LIGHT IS WANTED.

Some Queer Business in Which Genoa Tax Payers are Interested.

People Have Been Demanding Light on a Clouded Subject but it is Denied Them—Why?

There was filed in the office of the county treasurer at Sycamore last Tuesday by special collector Geo. E. Sisley a report of the delinquent taxpayers to special assessment No. 1 which was assessed for the purpose of constructing our system of water works.

The report is misleading in many respects and these facts should be studied out by the people of our town and if possible learn if the willing taxpayers are handing out their shillings and standing the burden of tax while some are permitted to stand delinquent for years without the proper recourse to law.

In the report he says "The following is a list of delinquent taxpayers to special assessment No. 1 to the Village of Genoa, DeKalb county, Illinois, approved by the county court of DeKalb county, Illinois, March 28, 1900." This statement is incomplete from the fact that special assessment No. 1 is payable in ten yearly installments, the last of which does not come due for some seven or eight years hence, therefore the question which is sure to be asked and the very one which is sought to be smothered is how many of these taxpayers are delinquent on installment No. 1 of said assessment, and how many on installment No. 2, of said assessment. A statement was published in the Genoa Issue last year showing that the installment No. 1 had been paid in by the tax payers, in full; that being a fact, of course the delinquents reported to the county treasurer would be for installment No. 2.

But let us see how that will jibe with his statement further on when he gives the names and amount of each taxpayer. He says: "George Brown, $3.79" "Charlotte Brown, $16.48". Goodness gracious, if Miss Brown's second installment of the assessment was $16.48, the whole tax would be $164.80. The conclusion is, therefore, that his statement is wrong or else the two assessments upon which she is really delinquent are both included in the amount.

This statement was dated March 22, 1902 (last Saturday), sworn to before G. E. Stott March 24, 1902 (last Monday), and filed in the treasurer's office March 25, 1902 (last Tuesday). Another seemingly strange move, inasmuch as our village board have several times requested a report from the special collector but for obvious reasons have pacified the members with some excuse that the books were not so that a report could be readily made. A new set of books, specially adapted for the purpose, was ordered, but no report to that body has as yet been made.

The greatest query is who paid the delinquent taxes of the first installment which was reported paid in full; no one being delinquent; nevertheless in the face of that statement, there were several who did not pay it, but were waiting for it to be returned to the county treasurer and then pay up.

Among these is J. B. Stephens's taxes against the estate of Mrs. P. Stephens. Further there are two installments which are past due and the money for them still remains in the hands of the special collector with the exception of $1300.00, which was turned over to the village treasurer on January 7, 1901, after repeated requests, and $152.44 which was returned in his report last Tuesday to the county treasurer at Sycamore.

These are matters of interest which every person in Genoa should investigate to the bottom. Sift the thing thoroughly and ascertain if the town is or is not being hoodwinked. Evidently it is, from the fact that this matter was being investigated and was ready to be put before the board at a special meeting that had been called for tonight, but the president and others on learning the fact yesterday sent out word that the special meeting would be postponed until Monday evening. They learned that the citizens were intending to be at the meeting and see for themselves what became of it and who was responsible for the present state of affairs; but no, they did not propose to have it aired before caucus day, tomorrow (Saturday)—hence the adjournment.

People, inquire for yourselves. It is to your interest to know what your officers are doing.

Left Town In A Hurry.

Harry L. Canfield, the man who appeared before the village board last fall and obtained a franchise in the name of F. H. Alden to erect an electric light, heat and power plant in Genoa, left the town last Friday in a much more hurried and exciting circumstance than in which he came. Canfield has carried his sail filled with unwholesome wind ever since he first alighted here. His board bills were not paid except when the law took matters in hand. His reputation as a pestilence among ladies is strong and for insulting and mean remarks to his fellow men he has the lead and he is loved by not a single person in the town. Last January he left the town and his hotel bill pretending to settle it with an order on Geo. Loiptien who never owed him a cent, since then he has not shown up here until last Thursday evening when he again quietly dropped in and was seen out in the east end of town. Landlord Young soon had out a states warrant for him which would have landed him good, had he not readily shelled out the dough. On Friday again his manner towards the men, many of whom had been his friends, was such that he was given to understand that his presence in the place would only be tolerated about ten minutes, as the time began to draw near he realized that his steps must be lengthened towards the limits but the time was up and Marshal Singer appeared on the scene in time to protect him while he banded Loran Olmstead $15 to get him to Sycamore on quick order.

A False Alarm.

Last Tuesday evening at seven o'clock there was a fire alarm turned in and in a jiffy the streets were crowded with anxious people looking for the blaze. It proved, however, to be a false alarm turned in by President Stott for the purpose of getting the boys out with the carts. It proved that the fire companies were not well organized and when the hook and ladder wagon returned it was manned by only three men, one of whom was an alderman whose sympathy for the two lone firemen was shown.

Announcement.

To the Voters of DeKalb County: The undersigned hereby announces his candidacy for the office of County Clerk, assuring you that past favors are fully appreciated, indulging the hope that my service has been satisfactory and respectfully requesting that you may aid in making me the nominee of the Republican convention on April 7th, I have the honor to subscribe myself, Your obedient servant,

A. S. KINSLOE
Sycamore, Ill., March 24.

Killed It.

Duck hunters are very numerous of late and the few ducks that happen to come this way don't seem to care much how many times they are shot at. One lone duck was spied last Tuesday quietly floating on the bosom of the pond by one of our nimrods who quickly blazed into it. It did not stir. A second and a third, until eight charges of shot was peppered into it revealed to the hunter's eye that he was killing one of Clayt Patterson's tin ducks.

Good Oats.

Henry Smith was at Rockford Friday and Saturday. While there he bought a lot of new fangled oats called the Michigan Wonder, with which to stock his fields with this spring. This is a new variety of the oat family which was propagated in Michigan a year ago and was last year reproduced near Rockford with exceedingly good results; weighing 100 pounds to the bag.

Puts in Power.

The Journal has put in a new gasoline engine the past week. The business of the office is such that an engine became an absolute necessity, and cheaper to have one than to do without it. Our job printing speaks for itself, and if you give us a trial order we know that we will give you satisfaction.

The combination which LaSalle county has been offering to form with Winnebago county or DeKalb county has been the means of more fully bringing to light the strength of Charles E. Fuller of Belvidere for the United States Congress to succeed Reeves of LaSalle county. There is scarcely any doubt but Fuller will receive the endorsement of the district convention when it meets at Plano April 17.

A prudent man is likened unto a pin. His head prevents his going too far.

A meeting has been called, of the people who donated towards buying the strip of land west of town, that has been used by Mr. Kilroy the past three years as a brick yard, to determine if a deed shall now be given Mr. Kilroy in accordance with his contract. The meeting will be held tomorrow (Saturday) at Perkins' store and there is not much doubt but the deed will be made. There are a few who seem to be reluctant to convey the land, and strange to say they are the ones who were most instrumental in inducing Mr. Kilroy to come. Mr. Kilroy is a poor man and all know he is unable to prosecute his cause in the courts, no matter how clear a case, and some knowing this seem to believe the right thing to do is to keep the man down while they have him.

The DeKalb Co. Light, Heat and Traction Co. have put up a thousand dollar forfeit at each end of the line for the building of an electric road between Sycamore and DeKalb by Nov. 1st. While, as the Sycamore True Republican says, "This road is of considerable interest to Sycamore, though it is short and will not be used so much by Sycamore people; but because it will be of use to several towns in the county it will connect us with whatever lines go through or may go through DeKalb and because it is almost sure to be built this summer."

DeKalb seems to be getting ready for a vote on the county seat proposition, as witness the following names of parties, claiming the want-to-be county seat town as their home, who have taken out naturalization papers within the past week; Yarsep Rantala, Osca Meika, Westerli, Myllari, Acoid Haarala, and Emil Syrjanen.

The Up-to-Date Store.

The People's Store.

Genoa Dry Goods Co.

