Cavendish"

Copyright, by Randall Parrish

CHAPTER X—Continued.

I shook my head, but this only angered Costigan.

"Ah, stow that," he broke in roughly. "We know you never got it, but she did. There ain't no other way it could have been done. The dame left with Alva. George here saw her go out with him. Then the next morning the guy was found dead, his pockets rifled, and the bag of cash gone. How was he croaked—do you know? Punctured from behind with some sorter sharp instrument, no bigger than a hat-pin. It looked like a woman's job, but she got away clean. And what then? The next night she turns up with you over at Perond's blowing in the coin, and the two of yer havin' a h—l of a time. That proves yer were together, don't it?"

"We're not going to blow this to the police," broke in Harris, as Dan paused for breath. "That ain't the idea at all. But we want a share of that dough. You come across, and there won't be no more trouble."

"But suppose I don't? Suppose I tell you I haven't the slightest idea where that money is, or who got it? What then?"

Harris' grin was more malicious and hateful than never, but he waited and deliberately lit his stump of a cigar.

"What then?" he echoed finally. "Well, in the first place, we've got you, haven't we? You'll squeal, believe me, before you ever get out of our hands. See here, Severn, I ain't got any direct proof that'll put you in the chair at Sing-Sing; that's true enough, but unless the two of you cough up liberal, I'll turn something over to the police of this town what will give you a term in the jug, as accessory, and fix that fly dame of yours for all time."

"You are bluffing; you have no such proof."

"Oh, haven't I? Look here, you fool; do you know where I got that?"

He whipped something from out the concealment of an inner coat pocket, and flung it fully revealed onto the desk—an ornamental dagger, glittering in the light, which I as instantly recognized.

"Ever see that baby weapon before?"

"Yes," and I felt a sudden relief at the discovery. "You slashed open my valise, and found it."

"Exactly; that's what I did," evidently proud of himself. "It was an easy enough trick. Just as soon as I got eyes on this pretty plaything I knew I'd got the sticker that put Alva out of business—an' I knew where it come from."

"Where?"

"Oh, h—l! do you think I ain't got any eyes? That skirt wore it in her hat when she and Alva went out together."

"Oh, did she? This same pin, was it? Say, Harris, I wish I could be as bright as you think you are. And did you happen to observe also that the lady's hat was held in place by exactly the same pin tonight when she was in Perond's? Well, it was; now how could it be in your pocket and in her hat at the same time?"

He stared at me, his mouth wide open, and I was equally amused at the expression upon the faces of the other two. I realized fully the peril I was in, and that these men would hesitate at nothing to obtain their end. Yet, in spite of all this, I was inexpressibly happy. I spiked their big gun with a single blow; moreover, I had learned the truth about her, and my faith in her innocence came back in a flood. Harris had done too much boasting; he had ruined his own case. He had placed the very weapon in my grasp which I most desired to have—absolute assurance that the girl herself was innocent. The fellow felt, and realized, the change.

"That's easy," he sneered. "She bought herself another. That proves nothing, except that she is smart enough to play safe. Neither one of you can get away on that sort of dope."

"Perhaps not; but it clears her of the murder charge."

"Oh, does it? That remains to be seen. We know who she is, and that is more than you do. Oh, h—l, I got onto that over the wire; the only thing that interested you into coming here was to learn who the dame really was. That's part of her play, as I figure it, Severn. She won't give herself away, but is just using you. When she's good and ready she means to fade, an' she'll take the dough along with her. You will have sold out for a few cheap kisses, an' that's all." He laughed coarsely. "She is stringing you for a fool. Come now, wake up, before it is too late, an' let's all get a hand in the pot; what'd yer say?"

"You still think I am that kind? One of your class?" I questioned, thoroughly angered by his sneering speech.

"One of my class? I should say not; you are the rawest kind of a nut, but so far you've been in luck—that's all. Now your luck has changed, and yer up against it."

"What do you want me to do?"

"Blow her; tell us all you know."

We'll play the game for you, and divide square."

"You will let me out of here?"

"Sure, once you give us the right steer."

"And if I refuse?"

He laughed contemptuously.

"You're not going to; you've got too d—n much sense. But just to satisfy your curiosity I'll tell you. We've got the girl spotted; we can lay our hands on her in an hour; and, believe me, we've got the goods on the young lady. Here's the sticker that did the business, and I found it right where you had hidden it away. I can find three men—they are keeping out of sight, but I can stir them up—who'll swear that she went away alone with Alva from that factory over there; that he had the bag with him, and that the two got into the auto together. That makes one h—l of a straight case, don't it?"

"The way you put it—yes. But what good will it do you fellows to have her pinched? Where do you gain anything?"

"Time; it blocks the get-away with the swag. That's all we want. See here, Severn, we know where the stuff is planted; at least we've got an idea, but we've got to work slow and cautious in order to lift it. If it wasn't for that we wouldn't care if you skip. If you'll help us to get quick action, we'll let the girl go, and give you a share. Take my word for it, that's a d—n sight more than you'll ever get by staying with her."

"But if she finds out that I have turned her down?"

"She won't never find it out; we'll keep 'em. Besides, you're doin' her a good turn, keepin' her out of the electric chair. Well, there's the proposition—you can leave it, or take it."

Serious as the situation was, I could not fail to see its absurdity. This was no threat to frighten me; the fellows meant what they said, although I

CHAPTER XI
A Venture of Peril.

I must have remained unconscious for an hour or more. I never really knew how long for my watch disappeared, yet it was still night when I again painfully opened my eyes and endeavored to perceive my surroundings. Memory of the blow which ended the struggle caused me to lift a hand to my head; the scalp was bruised and broken, the hair matted with clotted blood, yet I could not believe the injury was a serious one. I could use my limbs. Satisfied on this point, and assured that I was alone, I sitting posture, endeavored to survey my surroundings.

I was resting on the floor of a bare room of ordinary size, containing no vestige of furniture. The place was cold, with that indescribable chill peculiar to unheated apartments, and through the one window, which was unshaded by a curtain, poured the direct light of an almost full moon. In this silvery light every bit of that interior stood revealed in its hideous bareness, the roughly finished walls, the patches of plaster scaled off, the dirty floor, the single door and window, the rags and which I rested. It was a hopeless scene.

I staggered to my feet reeling a moment like a drunken man, and then finally found my way along the side wall to the window. My strength increased as I advanced, and courage was born with it—I was not dead; I might baffle those villains yet. They must have felt that I was safe enough in this place; that, even if I regained consciousness, no escape was possible, for they had left no guard. A glance without revealed the reason for such confidence. I was four stories up, in a sheer brick wall below, and at the bottom, a concrete walk. There was nothing between to cling to unless it might be the narrow coping of stone just beneath the window sill. I stared at this, almost hopefully, for an instant; but then turned my eyes away with a shudder; it was scarcely as broad as the sole of my shoe and to think of creeping along there was merely the dream of a madman. The bright moonlight flooded everything about, yet I saw nothing familiar; I was evidently at the back end of a house, with others closely set on either side, and an alley beyond a small, enclosed yard. This latter was littered with dead weeds and rubbish of every description, and a small shed of some kind extended across the rear. Three stories below, but to the right, a narrow porch protected the back door. There was no movement visible anywhere, no gleam of light from the windows below me. I listened in vain for any sound; the night was as still as death, not even the echo of a distant street-car reaching my ear. I was somewhere within the limits of the city; of that I felt assured, but beyond this could determine nothing.

"You fellows have sized me up wrong," I said quietly, but firmly. "I am not the kind to squeal because of a threat. You'll find I'll protect the lady, but I'll do it in my own way—not yours. The honest truth is, I haven't anything to tell. You won't believe that, but it is so. I know less than you claim to know. I have no knowledge of where the money is, or who got it. I do not know who killed Alva; even now I haven't any suspicions worth mentioning. But I will say this plainly—I do not believe this girl did it, or that she had any hand in the robbery. I am going to say with her till h—l freezes over, if that is what you want to know. That's my answer, Harris, and it is all I've got to give you."

"You d—d cur! we'll show you something!"

"Perhaps you will; you are three to one, and on your own dunghill. But the man who touches me is going to get hurt; I'll promise you that. No, you don't, Costigan; that trick won't work!"

"I tried to keep my eyes on the three of them, but his movement caused me

to step back closer against the wall. I feared the Jew least; he had neither spoken nor moved since our entrance, and I felt he had no stomach for any farther fighting. Yet I judged wrong. With one quick dash forward he gripped my wrist as I reached back for a revolver, and flung his burly frame against me with such force as to have thrown me headlong but for the support of the wall. Before I could wrench myself free, the others closed in desperately, content to use their hands, unwilling, perhaps, to create any alarm with fire-arms. I was a better fighting man than any one of the three, but cramped they had the advantage. I writhed free from the Russian, and thus got one hand in action, yet that was all. I knew I planted one jolting blow straight against Costigan's round face which made him wince, and got a foot farther into Harris' stomach, sending him reeling backward. Indeed I staggered the two of them, twisting out of the grip of those iron fingers, and smashing a step forward in spite of every effort. I was maddened, frenzied, reckless of all injury, eager only to injure those who were the cause of my trouble; hate devils in any conceivable way; hate seemed to endow me with supernatural strength, and a desire to kill swept me with passion. All before me was blood-red, amid which swam their faces, and I went straight for them like a wild beast. Then, suddenly, from behind, a blow descended on my head, crushing me to the floor. I went stumbling down as though struck with a pole-ax, and lay motionless. For the instant I must have retained a measure of consciousness. I knew where I was; I even attempted vainly to regain use of my limbs, and I heard Harris swear in disgust.

"What the h—l did you hit him like that for, you idiot?" he yelled. "We don't want to kill the guy; he's worth more to us alive. Here, you, Waldron, lift up his head!"

"Then all knowledge left me, and I went out into the dark."

to step back closer against the wall. I feared the Jew least; he had neither spoken nor moved since our entrance, and I felt he had no stomach for any farther fighting. Yet I judged wrong. With one quick dash forward he gripped my wrist as I reached back for a revolver, and flung his burly frame against me with such force as to have thrown me headlong but for the support of the wall. Before I could wrench myself free, the others closed in desperately, content to use their hands, unwilling, perhaps, to create any alarm with fire-arms. I was a better fighting man than any one of the three, but cramped they had the advantage. I writhed free from the Russian, and thus got one hand in action, yet that was all. I knew I planted one jolting blow straight against Costigan's round face which made him wince, and got a foot farther into Harris' stomach, sending him reeling backward. Indeed I staggered the two of them, twisting out of the grip of those iron fingers, and smashing a step forward in spite of every effort. I was maddened, frenzied, reckless of all injury, eager only to injure those who were the cause of my trouble; hate devils in any conceivable way; hate seemed to endow me with supernatural strength, and a desire to kill swept me with passion. All before me was blood-red, amid which swam their faces, and I went straight for them like a wild beast. Then, suddenly, from behind, a blow descended on my head, crushing me to the floor. I went stumbling down as though struck with a pole-ax, and lay motionless. For the instant I must have retained a measure of consciousness. I knew where I was; I even attempted vainly to regain use of my limbs, and I heard Harris swear in disgust.

"What the h—l did you hit him like that for, you idiot?" he yelled. "We don't want to kill the guy; he's worth more to us alive. Here, you, Waldron, lift up his head!"

"Then all knowledge left me, and I went out into the dark."

CHAPTER XI
A Venture of Peril.

I must have remained unconscious for an hour or more. I never really knew how long for my watch disappeared, yet it was still night when I again painfully opened my eyes and endeavored to perceive my surroundings. Memory of the blow which ended the struggle caused me to lift a hand to my head; the scalp was bruised and broken, the hair matted with clotted blood, yet I could not believe the injury was a serious one. I could use my limbs. Satisfied on this point, and assured that I was alone, I sitting posture, endeavored to survey my surroundings.

I was resting on the floor of a bare room of ordinary size, containing no vestige of furniture. The place was cold, with that indescribable chill peculiar to unheated apartments, and through the one window, which was unshaded by a curtain, poured the direct light of an almost full moon. In this silvery light every bit of that interior stood revealed in its hideous bareness, the roughly finished walls, the patches of plaster scaled off, the dirty floor, the single door and window, the rags and which I rested. It was a hopeless scene.

I staggered to my feet reeling a moment like a drunken man, and then finally found my way along the side wall to the window. My strength increased as I advanced, and courage was born with it—I was not dead; I might baffle those villains yet. They must have felt that I was safe enough in this place; that, even if I regained consciousness, no escape was possible, for they had left no guard. A glance without revealed the reason for such confidence. I was four stories up, in a sheer brick wall below, and at the bottom, a concrete walk. There was nothing between to cling to unless it might be the narrow coping of stone just beneath the window sill. I stared at this, almost hopefully, for an instant; but then turned my eyes away with a shudder; it was scarcely as broad as the sole of my shoe and to think of creeping along there was merely the dream of a madman. The bright moonlight flooded everything about, yet I saw nothing familiar; I was evidently at the back end of a house, with others closely set on either side, and an alley beyond a small, enclosed yard. This latter was littered with dead weeds and rubbish of every description, and a small shed of some kind extended across the rear. Three stories below, but to the right, a narrow porch protected the back door. There was no movement visible anywhere, no gleam of light from the windows below me. I listened in vain for any sound; the night was as still as death, not even the echo of a distant street-car reaching my ear. I was somewhere within the limits of the city; of that I felt assured, but beyond this could determine nothing.

