

DEKALB PEOPLE TO THE RESCUE

Emulate the Kindness of the Good Samaritan in Helping a Tourist

EX-SERVICE MAN WAS DESTITUTE

People Repair Car, Subscribe Money and Send Food to the Wayfarer at Camp Grounds

The following story appeared in the DeKalb Chronicle of August 2. It speaks well for DeKalb people, for no greater virtue can be exhibited than that of emulating the act of the Good Samaritan:

We have not forgotten!

Such was the sentiment expressed in DeKalb last night and this morning following the news article in last evening's Chronicle in which it told of an ex-service man, who, with his wife, was in destitute circumstances at Annie's Woods.

So strong was the sentiment that several people started out last night to see what could be done to aid the stricken ex-soldier and his wife, Geo. Deane and Tom Shackleton put their heads together and arranged matters whereby the man's automobile might be repaired. It was necessary to take the axle from the car and get a new part turned out at the Creamery Package company, and this was given attention the first thing in the morning.

Previous to the finding of the man yesterday by ex-servicemen and a Chronicle reporter, a camping party journeying from Providence, R. I., to Los Angeles had discovered their plight and had assisted them in a number of ways. The Rhode Island people, P. J. Burke and Andrew Rafferty, removed the canvas partition from their large tent and tendered it to O'Kane, that he and his wife might be protected somewhat from the elements. The Rhode Island folks realized their tourist friends were in need, and did what was in their power to help.

During the forenoon today both men came to The Chronicle office and each left $1.00 to go towards the relief fund. In addition to this money The Chronicle force among the majority of its workers, in five minutes' time had $10.75. At the meeting of the Odd Fellows last night a $10 donation was voted and with the American Legion's $10 yesterday a start of $30 was on hand this morning.

This was not all the help that was forthcoming voluntarily during the day. Dr. H. Clay Schreck was one of the first men to go to the woods in the morning and in shaking hands with the man slipped him a $5 bill as did his father, who is from Mario, Ohio, and his guest at this time, W. B. Fritz gave the man a $20 bill that evidently had not been in circulation long. Mrs. G. H. Deane then took a paper down the street and secured nearly $50 for the man, while orders were given for the Red Cross to furnish some clothing for him and his wife. Lon Smith was also one of the early ones to investigate the man's case last night, and this morning the butcher took several pounds of steaks and cold meat down to the camping grounds. To warm the two tourists up in good shape at noon today Mrs. Deane cooked up a hot dinner and sent it over to the woods.

People who have not come in contact with the man and his wife at the woods cannot realize the circumstances these two people were in. O'Kane stated that when he was discharged from the service he went after his old position on the railroad again, but it was refused him. He had been gassed and his lungs were bad. The woman is crippled to such an extent that it is difficult for her to walk, but she manages very well.

When seen this morning, O'Kane asked what had happened in the city over night, or was he in some sort of a trance. He could not express appreciation for the many little things that had been done for him since late Monday afternoon.

About the first thing that was given attention was the matter of a tent for the two after they had refused to come to a hotel last night upon the invitation of Fire Chief McEvoy and Officer Seelye. Mr. Bemis took an old tent he had lying idle and put it up, and with a bale of straw that James Covne sent down early after dinner, the two were fixed rather comfortable again.

FARMER CUSS'D GIRL

Company Removes Phone and Case Taken to Commission

An apparent locking of horns between the Winnebago County Telephone company and the State Utility Commission has developed as a result of a cuss word by an irate patron of the telephone company.

Adam Cannell, a Burrill farmer, is the "I. p." referred to and he feels that he was justified in his use of the forbidden word.

Mrs. Cannell was expecting a visit from the stork a few weeks ago and a nurse was in attendance at the Cannell home. One day the nurse became convinced that the presence of a physician was needed and she stepped to the phone to summon a doctor from Rockford.

Repeated efforts to get in touch with "Central" failed to bring a response when Mr. Cannell reached the home at this psychological moment. He was informed as to the situation and he took down the receiver.

To his agreeable surprise he secured an immediate response and called for connection with Rockford.

"I don't know whether I will give you Rockford or not," is reported to have been the reply of "Central."

Mr. Cannell was not in the mood to argue the matter nor did he figure that he had time to inquire into the reason for the position taken by the operator at the other end of the line.

"Connect me with Rockford as this is an emergency case," is said to have been his stern demand and it was met with the announcement that the operator was not certain whether she would comply with the order and with the advice for central to take her telephone line to an even hotter place than 100 in the shade in Winnebago, the prospective father slammed the receiver back into its place and brought his Ford into action with the determination to get a doctor first and settle the telephone argument later.

The next day the telephone, receiver and all was removed from the Cannell home by a representative of the telephone company and Mr. Cannell took his grievance before the State Utility Commission. An agent of that body investigated the incident which led up to the removal of the phone. He evidently concluded that Mr. Cannell was justified in the use of the cussword charged to him and at the use of which the telephone operator took umbrage because he is said to have ordered the telephone company to restore the telephone at the Cannell home within five days.

The five days expired several days ago and the Cannell farm home is still without telephone connection with the outside world and the next move is awaited with community interest. It is understood that "Central" insists on an apology from Mr. Cannell before restoring the phone and Mr. Cannell insists that the apology if any, is due to him instead.

And thus the situation stood at last accounts.

SLOW UP AT HINCKLEY
Mayor Bauder of Hinckley has issued the following warning to auto drivers: "Drive fast and view the jail. Drive slow and view the beauties of the city. Drive slow and keep to the right" will be strictly enforced."

themselves to see that his roadster is overhauled in good shape before he goes on his way, and O'Kane said today under present conditions he was going to make straight for Arizona.

"DeKalb people have given me a chance. I didn't think I had a chance yesterday, but I can always say that DeKalb people have not forgotten, though a man had been made to suffer through no fault of his own. I would have been able to get nearly to my destination if the accident to my car had not happened. But having little money, I did not know what was going to happen when the $2.11 I had yesterday afternoon was gone."

THIS WAS NEWS IN THE YEAR 1901

Sixty one People Join M. E. Church on Probation

GENOA BRICK $5.00 THOUSAND
Twenty Lasters at the Shoe Factory Walk Out—Corn Crop Saved

The following items were gleaned from columns of the Genoa Journal of August 2, 1901:
Dr. Austin has a phone in his office now.
At the M. E. Church last Sunday morning eight united by letter and sixty-one on probation. This is a partial result of the meetings conducted by Billy Sunday.

Reg Oaks and family moved to Rockford Tuesday.
Charlie Duval lost a valuable horse Monday from lockjaw.
(History repeats) Saturday and Sunday rains were the solution of the corn crop. There are only a few pieces that will not produce a fair yield.

Stock holders of the Farmers State Bank met and organized by electing the following officers: Geo. W. Buck, President; S. H. Stiles, Vice President; E. H. Cochran, cashier.
Merritt & Prain have moved into their new livery barn. (Now Duval & Awe Garage.)
Butler sold at 20 cents on the Elgin board of trade Monday.

The Genoa Brick Yard is selling brick at $5.00 and $6.00 per thousand.
An eighty-acre farm sold for $31.63 an acre in Charter Grove.
Twenty lasters walked out at the shoe factory last week, on account of a change attempted by the superintendent, Mr. Daven.

