GENOA BURGLARIZED

TEN BUSINESS HOUSES ENTERED MONDAY MORNING

Thieves Make Good Their Escape with the Booty—Jas. Wyldé Heaviest Loser

A gang of bold, bad burglars burglarized Genoa in the early hours of Monday morning and in their trail left a bewildered and almost incredulous populace, so well was the work done.

The total amount stolen will probably foot up about $200. Following are the losers and the amounts, as near as each can estimate, of the amount taken:

C. A. Goding, saloon—$15 to $20 cash and Marlin rifle valued at $16.

Winters & Holroyd, meat market—Few pennies.

Jas. W. Wyldé, tailor shop—Diamond ring valued at $75 and $3 in cash.

J. P. Evans, restaurant—$23 in money.

Wm. Snow, saloon—$12 to $15 in money.

E. A. Sowers, & Co, billiard hall and cigar store—about $20.

F. W. Olmsted, dry goods—$5 in small change.

Geo. H. Hunt, pharmacy—between 3 and 4 dollars.

Wm. Schmidt & Son, blacksmith—chisels valued at $5.

It was evident from the perfect knowledge which the thieves had of the buildings and their contents that they were not strangers. Another strange fact is that although they had opportunities to carry away large quantities of valuable merchandise, not a thing other than the rifle was taken besides the cash. Another fact which shows that they had the places well spotted is that they entered no place where any one was sleeping in the same building. In every instance entrance was forced thru rear or side windows.

The cash till at Holroyd & Winter's market was broken open, but only a few pennies and some old coins rewarded the prowlers for their trouble. At Wyldé's place they had better luck, however, making the richest haul of the lot. The diamond ring and a few dollars were in the safe which was not locked. They seemed to know this, for had the combination knob been turned the fraction of an inch either way the tumbler would have dropped. Such was also the case at F. W. Olmsted's and E. A. Sowers. At the latter place the cash register was relieved of all the cash. While at the safe the burglars must have been frightened away for although they had the safe door open the money, eleven dollars, was not touched.

An attempt was made to enter Perkins & Rosenfield's store at the front door. This was not accomplished, but they were successful in ruining the lock. They then got into the east basement window and entered the store above by removing the door at the head of the stairs, removing it from the hinges. It was evident that an attempt was made to open the safe as the combination knob was blackened by smoke from a lighted match. Escapes were made thru the rear window. Two whips all that was taken from the store, and a hunting coat taken from Hunt's pharmacy were found in the ally north of Main street.

At this writing there is no clew that leads to even a suspicion.

There have been several rusty characters in the vicinity during the past week, but they afford no clew. In forcing open the windows the chisels stolen from Schmidt's shop were used, one of them being found broken in the alley.

Of course there was no excitement in Genoa that morning, but it afforded subject for conversation during the day.

The printing office was not entered for well the burglars knew that they would find nothing but a file of unpaid subscription accounts.

WOODSTOCK REDS

Champions of McHenry County Here Next Saturday.

The Woodstock Reds, champions of McHenry county, will meet Jack's Goats on the local diamond next Saturday, July 29. This will be a contest that should please the most exacting fan. The Goats have proven their ability to travel in fast company, having defeated Sycamore, Dundee, Kirkland, held DeKalb down to three runs and outclassed Hampshire. The Genoa boys are deserving of better support for they are doing all in their power to put up an entertaining game. Game will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock. Usual prices.

MERT UNION SUNDAY.

On Sunday, July 30, the Goats will cross bats with the Unions on the diamond at Hampshire. This will be a game well worth seeing. The Unions defeated Genoa on their own grounds by a small margin, but then, that was long ago. It is doubtful if they can do it again.

DEFEATED AT DE KALB.

But the Goats Make Their Opponents Go a Fast Pace.

The Goats were defeated at DeKalb last Sunday but while they came out second best they made the Barb City giants "step to the mustard" as they have not done before this season. It was a game that causes the fans to hold their breath. The score was 2 and 2 at the end of the ninth inning, but the DeKalbites managed to force one more over the home plate in the tenth. Both teams played well, making few errors. Ackerman devided honors about evenly with the DeKalb pitcher, neither one allowing many hits. Furr played a star game in left field, making two fine catches after long runs. The DeKalb Chronicle has the following to say regarding the game:

"It was one of the prettiest ball games to watch of the season, and it took ten long innings for our boys to win. The game was a tie after the fifth, and remained so until the winning run was made in the tenth. Only a few errors are charged against both teams. Heiter and Ackerman were on the firing line, and it kept them guessing what kind of a ball to throw, to hold them down, the support received was gilt edge."

Complete Surprise.