"You fellows have sized me up wrong," I said quietly, but firmly. "I am not the kind to squeal because of a threat. You'll find I'll protect the lady, but I'll do it in my own way—not yours. The honest truth is, I haven't anything to tell. You won't believe that, but it is so. I know less than you claim to know. I have no knowledge of where the money is, or who got it. I do not know who killed Alva; even now I haven't any suspicions worth mentioning. But I will say this plainly—I do not believe this girl did it, or that she had any hand in the robbery. I am going to say with her till h—l freezes over, if that is what you want to know. That's my answer, Harris, and it is all I've got to give you."

"You d—d cur! we'll show you something!"

"Perhaps you will; you are three to one, and on your own dunghill. But the man who touches me is going to get hurt; I'll promise you that. No, you don't, Costigan; that trick won't work!"

"I tried to keep my eyes on the three of them, but his movement caused me

to step back closer against the wall. I feared the Jew least; he had neither spoken nor moved since our entrance, and I felt he had no stomach for any farther fighting. Yet I judged wrong. With one quick dash forward he gripped my wrist as I reached back for a revolver, and flung his burly frame against me with such force as to have thrown me headlong but for the support of the wall. Before I could wrench myself free, the others closed in desperately, content to use their hands, unwilling, perhaps, to create any alarm with fire-arms. I was a better fighting man than any one of the three, but cramped they had the advantage. I writhed free from the Russian, and thus got one hand in action, yet that was all. I knew I planted one jolting blow straight against Costigan's round face which made him wince, and got a foot farther into Harris' stomach, sending him reeling backward. Indeed I staggered the two of them, twisting out of the grip of those iron fingers, and smashing a step forward in spite of every effort. I was maddened, frenzied, reckless of all injury, eager only to injure those who were the cause of my trouble; hate devils in any conceivable way; hate seemed to endow me with supernatural strength, and a desire to kill swept me with passion. All before me was blood-red, amid which swam their faces, and I went straight for them like a wild beast. Then, suddenly, from behind, a blow descended on my head, crushing me to the floor. I went stumbling down as though struck with a pole-ax, and lay motionless. For the instant I must have retained a measure of consciousness. I knew where I was; I even attempted vainly to regain use of my limbs, and I heard Harris swear in disgust.

"What the h—l did you hit him like that for, you idiot?" he yelled. "We don't want to kill the guy; he's worth more to us alive. Here, you, Waldron, lift up his head!"

"Then all knowledge left me, and I went out into the dark."

CHAPTER XI
A Venture of Peril.

I must have remained unconscious for an hour or more. I never really knew how long for my watch disappeared, yet it was still night when I again painfully opened my eyes and endeavored to perceive my surroundings. Memory of the blow which ended the struggle caused me to lift a hand to my head; the scalp was bruised and broken, the hair matted with clotted blood, yet I could not believe the injury was a serious one. I could use my limbs. Satisfied on this point, and assured that I was alone, I sitting posture, endeavored to survey my surroundings.

I was resting on the floor of a bare room of ordinary size, containing no vestige of furniture. The place was cold, with that indescribable chill peculiar to unheated apartments, and through the one window, which was unshaded by a curtain, poured the direct light of an almost full moon. In this silvery light every bit of that interior stood revealed in its hideous bareness, the roughly finished walls, the patches of plaster scaled off, the dirty floor, the single door and window, the rags and which I rested. It was a hopeless scene.

I staggered to my feet reeling a moment like a drunken man, and then finally found my way along the side wall to the window. My strength increased as I advanced, and courage was born with it—I was not dead; I might baffle those villains yet. They must have felt that I was safe enough in this place; that, even if I regained consciousness, no escape was possible, for they had left no guard. A glance without revealed the reason for such confidence. I was four stories up, in a sheer brick wall below, and at the bottom, a concrete walk. There was nothing between to cling to unless it might be the narrow coping of stone just beneath the window sill. I stared at this, almost hopefully, for an instant; but then turned my eyes away with a shudder; it was scarcely as broad as the sole of my shoe and to think of creeping along there was merely the dream of a madman. The bright moonlight flooded everything about, yet I saw nothing familiar; I was evidently at the back end of a house, with others closely set on either side, and an alley beyond a small, enclosed yard. This latter was littered with dead weeds and rubbish of every description, and a small shed of some kind extended across the rear. Three stories below, but to the right, a narrow porch protected the back door. There was no movement visible anywhere, no gleam of light from the windows below me. I listened in vain for any sound; the night was as still as death, not even the echo of a distant street-car reaching my ear. I was somewhere within the limits of the city; of that I felt assured, but beyond this could determine nothing.

"You fellows have sized me up wrong," I said quietly, but firmly. "I am not the kind to squeal because of a threat. You'll find I'll protect the lady, but I'll do it in my own way—not yours. The honest truth is, I haven't anything to tell. You won't believe that, but it is so. I know less than you claim to know. I have no knowledge of where the money is, or who got it. I do not know who killed Alva; even now I haven't any suspicions worth mentioning. But I will say this plainly—I do not believe this girl did it, or that she had any hand in the robbery. I am going to say with her till h—l freezes over, if that is what you want to know. That's my answer, Harris, and it is all I've got to give you."

"You d—d cur! we'll show you something!"

"Perhaps you will; you are three to one, and on your own dunghill. But the man who touches me is going to get hurt; I'll promise you that. No, you don't, Costigan; that trick won't work!"

"I tried to keep my eyes on the three of them, but his movement caused me

to step back closer against the wall. I feared the Jew least; he had neither spoken nor moved since our entrance, and I felt he had no stomach for any farther fighting. Yet I judged wrong. With one quick dash forward he gripped my wrist as I reached back for a revolver, and flung his burly frame against me with such force as to have thrown me headlong but for the support of the wall. Before I could wrench myself free, the others closed in desperately, content to use their hands, unwilling, perhaps, to create any alarm with fire-arms. I was a better fighting man than any one of the three, but cramped they had the advantage. I writhed free from the Russian, and thus got one hand in action, yet that was all. I knew I planted one jolting blow straight against Costigan's round face which made him wince, and got a foot farther into Harris' stomach, sending him reeling backward. Indeed I staggered the two of them, twisting out of the grip of those iron fingers, and smashing a step forward in spite of every effort. I was maddened, frenzied, reckless of all injury, eager only to injure those who were the cause of my trouble; hate devils in any conceivable way; hate seemed to endow me with supernatural strength, and a desire to kill swept me with passion. All before me was blood-red, amid which swam their faces, and I went straight for them like a wild beast. Then, suddenly, from behind, a blow descended on my head, crushing me to the floor. I went stumbling down as though struck with a pole-ax, and lay motionless. For the instant I must have retained a measure of consciousness. I knew where I was; I even attempted vainly to regain use of my limbs, and I heard Harris swear in disgust.

"What the h—l did you hit him like that for, you idiot?" he yelled. "We don't want to kill the guy; he's worth more to us alive. Here, you, Waldron, lift up his head!"

"Then all knowledge left me, and I went out into the dark."

CHAPTER XI
A Venture of Peril.

I must have remained unconscious for an hour or more. I never really knew how long for my watch disappeared, yet it was still night when I again painfully opened my eyes and endeavored to perceive my surroundings. Memory of the blow which ended the struggle caused me to lift a hand to my head; the scalp was bruised and broken, the hair matted with clotted blood, yet I could not believe the injury was a serious one. I could use my limbs. Satisfied on this point, and assured that I was alone, I sitting posture, endeavored to survey my surroundings.

I was resting on the floor of a bare room of ordinary size, containing no vestige of furniture. The place was cold, with that indescribable chill peculiar to unheated apartments, and through the one window, which was unshaded by a curtain, poured the direct light of an almost full moon. In this silvery light every bit of that interior stood revealed in its hideous bareness, the roughly finished walls, the patches of plaster scaled off, the dirty floor, the single door and window, the rags and which I rested. It was a hopeless scene.

I staggered to my feet reeling a moment like a drunken man, and then finally found my way along the side wall to the window. My strength increased as I advanced, and courage was born with it—I was not dead; I might baffle those villains yet. They must have felt that I was safe enough in this place; that, even if I regained consciousness, no escape was possible, for they had left no guard. A glance without revealed the reason for such confidence. I was four stories up, in a sheer brick wall below, and at the bottom, a concrete walk. There was nothing between to cling to unless it might be the narrow coping of stone just beneath the window sill. I stared at this, almost hopefully, for an instant; but then turned my eyes away with a shudder; it was scarcely as broad as the sole of my shoe and to think of creeping along there was merely the dream of a madman. The bright moonlight flooded everything about, yet I saw nothing familiar; I was evidently at the back end of a house, with others closely set on either side, and an alley beyond a small, enclosed yard. This latter was littered with dead weeds and rubbish of every description, and a small shed of some kind extended across the rear. Three stories below, but to the right, a narrow porch protected the back door. There was no movement visible anywhere, no gleam of light from the windows below me. I listened in vain for any sound; the night was as still as death, not even the echo of a distant street-car reaching my ear. I was somewhere within the limits of the city; of that I felt assured, but beyond this could determine nothing.

"You fellows have sized me up wrong," I said quietly, but firmly. "I am not the kind to squeal because of a threat. You'll find I'll protect the lady, but I'll do it in my own way—not yours. The honest truth is, I haven't anything to tell. You won't believe that, but it is so. I know less than you claim to know. I have no knowledge of where the money is, or who got it. I do not know who killed Alva; even now I haven't any suspicions worth mentioning. But I will say this plainly—I do not believe this girl did it, or that she had any hand in the robbery. I am going to say with her till h—l freezes over, if that is what you want to know. That's my answer, Harris, and it is all I've got to give you."

"You d—d cur! we'll show you something!"

"Perhaps you will; you are three to one, and on your own dunghill. But the man who touches me is going to get hurt; I'll promise you that. No, you don't, Costigan; that trick won't work!"

"I tried to keep my eyes on the three of them, but his movement caused me

to step back closer against the wall. I feared the Jew least; he had neither spoken nor moved since our entrance, and I felt he had no stomach for any farther fighting. Yet I judged wrong. With one quick dash forward he gripped my wrist as I reached back for a revolver, and flung his burly frame against me with such force as to have thrown me headlong but for the support of the wall. Before I could wrench myself free, the others closed in desperately, content to use their hands, unwilling, perhaps, to create any alarm with fire-arms. I was a better fighting man than any one of the three, but cramped they had the advantage. I writhed free from the Russian, and thus got one hand in action, yet that was all. I knew I planted one jolting blow straight against Costigan's round face which made him wince, and got a foot farther into Harris' stomach, sending him reeling backward. Indeed I staggered the two of them, twisting out of the grip of those iron fingers, and smashing a step forward in spite of every effort. I was maddened, frenzied, reckless of all injury, eager only to injure those who were the cause of my trouble; hate devils in any conceivable way; hate seemed to endow me with supernatural strength, and a desire to kill swept me with passion. All before me was blood-red, amid which swam their faces, and I went straight for them like a wild beast. Then, suddenly, from behind, a blow descended on my head, crushing me to the floor. I went stumbling down as though struck with a pole-ax, and lay motionless. For the instant I must have retained a measure of consciousness. I knew where I was; I even attempted vainly to regain use of my limbs, and I heard Harris swear in disgust.

"What the h—l did you hit him like that for, you idiot?" he yelled. "We don't want to kill the guy; he's worth more to us alive. Here, you, Waldron, lift up his head!"

"Then all knowledge left me, and I went out into the dark."

CHAPTER XI
A Venture of Peril.

I must have remained unconscious for an hour or more. I never really knew how long for my watch disappeared, yet it was still night when I again painfully opened my eyes and endeavored to perceive my surroundings. Memory of the blow which ended the struggle caused me to lift a hand to my head; the scalp was bruised and broken, the hair matted with clotted blood, yet I could not believe the injury was a serious one. I could use my limbs. Satisfied on this point, and assured that I was alone, I sitting posture, endeavored to survey my surroundings.

I was resting on the floor of a bare room of ordinary size, containing no vestige of furniture. The place was cold, with that indescribable chill peculiar to unheated apartments, and through the one window, which was unshaded by a curtain, poured the direct light of an almost full moon. In this silvery light every bit of that interior stood revealed in its hideous bareness, the roughly finished walls, the patches of plaster scaled off, the dirty floor, the single door and window, the rags and which I rested. It was a hopeless scene.