In announcing the third annual Old Settlers' Picnic at Kingston, the following officers were mentioned (most of whom have passed on): M. W. Cole president; John Taylor, vice-president; A. E. Hix, secretary; D. B. Arbuckle, treasurer. On the committee were I. A. McCollom, H. M. Stark, Stuart Sherman, D. C. Wyllys, Wm. Watson, L. C. Shaffer, B. F. Updegraff, A. W. Dibble, Wm. Aves.

Mrs. Florence Cre was a Genoa visitor a few days recently.
J. G. Sager and W. H. Sager are attending the exposition at Buffalo.

H. A. Kellogg has purchased the corner lot owned by J. J. Hammond, at the corner of Jackson and Genoa streets, and will erect a handsome residence. (Now owned by Mrs. Emma Corson.)
A. B. Shattuck made a flying trip to Hampshire Wednesday. (No automobiles, no airplanes then—if they called it a "flying trip" then, what is the name for it now?)
The Union Pacific Railroad, in lessening the distance to the Pacific coast, accomplishes one of the greatest engineering feats of modern times.

The total registration at El Reno for lands in the Kiowa reservation was 167,000.
The top market prices August 2, 1901: wheat 70½c, corn 55½c, oats 39c, timothy 16c, steers $5.85, feeders $3.80, hogs $5.85, cheese 10½c, eggs 10½c, potatoes $1.25, hens 7½c, ducks 8c, geese 7c, spring chickens 12½c.

MORE BRYAN MONEY
Government Again Turning Out Big Silver Dollars

Coinage of silver dollars has been resumed by the mint in Washington, D. C. after a lapse of seventeen years, and the work of replacing 270,000,000 standard silver dollars taken from the treasury during the war to sell to Great Britain has been begun.
Since late in March, treasury officials say, approximately 20,000,000 silver dollars have been coined. In the same period corresponding sums of silver certificates were issued and federal reserve notes and treasury certificates securing them retired.

This process, officials said, would probably continue for the next five years, until the treasury's reserve of silver dollars is back to its pre-war basis.

The children of St. Catherine's parish will enjoy a picnic at Kingston park on Saturday of this week. All the children are invited to attend. There will be heaps of fun and good things to eat.

BIG PLANT CLOSES

Rockford Suffers Severe Blow in Closing of Implement Factory

Emmerson-Brantingham company will shut down tonight for its inventory season and will be closed thru the month of August. Whether the big concern will resume in September depends upon the condition of trade, Charles S. Brantingham said today.
The Emmerson-Brantingham company has been operating fifty per cent force on about sixty per cent time although other concerns in that line have been shut down, some for as long as two months.
"We hope to be able to resume operations when the inventory season ends but trade conditions at present are not promising," said Mr. Brantingham. "The farmer was hit hard by the business slump and this naturally affected the farm implement manufacturing business. We have tried hard to keep our employees at work part of the time and have succeeded much better than many others in the same field. It is hard to say now just what the fall conditions will be."
The company posted the following notice to employees:
"For the purpose of taking an inventory their works will close on the evening of July 28 and remain closed throughout August and until such time as trade conditions will justify resumption of operations of which ample notice will be given.
"It is a matter of deep regret on the part of this company that conditions of trade make it necessary for the works to remain closed for a longer period than usual, but work will be resumed just as soon as business conditions will warrant."

OPEN WAR PROBABLE
Members of Milk Producers Association are Sore
The Elgin News says that there are indications of the opening of war on the farmer who is not a member of the Milk Producers' association and the Co-operative Marketing company.
Elburn and Sycamore members of the marketing company Monday sent their supply of milk to St. Charles, where the marketing company has a condensing plant. They refused to sell their milk, they said, to companies that purchase milk also from farmers that do not join the farmers' organization.
Two factories are affected, Borden's plant at Sycamore and Bowman's plant at Elburn failed to receive their usual supply of milk from 170 members of the association. One-fourth of their supply, however, from the non-members of the association and marketing company was received as usual.

The war against the non-member is being conducted by locals independently and not by the district office of the association at Chicago, it was stated by officers. Altho it is generally understood that numerous other plants are to be affected as at Elburn, and Sycamore the matter is up to local committees and officers.
Willard Elliott, prominent Elburn farmer and member of the marketing company, stated that producers in his vicinity who are members of the marketing company number about seventy-five per cent.

CRUSHED TO DEATH
Harvard Farmer Killed on Seat of Tractor

Lant Stevens, 57 years old, was crushed to death last Wednesday shortly before the noon hour on his farm five miles northwest of Harvard on what is best known as the former Fred Ridge farm. Mr. Stevens and his stepsons and several neighbors were engaged in threshing oats when the fatality took place.
The grain separator was stationed on an incline that led to the barn, thus holding it in place. The barn had been filled with straw and it was necessary to move the machine to another point of operation.
Mr. Stevens backed his tractor in position to attach the tongue of the separator to the tractor, but before a connection could be made the blocks were taken from the separator wheels and the machine ran toward the tractor on the seat of which Mr. Stevens was directing its course. In an instant the extension feed board struck him with such force as to crush him against the steering wheel which was bent out of place.

FOX HAS A WINNER
Sycamore Cattle Breeder Gives Out Interesting Figures

The five year old cow, Jomo Marie Cornucopia 387466, owned by George A. Fox of Sycamore, president of the Holstein-Friesian association, has just completed a second yearly record, making just under 1,100 pounds of butter and 27,000 pounds of milk in 365 days. She also holds the state record as a senior three-year-old and is credited in their class with 1008.3 butter and 24670.3 milk in 365 days.

Her sire is B. & H. King of Butter Kings, a son of King of Butter Kings. Her dam is a grandmother of the Aggie Cornucopia Johanna Lad. Her five nearest sires have exactly 200 A. R. O. daughters. This cow has a seven day record as a senior three of 30.73 pounds of butter and 576.2 milk. She was purchased from Lisle Farm, Lisle, Ill., in the Illinois Guaranty sale in 1920. Her last calf was a bull, a half interest in which Mr. Fox sold to E. R. Dirksen, Meekin, La., for $1,500.
The average milk production per cow in Illinois is about 5,000 pounds annually. This cow produced more than five such cows. The profit above feed on the average cow does not exceed $20 annually. Supposing this cow required twice as much feed as the average cow she made as much profit above feed cost as 19 average cows. Only one cow to feed and milk. This does not take into consideration the value of her calves.

GOES INTO DITCH
Absence of Tail Light Causes Accident on DeKalb Road

DeKalb Chronicle: Because an automobile bearing the license number of 169,370, which according to the state records, belongs to Arthur Hackman, route No. 3, Genoa, carried no tail light, Herman Hammerich, accompanied by his sister and family had to take a ditch on Sycamore road Sunday night to avoid hitting the Genoa car. Fortunately for Hammerich he was able to keep his car right side up, although there was considerable damage done to the machine.
Hammerich stated he was returning from Sycamore and the pavement was one long line of cars, some with glaring headlights and others with dimmed lights. He had dimmed his lights upon meeting cars and was running with his dim lights when suddenly the car without a tail light loomed up in front of him, less than ten feet away.
He applied his brake, and turned his car toward the ditch to avoid hitting the car ahead of him, and in doing so, prevented the accident, but badly damaging his car. The wishbone was broken, fenders badly damaged and other parts broken necessitating considerable outlay in the way of a repair bill.

Had the Genoa man ahead of him been burning a tail light as the state auto law requires, the accident could have been averted easily. However, Hammerich is thankful today that his car did not tip over and that no one was hurt in the mixup.

