Arrest Chicken Thief In The City of Sycamore

MADE NEARLY $100 PER MONTH

Sandwich School Case Bobs Up Again —Emil Nitscher Forced to Pay Claim

Fred Medine of Sycamore, 27 years old, was arrested Thursday morning on charges of burglary and larceny, and after being given a preliminary hearing by State's Attorney Poust, before Police Magistrate Mitchell was bound over to the June grand jury under $2,000 bail.

Along last February Medine visited Wm. H. Baker of Sycamore and inquired of him if he dealt in poultry, stating that his sister was raising chickens and he was anxious to sell them for her. Baker told him that he was a buyer of cattle and poultry and soon Medine began delivering to Baker, chickens in quantities of a dozen lots. Mr. Baker paid him the market price for the chickens and believed the young man told the truth. However, when Medine began to arrive late at night with chickens in a bag he questioned Medine who told him that he could not get a chicken coop in his Ford auto and had to bring the chickens in a bag, also that on account of the roads he could not get in earlier. On Thursday morning when Baker went to his barn he found a sack full of chickens and at once suspected they had been left there by Medine and that he would soon call for his money. He at once called Sheriff Decker to come over and question the young man. When Medine arrived to collect the money he was arrested.

On being brought before State's Attorney Poust, he soon admitted that his chicken stealing activities had been carried on a large scale. He admitted stealing chickens from Carl Johnson, Ted Wellander, D. W. Bowen, Chas. Drake and others and disposing of them to Mr. Hayes, Mr. Brown and others. His method was to drive up in his auto to several of the farms during the night and at each place steal a few. In this way the theft in each place being small it would go undetected for some time. His deals for the past couple of months, according to his admission brought him over $200. The chickens which he brought to Mr. Hayes on Thursday during the night, he admitted having stolen from the hen house of Mr. Wellander of Sycamore.

Judge Cliffe held court Monday and Wednesday and considerable business was disposed of. Joe B. Govig obtained a judgement against Robert Benson by cognovit for $1243.04. T. M. Cliffe was the attorney for plaintiff.

The attachment case of The Armstrong Rubber company vs. Emil Nitscher, doing business as the Emil Nitscher Implement company, was taken up on the default of Nitscher. Proofs were heard and $319 was found to be due from defendant to plaintiff. On further motion, leave was given plaintiff to file additional interrogatories and leave to answer same until Wednesday morning.

The bill for specific performance brought by Edward H. Peckman vs. Grover Ashelford was set for hearing to follow jury cases commencing April 17.

In the petition for quo warranto filed by the People ex rel Woodward vs. C. W. Falz et al, the same old Sandwich school case, leave was given petitioner to file a replication instantly. Ten days time after that was given in which to answer.

JABIN FENTON PASSES AWAY

Former Resident of Genoa Expires in Belvidere at Age of 85

Infirmities incident to his advanced age caused the death of Jabin Fenton, father of Bert Fenton, at the Fenton home on East Lincoln avenue in Belvidere at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning. He had been failing in health for the past two years and had he lived until May he would have passed his 85th milestone.

Deceased came here with his son's family two years ago last November from Genoa. He had lived in Genoa and vicinity for the past 45 years and was well known there. He was the last of a family of ten to go. His birthplace was Bolton, Warren county, New York.

For more than 30 years he had been an active member of the Methodist church. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America. Besides the son, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Sarah McClusky of Sycamore, Okla., seven grandchildren and a great grand child. His wife preceded him in death six years ago.

Funeral services were held at the Fenton home with Rev. Willis Baker officiating. The remains were then taken to Genoa where Rev. Robeson conducted the services.—Belvidere Republican.

Obituary

Jabin Fenton was born at Bolton, Warren County, New York, on the eleventh day of May, 1838 and departed from this life on the twenty-sixth day of March at Belvidere, Illinois. At the time of his death he was 84 years, 10 months and 15 days of age. He leaves to mourn his loss, a son, Bert Fenton, and a daughter, Sarah McClusky, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild. His wife, and one daughter, Mary Fenton Covey, preceded him to the life beyond.

For the past two years Mr. Fenton has been in declining health, and for the last six weeks was confined to his bed.

For 45 years Jabin Fenton was a resident of Genoa, Illinois, and for 35 years was an active member of the M. E. church. He was a member of the Modern Woodman of America. He ever held sacred the tie that bound neighbors and friends and those who knew him will always remember that he always testified for the God he loved.

Paul's words to Timothy can truly be applied to him, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at the day; and not to me only, but unto all them also that love His appearing."

BASEBALL BENEFIT DANCE

Postponed Until Tuesday, April 11 Election Returns to Be Read

The benefit dance that was to have taken place last Thursday evening for the benefit of the Genoa baseball team was postponed until the evening of Tuesday, April 11.

The returns from the primary election will be received and read from the dance floor.

Give the boys a boost. Attend and have a good time.

MRS. E. H. ROBINSON DIES

Mrs. E. H. Robinson of Kingston died at St. Anthony's hospital, Rockford, on Monday, April 3 of liver trouble.

The deceased was 50 years of age. Jennie Elizabeth Jinks was born in Rochelle, Ill., December 22, 1871. In 1894 she was married to E. H. Robinson. To this union three children were born, Agnes M., Harry and Edward.

Mrs. Robinson had been in poor health for the last five years.

Funeral services were held at the Kingston M. E. church on Thursday afternoon of this week.

BAD ROAD CORNER FIXED

That almost impassable stretch of road just south of Chamberlain's corner has been fixed by filling the holes with gravel stones. This is indeed a worthy task completed, but it should have been done days before.

HONORARY GUEST

Mrs. H. H. Perkins was hostess to a number of friends last Thursday afternoon in honor of her friend, Miss Plunkett, of Chanderville, Ill. After an afternoon devoted to sewing, a delicious luncheon was served.

ALL ARE READY FOR BOOSTER TRIP

About 30 Cars Will Tear The County Today (Friday)

THEY WILL WORK FOR CRAWFORD

In Case of Rain Trip Will be Postponed Until Saturday or Monday

The plans are all formed for another Crawford booster trip and the general indication is that the trip will be made today (Friday) starting about eight o'clock in the morning.

In the last trip the whole county was covered in about 8 hours which necessitated a terrific pace for all the cars and took some of the joy out of the trip. This time however the plans are different. The pace will be held down to about twenty-five miles an hour.

It is planned by the committee that the trip will include Sycamore, DeKalb, Waterman, Hinckley, Somonauk, Sandwich, and Shabbona. This gives good roads all of the way as the only bad spot in the whole course, Chamberlain's corner, has been fixed by the Genoa Good Roads and Motor Club.

It is earnestly requested that every one go that possibly can. Choose your own load of men and women and be on hand at eight o'clock in the morning (Friday) unless otherwise advised by the committee.

In case of bad roads the trip will be postponed until Saturday or Monday.

This will be the last chance to show the people in the southern part of the county that Genoa is solidly behind their candidate for sheriff, Edwin E. Crawford.

Are you going to be there? Let's go!

EXPOSES SMALL CANDIDATE

The Chicago Tribune of April 6th had an article exposing the past of some of the candidates backed by Small for the next legislature. The Tribune write-up states that Arthur G. Harris, of Dixon, is one of the Small candidates, and that Harris in 1916 was disbarred by the Supreme Court from the practice of law until 1919 on account of his having collected money for his clients and having neglected to pay such money over to them.

A NEW POLITICAL PARTY?

Will It Stand the Test Without a Real Political Genius to Head It?

A powerful third party, purporting to represent 23,000,000 workers and 10,000,000 farmers of the United States, entered the national political arena last week.

The definite decision to form the new party as the great coal strike begins is regarded here as most significant. The 600,000 miners now quitting work throughout the country have joined hands with the rail workers and farmer to form the backbone of the new organization, Fred C. Howe, secretary of the national committee, said.

A name for the new party has not yet been decided upon. It is the outgrowth of the recent conference in Chicago of progressive farmers and labor leaders.

