NOTES FROM THE COURT HOUSE

150 Cases on The February Docket 55 Set For Trial

MORE DIVORCE CASES HEARD

Vera Abbott of Kingston, Formerly of Genoa, Granted Divorce on Charges of Cruelty

The circuit court was in session on Wednesday, Judge Cliffe presiding. A call of the February docket was made and out of a number of 150 cases there were 55 set for trial, 3 dismissed and 93 continued or otherwise disposed of.

The papers in the case brought by Hugo Lindeberg of DeKalb against R. J. Murphy were amended to read Robert M. Murphy instead of R. J. Murphy and leave was given to plead within 10 days. The action grows out of an alleged false arrest and the plaintiff seeks to recover $5,000 as damages.

Testimony was taken in the action of divorce brought by Anna C. Woodford of DeKalb against Charles A. Woodford, at the conclusion of which a decree of divorce in favor of the complainant was granted. The testimony disclosed that the parties were married on December 9, 1920 and lived together until January 2, 1922. Numerous acts of cruelty were testified to and also that the defendant had deserted the complainant.

A rule to show cause why he should not be attached for contempt of court for non-compliance of alimony order entered July 16, 1921, was entered on Samuel Wiley. The alimony order was entered in the divorce proceedings brought by Elizabeth Wiley against the defendant. The rule entered was made returnable March 13, 1922.

Hearing was had in the action brought by First Trust & Savings Bank executor of the last will and testament of John Watson deceased, against Martha J. Wilson and others. It appeared on the hearing that John Watson on July 28, 1917 entered into a contract with the defendant, Clayton W. Wilson, wherein Wilson agreed to purchase certain lands in DeKalb county for the sum of $28,000 to be paid for in several payments. John Watson died August 11, 1918 and the complainant was appointed executor of his last will. There remains to be paid on account of the contract the sum of $558.22 upon the payment of which sum Clayton W. Wilson, will be entitled to a deed of the lands. A decree was entered at the conclusion of the hearing directing the defendant to pay to the complainant the balance due within 10 days and authorizing the complainant to execute a deed of the lands to said Clayton W. Wilson.

Time to plead was extended 10 days in the action brought by First Trust and Savings Bank of DeKalb against Samuel E. Brandt, and others, to foreclose a mortgage given by a guardian of minor children.

Hearing was had of the matrimonial difficulties of Lois Hodge of Shabbona against Clarence R. Hodge. The testimony showed the parties to have been married on July 16, 1914 at Genoa and that they lived together until January 24, 1920. The complainant testified that during all the time she lived with the defendant she conducted herself toward him as a dutiful wife and that he had deserted her without cause and has remained away from her for over two years. In this she was corroborated by other witnesses, and at the conclusion of the hearing the court ordered the bonds of matrimony to be dissolved and the question of matrimony reserved. The defendant has lately resided in Chicago.

Judge Slusser presided at a session of the circuit court of DeKalb county held on Saturday afternoon. A motion was made by Vera Abbott of Kingston that the bill for separate maintenance which she filed some time ago against her husband, William Abbott, be amended and changed to a bill for divorce, and this was done. The answer of the defendant was ordered to stand as answer to the amended bill and the parties then proceeded to a hearing in the cause. The complainant testified that she was married to the de-

EVENING OF PLEASURE

District Meeting of Odd Fellows Held in Genoa Monday, March 6

A district meeting of Odd Fellows and Rebeckahs was held at the Genoa hall Monday evening of this week, there being about 200 present, the largest attendance in many months. This district is composed of the Genoa, Sycamore, DeKalb and Lindenwood lodges. DeKalb and Sycamore were well represented at the meeting, but owing to the impassable roads no one ventured over from Lindenwood.

An interesting program was rendered as follows:

- America, by the audience.
  - Music by the high school orchestra, composed of Hattie Doty, pianist; Harry Adler, violinist; and Donald Fulcher drummer.
  - Recitation by Jack Scherf.
  - Piano duet by the Brooks twins (seven years of age) of DeKalb.
  - Reading by Rhea Saul.
  - Vocal solo by Oliver Patterson.
  - Piano duet by Vera Sowers and Margaret Eiklor.
  - Vocal duet by Misses Evelyn Patterson and Klea Schoonmaker.
  - Vocal solo by Joseph Rendell of DeKalb.
  - Reading by Mrs. Henning of DeKalb.
- The numbers were all good and every one responded to an encore.
- After the program the refreshment committee did its work well and no one left with an empty feeling.

GENOA HIGH LOST TO ELBURN

Beat Huntley 21 to 22 Thursday Night—Elburn Wins Friday 40 to 13

In the second game of the tournament at the Elgin high school gym last Thursday evening, Genoa high school beat Huntley by the narrow margin of one point 21 to 22. This game eliminated Huntley and as Elburn had won her game the two winners played Friday afternoon, Genoa losing to the fast Elburn team 40 to 13. It was not a disgrace to lose to Elburn for they had a whirlwind of a team this year bowing to defeat only to West Chicago in the tournament games.

As West Chicago was the winner of class B teams and Elgin the winner of Class A teams, the finals were played between these two rivals, Elgin winning by a narrow margin.

