A Young Grandmother—Bill for Benefit of Horsehoers—Woodmen Pay Murder Claim

By a new process discovered by a scientific man cast iron can be welded together. This discovery will revolutionize the manufacture of machinery.

The Cottamobile company of Rockford, manufacturers of a four-wheel steerage machine, is planning to organize at Elgin with a capital stock of $100,000.

A mild case of small pox has developed at Monroe Center. The victim is Frank Martin who is quarantined and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread.

The Belvidere City Band under the leadership of Charles Bell will go to Marengo on Friday where they will give a grand ball. The full band of twenty pieces will provide the dance music.

Shabbona Express: A bill is to be placed before the State Legislature soon. It is for the protection of horse shoers and by its adoption upon the non payment of the bill in ninety days, the shoer may take a lien on the horse.

An epidemic of diphtheria has threatened the southern part of Kane county. The disease has assumed a very serious nature in many of the towns. Schools have been closed and the holding of public meetings generally discouraged.

Ralph Roberts, the veteran editor, who for nearly a half century published the Belvidere Standard, died Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alice Rogers, at Oakland, California, after an extended illness.

The Inside Inn, located within the world's fair grounds, was sold to a St. Louis company for $90,000. The purchase price included the furnishings. The hotel cost $450,000. The work of demolishing the building began last Thursday.

There is great excitement down in Fulton county, below Peoria, over the discovery of what appears to be a rich gold mine about four miles north of Lewiston. The gold was found by workmen engaged in digging an oil well the ore assaying at the rate of $1000 per ton.

One of the youngest grandmothers that we have heard of is visiting in Belvidere at the present time. We have reference to Mrs. John Shepard of Indianapolis, Ind., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ed. Hammerbeck, at 312 Van Buren street. Mrs. Shepard is just thirty-three years old.—Northwestern.

Lamont Turner of Beloit is at the hospital suffering from terrible injuries received by falling face forward into a fast revolving buzz saw with which he was cutting cordwood. His cheek was laid open, his tongue almost severed and teeth cut out, besides receiving bad cuts on his shoulder and one arm. He may not recover.

The Illinois corn growers' association formulated the following as the standard perfect ear of corn: A perfect ear of corn should be 10½ inches in length, 7½ inches in circumference, should be 90 per cent grain, cylindrical in form and should carry its size the entire length, except near the point where it should taper slightly, well filled out at both ends.

The Modern Woodmen have just paid the death claim in the Ellsworth murder case at Woodstock. Ben Ellsworth was a member of the Woodmen, in which he carried life insurance for $1,000, and when he was murdered at Woodstock in February, 1902, the order held up the claim for investigation, but now pays the same. Doubtless it will go to the son, who is a life prisoner at Joliet.

Veterans of the civil war are dying at the rate of 100 a day. Commissioners of Pensions Ware makes the statement, and adds that applications are being filed at an average of 700 a day. The high mortality among veteran pensioners is resulting in an increase in applications by widows and minors, and will not soon produce any reduction in the number of pensions.

A number of Elgin lodges are planning to erect a building to be known as the "Temple of Fraternities." Among the orders which have large memberships are the Court of Honor, Modern Woodmen, Royal Arcanum and the Odd Fellows. The plan is to have these orders and others which desire to do so combine in the purchasing of a site and the erection of a one-story building with a seating capacity to accommodate from 2,000 to 2,500 people, at a cost of probably $25,000.

A Kansas paper puts much in little thus: The distiller from a bushel of corn makes four gallons of whiskey with the aid of various harmful products and adulterations. These four gallons of whiskey retail for $16.40. The farmer who raises the corn gets from 25 to 50 cents. The United States government, through the tax on whiskey, gets $4.40. The railroad company gets $1. The drayman who hauls the whiskey gets 15 cents. The retailer gets $7. The man who drinks the whiskey gets drunk. His wife gets hunger and sorrow, his children get rags and insufficient food.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES

Santa Claus Coming to the M. E. Church One Day Earlier

Santa Claus has sent word ahead that he will arrive in Genoa a little before the usual time this year and that he will meet the children of the Sunday-school at the M. E. church on Friday evening Dec. 23.

"Santa Claus will come down the chimney" that night with a large pack on his back. There will be a "very large chimney" for him to come down, so that he can carry a very large pack.

The Sunday school officers and teachers are planning a "splendid program" for the occasion and expect to give Old Santa Claus a royal welcome.

All the people of Genoa and the country round are invited to see Santa Claus when he comes to the church. Don't forget the time, Friday evening, Dec. 23.

KILLED IN NORTH WOODS

Awful Record for the Past Few Months in Wisconsin

One hunter was killed or wounded for every 65 deer killed in the north woods of Wisconsin and Northern Michigan during the hunting season which closed November 30.

Forty-one Nimrods were either slain outright or died from their wounds. There are several causes for these deplorable accidents. Many of the victims are shot down by over-zealous hunters who fire at anything that moves in the brush and undergrowth ahead of them. In other cases a bullet intended for a deer finds a human target perhaps a half mile further on in the distance. With the modern deer rifle in the woods each hunter should be given an entire township to himself. Even then some would kill themselves by carelessness in handling their guns. Besides the killed this fall there were twenty wounded, many of them seriously, and the death total may be swelled by several additions in the course of a fortnight.

A FINE LECTURE

Prof. Swift Entertained at the Opera House Monday Night

Those who heard the lecture and saw the wonderful results of scientific research at the opera house Monday pronounce it to be one of the best entertainments that ever appeared in Genoa. It was novel as well as interesting and educational. Prof. Swift was devoted nearly his entire life to the study of the wonders of nature thru the telescope and microscope and by his own original invention in throwing the pictures on canvas is able to impart his valuable knowledge to others. His lecture was thoroughly appreciated by school children and older people alike.

THE NEW STORES

F. W. Duval and F. E. Wells Soon Move into New Quarters

F. E. Wells is this week moving into his new quarters in the handsome brick block just completed on Main street, F. W. Duval will move in next week. Mr. Wells has a room that will make a model grocery, the shelving and other fixtures being built especially for the purpose. The groceries will be kept on the east side of the room, while on the west side will be found the shoes and clothing. The large plate glass show windows can be used to good advantage.

Mr. Duval will move into the finest market in DeKalb or any other county. We doubt if there is a more beautiful shop in the state outside of the large cities. The ice box is a monster, having two compartments, one of which will be used in storing quarters and the other for cut meats. The box has a capacity of fifteen tons of ice and meat can be kept in it for a great length of time. The box and door panels on either side make an oak partition the entire width of the room and reaching to the ceiling. The cashier's office at the right as one enters the store is built of oak and adds to the beauty of the interior. The mosaic floor is a beauty. It is made of cement and stone and can be easily cleaned and will always be sweet and clean.

HONOR BRIDE-TO-BE

"Showers" for Miss Milner Who Is Soon to Wed Dr. Talcott

Belvidere Republican: Overtaken by showers, Miss Ethel Milner has just returned from a two weeks' visit with friends. While in Dundee, Mrs. Alice Bailey Sutfin gave a "linen shower" in her honor. Also Mrs. C. P. Todd entertained at a "novelty shower" in her honor. Again in Sycamore Mrs. J. N. Finnegan entertained in her honor in the form of a "china-plate shower." Upon her arrival in Genoa she was the guest of honor at another "linen shower" at the home of Mrs. Wm. Howlett. Miss Milner is the recipient of many beautiful and useful articles, proving the true ties of friendship she has formed. For several years past Miss Milner has been an unusually successful teacher in the primary department of the Genoa school. At the holiday season she will become the bride of Dr. Talcott, who is a very successful physician in Nebraska City, a gentleman of admirable business ability and sterling qualities of character.