MINIATURE CITY ON WHEELS

Several thousand visitors to New Orleans for the triennial grand convocation of Knights Templar, April 24 to 27, will be housed by the Illinois Central system in a miniature city, made up of Pullman sleeping cars. The April number of the Illinois Central magazine tells of the extensive preparations being made to care for the heating, sanitation, lighting and other features of the project involved.

One of the Illinois Central system freight yards, located in the heart of downtown New Orleans, is being enlarged by the construction of temporary tracks. The municipal light supply will be tapped and the voltage transformed to a current suitable for lighting the cars and the parking space. The water supply will come from a pressure tank, into which water will be pumped from the city's mains. Two locomotives will be parked near by to furnish steam for heating the cars and the water. A portion of a freight warehouse will be transformed into a clubhouse, with shower baths, a barber shop, laundry agency and the like.

DICK PATTERSON STAR ATHLETE

Holds Enviably Position in High School of 1900 Students

Thru the courtesy of G. E. Stott, The Republican is in receipt of the "Lowell", high school paper of San Francisco high school which has an enrollment of 1900 students. In turning over the pages the writer came across a picture and "write-up" of Richard, "Dick", Patterson, formerly of this city and the article reads as follows:

"Dick Patterson holds perhaps the most enviable athletic record of any fellow now attending Lowell. 'Pat' is manager of baseball this semester as well as captain of the basketball team. He was a first string halfback on the 1921 football team and has been captain of the 120 pound cage team. In the spring of 1920 he was a member of the weight track team."

"Socially, Dick, has been president of his class and was a member of last fall's rally committee."

Richard is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Patterson, formerly of Genoa, but now of San Francisco, Calif. Major Patterson is dental surgeon at the Marine hospital there.

It really seems but a short time since "Dick" was one of the most expert pigeon fanciers in this part of the country and knew every roost and every hay loft in town.

INTERESTING MEETING

Held by Community Club on Monday Afternoon

The Genoa Community Club held its open meeting in the M. E. church parlors on Monday afternoon, April 3rd.

At the business meeting reports were given from the various committees.

Philanthropic committee reported on milk fund for the school children. The total cost of milk for March was $49.69. The total amount paid by the club amounted to $7.65.

A communication from the Public Health League of DeKalb county was read and the club voted to send a donation.

Following the business meeting, the music department took charge. Mrs. E. W. Brown, acting as chairman, read as the first number on the program, a very interesting article on "Music As An Art, Not Mere Amusement". The second number, a vocal solo by Evelyn Patterson, was followed by singing folk dances and recitations by the pupils of the lower grades.

The program was appreciated and enjoyed by all.

BARBER SHOP CHANGES HANDS

Geo. Smith New Proprietor of the Redwood Tonsorial Shop

On Monday afternoon of this week a deal was consummated whereby O. D. Shierk sold his interests in the Redwood barber shop to Geo. Smith, former proprietor of the tonsorial parlor next to the Exchange State Bank.

The plans of Mr. Shierk have not, as yet, been divulged, but it is understood that he has a very good position in view.

YOUNG COUPLES ENTERTAINED

At the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Albertson Last Friday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Albertson were host and hostess to a number of friends at a card party last Friday evening in honor of Miss Dorothy Aldrich of Elgin.

After several hours spent in playing 500, a delightful luncheon was served. Miss Genevieve Rogers of Sycamore was among the guests.

THREE BILLS PASSED

Three bills on the legislative program of the farm bureaus have been passed this year, the DeKalb county farm bureau announces. These bills are the co-operative marketing law, the appropriation for the crop failure in the north-west and the extension of payment for irrigation rental.

A number of other bills in which the farm bureau is interested are now going through the legislative mill at Washington. The American Farm Bureau Federation office there is representing the farm bureau interests all over the country. Prominent among these bills which will probably receive some sort of early action are the fill for an increase from $10,000 to $25,000 a federal farm loans, the truth-in-fabric bill, the filled milk bill and the bill to have a farmer placed on the federal reserve board.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Assembly Program

A miscellaneous program was given Friday with Ernest Rowen as chairman. The program was as follows: Piano duet, Margaret Eicklor and Vera Sowers; vocal duet, "The Shiek of Araby", Clarence Russell and Oliver Patterson accompanied by Harriet Doty; vocal solo, "When Pershing's Men Go Marching Into Picardy" by Albert Morehouse accompanied by Mrs. Morehouse.

The next number was an introductory story by the chairman, previous to a very interesting talk by D. S. Brown on the "Life, History and Dangers of the Fly." Mr. Brown showed the contrast between the feeling toward the fly fifty years ago; illustrating it by a poem, "The House-fly" from Mather, showing the fly as a jolly companion. He took us thru the life history of the fly, the disease it spreads, the breeding places which we should try to eliminate and completed his talk with a warning to all to clean up the places where they congregate and multiply. The school wishes to express its appreciation and thanks to Mr. Brown and hopes that he will come again.

Thought it Was Kerosene

The accident occurred just after the husband and father had arrived home from Belvidere bringing a can which, it is stated contained three gallons of gasoline instead of kerosene, which he says he asked for.

Helen poured some of it into the stove to start the fire, and there was an explosion which covered her and her mother with flame. Transformed into a living torch, Helen ran screaming out the door, where she was caught by her father and rolled in the mud and water until the flames had been extinguished.

Mrs. Hoag remained indoors and fought off the fire alone.

The clothing of both was burned from their bodies.

The stove was not blown to pieces nor even damaged only the flames being thrown over the girl and mother, who was standing almost behind her.

The Republican is of the opinion that had the rules governing the handling of gasoline in cans been lived up to by the grocers or by the farmer the above tragedy would not have occurred.

Manual Training Notes

Earle Obright has completed a black walnut chest which formerly was an old cupboard and an hutch. It is decorated with dull brass trimmings. At present he is completing a chandelier of unusual design, containing four electric candles and has also started work upon a tea wagon. Bert Johnson and Francis Abraham are also finishing up some fine pieces. The finishing and construction of Francis' jardiner stand and Bert's book rack are something to be proud of.

Harry Adler has finished a drawing board and Kenneth Field and Ernest Rowen are hard at work on their cedar chests. Griffith Harshman has completed an oak book rack.

Mr. Kurtz at The High School

Mr. Kurtz, the choir leader and singer at the M. E. church revival meetings, gave an interesting talk to the pupils of the high school last Thursday morning at a special assembly. Mr. Kurtz opened with a creeping barrage of funny stories and wound up with direct fire for the better part of fifteen minutes. These were highly appreciated by the boys. In the last part of his talk, he spoke on the need of having the lives of the young people directed by the right kind of ambition; and gave the students some things decidedly worth thinking about. Preceding his talk, Mr. Kurtz, in company with Mr. Robeson made a tour of inspection of the building and in course of his remarks, took occasion to say that it would be difficult for the students to appreciate the privileges they enjoy in opportunity to work in a building, so complete and modern.

Girls' Basket Ball Game

In a game played between the high school girls and the ladies' town team last Thursday afternoon, the school team walked away from their opponents by a 31 to 8 score. The high school team was comprised of Evelyn Patterson, Margaret Eicklor, Freda Montgomery, Jeannette Shierk, Mamie Hecht and Marcella Hammond. The ladies' town team was composed of Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Orrin Merritt, and Misses Skinner, Irwin and Reinher.

HENRY C. ALLEN A CANDIDATE

Running for Office of Representative in the General Assembly

Henry C. Allen, a farmer of Whiteside county and a prince of a man, is running for representative in the general assembly to be voted upon Tuesday, April 11.

The thirty-fifth district comprised of DeKalb, Lee and Whiteside counties, is entitled to vote for three members to this assembly.

In justice to Mr. Allen, who is a conscientious and hard worker for the Republican party and in justice to Whiteside county, the only one in the group without a representative at our state capitol, no one can find a better man entitled to your vote at the primaries.

Lee county's two candidates, Byers and Tourtellot, also merit your support for they are very efficient men.

ALEX HAMMERBERG CANDIDATE

For State Central Committeeman of The Twelfth Congressional District

Alex Hammerberg, a young and successful business man of Rockford is a candidate for the office of State Central Committeeman to be voted at the primaries on April 11.