Mrs. S. S. Slater was the victim of a surprise last Thursday afternoon, and that which made the affair most enjoyable is the fact that it was a surprise in every sense. Mrs. Slater had not the least warning of the coming visitors. The plot was planned and carried out by the Ladies' Aid Society, nearly all the members being present with a few invited friends. The ladies had a good social time and fully enjoyed the dainty lunch which was served on the lawn.

His Hand Smashed.

In attempting to throw on a belt at the shoe factory last Friday Paul Stott met with injuries that will lay him off for some weeks. In some manner his left hand was caught between the pulley and the machine and crushed, breaking bones and cutting a deep gash.

FINISH SURVEY WORK

ELECTIC LINE LOCATED TO BELVIDERE FROM SYCAMORE.

Surveyors Drive Their Last Stakes in Main Street Wednesday—Construction Work Will Soon Begin.

The gang of surveyors under charge of Engineer Jackson finished their work here Wednesday, driving their last stakes in Main street. The electric line is now located from Aurora to Belvidere via Maple Park, Sycamore and Genoa. The line branches at Maple Park and one spur runs to DeKalb. Work of grading on that branch has already begun and unless the unexpected happens there will be a gang of graders on the Sycamore branch this week or next. From Sycamore to Genoa the line follows the west side of the highway, as near as possible in avoiding cuts and fills, and comes out at Mrs. Chamberlain's corner. It there takes a straight cut across the Illinois Central right of way, avoiding a grade crossing and enters Main street near Frank Scott's residence. The Milwaukee tracks are crossed at the foot of Main street. It has not yet been decided whether the tracks will be crossed at grade or whether it will be necessary to construct an overhead tressle. It depends on the action taken by the C. M. & St. P. company. From this point the line parallels the Illinois Central tracks to their junction with the Northwestern, thence following the Northwestern to the city limits of Belvidere where it crosses over.

GREAT DRAINAGE DITCH

Will be Constructed thru St. John and Gilkerson Farms.

The biggest job of draining ever attempted in this part of the county will be undertaken shortly north-east of Genoa.

The immense tracts of land owned by Messrs. Gilkerson, St. John and Simes will be the ones to be most benefitted. It is expected and in fact is an assured fact that hundreds of acres which are now nothing but worthless sloughs will be converted into tillable land.

The ditch will be about four miles long, sixteen feet wide and five feet deep. Work with a steam dredge will begin on the Simes farm, following the Coon creek bed as near as possible in a south-easterly direction.

NEW SIDE TRACK

Will be Built Soon on North Side of Milwaukee Tracks

A gang of railroad men will soon be in Genoa to put in a new side track east of the C. M. & St. P. depot on the north side of the right-of-way. It will be 4,000 feet long or about three-quarters of a mile, reaching from the east end of the Eureka Electric Co. property to the Perkins farm. This side track is intended for the accommodation of passing trains. It will take some time to finish the job as there is considerable filling to be done before the rails can be laid.

New Chapel Ready.

The chapel which has been fitted up over Jas. R. Kiernan's implement store will be ready for services next Sunday, July 30. Rev. Father Huth of Hampshire will officiate.

The room has been newly painted and papered thruout and will make a neat and comfortable place of worship. The door at the west side of the building leads to the stairs.

REV. REAM TO RETURN

IF MEMBERS OF GENOA CHURCH HAVE THEIR WISH.

Assistant Rev. J. E. DeLong Also Asked To Return Another Year at Quarterly Conference.

At the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Genoa charge held at Genoa on Saturday evening, July 15, Rev. T. E. Ream, pastor of the M. E. church for the past three years, and Rev. J. E. DeLong, assistant pastor for two years, were both asked to return for the coming conference year. The conference year of Rock River conferences will close with the last week of September and the new year begins with the first week of October.

Rev. Samuel Earney, presiding elder of Rockford district, was present at the quarterly conference as chairman and was highly gratified with the reports concerning the church and its work for the past year, and the manifest good feeling which prevailed.

REV. T. E. REAM

During the year there has been a good substantial growth in the church membership which shows a gain over all removals and loss by death of about thirty-five members.

Officers and committees were appointed for the coming conference year and a full list will be published later.

After a unanimous vote on the part of those present to ask for the return of both pastors for the coming year the conference further expressed its appreciation of their faithful, earnest work by the following resolution:

"Resolved, that as members of the Fourth Quarterly Conference of Genoa charge, we extend to Brothers Ream and DeLong our sincere thanks for their earnest endeavors and for the good work which they have accomplished during the past year."

After the resolution the conference adjourned.

Although the Fourth Quarterly Conference of Genoa charge has asked for the return of their pastors, there is never absolute certainty that any Methodist preacher will be returned to his old field of labor.

The Rock River Conference which meets the first week in October in the city of Freeport is however very much influenced by the vote of all local churches within the bounds of the Conference and there is general desire throughout the membership of the church here that both pastors will be returned.

