John Keed Dies of Heart Disease at Monroe Center—More Gossip About Electric Road

The Hebrews of Aurora will build a synagogue in that city to cost $10,000.

Lee county pays $150 a year each to nine persons who are totally blind.

The members of the Lutheran church at Hampshire have decided to erect a new parsonage on the lot just east of their church.

Miss Cora Moore, 23 years of age took the highest mark in civil service examination for rural mail carriers and will no doubt get the route from Batavia, 25 miles in length.

John Keed was found dead from heart disease last Monday morning in the hog pen on his farm near Monroe Center. He had gone to feed the animals and some time later was discovered lying in the pen, dead. He was one of the oldest settlers in that vicinity. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1828 and came here in 1850. The hogs had eaten off part of his face before the body was found.

Jordan Frieze, the eight-year old son of Mrs. Nora Frieze, was accidentally killed by his brother James, eleven years of age. The children were left alone in the house Tuesday and James found his mother's revolver. In trying to remove a cartridge, he hit the trigger and it went off, the bullet striking the other lad over the left eye. His aunt had him taken to the Sycamore hospital to be operated upon, but nothing could be done and he died Wednesday without regaining consciousness.

Marengo News: According to the Rockford Register-Gazette's Belvidere correspondent, the people of Belvidere are talking of holding a mass meeting for the purpose of influencing the proposed new electric road to build by way of Genoa. It looks as if Marengo alone would have to do most of the fighting to induce the promoters to come this way. The fight might become mighty interesting if our people could get shoulder to shoulder on the deal. Shall we take our coats off and go after it, or sit down with folded arms and let it go the other way? Let the spirit of progress permeate our whole being, then we can accomplish something. Shall we get busy?

Frank Ward, a prominent Rockford business man, was assessed two thousand dollars by a jury in the circuit court at Rockford, one day last week in a suit brought by Mrs. Isabella Meridith of Winnebago, for damages she received by being thrown from her carriage while driving to the city last April. The noise of the automobile which Mr. Ward was running frightened the Meredith horse which became unmanageable and ran away, overturning the carriage and hurling Mrs. Meredith with great force on the hard road, inflicting injuries from which she will never escape. It was proven that the Ward machine was running at a greater speed than twenty-five miles an hour and the jury quickly agreed on the amount of the verdict.

MRS. LOUISE PRATT

Died Sunday Morning—Funeral services Held Wednesday Afternoon

Mrs. Louise Wiltse Pratt, maiden name Wiltse, was born in Green county, New York State August 29, 1843, and died at her home in Genoa township, Sunday morning, February 19, 1905, being 62 years, 6 months and 20 days of age at the time of her decease.

In the year of 1882 she moved from New York with her husband and family and settled at Cortland, in DeKalb County, where she lived until about eight years ago when the family moved to Genoa, Ill.

In the year 1863 she was united in marriage to Mr. L. M. Pratt while living in New York State and into their home ten children were born, seven of whom survive their departed mother.

Mrs. Pratt was the daughter of Mr. William and Poebie Wiltse and was one of eight children, of whom only two remain, one brother, Mr. William Wiltse, and one sister, Mrs. Thankful Lewis, both of Schoharie, county, N. Y.

In her own immediate family she leaves, besides her bereaved husband Mr. Wm. Pratt who naturally mourns the separation of his beloved wife who walked by his side for so many years, five daughters and two sons all of whom sadly realize the great loss of a devoted, helpful, loving, Christian mother.

Her daughters are Mrs. Margaret Fulcher, Mrs. Alberta Young, Mrs. Stella Pierce, Miss Anna and Florence Pratt all of Genoa, Ill. Her sons are Mr. Otis E. Pratt of Beaver Crossing, Nebraska and John W. Pratt of Genoa Ill.

She also leaves several distant relatives in DeKalb county and a great many neighbors and friends all of whom realize in her death the loss of a good Christian woman.

Her Christian life has been most consistent from girlhood to the very end of life's journey. She was converted when a girl 17 years of age and was baptized in the Christian faith and joined the M. E. church immediately after her conversion, and was a faithful member of the same at the time of her death.

She was a helpful, faithful wife and a sympathetic, prayerful mother always concerned about the highest interests of her loved ones.

She was a lover of the home and her blessed influence in her household will never fade.