He is a fine fellow with sterling qualities and will merit everyone's support who have the interests of the state at heart. He is not affiliated with the Small-Thompson machine in anyway.

To know Mr. Hammerberg is to like him and his honest efforts to secure the will of the voters will be carefully watched after.

You can show your confidence in this man by voting for him on Tuesday.

Belvidere Girl Pours Gasoline on Hot Coals in Stove

No hope was held out at the Belvidere Public hospital for the recovery of 16 year-old Helen Hoag, who, with her mother, Mrs. Leslie Hoag, was terribly burned Wednesday of last week, when the daughter used gasoline as a kandler when preparing a fire in the stove.

Altho her body is terribly seared and burned, it is hoped the mother, Mrs. Leslie Hoag, will survive. At the hospital it is said she has a fighting chance.

The accident occurred just after the husband and father had arrived home from Belvidere bringing a can which, it is stated contained three gallons of gasoline instead of kerosene, which he says he asked for.

Helen poured some of it into the stove to start the fire, and there was an explosion which covered her and her mother with flame. Transformed into a living torch, Helen ran screaming out the door, where she was caught by her father and rolled in the mud and water until the flames had been extinguished.

Mrs. Hoag remained indoors and fought off the fire alone.

The clothing of both was burned from their bodies.

The stove was not blown to pieces nor even damaged only the flames being thrown over the girl and mother, who was standing almost behind her.

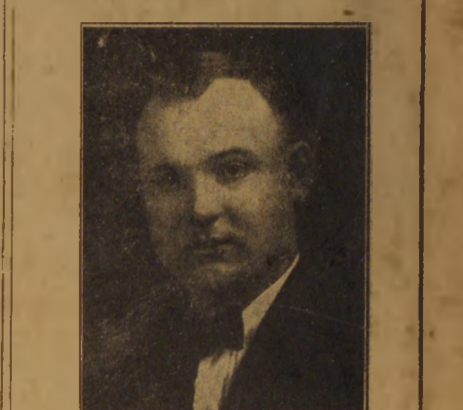

The Republican is of the opinion that had the rules governing the handling of gasoline in cans been lived up to by the grocers or by the farmer the above tragedy would not have occurred.

E. E. CRAWFORD, GENOA'S CANDIDATE

For Sheriff of DeKalb County Will Appreciate Your Support

ALL WILD RUMORS ARE KILLED

By Business Men Themselves Circulating a Petition of Endorsement on Thursday

On next Tuesday, April 11, 1922, the state primary election will be held and Genoa's one big interest in that election lies in the fact that one of our own townsmen is running for the nomination of Sheriff on the Republican party ticket.

Edwin E. Crawford is the above mentioned candidate and he earnestly solicits your vote and aid in the windup of the long campaign which he has conducted with credit to himself and the citizens of Genoa and his friends throughout the county.

Word was received from various parts of the county this (Thursday) morning tending to show that the business men of Genoa had withdrawn their support from Crawford. It really was a laughable matter to them, but in order that the county at large may see how solidly Genoa is backing its candidate for sheriff, the men themselves made up an endorsement with the names of all business men attached thereto. This will be shown to the various townpeople on the booster trip Friday and should serve to kill such false rumors.

For eight years Mr. Crawford was chief of police of this city and that he did his work well is testified to by every man, woman and child in the town.

Last fall Mr. Crawford decided on being a candidate for sheriff of this county and the result has been that he has conducted a personal campaign that will always be to his credit. "Chief" will appreciate your support at the polls next Tuesday and his one motto is a token of the sincerity of his efforts: "A square deal to all."

There are about 1100 voters in this township. To show the rest of the county that Genoa is behind Mr. Crawford in his campaign for sheriff, let us have every vote registered, next Tuesday.

Crawford is the man for the office and his qualifications are unexcelled both in point of service and personal aptitude. Are you with him? If so, don't fail to cast your ballot on the 11th.

STOUT HEPBURN PASSES AWAY

Died Suddenly at His Home in the Country Sunday Evening

Jonathan Stout Hepburn was born in Tusculum, N. J., November 23, 1857. At the age of ten he moved with his parents to a farm five and one-half miles north-east of Genoa, which has always been his home.

As a boy he was studious and after leaving the Ney country school, he further pursued his studies at the Marengo high school. Characteristic of his spirit of sacrifice he gave up his ambition to attend college, feeling that his parents needed his assistance.

Determined, however, to have an education he graduated from the "Home Chautauqua" course.

Soon after the erection of Ney church he joined the same with his parents and has always been an active member.

He was a lover of children and had been associated with the late Rev. Geo. K. Hoover in ten children's Home Finding work.

His middle life he devoted to his brother's children, who at an early age were bereft of their mother. He served as counsellor, teacher and guide to them and always his chief concern was for their welfare.

In his community he was recognized as a leader; always a champion of right and a vigorous opponent of wrong.

In later years he has been in declining health. The end came very suddenly on Sunday evening, April 2.

Near relatives who mourn his loss are his brother, John, niece, Eleanor Hepburn and nephews Nelson and Thomas.

COMPANION TO THE GOODYEAR ALL-WEATHER TREAD

In a factory devoted exclusively to manufacturing Goodyear Tires for small cars, the two tires illustrated above are made.

One is the famous 30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear All-Weather Tread Clincher.

By long wear, superior traction, freedom from skidding, and ultimate economy, the Goodyear All-Weather Tread has won unquestioned leadership.

As a companion to this tire there is the Goodyear 30 x 3 1/2 Cross Rib.

Built of the same high grade Egyptian fabric and with a long wearing but differently designed tread, this tire offers unusual value.

Over 5,000,000 of these tires have been sold in the last five years.

Their quality and serviceability have proved to thousands of motorists the folly of buying unknown and unguaranteed tires of lower price.

Ramsey Milholland

OUT WALKING.

Synopsis.—With his grandfather, small Ramsey Milholland is watching the "Decoration Day Parade" in the home town. The old gentleman, a veteran of the Civil war, endeavors to impress the youngster with the significance of the great conflict, and many years afterward the boy was to remember his words with startling vividness. In the schoolroom, a few years afterward, Ramsey is not distinguished for remarkable ability, though his pronounced dailies are arithmetic, "Recitations" and German. In sharp contrast to Ramsey's backwardness is the precocity of little Dora Yocum, a young lady whom in his bitterness he denigrates as "Teacher's Pet." In high school, where he and Dora are classmates, Ramsey continues to feel that the girl delights to manifest her superiority, and the vindictiveness he generates becomes alarming, culminating in the resolution that some day he will "show" her. At a class picnic Ramsey is captured and bagged by Milla Rust, the class beauty, and endures the agonies of his first love.

CHAPTER V.

The next morning Ramsey came into his father's room while Mr. Milholland was shaving, an hour before church time, and it became apparent that the son had something on his mind, though for a while he said nothing.

"Did you want anything, Ramsey?"

"Well—"

"Didn't want to borrow my razors?"

"No, sir."

Mr. Milholland chuckled. "I hardly supposed so seriously! Shaving is a great nuisance and the longer you keep away from it the better. And when you do, you let my razors alone, young feller!"

"Yes, sir." (Mr. Milholland's razors were safe. Ramsey had already achieved one of his own, but he practiced the art in secret.)

"What is it you really want, Ramsey?"

"I guess I don't want anything."

"Money?"

"No, sir. You say me some Friday."

Mr. Milholland turned from his mirror and looked over the edge of a towel at his son. In the boy's eyes there was such a dumb agony of interrogation that the father was a little startled.

"Why, what is it, Ramsey? Have you—" He paused, frowning and wondering. "You haven't been getting in to some mess you want to tell me about, have you?"

"No, sir."

His tone was meek, but a mute distress lurked within it, bringing to the father's mind disturbing suspicions, and forebodings of indignation and of pity. "See here, Ramsey," he said, "if there's anything you want to ask me, or to tell me, you'd better out with it and get it over. Now, what is it?"

"Well—it isn't anything."

"Are you sure?"

Ramsey's eyes fell before the severe and piercing gaze of his father. "Yes, sir."