ROBERT FURR IN HOSPITAL

Badly Injured While Assisting Officer in Making Arrest

HIP DISLOCATED—OTHER INJURIES
Warren Wilson of Kingston Escapes Arrest Temporarily When Furr Was Injured

Robert Furr of Genoa lies in the Sycamore hospital suffering great pain as the result of injuries received Wednesday evening in assisting Officer Crawford in an attempted arrest of Warren Wilson of Kingston.
Mr. Furr received first aid at the city hall, where it was found that the main injury was a dislocated hip. This was adjusted by Dr. Ovitz after the victim was placed under the influence of an anesthetic, at the city hall. Mr. Furr was later taken to the hospital. He is suffering with pains in the back, and it may develop that there are other serious injuries. The right knee was badly bruised, but it is not known at the time of going to press whether any bones are broken. Until placed under the influence of the anesthetic and the hip adjusted Mr. Furr suffered excruciating pain and the temper of the crowd that had gathered was not altogether sweet at the time, indignation running high.

Crowds Auto from Road
Complaint was made against the farmer by William F. Pagel and party of Sycamore, Mr. Pagel being president of the Turner Brass Works. He states that while he was driving on the highway between the bridges west of Genoa, he met a wagon loaded with hogs, the driver being reckless. Mr. Pagel had some difficulty in passing the wagon and upon his arrival in Genoa reported the case to officer Crawford. The officer accosted the wagon driver when he reached the stock yards. He came abusive and resisted any interference, finally getting away and driving rapidly out of town. Officer Crawford then deputized Mr. Furr and followed by the Pagel party in machines, followed the wagon which was overtaken near the Robinson farm, north of the river bridges. Crawford and Furr then attempted to stop the team, but the latter either failed to grasp the bit or lost his grip. He was struck by the swaying wagon and knocked to the ground with the results as stated above. Mr. Crawford had previous to this ordered the driver of the wagon to stop, without result. When he saw Mr. Furr fall he shot into the air a few times in an attempt to intimidate, but the wagon continued on its way. The pursuers then gave their attention to the injured man. He was placed in the Pagel car and brought to Genoa.

Warren Wilson, the driver of the wagon, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving this afternoon and brought before Judge Stott. On motion of the defendant the case was continued until Wednesday, Aug. 11, at ten o'clock. Wilson was released on bond of $1,000.00, signed by himself and son.

BARN EXPLODES
Roof Blown Off and Structure Burns Quickly

The barn on the Mark Hall farm northeast of Belvidere in the Rush creek district, together with two silos, corn crib, granary and hog house, was totally destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. A terrific explosion, which blew the roof of the barn occurred at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and almost instantly the structure was a mass of flames. The barn was one of the largest in this section of the country. Forty tons of hay were destroyed in the blaze and a horse and calf were burned to death. Geo. Crocker is the tenant on the Hall farm. Insurance to the amount of $10,000 was carried in the Continental company.

DEAD RIGHT OR WRONG

"Why do you turn out for every road hog that comes along?" asked the missus rather crossly. "The right of way is yours, isn't it?" "Oh, undoubtedly!" answered he calmly. "As for our turning out, the reason is plainly suggested in this epitaph which appeared in a newspaper recently: 'Here lies the body of WILLIAM JAY, who died maintaining his right of way; he was right, dead right, as he sped along, but he's just as dead as if he'd been wrong.'"

EXCURSION TICKETS TO CHICAGO

The Ill. Central will sell round trip tickets to Chicago at one and one-half fare, ($3.50 includes war tax) tickets on sale daily commencing Saturday Aug. 6, to and including Aug. 12. Good for return 5 days from date of sale but not to exceed Aug. 16—Advertisement.

Western Canada Farmers Rejoice Over Bountiful Harvest.

Favorable Weather and Fertile Land Combine to Pour Riches Into the Hands of Agriculturists.

There are those in nearly every state in the Union who have relatives or friends, or someone they have known, who are residents of some of the provinces of Western Canada. They have gone there to carry on the profession and occupation of farming. Their progress has been carefully watched and such news as may come from them or the country that they have taken partial possession of will be read with interest. Important news just now is the condition of the crops. Newspaper correspondents and government representatives are now in a position, after making a careful survey of conditions, to announce the crop conditions in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta carry the promise of an early and bountiful harvest and farmers view the outlook with utmost pleasure. Good growing weather has prevailed since seeding and all cereal crops are well advanced. Wheat headed out long, heavy heads, and big yields are indicated; predictions are being made that the record production per acre in 1915 will be exceeded. Harvesting began in some sections in the early part of August. An interesting feature of the situation is the fact that there are no bad reports from any part of the country from the Red river to the Rocky mountains and from the International boundary to Peace river. There will also be good fruit, vegetable and root crops.

Most remarkable has been the germination of most of the grain. Marquis wheat sown on May 11 was fully headed out on June 30.

Considerable advancement has taken place in the last few years in the growing of corn. Sunflowers are also being grown quite extensively. Both these do wonderfully well. On July 4 the writer was shown a twenty-acre field of corn that had reached a height of upwards of five feet, while a five-acre field of sunflowers close by, was entering for a keen race skyward. Both will doubtless be used for ensilage, to which will be added a splendid crop of alfalfa or sweet clover, which also have proved very successful. Now that corn, sunflowers, sweet clover and alfalfa have taken a liking to the country, it will mean a period of reconstruction in many farming districts, and mixed farming will supersede the period of "grain mining" that, no matter how fertile the soil, no matter how generous it may be in giving forth from its great storehouse of all the properties that have given to Western Canada its well-earned name of the wheat granary of the world, too much may be asked of it; the departure from this into the sphere of more intensive farming, covering many generalities not before indulged in, will add dollars to the value of this productive land. Those who have watched the progress of Western Canada, have been looking for the day when corn and such like can be grown successfully. It has now arrived.

The cattle and dairy industry will be given an impulse that will attract those who have been wedded to this kind of farm life, while none of the interest that may be taken by the grain grower will be lessened. Already there is an influence following the fact that corn and sunflowers can be grown, that is leading to the erection of silos in many parts of the country, all indicating a growing satisfaction as to the great future that lies before it. Due chiefly to the drop in costs of materials and wages, farmers throughout the prairie provinces are erecting many buildings this year, says the editor and manager of the Prairie Lumberman, who was a visitor to Vancouver a few days ago. A campaign is under way among the retail lumbermen and farmers, urging the erection of 2,000 silos this year, and this is meeting with success, more plans and specifications having been prepared and more structures being under way probably than at any other time in the history of the West.—Advertisement.

HAVE NEED OF MUCH FOOD

Voracious Appetites of Growing Boys Are Natural and Not to Be Wondered At.

Dr. E. F. Du Bois made extensive studies a few years ago on the food requirements of growing boys, and found that they needed about 25 per cent more than grown men, weight for weight. Now Drs. F. G. Benedict and Mary F. Hendry have made similar studies on girls between twelve and seventeen years of age. These correspond in their results with those made by Dr. Du Bois.

The Journal of the American Medical Association comments that, considered in connection with the usually lively muscular activities of children, which call for liberal expenditure of energy, the facts ascertained explain and justify the large appetites of growing boys.

The administration bill for financing agricultural exports was sidetracked in the senate at Washington because of the illness of Senator Norris of Nebraska.