God's word and daily prayer became her guide and refuge through all of life's journey.

About two years ago her health became decidedly poor and her vitality gradually sank until the end when "God called her home." At times her suffering was intense, but she bravely faced it all still trusting in her Saviour.

At times she would say, "I am waiting to go, but I do not want to be impatient. God knows best." And among her last expressions was this, "Praise the Lord." And for her at last the promise has been surely fulfilled.

"And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes, and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away."

NO FUNDS IN BANK

But E. J. Brown of Sycamore Writes Checks and Is Arrested

Officer Fay of this city received word from Sycamore Friday to look out for a man named E. J. Brown, who was wanted for procuring money under false pretenses.

The man was arrested at 1 o'clock Saturday morning at the C. M. & St. P. depot and his dreams of a hurried western trip were cut short. He languished in the village bastille until Saturday noon when the marshal from Sycamore took him in charge.

Brown is accused of drawing checks on the Daniel Pierce bank at the county seat with a full knowledge of the fact that he had no funds therein. He discovered that the officers were after him Friday and made the fatal mistake of trying to pass thru Genoa on his pleasure trip. This makes two Sycamore birds that Officer Fay has caged here recently. Perhaps the next will try a different route.

When interviewed at the jail Saturday by the Republican-Journal reporter, Brown confessed to having signed one check, but claimed that he was under the impression that he had funds in the bank. He next confessed that he was drunk the day he wrote the check. In that condition, he might have had the impression he was John D. Rockefeller or J. P. Morgan. Brown's parents reside in Sycamore.

It is stated that he has once before been brought up on a similar charge but escaped punishment. It will probably go hard with him this time.

Brown waived examination, and in default of a $500 bond was placed in the county jail to await a hearing at the coming term of the circuit court.

Matched Game

There was a matched game of billiards at the Redwood parlors Monday evening with E. A. Sowers and Roy Hollembeak on one side and Fred Smith and Alfred Cochran on the other. During the game there were many marvelous shots made, some that Wizard Schaffer would not attempt to explain. The feature of the contest was the decisions made by Referee Prain. What he does not know about the game is not worth recording and his decisions were decidedly emphatic. Smith and Cochran lost and in consequence an oyster supper was partaken of at their expense.

Excellent Entertainment

The program rendered by the Lyceum ladies of the Star Lecture Course at the opera house Monday evening was excellent. Every number was high class and the ladies are artists in every sense of the word. They completely captivated the audience with the first appearance on the platform and commanded the closest attention during the evening. It was withal an entertainment that pleases everybody, old and young, without exception.

GIRLS TAKE ANOTHER

ROCKFORD TEAM NOW IN CLASS WITH BELVIDERE

Boys Again Unfortunate in Throwing Goals—Teams Are Scheduled to Take a Rest this Week

The question now is: "Can we stand up under the honor that the high school girls' basket ball team is bringing home to us?" A team consisting of the same girls that defeated Belvidere two weeks ago, went to Rockford last Friday and pulled down the banners of the Forest City highs, to the tune of 12 to 7. It was a close and exciting game, but the Genoa's were in the lead at all times. Everyone of the girls performed her duty faithfully, there being on particular star. This star business is all right and looks well in print, but a star can not win a game. It requires team work and every member of the team must be up and doing at all stages of the struggle.

Several rooters for Genoa were present, even a bunch of Belvidere girls were there to see Rockford defeated. Of course the latter were well pleased to see that the Rockford team was not to forge ahead of them. It may be well to note that the Belvidere team claimed the championship of northern Illinois, with Rockford a close second. Now, of course we do not want the outside world to think we are getting "chesty," but, just the same, until the title is wrested from us, the Genoa girls will claim the championship. Belvidere may dispute this, but they must show us the goods.

The boys were again unfortunate in goal throwing. They worked hard and had the ball in their hands often enough, but somehow it would not connect with the basket. They were defeated by a score of 40 to 25.

Following is the line up and score of the girl's games:

Genoa GIRLS TEAM	Rockford
Lenoard	f Stowell
Hutchison	f Sullivan
Stewart	c Hunter
Kiernan	g Murphy
Portner	g O'Connor

Field goals for Genoa—Leonard 3; Hutchison, 1. For Rockford—Sullivan, 1; Hunter, 1. Free throws, for Genoa—Leonard, 4 For Rockford—Stowell, 3.