Mr. Milholland shook his head doubtfully; then, as his son walked slowly out of the room, he turned to complete chief showing out of the coat breast-pocket or not, and, if it was right—ought the handkerchief to have a colored border or to be plain white? But he had never before brought any such perplexities to his father, and found himself too diffident to set them forth.

However, when he left the house a few minutes later, he boldly showed an inch of purple border above the pocket; then, as he saw himself about to encounter several old lady pedestrians, he blushed and thrust the handkerchief down into deep concealment. Having gone a block farther, he pulled it up again; and so continued to operate this badge of fashion, or unfashion, throughout the morning; and suffered a great deal thereby.

Meantime, his father, rather relieved that Ramsey had not told his secret, whatever it was, dismissed the episode from his mind and joined Mrs. Milholland at the front door, ready for church.

"Where's Ramsey?" he asked.

"He's gone ahead," she answered, buttoning her gloves as they went along. "I heard the door quite a little while ago. Perhaps he went over to walk down with Charlotte and Vance. Did you notice how neat he looks this morning?"

"Why, no, I didn't; not particularly. Does he?"

"I never saw anything like it before," said Mrs. Milholland. "He only has three neckties, but I saw him several times in each of them. He must have kept changing and changing. I wonder—" She paused.

"I'm glad he's begun to take a little care of his appearance at last. I'll have to take a look at him and give him a word of praise. I suppose he'll be in the pew when we get there."

But Ramsey wasn't in the pew; and Charlotte, his sister, and her husband, who were there, said they hadn't seen anything of him. It was not until the members of his family were on their way home after the services that they caught a glimpse of him.

They were passing a church a little distance from their own; here the congregation was just emerging to the open, and among the sedate throng descending the broad stone steps appeared an accompanied Ramsey—and a red, red Ramsey he was when he beheld his father and mother and sister and brother-in-law staring up at him from the pavement below. They were kind enough not to come to an absolute halt, but passed slowly on, so that he was just able to avoid parading up the street in front of them.

In hoarse whispers, Mrs. Milholland chided her husband for an exclamation he had uttered. "John! On Sunday! You ought to be ashamed."

"I couldn't help it," he exclaimed. "Who on earth is his clinging vine? Why, she's got lavender tops on her shoes and—"

"Don't look round!" she warned him sharply. "Don't—"

"Well, what's he doing at a Baptist church? What's he fidgeting at his handkerchief about? Why can't he walk like people? Does he think it's obligatory to walk home from church anchored arm-in-arm like the Swedes on a Sunday Out? Who is this cow-eyed fat girl that's got him, anyhow?"

"Hush! Don't look round again, John."

"Never fear!" said her husband, having disobeyed. "They've turned off; they're crossing over to Bullard street. Who is it?"

"I think her name's Rust," Mrs. Milholland informed him. "I don't know what her father does. She's one of the girls in his class at school. It would be pleasanter if he'd taken a fancy to someone whose family belongs to our own circle."

"Taken a fancy!" he echoed, hooting. "Why, he's terrible! He looked like a red-gilled goldfish that's flopped itself out of the bowl. Why, he—"

"I say I wish if he felt that he had to take girls anywhere," said Mrs. Milholland, with the primmest air of speaking to the point—"if this sort of thing must begin, I wish he might have selected some nice girl among the daughters of our own friends, like Dora Yocum, for instance."

Upon the spot she began to undergo the mortifications of a mother who has expected her son, just out of infancy, to look about him with the eye of a critical matron of forty-five. Moreover, she was indiscreet enough to express her views to Ramsey, a week later, producing thus a scene of useless great fury and no little sound.

"I do think it's in very poor taste to see so much of any one girl, Ramsey," she said, and, not heeding his protest that he only walked home from school with Milla, "about every other day," and that it didn't seem any crime to him just to go to church with her a couple of times, Mrs. Milholland went on: "But if you think you really must be dangling around somebody quite this much—though what in the world you find to talk about with this funny little Milla Rust your poor father says he really cannot see—and of course it seems very queer to us now when your mind ought to be entirely on your studies, and especially with such an absurd looking little thing—"

"No, you must listen, Ramsey, and let me speak now. What I meant was that we shouldn't be quite so much distressed by your being seen with a girl who dressed in better taste and seemed to have some notion of refinement, though of course it's only natural she wouldn't, with a father who is just a sort of ward politician, I understand, and a mother we don't know, and of course shouldn't care to. But, oh, Ramsey! If you had to make yourself so conspicuous why couldn't you be a little bit more fastidious? Your father wouldn't have minded nearly so much if it had been a self-respecting, intellectual girl. We both say that if you must be so ridiculous at your age as to persist in seeing more of one girl than another, why, oh, why, don't you go and see some really nice girl like Dora Yocum?"

Ramsey was already dangerously distended, as an effect of the earlier part of her discourse, and the word "fastidious" almost exploded him; but upon this climax, "Dora Yocum," he blew up with a shattering report and, leaving fragments of incoherence ricocheting behind him, fled shuddering from the house.

For the rest of the school term he walked home with Milla every afternoon and on Sundays appeared to have become a resolute Baptist. It was supposed by the interested members of the high-school class that Ramsey and Milla were "engaged." Ramsey sometimes rather supposed they were himself, and the dim idea gave him a sensation partly pleasant, but mostly apprehensive; he was afraid.

He was afraid that the day was coming when he ought to kiss her.

CHAPTER VI

Vacation, in spite of increased leisure, may bring inconvenience to people in Ramsey's strange but not uncommon condition. At home his constant air was that of a badgered captive plaintively silent under injustice; and he found it difficult to reply calmly when asked where he was going—an inquiry addressed to him, he asserted, every time he touched his cap, even to hang it up!

The amount of evening walking he did must also have been a trial to his nerves, on account of fatigue, though the ground covered was not vast. Milla's mother and father were friendly people, but saw no reason to "move out of house and home," as Mr. Rust said, when Milla had "callers"; and on account of the intimate plan of their small dwelling a visitor's only alternative to spending the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Rust as well as with Milla, was to invite her to "go out walking."

Evening after evening they walked and walked and walked, usually in company—at perhaps the distance of half a block—with Albert Paxton and Sadie Clews, though Ramsey now and then felt disgraced by having fallen into this class; for sometimes it was apparent that Albert casually had his arm about Sadie's waist. This allured Ramsey somewhat, but terrified him more. He didn't know how such matters were managed.

Usually the quartet had no destination; they just went "out walking" until ten o'clock, when both girls had to be home—and the boys did, too, but never admitted it. On Friday evenings there was a "public open-air concert" by a brass band in a small park, and the four were always there.

Ramsey kisses Milla and fate steps in to separate them and "everything's all over."

$525 IN PRIZES FOR THE BEST RHYMES

A new contest is just being started which will interest every woman and girl who reads this paper. Any woman or girl can enter this Contest—anyone can win! All one has to do is to write a 4-line rhyme on Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder, using only the words which appear either on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back) or on the printed slip which is found in each Dr. Price can.

Isn't that easy? Everyone likes to make rhymes and here is a chance to spend a fascinating hour or two writing rhymes on this popular Baking Powder and perhaps winning a substantial prize for your efforts.

59 CASH PRIZES

For the rhyme selected as best a prize of $100 will be given; for the second, third and fourth best rhymes prizes of $75, $50 and $25, respectively will be given. And besides these prizes there will be 55 prizes of $5 each for the next 55 best rhymes. With such a long list of prizes as these, it would be a pity not to try your hand at it!

Here is a 4-line rhyme as an example:

Two teaspoons of this powder make
Biscuits, muffins, pie or cake,
The Price's Co., guarantee
No alum in the cans to be.

As Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder sells for only 25 cents a 12 oz. can at grocery stores, some rhymes could play up the remarkable economy of this pure and wholesome baking powder which contains no alum.

All rhymes must be received by May 1, 1922. Only words appearing either on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back) or on the printed slip contained inside the can may be used. These words may be used as often as desired, but no other words will be allowed. If you haven't a can of Dr. Price's, a copy of the label and the printed slip will be sent to you free upon request.

Any woman or girl may enter the Contest, but only one rhyme from each person will be considered. In case of ties, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Write plainly on only one side of a sheet of paper and be sure to give your name and address.