Administration officials at Washington are firm in their opposition to a preliminary conference, since it could not be participated in by all the powers invited to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments and Pacific and Far Eastern problems.

Lord Northcliffe has been boycotted by the British embassy at Washington which, acting presumably under instructions from London, cancelled a dinner for him and has withheld from him all recognition during his stay in Washington.

Acceptance by Japan Makes Way Clear for the Conference in Washington

SILESIA CRISIS PASSING

France and Britain Reach Agreement and Germany Is Warned—Harding's Plan for Financial Relief of Railroads, Farmers and Cattle Raisers.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

With a mind not yet quite at ease in the matter, Japan has sent word that she will accept President Harding's invitation to the Washington conference to discuss limitation of armaments and questions of the Pacific and the Far-East. But this is to be with certain reservations. These are expressed in the closing part of Tokyo's latest note to Washington, which reads:

"The Japanese government have been made aware through the communications and the published statement of the American government and the conversations between the secretary of state and Baron Shidehara that the proposition of the American government to discuss the Pacific and Far Eastern problems is based on the close bearing they may have on the question of limitation of armaments, which is the original and principal aim of the conference, and that, therefore, the main object of discussing these problems is to reach a common understanding in regard to general principles and policies in the Pacific and Far East.

"In order to insure the success of the conference, the Japanese government deem it advisable that the agenda thereof should be arranged in accordance with the main object of the discussions as above defined, and that introduction therein of problems such as are of sole concern to certain particular powers, or such matters as may be regarded as accomplished facts, should be scrupulously avoided."

Of course, among what Japan considers "accomplished facts" are thecession of Shantung to Japan and the Yap mandate. But our State department is confident the Japanese can be satisfied in the drawing up of the agenda for the conference, and therefore is now preparing the formal invitations to the powers.

There is a chance that some of the British dominions, which consider themselves full-fledged nations in most respects, will kick up a little trouble because the British empire is to be represented as a unit, with only one vote. Australia already is walling that she is entitled to a vote as a nation on the Pacific problems. Probably New Zealand, and possibly Canada, feel the same way. Rene Viviani and Albert Sarraut, minister of colonies, are to represent France at the conference; and Premier Briand also may come.

No decided opposition to holding the conference in Washington has developed, but the date of its opening remains to be settled. The United States tentatively mentioned November 11, Armistice day, because it would be sentimentally suitable, but again the British dominions protest. Many of their legislative bodies are in session during the fall months, and as their premiers wish to be present at the conference, they are urging that a later date be selected for its assembling. It may be they can be satisfied by preliminary informal consultations between Pacific powers which will enable them to put their views on record.

Through mutual concessions—France yielding the most—Great Britain and France have reached an understanding on the Upper Silesian question, and the threatened break in the entente will not occur just yet, anyhow. France abandoned her intention of sending immediate reinforcements to the Silesian garrison and agreed to a meeting of the inter-allied supreme council in Paris August 4. But she insisted the question of strengthening the allied forces in the region must first be settled, and also warned the British that any hostile act against the French troops or the Poles in the disputed area would result in the immediate occupation of the Ruhr basin, regardless of allied action.

Premier Lloyd George, on his part, consented to a meeting of experts to examine into the Silesian problem, and also conciliated the French by giving the German government a sharp rebuff. When France was preparing to send more troops to Silesia, she asked the Germans to supply the transportation. Berlin sent a note to London, asking if the British indorsed this demand. To this Downing street replied curtly that it was an interallied affair and not discussible with outsiders. British Ambassador Lord D'Abernon in Berlin also told the Germans that if the French or Poles were attacked the British would help in the occupation of the Ruhr basin.

For some time there have been rumors that former Emperor Charles was planning another coup to regain the throne of Hungary. Last week Roumania, Jugo-Slavia and Czechoslovakia signed a treaty providing for a declaration of war against Hungary if Charles should return. It is officially announced in Madrid that negotiations are under way for giving the ex-emperor and his family asylum in Spain. The consent of the other powers is necessary.

Having destroyed a considerable part of the Turkish nationalist army and advanced so far that even Angora, the nationalist capital, is threatened, the Greeks are restoring their lines of communication and preparing for the second phase of the offensive. General Papoulas, their commander-in-chief on the Smyrna front, says: "We are not going to let up on Mustapha Kemal Pasha until we have so completely dissolved his forces that he will never again be able to put an army in the field." Apparently Kemal realizes that he is being thoroughly whipped, for he has appealed to the government at Constantinople to intervene and stop the warfare. How this can be done is not clear. Kemal's own government is said to be abandoning Angora and transferring its archives to Sivaz.

Evidently Kemal has not been receiving the aid he expected from the Russian bolsheviks. Lenin and Trotzky and their soviet crew are themselves in hard straits due to the rapid spread of famine and cholera in Russia. They have appealed loudly for help, but the governments they have so long flouted are deaf to their calls. Even the United States, always generous in response to the wails of the suffering, has told the soviet government, through a note from Secretary Hoover, that any relief measures would depend largely on the treatment of the Americans held prisoners by the bolsheviks. This was reinforced by a note from the State department formally and curtly demanding the release of those prisoners, and the soviet rulers already had been told there would be no consideration of closer relations with Russia until the Americans were set free.

The distress in Russia is such that Trotzky has been given dictatorial powers to handle the situation, and all government projects except those for relief have been suspended.

The Irish affair is still in status quo. De Valera and the Sinn Fein cabinet have been studying Lloyd George's offer, but have let it be known that it cannot be accepted until the British have released the imprisoned members of Dail Eireann so that parliament can have a full meeting to discuss the plan. The British government is willing to free these men if De Valera will make the request, but the Sinn Feiners feel that for him to do this would be in effect a recognition of the government's right to furnishing representation of Ireland. Lord High Chancellor Birkenhead in a speech in the house of lords, asked that parliament and the country have patience

HOW WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

May Escape the Dreaded Sufferings of that Period by Taking Mrs. Block's Advice

Hopkins, Minn.—"During Change of Life I had hot flashes and suffered for two years. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the paper and got good results from taking it. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you may publish this fact as a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT BLOCK, Box 542, Hopkins, Minn.

It has been said that not one woman in a thousand passes this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, sinking spells, spots before the eyes, dizzy spells, nervousness, are only a few of the symptoms. Every woman at this age should profit by Mrs. Block's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Mad All Over. "What good does it do you to shake your fist at that disappearing motorist and call him hard names? He can't see or hear you."
"Maybe not," said the wrathful pedestrian, "but I hoped there might be a relative of his among the spectators who would take up the quarrel. I'm mad enough to punch anybody who's kin to him, if he's only a second cousin."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Team Runs Away With Load of Burning Straw

Hauling a wagon of blazing grain a team working on the Ben Fishburn farm, southwest of Ottawa on Wednesday ran away, struck two other wagons which were set on fire and in turn ignited the shocks in a 10-acre field.

Sparks from a threshing engine set fire to a wagon load of rye causing the team to run away. Bundles of burning grain thrown to the ground fired the field. Three wagons were burned up in addition to the heavy loss in grain. Both horses were badly burned.

COPIED OLD ENGLISH BARREL

Pennsylvania Man Made First Standard Size Receptacle for the Transportation of Oil.

When crude oil was discovered in Pennsylvania in 1850, barrels commonly used for wine, beer, whisky, cider and other liquors were utilized by oil men as containers for their product. Anything that resembled a barrel was used and sizes differed so radically that there were many opportunities for fraud.