LITTLE ONE CALLED

Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stott Lived Only a Few Hours

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stott last Thursday afternoon at the Sycamore hospital but lived only a few hours. Burial took place in Genoa cemetery Friday noon.

The heart of the community goes out to this couple in their deep sorrow and unbounded sympathy is expressed from everyone.

U. S. TREASURY CERTIFICATES

Government Launches Campaign to Protect People from Swindlers

William B. Bosworth, government savings director for the seventh federal reserve district, announced today the opening of a campaign to blot out the financial swindlers located in the five states of his district—Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin. During the month of March 50,000 city and rural mail carriers will take the following message to their sixteen million patrons: "Consult Your Banker or Postmaster before you Invest."

Sixteen million dollars worth of the Government's new treasury savings certificates have been distributed among the five thousand post offices in the district and each postmaster is responsible for the campaign in his community. Money invested in new certificates increases twenty five percent in five years and will be returned to the investor at any time within the five years upon demand to the Treasury Department. Registration insures the investor against any form of loss. Postmasters are authorized to receive investments as small as $20 and as large as $4,000 from any individual.

COLOR OF BALLOTS

The colors for the official primary ballots for primary election on Tuesday, March 14, will be: Republican, yellow; Democrats, green and Citizen's Blue.

Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago presented bid for bonds.

S. T. Zeller, alderman, presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, the Harris Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, Illinois, has made and submitted a bid for $12,000 of waterworks improvement bonds of this city to be issued as of date of March 1, 1922, under and in accordance with Ordinance No. 131 (passed by this council and approved on the 6th day of January, 1922) and Ordinance No. 132 (passed by this council and approved on the 3rd day of March, 1922), the said bid being substantially as follows to-wit: par value for said bonds and accrued interest thereon to date of delivery and a premium of $50.00, the said bank to furnish the bonds free of expense to the city; and

WHEREAS, it is the opinion of the members of this council that the price so offered for the said bonds is fair and reasonable, considering the present price of similar bonds;

THEREFORE, he it resolved that the offer of the said Harris Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, Illinois, for said bonds, be and the same is hereby accepted by this council, and the mayor and city clerk be and are hereby authorized and directed to execute the said bonds for and on behalf of the city of Genoa, as of the date of March 1, 1922, and to deliver the said bonds to the said Harris Trust & Savings Bank upon payment.

J. L. Patterson, alderman, seconded the motion for adoption of the foregoing resolution, and upon roll call Patterson, Cruikshank, Zeller and Canavan and Shipman voted yes. DeKalb carried.

Motion made by Cruikshank, seconded by Patterson that the city clerk and fire and water committee have prepared specifications for the drilling and sinking of a deep well as provided for in ordinance No. 131 and 132 of this city and that the city

DE KALB ELKS' NEW HOME

Members of That City Lodge Will Purchase Mayo Property

The DeKalb Elks club is going to buy the handsome home of Mrs. Harriet Mayo, at the corner of First and Lincoln Highway, as the club home says the DeKalb Chronicle.

A meeting was held late Saturday afternoon to discuss ways and means and to arrive, if possible at a financial plan that will successfully solve the difficulties in the way of putting the big project over.

There seems to be general satisfaction today among the members of the DeKalb lodge over the action of the club in buying the Mayo home. It is ideally located and has everything that the club will need to give it a modern, comfortable home.

It is not known what Mrs. Mayo will do, but friends have intimated that she might go to California to make her home.—DeKalb Chronicle.

ADELBERT GUSTAFSON HURT

Belt From Tractor Flew Off Knocking Him Unconscious.

Adelbert Gustafson, son of Victor Gustafson of Kingston, lies in the Sycamore hospital unconscious from a blow received on the head by a tractor belt that came off the fly wheel of the engine.

It seems that Adelbert and another person were going to start the wood saw Saturday afternoon when, without warning, the belt jumped off the fly wheel and struck the boy in the head, rendering him unconscious. On Monday afternoon he was still in a state of coma and physicians think that his skull has been crushed.

Wealth Vanishes in Smoke.

Every year 33,000 forest fires, involving some 12,500,000 acres of timberland, cost us $20,000,000. Greater vigilance would save much of this appalling waste.

MARENGO EDITOR IN THE SOUTH

Writes a Letter to Home Folks Saying He Has Enjoyed a Bull Fight

After reading Editor Johnson's letter in last week's issue of the Marengo Republican, we will state publicly that "Our Jack" is altogether too young to attend a bull fight with out being chaperoned by his wife. Our remembrance of such a sport event in a man's mind is a regular whirligig trying to watch the antics of the bull in the arena and the dark skinned beauties, with come-on eyes, in the amphitheatre. Naughty, Jack, naughty. Your place is here, it any one of the force is to fall—we want the chance to take the tumble.—Marengo Republican.

clerk advertize for bids for the drilling and sinking of said well. Motion carried.

Motion made by Zeller, seconded by Canavan that the city grant E. E. Crawford, chief of police, a vacation of one month beginning March 4, 1922 on full salary. Roll call, motion carried. The mayor appointed F. I. Fay as special police to act as night police during the absence of E. E. Crawford.

Motion made by Zeller, seconded by Shipman that council adjourn. Motion carried.