SECTION HAND KILLED

Struck by Freight Train near Herbert Sunday Morning

Fred Blank, a well known citizen of Belvidere and a section hand in the employ of the C. & N. W. Ry. was struck and instantly killed by a special south bound freight train at Hammond's crossing at 9:15 on Sunday morning.

Blank left the Belvidere station an hour before on a light "speeder" for the purpose of inspecting the tracks on the section between the city and Herbert. When two miles above that village the special came upon him unexpectedly. Harry Wheeland, the engineer saw Blank's danger and blew the whistle of the engine. The man heard the blast and after a glance behind jumped from his seat on the car outside of the rails where he was out of danger.

After a moment of hesitation he eventually made up his mind that he had time to remove the light car from the track before the train struck it and again he stepped between the rails, lifted the wheels from the track and was in the act of lifting the other side to throw it free when he was struck by the pilot of the locomotive and with the wrecked speeder was hurled down a twelve foot embankment. In the meantime, Engineer Wheeland had made every effort to stop the train but did not succeed until the cars had all passed the spot where the man was struck, the caboose stopping directly opposite to where the body lay. Conductor Barber who had charge of the train and his crew, lifted the body into the caboose and the train was run to Herbert and the engine and the caboose uncoupled and returned to Belvidere with the body which was taken to the undertaking establishment of Willard & Schmidt. An examination of the body showed that death had come instantly as an extensive fracture of the back part of the head and crushing about the head and the shoulders must have terminated the unfortunate man's life at the moment of collision.—Belvidere Northwestern.

It was a most pleasant gathering. Refreshments were served and the ladies left several pieces of china and silver as tokens of esteem.

FOR CLEANER WALKS

ORDINANCE TO PROHIBIT THE SPITTING HABIT

Tobacco Users Who Expectorate on the Walks Have a Few Weeks in which to Practice New Methods

Tobacco users and others who have been in the habit of thoughtlessly (in some cases intentionally) spitting on the side walks in this beautiful city of Genoa, will be up against it in a few weeks unless they mend their ways.

The village council has passed to second reading an ordinance which, when in force, will make it unlawful to spit on the walks.

This ordinance is only in conformity with the sentiment of the officials in thousands of other villages and cities, and it no doubt will be hailed with joy by every business man on Main street.

The trustees have been considering this move for some time and finally came to the conclusion that it was the only means of putting a stop to the evil.

It will be some weeks before the ordinance can become a law. This delay will give offenders an opportunity to become prepared for the new order of things. The persons who have heretofore been unable or unwilling to hit the gutter should devote their spare time to practicing long range spitting.

AN INHUMAN WRETCH

Vents His Spite on a Dumb Animal for Revenge

A. S. T. Ogilby, representing the Humane society of Rockford, was called to Belvidere one day last week on complaint of a number of citizens to look after a horse which had been cruelly treated for several years past. The case is one of petty spite and is almost unbelievable.

A citizen of Belvidere owned a horse which was years ago high-spirited and frisky. One day the colt jumped the pasture fence and proceeded to explore the neighborhood on his own hook.

The owner became wrathful and remarked that he would put the horse where he would never run away again. Accordingly he shut him up in the barn and there he has stood ever since.

Although penurious in the extreme the old man has vented his spite and revenge at some considerable expense. He has fed the animal sufficiently and kept him in good condition and in addition to the expense of the feed he has been losing the value of the horse's services all these years, eight or ten.

The humane officer visited the barn and found the horse standing on hoofs that have grown to the length of more than a foot, throwing the weight of the horse back on the heel and making standing an almost uncomfortable proceeding. The owner was informed as to the law relative to keeping animals under unnecessary cruel conditions and was ordered to have the horse's hoofs trimmed and put in condition at his earliest convenience and also to drive and exercise the animal. Unless this is speedily done the penalty prescribed by the law will be enforced.

Girls With Beautiful Faces, or Graceful Figures.

American girls have a world-wide reputation for beauty, but, at the same time, there are girls in our cities who possess neither beauty of face nor form, because in these instances they suffer from nervousness, the result of disorders of the womanly organism. At regular intervals they suffer so much that their strength leaves them; they are so prostrated that it takes days for them to recover their strength. Of course, such periodic distress has its bad effect on the nervous system. The withered and drawn faces, the dark circles and crows-feet over the eyes, the straight figure without those curves which lend so much to feminine beauty, are the unmistakable signs of womanly disorders. Mrs. Langtry has well said: "The key-stone to physical beauty is perfect health. A sick woman cannot be a beautiful woman, nor can she be anything but what we English call a poor-spirited woman. To a great extent a woman's beauty is measured by her vitality—by her health."

