South Riley Sheep Raisers Get 25 Cents a Pound for Wool—Elgin Pays 15¢ Damages

P. A. Stark, manufacturer of the Stark piano, is seeking a location for his factory outside of Chicago.

The Chinese voice lacks two notes—its scale has six notes instead of eight. The fourth and seventh notes are the missing ones.

A large and ugly looking tarantula was discovered on Tuesday in a bunch of bananas in the store of E. R. Kidder in Pecatonica. The clerks are still pale.

The South Riley sheep raisers are selling their wool to E. S. Alexander of Belvidere, for 25¢ a pound, a pretty good price. He has bought wool for a number of years at Genoa and vicinity.

At the present time the Elgin National Watch company employs about 3,000 hands, with a monthly pay roll of $14,000. A nine hour day is the basis of labor, and the daily average is 2,200 watch movements.

It is now proposed to disfranchise a man who fails to vote for a certain length of time. This country is in as much danger from the stay at home voters as it is from the illegal voter. Both should be suppressed.

An athletic young woman of Nunda met on the street a couple of young men who had been talking about her and proceeded to give them a good and well deserved trouncing. She should be given a gold medal.

Ralph Spaulding, 17 years old, of Byron, Ill., was the successful candidate in the competitive examination for appointment to the naval cadetship held at Freeport last Wednesday and his name will be recommended by Congressman Hitt.

When Andrew Carnegie learned that his niece had married her coachman he remarked that "Hever is a good, industrious, well behaved man and is more preferable for a husband than some good for nothing nobleman of Europe."

A long-headed farmer tied an empty beer bottle to a fence post along the railroad track. Every time a coal train passes that way the brakeman fires a lump of coal at the bottle, and all winter long, while the rest of the world has wrestled with costly coal, this sage ruralist has plenty of imported fuel simply at the cost of harvesting it around that unoffending post.

When a petition is handed to sign, it's a mighty good thing to stop and read it before putting your name down. Besides, men as a rule are too busy nowadays to stop for a little thing like that. The other day a man went through a big office building in Chicago, on a wager, and secured twenty names to a petition, asking the public executioner to hang every one of the signers.

After five years of strenuous litigation, the case of Louis Nofs against the city of Elgin has been settled. Thursday night the council recommended to pay the judgment of $15,000; interest from February 27, 1903, $1,595.38, less costs ($416) advanced by city in appellate and supreme courts, leaving a balance due of $16,178.50. Nofs was injured while working on one of the river bridges and offered to settle for $5,000 at the time.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Preliminary Meeting of Directors at Sycamore last Saturday

The directors of the DeKalb County Farmers' Institute held a preliminary meeting at Sycamore Saturday for the purpose of laying out plans for the meeting to be held at Sandwich on January 9, 10 and 11, 1906.

Among other good moves made it was decided to offer a prize to the boy who raises and exhibits the best ten ears of corn. The prize, hung up by Supt. L. M. Gross, is a scholarship in the short course of agriculture at the Illinois University during the winter term. The president also appointed a committee of three, of which M. S. Campbell is chairman, to arrange for some prize to be given the boy who proves to be the best judge of corn. All the boys present will be given thorough instructions before the day of examination. In both contexts the boys must be between the ages of 15 and 21.

Last year Genoa boys captured the first and third prizes. Get busy boys and land everything next winter. You have the soil and ability, and all that is needed is plenty of thrift and study. Every boy in this neck o' the woods should enter the race. Be careful in selecting the seed.

NEEDED REPAIRS

Being Made at the C. M. & St. P. Depot—New Brick Platform

Much needed repairs are being made at the Milwaukee depot and before many weeks the place will have been greatly changed in appearance. A gang of carpenters are at work this week making repairs on the depot, inside and out. The stock yards will also be put in good condition. The most important change will be in the platforms. Instead of the plank being used as heretofore, paving brick and crushed stone will be put in. This will make a platform that will last a life time and always look neat. It is likely that the depot will receive a new coat of paint, yellow being used by the company instead of gray.

Marengo's Indiscreet Minister

A special from Marengo to the Chicago Record Herald of Tuesday said that Rev. A. J. VanPage, pastor of the Presbyterian church of that city, stirred up his hearers Sunday by referring to all who voted a certain ticket at the school election the day previous as "bums, whiskey soaks and ruffians." Following the sermon there were several stormy interviews between Rev. VanPage and some of the church members and indignation ran high, the feeling against him being intensified because so many of the best women in the city had voted the ticket which he so roundly scored. Rev. VanPage tendered his resignation two weeks ago and will assume the pastorate of the Millard Avenue Presbyterian church in Chicago.