I staggered to my feet reeling a moment like a drunken man, and then finally found my way along the side wall to the window. My strength increased as I advanced, and courage was born with it—I was not dead; I might baffle those villains yet. They must have felt that I was safe enough in this place; that, even if I regained consciousness, no escape was possible, for they had left no guard. A glance without revealed the reason for such confidence. I was four stories up, in a sheer brick wall below, and at the bottom, a concrete walk. There was nothing between to cling to unless it might be the narrow coping of stone just beneath the window sill. I stared at this, almost hopefully, for an instant; but then turned my eyes away with a shudder; it was scarcely as broad as the sole of my shoe and to think of creeping along there was merely the dream of a madman. The bright moonlight flooded everything about, yet I saw nothing familiar; I was evidently at the back end of a house, with others closely set on either side, and an alley beyond a small, enclosed yard. This latter was littered with dead weeds and rubbish of every description, and a small shed of some kind extended across the rear. Three stories below, but to the right, a narrow porch protected the back door. There was no movement visible anywhere, no gleam of light from the windows below me. I listened in vain for any sound; the night was as still as death, not even the echo of a distant street-car reaching my ear. I was somewhere within the limits of the city; of that I felt assured, but beyond this could determine nothing.

"You fellows have sized me up wrong," I said quietly, but firmly. "I am not the kind to squeal because of a threat. You'll find I'll protect the lady, but I'll do it in my own way—not yours. The honest truth is, I haven't anything to tell. You won't believe that, but it is so. I know less than you claim to know. I have no knowledge of where the money is, or who got it. I do not know who killed Alva; even now I haven't any suspicions worth mentioning. But I will say this plainly—I do not believe this girl did it, or that she had any hand in the robbery. I am going to say with her till h—l freezes over, if that is what you want to know. That's my answer, Harris, and it is all I've got to give you."

"You d—d cur! we'll show you something!"

"Perhaps you will; you are three to one, and on your own dunghill. But the man who touches me is going to get hurt; I'll promise you that. No, you don't, Costigan; that trick won't work!"

"I tried to keep my eyes on the three of them, but his movement caused me

to step back closer against the wall. I feared the Jew least; he had neither spoken nor moved since our entrance, and I felt he had no stomach for any farther fighting. Yet I judged wrong. With one quick dash forward he gripped my wrist as I reached back for a revolver, and flung his burly frame against me with such force as to have thrown me headlong but for the support of the wall. Before I could wrench myself free, the others closed in desperately, content to use their hands, unwilling, perhaps, to create any alarm with fire-arms. I was a better fighting man than any one of the three, but cramped they had the advantage. I writhed free from the Russian, and thus got one hand in action, yet that was all. I knew I planted one jolting blow straight against Costigan's round face which made him wince, and got a foot farther into Harris' stomach, sending him reeling backward. Indeed I staggered the two of them, twisting out of the grip of those iron fingers, and smashing a step forward in spite of every effort. I was maddened, frenzied, reckless of all injury, eager only to injure those who were the cause of my trouble; hate devils in any conceivable way; hate seemed to endow me with supernatural strength, and a desire to kill swept me with passion. All before me was blood-red, amid which swam their faces, and I went straight for them like a wild beast. Then, suddenly, from behind, a blow descended on my head, crushing me to the floor. I went stumbling down as though struck with a pole-ax, and lay motionless. For the instant I must have retained a measure of consciousness. I knew where I was; I even attempted vainly to regain use of my limbs, and I heard Harris swear in disgust.

"What the h—l did you hit him like that for, you idiot?" he yelled. "We don't want to kill the guy; he's worth more to us alive. Here, you, Waldron, lift up his head!"

"Then all knowledge left me, and I went out into the dark."

CHAPTER XI
A Venture of Peril.

I must have remained unconscious for an hour or more. I never really knew how long for my watch disappeared, yet it was still night when I again painfully opened my eyes and endeavored to perceive my surroundings. Memory of the blow which ended the struggle caused me to lift a hand to my head; the scalp was bruised and broken, the hair matted with clotted blood, yet I could not believe the injury was a serious one. I could use my limbs. Satisfied on this point, and assured that I was alone, I sitting posture, endeavored to survey my surroundings.

I was resting on the floor of a bare room of ordinary size, containing no vestige of furniture. The place was cold, with that indescribable chill peculiar to unheated apartments, and through the one window, which was unshaded by a curtain, poured the direct light of an almost full moon. In this silvery light every bit of that interior stood revealed in its hideous bareness, the roughly finished walls, the patches of plaster scaled off, the dirty floor, the single door and window, the rags and which I rested. It was a hopeless scene.

I staggered to my feet reeling a moment like a drunken man, and then finally found my way along the side wall to the window. My strength increased as I advanced, and courage was born with it—I was not dead; I might baffle those villains yet. They must have felt that I was safe enough in this place; that, even if I regained consciousness, no escape was possible, for they had left no guard. A glance without revealed the reason for such confidence. I was four stories up, in a sheer brick wall below, and at the bottom, a concrete walk. There was nothing between to cling to unless it might be the narrow coping of stone just beneath the window sill. I stared at this, almost hopefully, for an instant; but then turned my eyes away with a shudder; it was scarcely as broad as the sole of my shoe and to think of creeping along there was merely the dream of a madman. The bright moonlight flooded everything about, yet I saw nothing familiar; I was evidently at the back end of a house, with others closely set on either side, and

The Genoa Republican
GENOA, ILLINOIS.

Subscription, per year.....$2.00

Published by
C. D. SCHOONMAKER & SON

C. D. Schoonmaker, Managing Editor
C. C. Schoonmaker, Advertising Mgr.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NEW LEBANON

Mrs. William Japp is on the sick list.
Wm. Drendell and family motored to Genoa Tuesday.

L. Gray and family called at D. Gray's Sunday evening.

Donnelly Gray and family spent Sunday at Rae Crawford's.

H. Keornor and family spent Sunday at the Aug. Japp home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gray called at H. Keornor's Sunday evening.

Wm. Osenberg of Chicago spent the week end at the Wm. Japp home.

E. W. Lanfer of Hampshire is hauling clover for farmers in the vicinity.

Oscar Madeen and family entertained relatives from Elgin Sunday.

H. Japp and family called at Mrs. Japp's parents, F. Krueger, Friday.

Mrs. Lydia Molthan of Batavia, Ill., is visiting at the H. Krueger home.

Miss Ina Wiekler of Fairdale spent the week-end at R. Galanor's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Eweing of Marengo spent Tuesday at Chas. Coon's.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Spansail of South Bend, Ind., called at Chas. Coon's home Friday.

J. Botcher and family, H. Keornor and family spent Monday evening at M. Primm's.

Miss Lydia Molthan of Batavia and Miss Martha Krueger called on Mrs. H. Japp Tuesday.

Walter Barringer and family of Paw Paw, were over Sunday guests at the A. Hackman home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Sheisher of Burlington and Miss Wilma Botcher called at W. Drendell's Sunday.

Mrs. M. Primm, returned Friday from a week's visit at the G. Landon home at Congress Park, Chicago.

J. Japp and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bahe of Hampshire, Mrs. L. Gray and children called at Wm. Japp's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. O. Madeen motored to Big Rock Saturday and attended the plowing match.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Japp and son, Arlo, and Albert Ratloff and parents of Elgin motored to Chicago Sunday and spent the day at Lincoln Park.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kiner and children

FOR SHERIFF OF DEKALB COUNTY
At the suggestion and encouragement from a great many of my friends throughout the County, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of DeKalb County subject to the action of the voters at the Republican primaries in April, 1922.

I respectfully refer the people of the County to my record as Sheriff from 1914 to 1918, and would appreciate the support of the voters. 48-21

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Botcher were given a surprise party by friends and relatives Friday evening, it being their 35th wedding anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. Gray and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hartman and son, Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Japp and son, Arlo, Mrs. J. Botcher and daughter, Mrs. H. Krueger and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Keornor and family, Fred Roth, Joe Keornor, and Leona Roth of Hampshire. Lunch was served.

I am prepared to give
Instruction on the Piano
Mrs. C. C. Schoonmaker, Phone 1311

Don't Pick Out a Printer Blindfolded

Get the One Who Can Help You Sell Your Goods

WE have the ability to help you sell your goods and we can do this at a reasonable cost to you.

Economy and standardization are the watchwords here. We use Hammermill Bond, the standard, economical, business paper and we turn out a grade of printing that brings results for our customers.

LET US SHOW YOU
Genoa Republican

NOTICE
Beginning September 23 we will buy poultry at Kingston on Tuesday, Elmhurst on Wednesday forenoon, Clare Wednesday afternoon, Genoa and Kirkland Thursday, Sycamore Friday and Burlington Saturday.

At our usual stand thruout the poultry season we wish to say that we are equipped to handle all of your poultry and give the kind of service you might expect.

We guarantee you the highest market price at all times.

All Poultry should be delivered free of feed

R. E. BROWN, Cortland, Illinois
Phone DeKalb 990-5

Read the Want Ads.

Genoa Lodge No. 288
A. F. & A. M.

Meets Second and Fourth Tuesdays of Each Month

G. R. Evans, W.M.; J. Hutchison, Sec.

MASTER MASONS WELCOME

E. M. BYERS, M. D.

—HOURS—
8 to 10 a. m. 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m.
OFFICE IN MORDOFF BLDG.

—Telephones—
Office, 23. Residence, 23-2

Wants, For Sale, Etc.

Ads in this column 5c a line per week; minimum charge 25 cents

For Sale
GOLD STANDARD OF VALUES—Red speed wagon chassis, $1385; cord tires, electric starter, regular equipment. T. M. Girton, 122 So. California street, Sycamore, Ill. 11-1f.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Minneapolis tractor in first-class condition. Will do plowing for anyone that wishes. Inquire of J. A. Patterson, Genoa, Illinois. 44-3f

FOR SALE—One single disc grain-drill, 11 ft. cut. One straw spreader attachment for John Deere spreader used one year. Wm. Hecht, Genoa, Ill. 21

FOR SALE—Remington Automatic 12 gage, 28 inch, ribbed barrel in perfect condition, including good heavy leather case, brass jointed cleaning rod. Colt automatic, 32 cal, good as new. Inquire at Republican office.

FOR SALE—175 Chicks, summer hatch. A bargain if taken at once. B. B. Mead, Kingston, Ill. 1/4 mile south of Vandenberg school house.

FOR SALE—Wool Fibre Rug. 8 1/2 x 10 1/2. Phone 88. *

FOR SALE—Chester White Boar pig

Andrew Johnson, Kingston, Ill. Phone No. 910.13.*

FOR SALE—6 shoats, weight 60 lbs. each. Floyd Weaver—Marengo, Ill. R. F. D. No. 4.

Lands and City Property

FOR SALE—House on Second street, Genoa, with two acres of land. Six rooms, good barn and chicken house. Henry Merritt, 26-1f.

FOR SALE—Eight residence properties, at anywhere from $600.00 to $5,000.00, according to location and improvements. Some of these ought to fit and suit you if you want any. 35-1f D. S. Brown.

FOR SALE—Several local farms, all sizes and all prices. Also some good city property, both business and residence. F. P. Renn, Genoa.

FOR SALE—Ten room house with modern improvements, on Sycamore street, Genoa. A. L. Holroyd, Adm., Genoa, Ill., 36-1f.

Wanted

INSURANCE—Call on C. A. Brown, or Lorene Brown, Genoa, Ill., or in insurance. Any kind, anywhere.

The Bible Translation.
Landon said that "to talk well we must drop our Greek and Latin out of sight," and Coleridge thought it "a kind of providence that our Bible was translated about the time of the greatest strength of the language."—A. Bronson Alcott.

Pure Thought and Happiness.
If a man speak or act with a pure thought, happiness will follow him, like a shadow that never leaves him. —Dharmapada.

Quits an Ancient Game.

The game of quits was probably played in the streets of Jamestown, St. Mary's City, Port Tobacco, Dumfries and Piscataway, ancient towns in Tidewater Virginia and Maryland by the early citizens of those places. It was no doubt played in the stable yard of the barnyard of southern and eastern homes more than a century before America began to think of a Declaration of Independence. White men in buckskin clothes and coonskin caps, and Indians nearly naked looked on as the players tossed the horse-shoes and did or did not "ring" the "lob."

Dr. C. S. Cleary
OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN
—Hours: 1 to 8 p. m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and by appointment Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoon. Sycamore, Ill.—Hours: 9 to 12 a. m. and 7 to 8 p. m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

No. 344
Eveline Lodge
4th Tuesday of each month in I. O. O. F. Hall
Carl Van Dusen, Prefect
Fannie M. Heed, Secy

Pearl Werthwein Reinken
Instructor
VOICE AND PIANO
Address, Hampshire, Ill.
Genoa Tuesday of each week

Genoa Lodge
No. 768
I. O. O. F.
Meets Every Monday Evening in Odd Fellow Hall

DR. J. W. OVITZ
Sycamore—Mon., Tues., Thurs., Fri., 9-12 Kingst. —Every forenoon of the a. m. Wed., Sat. 3-9 p. m.
*week: Wednesday, Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening.
Phones: Kingston 5, Genoa 11, Sycamore 122.