The End of a Perfect Day

A BIG BOOST FOR CRAWFORD

Western Military Academy of Alton Praises Crawford for Sheriff

"The Shrapnel", weekly paper of the Western Military Academy at Alton, Illinois, in commenting upon alumni of that school, have this to say about Genoa's candidate for sheriff of DeKalb county:

"E. E. Crawford, 1909, of Genoa, Ill., is a candidate for sheriff of DeKalb county, and he will make a great race for the office. Crawford made a fine record at Western. He was a young fellow of good judgment, a fine athlete and well liked, and he has an enviable record in his community. It is a sure thing that the lessons in discipline learned at Western will be of value to a sheriff."

The article is not very long, but states very clearly what every one knows; that he is a man through and through and has an exceptionally pleasing personality.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Next Sunday morning we begin our evangelistic service to continue for three weeks with services every night except Saturday night. The pastor will be assisted by Prof. H. J. Kurtz of Lafayette, Indiana. Prof. Kurtz is a singer and chorus leader of unusual ability. We desire a large chorus choir and extend an invitation to all who are willing to help to join with us. The pastor urges every member of the church to co-operate and be a booster. Let us make our services literally glow with holy enthusiasm and evangelistic fire. We ask you to put first things first and give your undivided time to the work of your church during these services. Plan to attend every service. Invite others to come with you and pray that these services may bring great blessing to our church and community.

'T WAS A GREAT DANCE

The Suffragette Club Staged in Slater's Hall Last Friday Night

Owing to the beautiful weather and condition of the roads the Suffragette club had a large crowd at their dance in Slater's auditorium last Friday night. Many people from surrounding towns were present and we are quite certain that they had an enjoyable time.

"The Music Spillers", Rockford's super orchestra, gave a demonstration of some real dance music and were very obliging in playing requested numbers.

A few of the boys along main street have hired the same orchestra for the 17th and a great St. Patrick's dance is assured.

WHAT MARENGO THINKS

In Regard to Genoa's Town Team of Basket Ball Players

The following is clipped from the Marengo Republican:

"The Genoa team played a clean, square game. They were gentlemen and good sports both on and off the floor and will be always welcome. Patterson, Mansfield and Reid were curley wolves on defence and the lopsided score reflects nothing against the visitors. It was simply not their town nor night to howl. May their cheek bones ever glow with the bloom of health."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Contributed by Students of the G. T. H. S.—Iolene Gallagher, Editor

The Genoa regular first team wound up their season in basket ball in the district tournament at Elgin. The game with Huntley, which qualified Genoa to enter the second round of the tournament, was won in the first half. Huntley, staging a rally in the last half, nearly turned the tables. The game ended 21 to 22 for Genoa.

The next game was with Elburn Friday afternoon. Elburn had played Richmond Thursday night, winning 41 to 5.

Before the Genoa-Huntley game, St. Charles defeated Crystal Lake 22 to 22. Friday morning Wheaton beat Harvard 39 to 28 for the first win that day. Hampshire was beaten by Wauconda 20 to 24 and Dundee turned the tables on Marengo 45 to 18. In the afternoon West Chicago beat Alton 52-11.

In the afternoon Elgin beat Genoa after a hard-fought game. Geneva led up to the last two minutes of play, when the score was 26 to 29. Elgin called time out and then went back and played the best brand of ball they knew how. A long shot by Britton netted Elgin two points and a basket by Swanson, after a dribble down the floor won the game for Elgin 29 to 30.

Elburn then played Genoa for the last game of the afternoon and won 42-12. A lack of aggressiveness on offense by the forwards was one trouble and Genoa's defense was frequently percolated by Westlake.

The first team has ended the season with six victories and five defeats. The second team has some more games to play and at the present writing are even up. There will be another game with Burlington in which the boys hop to atone for the 27 to 2 defeat handed them at the neighboring village.

Superintendent at N. E. A. Meeting

Mr. Mackenzie attended the sessions of the department of superintendents of the National Educational Association in Chicago last week and the banquet of the University of Chicago at the Hamilton club. The main session of the convention was held in the Auditorium. He left Chicago Thursday night in order to meet Mr. Moore with the basket ball team at Elgin.

Keith Saul Reports

There is one team that can beat Hampshire if our first team can't—it's the grammar school bunch. We beat them bad, for the first quarter was 8 to 1 in our favor and in the last half it was 14 to 3 owing to Fern's lightning-like work. At the end of the game our score was fifteen while Hampshire had only 4.

Sophomore Assembly

Because of the absence of the boys last Friday, the program was somewhat curtailed. Mrs. Lois Brown kindly furnished her college notebook from which three papers were prepared. One on "The History of Music" by Marcella Hammond; the second paper on "The Organ" by Margaret Eiklor and the third, "The Story of Barcarolle" by Hilda Benson, preceding the piano solo by Ruth White. School singing closed the program.

Fogs Cause Loss in England. City fogs are said to cause England more loss in a year than does unemployment.

OTHER CITIES WANT US TO HAVE ROAD

Many Local People Attend Meetings in Sycamore and DeKalb

SYCAMORE ANN DE KALB BOOST

Securing of Road Route No. 23 to Pass Thru Genoa Means Benefit To More People

If the signing of petitions and wishes of the majority of the people affected by the routing of hard road No. 23 are any basis for the placing of the road, Genoa will certainly be entitled to the strip of cement thru her limits. Thousands have signed petitions in favor of the routing of the road through Genoa and two meetings have been held, one in Sycamore and the other in DeKalb; both cities being very much in favor of placing the road through the city of their northern neighbor, Genoa.