The people of this community are fast becoming acquainted with this new, clean up-to-date concern, and show daily their appreciation of a real live dry goods and gents' furnishing store in Genoa, by their liberal patronage and general good will.

Sues for Big Damages.

Asks Forty-Seven Thousand Dollars of Railroad.

Attorney Charles W. Lehmann is preparing papers in damage suits against the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road aggregating $47,000. One case will probably be begun in the United States court in Chicago, another will be started in the circuit court of Kane county.

The complainants are Mrs. Chris Christiansen, her daughter Kate aged about 8 years, her sister Mrs. Emma Schultz and the latter's little daughter Marie, about 4 years old.

The incident from which the damage suits arise happened Friday morning the third of last May at what is known as the Todd crossing between Elgin and Almore. Mr. Christiansen was then the tenant on the Hugh Todd farm. He and his two daughters, Kate and Mary, and his wife's, sister Mrs. Schultz and her daughter Marie were driving to Elgin when the train without any warning whistle, it is claimed, struck their wagon. Christiansen was killed. The others escaped with their lives, but all were more or less injured, Christiansen's younger daughter Mary being the one least hurt.

Negotiations have been pending for a settlement of the damages, but the company's officials were not sufficiently liberal in their offers and Attorney Lehmann in whose hands the case has been placed decided to waste no more time.

In the cases of Kate Christiansen and Marie Schultz suit will be started for $20,000 each. The former sustained injuries to her back from which she claims she has never recovered. She is able to stand or sit in any one position but a few moments at a time and her back and spine causes her much pain at times. An X ray photograph taken by Dr. Christian Fenger shortly before his death reveals the fact that several of the girl's ribs have been somewhat displaced.

The Schultz child had its forehead and nose crushed in the accident and its condition is now pitiful, it is claimed. The child can scarcely breathe and it always will be afflicted with catarrh, physicians say. For the death of her husband Mrs. Christiansen will sue for $5,000 which is the maximum allowed in case of fatality.

Mrs. Shultz received injuries to her lower limbs and she will sue for $2,000. Her case will be started in the Kane county circuit court. The others will be filed in the United States court in Chicago.

The First Born in Genoa.

The Sycamore True Republican cites the calling at that office recently of Mr. James H. Moore of New Lebanon and gives the following interesting bit of information:

Mr. Moore is a son of Voranus Moore and enjoys the distinction of being the first white child born in Genoa township. He possesses a handsome bronze medal awarded him at the Old Settlers' picnic last year because, out of the large number present at the picnic, he had resided in the county the greatest number of years of any person born in the county.

His father was the first settler in this then wilderness to commence housekeeping. The son James H. was born in Genoa on December 29, 1835, a few months after the family settled in this county.

He has been twice married; has several children who are respected residents of this vicinity.

A school trustee not long ago visited the school and was asked by the teacher to give the scholars a talk. "Well, children, said he, what shall I talk about?" One little fellow back in the corner held up his hand and the official said "Well, my little man, what is it you wish me to talk about?" Finally the boy arose in his seat and said: "Please, mister, talk about a minute."

Reeves Is Out of the Race.

Illinois Congressman Declines to Enter the Contest for Re-nomination in His District

Quincy, Ill., March 24.—Congressman Walter Reeves is out of the congressional race. He declined today to enter in a contest for re-nomination and the delegates from his home county to the congressional convention will go unopposed. Congressman Reeves made his announcement at the county convention. The reason for it is the fight that has been made by Judge Charles Fuller of Boone county who, with his friends, is supposed to have things so arranged in the other counties in the district that Reeves could not be re-nominated.

Reeves was four times elected from the old district, and two years ago was the principal candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. They so divided the state convention that neither could win, and Gov. Yates captured the nomination.

Because the Carpentersville and Dundee branch of the Borden Condensed Milk company contract prices are unsatisfactory the Dundee Milk and Butter Co., a co-operative concern composed of farmers in the northern part of Kane county, will operate its own plant, thereby depriving the Borden company of its regular milk supply. This company has contracted to pay an average price of 99 1/8 cents per hundred pounds during the coming six months. Feed is so high that farmers aim there is no money to be made at these milk prices. An indignation meeting will be held to-day and the outcome is awaited with interest.

"A woman brushed against you and placed a note in your hand. Do you remember what that note contained?" She turned scarlet.

"It was utterly unintelligible to me." "Yet you saw a name?"

"Yes." "It was mine?"

"It was yours, mynheer." "She said she had forged it with the distinct purpose of implicating me also."

"Indeed," with some incredulity. "What did you do with the note, frauken?"

"I threw it away." "You did not tear it up?"

"No; merely crumpled it and threw it aside."

"Well, it had hardly touched the ground before it fell into the hands of a secret officer of the government, who was watching the countess, just as she knew would happen."

"Still I do not comprehend." "That paper was of vital importance. It pretended to give in detail the prospective army which the Kaiser could bring to Alsace-Lorraine, besides several other things of moment."

"You alarm me!" "For which I shall never forgive myself, but it is vitally necessary that you should know the truth, no matter at what cost. I am sacrificing myself more than you may ever realize in order to spare you. This paper seems to place both of us in connection with the French spy whom the German authorities watch. Plainly, we are as guilty as she."

"But, mynheer, the motive? Wherein have I offended her?"

"Frauken, the fault is mine. While in Paris I was unfortunate enough to arouse a spark of sentiment in her heart, and I cannot imagine any one more wretched in consequence."

"But surely I—that is, what have I done?"

Even as she spoke, a suspicion, a sudden flash of intelligence, came into her mind, and, though it was but a mere floating fancy, it caused her to turn furiously red.

CHAPTER XII.

Trifles Light as Air.

Paul did not see this agitation. Paul, whose eyes were bent upon the floor in his own confusion, for he was passing through a serious and embarrassing situation, and could not look Hildegard in the face while telling her of the plot the countess had conceived of bringing both Hildegard and himself under the suspicion of the military authorities.

She looked at him as he stood there with his head bowed before her, and perhaps there was something more than mere pity in her eyes.

"She must be a remarkable woman." "Her equal does not exist in the present age. It is marvelous the power she has over men, not merely brainless fops, but the shrewd statesmen of today."

"Perhaps Bismarck fears her." "I have no doubt he will be glad of a chance to place her behind strong walls, but I doubt his ability to accomplish such a thing. And how can I thank you for your kind assurance of continued friendship, even while the surrounding conditions are so gloomy?"

"Pray, do not try," she said, to hide her confusion.

It was joy to know that he had spoken in a frank way—that he seemed very anxious to take all the blame, and in so doing made himself appear more manly in her eyes.

"Beside the possibility of the handsome American being in love with her gave Hildegard positive joy."

Then from Paradise she dropped back to earth.

"Which way must I go to find No. 79 in this same strasse?" asked Paul.

He wondered why Hildegard regarded him with so cold a look, but she answered his question. But it chanced that Hildegard had that very morning seen a lady entering No. 79, of the strasse, and recognized the pretty woman to whom Rhineland had seemed so devoted at the concert garden.

Paul's interview with his sister was protracted.

He accomplished all he intended. Beatrix had a thousand questions to ask, so it seemed, but when she finished there was nothing in connection with the sorrowful event of the dead past left untold.

She wept bitter tears upon Paul's shoulder, and it was his comforting embrace that assured her the world was not all hollow, even though she had learned this terrible truth about the mother in whom she had up to this time believed.

It was after Paul had left the house that he remembered one thing—he had failed to tell her the name of the man whose action had brought such disgrace and ignominy upon their family.

She would not know, unless he sent word, that the one she believed to be her cousin, Conrad Hoffman, was the son of that same man.

The thought made his blood boil—he feared lest in some way this son of an infamous traitor should in his turn bring additional sorrow upon the house of Rhineland.

Somehow the memory of Karl comforted him—the leader of the Rhine Korps was already an object of deepest interest to Beatrix, and in that growing love Paul believed he could see the strongest possible fortification against all harm.