WM. STOTT DEAD

After a short illness caused by chronic disease Wm. Stott, oldest brother of J. E. Stott of this city, died at his home in Barrington Tuesday. The deceased was about 60 years old. The funeral was held yesterday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. T. E. Ream of this place was called up by telephone on Tuesday and requested to conduct the services. He has been acquainted with Mr. Stott for a number of years, having preached in Barrington for some time.

LOST ENTIRE ARM

Young Man at Janesville a Corn Shoulder Victim

While operating a corn shredder Friday afternoon of last week James Costigan of Janesville caught his right arm in the machine and had it so terribly mangled that amputation was necessary near the shoulder.

The accident happened six miles east of Janesville and the injured man was brought to town and taken to the Palmer hospital where surgeons amputated the arm. Costigan is 27 years of age.

For Sale—4 acres of land, good house, barn, chicken house and other outbuildings. Plenty of fruit and shrubbery, city water. All in good repair and at a price that is right. D. S. Brown.

COUNTY OFFICERS IN SUPERVISORS MEET IN NEW COURT HOUSE

Force of Employees Reduced in Circuit Clerk's Office—Why It Was Considered Advisable

Some events of interest were transpiring in the court house—both old and new buildings—on Monday, says the True Republican.

The new circuit clerk, Walter M. Hay of Somonauk, having taken the oath and filed his bond, assumed the duties so long and ably performed by S. T. Armstrong. Mr. Armstrong will continue, however, to be employed in the work of that office. Miss E. E. Derrick, who has been deputy circuit clerk and recorder for so many years, has not yet been re-engaged, much to the regret of all who have business in that office. Miss May Russell of DeKalb, who has made many friends during several years service there, was not retained. Messrs. Hay and Armstrong expect to do the work of the office without assistance except in the busiest seasons. At least they will give the arrangement a fair trial. The fact is that unless the appropriation for assistance in the office is increased, they feel that the arrangement they have made will be necessary. Mr. Hay also desires to become thoroughly acquainted with all the details of the work, and believes that their actual performance is the quickest and best way to acquire this information.

Mr. Armstrong again took upon himself the duties of county surveyor, relinquished by Mr. Hay.

E. M. Burst assumed the duties of the office of state's attorney. He will continue, at least for some time, his law offices over the National Bank, altho he will have handsome offices heated and lighted in the new court house wherein all his business might be transacted. State's Attorney Burst has purchased a number of additional books for his library which treat of the practice of criminal law, and he is taking an interest in the work of the office which augurs well for the people as well as himself.

Work on the new court house is so near completion that it was possible for the board of supervisors to hold their December session in the large, well lighted and pleasant east front room on the first floor. This room has been decorated and is completed. Altho the new furniture has not arrived, furniture from the old court house was moved in, and the board was very comfortable in the quarters which will be their's probably as long as we of this generation are here. The members appeared to be of more importance, which was because of their pretentious surroundings, and it was noticed that visitors were more particular to remove their hats and show deference when they entered the big double glass doors. In the other rooms and corridors, upstairs and down, workmen were hanging doors, putting the finished woodwork in place, laying marble window sills, laying ornamental tile floors and painting.

AMICABLE SETTLEMENT

John Welen, Arrested on Charge of Making Threats, is Discharged

John Welen, tenant on S. H. Stiles' farm who was arrested Saturday night on a charge of making threats to kill, was discharged Monday morning, the case being settled without trial.

Saturday night of last week Mrs. Jennie Welen came to Genoa and swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest on the charge above mentioned, the papers being made out by Justice Stott. Constable S. Abraham served the papers later, finding Welen in bed. He was brought to Genoa and placed in the city bastille to await trial. He denied making the threats, as described in the warrant, to parties who visited him at the jail.

On Monday morning Mrs. Welen was induced to withdraw her complaint and the prisoner was allowed to go by paying the costs.

BASKET BALL

Genoa and Hampshire Will Battle at Crawford's Hall Tonight

The first basket ball game of the season will take place at Crawford's hall this (Friday) evening, when the high school teams of Genoa and Hampshire will try conclusions. There will be two games, both the boys' and girls' teams being matched. Basket ball is a clean, exciting and interesting game, requiring skill and physical endurance and still devoid of the objectionable features of foot ball, there being little chance for injury.

The Genoa teams have been putting in some good practice since the opening of school.

DOLLAR CAME BACK

After Seven Years Travel It Arrives in Genoa Again

Will Abraham has in his possession a dollar which has a history of some interest to Genoa people. About seven years ago Fred Marquart, Fred Abraham, who is now in Chicago, and Chas. Saul were shooting with a rifle down on the river and used a silver dollar as a target, disfiguring it badly. The dollar was passed out shortly after. Six months later Mr. Marquart took the dollar in at the barber shop. He then engraved his initials on the coin and sent it out into the world. Seven years had passed since that day on the river and all three men had forgotten the incident until the dollar again came to light. While in a street car in Springfield, Ill., recently Mr. Abraham sat near a man who expressed doubt about being able to pass a much battered silver dollar which he had in his possession, fearing that the conductor would not take it in payment for fare. Abraham recognized the coin at once and exchanged with the man. He later sent it to Genoa.

"GREEN FARM"

Successful Play by the Eureka Players Last Friday Evening

Those who witnessed the play, "Green Farm," at the opera house Friday evening were well pleased with the Eureka Players. The piece was a good one, written by Ed. Christman of this city, an employe at the Eureka factory. There was not a stick in the whole cast, all seeming to enter into the spirit of the play, showing that they had given the roles careful study. Mr. Christman has been a writer for several years and is thoroly at home behind the footlights. His services in putting on the piece were of great value to the others. Should this same troupe put on another play we predict that the audience would be much larger. As a rule a local dramatic club must establish a reputation before the people will become interested, and the first audience, no matter how small, should not be discouraging.

Beautiful Display

The display of Christmas goods at F. W. Olmsted's store this week is worth coming miles to see. Everything is arranged with taste and neatness. The decorations make the store look like a fairyland. There is no end of elegant novelties and substantial gifts. Visitors to the store are always welcomed whether they buy or not. Do not fail to visit the basement where there is enough goods to fill an ordinary store. You should see this store before the shelves and counters have been dismantled by the shoppers.

The Xmas Habit

Why is it that people will use the abbreviation Xmas for Christmas and where do they get the authority for so doing? It is true that nine out of ten persons in writing will use the abbreviated term and it is also true that none of them ever stop to think of its absurdity. The word Christmas has a meaning that is sacred to the hearts of every Christian, while Xmas is absolutely meaningless. We could not think of writing X for Christ. Why then should we use it in the word Christmas? Did you ever think of it?

IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

FARM HAND HAS ARM BADLY LACERATED ON TRACKS

He Does Not Know How the Accident Happened—Taken to Elgin Hospital Sunday Morning

Anton Ludwick, a farm hand employed on Andrew Olmsted's farm just east of Genoa, was severely injured on the tracks east of the Milwaukee depot Saturday morning and now lies in Sherman hospital at Elgin with a badly lacerated arm.

Just how the accident happened is a mystery. Ludwick was under the influence of liquor at the time and does not remember anything about the mishap. It is thought however that he made an attempt to get onto the train and was thrown to the ground. The wheels did not pass directly over the arm but evidently caught the coat sleeve lengthwise, smashing the flesh to the bone in a horrible manner. Luckily no bones were smashed and it is probable that the arm will be saved altho it will require a long time to heal.