DR. E. C. BURTON
Physicians and Surgeons
Office Hours
DR. E. C. BURTON
Sycamore—Mon., Tues., Thurs., 2-5 and 7-8:30 p. m.
Genoa—Mon., Tues., Thurs., Fri., 9-12 Kingst.—Every forenoon of the a. m. Wed., Sat. 3-9 p. m.
*week: Wednesday, Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening.

Dr. J. T. SHESLER
DENTIST
Telephone No. 44
Office in Exchange Bank Building—Gas administered for extraction

CLEANING PRESSING, REPAIRING
Men's and Ladies' Suits and Coats
Over Holtgren's Store
JOHN ALBERTSON

WE HAVE
COAL
AND YOU WANT
COAL

It may be a hard thing to get this winter because of the small production at the mines and you will feel better if you have the coal instead of us - Order today.

ZELLER & SON

Goodyear ribbed cord tires
32x3 1-2 $22.00
34x4 ribbed cord $31.00
While they last

"Exide"
and
U. S. L.
BATTERIES
We repair all makes
Genoa Garage
Genoa, Ill.

FALL HATS | WAISTS
—ARE ARRIVING DAILY—
STEP IN AND SEE THEM
IN THE NEWEST STYLES
GEORGETTE
—AND—
CREPE DE CHINE

WARNER'S
CORSETS
FRONT AND BACK LACE
$1.00 - $1.50 - $2.50 - $3.00 - $5.00
CHILDREN'S GINGHAM DRESSER $.98 to $1.85

COFFEE SPECIAL
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
3 lbs. of Chase and Sanborn Coffee given $1.00
by Chase and Sanborn Co.
GENOA MERCANTILE COMPANY

Readers of This Paper will be eager to read the wonderful story of "Main Street"
by Sinclair Lewis
The story will be printed in daily installments in The Elgin Daily Courier
starting
Monday, October 3
Order The Courier Now 10 cents a week when delivered by carrier $4.00 a year by mail.
The Courier Publishing Co.
Elgin, Illinois

We have everything
For COUGHS
and COLDS
BALDWIN'S PHARMACY

Buy your diamonds from Martin. Sell your hens and spring chickens to Stiles and Maderer. Glenn Clarke is now employed at the Piano factory. Miss Helen Wahl of Elgin was home over Sunday. Maynard Corson was a Chicago passenger Tuesday. Clint Cooper of Sycamore visited in Genoa Wednesday. Mrs. Henry Wahl was home from Elgin over Sunday. Everett Bennet of Rockford was a visitor Wednesday in Genoa. Miss Maude Hicks visited relatives in Kirkland over the week end. Leonard and Sylvia Davis of Woodstock spent Thursday with relatives. Sell your ducks, geese and chickens to Stiles and Maderer, phone 31.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Johnson motored to DeKalb and Rochelle Sunday. Mrs. Hungerford of DeKalb was a guest in the Ace Stiles home Thursday. John Bickle of Chicago spent the first of the week in the Lloyd Layton home. Stiles and Maderer pay highest prices for your poultry. Miss Lola Wickler of Fairdale spent Thursday with Miss Gladys Montgomery. Bring your poultry to Ace Stiles' shop time and receive highest prices for same. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Montgomery of Belvidere spent Thursday of last week in this city. When you think of cold weather, think of buckwheat cakes and The Midway Store. Sell your hens and spring chickens to Stiles and Maderer. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Aurner of Kingston were guests at the C. W. Parker home Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Will Clausen are enjoying a several days' visit with relatives at Waukon, Ia. Roy Slater, George Loptien, Geo. Coding and Roy Stanley were in Rockford Friday. Miss Mildred Taylor of Belvidere spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Frank Wylde. Miss Maude Holmes spent Saturday and Sunday at the John James home in Kirkland. Merrill Lott of Downer's Grove was a guest in the John Geithman home over the week end. Mrs. H. Gilchrist of Fairdale visited her daughter, Mrs. F. Duval, Thursday of last week. A large number from Genoa attended the two ball games at Electric Park Sunday. Sell your ducks, geese and chickens to Stiles and Maderer, phone 31. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Canavan and Roy Slater motored to Camp Grant on business Tuesday. Mrs. Lester Evans was in DeKalb Tuesday to see her husband, who is in the city hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller of Fairdale attended the Home Coming celebration here Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reinken and daughter, Evelyn, were visiting in DeKalb Sunday. shop time and receive highest prices for same. Mrs. James Holmes is ill at her home. Her mother, Mrs. Frank Fischer, Sr., is caring for her. Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Frazier were in Rockford this week, guests of their son, John and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart of Hinckley spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey King. Watches of all descriptions, from the dainty wrist watch to the big watch for father at Martin's. Mrs. John Dorn and children of Rockford spent Thursday and Friday with her mother, Mrs. Brendemuhl. Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Johnson entertained the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Johnson Sunday. Misses Cecil Thomas and Hazel Collins of Sycamore attended the Home Coming Dance last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fisher and daughters, Zella and Lucille of DeKalb were Genoa visitors Thursday. Leon Schneider of Elmhurst spent Saturday and Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edsall. C. J. Bevan, who submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Sherman hospital last week, is doing nicely. Mrs. John Lembke went to Elgin this Thursday for a few days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Emma Duval. Miss Marie Bright left Sunday for Chicago where she will go to school, her mother having found employment there. Mr. and Mrs. Will Awe entertained Mr. and Mrs. Max Burroughs and daughter, Ina, and son of Riley, Sunday. Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Byers were called to Belvidere Saturday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Byers' mother. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Clark, Mrs. George Reed and Mrs. Ellen Athey motored to DeKalb and Rochelle, Sunday. Martin has an exquisite line of toilet articles in ivory. Renew your dressing table by adding a new piece occasionally. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Evans of Rockford spent Thursday and Friday of last week with the former's mother, Mrs. J. Evans. Mrs. H. Hermanson motored to Clinton, Ia. Sunday to visit her daughter, Miss Naomi, who is attending school there. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Abraham and daughter, Ellen, have moved to Altoa where Mr. Abraham has secured employment. Mrs. Clive Bennett and children of Rockford spent the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rebeck. Miss Emma Leonard, who is in Montrose hospital, remains in about the same condition. She is conscious a portion of the time. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stronberg of Sycamore spent Sunday and Monday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Trautman. Byron Crawford of Springfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crawford is in St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, where he underwent an operation. Mr. and Mrs. Will Lange, Mrs. Lillian Lacy, Erma Phelps, George, and Fred Shattuck and Eddie Henegan motored to Chicago Sunday. Among those who attended the celebration last Thursday in Genoa were Misses Margaret Eowen, Margaret Kelley and James Schultz. N. H. Stanley, who has been here for some time went to Chicago this week and will leave shortly for his home in Glendale, California.

"Buckwheat cakes. Lordy, ain't they fine?" They surely are when made with our buckwheat flour. Order early. The Midway Store. We are now taking orders for that famous Pennsylvania buckwheat flour that we've always handled. Get your order in early. The Midway Store. Why take a chance on being without our buckwheat flour when cold weather comes? Order now. It goes fast and takes a long time to get mofe. The Midway Store. Highest prices for your hens and spring chickens. Stiles and Maderer. The members of the Woman's Auxiliary wish to express their thanks and appreciation for the donations so freely given for the dinner last Thursday by friends of the American Legion. Mrs. D. D. Cummings and sons Robert, Edgar and Charles and daughter, Valentine and Miss Maude Holmes motored to Belvidere Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Geithman and daughter, Cecil and Misses Aria Crawford and Mae Burroughs left Thursday morning by auto for California where they will spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey King left Thursday for Washington D. C., and after spending a week there will go to Washington N. C. to remain during the winter. The Lutheran Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Mary Piske on Wednesday afternoon. Several comforts were tied after which the hostess served refreshments. The Ney Ladies' Aid will hold a bakery sale at the Genoa Rest Rooms Saturday, Oct. 1 Sale starts at 3:00 o'clock. Plenty of good home made bread and cakes. Miss Lydia Molthan of Minneapolis who was a guest here last week went to Batavia Tuesday to visit her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Molthan. She will return shortly to Minneapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Smith of Chicago spent Saturday at the Chester Davis home. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson returned home with them Sunday for a several days' visit. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clausen left the latter part of the week for Schoolcraft, Mich., where they will spend about two weeks with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Layton. Mrs. Ward Olmstead and son, Bayard of Davis Junction came Thursday to attend the Home Coming celebration and spent the week end with the former's mother, Mrs. Fannie King. Mrs. Herman Hermanson, Mrs. Nicholas Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lawler of Sycamore; drove to Clinton, Ia. Sunday to spend the day with Naomi Hermanson and Elsie Leonard who are attending the school at Lyons. Mrs. C. C. Schoonmaker entertained eleven ladies last Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. T. L. Kitchen's birthday. She was eighty-five years old. The affair was a complete surprise to Mrs. Kitchen. Delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. G. C. Kitcher and Mrs. Schoonmaker. Mrs. Will Awe entertained a number of little children Monday at a surprise party in honor of her little daughter, Vida, it being her fourth birthday. A delightful time was had by the children at different games after which refreshments were served. Miss Vida received many presents. Highest prices for your hens and spring chickens. Stiles and Maderer. Bloomer Brungard has accepted a steady position as clerk with the Genoa Mercantile Co. Mr. and Mrs. Brungard will make their home with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schmidt. Maynard Corson will leave the Mercantile Co., where he has been employed as bookkeeper for the past year and operate his father's farm north-east of Genoa. Milt Corson will occupy the house vacated by his son. Stiles and Maderer pay highest prices for your poultry. Bring your poultry to Ace Stiles' The Adult Bible Class was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Eklor Tuesday evening of this week. Mr. Eklor as chairman of entertainment committee. About 80 members and friends were present to partake of the bountiful supper furnished by the men and served by the men of the class which every one thoroughly enjoyed. A good program followed composed of singing by all and readings by Rev. Robeson, also several good talks by J. W. Pratt, D. C. Morehouse and Rev. Robeson pertaining to church and Sunday school work and its needs. Every one returned to their home feeling it was an evening well spent.

Farther Than That. A writer on "Censoring the Movies" says that "a kiss is chaste for ten feet" in Pennsylvania. "I have often sprinted much further for one," writes J. M. in Boston Transcript. Enormous Consumption of Matches. The civilized nations of the world, it has been computed, strike about 2,200,000 matches every minute of the twenty-four hours.

CHARLES B. SULLIVAN
Marengo, Ill.

THEO. J. REINKEN
Genoa, Ill.

GENERAL AUCTIONEERS

Farm Sales Made Everywhere
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Look for the Red Ball

You are sure of just what you're getting when you select Rubber Footwear which has the Red Ball Trade Mark.

"BALL BAND"

Ten million people look for the Red Ball because they know it stands for comfort, good fit, More Days' Wear.

"Ball-Band" Boots are tough and durable, specially reinforced in the vamp and at the ankle to prevent cracking. "Ball-Band" Arctics, strongly-made and wool-lined, keep your feet warm, your shoes dry. "Ball-Band" Sandals are for extra hard wear.

Come in and select the Rubber Footwear you need.

Hughes Clothing Co.
Not Inc. Illinois
Genoa, Illinois

If you want

Building Material

"See Slim"

Tibbits, Cameron Lumber Co.