He remembered his promise to Hildegard, and was desirous of keeping it without delay. The school must be given up—other duties seemed to call him to fields of more activity.

So Paul began to prepare to leave Heidelberg by the night express, the Dutch cannon ball train of the period, that would land him in the German capital in a phenomenally short time.

That the influence of the schemer Countess Almee would follow him to Berlin, he never once thought, believing he would leave her far behind.

That was because he did not know the wily woman and her astonishing powers as well as he should have done in order to defeat her clever plans.

Paul had been well watched. The government spy hovered near, and there was besides another who worked in the interest of the countess—great times these two honest worthies had in dodging each other while keeping an eye on the main chance, as embodied in the American.

Paul ignored them as much as possible—he had quite enough to think about in the premises.

Should they give him too much trouble later on perhaps he would take a turn out of them in a fashion peculiar to the wild and woolly West, and after a way, to weaken their enthusiasm.

Karl was not surprised when he heard what a sudden alteration Paul was making in his plans, for Karl was of a plegmatic temperament and disposed to take the most extraordinary things as he found them.

"One favor, comrade," he said while shaking hands at the train later in the night.

"Granted before you speak," replied Paul.

"Speak a good word for me when you apply for a commission. God knows I would like to be at your side if the war comes, and it grows closer and hoarser along the Rhine every day."

"It shall be zwel," was what Paul called back as the express quitted the platform.

When young Rhineland shook the sacred dust of Heidelberg, with all its pleasant student recollections, from his feet, and started in the direction of the capital, he took it for granted that he would be closely watched, since at the time he was an object of solicitude to several parties.

He little guessed, however, to what ends some of these spies might go in order to prevent him from carrying out his designs.

To the countess it was a matter of considerable moment whether or not he reached Berlin with the design of seeking an audience with those high in authority.

And she would go to considerable trouble in order to prevent this same thing, being a woman of remarkable will power.

Through the night the Berlin train panted, and Paul, having made himself as comfortable as the conditions would allow, endeavored to sleep.

But he found sleep would not come, so he reviewed what had passed during his interview with Hildegard.

How plainly it all came before him—he could easily shut his eyes and see her again as she stood there blushing in confusion.

He loved to dwell upon this scene. Somehow, there were features connected with it that told him he could not be an object of indifference in her eyes.

Then, again, when he remembered the blot that rested upon his family name he groaned in secret.

Could she, would she forgive—these high-class German families, as he well knew, were very punctilious about such things, and in many cases the breath of scandal had severed arrangements for a wedding.

So Paul was miserable, at times letting his mind dwell upon a picture painted by fancy in her lightest mood, and then dashing over the bright scene a pall of mingled doubt and despair.

All this while the train was booming on, crossing broad plains, rattling over bridges, and stopping occasionally at towns en route.

Paul, finding it utterly impossible for him to sleep, began to amuse himself by observing his fellow-passengers.

This is always an interesting study for any one fairly fond of reading human nature, for nowhere may more pronounced types be found than in a second-class Continental railway carriage.

There were several persons in the compartment with him.

One was a merchant traveling to Berlin, a second seemed to be an old officer, grizzled with years in the service of his king, while the third Paul found himself much in doubt about, though finally reaching the conclusion that he was possibly the son of some rich man journeying to Berlin to offer his services to the Crown, his term in the army having expired.

All of which was pure speculation.

Later on Paul discovered, somewhat to his surprise, and not at all to his liking, that he was an object of considerable curiosity to the trio.

Finally this aroused Paul's curiosity, and he began to suspect that his fellow-travelers might be other than the innocents they appeared upon the surface.

Perhaps one of them was a government agent, bound at all hazards to keep him under surveillance, since it was believed in official circles that the American had entered into a conspiracy against the authorities.

Which one this might be gave him some amusement for a while, though he finally decided it must be the veteran soldier.

And the others—could they be parties in the secret pay of the countess? Such a thing was possible, of course, though hardly probable; but Paul was in just the mood to give his fancy full rein, and he allowed it to go at that.

Although it raised quite a question, and rendered his situation serious enough, with three enemies shut up in the car with him.

He had not been able to sleep before and now he had not the least desire to do so—in fact, he never felt more wide awake in all his life.

Supposing this random guess of his hit the mark, did these men have any intention of doing him bodily injury? If they were in the employ of the countess it was not to be presumed that they would seek his life, though his personal liberty might be in danger.

Anything to keep him from seeking an interview with the German military authorities at Berlin, to whom he might be tempted to unbosom himself.

Paul laughed softly to himself when he found to what a serious point his thoughts were carrying him.

Nevertheless, it was characteristic of him to take all possible precautions.

And even while he thus chuckled in derision at his alarming suspicions, his hand unconsciously strayed to the pocket where he kept a small but serviceable repeater, as if to make sure that this faithful friend was within reach.

To the ordinary mind there is considerable satisfaction in the prospect of being able to meet even a desperate emergency, and the fact of his being armed made Paul reckless of consequences, even though the others were three to one.

Since sleep refused to come, and his limbs grew cramped, crouched as he was in a corner of the compartment, Paul decided to get out at the next station and have a little saunter up and down.

No sooner did he make a move than his fellow tourists also aroused themselves.

The old soldier yawned, the merchant threw aside the traveling rug which the cool night air had caused him to pull around his body, while the third traveler stretched his arms and proceeded to once more smoke his big pipe.

Paul could not but notice this fact.

It caused him to fully decide with reference to a stroll at the next station.

At the same time he meant to keep close to the train so as to give them no opportunity for foul work of any sort.

Sure enough, when the guard opened the door of the compartment, stating that they had had about five minutes at the station, the whole of them trooped out after Paul.

This convinced him more than ever that his surmise could hardly have been such a wild one after all.

And who could say that ere Berlin was reached he might not be glad he was armed?

A LOAF CENTURIES OLD.

It Was Found in a Cave Dwelling in Arizona and Is Now in a Museum.

A notable recent contribution to the archeological museum of the University of Arizona is a loaf of bread found in a cave-dwelling in the Superstition Mountain of central Arizona in 1879, and since that time in the possession of Herbert Brown, superintendent of the territorial prison.

The loaf is undeniably bread, and without a doubt is of great age. It was found embedded in the ashes wherein it was baked probably hundreds or perhaps thousands of years ago. It had very plainly been wrapped in a cloth or mat, and the marks of the fiber of the cloth are visible in the dark, brick-like mass. Mr. Brown is of the opinion that the bread was made of mesquite beans, roughly ground in metates by the aboriginal housewives of centuries ago.

With it was found a store of ancient sacrificial implements, stone axes and arrow heads. The loaf has been sterilized by the curator of the museum, and has been sealed within a glass jar.

The Chaplain's Self-Control.

Winston Churchill tells an excellent story of a chaplain who quarreled with the captain of a ship on the way to South Africa because the captain refused to let him hold services in the saloon. The captain regarded himself as the priest of his own ship. Mr. Churchill found the chaplain tramping the deck in anger. "And what did you say to him?" asked Mr. Churchill, sympathetically, when he had heard the story. "Oh, I said nothing at all," answered the chaplain, with a splendid show of self-command, "but I may tell you that any other clergyman in the Church of England would have told him to go to h—!"

WEEK'S DOINGS IN CONGRESS

Business Transacted by the House and Senate in the National Capital.

PASS RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL

Measure for Improvement of Waterways Goes Through House Without a Roll Call—Senate Votes for Presidential Protection and Repeal War Revenue.

Wednesday, March 19.

During most of the sessions of the senate the bill providing for the protection of the President of the United States was under consideration. Mr. Spooner contended that the government had an absolute and inherent right to protect itself against assaults made either upon itself or upon any of its officers.

Mr. Hoar elucidated some arguments he had made previously, and Mr. Teller and Mr. Bailey spoke briefly upon the bill.

Mr. Culberson offered a substitute making the assassination of the President or Vice President, or the sovereign of a foreign country within the jurisdiction of the United States, punishable by death.