Send your rhyme before May 1st to Price Baking Powder Factory, 1009 Independence Blvd., Chicago, Ill.—Advertisement.

Miserable With Backache?
Why put up with that nagging backache? You can't be happy when every day brings morning lameness, sharp, shooting pains and that all-worn-out feeling. The best way to get well is to find the cause of your trouble and correct it. Likely, a cold or a chill has slowed up your kidneys and that is why you have backaches, stabbing pains, headaches and dizziness. Just take things easier and help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Take Yeast Vitamon Tablets To Round Out Face and Figure With Firm Flesh

If you are hollow-cheeked, sallow-skinned, sunken-cheeked and generally weak or run down and want to round out your face and figure to pleasing and normal proportions you will find this simple test well worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking Mastin's VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. Mastin's VITAMON tablets contain highly concentrated yeast-vitamins as well as the two other still more important vitamins (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C) together with organic iron and real lime salts. They will not upset the stomach or cause gas, but on the contrary are a great aid to digestion, to overcome constipation and as a general conditioner of the whole system. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under its purifying influence, the complexion becomes fresh and beautiful, the cheeks rosy instead of pale, the lips red instead of colorless, the eyes bright instead of dull. So rapid and amazing are the results that thousands of people everywhere are now taking to them as a quick way to put on weight and increase energy. Be sure to remember the name Mastin's VITAMON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamins tablet—there is nothing else like it so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON at any druggist.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. C. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N. Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

I had an armful of statements which I had just brought down from the fifth floor. As I went into the main office I saw the cashier behind a desk in the center of the office. The desk being quite large, I had to reach over so as not to spill the statements, and in doing so my foot, unawares to me, became entangled in an electric lamp cord. As I started to walk away I was suddenly jerked from my feet and I found myself on the floor beside the lamp. In conclusion I will say that it didn't take me long to vacate the place.—Chicago Tribune.

Tribute and Tax.
Tribute is money, commodity of value or service rendered by one ruler or state to another in token of submission, while taxes are financial burdens imposed by a state upon its own subjects. In early times there was not this distinction, for under the feudal system especially, taxation, tribute and rent were often identical.

FOR SHERIFF OF DEKALB COUNTY

DO MORE THAN GUARD SHEEP

Dogs of Scotland Are Also the Companions and Protectors of the Crofter Children.

The sheepdogs of Scotland are guides and defenders not only of the sheep flocks, but also the children of the crofters. Were it not for these shaggy, intelligent fellows, born shepherds of the weak and defenseless, it would be unsafe for the children to go far from the lonely and isolated crofts in the outlying districts. The schools are far distant and it is a long, rough journey across the moor from home to school and back again. And so the sheepdog goes along with them and safe-conducts them to and fro. Moreover, he must carry the books for them, for the little folk would be unequal to the task of carrying any extra weight in the long tramp. Over the dog's back the books are slung and no one need worry for the safety of the children or their belongings. The sheepdog knows his duty and is proud and eager to do it.

The rural libraries established by the Carnegie trust are also using the dogs in distributing books among the homes of the crofters. In fact, it would scarcely be possible for the inhabitants whose crofts are so far from the library centers to share in this great benefice, were there not the sheepdogs to act as librarians. Good literature for the elders as well as the children is dispatched and returned on the sturdy backs of these reliable dogs.

IN SHADE OF HIMALAYAS

Majestic Panorama Displayed When the Gray Clouds Break and Reveal the Great Mountain.

Northward from Darjeeling the view of the Himalaya mountains is inspiring. When the gray clouds break, they reveal crystal ramparts, lifting far to east and west, and a majestic panorama of range beyond range in the blue distance. The primeval forest no longer extends to the snow line. There are bare spots and grain fields and hundreds of tea gardens. But the farther mountains are clothed with great trees and with a tangle of ferns and creepers, bamboos, climbing palms and wild flowers. The hill tribes living in these solitudes are very dissimilar in features, dress and habits, but alike in their half-superstitious awe of their great mountains and in their quiet friendliness. Sometimes a woman from the Himalaya forests appears in the Darjeeling market place, bearing on her back, it may be, a bundle of fagots for firewood, a burden less beautiful to western eyes than armfuls of scarlet rhododendron blossoms or strange-hued orchids would be, but no less precious to the heart of a dweller in a land of unceasing rain.—From "In the Darjeeling Market-Place," by Marietta Neff, in Asia Magazine.

Tara, "Beautiful Hill."

From the coming of Heremon, husband of Tea, to the desolation of Tara in the Sixteenth century, 120 kings of the Scottic or Milesian stock ruled from their palace on the famous hill. In the annals of the Four Masters we read of the fortieth in the list of Irish kings, the renowned Ollav Fola, who instituted the Fels or assembly of Tara. His real name was Eochy, the title Ollav Fola, or Doctor of Erin, being given him because of his extraordinary learning. The "fels tara" was the national parliament of the Ireland of its day, and met triennially for one week at the period known as Samhain (three days before and three days after November day). The meeting was held in the open air in fine weather and in the banqueting hall in wet. This hall was 800 feet long and from 60 to 80 feet wide, and had six or seven large entrances on either side. The site can still be traced.

The last king to reign at Tara was Diarmuid, and no king after him, even when called king of Tara, ever dwelt upon "the beautiful hill."

Girdle Reminder of Ancient Times.

Girdles of metal, adorned with brilliant ornaments, now quite commonly used largely for purposes of ornamentation in women's dress, is a reminder of the revival of a custom of ancient times, when they were worn by both men and women to confine to the person their long flowing garments. They were not always of metal, but often of linen or leather. The girdle also served as the support of weapons, utensils, bags or pockets, etc. In the Middle Ages books were sometimes bound with a strip of flexible stuff hanging from one end of the volume, which could be drawn through the girdle and secured.

Among some people, even in this day, the girdle is put to practical use. Being large and loose, the scabbard of a sword or long dagger is passed through the girdle instead of being hung from it, a hook or projecting button serving to hold it in place.

Chinese Wear Stoves.

Chinese women wear practically the same clothes in winter as in summer. In the most severe weather, however, they wear heating baskets under their cloaks.

These baskets are plain wicker ones, such as we use for trash. Inside the baskets charcoal warmers are placed. They will radiate heat for hours.

The charcoal is mixed with chemicals that generate oxygen, and thus the charcoal will burn constantly, even though it is sealed in the containers.

Her First Love Affair.

I experienced my first love affair when I was thirteen. I had a bicycle, on which I went for a ride with a neighbor boy, and he took quite a liking to me. So he called on me the next Sunday evening. I saw him coming, and slipped behind the door, not wanting to see him. My mother told him I was out, but would be back after a while. He leaned up against the door I was behind and stood there waiting for me to come. I stood it as long as I could, then stepped out from behind the door, exhausted. He never called again.—Chicago Journal.

Indians Thrived in the Cold.

If the dwellers in eastern and central Canada find the severe cold of our brief periods of low temperatures somewhat a hardship, how was existence tolerable, ever possible, to the Indians when they had to depend wholly upon themselves for even the bare means of subsistence? How did they get through the winter at all? The question is suggested when our conditions of life are contrasted with theirs.—Montreal Family Herald.

He Knew Her.

To the husband of the novelist the publisher was extolling her manifold virtues. "She has wonderful powers of observation," he said, "combined with a remarkable descriptive faculty and an inexhaustible vocabulary." "You said it," agreed the husband. "She can look at another woman's gown for two seconds and describe it for two hours without repeating herself."

South African Locust Plague.

Locusts in immense swarms which covered the permanent way and brought the engine to a standstill held up a train on the Groaff Reinet line, South Africa, for two hours. Passengers and officials, by sweeping steadily with improvised brooms for two hours, continued partially to clear the line to allow the journey being resumed. The insects were a couple of feet deep in places.

Don't Wane 'Em.

Indian dishes 300 years old, and supposed to possess the "magic" properties of breaking in bits if touched with poison, have been sold by auction in London recently.—Washington Star.

Classifying Youthful Visitor.

One day a caller brought her small son, who had evidently never been taught to obey, and the pleasure of the visit was much marred. As the guests walked away Anita stood looking after them and, in a disapproving tone, said: "He certainly is the worst-mannered I ever saw."