As an instance, it was discovered that frequently the staves were made extra thick, with the result that the content of the barrel was less than represented, and purchasers often found that they did not get as much crude oil as they were paying for.

In 1864-65 the first standard-size barrel was made by Samuel Van Syckle, at Miller Farm, near Titusville, Pa. It was of 42 gallons' capacity, the size fixed in 1461 in England for the herring barrel during the reign of Edward IV.

Van Syckle specified the size of the staves to be used and made an honest 42-gallon barrel. Almost immediately he had practically a monopoly of the business and the odd-size barrels gradually disappeared.

The present system of gauging oil tanks was started in 1865, when P. E. Hammond of Miller Farm, Pa., was asked if he could figure the amount of oil contained in each vertical foot of certain tanks. In a few days Hammond prepared a table of one of these tanks, showing the amount of oil it would hold per inch from bottom to top, based on a measurement of 42 gallons to the barrel. Hammond's table came into general use, and this method of measuring tanks never has changed.—Oil News.

PROPERLY RANKED AS HERO

Deserved Tribute to Collie Who Gave Master the "Last Full Measure of Devotion."

Clyde Scott, four years old, lies dying on his father's farm near Beckley, W. Va. His pet collie is dead. A vicious sow, hearing the sobs of battle to the finish, is so badly mangled that she must be killed, too.

It is one of those simple stories of a dog to which all human sympathy responds, remarks the Baltimore Sun. The boy, playing in the yard, was attacked by the sow, which had escaped its pen. Hearing the child's screams the collie rushed to the rescue and engaged the sow in fight. It needs no assurance of the telegraphed item to tell him who knows his dog the details.

The child's mother came into the picture, hearing her torn baby to safety. But the dog remained. His was a supreme duty, that knew no compromise. The infuriated sow was a menace to those he loved. It was his business to remove that menace, and into the job he put his concern. It was his concern only to remove the menace, and at any cost. His own life mattered not at all, and the end he lost it, in as noble a struggle for what he believed to be righteous as any that ever brightened the annals of man or nation.

We do not know the little collie's name. If we did we should like to print it in honorable memory of his gallant conduct. He was a soldier and a gentleman; he was a devoted comrade and playmate; he was all that a dog is and that a man should be. We hope he had a Christian burial, for he was a Christian, if to be Christian implies sacrifice of self and love for others. He was all of that and he was a hero—a hero on four legs.

SOME MEASURE OF SUCCESS

Collector Got His Half of Debt, but Creditor is Wondering Where He Comes In.

A Vancouver man tells of a sea captain who, ashore, makes his home in that city, and who had loaned a sum of money to a neighbor. The latter, after the loan was a year or two old, made no effort to pay it.

Now, the captain began to look upon the debt as a bad one, indeed. On one occasion, however, upon his return from a voyage, he heard of a debt collector noted for his ability to extract money from such delinquents. Accordingly, the captain called upon this collector and advised of the circumstances.

"If," said the skipper, "you can collect that debt, I'll give you half of it."

The collector promised that the thing would be done. The captain sailed away on another voyage, and, on his return, sought out the collector again. "Any success with that bill?" he asked.

"Well," said the collector, "I haven't collected the whole of it; but I did collect my half. He hasn't paid me a cent since. I keep after him, but it's just as you said when you gave me the bill—he hasn't any conscience about it."

Modeling in Rags.

It was the fashion of a little time ago to think scorn of the woolwork screens, the paper flowers, or the wax figures made by the women of the past, but now they are eagerly sought and added to collections of articles illustrating home life.

History repeats itself, and to this busy athletic age has come a wave of the old finger-work fashion. Lately it was pictures made with feathers, now it is little figures made from rags. These last were the idea of Mme. Wolkoff, nee Princess Troubetskoy, formerly of the Russian imperial court, when at Petrograd, where the little figures were sold for the benefit of Russian soldiers. Since Mme. Wolkoff has been in England she has modeled little statuettes of well-known people, all in characteristic attitude and life-like appearance. Odd pieces of rag have been manipulated to make these charming little figures, which vie with the paper modeling and the wax groups of the past.—Christian Science Monitor.

White Gold as Platinum.
It is an easy matter for the metallurgist to make an alloy with gold as a basis that has all the appearance of platinum and in London, recently, a great many persons have been "taken in" by the composition, paying platinum prices for jewelry afterwards found to be an inferior material.

For Japanese Women.
An important advance toward the emancipation of Japanese womanhood was made recently when the house of representatives in Tokyo adopted a bill granting women the right to attend political meetings.

Road Building in India.
There is considerable activity in road making in various cities in India, depending upon the local authorities. In some places stone rollers, pulled by gangs of men, are used, and in other places steam rollers are to be found. A very useful machine is used in Lucknow, that has two rollers, the front one a steering roller. The rear chain is driven by a gasoline engine. It has a large gasoline tank and is well adapted for light work.

Plague that Follows War
In All Ages Rinderpest Has Marked the Path Taken by Armies on Their March.
The newspapers told recently of the trouble that arose when the authorities of Montevideo refused to admit to that port a little dog owned by a woman who had taken it there on a passenger steamer, the refusal being based upon the epidemic of rinderpest prevailing among the cattle of Uruguay. Rinderpest is the most terrible of the diseases that affect cattle, and is often called simply "cattle plague."

It affects, so far as is known, only the ruminant, cloven-footed animals—oxen, sheep, goats, camels, etc.—but is so infectious that it may be carried from one herd to another by attendants, dogs, cats and birds or by fodder. Therefore, the dog was excluded from fear not that it would contract the disease but that it might contribute to spreading it.

The cause of rinderpest is not yet definitely known, but it is an ancient disease which always breaks out after great wars. The ravages of the Goths and Huns in the early Middle ages were followed by frightful epidemics. Its commonest symptoms are fever, cough, dysentery and exhaustion. Its mortality is high, but the disease is not necessarily fatal.

Grossmith Defines Humor.
Lawrence Grossmith, the English comedian, is quoted as saying: "There is no more difference between English and American humor than there is between English and American tragedy. All humor, whether it be English or American, depends upon the seriousness with which the person trying to be humorous acts the fool. This may sound like a paradox, but it is one of the most extraordinary paradoxes which are vitally true. If an actor does not enter into his humor with the full possession of his senses and all his faculties he misses the most of it.

"To be humorous it is necessary to lose oneself in one's part, retaining just sufficient introspective faculties to feel the sincerity of one's acting. Sincerity here, as in all other branches of acting is the mainstay. And 'sincerity' acts across the footlights whether it is in Germany, France, England or America, whether in tragedy, comedy, musical or dramatic plays."

Kaiser's Coach Brought Trade.
The ex-kaiser's gala carriage is for sale in Berlin. "One of the best strokes of business I ever made was to buy it," said Herr Zielka, owner of a Friedrichstrasse establishment containing a restaurant, billiard room and a theater of varieties, according to the Continental edition of the London Mail.

"I bought it from the court-marshall and used it, as an advertisement for the theater. Every night the carriage drove up to my theater and out stepped a grand gentleman or lady with the air of a royal personage. Naturally, crowds followed into the theater. Unhappily the royalists made such a fuss that the police forbade me to continue using it."