BUILDING HEADQUARTERS, Genoa, Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Johnson motored to DeKalb and Rochelle Sunday. Mrs. Hungerford of DeKalb was a guest in the Ace Stiles home Thursday. John Bickle of Chicago spent the first of the week in the Lloyd Layton home. Stiles and Maderer pay highest prices for your poultry. Miss Lola Wickler of Fairdale spent Thursday with Miss Gladys Montgomery. Bring your poultry to Ace Stiles' shop time and receive highest prices for same. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Montgomery of Belvidere spent Thursday of last week in this city. When you think of cold weather, think of buckwheat cakes and The Midway Store. Sell your hens and spring chickens to Stiles and Maderer. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Aurner of Kingston were guests at the C. W. Parker home Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Will Clausen are enjoying a several days' visit with relatives at Waukon, Ia. Roy Slater, George Loptien, Geo. Coding and Roy Stanley were in Rockford Friday. Miss Mildred Taylor of Belvidere spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Frank Wylde. Miss Maude Holmes spent Saturday and Sunday at the John James home in Kirkland. Merrill Lott of Downer's Grove was a guest in the John Geithman home over the week end. Mrs. H. Gilchrist of Fairdale visited her daughter, Mrs. F. Duval, Thursday of last week. A large number from Genoa attended the two ball games at Electric Park Sunday. Sell your ducks, geese and chickens to Stiles and Maderer, phone 31. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Canavan and Roy Slater motored to Camp Grant on business Tuesday. Mrs. Lester Evans was in DeKalb Tuesday to see her husband, who is in the city hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller of Fairdale attended the Home Coming celebration here Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reinken and daughter, Evelyn, were visiting in DeKalb Sunday. shop time and receive highest prices for same. Mrs. James Holmes is ill at her home. Her mother, Mrs. Frank Fischer, Sr., is caring for her. Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Frazier were in Rockford this week, guests of their son, John and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart of Hinckley spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey King. Watches of all descriptions, from the dainty wrist watch to the big watch for father at Martin's. Mrs. John Dorn and children of Rockford spent Thursday and Friday with her mother, Mrs. Brendemuhl. Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Johnson entertained the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Johnson Sunday. Misses Cecil Thomas and Hazel Collins of Sycamore attended the Home Coming Dance last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fisher and daughters, Zella and Lucille of DeKalb were Genoa visitors Thursday. Leon Schneider of Elmhurst spent Saturday and Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edsall. C. J. Bevan, who submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Sherman hospital last week, is doing nicely. Mrs. John Lembke went to Elgin this Thursday for a few days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Emma Duval. Miss Marie Bright left Sunday for Chicago where she will go to school, her mother having found employment there. Mr. and Mrs. Will Awe entertained Mr. and Mrs. Max Burroughs and daughter, Ina, and son of Riley, Sunday. Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Byers were called to Belvidere Saturday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Byers' mother. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Clark, Mrs. George Reed and Mrs. Ellen Athey motored to DeKalb and Rochelle, Sunday. Martin has an exquisite line of toilet articles in ivory. Renew your dressing table by adding a new piece occasionally. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Evans of Rockford spent Thursday and Friday of last week with the former's mother, Mrs. J. Evans. Mrs. H. Hermanson motored to Clinton, Ia. Sunday to visit her daughter, Miss Naomi, who is attending school there. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Abraham and daughter, Ellen, have moved to Altoa where Mr. Abraham has secured employment. Mrs. Clive Bennett and children of Rockford spent the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rebeck. Miss Emma Leonard, who is in Montrose hospital, remains in about the same condition. She is conscious a portion of the time. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stronberg of Sycamore spent Sunday and Monday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Trautman. Byron Crawford of Springfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crawford is in St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, where he underwent an operation. Mr. and Mrs. Will Lange, Mrs. Lillian Lacy, Erma Phelps, George, and Fred Shattuck and Eddie Henegan motored to Chicago Sunday. Among those who attended the celebration last Thursday in Genoa were Misses Margaret Eowen, Margaret Kelley and James Schultz. N. H. Stanley, who has been here for some time went to Chicago this week and will leave shortly for his home in Glendale, California.

ONE BRAND-ONE QUALITY-One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.

Camel

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Fancy and Staple

GROCERIES

We strive to keep fresh vegetables at all times
Our staple goods are best on the market

We give S.&W. Green Stamps

E. J. TISCHLER, Grocer

You can be — INDEPENDENT!

By carefully planning your affairs, setting aside the necessary money for household and personal use and a definite sum to be deposited regularly in the Exchange State Bank, you have more than an even chance to become independent and a factor in the life of Genoa.

Anyone who cannot and does not save money, seldom does anything else worth while.

Exchange State Bank
Genoa, Illinois

News of the Week Cut Down for Busy Readers

Washington

Chief Justice Taft, after a summer vacation in Canada, arrived in Washington, preparatory to the convening of the Supreme court, October 3, for its fall term.

The anti-beer bill in the senate was shoved into the parliamentary pigeonhole by the combined pressure for ratification of peace treaties and the passage of the tax bill.

Proposal for elimination of a cabinet member is made in the plan for reorganization of executive departments at Washington, which will be submitted to the President and his cabinet on September 30 by the joint congressional committee on reorganization. The reorganization plan contemplates merging the War and Navy departments.

Administration efforts at Washington to hasten ratification of the peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary were halted by the "irreconcilables."

The government at Washington has disposed of additional railroad equipment trust certificates to the amount of $30,298,500 through the War Finance corporation. This makes the total disposed of $63,482,500.

Final enactment of tariff legislation before the winter session appeared an impossibility when Senator Penrose at Washington said that 60 days would be required by treasury experts to collect the information desired in connection with the American valuation plan.

High officials of the Ku Klux Klan may be summoned to Washington for interrogation by the Department of Justice, Attorney General Daugherty indicated.

Senator Penrose reported the house tax bill as amended by the senate finance committee to the senate at Washington. The Democrats were given permission to file a minority report within seven days, and Senator La Follette obtained the same privilege.

Domestic

With the death at New York of Miss Mildred E. Hanan there departed hope of solving the mystery which led to her shooting by her former chum, Mrs. Grace Lawes and the latter's suicide.

Carrying 122 boxes of gold, valued at 338,000,000 German marks, the freight steamer Oregonian arrived at New York from Hamburg. The gold is consigned to the Federal Reserve bank.

A double execution took place at Crestview, Fla., when Putnam Ponsell and Jake Martin paid the death penalty for the murder of John Tugle. A crowd estimated at 10,000 witnessed the hanging.

Declaring that he got only 10 cents out of a highway robbery, on a charge of which he pleaded guilty, George McCoy was sentenced to ten years in the state penitentiary at Ponca City, Okla.

Patrons of the local telephone company at a meeting at Newman Grove, Neb., voted to go on a strike October 1 by refusing to patronize the company. The action is in protest against a rate advance.

William Graver, eighteen years old, only son of W. F. Graver of Beverly Hills, treasurer of the Graver Tank company, was killed in an automobile accident four miles north of Ann Arbor, Mich.

W. C. Oesterich, in charge of Democratic state headquarters at Albuquerque, N. M., conceded the election of Holm O. Bursum (Rep.) as United States senator over Richard H. Hanna (Dem.).

A "twister" windstorm hit the business section of Zanesville, O., and did damage to Main street business houses running into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Twelve persons were injured.

William McLachlin, eight, has vanished at Spokane, Wash. Playmates said he fell into a sandpit. Thousands of tons of sand have been excavated and a pond dragged in the search for the body, but to no avail.

The body of Mrs. Norah Johnson Kettle of Union, Conn., who, as a bride of a few days, disappeared from a camp at Lake Mashapaug, where she was on her honeymoon, on September 13, was found in the lake.

One finger print, stamped in blood, is the only clue to the murder of William Monroe, forty-eight, his wife, Mary, forty-four, and their daughter, Neva, seventeen, who were beaten to death with a nail-studded club in their home at Dowagiac, Mich.

A campaign to obtain national and state legislation removing political, civil and legal discriminations against women has been launched at Washington by the National Women's party.

Mrs. W. E. Hamilton, wife of the former president of Simpson college, was killed at Indianapolis, Ind., when she stepped in the path of an automobile truck.

The right of the United States railway labor board to "invade the domain of management" is challenged in a statement presented to the board at Chicago by the Pennsylvania system.

A bloody finger print cleared Herbert Smith, half-breed Indian, of complicity in Dowagiac's triple murder mystery. Testimony of two experts proved conclusively that he is innocent.

Robert L. Bean, cashier of the Megunticook National bank of Camden, was arraigned at Portland, Me., as a defaulter to the amount of $257,000 on a secret indictment returned by the grand jury.

Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris of Chicago was found guilty of contempt of court by Judge David. He was sentenced to five days in the county jail and ordered to pay a fine of $100.

Hop Palmer, accused of having shot and killed Millard Wright in January, 1917, at a country dance, was acquitted at Fayette, Mo., by a jury in the third trial of his case.

Robbers forced entrance to the city hall at West Frankfort, Ill., and confiscated five stills and a quantity of "white mule" captured by officers in recent raids and held as evidence.

Personal

Alfred Harris Bright, seventy years old, special counsel for the Soo line, died in his office at Minneapolis, following a stroke of apoplexy. He had been connected with the road since 1891.

Foreign

While in the Crooked Island pass on the way from Gulfport to Porto Rico, the American schooner John A. Banckerman was burned, according to information received in Mobile.

A. T. Krasnotchekoff, former Chicago lawyer and recently premier of the Far Eastern republic of Siberia, has been relieved of his duties because of illness, says a Moscow dispatch.

Bulgarian premier at Sofia charges Russian soviet is trying to accomplish a revolution in the Balkan states.

The Siberian army of the Russian soviet government has attacked Vladivostok, according to the Revel correspondent of the newspaper information at Paris.

Alexander Stamboulsky, the Bulgarian premier, at Sofia, says it is the evident intention of the Moscow government to accomplish a revolution in the Balkan states with the assistance of the communist parties in those states.

Mrs. Margaret Wintringham, liberal, has been elected to the house of commons at London for the south division of Lincolnshire in succession to her late husband. She will be the second woman to take a seat in the commons, Lady Astor having been the first.

Collin Ogilvie Cameron, former manager of Thornton, Davidson & Co., Montreal stock brokers, surrendered to the police at Montreal. He was sought on a warrant charging him with stealing $180,000 from his firm.

Maximilian Hardin, German author, has canceled his lecture tour in the United States, his manager announced. A cablegram received at New York reported that Hardin was suffering from bronchitis.

A Manila dispatch says the sultan revealed a plot by Islam chieftains to raise the Turkish flag in southern Philippines and oust the Americans and Filipinos.

The Wirth government at Berlin won another great victory when Bavaria voters ousted the anti-Berlin leader and named Count Von Lerchenfeld, husband of an American.

Leon Trotsky, soviet war minister at Moscow, announced that Poland has served an ultimatum on Russia, demanding the execution of the Riga treaty.

The American commission found tens of thousands of Russian famine victims crowding southern towns after floating down the Don and Volga rivers. The dead and dying are unnumbered. Relief is imperative, says a Tiflis dispatch.

A Madras (India) dispatch says sporadic raiding and wholesale looting are still prevalent in parts of the Malabar district. Rebel forces are terrorizing the countryside.

Latest casualty estimates in the explosion at Oppau, Germany, are 1,100 dead and 4,000 injured. The town of 6,500 was practically wiped out.

Bombs hurled during rioting between Mexicans and Sinn Feiners at Belfast killed four and wounded fifty-seven persons.

1—View of Travis and St. Mary's streets, San Antonio, when the water there was 20 feet deep, during the great flood. 2—Caskets of the American victims of the ZR-2 disaster on the deck of the British cruiser that brought them home. 3—Mrs. Raymond Robins about to sail for Europe to preside over the International Congress of Working Women in Geneva.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Congress Reconvenes and the Senate Is Confronted With Plenty of Work.

PEACE TREATIES SUBMITTED

Revised Tax Bill Reported But Not Before Radical "Dry" Get into Action—Tentative Agenda for Arms Conference—Serbia and Albania Fighting.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

Congress is in session again, with the house marking time while the senate tries to catch up. There is a tremendous lot of important legislation before the senators, and President Harding, through Senator Watson of Indiana, warned them that they must speed up, not only for the benefit of the nation but in order that Republican campaign promises may be redeemed. As a starter the President submitted the treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary, without a special message but with the understanding that they shall be ratified before the conference on limitation of armaments opens in November.

The treaties were referred to the foreign relations committee and the old opposition of the irreconcilables, led by Senator Borah, developed at once. It centered on the section reserving to the United States the right to have a representative on the reparations commission. Borah contended that if this right were exercised this country would become involved immediately in the reparations dispute that forms the crux of the present European problems.

At the first session Senator Penrose reported the tax bill as revised by the finance committee and he said he would seek to keep it before the senate continuously until it is disposed of. Next day the measure was called up for consideration. It may be two weeks before a final vote is taken on it. Senator Gerry was given permission to file a minority report for the Democratic members of the committee within seven days, and Senator La Follette was accorded the same time to file his dissenting views.

The senate calendar, in addition to this tax bill and the treaties, contains such important measures as the tariff bill, the $500,000,000 railroad funding bill, the Borah bill to exempt American coastwise vessels from payment of Panama canal tolls and the bill authorizing the President and secretary of the treasury to refund the $11,000,000,000 owed by the allied governments to the United States. Nevertheless, in what appears to be utter disregard of the best interest of the people, the radical "drys" made an attempt to capture the right of way for the Campbell-Willis anti-beer bill. Senator Sterling of South Dakota forestalled Senator Penrose as soon as a quorum was obtained and moved renewal of consideration of that measure, the conference report on it being the issue. Senator Reed refused to agree to the fixing of a date for a vote. The "wets" then renewed their filibustering tactics, but failed to get an adjournment.

From now on there will be no lack of partisan politics in congress. This was made evident on the opening day when Pat Harrison of Mississippi entertained the senate with a violent attack on the administration in which he asserted it had displayed "pitiable inefficiency" and practiced "outrageous extravagance." He scored the President because he plays golf and spends week ends on the Mayflower. The immediate cause of Harrison's outburst was the letter written by President Harding to Senator McCormick of Illinois recounting the achievements of the Republican party since March 4. This, declared the Mississippian, was for the purpose of influencing the New Mexico senatorial election. Senator Lodge arose to reply to Mr. Harrison, but contented himself with reading the returns from New Mexico, showing that Holm O. Bursum, Republican, had been elected by a large majority. Mr. Bursum fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Albert Fall for the purpose of entering the cabinet.