The Sycamore Tribune and the True Republican, both, state that the benefits derived from the building of the road to pass thru Genoa would be boundless, in-as-much-as nearly all traffic from the south to the north is headed in a north-westerly direction. The DeKalb Chronicle states that people familiar with both proposed routes say the distance to Marengo would be only one mile further than by a route previously looked over and the Garden Prairie route would be about six miles shorter to Belvidere, Rockford and all points west along Grant Highway.

Its up to everyone to boost and help in every way possible. Genoa needs the road and the people of this community cannot afford to be without a hard road connection.

CAN REDUCE CITY TAX RATE

Next Year Should See a Sharp Reduction in City Taxes

The Republican has received a little information that should bring smiles of satisfaction to the great number of taxpayers in this city and township.

The city tax rate next year can be reduced about 1/2. In an effort to help this thing along the city has been able, through the efforts of Attorney E. W. Browne, to sell the bonds for the sinking of a new well and improvement of the waterworks, at 5 1/2 per cent instead of 6 per cent. This will save many hundreds of dollars to the people of Genoa.

The township high school tax rate can be reduced approximately one-fifth owing to the fact that the greater portion of the indebtedness of the new high school has been paid from taxes collected in the last two years. There is a possibility that the rate for district No. 1 may be reduced by 1/4 the amount now paid. If so, the people of Genoa and township can rejoice over the fact that they live in the country and not in the city of Chicago.

COMMUNITY CLUB MET MONDAY

Dr. Rodney Wright and Mrs. Kilmar of DeKalb Gave Interesting Talks

Members of the Community Club and their invited guests spent a very pleasant afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold Mackenzie on Monday, March 6.

Dr. Rodney Wright and Mrs. Kilmar of DeKalb gave interesting talks on "Birth Registration" and on the "Health League of DeKalb County."

At the business meeting a report was given from the philanthropic committee on the school milk fund for February. Total donations were $32.50 and the total cost to the club was $6.81.

At the close of the business meeting, the following program was given, the literary department having charge.

Piano duet, Vera Sowers and Margaret Eiklor.

Paper on "Zona Gale", Mrs. Holtgren.

Reading from "Friendship Village" Mrs. Wallace.

Vocal Solo, Mrs. Eiklor.

Following the program, light refreshments were served by the committee.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Ratification of Yap Treaty Indicates Other Pacts Will Go Through Senate.

NOT ADMITTED BY ENEMIES

Fight to Modify Volstead Act Begun by Federation of Labor—New Plan to Finance Bonus—President Asks Congress for Ship Subsidy.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

IN THE preliminary bouts of the treaty fight in the senate the administration has scored victories which lead Senator Lodge and others to predict certain triumph in the main contest over the four-power Pacific pact, as well as in the other bouts. Expression of this confidence came after the senate, on Wednesday, had ratified the treaty with Japan concerning Yap. This is not properly one of the Washington conference series of treaties, but its acceptance was considered necessary before action is taken on the other Pacific treaties. It puts an end to the dispute between this country and Japan by recognizing the Japanese mandate over Yap and at the same time securing America's cable rights there.

The final vote on the Yap pact was 67 to 22 and was preceded by the voting down of a number of reservations which certain Democratic senators thought necessary to make American rights on the island entirely secure. Thirteen Democrats voted for ratification, and three Republicans—Borah, France and Johnson—against it. Although the administration forces said they were entirely satisfied with the vote, the "irreconcilables" also professed to be jubilant. The latter asserted they had made small effort to defeat this treaty and that they were confident they could muster enough more votes to beat the four-power pact.

On motion of Senator Lodge the senate immediately took up the four-power treaty, and the indications were that the debate on that would last several weeks. As it was reported to the senate by the committee on foreign relations, it carries but the one innocuous interpretative reservation that was approved by President Harding. To Borah, Johnson, France and a few other senators might well be applied a sentence from one of the late Ambassador Page's letters during the war: "In the United States we lie down every night in George Washington's feather bed of no entangling alliances." During the debate Borah declared he would support the Yap treaty if he could be sure that it would get rid of America's one-fifth interest in the mandated islands of the south seas.

"I cannot imagine a more serious entanglement," said Senator Borah, "than owning a one-fifth interest in these islands. We are becoming very seriously involved and more so every day." Senator Reed of Missouri deplored the refusal of the nations to recognize the principle of self-determination in dealing with the question of Yap prohibition. He declared that the Yaplanders had never been consulted as to whether they "liked likker or not." He drew a "dismal picture of thirsty Yaps groaning under the tyranny of a Japanese Volstead." The treaty as ratified applies the prohibition amendment only to natives.

THIS mention of prohibition leads one to venture the personal opinion that if there is any force that can bring about the modification of the Volstead act so that the country will once more have its beer and light wines, that force has just been set in motion. The executive council of the American Federation of Labor has taken up this cause and seeks to make of it a political issue in the forthcoming congressional campaign. It issued a declaration in which the Volstead enforcement act is denounced a moral failure and a dangerous breeder of discontent and contempt for law, and which concludes: "We urge that all citizens in every walk of life demand from their representatives and senators in Washington immediate relief from the unwarranted restriction contained in the Volstead act; and we likewise suggest to the citizenship of our country the wisdom and advisability of bending in mind the attitude toward this issue of office holders and aspirants to office in coming elections in order that there may be restored to the people the lawful use of wholesome beer and light wines, which, under the provisions of the eighteenth amendment can and should be rightfully declared as non-intoxicating beverages."