Serves Only Eight Years for Crime at Hinckley

Bert Hamilton, convicted in the DeKalb county circuit court for a crime against a young girl, at Hinckley, after one of the most stubbornly fought legal battles ever held in this county, has been paroled and was visiting DeKalb this week. He left Wednesday evening for Wisconsin where he said he would work on a farm.

He had served eight years in prison, and was eligible for parole, although nobody in his home county appears to have known anything of his parole, and our officers were given no opportunity to contest it. They were much disappointed.

Earl O'Bright is spending several weeks with relatives in Kankakee. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reuhlman and

Mr. and Mrs. Gebhart of Chicago were guests Saturday night and Sunday at the home of C. E. Adams.

GENOA WINS SLUGGING MATCH

In a game of base ball Sunday, in connection with the Burlington team, Genoa possessed the strongest batting team and whaled the old pill to all corners of the lot for 15 runs, six of which were cornered in the first inning. From that time on there was not the least bit of a doubt who was going to have the bacon.

Several of the men fattened their batting average considerably.

Genoa now has a real team and should clean up all of their opponents.

Sunday, August 7, the locals go to Electric Park, where they will engage in battle with the Sycamore nine.

A crowd of rooters will be there and we should bring home victory served in fine style.

Brave in Patches.

"There are odd inconsistencies in physical courage, too," says a writer in Punch. "I know a V. C. who can't bring himself to halt a hooch with a worm, he shudders so; and you all remember Phil May's picture of the circus hand who took refuge from his wife in the lions' den. I myself am moderately brave—I have been down stairs with only a poker to investigate noises in the night—but nothing would get me on to the back of a horse. Another man will have a tooth out without gas; but run 20 miles rather than make a public speech. Even the brave are brave only in patches."

Her's an International Case.

In a case recently before a London court the presiding judge was English, the plaintiff was an American, his counsel a Welshman, the defendant a Dutchman and his lawyer an Irishman.

Dog Went to Church.

An English correspondent writes: "My terrier was very fond of going to church. He would sit quietly with his nose between his paws. For two successive seasons he attended all the confirmation classes. I told the bishop, 'Well, Tinker,' said the bishop, turning to him, 'I'm very sorry I can't confirm you.' Tinker looked at him very gravely, and from that day never attended another class." It may be added that the story, as well as the dog, lacks confirmation.

Flowers Not for Sick Room.

All flowers grown from bulbs are dangerous in rooms where there is illness. Although bunches of flowers are invariably taken to the sick, such blooms as hyacinths, lilies-of-the-valley, tuberoses, and even daffodils and narcissus, should be carefully avoided. The perfume is said to be as dangerous to a person in a critical state of health as a dose of morphine would be, without possessing the benefits which that drug sometimes confers.

Book Without Marks.

Timothy Dexter was born at Malden, Mass., Feb. 22, 1747. He published a book written by himself entitled "Pickle for the Knowing Ones." The book had no punctuation marks, but at the end of the volume were some pages of periods, commas, colons and other marks which the reader was invited to use to "pepper and salt" the book for himself. Dexter died in 1806.—Boston Record.

Salmon-Canning Industry Vigorous.

Since the Columbia river salmon-canning industry was started by pioneer fishermen in 1876 a total of $130,000,000 worth of salmon has been taken from the 90,000 acres of fishing territory in the river from Cascade locks to its mouth.

Mrs. Chester Davis was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when her mother and her sister and their families walked in unannounced to help her remember her birthday. The party brought will filled baskets and they were soon seated around the table enjoying the contents. Victrola music was enjoyed in the evening.

Mrs. Roe Bennett was hostess to the members of the H. G. L. club and mesdames, George Evans, Albert Rudolph and R. B. Patterson, Thursday afternoon. The diversion of the day was five hundred with Mrs. Harry W. Hippie and Mrs. George Evans receiving favors. Ice cream and cake were served in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Huntoon and children of Moline were week end guests of Mrs. Louise Harvey, being on their way to Detroit. Mrs. Harvey accompanied them as far as Chicago Sunday. The Modern Spirit.

Two little boys who prided themselves on their courage were sitting over the nursery fire and discussing apparitions. "But," said one very confidentially, "shouldn't you really be in a most awful funk if you did see a ghost—a most evil-looking one, I mean?" "Good gracious, no!" was the boastful reply. "I should just say, carelessly, in a throaty voice, 'Good evening, Devil; going strong? What?'"

30x3½ STANDARD NON-SKID
The Fastest Selling Tire In America
The increasing popular demand for the Firestone Standard 30x3½ inch tire over a period of years has given us big volume. Our Plant No. 2 devoted wholly to this size tire with a capacity of 16,000 tires and 20,000 tubes per day cuts costs on every operation. On May 2, we dropped our price to $13.95 passing on to the car owner the full benefits of this big sales volume and this labor-saving plant. This tire has been our standard for years—four plies long staple fabric—extra gum between plies—heavy non-skid tread. The greatest value ever offered car owners. Insist on Firestone.
Our Cord Tire Values
Firestone Cord tires are made exclusively in Plant No. 1. Our process of double gum-dipping each ply of cord gives thicker insulation. The massive non-skid tread, with extra thickness where wear is most severe, gives real effectiveness in holding the car against slipping and adds many extra miles of service.
Firestone Cord tires are sold at the lowest prices in cord tire history: 30x3½, $24.50; 32x4, $46.30; 34x½, $54.90.

Talks About Building

Lumber prices are deflated. Lumber, the last great commodity to advance in price, has been the first to come back to a normal basis. While lumber constitutes less than 30 per cent of the cost of the average frame house, these reductions mean an important saving in building costs.

Building labor is more efficient. A reduction in the wage scale is less important than a full day's work for a day's pay. Increased efficiency has already brought about a substantial reduction in costs.

You can build now with confidence. Deliveries of material are certain, prices can be protected against advances, and building labor is available. No longer is it necessary to build on the "cost-plus" plan.

Don't stick with the prunes

MY DAD'S favorite yarn WAS THE one about THE OLD storekeeper WHO WAS playing checkers IN THE back of the store AMONG THE coal oil AND THE prunes WHEN THE sheriff WHO HAD just jumped his king SAID "Si there's a customer WAITIN' OUT front." AND SI said "Sh-h-h! IF YOU'LL keep quiet MEBBE HE'LL go away." NOW HERE'S the big idea WHEN A good thing HAPPENS ALONG DON'T LEAVE it to George TO GRAB the gravy. FRINSTANCE IF.

YOU HEAR of a smoke, OR READ about a smoke, THAT REALLY does more, THAN PLEASE the taste, THERE ARE no hooks on you, THERE'S NO law against YOUR STEPPING up, WITH THE other live ones, AND SAYING right out, IN A loud, clear voice, "GIMME A pack of THOSE CIGARETTES, THAT SATISFY."

YOU'LL say you never tasted such flavor, such mild but full-bodied tobacco goodness. You're right, too, because they don't make other cigarettes like Chesterfields. The Chesterfield blend can't be copied.

Have you seen the new AIR-TIGHT tins of 50?