And They All Disappear.
The output of the pin factories of Britain amounts to over a million millions of pins a year—a figure which would in ten years cover every town in the kingdom with a layer of pins several inches deep.

Pure yeast

now concentrated in small dose

With the introduction of Yeast Foam Tablets you don't need to eat large quantities of baking yeast to secure its great health-corrective properties

If you are one of those who have been eating large quantities of baking yeast—and perhaps finding it troublesome to get and unpleasant to take—you will be happy to know that in this new yeast, dried and highly concentrated, you can get the same tonic effects, without any inconveniences and with several extraordinary advantages.

This yeast corrects a wide-spread disease

Vitamin deficiency, that the leading medical men are all discussing, is a disease that thousands of people nowadays suffer from, but which has only recently been recognized.

Unlike other diseases, which come from germs or infections, vitamin deficiency comes from a lack in modern foods of the recently discovered element, vitamin.

Its symptoms are failing appetite; indigestion; loss of weight, strength and vigor; unhealthy skin; nervous troubles and other signs of a "run down" condition.

If you are suffering from any of these disorders, your trouble may simply be vitamin deficiency, and in all such cases Yeast Foam Tablets are recommended because they are made entirely from pure, whole yeast—the richest source of the essential vitamin.

Yeast Foam Tablets rebuild tissues

By supplying this vitamin, which many foods wholly lack, Yeast Foam Tablets stimulate the appetite, aid digestion, enable you to get strength and energy from the food you eat and thus rebuild the sick tissues and tone up the whole body

Extraordinary advantages of Yeast Foam Tablets

The only pure whole yeast in easy-to-take tablet form. They contain no drugs or other ingredients.

They do not form gas nor cause belching. They are the only pure whole yeast suitable for children; they do not cause fermentation.

Each loz. is tested to insure high and uniform vitamin potency.

The purity and vitamin potency of Yeast Foam Tablets is guaranteed by the world's largest manufacturers of dry yeast—the makers for 45 years of the famous baking yeasts, Yeast Foam and Magic Yeast.

This guarantee is your protection, so be sure you ask for and get Yeast Foam Tablets. They are sold by all druggists.

TO THE MEN AND WOMEN VOTERS OF DEKALB COUNTY

In the coming primaries, April 11, there are several candidates for the office of sheriff, for one of whom you will cast your vote.

I firmly believe that any man or woman, who is eligible, has a perfect right to aspire to any elective office that is given at the hands of the people, also that every citizen should know the merits of a candidate, and his qualifications for the office to which he is aspiring.

I previously served a term as sheriff of DeKalb county from 1914 to 1918 and believe that my record during that period in giving services to Attorneys, their clients, to the people of the county in serving legal papers, collecting of fees, and in a satisfactory and economical manner taking care of all other duties pertaining to the office of sheriff, speaks for itself.

When my terms of office expired I did not seek any other office but returned to private life.

Your vote, for me, Tuesday, April 11, for nomination for the office of sheriff will be greatly appreciated.

Very Truly Yours,
JAMES SCOTT,
Republican Candidate for Sheriff

To the Republican Voters of DeKalb County:

Our Senatorial Precinct Committee has decided to nominate three Republican candidates for the next General Assembly, and the primary ballot will carry the names of A. T. Tourtillot and Arthur G. Harris, of Lee County, and Henry C. Allen and Russell Burleigh of Whiteside County, the three highest of whom will be the nominees.

Recently we, with others, have been repeatedly asked our advice as to which three of the five candidates the voters of DeKalb County should support, indicating a considerable lack of understanding of the situation, in this county.

With the sole object in view, therefore, of being of what assistance we may in this situation, we have made a careful investigation, upon which to base a recommendation for a vote which will best represent the sentiments and best interests of this county.

Our advice in the matter, based on our investigation, is that the voters of DeKalb County mark their ballots, one each for Messrs Tourtillot, Byers and Allen, as Republican candidates for the General Assembly, and for Axel Hammerberg, of Rockford, as candidate for State Central Committeeman from the Twelfth Congressional District.

Little Banking Stories

About Going in Debt

A young man came to the bank to talk with use about going in debt.

Some of his friends had told him to avoid debt as he would smallpox. Others advised him to go into debt if he wanted to make money. He did not know what to do about it.

Of course we told him it all depended upon what the debts were for and how carefully he worked to pay them off.

It is true the average man will work harder and save more when he is in debt. Many men claim their success is due largely to this plan.

But notice this point—these men who get ahead by going in debt are making good investments. They pay cash for food, clothing, etc. Debts can help you win or they can make you fail—it all depends upon what the debts are for.

What do you think about this problem?

ASH IS NOT GENUINE TEST

Merely Shows That Cigar Is Well Made, Not That Its Quality Is of the Highest.

Can the quality of a cigar be told by the ash? To a certain extent it can. Many smokers take a great delight in seeing how long the ash will stay on. It is often possible to smoke a big Havana cigar half or three-quarters way through with the ash intact.

But what most cigar smokers fail to realize is that this is the test of a well-manufactured cigar and not necessarily of the tobacco in it. It depends upon the length and neat arrangement of the filling leaf. A well-made, compact cigar has greater consistency than a badly put together one. But it does not follow that the tobacco is better, a tobacco expert writes. A surer test is when the ash is flicked off. The glowing point should be sharp. The sharper the point the better the cigar.

As regards the ash, it is a common fallacy that white ash is a sign of a fine, and dark ash the sign of an inferior, leaf. The real truth is that the color depends upon the strength of the tobacco.

A very mild and cheap cigar will give a pure white ash. The finest Havana of ripe strength produces a blackish ash. It does not follow that a cigar which burns imperfectly is bad tobacco. You may have lighted it badly or it may be clumsily made.—Brooklyn Eagle.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO TREES

Writer Beautifully Expresses What Every Lover of Nature Must Have at Some Time Felt.

Trees are the arms of Mother Earth lifted up in worship of her makers; where they are, beauty dwells. Trees are the shelter of man, beast and bird; they furnish the roof above us, the shade about us, and the nesting places of love and song. They call children out to play; they entice sweethearts into leafy coverts to seal their vows with fond caresses; they console and gratefully reward old age. They are the fittest ornaments of wealth and the inalienable possession of the poor, who can enjoy them without having title to them. They are the masts that fly the flags of all nations and the sails of all seas; they are the timbers that bridge forbidding streams; they bear the wires of the world's intelligence; they hold the rails that carry the traffic of the continents; they are the carved and polished furnishings of the home; they cradle the young and coffin the dead. Trees herald the spring with glorious banners of leaf and bloom; they clothe the autumn in garments of gold and royal purple; bared to the winter's cold, they are the harp of the winds, and they whisper the music of the infinite spaces.—Clarence Ousley.

Useful Oil.

Few industries have grown so rapidly as the manufacture of cottonseed oil. In 1867 there were only four cottonseed oil mills in the United States; in 1902 there were 618, and by 1920 the value of the oil and the by-products of it were estimated to be $125,000,000. Since then there has been a steady increase in the production. The increased consumption of cottonseed oil is due largely to the great variety of uses found for it. It enters into the manufacture of lard compounds, butterine and other substitutes for butter; is used in packing and preserving fish, in making salad oils, and in the manufacture of so-called "olive oil." The crude oil is used in medicine, in the preparation of cosmetics, liniments and emulsions; as an illuminating oil in miners' lamps, for rough painting, and for tempering edged tools; and as soap stock, in which field of usefulness, after treatment with certain alkalis, it yields soap, washing powder and glycerin.

Is No National Holiday.

Christmas is not a national holiday. New Year's day is not a national holiday. Thanksgiving day is not a national holiday. The Fourth of July is not a national holiday. Neither is Memorial day. Neither is Washington's birthday. Neither is any other day. There is no such day as a national holiday in the United States. A United States statute would be required to constitute a particular day as a national holiday, and congress has stopped short of this action, numerous constitutional lawyers insisting that such an act belongs to the powers of the several states and not to the general government.

The Fourth of July is not strictly a national holiday, though it is a nation-wide holiday, having been made a holiday by acts of all the states and by the common consent and usage of the people.