Mr. Bacon introduced a bill for the deportation and exclusion of alien anarchists.

A House bill was favorably reported and passed to relieve Postmaster Coyne of Chicago from the loss of $74,610, the value of stamps stolen by burglars October 19, 1901. A brief executive session preceded adjournment.

Fair progress was made in the House with the rivers and harbors bill. After the close of general debate, twenty-seven of the 116 pages of the bill were disposed of.

Mr. Snook (Ohio) spoke in opposition to ship subsidies. Mr. Lewis (Ga.) favored tariff revision and Mr. Powers (Mass.) advocated irrigation in the west.

The bill was read for amendment. Mr. Fitzgerald (N. Y.) offered an amendment to appropriate $300,000 for widening and deepening Buttermilk Channel, New York harbor. The amendment was lost by a vote of 73 ayes and 27 yeas.

Thursday, March 20.

The day in the senate was devoted to consideration of the bill to protect the president. An agreement was reached to vote on the measure and amendments at 4 o'clock Friday. Three substitutes are pending. Mr. Aldrich, chairman of the committee on finance, reported the bill to repeal war revenue taxes, and gave notice that he would call up the measure for consideration Friday. An executive session preceded adjournment.

Slow progress was made in the house on the rivers and harbors bill, only thirty pages being disposed of, leaving fifty pages still to be considered. The rivers and harbors committee succeeded again in defeating every amendment offered, though none was of general importance. An appropriation of $6,000,000 to improve the harbor at Havana, Cuba, was suggested by Mr. Robertson (La.) but was ruled out on a point of order. Mr. Williams (Ill.) attempted to secure an appropriation for continuing levee improvements at Shawneetown, Ill. Mr. Burton opposed the amendment on the ground that a new policy had been adopted under which the government will no longer co-operate in levee improvements except on the lower Mississippi, because it has been found that most of the money appropriated for this purpose has been used to improve the property of railroads or of individuals and corporations financially prepared to do the work at their own expense. The house supported Mr. Burton. Mr. Bellamy (N. C.) during the debate took occasion to denounce the Crumpacker proposition to investigate Southern election laws as designed to stir up sectional strife. He appealed to the conservative Republicans to defeat the resolution.

Friday, March 21.

In the Senate passage of the bill to protect the President by a vote of 52 to 15, and of the war revenue repeal bill, without division, occupied practically all of the session. A bill appropriating $125,000 for a marine hospital at Buffalo, N. Y., was also passed. On motion of Mr. Proctor, chairman of the committee on agriculture, the oleomargarine bill was made the unfinished business. After an executive session adjournment until Monday was taken.

The rivers and harbors bill was passed without division in the House. Mr. Sulzer (N. Y.) attempted to force a record vote, but only three members, Messrs. Smith (Ia.), Fitzgerald (N. Y.) and Cochran (Mo.), supported him. Several minor committee amendments were adopted, one authorizing the Michigan Power Company, with certain restrictions, to take water from the St. Mary's river for use in its power canal. During the debate H. C. Smith (Mich.) complained that the $20,000,000 charged to Michigan in the bill benefited the commerce of Chicago, Duluth, Buffalo and Cleveland, and not a single port in Michigan. Adjournment followed final action.

Saturday, March 22.

Consideration of the contested election case of Moss versus Rhea from the Third Kentucky district, occupied most of the day in the House. The committee on elections divided on party lines, the majority sustaining the view that Mr. Moss had been elected and the minority that Mr. Rhea, the Democrat, was entitled to retain his seat. In the face of the returns Mr. Rhea had 156 plurality. According to the contention of the majority certain votes rejected under the Goebel election law would transform this plurality for Rhea into a plurality for Moss of seventy-one. Mr. Mann (Ill.) and Mr. Smith (Iowa) spoke for the majority, and Mr. Burgess (Texas) for the minority. An agreement was made whereby the vote shall be taken next Tuesday. Before taking up this case the unanimous report of the committee in the case of Spears versus Burnett from the seventh Alabama district, confirming the title of the sitting member to his seat, was adopted. Several bills of minor importance were passed at the opening of the session, including one to authorize the Secretary of War to loan tents for the use of the Knights of Pythias encampment to be held at San Francisco. Adjournment was taken at 4:15 p. m. The Senate was not in session.

Monday, March 24.

Consideration of the oleomargarine bill was begun in the Senate. The rivers and harbors bill was received from the House and referred to the committee on commerce. Messrs. Cullom, Warren and Teller were named as conferees on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, and Messrs. Aldrich, Allison and Vest as those on the war revenue reduction bill. An executive session preceded adjournment.

Mr. Borene (Ky.) injected an attack on the Goebel election law into the continued discussion of the Moss-Rhea contested election case from the third Kentucky district, but Mr. Rhea declined to be drawn into an extended debate on an issue not directly involved in the case. The other speakers were Mr. Howie (Ala.), Mr. Powers (Me.) and Mr. Fox (Miss.). The Senate amendments to the bill to repeal the war revenue taxes were nonconcurrent in, and Messrs. Payne (N. Y.), Dalzell (Pa.) and Richardson (Tenn.) were appointed conferees. A similar course was taken with reference to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, and Messrs. Bingham (Pa.), Hemenway (Ind.) and Livingston (Ga.) were appointed conferees.

Chinese Rebels Gather Force.

Advices received at London from Canton say it is credibly reported there that the viceroy has received telegrams from Lungchin, on the Annam border, alleging that the whole of Marshal Su's troops have deserted and joined the rebels.

If this be true, say the advices, it adds to the revolutionists 20,000 foreign armed and drilled troops, capable of defeating any force the imperialists can raise.

M. E. Missionary Council.

Lebanon, Ill., dispatch: The Rev. J. M. THREE IMPORTANT MEASURES PASSED

Senators Enact Presidential Protection Bill and Repeal War Revenue.

VOTE TO IMPROVE WATERWAYS

Rivers and Harbors Appropriation Goes Through the House Without a Roll Call—Items of Interest to Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin.

The senate, by a vote of 52 to 15, passed the committee bill for the protection of the President, and preceded this action by passing without division the bill for the repeal of the war revenue taxes. In the house the rivers and harbors bill was passed, also without a roll call.

The rivers and harbors bill contains the following items of interest to Illinois and her neighbors:

Improving inner and outer harbors at Michigan City, Ind., $63,000.

Improving harbor at Waukegan, Ill., $100,000.

Improving Calumet Harbor, Illinois, authorizing substitution east and west breakwater in place of north and south breakwater, no additional appropriation.

Improving St. Clair Flats Canal in Lake St. Clair, $330,000.

Improving Black river at the mouth and Rouge river, Michigan, $7,500.

Improving middle and west Neesh channels, St. Mary's river, Michigan, $500,000, and allowing contracts to be entered into for such materials and work as may be required to prosecute said project, not to exceed in the aggregate $4,000,000, St. Mary's river at the falls, $20,000, and a sufficient amount for the completion of the St. Clair Flats canal. Allowance is also made for widening the St. Mary's Flats canal above the locks.

Improving Grand river, Mich., $125,000.

Improving Fox river, Wis., $70,000, of which $5,000 shall be used in dredging Calumet harbor and further improve, and $10,000 shall be used to improve the Stockbridge harbor of improve Wolf river, Wis., and Miller Bay, Lake Winnebago.

Improving Wabash river, Indiana and Illinois, below Vincennes, $5,000.

Improving Illinois river, Illinois, $75,000.

SENTENCED BY CUBAN COURTS

Ten Years in Prison and Big Fines for Neely, Rathbone and Reeves.

The court at Havana sentenced Rathbone, Neely and Reeves, who were found guilty of embezzling postoffice funds. The sentence for each was as follows:

C. F. W. Neely, ten years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $56,701.

W. H. Reeves, ten years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $35,516.

Estes G. Rathbone, ten years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $35,324.

Whole Family Poisoned.