THOMAS RENWICK DEAD
 Thomas Renwick, a resident of Kirkland for the last 18 years and who had lived in that vicinity for a considerably longer period, died Sunday morning, at two o'clock. His last illness was of two weeks' duration although for some time he had not been in good health. Death was attributed to stomach trouble and the infirmities incident to advanced age. He was born in Scotland, April 29, 1834, and came to Canada as a child with his parents and later to Illinois. Prior to her marriage, his wife was

Miss Lucy Ramsey of Kirkland. Besides the widow there survive a son, Thomas J.; two daughters, Mrs. Bessie Anderson and Mrs. Olive Parkin, all of Kirkland; a brother, Robert, of Maple Park, Ill.; a sister, Mrs. Agnes Bryan of Sycamore, and two grand children. He was an uncle of Mrs. James Fullager of Belvidere.

THIS BIRD REAL POLLYANNA
 No Imaginable Adverse Circumstance Can Keep "Cucuboro" From His Fit of Laughter.

The real Pollyanna of the feathered tribes has just arrived at the bird house in Central park, for if any one can bear up under the name of Cucuboro and still keep cheerful, it shows one of those persistently gay natures that nothing can mitigate. Of course, Cucuboro has won a better deal from the public at large than he did from the ornithologists who saddled him with his gloomy scientific appellation, for the people of Australia, where he comes from, recognize his propensity to "Keep Smiling" by calling him the "Laughing Jackass."

And, equally, of course, he has earned this soubriquet, for he is reported to thrive on vast quantities of water—no matter what other beverages are available—and to have a habit of laughing before he gets up, an hour or so before sunrise. Now, any one who can laugh an hour before dawn on just plain water—even Pollyanna and her followers never did anything so blatantly cheerful as that.

This Kingfisher bird, for that is his family, is sometimes hailed as the settlers' clock, because of his regularity in bursting out into a spasm of wild, ribald laughter, that surpasses any alarm clock in rousing the inhabitants of the Australian bush, while it is more than probable that a relapse into this fiendish merriment that takes him about sunset serves for the dwellers in the hinterland as a dinner bell, cathedral chimes, and factory whistle, all in one. They show their gratitude by making a pet of him and protecting him in his merry chorus—New York Post.

Can Osteopathy Cure Everything?

We do not pretend to claim that Osteopathy cures all phases of disease or disability, for numerous ailments are but evidences of waning vitality and the wearing out of the body's working parts. Assuming, however, that you are a normal creature, and desire to realize the best there is in life, YOU MUST GIVE YOUR BODY EVERY CHANCE TO OVERCOME OR PREVENT DISEASE. For health lies within the body and not without. To replace parts, to remove obstructions, to equalize circulation, to govern the nervous system, to restore harmony to the active parts, and to effect other similar body-adjustments, appeal to the reason as common-sense disease-antidotes. It will be found that ONLY as a last recourse will the Osteopath recommend surgery.

Osteopathy is a safe and sane science because intimate knowledge of the human body co-operates directly with the laws of Nature. TYPHOID and SCARLET FEVER, WOMEN'S DISEASES, STOMACH, KIDNEY and LIVER COMPLAINTS, affections of the eye, ear and throat, chronic nervous troubles, and numerous other troubles, are being subdued and overcome daily by Osteopathy. A Real Tire Bargain

Some motorists think a low price indicates a tire bargain. They do not realize that true cost is determined, not by the purchase price, but by the final cost per mile. The best tire bargain is a tire that gives the most mileage and satisfaction. That tire is the Goodyear. Proof of this statement is the fact that more people ride on Goodyear tires than on any other kind. We are anxious to show you the way to more mileage and more satisfaction with our complete line of Goodyear Tires, Tubes and Accessories. We want to give you a REAL TIRE BARGAIN

Belvidere Republican: The wedding of Miss Ruth E. Sears and Floyd H. Brown at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. M. Sears, in Garden Prairie on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock was a pretty bomb affair, with all the arrangements daintily carried out. Only the relatives and a few friends were the guests.

Rev. C. W. Bente, of Elgin, was the officiating clergyman. The couple were unattended. The bride's costume was of embroidered organdy and her traveling suit of grey color with blue embroidery. A two-course luncheon was served immediately after the ceremony by four intimate friends of the bride, Misses Eileen Sears, Clarabelle Meyers, Lulu Alexander and Marie Bullita.

Soon after the repast the bride and bridegroom left on an automobile trip to Billings, Montana, and on their return will make their home for the present in that of the bride's mother.

The bride's home has always been in Garden Prairie. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brown of Belvidere, formerly of Genoa.

BANGS GETS CONTRACT
 Will Heat the New School Building at Maple Park

Wednesday night was memorable for Maple Park and its efficient board of education because at that time the contract to build its $48,000 school building was signed and delivered. This sum does not include heating and plumbing which contract was let to J. E. Bangs & Co., of Sycamore and Genoa.

This building will be built on two contiguous lots. One is the high school lot and the other is the grade school lot. The high school will be built up to the line and the grade building will be built up to the same line. A fire wall will be placed between and yet the structure will be but one building. On the respective ends of the building the playgrounds will be built. Separate entrances will be made for both schools.

SPAIN GAVE WALES DAFFODIL
 First Flowers Said to Have Been Received in Exchange for a Consignment of Coal.

According to an old legend, the first batch of daffodils ever seen in Wales reached there in return for a consignment of coal. The daffodil is indigenous to the Bilbao district, some of whose seafaring inhabitants were about two thousand years ago conveyed by the flow of the Gulf stream to Penbrokeshire. There they saw the inhabitants digging what is now known as anthracite, and making fire with it. They also noted that the Welsh were sun worshippers. Taking some of the anthracite back with them, the Spaniards realized its immense superiority over charcoal for the purpose of smelting iron ore, for which the country round Bilbao was celebrated even in those days, so an expedition was organized to procure further supplies from Wales.

As barter for the "black stones" the Spaniards took a consignment of daffodil bulbs, because they thought that people who worshiped the sun would be impressed by the beauty of this flower as it unfolded itself and displayed its form and color, and that in its corona and radiating petals they would see reflected the glory of the sun. Thus used as barter and carefully cultivated by the ancient inhabitants of Wales, the daffodil eventually became the floral emblem of the country.

Pity the Telephone Girl.
 One hundred telephone calls a minute, as is usual after any sporting event, were coming in over the wires at the News office after the Kentucky Derby. The majority of the calls were inquiries as to the results of the race, which was won by Behave Yourself in 2:04 1-5.

One enthusiastic baseball fan asked the telephone operator who won the game between the Indians and the Colonels.

"Behave Yourself," was the answer, and a cracked receiver at the other end of the line was the reply.

A little later some one asked how the race was at the quarter.

Another became indignant when the girl replied: "Behave Yourself," thinking she was "kidding" him.—Indianapolis News.

Colonial Styles Endure.
 In many parts of this country there has been a decided tendency among manufacturers of furniture to comb European mansions, palaces and museums for possible inspiration in the domestic arts, apparently oblivious to the fact that we have in America what generally is considered one of the most graceful, simple and beautiful types of decorative art—that of the colonial period. That this style is authentic and of intrinsic value, artistic and useful, has been abundantly proved.

That manufacturers have been wise in modifying extreme period designs to meet modern conditions in this country seems pretty well established.

Woman Juror Caused Trouble.
 The question as to whether women will make successful "jurymen" has been raised in England by the recent collapse of a woman juror in a Manchester court. The woman became ill and almost swooned during the hearing of a charge of malicious wounding. She finally collapsed, had to leave the court and a substitute had to be found. Of course, the trial had to begin all over again.