A famous specialist in woman's diseases, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has always advocated for young women's happiness absolute freedom from care and anxiety; at least eight hours' sleep out of every twenty-four, in addition a short nap in the middle of the day, if possible. Simple in-door exercises or brisk walks in the outdoor air. For some this is impossible, and many are confined to a continual in-door life because of disease of the womanly organs. To these is offered $500 reward if they cannot be cured of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb. All Dr. Pierce asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No other remedy has such a record of a third of a century of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

DEATH OF CHARLES BAKER

Youngest Son of Mrs. Mary Baker Passed Away Saturday at Rockwell, Iowa

Charles Baker, youngest son of Mrs. Mary Baker, of Rockwell, Iowa, passed away at his home Saturday after an operation the previous day. His remains, accompanied by his mother and four brothers, arrived here early Monday morning.

Deceased was born in Kingston, November 9, 1892. He attended the public school here until his mother moved to Iowa.

Besides his mother and five brothers, Philip, Nathan, James, Verne and Will, he leaves a host of relatives in this vicinity.

The funeral services were held at the Baptist church on Monday afternoon, Rev. E. J. Rees of Canton, Ill., preaching a sermon full of comfort and hope. Interment at Kingston cemetery.

Perfect Confidence

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by G. H. Hunt.

BERT HOLROYD.

Soap and Candles.

Candles burn better and more slowly if they have been stored in a dry place six or seven weeks before being used. Soap will go twice as far if well dried. It should be cut into small blocks and these arranged in tiers with spaces between to allow them to dry.

Pointer on Ironing.

Before ironing turn a bacon rind flesh side up on a board and place a large clean cloth near it. Every time an iron is taken from the fire rub the bottom and edges on it and then on the cloth and there will never be a smut on the most delicate garment.

Whooping Cough Remedy.

For whooping cough make a palatable sirup by slicing onions fine and after sprinkling plentifully with brown sugar allow the onions to stand between hot plates under a press until all the juice is forced out.

Lime in the Jam Closet.

Lime sprinkled on the shelves will keep pickles and jams in the storeroom from becoming moldy. The lime must be renewed occasionally, as it loses its power.

Beet Soup For Invalids.

Take a pint of rich beef stock and stir into it while boiling the yolks of two eggs beaten with half a cupful of cream. Thicken with cooked pearl sago.

ENJOYED FOURTH NUMBER

Rev. H. M. Bannen of Rockford Gave an Interesting Account of Trip to Palestine

That the fourth number of the Kingston lecture course was a popular one is clearly shown in the many comments received by the managers since last Friday evening.

Rev. H. M. Bannen, pastor of the Trinity church at Rockford, was one of a party of ministers to attend a Sunday school convention last spring at Jerusalem. The trip lasted three months, and was a very interesting one. In connection with a description of the travel, Dr. Bannen gave a unique description of the customs of people of foreign lands, cities of the orient and lastly the convention itself.

The final number of the course occurs March 9 with the Carolinian Jubilee Singers.

Seats are on sale at F. Smith's bakery.

Venus, the Gorilla.

The London zoological gardens are the proud possessors of one male and two female gorillas. There is only one other female gorilla in Europe. She is at Breslau. The London specimens are named Chlois and Venus. The description of Venus, who is five years old, is as follows: Height, two feet six inches; chest measurement, thirty-six inches; hair, dark and patchy; eyes, black and deep set, and huge, overhanging brows; mouth, expansive, with formidable teeth; expression, morose.

A Message by Wireless.

A gentleman who arrived in New York on the Kronprinz Wilhelm recently was met at the pier by a cab which he had ordered by a wireless dispatch sent when 200 miles out at sea. The message went to the clerk of the Waldorf and read: "Returning by Kronprinz. Reserve my old rooms. Have cab meet me." The charge for the message was $4.50, and the probable charge for the cab was $2. The clerk at the Waldorf said it was the first time such a message had ever been received.

Gesticulation Now the Vogue.