Stop Milk Shipments

Dr. Behn, director of the city laboratories, of Chicago, yesterday visited several dairy farms near Elgin and stopped the shipments of milk on account of the disease known as anthrax. He found that a good many cows had died. Vaccination of several herds was ordered by the state veterinarian.

STOUT SHOTS A BEAR.

But Bruin Still Wears His Own Pelt and Stout Still Lives.

A sad story comes from the party of Genoa people up in the north woods, in which Prof. Stout and a big bear are the principal actors. Both are still living, however, and rejoicing in the fact, especially the bear. In a letter to Fred Marquart Geo. Johnson describes the event as follows:

"We got inside the door of the old camp and left the door open about six or eight inches, and about 30 feet from where we expected to see the bear. We had been there about 30 minutes when a big bear walked into the open. I had not taken the rifle because it was dark, but the moon had come out a little so we could see him every plainly. Well, Stout shot and the bear went straight up into the air and made a jump for the woods. Stout gave him the other barrel, but he disappeared and we failed to find him the next day."

If the people up north can not do better they had better send for Geo. Burbank. He is indignant to think that a Genoa representative would let a bear get away without at least trying a hand to hand conflict. Burbank will now have that aggravating bear meat taste in his mouth for six months.

Aside from the disappointment in losing Mr. Bruin the folks are having a fine time, having all that is needed to make their quarters comfortable.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Barney Geithman Struck by Scantling while unfolding Hay

While Barney Geithman and his son, Milton, were putting up hay in the barn on the farm last Thursday the former was struck on the jaw with a long scantling knocking him senseless.

When a fork full of hay was being hoisted into the mow the timber was torn from its fastenings and hurled across nearly the full length of the bent, striking Mr. Geithman full on the left side of the jaw. Milt was horrified when he saw the accident and fully expected that his father had been killed. Such would have been the result had the timber struck four inches higher.

The blow not only knocked Mr. Geithman down and out but left an ugly gash a ro s t e side of his face, required several stitches.

He was carried into the house in an unconscious state and medical aid summoned. He is able to be about, but his head is sore.

Dance Saturday Night.

A dance will be held at Crawford & Stott's hall Saturday evening of this week. Holtgren's orchestra will furnish the music. Tickets 75 cents. Everyone cordially invited.

"A CASE IN COURT."

TITLE OF BOOK WRITTEN BY REV. J. M. CORMACK.

Tells the Story of His Life and is an Attempt at Vindication for Kidnapping His Son—Over 100 Pages.

The Rev. Joseph M. Cormack, who made himself the subject of considerable newspaper notoriety some months ago by kidnapping his own son from the home of the boy's grandfather, Mr. Marshall, at Charter Grove, has written and published a book of 117 pages in which he gives his side of the case.

On the cover of the book is the following title: "A Case in Court." "An Attempt at Vindication by a refugee who is also a minister of the gospel." By Rev. Joseph Meeks Cormack, A. M., B. D., Membar of Rock River Conference.

The book sells for 50 cents. It is exhaustive in its description of the case, reproducing many letters which have passed between the parties interested and gives a short history of the author's early struggles during college life.

In concluding his book Rev. Cormack says:

"I have suffered excruciating torture for five years while my child has been held tantalizingly just out of my reach. A man hired to dog my foot steps in Wisconsin is said to have remarked as he handed out a five dollar bill for help, "I represent $300,000." The papers report Mr. Marshall as saying he is willing to spend all his money to rob me of my son. Can he be so willful?"

"I know that I have left out much in this sketch, I have tailed to be accurate but no doubt I have made not a few mistakes. I will be ready to acknowledge them and do my best to right anything that is wrong. While I have talked plainly for humanity's sake I will try to hold no grudge in my heart. I am bound to love all men and make the business of my life loving men because I believe God is love. I believe Mr. Marshall means well and others are to blame more than he for what I have suffered. I am for my son if to be so I must be against the whole world."

BROKE HIS ARM

Little Allan Patterson Falls from Pony and is Injured

Little Allen Patterson, son of J. A. Patterson, fell from a pony Monday afternoon dislocating the elbow and breaking the bones at the joint. It was a most painful injury, and it was necessary to put the boy under the influence of an anesthetic before the doctor could work over him.

Mr. Patterson had just purchased the pony for the boys and Allan had been having great fun during the day, for the animal was gentle as a kitten. While sitting on the pony's back in Wm. Schmidt's blacksmith shop he suddenly lost his balance and fell to the floor with his arm under him. Mr. Patterson carried him to Dr. Austin's office at once where the dislocation and fracture were reduced. The boy is now getting along nicely, showing more grit than many older persons could develop.