Illinois Central System Better Service by Co-operating With Public

This is the twelfth in a series of monthly public statements which the Illinois Central System is making through the newspapers on its lines. Each preceding statement has treated of some railway problem of current importance, setting forth information which we believe the public should have and inviting constructive criticism and suggestions. Our aim has been to bring about closer co-operation with the public in such a way as to be reflected in the constant betterment of the service rendered by the Illinois Central System.

Our program was begun September 1, 1920—the day the railroads resumed operations under their own financial responsibilities. Results obtained convince us that the plan we have followed has been worth while. We believe that we and our patrons have received, through the better understanding which has been brought about between us, full value for our efforts in newspaper advertising. Consequently we hold it to be our duty to continue to play our part in disseminating information that will give the public a more adequate idea of the problems which railway managements face—which also are the public's problems. We have decided therefore to continue our program another twelve months.

Railway management is the trustee of a vast investment in the railroads, an investment fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission for rate making purposes at $18,900,000,000, but in reality greater than that, for upon the satisfactory administration of railway properties depends the future welfare not only of the railway properties themselves but also of all the manifold activities of our entire national business life.

We believe the railway problems of the United States require the best and most constructive thought of all the people—farmers, business men, professional men and railway men working in harmony. The railroads are ruled by public opinion. If public thought on railway questions is unprogressive, the railroads cannot make progress, which means that they will not be enabled to meet constantly increasing demands of public service.

The public is not entirely to blame for such unsatisfactory railway conditions as have obtained in the past. We believe the reticence of railway men themselves, in failing to keep the public well informed, has been one of the causes of the growth of restrictive legislation, of unprogressive regulation and of an anti-railway spirit, which have worked a hardship upon railway development, and consequently upon the public itself.

That our discussions have contributed to a better understanding of railway problems on the part of the public served by the Illinois Central System is evidenced to us in many ways. Not only have our patrons helped us in the solution of many problems which we have presented to them, giving us their hearty support and co-operation in carrying out our programs for better service, but the better mutual understanding which has been awakened—a better understanding on our part of our patrons' problems, and a better understanding on their part of ours—has been reflected in generally improved service. Our discussions have also been a means of perfecting within our organization that spirit of loyalty and service which has always characterized the Illinois Central System.

Railway rates are standardized under governmental authority. Service is the basis of competition among the railroads. Service is the measure which determines the worth of a railway system. Service must be unselfish. It must find expression in safety, efficiency and economy. We pledge our best efforts toward serving the patrons of the Illinois Central System.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,
 President, Illinois Central System.

I ought to know I grow tobacco

You can't beat a Camel, because you can't beat the tobacco that goes into Camels.

That's why Camels are the choice of men who know and love fine tobacco. They know what makes Camels so smooth, so fragrant and mellow-mild.

They'll tell you that the expert Camel blend of choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos makes a cigarette smoke you can't equal—no matter what you pay.

But it doesn't take an expert to tell Camel quality. You'll spot it the very first puff. Try Camels yourself.

GOOD FOR THIRTY DAYS
Railroad tickets in Wisconsin are now good for 30 days from date of sale, following signature, of Gov. Blaine to a committee on judiciary bill introduced at request of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors. At present tickets have been usable only for one day after purchase.

The Bedouin of the North.
The Indian living entirely out of the forests in the north country is an incongruity, or at least seems odd and incomplete, like a picture out of frame. When we see him a woodsman, it is in his very best pose. He is the wise man of the wilderness, the Bedouin of the green deserts. Palefaced gentry up from the cities do well to avail themselves of his care and guidance, which is at all times faithful

Cable of Human Hair.
It was the custom for church-going people in Japan to give some of their hair as a free-will offering when a temple was being built. Such a structure at Tokyo had the beams and rafters held in place by one of these human-hair cables. It had an end on end, this human-hair rope measured 4,528 feet long, was seven inches in diameter and weighed 8,847 pounds, no fewer than 25,000 persons contributing before sufficient quantity was obtained.

"Code of Hammurabi."
The "Code of Hammurabi," a set of laws made by King Hammurabi of Babylon, 1958-1916 B. C., was found in 1901 A. D. in a stone eight feet high. The code contains 280 sections dealing with all sorts of questions. The law of bribery was stated thus: "If a man bear witness in a case for gain or money he shall himself bear the penalty imposed in the case." Breaking into mud brick houses was punishable by death. The old law of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" was enunciated by him long before the same law was stated by the Hebrews in the old Mosaic law.

Turtles on the Amazon.
Seventy years ago Bates predicted the rapid extinction of the turtles on the Amazon, but William Ray Allen, who returned recently from an expedition to the upper reaches of that river, reports to Science that in spite of an enormous consumption of turtles and eggs that has continued from that day to this, they are still very abundant. Petroleum has replaced turtle oil since that time, but turtle eggs, meat and viscera continue to be favorite articles of food.

"Lobby" and "Lobbyists."
The word lobby is derived from the Latin "lobia," a portico, covered way or gallery, and in the modern sense refers to such a hall as an anteroom in a theater or adjacent to a legislative or audience chamber, where private persons are permitted to enter for the purpose of consulting with the members. In the political vocabulary of the United States, the term refers also to the persons who frequent this place for the purpose of influencing the votes of the legislators. Hence they are called "lobbyists" and their business "lobbying."

"Poker" From the Persian.
Poker is known as an American game, but it is undoubtedly an adaptation of the Persian game "as nas." It seems that this game came to the United States by way of New Orleans. It was in some ways similar to a game already in vogue there which was called poque, a variation of an Italian game or its French derivative. Our present word "poker" is a mispronunciation of the French term, dividing it into two syllables, "po que" and adding the "r," which is sounded only in some sections of the country.

The Phoebe, of the Flycatcher Family.
The phoebe, a small, grayish-brown bird, belongs to the flycatcher family. It takes its name from its monotonous call, "pewit, phoebe; phoebe, pewit," continuously repeated, as it flits about in search of a habitation. The phoebe preys on insects, which it captures while on the wing, and is therefore of benefit to farmers. The common phoebe is also known as pewee and as pewit. It, however, should not be confused with the wood pewee, which is a different species of flycatcher.

To Get Rid of Red Ants.
The following is recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture: Make a sirup of ordinary cane sugar and water, rather thin, with the addition of not more than three-fourths of 1 per cent sodium arsenate, which is poison. Saturate small sponges with the sirup and place about where the ants are found. They carry the mixture to their nests and feed it to their young and queens, which eventually destroys the colony.

Orang Outang.
The huge apes (anthropoid) known as orang outangs are incorrectly named, probably owing to the difficulty du Chailou, their discoverer, experienced in pronouncing Malay. Orang means a man, and outang a debt, so that orang outang means a man in debt. But the Malay word outan means forest, so that orang outan means man of the forest, in distinction to orang dusun, man of the village, civilized man.

Improves Sound of Drum.
Musicians find the drum an unsatisfactory instrument for lack of harmonic overtones. From India comes the description of a drum, the parchment head of which is loaded with an adherent composition containing finely divided iron. Such composition lies in a central circle. Around the edge a second ring-shaped membrane is secured and the effect of the loading is to produce good harmonic overtones.

Immunity of Teak and Cypress.
Of the many timbers tested in a Japanese investigation, only teak and cypress plus escape attack by termites. The immunity seems to be due neither to hardness nor weight, but to the presence of some repellent—perhaps the large percentage of benzene extract of these two woods. In Formosa, camphor green oil gives the surest protection against termites.