Gesticulation is the fashion now. Woman must gesticulate to be in the swim. But she must do it in a correct manner. It is said that the most fashionable people have taken to making gestures, and therefore, of course, all womankind must paw the air, so to speak. In England many gestures are thought to be undignified, but not so here. There is no denying the fact that they heighten the effect of conversation if well done.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Grave Trouble Foreseen

It needs but little foresight to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected grave trouble is ahead unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young of Clay, N. Y. did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by Hunt's Pharmacy, at 50c a bottle.

Jupiter's Big Red Blotch.

In 1878 something happened on Jupiter which caused a red blotch to appear in his southern hemisphere near one of the great belts that cross his disk like huge bands of colored clouds. It was 30,000 miles long and 8,000 miles broad, yet, after all, only a little patch on the mighty disk! It has remained ever since, sometimes brightening to almost the crimson hue of fire and sometimes fading nearly to invisibility, yet always, even when faintest, certifying its presence and its power by keeping the area originally covered by it clear of all other objects.—Success.

Marriage Agrees With Him.

Those who hold that the married state is apt to age a man were refuted by the case of Edwin Garton in London. He was married three times. When the registers were compared in court recently his age at his third marriage was found to be less than that entered in the register of the second ceremony. "The more the man married," said Justice Bigam, "bathing his temples with eau de cologne, the younger he seemed to get."

The Kaiser's Stirrup Cup.

White beer, sugar, citron peel, ginger, spices, the yolk of at least a dozen eggs, Rhine wine, Madeira, old Santa Cruz rum. All this after being thoroughly stirred is placed on a fire and slowly heated, several large pats of butter being added to the concoction while it is warm.

Novel Advertising.

A tailor at Boston, England, has thought out one of the most novel advertising schemes which have yet been brought to notice. He has placed ten turtles in his window and on the back of each turtle is painted one letter of the tailor's name. He has offered a prize of $10 to any one who sees the turtles lined up so that the letters are in the order in which they appear in his name.

Disease In War.

War would not be so horrible if all of its evils were those of mere carnage. The death of a thousand men by bullets is a dreadful thing, but the death of 10,000 by the slow process of torturing disease is much more terrible. Every record of international armed conflict tells its story of the ravages of disease.—St. Louis Republic.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Advice as to the Starching and Ironing of Table Linen.

Many choose to omit starch when doing up table linen. In that case the cloths are merely dampened and then ironed bone dry with a very hot flatiron. Equally desirable is it to starch table linen with a very thin starch, sprinkling it like all other clothing on the previous night. Always have the iron hot. When ironing a tablecloth fold it the long way through the center, so that the edges exactly meet after once going over it. Then with the iron lightly rub over one side after the fold has been made. Before putting the cloth away spread it out to air awhile. A good method for its final care is to wind it on a roller. Get a paste-board mailing tube and attach a narrow ribbon to each end so that a full yard hangs out. The tube must be just as long as a folded tablecloth is made. Roll the cloth on this, bring the ends of ribbon together and cross, then tie them around the roll. Cloths kept in this way have no unnecessary wrinkles in them and take up the smallest amount of room.

Smaller pieces of table linen are ironed in the same way, embroidered initials being ironed on the back always.

"Hello, old chap! What do you think of that cigar I gave you the other day?"

"Don't ask me to think. I'm trying to forget it."

His Long Illness.

Elephant—Did you have a long illness?

Giraffe—Long! I should think so. Why, I've had a sore throat all the way down!

ALFRED BURROUGHS

Son of I. Q. Burroughs Died Sunday in Chicago

Alfred Burroughs was born in Pennington, N. J., August 23, 1848, coming to Genoa with his parents in the year 1854. He was married about twenty-eight years ago to Miss Juliet Thompson. To Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs were born two children one dying in infancy. Donald, the son, with the wife remain to mourn the loss of father and husband.

Up to seventeen years ago Mr. Burroughs was engaged in the grocery business and also at farming in this city. He later went to Chicago where he was employed by the C. M. & St. P. railway for about thirteen years. For three years he conducted a bakery business in Harvard, but was compelled to give up work a year ago on account of failing health. He went to Chicago to reside with his sister where he could command the best treatment, but the efforts of the best medical skill could do no more than stay the hand of death a few months longer.