Isaac Gordan, a Belvidere boy, is riding a bicycle from San Francisco to Chicago, on a wager of $5,000 that he can make the trip in 15 days. He uses a railroad attachment on his bicycle enabling him to ride on the rails. By this method he covers 200 miles a day.

A contract has just been closed between Colonel Frank O. Lowden and contractor W. J. McAlpine of Dixon for the erection of a 30,000 residence to be built on the farmers farm in Ogle county. Work will begin within two weeks. The old homestead which has been very much improved and modernized, will be torn down and the new dwelling built on the old site.

MAGAZINE REVIEW

Tarkington's Story of Stage-Life

Booth Tarkington's experience with the dramatized "Monsieur Beaucaire" brought him into intimate contact with life behind the scenes. Out of stage world he has known comes the novel and stirring tale he contributes to McClurg's fiction number.

"The Property-Man" is Booth Tarkington at his best. The historical novel's wildest moments has no parallel for the thrill of Romeo's duel for life with the insane Tybalt, before the unconscious eyes of a packed house.

NOT ALL SMOOTH SAILING

Promoters of Elgin-Belvidere Line
Having their troubles

It was generally understood after the weeks of hustling on the part of the people of the proposed north and south routes of the Elgin-Belvidere line that right-of-way over the north route, was actually given free. Such is not the case, however, for the promoters have several condemnation suits on hand now, there being many property owners who are asking exorbitant prices, while there are others who demand pay for the land but are not inclined to be hogs.

HAPPENINGS IN PRAIRIE STATE

Items Prepared with Special Care for the Convenience of Our Own Readers.

Springfield, Ill., July 24.—With reference to the offer of Mrs. Logan to present to the state of Illinois her late husband's historical collection, while it will be necessary for the legislature to vote a formal acceptance of the collection, it is probable that provision will be made immediately for the location of the display in the capitol building. It is highly improbable that any objection will ever be offered to the acceptance of the gift and it will not be considered necessary to wait until the general assembly convenes before securing it and arranging it for exhibition before the public.

Some of the Items in the List.

The collection is an extensive one and includes several hundred articles, all of historic interest. Among them is the desk used by General Logan when he was a member of congress from Illinois. There are gifts from prominent individuals, societies and communities, among them a cabinet containing thirty-seven walking sticks, which were presented to the soldier-statesman at various times. An elaborate Mexican sombrero, the gift of the president of Mexico, memorials, resolutions, photographs, paintings and other historical articles are included in the lot.

Court Has the Custody, Says Stead.

Springfield, Ill., July 24.—Attorney General Stead has been called upon to settle a controversy that recently developed in Greene county over the custody of a will filed in the county court. According to Stead's interpretation of the law, neither the judge nor the clerk but the court itself has the custody of all records and files, and it is the court's duty to hold a will in custody and to be responsible for its safe keeping.

Clerk Can't Refuse a License.

Another decision by the attorney general is that any county clerk who refuses to issue hunters' licenses, under the provision of the Illinois game law, lays himself liable to prosecution under the criminal code of the state for neglect of duty and is liable to a fine not exceeding $10,000. Recently State Game Commissioner Wheeler was informed that Frank O. Welton, county clerk of Henry county, had refused to issue hunters' licenses. The commissioner applied to Attorney General Stead for an opinion on the law.

CONSOLIDATION OF COAL MINES

All Those on the Southern Railway Said to Have Been Combined by That Road.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 24.—A consolidation of all the coal mines on the Southern railway between East St. Louis and Centralia, Ill., which has been effected by a syndicate of Belleville and East St. Louis men, is said to presage the control of the soft coal supply at St. Louis. The mines which have been brought under one control along the Southern railway include the Muren mines at Belleville and New Baden, the Little Oak mine at Shiloh, owned by Dominic Miller and others, and the Maule mine at the same place, owned by John Maule and others.

The syndicate has issued bonds to the amount of $2,000,000. The output of the mines is about 60,000 tons daily. The number of mines purchased by the syndicate is twelve. The Southern railway is said to be behind the plan of consolidation. Options are said to have been obtained on forty mines in all.

Marriage Mixes Relations.

Charleston, Ill., July 25.—A marriage was celebrated in this city in which the "relations" have become considerably mixed. William Crim, age 27 years, and Mrs. Martha Cross, age 40 years, were the contracting parties. A brother of Crim, having previously married a daughter of Mrs. Cross, this makes William Crim father-in-law to his own brother, and the daughter will take on the new relationship of step-daughter to Crim and sister-in-law to her mother.

Jobs for Those Who Can Pass.