Totally Obscured.

A certain callow Chicago swain had an amazingly large mouth which he contorted into an all-pervading smile when he wished to make a good impression. His sweetie had persuaded him to "ask father" and the youth was determined to show himself to good advantage.

"Mister Jones," he began, stretching his principal feature to the utmost of geniality. "I have come to ask for the hand of your daughter. I—"

"Just a moment, young man," interrupted the old gentleman mildly, "would you mind closing your mouth for a moment till I see who you are."—American Legion Weekly.

Illinois Central System Shows Railroads Are Growing Safer Constantly

The railroads have been making an excellent record in the reduction of fatalities. The reason for this is to be found in the fact that railway men have been trained to give safety precedence over all other things. To them the most familiar rule in the standard book of railway rules reads: "In case of doubt or uncertainty, the safe course must be taken." While railway traffic has greatly increased in recent years, fatalities on the railroads have been decreasing. The Interstate Commerce Commission statistics on this subject for 1921 are not yet available, but the number of fatalities in 1920 was the smallest in twenty-two years, although 1920 was a record year for heavy traffic. The following comparisons with 1911, covering a 10-year period, tell their own story:

Year	Ton Miles Per Cent Increase	Passenger Miles Per Cent Increase	Total Fatalities Per Cent Decrease
1912	4.1	0.2	1.8 Inc.
1913	19.2	4.1	5.5 Inc.
1914	14.0	6.2	0.8
1915	9.6	2.5	17.1
1916	45.1	5.4	9.9
1917	37.9	19.7	3.0
1918	32.3	29.5	10.7
1919	45.8	40.4	32.9
1920	64.1	42.4	33.1

In 1920 the railroads carried 16,239,774 passengers to each passenger fatally injured in a train accident. The reader will better appreciate this comparison when it is understood that to load 16,239,774 passengers into 70-foot coaches having a capacity of eighty-eight passengers each would require 184,542 coaches, which would make up a train 2,446 miles long. Trespassing and automobile grade-crossing accidents contribute heavily to the fatalities on the railroads. In 1920, trespassers fatally injured numbered 2,166, while occupants of automobiles fatally injured numbered 1,273. Together these accounted for nearly one-half of all the fatalities on the railroads during the year. Not many would believe that there are nearly as many persons accidentally drowned in a year as are fatally injured on the railroads. The following table lists some of the commoner causes of fatalities in the United States in 1920:

Cause	Rate Per 100,000 Population
Falls	12.3
Automobiles	10.8
Burns (not conflagrations)	7.9
Railroads	6.6
Drownings	5.9

The table below shows that the Illinois Central System has maintained its position among the leading railroads in serving the public with transportation and, at the same time, that the fatalities on its lines have decreased in number substantially, the comparison being with 1911 and covering a 10-year period:

Year	Ton Miles Per Cent Increase	Passenger Miles Per Cent Increase	Total Fatalities Per Cent Decrease
1912	3.6	1.9	12.9 Inc.
1913	20.2	1.0	11.0 Inc.
1914	19.2	1.1	1.8 Inc.
1915	24.4	9.2	19.0
1916	45.6	3.2	34.7
1917	78.5	19.2	10.4
1918	99.3	24.6	15.3
1919	63.6	38.6	27.3
1920	113.4	43.0	30.7

The number of fatalities on the Illinois Central System in 1921 was the smallest in twenty-four years. In the road service of the Illinois Central System there has not been a passenger fatally injured in a train accident in more than four years. In the suburban service at Chicago, only one passenger has been fatally injured in a train accident in the entire history of this service, which was established in 1856 and which has grown until it now handles nearly thirty million passengers a year.

We believe the public will agree with us that the handling of a heavier business with a smaller number of fatalities is a barometer of railway efficiency. The Illinois Central System pledges renewed effort toward rendering to the public a transportation service of safety and satisfaction, and asks the co-operation of the public.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President, Illinois Central System.

LLOYD GEORGE SCORES TRIUMPH

Commons Votes Confidence in Premier and Government by 379 to 84.

OUTLINES PLANS FOR GENOA

In Historic Speech British Leader Lays Down Conditions Whereon Allies Are to Recognize Russian Soviet Government.

London, April 5.—The house of commons voted confidence in Premier Lloyd George and the government by 379 to 84. The vote evidenced the approval of the premier's outline of the allied plans for the Genoa conference. In a historic speech on the Genoa conference the premier laid down the conditions whereon the allies are preparing to recognize the soviet government. The conditions are:

- 1. Recognition of the debts contracted under the czarist regime. 2. Reduction of the Red army. 3. Russia must not attack its neighbors and vice versa. 4. Access to Russian ports. 5. Establishment of the usual agencies for the protection of trade. 6. Recognition to be general, with a probationary period.

The premier had not entirely regained his old confidence, as the result of his recent illness. He spoke quietly, sometimes with unusual hesitancy, searching for words to fit the occasion. There was also an absence of swift retorts when the premier was heckled by laborites.

Only in the closing part of his speech did Lloyd George generate his characteristic fire. Nevertheless the premier scored another personal triumph. Warm applause greeted Lloyd George when he entered the densely packed house and cheering was loud and prolonged when he rose to deliver his 85-minute speech.

Labor members enthusiastically applauded the premier's reference to a campaign for immediate recognition of the soviet government, but the mass of coalitionists reserved their approval until the premier's announcement that Russia must prove good faith before the allied powers could ceremonially recognize the soviets.

Lloyd George sounded a death knell to Britain's hopes that a dictatorship for proletarian Russia would be superseded by a more democratic form of government when he said: "The world cannot afford to wait any longer for the prospect of the downfall of the present regime."

"It is our duty at Genoa to see that the re-establishment of peace in Europe is complete." The historical precedent which the premier selected to justify the recognition was Pitt's peace with the French revolutionary government. The premier said that he felt today as Pitt did in his time—that unless peace was made with the revolutionaries, Europe faced many devastating years.

Dealing with the other objects of the Genoa conference, Lloyd George said the conference would try to recover prosperity from desolation where into Europe had fallen, but he would not seek to revise existing treaties or the reparations provisions made at the Versailles treaty.

"If Germany does not pay," said the premier, "France and Britain have to Germany's ultimate capacity to pay must not be judged by the present general depression." The first work at Genoa will be to restore exchanges.

England's international trade is now 50 per cent of what it was before the war, Germany's 25 per cent and France's 60 per cent. Pressure will have to be brought to bear to induce nations to balance their budgets, the premier said.

13 WIVES, GETS 14 YEARS. Isaiah Moore Sentenced at Indianapolis for Bigamy and Also Embezzlement.

Indianapolis, April 5.—Isaiah Moore, who has thirteen marriages to his credit, was sentenced to serve from two to fourteen years in the state reformatory on a charge of embezzlement and was fined $1,000 and costs and disfranchised for five years. Moore, who is said by police to have confessed to having at least thirteen wives in various parts of the United States, also was sentenced to serve from two to five years in the state prison on a charge of bigamy.

Says He Swindled Eleven Banks. Youngstown, O., April 5.—J. B. House of Bay City, Mich., wanted in Cleveland and other cities on charges of having defrauded banks out of more than $100,000, confessed here of having swindled eleven banks.

Mrs. Emma Gunter

Decatur, Ill.—"At various times during my married life I have been greatly benefited by two of Dr. Pierce's medicines, Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription. The Golden Medical Discovery restored me to health at one time when I had a deep-seated bronchial cough and was in a weakened, debilitated state of health; and during one of my expectant periods Favorite Prescription proved not only to be a splendid tonic and nerve tonic but I had practically no suffering. It is a pleasure to recommend medicines so reliable as Dr. Pierce's and I do so at every opportunity."—Mrs. Emma Gunter, 1228 N. Calhoun St.

RELIC OF PREHISTORIC RACE

Discovery of Lake Village Near Glanstonbury, England, Has Awakened Much Interest There.

Much interest was awakened in England not so long ago by the discovery of a prehistoric lake village near Glanstonbury, the New York Herald reports. The dwellings were placed on mounds of clay and raised above the level of the water. The framework of a primitive loom was found under one mound, and the number of broken bone needles and bone splinters discovered in another mound may have been the site of an ancient needle factory.