The accident happened at eleven o'clock in the forenoon. In some manner Ludwick found his way to the Olmsted farm where home remedies were applied. At the time the seriousness of the injury was not realized and not until after dark was Dr. Austin called. He found the home remedies had been effectual to a certain extent, but very crude. The wound was in a bad condition and required much more care than would ordinarily have been necessary. The man was made as comfortable as possible and sent to Elgin the following morning.

IT WAS APPRECIATED

Entertainment Given by Woodmen at Opera House Saturday Night

The entertainment given at the opera house Saturday evening was enjoyed by a large number of Woodmen, Royal Neighbors, their families and friends, every chair in the house being occupied. Every number on the program was high class. The drill by the Forester team was excellent, despite the fact that some of the members were absent on account of sickness and the floor space was small. The team is well drilled and will make a good showing with the best of them.

The solo by Prof. H. F. Stout and recitation by Miss Zada Corson were received with merited applause, as were the selections by Miss Irene May.

Rev. T. E. Ream, in his usual pleasing and hearty manner, made the address of welcome and in doing so expressed his views on the order of Woodcraft. He has been a member of the order for several years.

Attorney Frank L. Joslyn of Elgin, who has been a Woodman for twenty-one years, made an address that made every Woodman glad that he was a member of the order. Mr. Joslyn has been making such speeches for years and has necessarily been a close student of the workings of the society. He has a happy disposition and never fails to get the audience with him. He can tell a good story and knows just when to tell it.

Dr. Rutledge spoke a few minutes on the merits of Woodmen insurance and social benefits. The doctor is not an orator, but he is a big, pleasant fellow whom it is a pleasure to meet.

Prof. Michaeljohn, the magician, entertained the audience during the latter part of the evening (with the assistance of Charles Corson) Mr. Michaeljohn is one of the smoothest in the business. Some of his tricks are marvelous, (if you do not believe it ask Corson) and he is a natural wit. The Woodmen were fortunate in securing his services.

If you want your sewing machine repaired so that it will do the work, call on Max Herlinger, Jos. Smith house, foot of Genoa street. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11-4t

Our wagon will call for your order every morning if desired. Groceries always fresh. T. M. Frazier.

SHURTLEFF FOR SPEAKER

The press of McHenry county has unanimously endorsed E. D. Shurtleff of Marengo as speaker of the house at the next session of the legislature. Mr. Shurtleff is well fitted for the position in every way. He has been in the legislature long enough to become familiar with all the workings of the body. He is possessed of great executive ability and has the natural bearing of one who should fill the chair. Not only is Mr. Shurtleff capable of taking the position, but he has earned it. There has been no one in the house who has worked harder for the best interests of the state and his constituents. Mr. Shurtleff was father of the bill that reimbursed all the farmers for cattle slaughtered by the state during the tuberculosis scare some years ago. He has happily been on the side of good sound judgment on every proposition that came up for consideration. There may be a few big guns who do not want Shurtleff because they can not handle him, but the majority of the people want him and it now looks as tho the wishes of the majority will be gratified. The Republican-Journal heartily endorses Mr. Shurtleff as speaker.

DONT MAKE THREATS

The Welen arrest Saturday night should cause quick tempered men and men with quick tongues to think. It is a common occurrence for a man to make a threat to kill when in fact he has no intentions whatever of committing murder. The words are spoken in a fit of anger. To be arrested and brought to trial on the charge of making such a threat is serious. If quick tempered men can not control their feelings they should at least for their own good keep control of their tongue. More than one person has languished in jail for threatening to do his neighbor bodily injury. Peace bonds are no good in such cases.

FRANK W. JOSLYN of Elgin, one of the speakers at the Woodman entertainment Saturday night, is said to be slated for a position on the staff of Attorney General Stead. Stead shows wisdom from the start for he could not make a better selection.

CORN GROWERS' CONVENTION

Will be Held at University of Illinois Next January and February

The annual Convention of Corn Growers and Stockmen will be held in the Agricultural Building of the University of Illinois from Monday, January 23, to Friday, February 3, inclusive. This convention is held under the auspices of the Corn Growers and Stockmen of Illinois. It consists of general sessions at which addresses are given by experts in corn and stock growing, and of special sessions on various lines, including regular classes in corn judging, stock judging, dairying and farm mechanics.

This meeting offers a special opportunity to the farmers of the state, inasmuch as it gives them a chance to become familiar with work of experiment stations and of the most advanced practical men in the various lines of agriculture. This mid-winter convention is the most opportune time for farmers to visit the University of Illinois, and also to learn the experience of one another.

RECTOR OF ST. LUKE'S

Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Ashburnham, Ont., April 18, 1903.—I think it is only right that I should tell you what a wonderful effect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has produced. The day before Easter I was so distressed with a cold and cough that I did not think to be able to take any duties the next day, as my voice was almost choked by the cough. The same day I received an order from you for a bottle of your Cough Remedy. I at once procured a sample bottle, and took about three doses of the medicine. To my great relief the cough and cold has completely disappeared and I was able to preach three times on Easter Day. I know that this rapid and effective cure was due to your Cough Remedy. I make this testimonial without solicitation, being thankful to have found such a Godsent remedy. Respectfully yours, E. A. Langfeldt, M. A., Rector of St. Luke's Church, To Chamberlain Remedy Co. This remedy is for sale by G. H. Hunt.

ILLINOIS CORN LEADS

The people of Illinois who have visited the world's fair this summer and who have admired the massive agricultural display in the Illinois section of the Palace of Agriculture, will be pleased to learn of the honors that have come to the state and to private individuals thru this display.

One of the most striking features of this display, and one that brought out as much interest perhaps as any display at the fair, was the immense corn pavilion that represented the efforts of 8000 farmer boys of Illinois. Upon these two pavilions, each 20x30 feet, more than 1000 exhibits of ten ears each were beautifully and plainly installed, and more than 600 photographs of the boys who grew the corn were placed upon their own individual product, which gave to each little pyramid of corn a personality that could have been obtained in no other way.

Mr. Will B. Otwell of Carlinville started a corn growing contest five years ago, with just three boys under his care and energy; it grew until it culminated in the World's Fair Boys' Corn contest, in which 8000 boys took part. Much credit is due the Illinois commission for allowing Mr. Otwell, their agricultural superintendent, to carry this plan to St. Louis, for it has been an object lesson to the entire agricultural world, and already the states of Iowa, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Indiana and Oklahoma territory are arranging for a similar contest, patterned after this one.

The international jury of awards, after working over this exhibit for one week, gave it the highest award in the world possible for it to receive, "The Grand Prize," while about fifty boys received medals as awards for individual exhibits.

The Illinois commission did not look with favor upon a display where the products should be whittled and distorted but rather upon a plain, educational exhibition and how well they succeeded all the people who examined this display can testify.

It was conceded early in the fair by other states that Illinois led in the quantity and quality of her immense corn display and now the whole corn growing world is looking to Illinois for pure-bred seed corn.

The educational and agricultural features of the State University were strongly exploited and many a young man will be induced to acquire an agricultural education it is hoped.

And the example presented to other states by the farmer boys of Illinois is well worth all the time and money expended by the commission. And now that the exhibit is about to be torn down, it is conceded that the benefits will go on doing good for many years to come.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Continue this Week at the M. E. Church—Talk to Young Men and Women Sunday

The revival services are well attended at the M. E. church this week. Rev. Manly Wilson and singer, Mr. Brown, are doing splendid work, several converts being secured. Commencing next Sunday morning, the services will be held at the Baptist church.