Favor the Bridge

The joint committees from the board of supervisors of McHenry county and from Riley township have at last decided to recommend that McHenry county assume its share of the necessary expense for a bridge across Coon creek in Riley township.

Good Roads Convention

The much talked of good roads convention will be held at Aurora on May 3. Indications are that the occasion will be a gala day in Aurora.

THE TELEPHONE

Enormous Growth of Business in Past Ten Years

Including all hands, from pretty "hello girls" to brawny "ground men" it takes 60,000 people to keep the telephones, local and long distance, in the United States, working. This is one of the interesting bits of information in the annual report of President Fredrick P. Fish, of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, the national Bell telephone concern, just issued. The 60,000 people includes 5,000 employees of the Central Union Telephone Company, the Bell Company operating in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Figures are generally dry reading but the statistics of telephone development contained in President Fish's report make it read almost like a fairy tale. Comparisons for ten years are given. On Jan. 1, 1896 the Bell telephone system comprised 1,613 exchanges and branch offices, giving service through 281,695 telephones, connected by 459,728 miles of wire. On Jan. 1, 1905 the system had increased to 4,080 exchanges and 2,003,213 telephones, while the wire mileage had reached the enormous total of 4,671,038. Ten years ago the system employed 11,930 people; on Jan. 1, 1905 the employes numbered 59,451.

ORDINANCE INFRACTION

Causes Arrest of Four Kirkland Saloon Keepers

Monday morning of this week the following saloon keepers of Kirkland were arrested and fined for keeping the blinds of their saloons closed on Sunday; Fred Soost, Heldt & McAllister and Riley Brown.

Kirkland has always been a wide open town and to secure the conviction of an offender has been a difficult task. Last Saturday, however, States Attorney E. M. Burst gave notice to the president that there must be something doing in the way of official duty. Early Monday morning warrants were issued for the parties wanted. They pleaded guilty and were fined $5.00 and costs.

The better element in Kirkland is up in arms for the development of that little city, both morally and industrially, and they realize that a moral town offers better inducement to promoters seeking factory locations.

CLINICAL LECTURE

At the Operating Room of Dr. C. A. Mordoff Monday

A clinical lecture was delivered at C. H. Mordoff's operating room Monday afternoon by Prof. Hilliard, who demonstrated his methods of reducing dislocations and fractures by the manipulations of his own body. Prof. Hilliard is known to the profession thruout the United States, and is one of the very few who can make the demonstrations with his own body, which are of great value to surgeons. He dislocates nearly any joint in the body, shows the marks which distinguish the dislocation from a fracture and gives the best methods of reducing same. Surgeons find this method of much more benefit than the lectures given over a "stiff" in the college dissecting room. Those present at the clinic were Doctors C. H. Mordoff, A. M. Hill, T. N. Austin, C. A. Patterson, W. H. Belknap, and C. D. Schoonmaker.

SMALL POX SUBSIDING

William G. McNemar Dies of the Disease at the DeKalb Pest House

William G. McNemar, about 30 years of age, died at the DeKalb pest house of small pox on last Saturday morning, making the second fatality in DeKalb from the disease. He had been a resident of DeKalb for about three years. He came with his father and step mother from Harrisburg, Pa., to DeKalb. Ten days before he was stricken down with the disease he visited friends in Aurora.

There have been no new cases reported lately, and the people are feeling the disease is under control. The McNemar and Halling homes are the only places now under quarantine.—True Republican.

HIGH SCHOOL CREDIT

Will Soon Be Affiliated with the State University

H. A. Hollister inspector of high schools for the University of Illinois, was in Genoa recently and went over the work being done at the Genoa high school. What he found and the words of encouragement left by him greatly redound to the credit of Prof. Stout who has been working to this end. When Mr. Stout first took up the work it was his ambition to place the school on the accredited list of the University at Urbana, and his efforts have been crowned with success.

Mr. Hollister gives the school credit for 38½ points now, but states that all the work necessary to gain the required 42 points is now being done. The only thing lacking is advancement in Latin. When this is accomplished the school will have two points to spare.