Few human bones were discovered, but among the interesting finds was a blue glass bead with a waving dark line running round it. One of the mounds contains 300 tons of clay, all of which must have been dug from the surrounding hills and carried to the spot in boats.

Cole's Carbolol Quickly Relieves and heals burning, itching and torturing skin diseases. It instantly stops the pain of burns. Heals without scars. 30c and 60c. Ask your druggist, or send 30c to The J. W. Cole Co., Rockford, Ill., for a package.—Advertisement.

Polish New Shoes. Brown boots or shoes should be rubbed over with a slice of raw potato before the polish is applied. Then they are easy to clean and take a good polish.

What Was Lacking. "He's a self-made man." "I know. It seems to me he should have gone to an expert now and then for advice."

The KITCHEN CABINET

"The worry cow might have lived till now. If she had saved her breath; But she feared her hay wouldn't last all day. So she choked herself to death."

HELPFUL HINTS WORTH NOTING

Walnut meats which have become rancid may be freshened and sweetened by pouring over the nut meats boiling water in which a little soda has been dissolved. Rinse in cold water and dry in a towel. Nuts in the shell which have become too brittle to crack without breaking, if treated to a bath of boiling water, will crack and seem like fresh nuts.

Keep the smallest candle ends and put into a small muslin bag. Use to polish the irons or keep the kitchen range clean and bright. A broom which is badly worn may serve longer if all the rows of stitching are ripped out except the top row. Trim the broom after soaking in soap suds and drying thoroughly.

A bit of ginger added to doughnuts will keep them from soaking fat, which is both a saving of fat and indigestion. The amount of bacon to be used for seasoning may be lessened if it is put through the meat grinder before adding to the dish. It is more evenly mixed through the dish in this way.

Stale bread put through the meat grinder, then browned in the oven, makes a fine breakfast cereal served with milk. This is especially good for an invalid. A run in a silk stocking may be taken back with a crochet hook. Old stockings may be cut in strips and used for braided rugs.

Old inner tubes from auto tires make fine elastic for rompers, bloomers and shirt sleeves. Such elastic will survive several washings without losing its elasticity. When making mayonnaise, if it curdles, beat another egg and add the curdled mixture very slowly, beating well between each addition. Have all materials cold.

Lemons placed in the oven and heated hot will render their juice more freely. Mend a torn hair net in an emergency with a hair from your head threaded through a needle.

Contentment isn't a matter of geography, and it is seldom a good plan to go away from home in search of happiness. One can't purchase happiness, or find it at the end of a rainbow. If one doesn't contrive happiness out of his own cosmos he will never know what happiness is.—Robert Quillen.

SEASONABLE DISHES

If one has never eaten carrot salad made by grinding a carrot or two and a stalk or two of celery through the meat grinder and mixing with a few nuts and a good salad dressing, there is something yet to try. Pea Soup.—A good pea soup is one which it is hard to equal in tastiness and wholesomeness. Take one-half cupful of dried peas soaked at least twelve hours, cook until tender, then put them through a sieve. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter or pork drippings in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of flour and cook a few minutes, then add one quart of milk. Add one teaspoonful of salt, a little chopped onion or onion juice, one-half teaspoonful of celery leaves powdered, and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper.

Peanut Fondue.—Grind through the meat grinder one cupful of peanuts carefully shelled and the brown skin removed, add one cupful of soft bread crumbs, one and two-thirds of a cupful of milk, one and one-half teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Mix well, then stir in the white of an egg beaten stiff. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for one-half hour. Pineapple Pie.—Peel and grate a pineapple. Separate the yolks and whites of four eggs and to the yolks add two cupfuls of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of butter. When these are well beaten add one-half cupful of cream and the grated pineapple. Pour this custard into pastry-lined plates and bake until firm. Cover with a meringue made from the whites of the eggs.

Peanut Dumplings.—Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour and cook until well blended, then add two cupfuls of water, salt and pepper and cook until it thickens, then add three cupfuls of milk and one-quarter of a cupful of ground peanuts. When it boils drop in the dumplings and cook covered from ten to twenty minutes, according to the size of the dumplings. Use any good dumpling recipe. Graham Muffins.—Take one cupful each of graham flour, wheat flour and sour cream. Add one teaspoonful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-quarter teaspoonful of soda. Mix the dry ingredients. Add the sour cream into which the soda has been stirred. Beat thoroughly and bake in gem pans in a quick oven. Serve hot.

En Passant. "The big bum," explained the shrimp for the benefit of a group of friends, "the big bum was standing on the corner when I passed by with several ladies. He saw me and I said to him in passing: "Don't speak to me in public, I said, 'because if you do I'll just bust your face on the sidewalk.'" The same big bum happened to overhear the shrimp relating the incident. "You said all this to me in passing?" he demanded, threateningly. "Y-y-yes," stammered the shrimp. "But we were passing in a car at about 50 miles an hour."

Where Patience is No Virtue. The absent-minded friend drove her car into town last week. Following the traffic she turned into a side street and came to a standstill behind a line of motors. Remaining stationary until her patience was exhausted, she honked her horn to its fullest extent. The result proving unsatisfactory she tried it again. "Hey, there, lady," came the voice of the irate officer, "if you'll come out of the taxicab stand you'll get across."

If some people didn't marry in haste they would stay single. What we wish is the shadow; what we will is the substance, maybe.

Artisans Who Love Beauty. In Lafayette, Ind., the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper-hangers has issued a brochure descriptive of their four-story office building erected in that city. The building is in the Italian style of architecture—peculiarly appropriate for the home of an organization interested in the decorative arts. It is stated that the "color effects attained in the building are evidence that this age has developed not only marvelous materials to work with, but the artistic genius to put these materials together beautifully."

Built by Boy Scouts. The lodge house of the W. W. W. at Treasure Island is said to be the finest building ever erected by the boy scouts anywhere. The work was done entirely by the scouts and it is a proof of the value and permanency of the order. The building is about 80 by 45 feet, two stories high with two large porches. It will be filled with mementoes.

Speaking of Farms. I was out with a number of young married people who were talking about farm improvement. One man spoke of having to buy a silo, and said they cost so much. Of course, I thought it was like a thrashing machine and said: "Why can't you borrow one?" Every one started to laugh. Then they explained to me what a silo was.—Exchange.

WESTERN CANADA Land of Prosperity

offers to home seekers opportunities that cannot be secured elsewhere. The thousands of farmers from the United States who have accepted Canada's generous offer to settle on FREE homesteads or buy farm land in her provinces have been well repaid by bountiful crops. There is still available on easy terms Fertile Land at $15 to $30 an Acre—land similar to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—oats, barley and flax also in great abundance, while raising horses, cattle, sheep and hogs is equally profitable. Hundreds of farmers in western Canada have raised crops in a single season worth more than the whole cost of their land. With such success comes prosperity, independence, good homes and all the comforts and conveniences which make life worth living. Farm Gardens, Poultry, Dairying are sources of income second only to grain growing and stock raising. Attractive climate, good neighbors, churches, schools, good markets, railroad facilities, rural telephone, etc. For illustrated literature, maps, description of farm opportunities in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, reduced railway rates, etc., write C. Difficult to Comprehend. Father was trying to explain "Standard time" to little Harry, but Harry was not sure that he understood. "After all, it is no great matter," said father. "You are now only in the fourth grade. When you have gone to school longer, you will learn all about it." "Maybe so," said Harry with a reassuring smile. "The teacher says that even lots of eighth-grade boys and girls don't understand longitude and latitude."—Wayside Tales.

Didn't Suit Her. Betty, who is chatty, was spending the day alone with grandma. After several hours she became noticeably gloomy, and grandma inquired what was the matter. "Well, I don't like it here," she said. "I'm going away. I don't like a one-people's house."

William found a pocketbook But the string jerked it back. It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment. That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment. The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee. Postum, that wholesome and delightful cereal beverage, is completely satisfying and there's no harmful quality whatsoever, to jerk away the comfort which you find in this splendid table drink.