Chicago, July 25.—The United States civil service commission announces the following examinations to be held in Chicago: Clerk carrier, postoffice, Sept. 5; mate, quartermaster's department at large, Aug. 10; typewriter and translator, light-house service, San Juan, Porto Rico, Aug. 10; assistant steam engineer, Aug. 16; rodman, Panama canal service, Aug. 16 and 17.

Death of Dr. Norden.

Chicago, July 24.—News has reached Chicago that Representative Aaron Norden, who represented the fifth senatorial district in the last two legislatures, is dead of acute Bright's disease at Sturgeon Bay, Wis. He was a Jewish rabbi emeritus, and was a consistent and devoted friend of civil service reform.

Carlessness Causes Two Lives.

Goconda, Ill., July 25.—A man named Coles was killed and another employee fatally injured by a dynamite explosion in the Fairview mine. The accident was due to the neglect of the day shift to notify the night shift of a shot they had just put in before quitting work.

OUR FASHION LETTER.

Tunic Draperies Predicted For Fall Skirts

SWAGGER EMPIRE DUST COATS.

The Separate White Linen Skirt Is Both Useful and Pretty—Raspberry
Pink Is a New Summer Color.
Styles For the Young Folks.

There are decided signs abroad that in the fall tunic draperies will be seen on skirts. Both the circular, bell and umbrella skirts are to be the modish cuts Dame Fashion has in reserve. For this summer gowns the three and five gored skirt is most liked.

Experience, that very safe but often expensive teacher, has taught femininity that lingerie gowns for wear at the seashore are a snare and a delusion. They become bedraggled and straggly looking at the first breath of salt air. Consequently the wise woman will take with her this summer to the "shore" a supply of light and dark silk gowns. Radium, the new silk, is much used for these costumes, but the old chiffon tulle has by no means been set aside.

Over long, pointed bodices of the Louis period are to be seen empire dust coats. These short waisted coats are very swagger and becoming and in most instances are severely plain and tailored.

We will deplore this summer the passing from smart favor of the white or light shirt waist and dark skirt worn on the street. To be up to date a coat of some description is worn over the lingerie waist, one usually matching the skirt.

The gown in the cut is of dotted mull. The skirt is a charming example of the present mode, gathered at the waist and hanging in graceful folds all around. Billowy frills are set at intervals up the skirt. The principal feature of the bodice is the fichu edged with triple frills and drawn down tightly at the back to display a V shaped emplacement of lace corresponding with the vest in front. The fichu is carried over the bodice front and fastened at the left side.

LINEN SKIRTS.

The separate linen skirt is interesting in the feminine world these days. There is nothing quite as useful and pretty as this same white skirt. It is worn either with waist to match or with the ubiquitous lingerie blouse.

The most sensible way to make a white linen or duck skirt is with seven or nine gores. The seams are stitched flat about half an inch from the first stitching and the hem simply turned up nine inches and hemmed.

A smart way to vary the plain linen skirt is to leave the front board untrimmed and from this panel start directly above the hem three stitched bands of the material, extending around the rest of the widths.

NEW OXFORD TIE.

There is a new circular pattern which is being used for linen skirts that is said not to stretch out of shape.

Plaited linen skirts are very pretty until one sits down or they are sent to the laundry. But what comfort is there in a cotton gown that won't "tub" well?

A drossy effect is given a linen suit when the waist is made to accommodate a tiny chemisette attractively made of embroidery or lace. It is very small, scarcely more than a collar, and is easily adjusted. Fitted bands of linen trim the neck of the shirt waist.

The short skirts of the summer make pretty low shoes a necessity. The illustration shows the newest oxford carried out in dull leather. There is no tip, and the vamp and tongue are cut in one piece, which gives the foot a long, narrow effect. A wide ribbon runs through two large eyelets. The heels are of the Cuban style.

SMALL THINGS OF DRESS.

There's a new pink, a shade which hints of raspberry and lilac, that is as distinct among pinks as Alice blue is among the blues.

Silk petticoats are expensive and especially so in summer, when the moisture splits them. They are essential for those frocks, but in most cases every woman who can wears white wash skirts.

A rose pink linen gown is very pretty made with a seven gored box plaited skirt. The plaits are inverted and attached with white to the end of the corset. The waist is fashioned in small box plaits running from collar to belt, attached at edges back and front. A tiny chemisette running in a panel to the belt is fashioned of tucked linen batiste. The stock matched this and is unlined, boned at the sides and back end edged with narrow lace ruffling. The belt is of rose linen, fastened with a white mother-of-pearl buckle.

In linen suits white and colors are preferred to the natural shade. The latter is not modish this season. White, rose and pale violet are the three leading choices in linen suits for morning and afternoon wear.