President Harding made two diplomatic nominations last week. Joseph C. Grew, who is now minister to Denmark, is appointed minister to Switzerland; and Dr. John D. Prime of New Jersey is named to fill the post in Copenhagen. Dr. Prime is a professor in Columbia university.

The conference summoned by the President to devise measures to relieve the stress of unemployment and business depression is now in session in Washington. The conferees, who were selected by Mr. Harding and who number forty-eight, include Secretary of Commerce Hoover as chairman and the country's leading authorities on economics and industries. Four women are among them—Elizabeth Christman of Chicago and Ida M. Tarbell, Mrs. Sarah Conboy and Mary Van Kleef of New York.

Monthly reports of the bureau of labor statistics show improved employment conditions in a number of industries. In nine groups of industry there were increases in the number of persons on the payroll in August as compared to the July payroll and in five a decrease.

Presumably all the powers invited to the conference on limitation of armaments and Far East questions have indicated their approval of the tentative agenda submitted by Secretary of State Hughes, for an outline of the proposed outline has been made public in Washington. It is as follows: Limitation of naval armament. Basis of limitation, fulfillment of conditions.

Rules for control of new agencies of warfare.

Limitation of land armament.

Questions relating to China, principles to be applied.

Application to subjects: (A) Territorial integrity; (B) Administrative integrity; (C) Open door. Equality of administrative and industrial opportunity; (D) Concessions, monopolies and other economic privileges; (E) Development of railways; (F) Preferential railroad rates; (G) Status of existing commitments.

Questions relating to Siberia. Similar questions relating to China. Mandated islands.

From London comes the regrettable news that Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Minister Curzon will not be able to come to the conference. Their constant attention will be required by Great Britain's domestic problems.

The prohibition unit of the treasury department gave the home brewers an awful jolt last week. To dispose of unfounded reports that permits were being issued for home manufacture of wine and beer, it issued a statement in which the following things were declared illegal:

1. The manufacture of any intoxicating beer, wine or spirits in the home, even for strictly private home consumption.
2. The manufacture of any beer or wine of any alcoholic content without a permit, which permits are not issued to home brewers and wine makers.
3. The sale of any hops or other "makings" to a person without a permit, which permits are not issued to home brewers.

Only nonintoxicating fruit juices may be made without a permit, to the extent of 200 gallons.

The railways are facing the prospect of another big strike, with the probability of disorder and the open shop as results. The six federated shop crafts unions have voted to strike against the general railroad wage reduction of July 1, last, but have deferred action until the United States railway labor board promulgates the working rules it has been considering. The men are bitterly opposed to many of the decisions already made by the board. They believe the railroads want them to strike so that the open shop may be instituted.

The union carpenters of the Chicago district, who refused to be a party to the Landis arbitration, have voted to maintain their position, and consequently the contractors are beginning to employ non-union men. Judge Landis is reconsidering some of the awards he made, at the request of some trades that thought they got too much of the worst of it.

The latest war to break out in this peaceful world is between Albania and Serbia, and the immediate objective is possession of a zone twenty miles long and eight deep. The Serb commander on the frontier ordered the Albanians to evacuate six towns in that territory, and twenty-four hours later began hostilities. Bishop Sun Noll, Albanian delegate to the League of Nations, reported the affair to that body, and later it was secretly considered by the council of the league. The Serb delegate was quoted as saying Serbia would not permit the league to intrude into the Albanian question; that the supreme council of the allies must fix the frontiers of Albania and thus Jugoslavia would be protected and guaranteed by Great Britain and France. Though the actual war in this case may be comparatively trifling, the matter is fraught with serious complications. Serbia, it is said, plans to cut through to the Adriatic by way of Tirana, splitting Albania in two, and hope eventually to absorb the northern half of that country. Greece is credited with an ambition to grab the lower half. Italy stands ready to seize the naval base and port of Valona, which would make the Adriatic an Italian lake, and this is vigorously opposed by Great Britain.

The League of Nations admitted three new nations to membership. They are Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. The vote to take them in was unanimous for the several nations that were opposed refrained from voting. The council of the league set a precedent by referring to the assembly for settlement the dispute between Poland and Lithuania concerning Vilna.

Intervention in the Greco-Turkish war was suggested by several delegates and probably it would be welcomed by Greece, for her army in Asia has met with another setback. The Salt desert again proved itself an efficient guard for Angora on the west and the Greeks have once more retired to the Sakaria river with the Kemalists in hot pursuit.

Of writing many notes there is no end, apparently, in the Irish affair. De Valera wants the proposed conference with the British cabinet, but he wants it on his own terms—the Irish delegates enter it as representatives of a sovereign state. From this attitude he dare not back down, for his own "official" status depends on his firmness. Lloyd George is equally intent in denying this demand, and is fully supported by the cabinet, whose members returned to Scotland where the premier was somewhat under the weather at Galricloch. In one of his latest notes De Valera suggested that Britain and Ireland conclude a "treaty of accommodation and association," expressing the belief that this would end the dispute forever and enable the two nations to settle down in peace.

The British official announcement, several weeks ago, that the Moslem revolt on the Malabar coast of India had been suppressed was premature. The trouble is about as acute as ever, the rebels control large districts and, except where troops are stationed, the lives and property of non-Moslems are not safe. The British authorities in India have obtained a document calling on all Mussulmans in India to proclaim complete independence from Great Britain and set up a republic in the event that the British take action against the Angora government of Turkey.

The greatest industrial catastrophe Germany ever experienced occurred Wednesday when a large synthetic nitrate plant at Oppau blew up. Probably 1,500 persons were killed, thousands were injured and the entire town was destroyed. The shock of the two explosions was felt and damage done within a radius of fifty miles. Among the victims were French troops on guard duty at the works and others on a transport. Oppau is in the Rhine Palatinate in a region that was developed during the war into one of the most extensive and productive of Germany's chemical munition supply districts.

Austrian Crowns 20 for Cent. Vienna, Sept. 28.—Dr. Grlum, the minister of finance, resigned. The crown declined to 2,000 to the dollar.

Nab Deputy on Boozie Charge. Dixon, Ill., Sept. 28.—Deputy Sheriff William Flick of Ogle county was arrested by Dixon police charged with transportation and possession of intoxicating liquor, following an automobile collision in which his car figured.

Fewer Idle in Iowa. Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 28.—The number of men out of employment in Iowa is decreasing, according to A. L. Urick, state labor commissioner. Building operations and general construction are on the increase, he states.

SAYS MISS RAPPE DIED OF INJURY

Hotel Physician Declares Rupture Was His First Diagnosis of Case.

ASSERTS WOMAN NOT DRUNK

Doctor Beardslee Describes Girl's Agony After the Ar buckle Party—"Fatty" Acts as Own Attorney in Superior Court.

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—Dr. Arthur Beardslee, testifying in the police court examination of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Ar buckle, said he found Miss Virginia Rappe, whose death Ar buckle is charged with having caused, in great pain when he was called into the case.

In the absence of his attorneys, Ar buckle acted for himself in the Superior court in agreeing with the district attorney that the manslaughter charge pending against him should be continued until October 3.

Miss Rappe's writhing in intense pain overshadowed evidences of alcoholism, Doctor Beardslee testified, and it was necessary to quiet her by the use of a drug.

This was the evening of September 5, a few hours after the Hotel St. Francis party, out of which the charge against Ar buckle arose, according to the physician, and early the next morning he discovered evidence to support an earlier conclusion that Miss Rappe had suffered an internal injury.

From the beginning he realized it was a surgical case, and advised removal to a hospital.

"There was no other conclusion to draw from the evidence than that the bladder was ruptured," the witness said.

In answer to a hypothetical question regarding the cause of a torn bladder, Doctor Beardslee replied that he would consider external force, such as a fall or blow the origin.

Violent and continued vomiting might cause such a rupture, the witness replied to a question from Ar buckle's counsel.

A black and blue spot on one arm was the only external sign of injury, according to Doctor Beardslee.

"Don't call me your friend," snapped the witness at Frank Dominguez, Ar buckle's chief counsel, after a long series of tilts between them during questioning by the defense attorney.

Although the defense attempted to draw from Doctor Beardslee an admission that other internal causes might have been responsible for his patient's pain, the physician said his composite knowledge of the case pointed to a bladder rupture.

The morning after the party the case was turned over to Dr. M. E. Rumwell, according to Doctor Beardslee, who said he did not tell his conclusions about the patient's condition to Doctor Rumwell, because the latter did not ask him.

Doctor Beardslee said he was merely following professional custom and that he would have passed on his information had it been requested.

"Did it appear Miss Rappe had been on a debauch?" questioned Dominguez. Doctor Beardslee replied that it did not appear so, and in any event the intense pain overshadowed evidence of alcoholism.

"This was a classical picture of a ruptured bladder," Doctor Beardslee said, when the defense counsel reverted to questions about other possible internal injuries.

The witness denied that he had told the sheriff when he was notified on his hunting trip that his testimony was wanted, "that too much high life" was the trouble with Miss Rappe.

Al Semmacher, state witness, was recalled to the stand in the "Fatty" Ar buckle murder hearing, at which time Defense Attorney Frank Dominguez precipitated a sensation.

Dominguez, explaining to Judge Sylvain Lazarus the purpose of his line of cross-examination, declared:

"My intention is to prove that Semmacher's action in taking the clothes of Miss Virginia Rappe out of the St. Francis hotel and to his home in Hollywood was part of a conspiracy on the part of Semmacher, Earl Lynn and Mrs. B. M. Delmont, the object of which was to extort money from Mr. Roscoe Ar buckle.

"It is my duty to prove the existence and to establish the facts of this conspiracy, and I am prepared to do it."

Dominguez succeeded in eliciting nothing from Semmacher as to the alleged extortion scheme, save a general denial. His original testimony remained unchanged by the examination.

Austrian Crowns 20 for Cent. Vienna, Sept. 28.—Dr. Grlum, the minister of finance, resigned. The crown declined to 2,000 to the dollar.

Nab Deputy on Boozie Charge. Dixon, Ill., Sept. 28.—Deputy Sheriff William Flick of Ogle county was arrested by Dixon police charged with transportation and possession of intoxicating liquor, following an automobile collision in which his car figured.

Fewer Idle in Iowa. Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 28.—The number of men out of employment in Iowa is decreasing, according to A. L. Urick, state labor commissioner. Building operations and general construction are on the increase, he states.

WONDERFUL GAIN IN WEIGHT REPORTED

Young Woman Only Weighed 76 Pounds—Now Weighs Over 100 and is Gaining Every Day.

"Before I began taking Tanlac I only weighed 76 pounds, I now weigh over one hundred and am gaining every day," said Miss Lottie Davis of Chattanooga, Tenn.

"I bought my first bottle of Tanlac at Gas City, Ind., and it helped me so much that I continued using it. I have always been very delicate and suffered a great deal from stomach trouble and rheumatism. I rarely ever had any appetite and simply could not relish anything. I fell off until I only weighed 76 pounds and was so thin I looked perfectly awful. This is the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac. "Oh, I feel so different now. Even my complexion is improved. My appetite is good and I can hardly get enough to eat. Tanlac is simply grand and I can truthfully say it is the only medicine that has ever done me any good."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Where Reasonableness Ended. "Reasonable puppies," advertises a dog advertiser. Did you ever see a puppy that was reasonable when he got hold of your Sunday hat?

Stop the Pain. The hurt of a burn or a cut stops when Cole's Carbolicine is applied. It heals quickly without scars. 3c and 6c by all druggists or send 5c to The J. W. Cole Co., Rockford, Ill.—Advertisement.

Loved and Lost. Elsie—So Jack is engaged, is he? And is Fanny the bride-to-be? Ella—No; she is the tried-to-be.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM tobacco makes 50 good cigarettes for 10c

We want you to have the best paper for "BULL." So now you can receive with each package a book of 24 leaves of BULL—the very finest cigarette paper in the world.

Prepared by The American Bull Co.

DR. STAFFORD'S
olive tar
heals sore throat. Don't cough all night—a few drops gives quick relief. Never fails.
DR. STAFFORD'S
colds and asthma
Get a 25c. Box. Nature's Remedy

DR. STAFFORD'S
olive tar
heals sore throat. Don't cough all night—a few drops gives quick relief. Never fails.
DR. STAFFORD'S
colds and asthma
Get a 25c. Box. Nature's Remedy

PARKER'S HAIR BALM
Removes Dandruff—Stops Itchy Scalp—Restores Color and Beauty to Gray and Faded Hair. 6c and 15c at Druggists, Beauty Chem. Wks., Pathecoeur, N. Y.