The executive council asserts it holds "that the eighteenth amendment under a reasonable and proper legislative interpretation would be beneficial to our country and would have the support of the great majority of our people." But the council says an exhaustive investigation which it has conducted shows these effects of the Volstead act: "1. A general disregard of the law among all classes, including those who made the law. "2. Creation of thousands of moonshiners. "3. Creation of an army of bootleggers. "4. An amazing increase in the traffic in poisons and deadly concoctions and drugs. "5. An increased rate of insanity, blindness, and crime among the users of these concoctions and drugs. "6. Increase in unemployment, due to losses of employment by workers in forty-five industries directly or indirectly connected with the manufacture of liquors. "7. Increase in taxes to city, state, and national governments amounting to approximately $1,000,000,000 per year."

REPUBLICAN members of the house ways and means committee having rejected the sales tax plan for financing the soldiers' bonus, the committee went on trying to devise other schemes, with the alternative of adopting a bill that contains no financing feature. A subcommittee suggested one plan which would not involve a heavy drain on the treasury during the next two years. This contemplates the elimination of a cash bonus. Adjusted service certificates would be issued equal to the sum of the adjusted service pay of the veteran ($1 a day for domestic service and $1.25 a day for foreign service, less the $30 bonus paid at the time of discharge), increased by 40 per cent, plus interest thereon for twenty years at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent a year, compounded annually. The total face value thus would be approximately 3.38 times the amount of cash that a veteran would have received under the cash feature. Immediately after the certificate was received the service man could obtain from a bank an amount equal to 50 per cent of the total of the adjusted service pay. If at the expiration of three years the sum thus obtained, plus interest, had not been paid by the service man, the bank could make demand on the federal treasury for the amount due. The government thus would take over and carry the loan.

Some members feared the borrowings under this plan might affect the financial situation harmfully, so treasury experts were called in to advise the committee on that and other points. If the scheme is feasible and goes through the government would not have to pay any cash for two or three years except for administrative purposes.

THE house appropriations committee gave the navy another severe jolt last week, reducing the deficiency item for naval fuel for the remainder of the fiscal year to $6,200,000—little more than half what the navy department estimated was needed. It was predicted that Secretary Denby would be forced to issue orders forbidding all naval ships to operate under steam for the rest of the year. This would mean that the vessels must remain at anchor or tied up at docks, and that all training for war service must be discontinued.

Secretary Denby, Rear Admiral Wilson, superintendent of the naval academy, and Rear Admiral Washington, chief of the bureau of navigation, are trying to combat the movement in the house to turn back to civil life the 541 members of the academy class that graduates next June. They told the house naval committee that these men were needed, that the three other classes should be allowed to graduate and that there should be no reduction in the number admitted to the academy next autumn.

PRESIDENT Harding last week made a long and earnest appeal to congress to give direct aid to American shipping, and immediately after the delivery of his address bills prepared by the shipping board and embodying the administration recommendations were introduced by Representative Green of Massachusetts, chairman of the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries, and by Senator Jones of Washington, chairman of the senate committee on commerce.

The program embodied in these measures would cost the government about $15,000,000 the first year, and the annual expense ultimately might reach $30,000,000. Besides direct compensation to American vessels engaged in foreign trade the program involves the sale of government ships at prices based on present market values, construction loans to private companies, and various forms of indirect aid.

IN HIS ship subsidy address to congress the President took occasion to reiterate his approval of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project, and that was also the topic for a lively debate before the National Rivers and Harbors congress in Washington last week. The project was there championed by Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas and H. H. Merrick of Chicago, and was opposed by Gov. Nathan Miller of New York. Allen and Merrick set forth spiritedly the demand of the middle west for an adequate outlet to the sea for its products, and argued that the proposed waterway could be financed from the 1,000,000 horsepower to be developed. Governor Allen said the New York barge canal was all right so far as it went, but its capacity was not over one-twentieth of that demanded by the 18 states on whose behalf he spoke.

Governor Miller attacked the project as impossible of successful completion and not in the best interests of the United States. He especially protested against the proposed method of financing it, saying the waterpower rights of the state of New York should not be taken to pay the bill.

ENGLAND is enjoying a real political crisis, in which the conservatives are steadily losing strength and the liberals under the leadership of Herbert Asquith are gaining. The details do not mean much to most of us but there is great interest in one of the possible results—the retirement of Premier Lloyd George. He has been much annoyed by "insulting dictation" and criticism from some of the Tory leaders and is especially irritated by Sir George Younger, boss of the Unionist organization, who vetoed Lloyd George's plan for a general election immediately after the conference at Cannes. It is believed the premier will resign unless an election is ordered very soon.