Pretty little guimpe, voile and eolienne dresses are newer and smarter than the cloth coat and skirt suits. A charming dress of this kind is made of dark blue nun's veiling. The skirt is trimmed at the bottom with two groups of tucks and is plaited about the hips. The bodice, which blouses very slightly, is plaited from the shoulder and has a square cut out neck, around which is fitted a band of Saxe blue velvet, embroidered with darker shades of blue. The short puffed elbow sleeves are finished with a band of embroidered velvet, and this smart trimming also forms the waist belt. The chemisette and deep cuffs are of lace and lawn.

The attractive hat pictured is of white chip, trimmed with white lousine silk and black wings.

YOUNG GIRLS' FROCKS.

The young girl's small frock is as carefully planned and carried out as her mother's or sister's, but there must be a certain indescribable difference—a true essence of youthfulness.

The linen suit is especially adapted to the needs of the young girl. It is both serviceable and cool. The coats are built either on straight box lines or in short Eton jackets that show the dainty lingerie blouse beneath. The skirts may be tucked, plaited or plain, but no matter which style is selected the skirt must have the fashionable flare.

FROCK OF CHECKED VOILE.

Pongee gowns of the shirt waist order, either in natural color or a pretty pale shade, are very smart. These dresses when ecru are piped with a contrasting silk and trimmed with broderie anglaise collars and cuffs. A Scotch plaid piping is attractive; also an edging of black and white silk put close together, but perhaps this combination is too old.

The frock illustrated, designed for a girl of ten, is of blue and white checked voile. The skirt is trimmed at the bottom with three rows of velvet ribbon and is shirred about the waist. Shoulder collar and cuffs are of embroidery and valenciennes lace. The emplacement is of finely tucked batiste and embroidery. The sash of blue silk is finished with silk fringe.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Renovating Pillows After They Have Been Used In Illness.

After illness pillows should always be renovated. They seem to absorb and retain the breath to a great degree, so that an ordinary airing will not cleanse them.

They can be nicely renovated at home and without difficulty. Lay two supports across the sink, upon which lay the pillow. Over it pour boiling hot water, enough to soak it through and through. Let it drain until it stops dripping. Squeeze it a little if necessary. Open a newspaper so that it will be a little larger than the pillow and take several thicknesses.

Lay the paper on one end of the range and on it put the pillow. Over it put more paper, that the top may not cool overquickly. Turn it when the bottom seems dry. It will dry most quickly and will be puffed up as light as a feather. It is really renovated by steam, which is just what is done for you when you send it away to be cleaned.

If the pillow is soiled wash it just as you would wash anything else. Put it bodily, feathers and all, into the tub if necessary.

Care of Cooking Utensils.

Even the most unguily cooking utensils will look attractive in their place if they are properly cared for and cleaned, and the easiest way of managing this is to do it thoroughly after each time they are used. If grease is allowed to accumulate on them nothing will do but a good soaking in a strong solution of hot water and lye. After this they should be scraped inside and out and never allowed to get in that condition again. Not only is it ruinous to the pans themselves, but it spoils the taste of things cooked in them and takes twice as long to cook.

Sardine Sandwiches.

Use in bulk equal parts of yolk of hard boiled eggs rubbed to a smooth paste and the flesh of sardines freed from skin and bone and shredded with a silver fork. Season to taste with lemon juice and paprika and spread on thin slices of bread, buttered, or on crackers. If crackers be used, do not prepare the sandwiches until just before serving, lest the crackers lose their crispness. Garnish with slices of lemon and parsley.

Kitchen Hints.

Never allow fresh meat to remain in paper; it absorbs the juice. Never put salt into soup when cooking till it has been thoroughly skimmed, as salt prevents the scum from rising.

A tablespoonful of stewed tomato or tomato catchup added to the gravy of other roasts or fried meats improves it greatly.

If nutmegs are good, when picked with a pin oil will instantly ooze out.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Their financial responsibility is well known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States. No other medicine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription could possibly "win out," as the saying goes, on such a proposition. But they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

"I believe that I suffered from every disease that any overworked, run-down woman could," writes Mrs. Ida Martin, of Berry, Ky.; "was not able to do anything. Could not get one good night's sleep. Suffered from womanly trouble through change of life. Had a disordered liver and trouble with my heart. I suffered excruciating pain in breast and shoulders. Had no appetite. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and they did more for me than all the medical treatment that I have ever taken. All suffering women should take Dr. Pierce's medicines and be healed."

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; cloth binding 31 stamps.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Why He's Eating Out While His Wife Is In Europe.

"Hello!" exclaimed Hashley, meeting Bakerman in a restaurant at 7:30 a. m. "I thought you were going to cook your own breakfasts while your wife was in Europe. Come to think of it, you even invited me up to see what you could do in the way of a bachelor dinner."