HINDER CORNS Removes Corns, Calluses, etc. from all parts, causes comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 16c. by mail or at Druggists. Illinois Chemical Works, Pathecoeur, N. Y.

EPILEPTICS
Would you care to learn about new rational treatment for immediate relief of epilepsy, positively stopping seizures from first day? Write for information Free "SPECIALIST." Drawer A-652, LANDER, WYOMING.

Waterproof Aprons—Buy direct—the best at lowest cost—attractive patterns of Gingham, Percale, plain—spl. prices on request. Amer. Apron Co., 2116 Smith Bldg., Seattle, Wash.

MONEY! Get in on ground floor of big money-making proposition. Remit $1 and we will send samples with directions. Big Profits. FERNY & CO., ALPINE, TEXAS.

For Sale—Fine 320 acre dairy farm, central Wis. Guaranteed bargain, $75 a Particulars, terms of aged owner, Box 10, Silverlake, Wis.

Cultivated Ginseng. Ten dollars per pound. Large pkg. used for $1.00. Send for circulars. Henry B. Knoblauch, Grower, Murphysboro, Ill.

A WONDERFUL FACE BLEACH Removes Tan, Freckles, Spots, Pimples, etc. Instantly. KREMOLA COMPANY, 2715 Michigan Ave., Chicago.

The American Legion

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

ALL KNOW JACK WILLIAMS

Adjutant of North Dakota Legion Department Acquired Popularity While Serving as Newswriter.

Everybody in North Dakota, and not a few in bordering states know Jack Williams, adjutant of the American Legion department, and his resonant voice.

Williams, a d'jutant of the American Legion department, and his resonant voice. Williams acquired both his popularity and his voice by crying "Extra, extra, all about it" on the streets of Fargo, N. D., for six years.

While newswriter, Williams conceived a monopoly on all the city's evening papers which brought all the other boys into his employ and made money for him. Later he branched out and worked in a newspaper press room. He worked up to pressman, a position he was holding when he enlisted in the Third Engineers for the war.

Forced to quit school while in the fourth grade, Williams obtained a good education on the streets and by night study. At twenty-one years old he was president of the Fargo Trades and Labor assembly, a post he resigned to enlist. He went into the army as a private and came out with the same rank. He was the first state adjutant of the American Legion department.

POST SELECTS THIS BEAUTY

Puget Sound Organization Chooses Miss Hazel Jordan as One of Their Prettiest.

A dip in refreshing ocean water every day during the summer and every week, at least, during the winter, makes for the sparkling eyes and exceptional beauty of Miss Hazel Jordan, recently selected by the American Legion of Seattle, Wash., as one of the three most beautiful girls in the great Northwest.

Because of the cool, moist air which blows the year around, because they swim, skate, ski, float and fly and do everything else that a real live American girl is supposed to do, the beauties of the Northwest far surpass those of any other section of the United States, the Legion of Seattle holds. All these advantages obviate the use of rouge, powder, the lipstick and paint, too, they declare.

Miss Jordan lives in Everett, Wash., on the eastern shore of Puget sound. She was the only one of the three girls who would tell, willingly, her age. She admits eighteen years.

KILLED BY SHELL FROM WAR

Ammunition Expert Is Almost Blown to Pieces in His Own Home at Indianapolis.

Although he had gone through the World war unscathed and had qualified as an expert in handling artillery ammunition, Frank M. Kinne, Indianapolis, Ind., recently was nearly blown to pieces in his home by a three-inch shell he had brought from France. After having served in an exhibition squad which gave demonstrations of how shells were unloaded and exploded, Kinne was unloading his souvenir shell when the fatal accident occurred.

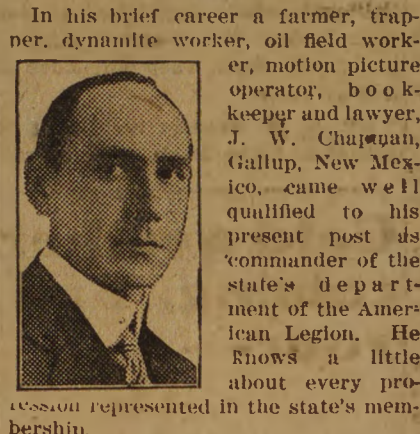

Kinne's little home was wrecked, but his mother and sister, sleeping in an upstairs room, miraculously escaped injury. The local post of the American Legion, to which the soldier had applied for membership following his recent discharge from the regular army, gave him a military burial.

Special Rates to Convention.

Sixteen railroad lines touching 27 states have granted one-cent-a-mile fare to the third annual convention of the American Legion in Kansas City, Oct. 30, 31, and Nov. 1. Rate reductions have been made by the following railroads: Missouri Pacific; Kansas City Southern; Frisco; Rock Island; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; Washburn; Illinois Central; Chicago Great Western; Chicago and North-western; Burlington, Chicago and Alton; Santa Fe; Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis; Missouri and St. Louis; Missouri, Kansas and Texas and the Union Pacific. The one-cent-a-mile fare zone is bounded by Denver, Minneapolis, Buffalo, N. Y., Savannah, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., Birmingham, Ala., New Orleans and Port Arthur, Tex.

WELL POSTED LEGION MAN

Commander of Department of New Mexico Knows About Professions Represented in Membership.

In his brief career a farmer, trapper, dynamite worker, oil field worker, motion picture operator, book-keeper and lawyer, J. W. Chapman, Gallup, New Mexico, came well qualified to his present post as commander of the state's department of the American Legion. He shows a little about every profession represented in the state's membership.

Covering all of the United States and most of Mexico in his travels, Mr. Chapman settled down to the practice of law in New Mexico just before America entered the World war. When she did, he volunteered as a mechanic and chauffeur and spent two months in an army motor shop. Then he was transferred to a balloon school, but before he could get acquainted with the blimps they moved him again, this time to the company's personnel headquarters. He was in an officers' training camp when the armistice came.

Entering Legion work early, Mr. Chapman was a member of the committee which wrote the non-political clause into the organization's constitution. He boils down his biography to this: "I am a member of the A. F. & A. M., B. P. O. E., and K. of P. I am an American by birth, training and inclination; an Episcopalian by faith and a prohibitionist by law. I sing, dance, play the piano and am married. What else could I ask?"

TITLES OF SOME NOTABLES

General Douglas Haig, "Earl and Field Marshal"; Beatty, "Admiral of the Fleet."

Decorations and titles won by distinguished British and Canadian guests at the third annual convention of the American Legion in Kansas City, October 31, November 1 and 2, are testimony of their notable records during the World war.

General Douglas Haig bears the titles of earl and field marshal and has the right to use the following letters, indicating decorations, after his name: "K. T., G. C. B., O. M., G. C. V. O., K. C. I. E."

Admiral Beatty's official designation is "Admiral of the Fleet, the Right Honorable Earl Beatty, G. C. B., O. M., G. C. V. O., K. C. I. E."

The correct number to address the commander of the Canadian corps in France is "Gen. Sir William Currie, G. C. M. G., K. C. B., K. C. M. G., C. B., Principal of McGill university."

The participation of "Great Britain and her dominions in President Harding's world conference on disarmament is believed by national convention officials to remove all doubts in regard to the presence of the distinguished guests at the Legion national convention.

SWALE WAS A DISHWASHER

Commander of Legion's Washington Department Licked Kitchen Boss, Then Took His Job.

The story of how a fist fight made him a dish washer is told by Thomas W. Swale, commander of the American Legion's department of the state of Washington.

While the down-trodden bookkeeper of a Great Northern construction gang, Swale was ejected into an encounter with the gang's bully, who held the reins of camp cleanser of the pots and pans. The fight became rough, the bookkeeper knocked out the dish washer and the foreman forthwith made up for lack of personnel by assigning Swale to wash the dishes until the beaten kitchen mechanic could return from the hospital.

After gaining an education, Swale, at twenty-three years and 200 pounds, was the "baby of the Washington legislature," serving for two terms. During the war he served in the army intelligence section in charge of I. W. W. investigations in the Pacific Northwest. He is a practicing lawyer in Seattle, Wash.

The Verb Salvage.

The verb "to salvage" did not pass out of existence with the disbanding of the A. E. F. Its synonym, "to manage," is still recognized as part of the language of Legionnaires. George B. Anderson post of the American Legion at Ardmore, Okla., recently "salvaged" a library of 2,000 volumes. As in the army days when anything from a mess kit to a five-ton truck might have been acquired mysteriously with the simple explanation "we managed for it" or the equally expressive "we salvaged it," the post acquired the library. "During the war the people of Ardmore had collected a large number of books to be shipped to army camps for use of soldiers. But after the volumes were collected and boxed they were never shipped. They were discovered recently in a store-room by a member of the Legion post and it did not take long to salvage them.

DIGNITY IS THE KEYNOTE OF WINTER'S COSTUME SUITS

The wandering and wayward atmosphere of fashion, blowing this way and that at the beginning of the season, have set themselves in definite directions and now we are able to determine which way the wind blows. In suits it is toward long coats and somewhat lengthened skirts; coats that are made interesting by a little variety in styles and much variety in trimmings, and skirts that, with few exceptions, remain plain.

The box coat, with many variations in collars, sleeves, length and trimming, appeals to great numbers of women; as it is developed this season severity is unknown to it. It has more than one rival, the most important of them being coats that decide upon a little definition of the waistline or a ripple in the skirt portion at the sides and back and those in the long redingote style. In a season of dignified suits the last stands at the head of its class.

In the handsome suit pictured the figure is vaguely outlined and the coat ripples at the back below the waistline. It is uneven in length and split up at each side. Fur bands form the cuffs and emphasize the flare and ripple in the back, and fur provides a collar over the long revers. Embroidery in a striking pattern assumes the responsibility of finishing the trim front.

Since fashion has decreed longer skirts, without saying just how much longer they shall be, the length of this model is worth noting. It is long enough, longer than the average by an inch or so, but in keeping with the style, which is intended for matrons.

HERALDING HALLOWEEN WITH WEIRD DECORATIONS

The jolly festival of Halloween is in sight and imaginative people may turn loose their fancies and let them frolic among spooks and fairies. Young people and children enjoy this pranks festival more than any other, except Christmas.

In the shops that carry crepe paper and colored papers of other kinds, there are all sorts of funny and gruesome suggestions in the matter of dressing up the house and the table for a Halloween party. They present what their agents have found in the realm where "witches, black cats, sprites, ghosts and strange creatures frolic under the autumn moon in the fields where the big yellow pumpkins lie. Having set down their findings in black and yellow and white on paper, they leave it to merry-makers to begin where they leave off and fashion such things as are shown above.

Only two light shades or candle shades are pictured, both of them a combination of yellow and black paper with a few touches of black and white water-color paint. One of the shades is a cat's face of orange paper with black ears. The paper is pasted against a cardboard foundation, two faces joined by strips at the sides and supported by ordinary candle-shade holders or with wire. In the other shade, Jack-o'-Lantern sports a long beard of black crepe paper and has black horns.

Julia Bottanally
COPYRIGHT BY WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION

Autumn Colors and Fabric. Autumn will see unabated the popularity of red and brown and will have in addition brilliant canary yellow. In fabrics there are many homespun and thick tweed suitings for autumn and winter use. Some of the homespun are made up in the sleeveless models.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Do you know what fairy palaces you may build of good thoughts?—Ruskin. "All things come to the man who goes after them."

SOME MORE EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS.

When one has a little leftover veal the following dish will be one worth considering.

Veal Stew.—Cut the remains of roast or cutlets into small morsels. Cover with cold water and cook over the simmering burner till very tender; add any remnants of gravy or of forcemeat and more seasonings if needed and bring to the boiling point. Thicken with a tablespoonful of flour or less of corn starch and cook ten minutes after adding.

Dumplings.—Take one cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and buttermilk to make a drop batter. Fresh milk may be used, adding a tablespoonful of butter to the flour mixture.

Potato Turnovers.—To one pint of hot mashed potato, seasoned well with salt, butter, cream and beaten egg, add one tablespoonful of flour and shape into round cakes rather thin. Place one tablespoonful of finely minced meat on top and fold over, pressing the edges together. Brush the top with egg and milk. Bake in a hot oven until well browned. Serve piping hot with Brown Sauce.—Put one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan and when brown add one tablespoonful of flour, mix and then add one cupful of hot stock with salt and pepper with onion juice if desired for seasoning. A half cupful of finely minced mushrooms will be an addition.

Cream Scones.—Take one cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of butter well rubbed into the flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one well beaten egg and thin cream to make a mixture that will roll out, keeping it as moist as possible. Cut in diamond shapes, brush with egg, sprinkle with sugar and bake in a hot oven.

Coffee Creams.—Take one cupful each of strong coffee and thin cream, one-half cupful of milk, four eggs beaten until well mixed, four tablespoonfuls of sugar and a pinch of salt. Cook in cups set in hot water, baked in a moderate oven. Serve cold. Nice with scones.

The world is all dark or the world is all bright. Just as we choose to make it; Our burden is heavy, our burden is light.