Emporia, Kas., dispatch: Frank Gadberr, his wife and two children were poisoned at supper. The case is mysterious, as about six months ago the entire family was prostrated suddenly with all the symptoms of poisoning. At the time it was thought the illness was caused by eating canned goods. The family had been eating canned goods again, and it is possible that is again the cause.

Death After a Trance.

At La Crosse, Wisconsin, Mrs. Frank Wichman died after having been in a trance for two days, from which she could not be roused by the doctors. The case is one of the strangest that ever came to the notice of the local medical men. During her trance she took no food or water of any kind. She was 23 years old.

Awarded $1,000 for Slander.

At Vincennes, Indiana, a jury gave a verdict for $1,000 for John M. Bunting against Samuel P. Ruble for slander. The latter charged Bunting with having forged a note for $1,000. Ruble is a wealthy farmer and stock dealer of Fritchton. Bunting resides at Wheatland and is prominently connected.

Ex-Presidents as Senators.

New York, dispatch: In a letter addressed to John Bigelow Charles Francis Adams of Boston indorses at length the recently discussed proposition of a constitutional amendment to utilize the services of ex-presidents of the United States by making them senators at large for life.

Socialists Favor France.

Rapidly growing among the socialists, the most influential of all the Franco-philic, to develop the present Franco-Italian entente into an alliance superseding the dreibund, which expires next year.

Girls Do Patrol Duty.

Marion, Indiana, dispatch: A novel sight here is the patrolling of the vicinity of the Gaston Glass factory by girls, who are doing picket duty to prevent other girls from taking their positions while they are on a strike.

Manley Refuses Office.

Joseph Manley of Maine has declined to accept the first assistant postmaster generalship, which was offered to him some time ago by President Roosevelt. He declined for business reasons.

Two candidates were initiated by the M. W. of A. camp last evening. The board of town auditors met last Tuesday at the town clerk's office. Howard Crawford and wife of New Lebanon were shopping in town Saturday. Mrs. B. Goldman of Freeport is the guest of friends in Genoa a few days this week. Cohoon & Stanley last Tuesday received a carload of barb wire, staples and nails. R. D. Lord and L. S. Ellithorp, both of New Lebanon, had business in town Tuesday. Miss Tyndall of Kirkland was the guest of Mrs. Ira Mettler Saturday and Sunday. The Genoa Dry Goods Co. have new inducements to offer every week. See their corner ad. Miss Rosa O'Connell was over from DeKalb and visited with friends here a day or two this week. Mrs. A. U. Schneider and son Ray came out from Chicago and are guests with relatives until Monday. Mrs. Mary Fransen and baby of Genoa spent Sunday with her sister Miss Nellie Corkings.—DeKalb Chronicle. Mesdames A. R. Cohoon, E. H. Cohoon and Emaline Gardener were visitors at Belvidere on Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. P. A. Hurd of Chicago was a visitor with her sister, Mrs. O. W. Lowe, Sunday and Monday, returning home Tuesday. Attorneys J. B. Stephens and H. S. Earley of Sycamore had business which required their attention in Genoa last Friday. The remark was several times made on the street last Saturday, that there were people in town from a greater distance than for years before. Many of the subscribers to the brick yard lot have given Mr. M. Kilroy power to vote on the granting of a deed of the lot. They don't like to see a man who is down put further down. Very cheap one way settlers excursion tickets will be sold by the C. M. & St. P. Ry. to points in North and South Dakota and Minnesota, dates of sale, March 4, 11, 18, 25, April 1 and 8. The M. W. of A. dance will take place next Tuesday evening and already there has been over 50 tickets sold. It will be the biggest dance of the season and also the last one of any importance. Mrs. Bagley has returned from the city with a new stock of millinery goods: ready to wear, and dress hats for ladies and children. The ladies of Genoa and vicinity are invited to call at any time and see them.

New hats at Mrs. Bagley's. Rev. Hester was in Chicago Monday. G. C. O'Connell was over from DeKalb Monday. Snowballs the year round at E. H. Browne's. Dr. Danforth attended the horse sale Monday. L. L. Knipp was at the county seat Tuesday. The Woodmen have an assessment for April. Chicago trimmed hats at Frank W. Olmsted's. Mrs. Carrie Fite has been on the sick list this week. Mrs. Wm Cooper visited in Herbert a few days this week. Mrs. Sadie Heldt of Kirkland visited in Genoa Monday. S. H. Stiles and wife were Chicago visitors Wednesday. For Sale—Residence property, inquire of C. A. Brown. 43 Mrs. Joe Collier of Kingston was a Genoa shopper Monday. Another cargo of Browne's Fried Cakes for the Philippines. William A. Elkior was transacting business in Chicago Monday. Colvin Brown was up from Elgin, visiting a part of this week. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Root of Sycamore were in town Monday. Seeders—the Quaker City and the Royal—at K. Jackman & Son's. L. L. Pratt and E. B. Millard were Chicago business men Monday. Browne's Fried Cakes are good for business and ingrowing toe nails. A fine garden cultivator and a garden wheelbarrow at Cohoon & Stanley's. Babies' bonnets; children's school hats, from fifteen cents to fifty cents, at Mrs. Bagley's. Ohlmacher & Root will commence laying water mains on a number of streets next Monday. Miss Maud Wilson and cousin, Mrs. Benbrook, went to Chicago yesterday, where the former will visit for a while. Now is the time to paper cheap. August Tyler offers to close out a lot of the best grades of wall paper at a big reduction in prices. Ed. Lettow and wife were over from Colvin Park last Tuesday and returned with a load of farm machinery bought from Cohoon & Stanley. There seems to be considerable dispute where the court house is to be located but when it comes to Browne's Fried Cakes that's different. Harry Fransen, nephew of Miss Nellie Corkings, was baptized at St. Paul's Episcopal Church Sunday afternoon.—DeKalb Advertiser. Cohoon & Stanley are finding it rather inconvenient to supply the demand for Rock Island Harrows. They are proving the best on the market. Anyone wishing to buy a farm or Genoa city property should look over our list in another column. You might see something you would want. Butter on the Elgin board of trade was declared firm at 27 cents. Forty tubs were offered and a bid of 27 cents was refused. The market last year at same time was 21 1/2 cents. Mrs. Fred Masche of Mellbrook is here attending her sister-in-law Mrs. Wm. Gnekow, who has been very sick the past ten days with intermittent fever, but is much better now. Every Woodmen should carefully preserve the April Woodman, as it contains the plan of readjustment which you will certainly wish to refer to many times before the proposition comes to a vote of the order. J. H. Vandresser is taking more orders this season than ever before for fruit trees and shrubbery. He is better prepared and when you buy of him you know you are not dealing with any irresponsible, transient parties. August Tyler has contracted to install a carbide lighting system throughout his store and residence. He will also utilize it for cooking purposes and it will be of the most improved style that has yet been put up. Fletcher Hannah will take contracts of putting in concrete walls, cement barn floors, cellar bottoms, cisterns, etc., and will guarantee satisfaction. For terms and particulars, apply to F. Hannah, Genoa, Ill. 1f Last Friday evening a number of the friends of Miss Julia Bowers met at her home and gave her a real surprise. Games of various kinds were indulged in and a repast was served. A general good time is the verdict of all in attendance. Tomorrow (Saturday) the village caucus of the Citizen's Party will be held in the village hall. If you have any choice as to who will represent our city government you should express it at this time instead of complaining about it afterwards. J. S. Lawyer has secured the handling of a large tract of very desirable land in Marinette county, Wisconsin. Parties desiring to secure new homes will do well to investigate and secure his inducements which are very entertaining. Prices range from $7.50 to $12.50 and very easy terms. 1f