To be accredited to the State University means that a student can enter directly into the freshman class at college without spending a year or more in the preparatory. That is a saving of some hundreds of dollars to the student who desires to acquire a college education.

Mr. Stout is deserving of congratulations for the success he has attained.

Will Fight Long Terms

A lively fight is promised at the Modern Woodmen head camp session in Milwaukee next June over the proposed lengthening of the terms of the head officers, making the tenure of office three years instead of two, as at present.

The rank and file of the big order look upon the move as one calculated to benefit the officers-elect themselves, while the officials see in it a great saving to the society.

It costs about $150,000 every two years to hold the head camp session, an immense outlay for even an order which has attained the size of the Woodmen. Hence officials argue that for financial reasons the terms should be lengthened and the head camp session held but once in three years. Should this plan be adopted, it would mean a saving to the order of $150,000 every six years over the present plan.

On the other hand, the rank and file argue that meeting every two years is beneficial to the order, bringing the members into closer touch with the society as a whole, and under the present term an unpopular or incompetent officer can be sooner ousted.

In some cities the camps have instructed their delegates on the matter. The question will be disposed of finally at the Milwaukee head camp session.

COUNTY SEAT FIRST

GENOA BALL TOSSERS MEET SYCAMORE SUNDAY

The Second Game with Hampshire on Monday—Manager Goding has strong Line-up for the Season

The regular base ball team of Genoa will open the season at Electric Park, near Sycamore, on Sunday when the county seat aggregation will try conclusions with the locals. On Monday, May 1, the team will go to Hampshire and start the ball rolling in that village.

Manager C. A. Goding has been planning all winter for the coming season's sport and has a fine schedule of games arranged. The first game on the home grounds will not take place until May 20. By that time all the rough edges will be worn off and the poor material weeded out. Every one should rally to the support of the manager and the team. A little encouragement goes a long way in putting vim into a ball player, while knocking will take the starch out of any enterprise.

The following players have signed for the season, the positions of all not yet having been assigned: Sylvester Rora-baugh, Charles Ackerman, Louis Neurauter, Geo. Lauman, L. R. Foote, Roy McKee, J. M. Kirby, Chas. Nelson, Jas. Hines, Chas. Senska, Fred Rheulman, W. C. Merrill, H. Whitney, Roy Hollembeak and Will Furr, being fifteen in all. This is all good material from which a good team is sure to develop.

NORTH ROUTE

Has Probably Been Chosen for the Elgin-Belvidere Line

Altho there has been no official report given out it is understood the Elgin-Belvidere electric line will go over the north route. The Elgin Courier states that the decision has already been made.

Practically all the right of way has been given without the cost of a cent to the promoters.

This fight between the two proposed routes has resulted just as the promoters desired. They secure a cheap right of way, no matter where the rails are laid.

That the route had been decided on long since, there is no doubt in the minds of many. In such cases the possibilities for future business govern the selection, and not the difference of a few thousand dollars in the cost of construction. The people on one route or the other have been used as tools and it now looks as tho we on the south had been used to good advantage.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured

"I have been subject to sciatic rheumatism for years," says E. H. Waldron, of Wilton Junction, Iowa. "My joints were stiff and gave me much pain and discomfort. My joints would crack when I straightened up. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have been thoroughly cured. Have not had a pain or ache from the old trouble for many months. It is certainly a most wonderful liniment." For sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.

A Fast Run

The Northwestern carried the transcontinental mail between Clinton and Boone, Iowa, last Thursday, 202 miles in 189 minutes. One stretch of 77 miles was covered in 67 minutes. This is regarded as the most remarkable run ever made over the Northwestern.

SCENES IN ANDERSONVILLE

Many of the Horrors Described by One who Was There

The first day in prison I walked all over it and counted sixty dead bodies lying where they had died during the night. Two thirds of them were entirely nude. The few rags they did have, had been appropriated by the living. I saw soldiers that were so reduced by starvation, diarrhoea and dysentery, gangreen and scurvy, that they could not stand on their feet, they would crawl around on their hands and knees. They would ask me when I thought our government would exchange for them. I thought of the poem:

"Oh ye who can save us will you leave us here to die."