GREAT BRITAIN abandoned its protectorate over Egypt on Tuesday and set free the land of the Pharaohs. The terms of the withdrawal were presented to Sultan Hussein Kemal by Lord Allenby and the fact was announced in parliament by Premier Lloyd George. The British government reserves to itself security of the communications of the British empire in Egypt, the defense of Egypt against foreign aggression or interference and the protection of foreign interests and the minorities in Egypt.

LOYD GEORGE and Poincare in their week-end conference settled a lot of disputed matters between England and France, and, especially, came to full agreement on the Anglo-French alliance. The treaty will pledge England to come immediately to France's aid if she is attacked by Germany without provocation. England also will support France in enforcing German disarmament and both nations will act together to protect Poland from Germany. The alliance will run for 20 years. In all this France seems to have gained her ends.

HEARS PLEA FOR RAIL WAGE CUT

Road Officials Voice Demand for a General Reduction in Compensation.

U. S. BOARD ROOMS SWAMPED

About Four Hundred Appear at Hearing—New Quarters Are Necessary—Train, Engine and Yard Men Are Exempted.

Chicago, March 8.—The United States railroad labor board opened hearings on the plea of the railroads of the nation that wages of all employees, except train engine and yard service men, be reduced. The occupations excepted at this time are still negotiating with the executives regarding the proposed cut in wages. Armed with statistics gathered after months of effort, the representatives of the railroads, J. W. Higgins, for the Western roads, and J. G. Walker, for the Eastern roads, planned to show that a cut in wages is warranted, if based on the wages paid to employees engaged in similar occupations. The survey of industries in the territories in which the roads operate has shown, according to the rail representatives, that wages in most of the industries are lower, and in cases where an equal or higher wage is paid the reason is attributed by the employers to the high wages paid rail employees.

The railroads, according to their announced policy adopted at a meeting of the American Association of Railway Executives here October 14, 1921, will ask that the board wipe out the uniform scale of wages. The fight for maintaining the present standard of wages and for retaining the uniform scale will be led by B. M. Jewell, president of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor. It is understood that he will contest the claims for a reduced wage on the ground that the cost of living has not receded sufficiently to justify a cut, and that the wages of railroad employees, and in particular, the shop crafts and other groups whose wages are under consideration by the board, were the last class of employees in any industry to receive an increase in wages at the time the labor costs were going up during the war period.

Mr. Higgins was to open the case for the railroads Monday afternoon, but Chairman R. M. Barton announced an adjournment, owing to the fact that nearly 400 men, representing railroad unions and brotherhoods, and the railroads attempted to crowd into the board's hearing room, which will accommodate less than 200 persons. Future hearings, the chairman announced, will be held in the Masonic temple.

BARTLETT TO SUCCEED WORK

New Hampshire Man, Three Times Governor, to Be Assistant Postmaster General.

Washington, March 8.—John H. Bartlett of New Hampshire was nominated by President Harding to be assistant postmaster general. Mr. Bartlett is a prominent New England politician, having been three times governor of New Hampshire and last year was appointed chairman of the civil service commission. He will succeed Dr. Robert Work who recently was appointed postmaster general, as the first assistant in the Post Office department.

PRIEST GIVEN COAT OF TAR

Rev. J. M. Keller of Slayton, Tex., Says Attack Was Due to Pro-German Accusations.

Slayton, Tex., March 8.—Rev. J. M. Keller, Catholic priest, is on his way to Dallas, never to return to Slayton. This is his promise to a committee of citizens who called on him, following a "tar party" at which he was whipped and tarred and feathered by unknown men. Reverend Keller said here that the incident was the climax of sentiment, due to pro-German accusations against him during the World war.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW GAIN

Chicago and Other Large Centers Make Increase on Parcels, Department Reports.

Washington, March 8.—An indication of business revival was seen by the Post Office department in reports from 50 of the largest post offices, showing receipts of $20,339,000 for February, an increase of 6.41 per cent over the same month last year. Parcel post centers, such as Chicago, showed decided increases, postal officials said.

Coal Operators Stand Pat.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 8.—Indiana coal operators will not seek to negotiate a single state wage agreement with the union miners, P. H. Penna, secretary of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' association, says.

Armored Cars Guard Limerick.

Limerick, March 8.—Armored motor-cars are patrolling the streets of Limerick on orders given by the military authorities to counter the move of units of the Irish republican army from Cork, Tipperary and Clare.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder troubles and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. You may suffer pain in the back, head-ache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so. But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proves to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Self Supporting. An attorney of Los Angeles advertised for a chauffeur. Some twenty-odd responded and were being questioned as to qualifications, efficiency and whether married or single. Finally, turning to a negro chap, he said: "How about you, George; are you married?" Quickly the negro responded: "Now-sir, boss, now-sir. Ah makes mah own livin'."—Judge.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Anna Corson died at her home in Elgin, Ill., last Wednesday evening after a week's illness. She was born in Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 31, 1851, and came to Illinois when a young girl, living before and after her marriage in the vicinity of Ney. About eleven years ago they retired from their farm and moved to Elgin. Besides her husband, Horton H. Corson, she is survived by one son, Floyd, of Cleveland, Ohio, one sister, Mrs. J. F. Reid of Hampshire and four brothers, Samuel Waters of Chicago, DeWitt of Kansas City, Ole of Nebraska, and Boyd of California, besides other relatives and many warm friends in and around Genoa. Funeral services were held at the home in Elgin Friday afternoon, interment took place in Genoa cemetery last Saturday morning.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS ATTENTION
The Royal Neighbors will hold an all day meeting at the rest rooms Thursday, March 16, for the purpose of quilting. Each lady will please bring her own cup, plate, silver and sandwiches and one dish to pass.