Next Sunday is Easter. Hours, to Rent.—D. S. Lord. A rich man is often loved for what he has. E. H. Cohoon had business in Chicago Monday. Try the latest, sugar Pretzels at E. H. Browne's. Born.—To Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Dralle, a son, March 27th. Mrs. Frank Olmsted was in Chicago buying goods last Monday. Dewey Breese and Jesse Geithman were in Hampshire Sunday. For Rent—A splendid residence on Main street. Inquire D. S. Lord. C. A. Goding came up from Sugar Grove and spent Sunday at home. For Rent.—A pleasant cottage. Jennie Beardley. Bert Young and Miss Lulu Koch were Sunday callers at Burlington. Scarlet fever at the homes of W. C. Glidden and Edw. Hough at DeKalb. For the best lines of wall paper go to August Tyler; he has just what you want. George Lauman came out from Chicago Sunday and returned Monday morning. Every man who lives an upright, truthful life is invariably lies on his death bed. Mrs. L. W. Cunningham of Bartlett was a Sunday visitor with Mr Chas. Cunningham. A girl may expect to find her first cake all dough; no matter how well she may be bred. A car load of Snow balls for the heathens of the Sandwich Islands, from Browne's. Leave your order for having your gardens plowed and harrowed with J. E. Bowers, the drayman. It would be a comfort to some husbands if his wife had a mouth big enough to hold her tongue. Miss Carrie Taylor went to Rockford to day, and will visit with Miss Nellie Shields until Monday. For Sale or Rent.—A very desirable store building with living rooms above. Apply to G. E. Stott. Fred White and Miss Helen Blagden were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. Jackman. Every man is expected to blow his own horn; but some people strike the wrong tune, and what a discord! Mrs. Dusenberry of Chicago has rented the Maud Wilson millinery rooms and will re-open them this week. K. Jackman & Son are overstocked on Oliver and Grand DeTour walking plows and are closing them out at low prices. Very low one-way second class rates to points in Minnesota and North Dakota on March 25, April 1st and 8th. Call at I. C. R. R. office for particulars. A merry party of young folks held forth last Wednesday evening at Odd Fellows hall. About thirty five were present and all enjoyed themselves to the highest degree. A laundry bag given with one dollar's worth of laundry work. Fred Browne, agent for Marengo Steam Laundry, Office at E. H. Browne's restaurant. Your package called for Monday or Tuesday of each week. Supervisor Edwin Townsend, living northwest of Sycamore, was stricken with paralysis last Tuesday, and at last accounts was speechless. He seems to have had a premonition of such an attack, for he has told his friends that he feared it.

Announcement. As the Republican county convention is called for April 7, '02, I respectfully announce my candidacy for county superintendent of schools. Thankful for the kind consideration given me and soliciting your support, I am sincerely, LEWIS M. GROSS. Home Seekers Excursions. Vitæ - Ore

The Ore of Life Price $1.00 per pkg. 3 for $2.60, 6 for $5.00

AFTER you have tested all nostrums, drugs, and doctors, only to grow older and worse, try VITÆ-ORE—the Ore of Life—and learn that it is the Best Thing in, on, or out of the earth for the afflicted. Its unequalled Antiseptic, Tonic Powers will remove the nidus of any ill. Proof at our expense. It challenges comparison. It is the original that all imitate. It is a discovery never downed by quacks, who thrive on a man's ills being protracted. Like gold, it cannot be analyzed or synthesized. It is a puzzle to the scientist, an enigma to the medical student, a boon to the afflicted. It is a positive specific for all the troubles, ailments and disorders and should be used in all diseased conditions.

A Witty Retort.

A New Englander about 70 years old, having learned that Dr. Henry Van Dyke made occasional expeditions to Canada and elsewhere in search of big game, recently sent to him a pen drawing made by himself of a stag, and underneath placed this motto in large letters: "Thou Shalt Not Kill." Dr. Van Dyke, in acknowledging receipt of the drawing, thanked his friend for his kindness and suggested that under certain conditions a more appropriate text would be Acts x, 13: "Rise, Peter; kill and eat."

Sublime and Ridiculous.

From the sublime to the ridiculous. The great Napoleon is generally credited with having originated this motto. It occurs, however, in Paine's "Age of Reason." The passage is as follows: "The sublime and the ridiculous are often so nearly related that it is difficult to class them separately. One step above the sublime makes the ridiculous, and one step above the ridiculous makes the sublime again."

To Marry His Youth's Sweetheart.

Henry Warren of Morristown, N. J., has gone back to Dublin, Ireland, to marry the sweetheart of his youth. When everything was ready for their wedding twenty years ago Warren's father failed in business and the son postponed the marriage until he should have cleared up his father's debts. He came to this country, has paid all the claims and is now well-to-do, and the lady's faith is about to be rewarded.

Cocoon Butter.

Vegetaline is a new product prepared from the cocoon that is being manufactured by a Marseilles firm. It is a kind of butter, which, it is stated, is especially adapted to the uses of bakers and confectioners. The article is harder and whiter than butter, which it only resembles in its fatty nature. It is obtained by refining the oil extract of the dried cocoanuts.

Powerful Fire Engines.

The two biggest fire engines in the world are in Liverpool, England. These are the most powerful fire engines known, throwing 1,800 gallons of water a minute and a jet 140 feet high. The force with which the water is ejected from them may be estimated from the fact that the jet was "warranted to kill a man at 350 feet."

Tailor with a Record.

A. Wendlinger of Richmond, Va., a military tailor, now 80 years old, made the uniforms of Jefferson Davis' staff and for the staff of every governor since then, and has been selected to make the uniforms for the staff of Gov. Montague, who has changed the color from confederate gray to bright blue.

George Wasn't There.

It was the 22d of February and Adam was clearly angry. "If George Washington had only come around our orchard with his hatchet," he muttered, "this blamed business would never have happened." With a vicious kick at his pet ichthyosaurus he strode out of the room.—Judge.

Difficulties with the Language.

A Babu in India had with great difficulty obtained an introduction to an important personage. After the interview an English friend met him and inquired how he got on. "Oh," replied the Babu, "not very well. In Shakespeare's language, he praised me with faint damns."

Storm Uncovered Old Cemetery.

At Briardels, near Saint-Affrique, in the south of France, a recent storm laid bare an immense cemetery of the Merovingian period. The tombs are formed of slabs, arranged in many ways, some with flat tops on vertical sides and others arranged like sheds.

Prince Not Wanted in France.

Prince Antoine, youngest son of the Comte D'Eu, cousin of the late Comte De Paris, has been notified that he can not be allowed to enter the French army. In the ordinary course of events he should have joined the colors this year as a conscript.

Producing Guttapercha.

The government of the Malay peninsula is planting guttapercha trees on a large scale, and it will not be necessary to cut them down, as guttapercha can now be extracted from the leaves and twigs without injury to the trees.

England's Longest Railway Run.

The longest railway run in England is made by the London and Northwestern Railway special trains to the Riverside Station, Liverpool. This run is just over 200 miles without a stop, and catches the American liners.

Few Essentials Lacking.

"All that we need to be a great community," writes a Georgia editor, "is a railroad, a town hall, a postoffice and a hotel. We already have a cemetery and candidates for office."—Atlanta Constitution.

Mail Service in Luzon.

Gen. Greely tried the experiment when he was at Manila and found that the average time for sending a letter to the several telegraph offices on the island of Luzon was twenty-nine days.

Reminiscences of Interest.

Sir Archibald Milman, late clerk of the house of commons, will shortly publish some reminiscences of his thirty-one years' work in parliament.

Living in New York.

The question has often been asked how much it costs to live in New York city. It costs as much as one is willing to spend. One can live and be comfortable, too, on a surprisingly small sum. The rates are varying. The latest compilation puts the minimum figure at $8 a week for board. The maximum flight is terrific. In Madison avenue the high-toned boarding mistresses ask $30 a week. Rooms alone can be had at all prices. You pay in advance for everything.

Honors for a Composer.

Herr Anton Dvorak has been accorded a rare distinction by the Emperor of Austria. He is the first musical composer who has been made a member of the Australian house of lords. Dvorak was born in a suburb of Prague in 1841. He was the son of an innkeeper and evinced his musical genius at an early age and received his training in the government schools. His "Stabat Mater" secured his European reputation.

"Kris Kringle" in Italy.