The haggard and distressed countenance of those miserable, dejected, complaining, living skeletons, crying for help and food, and the ghastly corpses with their glazed eyeballs staring up into vacant space, with the flies swarming down their open mouths and over their dead bodies, and rags infested with lice, as they lay among the sick and dying, formed a picture of helplessness which it would be impossible to portray by word or pen. This is a part of what I saw on my first days trip. I care not to tell it all for the people of this day and age of the world would not believe it. No tongue can tell it, no pen can describe it as it actually was. Sergeant Tucker and myself resolved that we would not die there. We would keep up courage and take it as it came. Hungry, how hungry we were, for we had nothing to eat, only three hard crackers they had given us two days before. The day wore away and three o'clock came. When the ration wagon arrived at the south gate, Sergeant Tucker drew the rations for his own division, he drew them in an old rubber blanket as we had nothing else. The rations consisted of a very small piece of beef and a small piece of corn bread for each man. We ate it all at one meal and had no fragments left. Nothing for the next day.

Who would poorer comfort fear when we so sumptuously dine if you smell of beef, and bacon it will hardly do to eat, it was killed and cured at Macon to give flavor to the meat. There were six messmates at Andersonville who always stayed together in the den of dead and dying. These were Sergeant R. B. Tucker, Jesse Fenn, Jonas Kraink, Thomas Hodson, John Conarty, Amaza Spencer and myself. Jesse Fenn was a strong robust man, weighed about two hundred pounds when captured at Ackworth. At the end of the war when released from Jacksonville, Florida, he weighed less than 90 pounds. He died two years ago at his old home in Apple River, Illinois. He never recovered from the effects of prison life. Jonas Kraink and John Conarty died years ago. Sergeant Tucker, Thomas Hodson and myself are all who are living out of that mess that was formed at Andersonville prison who can tell of the hardships that we endured during the winters of '64 and '65.

The dead were always carted out in the morning. I have seen as many as thirty bodies piled on the wagon thrown in like cord wood and the guards sitting on top of them to hold them down. In the afternoon the same wagon was used to bring in the rations. Every morning an old rebel would ride around the prison pen mounted on an old grey horse. He would blow his horn to call his pack of hounds and if a yankee had succeeded in getting out during the night the hounds would find his tracks and go after him, yelping through the forest. Before many hours the fugitive would be brought back and put in the chain gang or suspended by the thumbs until he was nearly dead, then sent back to the prison pen. There were twelve prisoners put in the chain gang for trying to escape, and they were kept there until they all died. Old Wirtz came to the prison one day and a poor skeleton of a prisoner too weak to stand, crawled upon his hands and knees and asked him for a piece of bread. Wirtz jumped on him and with the heels of his boots stamped his life out. So between old Wirtz and the blood hounds and the crack of the rebel rifle, it was death on every hand. It was generally understood that any guard that shot a prisoner for getting too close to the dead line was given a thirty days furlough. I always noticed that a guard who shot a prisoner was relieved of his post and another put in his place. During the month of November, 1864, one in every four died.

When the nights grew cool hundreds were chilled to death. During the middle of the day it would be quite warm, then we would strip ourselves and pick off the gray backs and then go down to the stream and wash, using sand and clay for soap. We had some good singers and they would assemble on what was known as Taffy street and sing patriotic songs. It had a great effect on the prisoners. It would revive our spirits and put new life in us. How the boys would cheer them. I imagine I can yet hear cheers for those patriotic songs as sung in Andersonville.

Cheated Death

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had kidney trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters which effected a complete cure. I also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble and keep them constantly on hand since, as I find they have no equal." Hunt's Pharmacy guarantees them at 50c.

A Perfect Balance

Of mind and body was the Roman idea of perfect health. They defined this balance as "a sound mind in a sound body." A weak or sickly body tends to drag down the mind to its own level. Keep the body in health and the mind will take care of itself. The health of the body depends mainly on two things: A sound stomach and pure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery preserves the balance of health, because it makes the stomach strong and the blood pure. People who had not had a well day in years, nervous of body, depressed of mind, have been perfectly cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"During the summer and fall of 1866 I became all run down," writes Charles H. Sergeant, Esq., of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio, "nerves were out of order and stomach was out of order. I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I used six bottles, and since I stopped taking it, about one year ago, I have not taken any medicine of any kind, and have been able to work every day. My appetite is good. I do not feel that burning in the stomach after eating, and my blood and nerves are in good shape."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