HUGE MAIL TERMINAL
Is Being Constructed in Chicago—To Save Time; Promote Efficiency

The seemingly-endless forest of steel posts and girders which is being added to the skyline on the west side of the river, just south of Van-Buren street, is the $3,000,000 mail terminal building, a part of the new Union Station improvement.

This immense building is 800 feet long, 75 feet wide, six stories high, contains almost seven acres of floor space and the 40-foot driveway along the entire front will provide tail gate space for 88 mail vans at one time, while in the sub-basement, trackage facilities are being provided for, forty 60-foot mail cars and platform space for loading or unloading at one time.

When completed, this mail terminal will be the most complete and largest in the world. Lighted from all four sides, it will be equipped with the latest mechanical devices for the efficient handling of mail. Forming a connecting link between the railroads on the east and the C. M. & St. P. Its speeding up effect on the movement of transcontinental mail between the Atlantic and the Pacific should be noticeable immediately.

Compass on Crossing the Equator.

The compass needle does not turn around in passing from one hemisphere into the other. The north-seeking end of the compass needle has no greater significance or meaning in the southern hemisphere than the south-seeking end of the needle has in the northern hemisphere. The compass needle is a piece of magnetized steel. It has its own positive and negative poles, or north and south poles, just like the earth. The needle and its lines of force align themselves with the earth's lines of force. In the northern hemisphere the north magnetic pole exerts the dominating influence of the needle, so it points to that pole. The south end of the needle is disregarded. In the southern hemisphere the south magnetic pole exerts the dominating influence on the needle and it points to that pole, the north end of the needle in this case being disregarded. The needle does not reverse in going from one hemisphere to another. The south end of it becomes the guide in the southern hemisphere, as the north end is the guide in the northern hemisphere.

Too Crowded.

So Daniel Boone was now on his way westward to Missouri, to a new land of fabled herds and wide spaces. . . . Waving his last farewells, he floated past the little groups—till their shouts of good will were long silenced, and his feet swung out upon the Ohio.

As Boone sailed down the beautiful river which forms the northern boundary of Kentucky, old friends and newcomers who had only heard his fame rode from far and near to greet and godspeed him on his way. Sometimes he paused for a day with them. Once at least—this was in Cincinnati where he was taking on supplies—some one asked him why he was leaving the settled country to dare the frontier once more.

"Too crowded," he answered; "I want more elbow-room!"—Constance Lindsay Skinner.

Art as We Get It.

"What is the subject of this photograph?"
"It's a story of the great North."
"Big trees, snowstorms, love in the wilds and all that sort of thing?"
"Yes, and the hero is a pretty chap who's never been five hundred miles from steam heat in his life."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Truest End of Life.

The truest end of life is to know the life that never ends.—William Penn.

Niagara Falls Moving.
The edge of Niagara falls is steadily moving backward toward Lake Erie, owing to the work of the water in cutting away the rock over which it falls. At the Horseshoe falls the recession is at an average rate of five feet a year. The American falls are retreating much less rapidly. Geologists estimate that it has taken from 20,000 to 35,000 years to cut the Niagara gorge.

Ever Try This One?
A Frenchman has suggested that with a little training the soldier may be amphibious to a certain degree. It is contended that with practice a body of soldiers with their arms and accoutrements could walk across a stream 90 feet wide by merely walking across on the bottom with the water over their heads.—Granite State News.

Mrs. Viola French

Danville, Ill.—"I think Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine I have ever used or heard of. I learned of it through a friend when I was in a weak and highly nervous condition. I had lost interest in almost everything—just dragged on in a listless sort of way. A few doses of the 'Discovery' gave me a brighter view of life and I began to gain strength. No one but those who have used this helpful medicine are in a position to speak fully of its merit."—Mrs. Viola French, 115 N. Collett St.

Libel on American "Kiddies." In America children are even more "modern" than they are in this country. Two American children had a very bad effect on a family living quietly in Sussex.

After these two children had gone back to the States, the vicar called and said, quite playfully, to the youngest daughter of the house: "Well, my dear, and what do they call you?" "Cut that out," was the reply. "I guess you ought to know, Mr. Preacher. You put the christening dope across me."—London Tit-Bits.

What Is Needed. When Farmer Bassett decided to send his son to college, and selected one exploiting the advantages of its physical training system, he had a plain talk with the president:

"John don't need no setting up exercises. He sets up too late already, so I'd rather you'd cut them out. But say, if you've got any good getting up exercises that are a sure thing, go to it with John!"—Wayside Tales.

Inviting Trouble. "Would I consider him a prudent man? I can't say that I would. Exactly the opposite, in fact."

"What reason have you for holding such an opinion of him?" "I happen to know that he lets his wife and the lady who expects to succeed her have charge accounts at the same store."

Forecast. "What's the weather forecast?" "Both parties are freely predicting harmony."

THE BOY, FATHER OF THE MAN.