Just as we happen to take it; And people who grumble and people who groan. At the world and every proposal Would grumble and groan if the world were their own. With sun, moon and stars at disposal. —Harriet Swift.

DELICIOUS FRUIT.

We enjoy the delicate flavor as well as the beautiful color and aroma of our early fall fruits, but do we appreciate the wonderful color possibilities in the fruits we take as a matter of course? Try some of these when something dainty is needed to make an especial appeal to the appetite:

Muskmelon With Cream.—Scrub small melons of a deep orange meat and dry well; then cut in halves, removing the seeds. Cut nearly to the center with a sharp knife, making six or eight sharp-pointed petals, which will look like a golden lily. Place in the center a ball of any ice or ice cream, dust with cocoa or sprinkle with nuts, as desired.

When serving a half of a musk melon, select good ripe ones, wash them and chill well before serving. Serve on a bed of cracked ice. Do not put ice in the melon cavity. It dilutes the juice and destroys the delicate flavor.

Muskmelon Surprise.—Prepare muskmelons as above, cut in halves, scoop out the seeds and fill with watermelon balls. Use a good-sized potato cutter and scoop out the balls in the heart of the melon.

Strawberries a la Francaise.—Place a mound of powdered sugar in the center of a small glass or china plate and arrange around it a border of washed and drained, but unshredded strawberries. Serve for a luncheon beginning or for breakfast. The mound of sugar is made by pressing the sugar into a small glass or mold and unmolding on the plate.

Orange Salad.—Peel the oranges, freeing them from the white bitter principle lining the peel. Slice each orange into thin slices, arrange them in overlapping slices, garnish with candied cherries and serve with roast wild duck.

Muskmelon Cocktail.—Cut the melon in cubes or balls with a potato scoop, arrange in glasses, and pour over a heavy sirup, cooled, made by holling a cupful of sugar and one-fourth of a cupful of water until smooth and thick. Then grate a generous sprinkling of nutmeg over the melon and serve.

Nellie Maxwell

After Every Meal WRIGLEY'S Sealed Tight Kept Right

Still 5c

WRIGLEY'S has steadily kept to the pre-war price. And to the same high standard of quality.

No other goody lasts so long—costs so little or does so much for you.

Handy to carry—beneficial in effect—full of flavor—a solace and comfort for young and old.

THE FLAVOR LASTS

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE
B10

WAX MUST FIRST BE HEATED SPIDER ATTRACTED BY MUSIC

Impossible to Get Light From Wax Candle Without the Presence of Necessary Gases.

According to Organist, He Was Always Sure of One Listener Whenever He Played.

A wax candle really is a gas torch. You will find that when you apply a lighted match to the wick of a candle it will not light readily. You have to hold the match to the wick until the wick burns sufficiently to heat the wax hot enough to turn it into gases which, on mixing with the oxygen in the air, produce the fire in the form of light.

An organist, telling of his experiences while playing the great instrument in a Boston hall, relates a pretty story of his most regular listener—a spider that had taken up his abode in the organ case over the performer's head. It remained there for about a year.

The candle will continue to be lighted and to burn as long as the wax continues hot enough to give off the gases or until the candle is entirely consumed. Any interruption to this process of transforming the wax into gas will result in the extinguishing of the light.

It was a musical little fellow, and when the man began to play it would spin down almost to a level with his shoulder and gently swing to and fro and listen. When he had finished a piece it would draw itself up to its nest, and when he began another, down it would come again and resume its position as an interested listener.

The reason the candle goes out when you blow on the flame is that the gases which feed the flame at the end of the wick are blown away, the process of turning the hot wax into gas is interrupted and with the gas supply shut off the flame is extinguished.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It had six legs. Two it put out in the air as a balance pole, two it handled the web with, and the third pair it used in pulling itself up hand over hand, as sailors climb a rope.

"Tall" Story Disproved. The hoatzin, one of the strangest birds of South America, is notorious for its bad odor. Some authorities say it is so frightful that the bird can only be skinned under water. These stories are denied by Dr. C. W. Beebe of New York, who has not only skinned hoatzins, but also eaten them.

Any young man who can save $1,000 will soon show that he can save a great deal more.

Advice can always be had for nothing and is usually worth it.

Do you know what constitutes a strong constitution?

To have sound, healthy nerves, completely under control, digestive organs that are capable of absorbing a hearty meal, means you have a strong constitution! Your general attitude is one of optimism and energy.

But an irritable disposition, frequent attacks of indigestion, and a languid depression, indicate your system is not in correct working order.

Probably you are not eating the proper food. Probably the nutritious elements are not being supplied to your system in the proper way.

Grape-Nuts is the wholesome, delicious cereal that promotes normal digestion, absorption and elimination, whereby nourishment is accomplished without auto-intoxication. A mixture of energy-giving wheat and malted barley comprise the chief elements of Grape-Nuts. A dish at breakfast or lunch is an excellent, wholesome rush to follow.

You can order Grape-Nuts at any and every hotel, restaurant, and lunch room; on dining cars, on lake boats and steamers; in every good grocery, large and small, in every city, town or village in North America.

Grape-Nuts—the Body Builder

"There's a Reason"

KINGSTON DEPARTMENT

MRS. F. R. BRADFORD, Correspondent and Authorized Agent

Clothes Insurance Costs You Nothing If You Wear

"Gold Bond" Clothes

They are the result of nearly a quarter of a century of practical organization in the making of stylish all-wool, hand-tailored clothes for-

MEN, YOUNG MEN AND
HIGH SCHOOL CHAPS

There is a "Gold Bond" Certificate of guarantee in every garment, which acts as an Insurance Policy, assuring your complete satisfaction as to fabric, tailoring and service.

$22.50 to $30.00

Hughes Clothing Co.

Genoa, - - - Illinois

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

NEW PRICES

F. O. B. DETROIT

Chassis - -	$295
Runabout - -	325
Touring Car -	355
Truck Chassis -	445
Sedan - -	660
Coupe - - -	595

These are the lowest prices of Ford cars in the history of the Ford Motor Company.

Orders are coming in fast, so place yours promptly to insure delivery.

E. W. LINDGREN
Genoa, Illinois

Mrs. Olive Ort is in Sycamore this week.

Mr. Dell Aurner is at Alton, Ill., on business.

Carl Bodeen is working in the creamery.

Dr. Byers of Genoa was in town Wednesday.

Mr. Ed. Lellow of Elgin was in town Tuesday.

Oscar Bergren spent Monday and Tuesday in Chicago.

Walter Rankin, a piano tuner of Elgin, was here Tuesday.

Mr. H. W. Witter went to Elgin Monday on business duties.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Koch spent Sunday in Hampshire and Elgin.

James Stuart of Herbert was calling on friends here Wednesday.

Mr. Chas. Anderson went to Waukegan, Wis., Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landis of Kirkland called on friends here Friday.

Mrs. Frank Lettow came home from the Sycamore hospital Saturday.

Junior Hoffman is visiting at Mrs. Anna Barr's while his step-mother is away.

Mr. and Mrs. Holdrege of Portland Ill., visited Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Smith Sunday.

J. S. Nicholas of Rockford spent Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Campbell.

Floyd Gustavson and Lenora Wilson are attending the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Floyd Minnegan returned home from the Sycamore hospital Thursday.

Arthur Phelps began work in the creamery Friday after a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wilson and son, Sydney, are enjoying a motor trip to Michigan.

Roy Lilly and Ralph White went to Durand Ill., and Broadhead, Wisconsin, Tuesday.

Mr. Leon Uplinger and Ed. Phelps are employed on the Chicago and North Western.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Tower and Mrs. J. Lanen attended the fair at Mendota Friday.

J. F. Aurner received word last week of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Orla Aurner.

Mrs. Dunbar left Saturday for Pittsburg, Penn., where she will spend the winter with her daughter.

Miss Polly Branch of Chicago spent from Saturday until Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. H. Branch.

There will be no movies here Friday evening as Kirkland has a celebration that day and evening.

Miss Leona Cheigron is attending the Woman's Musical college at Rockford three days a week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Tower entertained Mr. and Mrs. Solon Ashcraft of DeKalb Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Coleman are the parents of a baby girl born the twenty-first at the Sycamore hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ort entertained the latter's sister, Mrs. Donnelly Gray and daughter, Isabel, Tuesday.

Rev. James and family returned home Thursday night from a few weeks' visit with relatives in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Nicholas of Lacone, Ill., are visiting the latter's brothers, Ira, Warren and Joy Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sterns and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hughes of Kirkland visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Johnson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Tazewell, daughter, Margaret and Mrs. A. Baker motored to Sycamore Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Worden and daughter, Jane, spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Witter.

Mrs. Edith Bell returned to Elgin Friday after spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Helsdon.

Mrs. Lilly of Durand, mother of Roy Lilly, spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Vickell.

Mrs. D. Powers and daughter, Evelyn of Chicago spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ball.

Sunday Kingston and Kings team played ball, Kingston winning 6-7. Next Sunday they play the "rub" at the park.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thornton and son, Keith, and Mrs. George Gossett visited relatives in Carthage the past week.

Mrs. Ray Helsdon and daughter, Mildred of Bensonville spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. John Helsdon.

Last Thursday afternoon the school and stores closed here for the home coming festival in Genoa. A great many went from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. Johnson at Hinckley.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ball entertained the former's sister and her husband Mr. and Mrs. W. Cooper of Belvidere a few days last week.

Mr. Jay Miller of South Dakota will be here about Oct. 15 with a carload of potatoes. A sample of them may be seen at the Post Office.

Mrs. Clarence Gieske of Elgin spent the week end with her father, Mr. Elmer Bacon. Mr. Gieske spent Saturday night and Sunday here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Cole entertained Mr. and Mrs. Stone and daughter, Stanley and their son and his wife or Chicago Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bradford and son, Clyde, and Mrs. Floy Bell and sons, Glenn and Harry, motored to Camp Grant and Rockford Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ackerman was gladly surprised Saturday afternoon when four of her sisters and two sister-in-laws came out from Chicago to spend the week end with her.

Dr. Ludwig, Thomas Ludwig, Mrs. Margaret Math and son, were here Sunday to see their brother, M. Ludwig, who is seriously ill. Mrs. Math is still here helping to care for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker, Mrs. M. L. Bickler and Mrs. Stuart Shrader motored to Sycamore Thursday morning and called on Mrs. Frank Lettow at the Sycamore hospital.

Miss Dorothy Ollman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ollman, who has been attending school in Genoa began school here Monday. She is in first year high school.

Chas. Ackerman, his brother, Geo. and brother-in-law, Jack Ross from Chicago, started on a motor trip Sunday for a week's visit with their brother, Will, in Woodward, Ia. and sister, Rosa, in Arlington, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Sternberg and children motored to Aurora Sunday and visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow. Harlow Sternberg returned home with them after spending a week with his grandparents.

Last Friday afternoon the thimble club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cole north of town. Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Allen Moyers, Mrs. S. S. Slater and Mrs. Will Parker of Genoa and Mrs. John Babbler of Colvin Park.

Last Wednesday evening a farewell party was given for Mr. and Mrs. Martin and children in the M. E. church. They leave this week for California where they intend to make their home. Mr. Clarence Buggs is going with them. They will make the trip by auto.

Mr. L. H. Branch, cashier at the Kingston State Bank, was operated on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

on for appendicitis at the Sycamore hospital last Friday. He is getting along nicely at this writing. Judge Pond of DeKalb is assisting Mrs. Branch in the bank.

Cold weather is coming, order your- - -

STORM SASH AND DOORS

Phone No. 1
THE QUALITY YARD

Do It Now!
Genoa Lumber Co.

Rovelstad Bros.

ELGIN'S HALLMARK JEWELERS

Rovelstad Silverware

A Great Array of Beautiful Patterns

Silverware is just Silverware unless Quality, Permanence, Choiceness and Ultimate Value are taken into consideration. We doubt if a better balanced assortment of patterns were ever shown in one store than those described below.

Sterling Silver

Etruscan

A Gorham Pattern of wonderful beauty and character. Made in a complete service and excellent weights. A life-time quality and style.

Tea Spoons, $8.50 Set

Virginia Carval

One of the daintiest of the modern patterns that has become very popular with discriminating buyers. We show a complete complement of pieces.

Tea Spoons, $7.50 Set

Dependable Sheffield

Sierra

For dependable wear and good looks this pattern is the equal of most sterling silver lines. It is a permanent design of the famous Reed & Barton line.

Tea Spoons, $3.75 Set

Pompeian

Another Reed & Barton creation that has won favor among shrewd buyers. This is not ordinary plated silver in any sense of the word, but good looking patterns on super quality stock.

Tea Spoons, $3.75 Set

Gorhams Providence

The Providence Patterns is heavily inlaid with Sterling Silver at all the wearing points. The base metal is nickel silver of highest quality. We recommend it highly for your consideration.

Tea Spoons, $5.00 Set

Silver Presents Wonderful Wedding Gift Opportunities