A Dare Devil Ride

IN A FEW WORDS

W. S. Young of Henrietta Expresses Hatred Toward Winnebago Co. Court

W. S. Young, the former Belvidere man but now of Henrietta, gets busy with his versatile pen again and hands Rockford a few. It will be remembered that Mr Young addressed a letter to the public through the columns of the Belvidere Republican a short time ago regarding the conviction of George Felts. Now he implores the winds of heaven to overthrow the courthouse at Rockford if Felts is not given a new trial. Young lived for some years in Belvidere and will be remembered as having a heated controversy with the authorities regarding a building he was repairing inside the fire limits. His letter to the Register-Gazette is as follows:

Editor Register-Gazette:
Dear Sir: Your bluff is called: If a more abominable—court martial was ever in any county put through in a civil court and given the name of trial (?) than that of George Felts, I would not know where to look for it, even as far back as Thomas Cromwell and his reign of terror in the time of King John, who was disposed for less than such burlesque and tyranny.

I can put my finger on nearly fifty violations of the constitution besides multiple absurdities in the testimony of its chief banking witnesses.

I can demonstrate absolutely that George W. Felts was and is innocent of the crime of murder or any other crime against Spencer Post; that it is impossible for Felts not to be innocent, or in other words, impossible for him to be guilty of the crime for which he is sent to prison.

If you or the supervisors of Winnebago county have any other courage than that of wolves in a pack when they have rounded up a deaf old cripple, they will open the court house to me or any one else to speak for truth and justice and roll back the tide of the monstrous calumny put on an innocent man and the decent honor of my native country and of its old time soldiers, and arrest the further and infernal scandalization of the blood baptized covenant and guarantee of the equal protection of all of its people, not their unequal and their unjust gibbett, by the forms of—British law, unauthentic and illegal, since the Declaration of Independence, the cut of our nation's umbilical, July 4, 1776.

If a hearing is denied this innocent man, I hope the winds of heaven will not leave one stone upon another of your court house den of thieves, kidnaper's "fence" no longer a house of prayer, for redress of grievances. I am satisfied that it is because the prime movers in this rottenest of rotten trials and rotten testaments and rotten oaths, fear exposure, that they appeared in Chicago to keep intact their kidnaper's "fence" and make the United States courts parties thereto. The state's case was long ago finished, dead and dammed and North and Attorney General Stead had no more right there than they would as rival Tichborne claimants for Felts' umbilical, and it can only be accounted for by the rush and haste of their pursuit of evergreen ideal idiocy or fossilate cohesive opacity or an overdose of Col. Thos. Bryan's mucilage he used to sell to the darkies for hair oil, "dat mak yo' har all stick together."

Put up or shut up or be men. Dont sneak.
Yours,
W. S. YOUNG.

Quite a Fad

It has become quite a popular fad among the city dailies to reproduce simple news as taken from the country papers, setting them off as jokes. In commenting on the matter the Gallatin, (Ill.) Press has the following to say: 'Doesn't it make you weary to read the rot of those rattle-brained idiots of the Chicago press who are repeatedly ridiculing the country on their locals? These two-by-four lunch counter fiends think it awfully funny when some country papers say that 'Hiram Slocum has sold his Holstein cow to Ed. Childress.' But, of course, it is just the proper caper when they say, 'Mrs. Franklin Oliver Lowden has just returned from the Epsom Korimer kennels.' Oh, that's great! That bull pup would bring about thirty cents in the dog pound, while Slocum's cow would sell for $50 in the dark. Because Gussie Davis was over to Guard Point to see his best girl they throw a shoe, but if William Henry Harrison Pook, the society leader, was in Milwaukee Saturday last to see Gertie Pabst, they would slobber over half a column and have three pictures of Gertie and Henry on the front page.'

What the
Has Done and is Doing

The National Biscuit Company has brought the science of baking close to the point of perfection, practically revolutionizing the baking of biscuit, crackers and wafers.

It makes them better than they have ever been made before; it keeps them fresh in air tight packages, as they have never been kept before, and all this goodness it guarantees by placing a trade mark in red and white on each end of the package, so that even the toddler peeping eagerly over the counter's edge, may buy as safely as the thoughtful housewife.

If every woman in the land could actually know the high quality, the never-ending care, the infinite skill, the absolute cleanliness that is represented by every package bearing this trade mark   of the National Biscuit Company, it is certain that there never would be another biscuit, cracker or wafer sold in a common paper bag.

That this happy consummation may come to pass, the National Biscuit Company will invite the ladies of this city to join them in pleasant entertainment and thus become acquainted in a really delightful way with the most delicious baking in the world.