At the services last Sunday morning $35 was raised to defray the expenses of the revival.

The services this week command unusual interest and are being attended by young people from Genoa, Mayfield and Kirkland.

The Mc Collom Hotel was purchased Tuesday by Mrs. H. L. Shorey of Sycamore. She will conduct an up-to-date hotel. Kingston people will wish her success in her new venture.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

An Amusing Game Which Tests the Sense of Hearing.

Provide a large and small bell, a whistle, a glass tumbler, tin cup, slate, key, pencil, etc. Let your party see what objects are struck and notice the sounds of each. After striking lightly various objects, as the table, chair, stove pipe, bell, tumbler, cup, etc., two or three times request your friends to close their eyes and then tell by its sound what object is struck.

Change the position of some of the objects before striking them and let the listeners discern the change from sound alone.

Call four or five aside and let each read figures or spell words from a book while the eyes of the others are closed and request them to tell which one read by the sound of the voice.

Dinner Etiquette.

The only articles of food that should be touched with the fingers are bread, biscuits, olives, asparagus, celery, bonbons and small whole fruit.

Don't talk about the food provided. It is bad form.

Never cut your bread with a knife. Break it with your fingers.

Curry is eaten with a spoon and a fork, vegetable entrees with a fork only.

It is a safe rule never to use a knife or spoon if a fork will do.

When meat or poultry is placed before you wait for vegetables, sauces, etc., before beginning. With soup, sweets or anything of that kind that is complete in itself begin at once.

The Bird of Death.

But one specimen of venomous bird is known to the student of ornithological oddities—the Rpir N'Doob, or "Bird of Death," a feathered creature indigenous to New Guinea. Persons bitten by the creature are seized with maddening pains, which rapidly extend to every part of the body. Loss of sight, convulsions and lockjaw are symptoms which follow in rapid succession.

Furniture Polish.

Put into a bottle half a pint each of turpentine and linseed oil and one gill each of methylated spirits and vinegar, shaking these well together till thoroughly mixed. Always remember to shake the bottle well before using.

French Cake.

One cup of sugar, two eggs, one-fourth cup of butter, one-half cup of milk, one and a half cups of flour, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, one-half teaspoonful of soda.

Cleaning the Silver.

Don't throw away your sour milk. Use it to clean silver and save your back and arms. Merely let the silver stand in the milk for a time. No scrubbing is necessary.

To Clean Enamelled Ware.

Enamelled ware that has become burned or discolored may be cleaned by rubbing with a paste formed of coarse salt and vinegar.

The Sewing Machine.

When a sewing machine runs hard oil it all over with kerosene and sew awhile, or run the machine without sewing, to allow the oil to reach every crevice. Wipe away all the kerosene, and oil again with some good machine oil. The machine will seem like a new one; it will run so much easier.

New Way to Brew Tea.

Among the various ways in which tea can be brewed an authority recommends the following: Moisten an ounce of tea, finely ground, with cold water and let it stand for twenty minutes. Then pour on the tea a scant pint of boiling water, and in one minute it is ready to drink.

To Remove Warts.

Warts may be removed, says a celebrated physician, by rubbing them night and morning with a moistened piece of muriate of ammonia (sal ammoniac). They soften and dwindle away, leaving no such mark as follows their dispersion with lunar caustic.

A Frightened Horse

Running like mad down the street dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurrences. It behooves everybody to have a reliable salve handy and there's none as good as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Burns, cuts, sores, eczema and piles disappear quickly under its soothing effect. 25c, at Hunt's Pharmacy.

ARE NOT FOOL PROOF

Dealer Says Every Device to Prevent Accident Is Used on Corn Shredders

"How it is a man gets his hand into a corn shredder is more than I can see," said a Belvidere dealer the other day according to the Northwestern. "They are made as near fool proof as possible and every device is employed to make them safe. Once in the knives the hand must go, so efforts have been made to keep the operator away from the knives as far as possible.

"The man at the feed table can not reach to the cutting parts without leaning far over the table and when he does so he presses on a lever alongside that stops the machine. The only way is to go around in front, reach around the gear cover or remove the cover and reach in.

"One of the recent accidents came by a man being under the machine oiling it while it was running. It should have been shut off for this purpose. He was coming out from under when someone spoke to him and he put out his hand to steady himself as he stopped to answer, placed his hand on the rollers and the member was cut off in an instant. "I can't see what more can be done to prevent hands getting in."

The above is true of the new machines, but there are still a few of the old ones about the country which are nothing but man killers. The quicker they are relegated to the junk heap, the better.

A Costly Mistake

Blunders are sometimes very expensive. Occasionally life itself is the price of a mistake, but you'll never be wrong if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills for dyspepsia, dizziness, headache, liver or bowel troubles. They are gentle yet thorough. 25c at Hunt's Pharmacy.

MONEY SAVED

By Piano Purchasers at Closing Out Sale

Bryant E. Wade's retirement from the Piano and Music Business in Rockford forced upon the market his Entire Stock, consisting of a Large Number of Fine Pianos and the Largest Stock of Small Instruments and Sheet Music in this part of the state. Mr. Wade has always carried a Fine Line of Instruments and his retirement on account of his health, being obliged to seek a different climate, is regretted by many.

In buying this entire stock at the great sacrifice price made by Mr. Wade enables us to sell it at even less than cost of production. Music teachers as well as colleges and schools are availing themselves of this great opportunity and are securing pianos for one-fourth to one-half the regular retail price. Such well known makes as the Ivers & Pond, Marshall & Wendall, Crown, Weber, Haines, Schaffer, Wheelock, Stuyvesant, Krainach & Bach and the Bryant E. Wade piano, a very fine piano manufactured especially to Mr. Wade's order. Many of the latter instruments are to be found in Rockford homes giving the best of satisfaction.

All pianos are marked to close at from one fourth to one-half and some for less than one-half regular price. Never in the history of Rockford or any other city has it been possible to buy good pianos at such great bargain prices as we are now offering in order to close out this fine stock of pianos and musical merchandise quickly. People wanting fine pianos and who are desirous of saving a goodly sum of money in the purchase, find here instruments that will please both as to make, tone, style or finish. This is not a holiday but a closing out sale and a sacrifice of all profits, at the same time a piano is a most appropriate article for a Christmas gift and it will take but little money as first payment to purchase one. The terms we are making are as easy as renting a piano. If you can spare $5, $6, $7, $8, $10 per month and a little bit as first payment (good faith money) come now and get one and at the same time save one-third to one-half the usual cost. Your credit will buy as low as all cash at this sale.

One inexpensive case piano Mr. Wade sold regularly for $275, sale price $120. Another in antique oak case was marked to sell for $300, sale price $138, and four others in walnut cases marked to sell for $325 each, they go for $163. Terms, $10 cash and $5 per month buys them. Handsome upright pianos in very pretty cases, best of makes, former prices $350, $375 to $400, sale prices $167, $175, $195 to $247. Elegant cabinet grand uprights that retail the world over for $450 to $500 go for $250, $267 to $297; terms, $20 cash, $8 to $10 per month buys them. These used pianos, superior makes, go at $75, $98 to $130; terms, $3, $4 and $5 per month.