Mr. Burroughs leaves besides his father, I. Q. Burroughs, of this place the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Jas. Allen of Chicago, David of Iowa, Harry and Fanny of this place.

The funeral was held at Harvard Tuesday.

The deceased was a member of the M. E. church for thirty-five years and had always lived a Christian life.

A New Farm Machine Plant

The Taylor Husker & Shredder Co. of Joliet, Ill., with a capital of $200,000 is building a large plant at Joliet for the manufacture of corn husking and shredding machines, and also corn picking and husking machines. The machines manufactured by this company are a splendid success, and therefore there will no doubt be a large demand for them. The men at the head of this great enterprise were raised off the farm, but being mechanically inclined, left the farm, learned the machinists trade, and have become manufacturers of some of the most important farm machines ever invented; and now they propose to employ a number of young men from the country and country towns to work in their factory who are familiar with farm machinery, handy with tools, sober reliable and industrious; and any one desiring a position of this kind should send in their application as soon as possible.

STATE LEGISLATURE

What the Solons at Springfield Are Doing for the Commonwealth.

STATE HAPPENINGS RECORDED

News of Illinois Prepared for the Benefit and Convenience of Our Readers.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17. — The house adjourned immediately after the call of the roll for the introduction of bills, committee work engrossing the attention of many members.

Eight bills were introduced, including bills for the regulation of speed of automobiles, prohibiting the production of any unpublished or uncopyrighted play without the consent of the owner, and providing severe penalties for those found guilty of carrying concealed weapons who have criminal records or reputations.

The senate met and adjourned immediately, in accordance with the plan adopted last week. The upper house met again this morning and another adjournment was taken till Monday evening at 5:30 o'clock, and from then adjournment will be taken till Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18.—What bid fair for a moment to develop into a very lively debate in the house over the new primary elections bill was stopped by Church, of Chicago, who presided, Speaker Shurtleff being confined to his room with a bad cold.

Rinker, of the house committee on primary elections, reported on the primary elections bill with the recommendation that it pass, in accordance with the previous action of the committee. Immediately Dougherty, of Knox, one of the minority members of the committee, was on his feet with a protest against the action of the committee in refusing to read the new bill in committee or to give the minority members time to study its provision.

The protest was ordered spread upon the journal and the incident ended. The house then adjourned until 5:30 p. m. Monday.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20. — The senate will reconvene this afternoon after a week of inaction, but actual work will not begin until tomorrow. About fifteen bills are on third reading in the senate, including Lundberg's bill to prohibit policy playing, and the "age of consent" bill, raising the age of consent from 14 to 18 years. The bill is indorsed by women's clubs in Chicago and throughout the state generally, and will probably pass, although some debate is looked for.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21. — Speaker Shurtleff has announced that he expects to complete the list of house committees before the end of the week, and hopes to be able to announce them Thursday or Friday. It will depend somewhat on the progress of the primary elections and other important measures now before the house. Shurtleff resumed the gavel in the house yesterday, having recovered from his illness sufficiently to attend the sessions.

Four bills were introduced during the brief session, one of which provides one free scholarship each year for the University of Illinois to each senator and representative and each county, and another allows farmers and others to organize systems of farm drainage for sanitary and other purposes. The speaker named Oglesby, Covey and Peterson as the house members of the joint committee on enrolled and engrossed bills.

The senate met, but only a few members were present, little business was transacted and adjournment was taken.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22. — The senate passed unanimously the anti-policy bill introduced by Lundberg, of Chicago. The bill by Juhl raising the age of consent from 14 to 16 years was also unanimously passed. The bill as introduced made the limit 18 years as the age of consent, but there was a number of objections to this in the committee and as a compromise the proposed law was amended to read 16 years.

Other bills passed were: Providing that foreign fire insurance companies doing business in the state shall pay to treasurers of cities, towns and villages 2 per cent. of the gross receipts of the agency situated in that city, and exempting from taxation money collected and on hand of fraternal benefit societies of the state not organized for pecuniary profit. Twenty-seven bills were introduced.