STATE LEGISLATURE

What the Solons at Springfield Are Doing for the Commonwealth.

STATE HAPPENINGS RECORDED

News of Illinois Prepared for the Benefit and Convenience of Our Readers.

Springfield, Ill., April 22. — Evidence that the legislature is to be productive of some new laws were shown by the house when nine bills were passed, two of which now go to the governor, and forty-three others were advanced on the calendar. The municipal courts bill, for a new judiciary system in Cook county, and eliminating the justice courts, was passed by both the house and senate. Several bills amending the delinquent child law were passed by the house and another was passed providing for special examinations of applicants for school teachers' certificates in Illinois state history and civics.

Positive evidence that the legislature is beginning to think it has been in session long enough to have "done things" was found in the senate, where for the first time probably this session a real effort was made to do business on Friday, and some business was done, including what may be considered a real practice that when a member is interested in a measure he must be on hand to attend to business.

Eight bills were advanced to third reading, and the senate adjourned to 5:30 p. m. Monday.

Springfield, Ill., April 22. — With the members of the house remaining seated as a mark of disrespect, Frank D. Comerford was sworn in by Judge Creighton of the circuit court and his name replaced on the rolls of the house, from which it was erased when he was expelled for making graft charges.

Springfield, Ill., April 24. — Night sessions and roll calls, afternoon committee meetings, and hard work generally—that is about the programme for the house this week. The session is drawing to its close. If gas and primary elections are settled this week in the house, and the prospects seem fairly bright for such settlement, sine die adjournment may come before the end of next week. But according to Speaker Shurtleff adjournment will not come until these questions are disposed of. Tomorrow morning the house charter committee will meet to act on the latest gas bills. There seems to be no doubt that a measure giving Chicago the right to regulate gas and electric light prices will be reported.

Outside of the gas bills, and the primary elections bill, on which latter there probably will be a joint conference during the week, with good prospects of an agreement on a compromise bill, the work of the house this week will include the placing on passage of most of the important appropriation bills and the practice and procedure bills, which have been hanging fire on third reading for a week.

The house will meet this evening at 7:30. Bills on third reading will be taken up and Speaker Shurtleff will hold the members to the work of passing or killing bills as long as he is able.

Springfield, Ill., April 25. — The senate held a brief session. There was less than a quorum of the members present, but by unanimous consent a few bills were advanced on the calendar, nearly all of them local to Chicago, including the Saturday half-holiday bill.

Trautmann called up in house the bill making an appropriation for the University of Illinois. Many committee amendments were adopted, and the bill, carrying a total of $1,335,900, was sent to third reading. Trautmann called up also on third reading the bill abolishing the Illinois Industrial School for the Blind at Chicago. This bill carries an appropriation of $15,000 to carry out a provision for an annual pension of $150 for the inmates of the institution. There was a bare quorum when the roll call was begun. It was explained, when several of the members voted against the bill, that the house was running at an annual deficit of $40,000, and that the pension idea was favored by the state board of charities. Only sixty votes were cast for the bill, however, and further action was postponed.

The house adopted resolutions of condolence on the death of Ira M. Moore, of Quincy, Ill., and as a further mark of respect adjourned. The house was in session for nearly three hours and a huge amount of work was done. Had both houses worked with the same energy from the beginning of the session the legislature might have adjourned a month ago.

Springfield, Ill., April 26. — After the house had done a lot of business in the way of advancing bills the local option measure was taken up, and the judiciary committee bill was read the third time after the rules had been suspended. The bill eliminates the county and precinct combination features of the optional bill, and carries no referendum clause. Every member of the house received a circular letter from General Superintendent William H. Anderson, of the Anti-Saloon League, saying the bill was an attempt to kill all local option legislation.

House committee on Chicago charter has reported the Church bill giving the city of Chicago the right to regulate the rates to be charged for gas and electricity. The vote on this was only taken after McGoorty had attempted to amend the bill to include the municipal ownership feature. This amendment was killed by a vote of 19 to 13, drawn on strict party lines. Every one of the thirteen Democrats on the committee voted in favor of the amendment and by united effort forced Chairman Pendarvis to put the Republicans on record on the municipal ownership feature.

Springfield, Ill., April 26. — In the senate one bill was introduced and ten bills were passed, including two Chicago park bills, the bill requiring safety appliances on railways, and making Saturday afternoon a legal holiday at Chicago.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street, ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.