Many good square pianos offered for but little more than cost of drayage, $5 to $15 takes any of them on terms of $1 per month. Attend this sale. Store openings until 9 o'clock at Wade's old stand, 101 1/2 West State Street. We pay railroad fare both ways, also freight on piano purchased, to any person from Genoa or vicinity purchasing a piano.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Sad Happenings as Viewed From an Ocean Steamer.

The great steamer plowed monotonously through the quiet sea. No sail, not even the smoke of a distant liner, rested the eye from the expanse of heaven and water. The day was almost done, and the soft, silvery light that fell across the waves glistened now and then upon the scales of some playful fish as it leaped from its native element. The gods were at peace with the world, and danger slept.

And yet the face of the captain as he leaned over the rail and gazed with his glass to the west wore a troubled look. Observant passengers gathered about him, wondering at his strange silence. He seemed unconscious of their presence, and questions brought no answers to the inquisitive. Women began to look into the eyes of their husbands, and the children felt a strange fear creep into their hearts as they grasped the skirts of their mothers. Something was wrong, but what? A sigh escaped from the breast of the bravest seaman.

"Poor devil! We can do him no good." And then, as he noted for the first time the anxious upturned faces, he smiled sadly. "It is not we, but, more's the pity, that while we sail so safely another, beyond our aid, goes down. Look!" And he passed the glass to the nearest passenger. "You can make it out—close on the western horizon—the sun—it's sinking!" he moaned, and a manly tear trickled slowly down his cheek, rolled overboard into the ocean with a silent splash. And the ocean salted it down.—Judge.

An Advantage.

"Do you object to your husband betting on an election?"

"Yes, but it's better than betting on a horse race. There is at least the satisfaction of knowing that your candidate isn't going to run sixth or seventh."

Logic, if Not Grammar.

The teacher was trying to impress upon her class the right uses of "is" and "are."

"Johnnie," said she, "if we say 'One boy is good,' what should we say of two boys?"

"Two boys is bad," responded Johnnie.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Place of Safety.

"Don't you feel a little nervous in your new automobile?"

"No," answered the man whose clothes smell of gasoline. "When I am in that machine a sense of perfect security comes over me. I know I can't be run over."—Washington Star.

His Opportunity.

"Come on, Billy," said Boroughs, who was buying drinks very freely, "you're just in time. What'll you have?"

"I'll have that $5 you owe me, if you don't mind," replied Lenders.—Philadelphia Press.

The Puzzle Department.

"He's employed by the railway company now, I understand."

"Yes; he has charge of the puzzle department."

"The what?"

"He makes out the time tables."—Chicago Journal.

An Unbreakable Bond.

Calvert Junior—My, but you seem to think a lot of that fellow. Did he ever save your life?

Baity Moore—Better than that; he lent me a collar button once when mine came out at a party.—Baltimore American.

Refreshments First.

Binks—Did you find the southern people hospitable?

Jinks—Well, rather. They didn't even ask me my name until I had forgotten what it was.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Quality.

"Why shouldn't they be in society?"

"Well, I don't know. They"—

"Certainly their money is as good as anybody's, and their manners as bad."—Puck.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

"Whalers of New Bedford" Is a Lively Outdoor Game.

A good game, just suitable for this season, is the game of the "whalers of New Bedford." Some particular spot of the playground is selected to represent the harbor of New Bedford. All the players except two scatter and pretend to be whales. The two who remain must join hands and "put to sea" from New Bedford to go a-whaling. They must select a particular "whale" and go after him, but under no circumstances must they let go of each other in doing it.

The "whale" must be carried successfully into port, and he may resist his captors all he pleases, with the exception, of course, of punching or otherwise making a rough fight. Naturally the whalers try to catch the smallest "whale" first.

Arrived in port, the "whale" becomes a whaler and takes his turn at going out, hand in hand, with one of the first whalers to catch another "whale," and so on till the sea is fished out.

How to Cut a Bottle.

Cut two slips of paper long enough for each to encircle the outside of a bottle, leaving an uncovered space between the slips. Fasten them in place by a thread and then wrap a piece of twine around the uncovered glass between the strips.

Tie one end of the twine to a nail or some convenient hook. Hold the other end with one hand and with the other move the bottle quickly backward and forward. This is done in order that the twine may rub upon the exposed glass between the paper bands. This action will shortly cause the surface of the glass to heat. After it is well heated drop some cold water on it. Now, by a sharp stop, you may break the bottle in half so evenly that there will not be one jagged place in the entire circle of the break.

What a Comma Does.

Here is a "catch" that is so simple that it will make everybody wonder why he didn't see it at once, yet hardly any one will be able to answer it correctly the first time.

The question is: "How can this be? A man wrote the following sentence on the blackboard: 'Ten fingers I have on every hand, five and twenty on hands and feet.'"

The reply is that the mixup is due simply to a misplaced comma. Take the comma away from after "hand" and put it after the word "have," and the sentence is perfectly clear and correct.

GOOD CLOTHING

Copyright 1904 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

IN THESE TIMES of keen competition, when dealers are trying to undersell one another, there is one thing that has to suffer—that one is quality. We look after the quality first and fix the price afterward. Which is cheapest—to pay from $5.00 to $10 for a Suit of Clothes and have it lose its shape after you have worn it once and break down completely after a few times wear, or pay from $15 to $20 for a Suit that will wear from one to two seasons or more and hold its shape as long as you wear it? We know what your answer will be. When it comes to cheap Suits, we have them as well as other dealers, but we also have better Suits than most dealers dare to buy. These are the ones we want to get you interested in. Good goods make friends, poor goods don't. You will number us among your best friends after you have bought some of our good Clothes.

Our many years of experience in the Clothing business enables us to judge on qualities and the large amount of merchandise bought and sold by us every year is the reason why we can sell you a better grade of goods for the same price that smaller dealers charge you for inferior goods. It will pay you to come and take a look at our immense stock of Suits, Overcoats, Fur Coats, Boots and Shoes, Rubber Goods, Underwear, Hats and Caps, etc.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Olive Oil Valuable as a Food and as a Medicine.

A tablespoonful of olive oil a day, taken internally, will help liver trouble and indigestion.

It is also healing for throat or stomach catarrh.

Serve it frequently in salad dressings, where it will be both appetizer and medicine.

For severe internal disorders or emaciated and run down condition of the body rub the patient every morning for twenty minutes with the oil, then with a bath towel. At night rub the spine for ten minutes, and in two months you will see a great improvement.

Mixed with quinine, then rubbed on the chest and back, it prevents cold. Mixed with camphor, then applied to the throat, it cures soreness. Mixed with kerosene and turpentine, then used on the throat and chest, it relieves the most obstinate cough.

Hungarian Goulash.

Cut two pounds of flank steak into small cubes and arrange on the bottom of a flat bottomed kettle. Season with salt and pepper and cover with a layer of sliced onion, and so on, until the dish is as full as desired. Add sufficient cold water to just show above the meat, then put the kettle over the fire and let it come to a boil. Have in readiness canned or fresh tomatoes, allowing a pint to each quart of meat and potatoes. Pour these into the kettle, but do not stir. Now push the kettle back on the stove and simmer gently two hours or longer if necessary to make the meat perfectly tender. Peel small potatoes of uniform size and put into the kettle, pushing the meat to one side to make room for them. Cook fifteen minutes longer and serve.

For the Kitchen Floor.

In furnishing a house it is no extravagance to cover the kitchen floor with the best quality of linoleum, costing about a dollar and a quarter the square yard. There is practically no wear out to this floor covering, it is easily cleaned and offers no harbor for dust or insects. Linoleum is made of cork, ground in oil and subjected to great pressure. Very good qualities are now made in this country, and the American designs are often very artistic. The patterns are not merely printed on the outside, as in the case of oilcloths, but go clear through the fabric. Thus they endure until the linoleum is worn through.