In the house Pandarvis introduced a Chicago charter bill, the bill being another of the measures prepared by the executive committee of the Chicago charter convention. The house passed the bill appropriating $5,000 for the erection of a monument to the memory of sixteen whites massacred by Indians under Black Hawk, near Harding, Ill., in 1832. Twenty-nine bills were introduced, among them Grein's limiting the number of saloons in the state to one to every 500 inhabitants; compelling operators of automobiles to come to a dead stop on country roads when horses are approaching, and defining bucket shops.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—By unanimous vote the Illinois house of representatives decided to lend the state of Kansas $100,000 to aid in its fight on the Standard Oil company. By a similar vote the house provided for a joint committee to confer with Kansas auth-

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Rules Which Should Be Observed When Hanging Pictures.

The first rule to observe is not to overhang the sky line. By that is meant an imaginary line which should mark the top of the picture frame.

This sky line must take a height commensurate with the size of the room. What that is must be left for the individual to decide. Once determined upon by the placing of one picture, no other frame must rise above it.

Another rule which some authorities abide by invariably is that tops of all frames grouped close together must be on a level, without regard to the sizes.

Indiscriminate hanging of pictures—that is to say, hanging them in irregular groups—is condemned as bad taste. If small pictures are to be hung in a room where there are larger frames, the former should be grouped into panels corresponding in outline with the size of the latter. For instance, two frames 6 by 10 inches in size should fill the same amount of contiguous space as one frame 12 by 10 inches. The smaller frames should be hung one over the other. This is in much better form than hanging the large frame between the two smaller pictures.

Cleansing Shetland Shawls.

The floss shawls that are now so largely worn in winter as well as summer need to have their freshness restored occasionally, though that operation is put off as long as possible. If not too badly soiled, dry cleaning with flour or starch is frequently effective, but for real soil a thorough washing is required. Make a good suds in a large pan, using white soap and a little ammonia. Put the shawl in this and sop and squeeze, but do not pull, rub or lift the mass of wool from the pan. When the water looks soiled, pour off. Then add fresh rinsing water of the same temperature. Repeat this twice. After the second rinsing squeeze out every bit of moisture possible, still leaving the shawl in the pan. Now set in the warming oven of the range, turning over and over until the shawl is perfectly dry.

The Baby's Bath.

Cleanliness is one of the most important factors in a child's well being. A baby's bath is an interesting part of the young mother's many duties, and all mothers agree in thinking that they should be bathed every day. A child that is bathed every day is less likely to take a contagious disease than one who is bathed less frequently.

The best time for the bath is midway between the meals—never when he is hungry or immediately after a meal—and may be in the forenoon or afternoon, to suit the convenience of the mother.

Removing Mildew.

Mildew may sometimes be removed from white fabrics by covering the spots with lemon juice and laying in the sun. Lemon juice will not serve for colored fabrics, however, and lard makes a substitute. Rub the spots well with lard and lay in the sunshine day after day for a week. Wash in the usual manner.

In the Sickroom.

To replenish a coal fire in a sickroom or in any place where it is desired to avoid the noisy rattling of the coal place in a newspaper or paper bag and lay the budget carefully on the fire. The magazine of a coal stove can be filled in this manner with little or no noise.

To Keep an Umbrella.

An umbrella should not be opened out to dry, as the stretchers are apt to warp in the bent form, giving an unsightly appearance when the umbrella is closed. The silk should be left to drain with the handle downward and gently wiped with an old silk handkerchief.

Cure For Frostbite.

Bathe the parts affected in alum water, pretty strong, for five to ten minutes. This treatment may be used and depended on for relief as long as the part affected is not "open." After bathing in alum water, apply linseed oil.

A Pillow Wrinkle.

Every one knows how apt pillow ticks are to grow yellow or discolored just where the head rests. A good way to avoid this is to keep old pillowcases for tick covers under the outside pillow slips.

For Burns.

Keep a bottle of linseed oil and lime water, together with a roll of absorbent cotton and pieces and strips of old linen for bandages, in a convenient place to use in case of burns.

Lamp Chimneys.

Lamp chimneys cleaned with a cloth moistened with paraffin will not crack so readily as when dipped in water.

THE HOME OF VINOL

To People with Weak Lungs:--

You know that for centuries Cod Liver Oil has been considered the best medicine for throat and lung troubles, but its nauseating effect upon the stomach made it impossible for many to take it. Now—adays Vinol accomplishes greater results, for while it is a Cod Liver Oil preparation, it is entirely free from oil or grease, and therefore it is fast taking the place of old-fashioned Cod Liver Oil and Emulsions.--Respectfully,