"That's right," replied Bakerman gloomily, "but my plans have been upset, for the present at least. I shall have to wait until my wife reaches the other side, receives the letter I wrote to her last night and can find time to reply. You know what a careful, methodical woman she is. Well, she made out a list of everything in the house I should require while she was gone, told me where to find it and put the keys of all the cupboards I should be likely to use on a separate ring."

"Well?" asked Hashley, after a long pause.

"Then she carefully locked the cupboards, packed the list and the keys in her trunk and carried them away with her."—New York Press.

Frosting For Pound Cake.

Break into a bowl the white of one egg and turn in upon it a cup of sifted powdered sugar. Stir steadily until very white and smooth, beating as hard and as long as necessary. A few drops of lemon will accelerate the whitening process. A nice flavor, however, for the pound cake frosting is a few drops of the essence of bitter almond. Spread upon the cakes as soon as they are cool.

Damp Walls.

If you are troubled with a damp house wall, brush it well over, after first removing the paper, with the following mixture: A quarter of a pound of shellac dissolved in one quart of naphtha. Give the wall two or three coatings, letting it stay several hours between the applications. Then repaper and you will have no further trouble.

Laundering Table Linen.

Table linen in order to bring out the bright gloss that makes it attractive should be dampened quite considerably. Sprinkle the tablecloths freely, being sure that the selva ends or hemstitched borders are thoroughly damp. Roll up tightly, patting the roll frequently to spread the dampness.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewry of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.

To Clean the Silver.

A most satisfactory way of cleaning silver is to rub the article all over with alcohol and rub with dry silver polish applied with a piece of soft cloth, old damask, or a silver brush when the pieces are ornamented. Polish with old, clean damask and finally with chamois.

For Inflamed Eyes.

If the eyes are strained and inflamed with sleeplessness or fine work apply to the lids soft linen wrung out in boiling water. Use this as hot as can be borne, and relief will be felt in half an hour.

To Polish Fire Irons.

Rusty fire irons should be first rubbed with a cloth saturated with olive oil, left till next day and then rubbed with unslaked lime.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.

I want to sell a residence, well located, fit to live in and at a price that is right. If you want to buy, call and investigate.

Quebec's Military Works.

The Dominion government is about to enter upon the construction of gigantic military works in the city and district of Quebec. The old citadel is to be overhauled and the three forts at Point Levis and big guns put on all of them. At Beaumont, nine miles from the city, on the south shore, two large fortresses are to be constructed, commanding a full view of the channels up and down the river and costing about $8,000,000. When they are done Quebec can go to sleep at night with an added sense of security, though it is a question whether it will be a bit safer than it is now and has been ever since Wolfe and Montcalm for the time being settled its status on the heights of Abraham.—New York Tribune.

Don't Bawl Your Germs.

Dr. A. Charrin, a distinguished French savant, fed two groups of guinea pigs on carrots. One group took the vegetable after it had been sterilized by boiling and all germs thus destroyed and the other after it had been sprinkled over with dust or with the soil in which the carrots had been grown. Of seventeen subjects in the first group twelve died before those in the second, and the investigation showed that the total absence of germs in the sterilized food impaired the digestion and lowered the assimilative power of the animals. Only five altogether were lost of the group fed on the germ containing food.—Springfield Republican.

ELECTRIC HEATING.

The art of electrical heating is well developed, though the use of these appliances for heating rooms and cooking is not as great as could be desired. The fault here lies not in the heaters themselves, but in the fact that in generating electrical energy from coal great losses take place. The method is roundabout, and the only system available today is unfortunately inefficient. First we burn the coal and transfer as much as possible of the heat developed by this process to water. The steam thus generated is then passed to some type of engine. The engine drives an electric generator, which in turn develops an electric current. This current must then be transmitted through conducting wires to the point where it is to be utilized, where its energy is reconverted into heat. At every step, except the last, losses take place, not so much due to our apparatus as to the system itself.—Electrical Review.

A Loss to the Capitol.

A writer in the Scientific American says that the famous whispering gallery in the capitol at Washington has unintentionally been destroyed by the replacing of the old painted wooden ceiling with one composed of plaster supported on iron and covered with coffering in relief. On the old ceiling the coffering was simply indicated by painted lines and shadows, which did not interfere with the reflection of the sound waves. But the raised work does interfere, especially with the sounds of a whisper, which are of short wave length. Before the changes this whispering gallery, which was formed by the dome of the capitol, of representatives, senators, and popular attractions, was one of the most popular attractions of the capitol.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

The Crafty Father and the Result of a Talk With His Son.

"I'll have to run downtown tomorrow afternoon to do some shopping," sighed Mrs. Squiggins, "and I hate to leave Freddy out to play without keeping my eye on him. I'm sure that he's only waiting for a chance to run off and go swimming in the river."