To Prevent Nightmare.

Nightmare is generally caused by lying on the back while asleep and the pressure of the viscera on two large blood vessels situated near the spine and running parallel therewith. To prevent, tie a large, hard knot in a long towel, or piece of muslin, etc., in the middle, then fasten the towel around the waist in such a manner as to have the knot over the spine. When the sleeper happens to turn on her back the hard knot will feel so uncomfortable that she will be compelled to roll over on either side.

Weak and Sore Eyes.

Weak and sore eyes are not infrequent with young children, and it will be found a good plan to pour some tea which is all but cold into a saucer kept for this purpose and use this to bathe the eyes with. If both eyes are bad one should be finished and dabbed dry before the other is touched, and for the second one another rag should be used, the tea thrown away and a fresh supply taken. The rag should be thrown on the fire directly it is done with.

Grape Wine.

Stem ripe grapes and crush the juice from them. After crushing them strain through a bag, pressing them hard. To each quart of the juice add a half pound of sugar and turn into a jar to ferment. Cover the top with cheesecloth. Set away until fermentation ceases and the wine is clear and still. Then pour off carefully and bottle.

To Toughen Lamp Chimneys.

To prevent lamp chimneys from cracking wrap each chimney loosely but entirely in a cloth, place them together in a kettle and cover with cold water. Bring the water to a boil. Continue the heat ten or fifteen minutes and then cool off. By this tempering they are toughened against all ordinary lamp heat.

Keeping Cheese Fresh.

The housekeeper on the farm will find it economy to buy a large piece of cheese at a time, brushing it over with a thin film of fresh butter to keep the cut parts soft and fresh, then wrapping it in oiled paper.

For Heartburn.

Some people are never troubled with heartburn, but if a piece of orange peel is dried and eaten it cures it directly.

THE MOON.

Whether or not there really is vegetation on the moon's surface is a matter of some dispute. Professor Pickering believes that there is, basing his belief upon observations of what he has called "variable spots"—portions of which exhibit a rapid darkening, beginning shortly after sunrise, followed by an equally rapid fading toward sunset, accompanied by a diminution in size as they darken. From the peculiar character of the variation observed Professor Pickering concludes that organic life resembling vegetation is the only simple explanation of the changes which he has observed. Considering the long lunar day as a miniature terrestrial year the theory of such life becomes colorable. The vegetation, if there be any, shoots up, flourishes and dies in a lunar day just as it grows and withers on the earth in a terrestrial year.

The Grand Turk and His Money.

The grand Turk keeps his money to sit on and is such poor pay, even to the bodyguard within his palace, that they revolted the other day, and other troops had to be called in to subdue them. When a baker's dozen or so had been killed, including the sultan's aid-de-camp and the commander of the palace fire brigade, it was considered good domestic economy to pay off the malcontents and establish a new force in their place. The Berliner Tageblatt says that the incident greatly discomposed the sultan, and he would have worn a simpleton's turban if it hadn't.

Women and Buttons.

Attention was drawn by Dr. James Shaw at the Ambidextral Culture society to the singular fact that the buttons of feminine clothes are on the wrong side, or, rather, since ladies may maintain that it is men's buttons which are wrong, that men's buttons are on the right side of the wearer and women's on the left.

This peculiarity Dr. Shaw ascribed not to feminine perversity, but to the fact that those who set ladies' fashions were supposed to have maids to dress them, for whom this position was more convenient.—London News.

The Czar's Costly Relatives.

The list of the czar's relatives includes a brother, an uncle, four cousins of the first degree, ten of the second, thirteen of the third and a greatuncle. All of these except the thirteen cousins of the third degree must be addressed as "imperial highness." These thirty-three male relatives of the czar are a great financial burden to the empire, and each of them receives an annual income of $460,000. They moreover own in the aggregate 5,000 square miles of land and 325 palaces, enjoying an army of 20,000 servants.

Venus, the Gorilla.

The London zoological gardens are the proud possessors of one male and two female gorillas. There is only one other female gorilla in Europe. She is at Breslau. The London specimens are named Chloe and Venus. The description of Venus, who is five years old, is as follows: Height, two feet six inches; chest measurement, thirty-six inches; hair, dark and patchy; eyes, black and deep set, and huge, overhanging brows; mouth, expansive, with formidable teeth; expression, morose.

A Message by Wireless.

A gentleman who arrived in New York on the Kronprinz Wilhelm recently was met at the pier by a cab which he had ordered by a wireless dispatch sent when 200 miles out at sea. The message went to the clerk of the Waldorf and read: "Returning by Kronprinz. Reserve my old rooms. Have cab meet me." The charge for the message was $4.50, and the probable charge for the cab was $2. The clerk at the Waldorf said it was the first time such a message had ever been received.

Gesticulation Now the Vogue.

Gesticulation is the fashion now. Woman must gesticulate to be in the swim. But she must do it in a correct manner. It is said that the most fashionable people have taken to making gestures, and therefore, of course, all womankind must paw the air, so to speak. In England many gestures are thought to be undignified, but not so here. There is no denying the fact that they heighten the effect of conversation if well done.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Cork Curtains.

A curiosity to be seen at Berlin is a pair of curtains made of champagne corks, each cork being still covered by the gilt paper associated with the premier brands. The corks hang in lengths of sixty each, the rows being separated by strings of Chinese turquoises. The curtain ties are also of blue silk. The value of these unique curtains is estimated at 25,000 francs.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Causes, Prevention and Treatment of Croup.

The two greatest causes of croup, I have found, are damp feet and a bilious condition. Mothers do not pay sufficient attention to seeing that the children's feet are dry, especially in the winter. Then, if a child is bilious, he will take cold so easily. By close watching a mother can usually tell if the child is likely to have croup at night. The best preventive is "grandmother's" good old dose of castor oil with two or three drops of turpentine in it, the child taking it before breakfast. Heat the cup, put in a teaspoonful of vinegar, then the oil, warmed, and, the taste being somewhat disguised, the medicine will go down quick.

If a child is attacked with croup and the case is severe, give a teaspoonful of pulverized alum mixed with a teaspoonful of sugar every hour; every two hours otherwise. Next mix half a teaspoonful of turpentine and one of spirits of camphor with one tablespoonful each of mutton tallow and of coal oil. Heat and dip a piece of flannel in it as hot as possible, putting it on the child's chest and well up round the throat, covering it with a hot, dry flannel. This will relieve when the child is gasping and choking for breath.—Housekeeper.

Makes Washing Easy.

While water is heating in the boiler shave good laundry soap and put to melt on the stove in half a gallon of water. Then take off, let cool a few minutes outdoors and stir in a cupful of gasoline. Pour this into the tub, put in the whitest clothes, let soak for fifteen minutes, wring out, rinse in hot water and hang to dry. Treat the rest of the clothes in the same way, and the morning work and the wash can thus be done at the same time.

Soap Bark.

For cleaning dark fabrics soap bark is a most satisfactory agent. To prepare it for use pour a quart of boiling water over 5 cents' worth of the soap bark and let the mixture boil gently for a couple of hours. Then strain through cheesecloth. Sponge the fabric to be cleansed with the soap bark, carefully rubbing the soiled spots, and then remove all traces of the soap bark by the application of cold water.

For Rheumatism.