Kris Kringle is a woman in the minds of little Italian children—ugly and old, but boundlessly benevolent, and she is called La Befana. The legend has it that La Befana refused to go to her window and salute the three wise men who were passing. She has been repenting her discourtesy ever since and shows her penitence by benevolence to children. La Befana is nearly 2,000 years old.

Useful Potato.

A laundryman of Paris has discovered a method of cleansing fine linen and other fragile textures without using soap or other chemicals. Instead of these he uses boiled potatoes, which he rubs into the goods and then rinses out. It is said that this method will make soiled linen, silk, or cotton much whiter and purer than washing in the ordinary way.

First Hindoo Fellow.

Mr. Paranjpye, the Marhattar young man who was bracketed senior wrangler at Cambridge in 1899 and was the first Hindoo elected a fellow of Cambridge university, after studying three years in Germany, has taken a professorship in a little college at Poona, a small salary, in order to impart what he knows to his own people.

Raising Fish Artificially.

Stations for the artificial hatching and rearing of clams and lobsters in large numbers have been established at several points along the Atlantic coast. The experiments have gone so far as to make it clear that the business of clam farming or the raising of clams for the market offers large pecuniary returns.

Motor Cycles in Italy.

The number of motor cycles and motor cars in Italy for which the owners paid the tax last year is 915. The Province of Turin heads the list with 100 vehicles, that of Milan coming next with ninety-four. It is said that there are undoubtedly many more motor cars than 915 in Italy.

A Chance for Feminine Agreement.

If the calendar proposed by a German writer, which will put thirty-six days in five months of the year and thirty-seven days in the other five months, means that every year shall be a leap year, doubtless the woman clubs will proceed to cordially endorse it.

Destitution in East Indies.

Cholera is decreasing in the Dutch East Indies. The rainy season has begun. In August 10 deaths occurred daily. On the heels of the cholera, famine is pressing hard. The hungry people in desperation are robbing even the holiest temples to get food.

Photographs in Telephone Lines.

It is suggested that by placing photographs at intervals of say 100 miles in long distance telephone lines much smaller, and therefore much cheaper, wire can be used. The photograph receives and transmits the sound waves without loss to their force.

The old saying that "figures will not lie" comes near being a lie when you gaze on the figure of some women.

One-way second class colonists rates to California and other Pacific Coast points and intermediate points on sale daily from March 1st to April 30th, 1902. Only $33 from Genoa. Call on Illinois Central agent for particulars.

Hymn of the Day

Come see the place where Jesus lay,
And hear angelic watchers say,
"He lives, Who once was slain:
Why seek the living 'midst the dead?
Remember how the Saviour said
That He would rise again."

O joyful sound! O glorious hour,
When by His own almighty power
He rose, and left the grave!
Now let our songs His triumph tell,
Who burst the bands of death and hell,
And ever lives to save.

The First-begotten of the dead,
For us He rose, our glorious Head,
Immortal life to bring;
What though the saints like Him shall die,
They share their Leader's victory,
And triumph with their King.

No more they tremble at the grave,
For Jesus will their spirits save,
And raise their slumbering dust:
O risen Lord, in Thee we live,
To Thee our ransomed souls we give,
To Thee our bodies trust.

Songs of Poets In Joyous Mood

Immortal Minds Have Recognized the Significance of the Day.

The solemn festival in honor of the resurrection has given inspiration to many poets to whom the joyfulness of the occasion, the coming of the light after darkness, of flowers springing from dead earth, of the raising up of buried hope into gladness, and of the perfection of virtue issuing out of sin—has appealed powerfully by one form of imagery if not by another.

That greatest of latter-day poets, Robert Browning, in "Easter Day" writes of the amazement that will come to doubters:

From repose
We shall start up, at last awake,
From life, that insane dream we take,
For waking now, because it seems.

Where is the Christian to whose sympathy these lines will not appeal in conjunction with others following them:

With darkness, hunger, toil, distress,
Be all the world a wilderness!
Only let me go on, go on,
Still hoping ever and anon
To reach one end, the Better Land.

Christina Rossetti, who has justly been called the poetess of death, never seemed to hymn her joys without enhancing their value by a recollection of past sorrow, yet her poem, "Resurrection Eve," is begun by the sentiment—

He resteth, weep not,
And she would have us note how the Gray hours of morning, ere the day's dawning, are

Brightened by gleams
Of the sunbeams—
By the foreseeing
Of resurrection,
Of glorious being,
Of full perfection,
Of sins forgiven
Before the face
Of men and spirits,
Of God in heaven,
The resting place
That he inherits.

James Russell Lowell concludes with the following verse, a poem which he entitled "Godminster Chimes," and wrote in aid of a chime of bells for Christ Church, Cambridge:

Oh, chime of sweet Saint Charity,
Feel soon that Easter morn
When Christ for all shall risen be,
And in all hearts new-born!
That Pentecost when utterance e'er
To all men shall be given
When all shall say "My Brother" here,
And hear "My Son" in heaven!
Sir Lewis Morris adds a modern voice to the strain of Easter melody by the musical lines:

That is the joy of life,
Joy bought by sacrifice,
Pleasure for hopeless sighs,
And rest for strife,
The earth is no more, as it was at first,
By some strange spell accursed;
A mystery has passed a mystery,
A boundless hope has bid new heaven and earth to be—
Rise, happy earth, arise,
Thy wintry darkness done
To greet the new-risen sun.
Oh, soul, arise!
The joy which stirs the world let it wake thee;
A symbol of thy risen life is born.
Awake, arise! this is the very morn;
A mystery has been a mystery!

If Wordsworth, that poet so dearly beloved by countless hearts, has failed to record in any special poem his feelings about the festival of Easter, there are lines in the "Excursion" concluding the fifth book of that work which can scarcely be excelled as thoughts with which to encourage meditation upon the mystery of the Resurrection:

Life, I repeat, is energy of love
Divine or human; exercised in pain,
In strife and tribulation, and ordained,
Is so approved and sanctified to pass
Through shades and silent rest to endless joy.

FOR EASTER GIFTS.
Chocolate eggs are as much in demand this Easter as ever. These are made in all conceivable shapes, perfectly plain or much ornamented with white frosting. They are most attractive as well as being good to eat, so that when one gets tired of looking at them they have the delightful prospect of tasting them. Some of these are made with comic faces with white caps above. Others have little rabbits, chickens, or ducks perched on top of them.

Rabbits occur in every conceivable shape and attitude, from the most elaborate and well-executed animal to the most primitive conception of the beast. You can get a rabbit whose head comes off, and which is intended to be filled with candy of any size and for any price you want. Or you can have him made of pure chocolate or clear candy. It is simply a question of taste. You can even buy him made of silver if you so desire.

SOME WORKS OF ART.
A most charming idea for a person who desires to give an Easter gift is to buy a papier mache, or preferably, a satin box in the shape of an egg. In this a present of some kind may be placed—a piece of jewelry or trinket of some kind, a pair of gloves, a pretty handkerchief, a lace collar, a bottle of perfume, or anything else that may occur to the giver. Most dainty little egg-shaped boxes are made of silver. The latter, filled with bonbons, are sure to please anybody.

TWO HUNDRED DEAD AND HURT

Two Killed and Fifteen Injured in Mail
Train Wreck in Virginia—Burning
House Causes Dynamite Explosion in Houghton—Five Convicts Cremated.

The steamer Duke of Fife brings news of a terrible and unprecedented disaster at the Ohro petroleum works, the big refinery established at Katsunosawa, near Niigata, on the west coast of Japan, which involved the loss of fully 200 lives.

The works were located under the brow of a steep hill, and there had been a heavy fall of snow. Suddenly a huge avalanche thundered down from the sheer height of 600 feet, crushing and burying the oil works, buildings, tanks, reservoirs, offices and work people's dwellings.

Part of the place was completely submerged; in another portion the roofs were crushed in and buildings shattered. This caused an outbreak of fire, which reached the oil and spread with awful rapidity through that part of the buildings less heavily buried.