"Don't worry, my dear," said Squiggins, looking up from his paper with a crafty smile. "Just call Willie in here and let me have a talk with him."

"Now, Willie," said the father when his son appeared, "your mother is going to leave you to yourself tomorrow, and you will have to go swimming."

The boy looked incredulous. "Don't try to get out of it now. You simply must! The doctor has ordered that you go swimming and take lots of hard work like that for your health. He says it's just the same as medicine."

And as Freddy ran out of the room crying and protesting against this new medicine Squiggins smiled exultantly at his knowledge of a small boy's nature. — New York Press.

Taking.

"Be a little more careful when you dine this time, sir," warned the hotel proprietor.

"Careful?" repeated the offended guest. "Why, I would have you understand that I have the most taking table manners of any man that ever stopped at this hotel."

"That is why I spoke, sir. I notice that you took the napkin rings and finger bowls every time you left the dining room." — Boston Transcript.

He—How awfully mannish she is!

She—Isn't she, though?

He—Yes, and the funny part of it is that she thinks people admire her for being that way. I should think she'd realize that people are only laughing at her.

She—Well, she's mannish even to that extent. — Philadelphia Press.

A Distinction.

"What is the difference between a practical and a theoretical farmer?"
"A theoretical farmer," answered Farmer Cornstossel, "is one that insists on tryin' to make a livin' off the farm, an' a practical one jes' faces the inevitable an' turns the place over to summer boarders." — Washington Star.

Hunting.

Mrs. Bacon—Did you ever do any hunting in a jungle?

Mr. Bacon—In a jungle?

"Yes; where everything is covered up."

"Oh, you know I've hunted in that bottom bureau drawer more than once!" — Yonkers Statesman.

Took No Chances.

He—If you loved me, why did you, at first, refuse me?

She—I wanted to see how you would act.

He—But I might have rushed off without waiting for an explanation.

She—I had the door locked. — New York Weekly.

The Creditor's Disappointment.

"Did Brown tell you goodbye?"
"Great Scott, no! He hasn't left town?"

"Yes. He told me he intended to settle in the west."

"But look here, man—he went away without settling in the east." — Cleveland Leader.

Bosh—Blanket stammers frightfully, but there's one time when he never hesitates.

Josh—When's that?

Bosh—When he comes for the rent. He's our landlord. — Detroit Free Press.

FISH IN DEATH FIGHT.

A crowd of people recently witnessed a fight to death between two black bass in an aquarium in the show window of a store at Peru, Ind.

A male bass weighing two pounds attacked another one that weighed two and a half pounds and finally killed it. The male bass made a nest in the aquarium and when the other fish came near the fight began. The water fairly boiled, with the fish darting hither and thither, and inside of ten minutes every fin and the tail of the larger bass were torn off by the smaller one.

After that the smaller fish frequently caught the larger one in its mouth and broke its bones. In a short time the cripple turned over and died. This is the third bass that has been killed by the two pound fish. — Indianapolis Star.

King and Journalist.

King Umberto once exclaimed, "Were I not a king I should like to be a journalist." The ruler of Montenegro is both king and journalist. Professor Tomanowitch is the nominal editor of the Glas Zernagora, the leading newspaper in the country, but in reality the king is responsible for the editorial articles. He has also written books, including two volumes of lyric poems. Several dramas from his pen have been performed. He is extremely liberal in his views and tries to be just toward all of his subjects, including the Turks. On one occasion when a Turk complained that he had been insulted because of his nationality and religion the king summoned the offenders and read to them a poem in which the achievements of the Turks are extolled.

Old Mother Nature, M. D.

After careful study the New York health department announces that the most efficient remedy in cases of "spotted fever" is fresh air. It is curious to note the slow, steady progress of the medical profession toward reluctant belief in natural remedies. There is some ground for hope that our doctors may some day approach the system of the Chinese practitioners. In China, as you may recall, the doctor is paid as long as his client is well. When the client becomes a patient the pay is stopped and is not resumed until he is well again.

Doctors ought to be preventers, not curers; advocates of fresh air and simple diet and regular sleep and exercise, not of drugs and incantations. — Saturday Evening Post.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

The Food Value of a Soda Cracker

You have heard that some foods furnish fat, other foods make muscle, and still others are tissue building and heat forming.

You know that most foods have one or more of these elements, but do you know that no food contains them all in such properly balanced proportions as a good soda cracker?

The United States Government report shows that soda crackers contain less water, are richer in the muscle and fat elements, and have a much higher per cent of the tissue building and heat forming properties than any article of food made from flour.

That is why Uneda Biscuit should form an important part of every meal. They represent the superlative of the soda cracker, all their goodness and nourishment being brought from the oven to you in a package that is proof against air, moisture and dust—the price being too small to mention.