Sufferers from rheumatism should dress entirely in woolen clothing and dust the inside of their clothing with flour of sulphur. They should abstain from taking beer, acids, sweets, sugar or pastry, but should take plenty of milk, celery stewed in milk or prepared in other ways and onions. They should rub the joints night and morning with a brine of salt, rubbing it in until the skin is dry.

Revolution Imminent

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness, or stomach upsets. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c, and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by Hunt's Pharmacy.

A RUSSO-GERMAN MIXUP.

An amusing tale comes from Konigsberg. A Russian lady while looking at the goods in a certain shop chanced to see a Japanese saucer, which she took up and flung to the ground, saying, "So may the cursed Japanese be treated!" The shop assistant quietly picked up the pieces and, after wrapping them in paper, handed them to the lady, telling her that payment was expected for them. Much excited, the Russian once more flung the china to the floor, this time shouting, "And so may the Germans be treated!" This was too much for the patriotic German saleswoman to stand, and she replied by dealing the lady a smart box on the ear, saying, "And may the Russians ever thus be served!" Great excitement ensued, and the trade done by the shop has been much increased by the good Konigsbergers' desire to see and admire their patriotic fellow citizen.

Boldt as a Waiter.

Boldt, the New York hotel man, began life very humbly as a waiter. He described the other day his first experience at waiting. "An old man came into the restaurant," he said, "and as it was evident he was a countryman the proprietor told me I might look after him. So, for the first time in my life, I presented a menu and took an order. The old man's order, I remember well, was ham and eggs and buckwheat cakes. After I had duly brought these viands I took my station behind the old man's chair so as to be ready to fill his glass, to change his plate, etc. But it seems he didn't like me to stand there. He fidgeted about a bit, and then he turned and said, with a black frown: 'Say, young feller, what are yer standin' there in back o' me fur? Do ye 'ink I'm goin' to steal the silver?'"

Bernard Shaw's Eccentricity.

George Bernard Shaw is that curious anomaly, a literary man of independent fortune, a fact which makes the playwright himself rather aggressively independent. Cyril Maude once confessed to Mr. Shaw, "I have taken the liberty of cutting six lines out of the third act of 'You Never Can Tell.'" Mr. Shaw replied, "That was a liberty that I cannot allow." "But, my dear sir, you must understand that with those lines it would be impossible to put on the piece." "Impossible!" exclaimed the dramatist. "You don't say so! My good fellow, you delight me!"—Harper's Weekly.

The World's Population.

In "Die Bevoelkerung der Erde" Dr. Supan gives results of the latest censuses and estimates concerning the population of America, Africa and the polar lands, the changes of figures in parts of Europe that have affected the European total, together with the latest results in Asia, Australia and New Zealand. He then sums up his estimates of the population of the world as follows: Europe, 392,264,000; Asia, 819,556,000; Africa, 140,700,000; Australia and Polynesia, 6,488,000; North America, 105,714,000; South America, 38,482,000; polar lands, 91,000; total, 1,503,290,000.

An Ingenious Apparatus.

The stroboscope is an ingenious apparatus for making visible rapid movements, like those of machinery. The moving object is illuminated by a rapid succession of electric sparks, which cause the machine to appear stationary when their period coincides with the revolutions, but show the movement much retarded when they are made to lag behind. The formation of a sewing machine stitch or the working of an engine and many other machine movements can be studied, although their actual speed is much too rapid for vision.

Mrs. "Pat" Campbell's Pun.

"Will you kindly tell us," a New York reporter asked of Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the actress, "why you are so frequently cold and unresponsive to—to our profession, don't you know? Have you any grouch against newspapers?" "Not a thing—except one," she replied. "They will now and again call me 'Mrs. Pat.' I can't stand that 'Pat.' It is the last straw that breaks the Campbell's back."

England's Four Hundred Millions.

The British empire today numbers 400,543,713 citizens. The recent completion of the Cape census enables the total to be made up. Over 11,876,745 square miles of British citizens are dotted to the number of about thirty-six per square mile.—London Mail.

Hard to Understand.

The Japanese minister to France is something of an epigrammatist, as is shown by the following: "When we had to our credit only great artists they treated us as barbarians. Now that we are killing people, they say we are civilized."

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Proper Way to Change Sheets on an Invalid's Bed.

Keeping the bed as smooth and fresh as the invalid's condition will permit can't be too strongly urged. Every one knows what a torment it is to lie on sheets that are hot and wrinkled. Unless the patient suffers with a brain or heart trouble the bedding can usually be changed. Roll up the old sheet from one side of the bed close to the invalid's body. Now spread a fresh sheet over the part of the mattress exposed, laying it on just as it should properly go. The rest of the sheet must be folded narrowly in a long fold that lies close to the roll of soiled sheet. Lift the patient slightly and draw both rolls swiftly underneath her to the other side. This done, the old sheet can be snatched off and the half of the fresh one spread out. It can all be accomplished without uncovering the patient. To put on a new top sheet without disturbing the bed covers pull them out at the bottom and tuck in the fresh sheet. Twist the rest into a roll that runs straight across the bed. Slip this under the soiled top sheet and tuck in all but that at the foot of the bed. Now unroll the sheet over the invalid and gently pull out the old one.

Boiled Icing.

Boil slowly together a pound of granulated sugar and a gill of water. Do not stir. Test by dipping the point of a fork into the sirup. When a hairlike thread floats from the tip of the fork take the sirup from the fire and beat to a creamy paste. If it becomes too stiff to stir work with the hands. Spread on the cake with a knife dipped in hot water. If it becomes hard too soon set the vessel containing it in an outer vessel of scalding water.

To Tell Oleomargarine.

Various substitutes may be quite as good from a food point of view as butter, but nobody will care to pay the same price for the two. A simple way to test whether margarine is present in your butter is to burn a little on the end of a pocketknife, and if there is a smell given off similar to that of a blown out candle margarine is present.

Potted Pigeons.

Clean, wash, wipe dry inside and out, stuff with dressing as for chickens and sew up. Fry salt pork to a crisp. Take out slices and brown the pigeons. Take them out, add water, half a cup of butter and when hot return the pigeons. Simmer until done, about thirty minutes. Serve with the thickened gravy poured over them.

Button Bag.

Take a piece of denim or cretonne, cut out round, using a dinner plate to cut with, or hem the edges and sew brass rings every two inches all around. Run tape through, and it is finished. This is convenient because when you want a button you just open the bag and they are all laid out before you.

Cornmeal Dumplings.

Add a little salt to two cups of cornmeal, and mix with it enough of the liquor in which a ham was boiled to make a rather stiff dough. Mold into balls. Drop these in the boiling ham broth and boil for thirty minutes. Serve at once.

The Cooking Smell.

To remove the smell of cooking pour into a pint of boiling water a few drops of oil of lavender. Open the window of the room and carry the basin around a few times. In a few minutes all odor of cooking will have disappeared.

Washing Linen.

A little pipeclay dissolved in the water used in washing linen saves a great deal of labor and soap and cleans the dirtiest linen thoroughly. This method is especially useful in towns where outdoor bleaching is generally an impossibility.

How to Keep Cider.

Mix one ounce of salicylic acid thoroughly with a gallon of sweet cider, then add the whole to a barrel of fresh cider. This should be done after the cider has worked itself clear, but not hard. Bottle and seal.

Homemade Tomato Vinegar.

Mash one quart of ripe tomatoes to a pulp. Strain the juice and put in a jar with one teacup of sugar or molasses. Fill the jar with soft water and set in the sun for two weeks.—Good Housekeeping.