Up to the time of the latest telegrams received at Yokohama 80 bodies had been recovered and four persons had been dug out terribly injured and barely alive.

The total number buried and burned was not yet ascertained, but the superintendent of works placed the number of fatalities at not fewer than 200.

Northbound passenger train No. 38 on the Southern railroad was wrecked by a landslide at Coveseville, N. C. The engine was dented and six coaches were completely destroyed by fire. The dead: Nicholas Lown and an unknown tramp. The injured: John Turner, A. L. Holton, C. R. Cover, N. N. Jefferson, F. L. Loving, N. H. Link, J. L. Schmidt, J. F. Stikelrath, D. P. Wine, M. T. Rust, A. B. Lynn. The loss of mail was the greatest in the history of southern railroading.

An explosion of dynamite occurred near Oskar, Mich., resulting in the death of two men and serious injury to another. The dead: Gustave Jenkala, Kallianen. The injured: Henry Dapio. The scene of the explosion was in the house of John Boullard. The building caught fire while the family was at church and two boxes of dynamite, stored away for blowing up stumps, exploded.

Fifteen miles west of Kosciusko, Miss., five negro convicts made an attempt to burn their way out of prison, burning the house down over their heads and cremating themselves.

Coal-Selling Pool.
Terre Haute, Ind., dispatch: The bituminous coal operators of the field in Indiana north of the National road, and having an output of one-third of the bituminous coal produced in the state, have perfected a pooling arrangement for the sale of the product, about 2,000,000 tons annually. It is believed this particular pool will be followed by others covering the southern field of the state. The selling agency is to be the Crescent Mining company of Chicago, of which W. S. Bogle is the largest owner. Mr. Bogle has mining interests in the northern Indiana field and is understood to be acquiring interests in the southern field.

Rating on Illinois Revenue Law.
Joliet, Ill., dispatch: The right of County Boards of Review to review the assessment of real estate in years other than the year of assessment was affirmed by a decision of Judge Small in the Circuit Court. The decision is the first judicial ruling on the new revenue law of 1898. The court said: "Even a literal construction of the statute does not prevent the Board of Review from reviewing an assessment on realty when asked to do so."

Russia Aids Colonists.
St. Petersburg dispatch: Determined in view of the thickening political plot in the far east to accelerate Russian colonization in the territory north of the Gulf of Pechill, the government has reduced the price of the already cheap railway tickets to one-fourth of what they were and is furnishing excellently appointed immigrant trains.

Georgia Bank Closes.
The People's Bank, an establishment of Americus, Ga., has closed its doors as a result of a quiet run for a week. The capital of the bank was $50,000, and the amount due creditors is said to be $30,000. President Simmons claims that the assets will offset the liabilities. The assignee is G. R. Ellis of Americus.

Fatally Injured by Flying Ax.
Elgin, Ill., dispatch: John Campbell, one of the wealthiest men in Elgin and a retired farmer, met a peculiar death. He was raking up leaves in his back yard. In the next yard a tramp was cutting wood to earn a meal. As he swung the ax the blade slipped from the handle and, flying over the intervening fence, the sharp edge struck Campbell in the back. It caused a wound from the effects of which the attending physicians think he cannot recover.

BEJEWELED PUSH-BUTTON.

Some Set with Diamonds and Other Precious Stones for Millionaires.
"Here are some rather odd things—the first of their kind I have ever made," said a jeweler, as he laid upon a cloth of black velvet a number of silver and gold buttons, into which were set small diamonds, pearls, sapphires, opals and emeralds. "They are electrical push-buttons," he explained, "and they are to be used in a country house that one of our millionaires is building."

"Push-buttons, you know, are coming into wider and wider use. The dwellings of the rich contain fifty or sixty of them nowadays. And as a consequence of their profuse appearance everywhere architects are giving a good deal of care to their designing. These six buttons, for instance, that are to go in a white and gold drawing room, are, you see, of silver, studded with opals, and they are to be set on a plate of onyx in a silver frame."

"They will go well, don't you think," asked the jeweler, according to the Philadelphia Record, "with the drawing room's delicate and pale decorative scheme?"

A Very Strong Letter.
La Farge, Wis. Wm. T. Payne of this place has written a rather startling letter to the papers. He says:

"I was in great pain across my back for four weeks, and was taking medicine from a doctor all the time, but it did not do me any good.

"I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and had not taken more than four or five doses before I noticed that they were doing me good.

"They helped me right along, and I kept on using them till I had used four boxes when the pain left me altogether. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills has done me more good than five dollars worth of doctor's medicine.

"This remedy has certainly worked wonders in my case, and I feel it my duty to give it the credit due."

In the Book Shop.
A salesman in a Philadelphia book store is said to have been asked these three questions: "Do you sell that new book I heard my niece telling about last week? Here's the name of it (taking out a slip of paper), 'Ben Hur?'" "Have you a novel by Hawthorne called 'Moses from an Old Man?'" "I want a copy of 'When Nightshade Was in Flower,' please. I think it's a novel, but it sounds like a work on gardening."

Nurses' Experience.

Medical men say that a good nurse in a difficult case is better than medicine, but when we can get a good nurse and good medicine, the patient stands a much better chance of recovery. The few words of advice given below by nurse Eliza King, are well worthy the attention of all readers:

"I have constantly used St. Jacobs Oil in the various situations I have occupied as nurse, and have invariably found it excellent in all cases requiring outward application, such as sprains, bruises, rheumatic affections, neuralgia, etc. In cases of pleurisy it is an excellent remedy—well rubbed in. I can strongly recommend it after several years' use and experience. It should be in every household."

Sister CAROLINA, St. Andrew's Hospital, writes: "I have found St. Jacobs Oil a most efficacious remedy in gout; also in sprains and bruises. Indeed, we cannot say too much in its praise, and our doctor is ordering it constantly."

DAN GROSVENOR SAYS:

"Pe-ru-na is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy
---I am as Well as Ever."

HON. DAN. A. GROSVENOR, OF THE FAMOUS OHIO FAMILY.
Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from one bottle of Peruna. One week has brought wonderful changes and I am now as well as ever. Besides being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy."—

DAN. A. GROSVENOR.

In a recent letter he says:
"I consider Peruna really more meritorious than I did when I wrote you last. I receive numerous letters from acquaintances all over the country asking me if my certificate is genuine. I invariably answer, yes."—Dan. A. Grosvenor.

A Congressman's Letter.
Hon. H. W. Ogden, Congressman from Louisiana, in a letter written at Washington, D. C., says the following of Peruna, the national catarrh remedy:

"I can conscientiously recommend your Peruna as a fine tonic and all around good medicine to those who are in need of a catarrh remedy. It has been commended to me by people who have used it, as a remedy particularly effective in the cure of catarrh. For those who need a good catarrh medicine I know of nothing better."—H. W. Ogden.

Treat Catarrh in Spring.
The spring is the time to treat catarrh. Cold, wet winter weather often retards a cure of catarrh. If a course of Peruna is taken during the early spring months the cure will be prompt and permanent. There can be no failures if Peruna is taken intelligently during the favorable weather of spring.

As a systemic catarrh remedy Peruna eradicates catarrh from the system wherever it may be located. It cures catarrh of the stomach or bowels with the same certainty as catarrh of the head.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Come, ye faithful, raise the strain
Of triumphant gladness;
God hath brought His Israel
Into joy from Sadness;
Loosed from Pharaoh's bitter yoke
Jacob's sons and daughters;
Led them with unmoistened foot
Through the Red Sea waters.

'Tis the spring of souls to-day;
Christ hath burst His prison,
And from three days' sleep in death
As a sun hath risen;
All the winter of our sins,
Long and dark is flying
From His Light, to Whom we give
Laud and praise undying.

Alleluia now we cry
To our King Immortal,
Who triumphant burst the bars
Of the tomb's dark portal;
Alleluia, with the Son,
God the Father praising;
Alleluia yet again
To the Spirit raising.