To Keep Cake Moist.

To keep a fruit or seed cake moist place it in an airtight tin with a good sound apple, renewing the apple if it becomes in the least decayed.

The Clothesline.

Before using the rope you have bought for a new clothesline boil it and let it dry. In this way it is properly shrunk, and it is also made more durable.

Robbed Himself.

A story which recalls Thomas Ingoldsby's "Spectre of Tappington" comes from the German town of Tubingen. A certain jeweler of the town complained to the police that his house was burglarized nearly every night and that they had better do something about it. A detective was set to watch the shop, and he caught the thief, who, as the astute reader has already guessed, was the jeweler himself. He was a somnambulist. It seems a pity that a talent for burglary should be wasted on one's own property.

Breaking Into Jail.

A German cripple has succeeded in beating the kaiser's government in a clever way. He recently wandered into a police station, borrowed a pencil and piece of paper and wrote something against the kaiser, handed it to the desk man and was arrested for leze majesty at once. This was what he wanted. He had been in jail for nine terms for similar offenses and said he found jail more comfortable than the poorhouse.

COWS' MILK BRINGS ENORMOUS INCOME TO THE AMERICAN FARMER.

ITS FOOD QUALITIES.

The average income from each cow throughout the United States is about $27.00 per year. In some states, notably Pennsylvania, they bring their owners an income on an average of $38.00 each a year. There are over seventeen million milk cows in the United States, according to the last census. Of the states Iowa has the lead with over five million and a half horned cattle. Milk is healthy and fattening when fresh and from good, healthy cattle. It is good for consumptives and those weakened by disease. The only danger comes from the fact that milk affords a splendid medium for germs of typhoid fever and consumption to grow in and then infect the blood of the person drinking it. Again, the cows themselves often suffer from tuberculosis or consumption, and this can infect the human being drinking their milk. When we come to count our chances for taking disease however, we should not fear infection unless our blood is in disorder and our constitution run down. Many thousands of cases have been known where persons who were suffering from incipient phthisis, or the early stages of consumption, were absolutely cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains a person's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate the proper nutritious food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and relieves indigestion, and the person is thereby saved from fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common. For sale at all drug stores.

Announcement
Genoa, Ill., Dec. 5, 1904.
Mr. Will H. Jackman was on Dec. 1, 1904, taken into full partnership in the Grain and Coal business formerly operated by Frank H. Jackman under the name of Jackman & Son. He has, as manager, had nearly complete charge of the business for the past two years. There will be no change in business policy. We shall aim in the future, as we have in the past, to extend to all courteous, fair and honest treatment. Thanking the public for past favors and hoping to merit and receive a continuance of the same.
We are Very Respectfully

To Form New Lodge
E. A. Winne of Belvidere, a district deputy of the Woodmen of the World was here this week in the interests of that order and to secure charter members for the organization of a local lodge. The Woodmen of the World is a fraternal insurance organization having a membership of about 400,000 and has been in existence about fourteen years. They already have a large reserve fund of $1,750,000 and are considered as secure as any old line company, with rates much less. A lodge of this kind has just been started at Kingston with a charter membership of twenty-five.

Gigantic Beyond Conception

THE OPENING of Genoa's Greatest Clothing Sale
Wednesday, December 7th, 1904

No such crowds were ever witnessed in this part of the country. People came in droves for miles and miles to participate in the grand distribution of incomparable bargains. We are demoralizing competition and delighting people who are coming miles and miles and miles. They come and they go, and come again, more eager than ever before. No such bargains ever offered by any Clothing House in the state of Illinois and attempts to compare with us only show in bolder relief the towering values we are offering at this wonderful sale. Remember our double guarantee with every purchase. Don't be misled by fraudulent advertisements.

The Big Sale is now on in Full Blast at

ELDER'S SALARY

Methodists Give Slight Increase to Presiding Elder Earney

Representatives of the Methodist churches of Rockford district met at Court Street M. E. church at Rockford Friday afternoon to decide upon the salary of the presiding elder and to make the appointments for the various missionary and benevolent purposes. Rev. Dr. Samuel Earney, the presiding elder of the district, presided, and there were a number of prominent Methodists present from every part of the district.
The board of district stewards decided on a certain percentage for Dr. Earney's salary which will bring it to about $2,300. This is a slight increase. Dr. Earney is, however, required to pay his own house rent, traveling expenses, and part of the salary generally is not forth coming, owing to delinquency on the part of some of the smaller congregations.

An interesting part of the session was the report of the various churches showing the membership, from which the appropriation committee sets its figures. The reports show 7,708 members in the district. One of Rockford's Methodist churches, Court street, is rapidly nearing the 1,000 mark, having already an eighth of the membership of the district.

A special committee on benevolence was appointed, with Dr. Earney as chairman. Three ministers and three laymen of Rockford were chosen as follows: Rev. Dr. Frank D. Sheets, Rev. Harlow V. Holt, Rev. Frank B. Hardin, A. S. Horton, Will Shimm and Charles Youngs.

Missionary causes, both home and foreign, receive the large amount of the district appropriation, which is being calculated. Foreign missions receive the larger percentage of these two, as the Methodist work in such fields is rapidly growing, while the general church work is taking the place of the home mission work.

Butter Market

The quotation committee declared the official market firm at 26 1/2 cents on the Elgin board of trade Monday.

The factorymen reported a slight increase in the output but not enough to fill their orders, which were urgent from all sections. The general run of creamery stock in the market showing up irregular in quality. Outside markets all reported shortage of fancy creamery and prices higher. Seasonable weather with a light snow compelling farmers to keep their cows indoors. From this time on increase in the milk is looked for.

Clear Lake Jute Brings Thirty-six Cents a Pound Live Weight

Clear Lake Jute, grand champion steer of the International Live Stock Exposition, was sold at auction last Friday, in front of the Exchange Building in the stock yards, to the United Dressed Beet company of New York city. The animal brought 36 cents a pound, or about $700. This is but $100 more than the Minnesota state experimental farm paid for the beast originally. Jute will enjoy a ride to Gotham in a palace stock car. He will be placed upon the auction block again, and in all probability be killed a few days before Christmas and his choice parts served to epicures in one of New York's leading hotels or restaurants.

For three years Clear Lake Jute captured high honors in many exhibitions. In 1902 he won the calf championship of all breeds at the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago, after which he was purchased at auction for $600 by the Minnesota state experimental station of St. Anthony Park, Minn.

Clear Lake Jute was shown last year, and although he won honors he did not reach the top ring on the ladder of fame in the animal kingdom until the other day, when he was adjudged grand champion steer of the International exposition. Clear Lake Jute is a pure bred Aberdeen Angus. He is strictly a Minnesota product, having been bred at Clear Lake in that state.

What It Cost

A merchant in a neighboring town states that his advertising last year cost him fifty-four cents for every $100 worth of goods sold. He used half a page for his business announcement each week and says that as long as people read newspapers he will advertise. There's a man possessed of a good head. Just as soon as merchants begin to look upon advertising as a branch of their business which requires careful attention, then will advertising pay. Honesty, force, persistency and originality in advertising makes a paying investment.

Republican-Journal $1.00 a year.

Want Husking Machines

A farmer complains that if a machine is not soon invented to husk corn, corn raising will have to be abandoned, for it is getting so that it is impossible to hire help to do the work. In the central part of the state the corn husker now demands double wages, because the corn is down. Perhaps, by and by, when we utilize the corn stalks for making paper, we shall be able to do the work of harvesting the crop by machinery.