Here's another of those Booth Tarkington boy-and-girl stories that set everyone laughing and living over again the days of youth. This one is much like "Penrod" and "Seventeen" and "The Oriole." It's different, too, in that it carries Ramsey Milholland and Dora Yocum through school and college life to early maturity in the World War. So it's as serious as well as funny, and it's one of Booth Tarkington's best of its kind. That's enough.

CHAPTER I.

When Johnnie comes marching home again.

Hurrah! Hurrah! We'll give him a hearty welcome then. Hurrah! Hurrah! The men with cheers, the boys with shouts.

The ladies will all turn out. And we'll all feel gay, when Johnnie comes marching home again!

The old man and the little boy, his grandson, sat together in the shade of the big walnut tree in the front yard, watching the "Decoration Day Parade," as it passed up the long street; and when the last of the veterans was out of sight the grandfather murmured the words of the tune that came drifting back from the now distant band at the head of the procession.

"Did you, Grandpa?" the boy asked. "Did I what?"

"Did you all feel gay when the army got home?"

"It didn't get home all at once, precisely," the grandfather explained. "When the war was over I suppose we felt relieved, more than anything else."

"You didn't feel so gay when the war was, though, I guess?" the boy ventured.

"I guess we didn't." "Were you ever scared the Johnnies would win?"

"No. We weren't ever afraid of that."

"Well, weren't you ever scared yourself, Grandpa? I mean when you were in a battle."

"Oh, yes; I was." The old man laughed. "Scared plenty!"

"I don't see why," the boy said promptly. "I wouldn't be scared in a battle."

"Wouldn't you?" "Course not! Grandpa, why don't you march in the Decoration Day parade? Wouldn't they let you?"

"I'm not able to march any more. Too short of breath and too shaky in the legs and too blind."

"I wouldn't care," said the boy. "I'd be in the parade anyway, if I was you. If I'd been in your place, Grandpa, and they'd let me be in that parade, I'd been right up by the band. Look, Grandpa! Watch me, Grandpa! This is the way I'd be, Grandpa."

He rose from the garden bench where they sat, and gave a complex imitation of what had most appealed to him as the grandeur of the procession, his prancing legs simulating those of the horse of the grand marshal, while his upper parts rendered the drums and bugles of the band, as well as the officers and privates of the militia company which had been a feature of the parade. The only thing he left out was the detachment of veterans.

"Putty-boom! Putty-boom! Putty-boom-boom-boom!" he vociferated, as the drums—and then as the bugles: "Ta, ta, ra, tara!"

"Whoa," he addressed his restive legs. "Whoa, there, you Whitey! Gee! Haw! Git up!" Then, waving an imaginary sword: "Column right! Far-wud march! Halt! Carry harms!" He "shouldered arms," and returned to his seat.

"That'd be me, Grandpa. That's the way I'd do." And as the grandfather nodded, seeming to agree, a thought recently dismissed returned to the mind of the composite procession and he asked:

"Well, why weren't you ever afraid the Johnnies would whip the Unions, Grandpa?"

"Oh, we knew they couldn't."

"I guess so." The little boy laughed disdainfully, thinking his question satisfactorily answered. "I guess those ole Johnnies couldn't whip a flea! They didn't know how to light any at all, did they, Grandpa?"

"Oh, yes, they did!" "What?" The boy was astounded. "Weren't they all just reg'lar ole cowards, Grandpa?"

"No," said the grandfather. "They were pretty fine soldiers."

"They were? Well, they ran away whenever you began shootin' at 'em, didn't they?"

"Sometimes they did, but most times they didn't. Sometimes they fought like wildcats—and sometimes we were the ones that ran away."

"But the Johnnies were bad men, weren't they, Grandpa?"

"No." The boy's forehead, customarily vacant, showed some little vertical shadows, produced by a struggle to think. "Well, but—" he began slowly. "Listen, Grandpa, listen here! You said—you said you never got scared the ole Johnnies were goin' to win."

"They did win pretty often," said the grandfather. "They won a good many battles."

"I mean, you said you never got scared they'd win the war?"

"No, we were never afraid of that." "Well, but if they were good men and fought like wildcats, Grandpa, and kep' winning battles and everything, how could that be? How could you help bein' scared they'd win the war?"

The grandfather's feeble eyes twinkled brightly. "Why, we knew they couldn't, Ramsey."

At this, the little vertical shadows on Ramsey's forehead became more pronounced, for he had succeeded in thinking. "Well, they didn't know they couldn't, did they?" he argued. "They thought they were goin' to win, didn't they?"

"Yes; I guess they did. But you see they were wrong."

"Well, but—" Ramsey struggled. "Listen! I listen here, Grandpa! Well, anyway, I listen here got scared they'd win—well, I don't see—"

"You don't see what?"

But Ramsey found himself unable to continue his concentration. "Oh, nothin' much," he murmured.

"I see." And his grandfather laughed again. "You mean: If the Johnnies felt just as sure of winning the war as we did, and kept winning battles, why shouldn't we ever have had any doubts we were going to win? That's it, isn't it?"

"I guess so, Grandpa." "Well, I think it was mostly because we were certain that we were right."

"I see," said Ramsey. "The Johnnies knew they were on the side of the

"I Wouldn't Care," Said the Boy. "I'd Be in the Parade Anyway, if I Was You."

devil." But at this, the grandfather's laugh was louder than it had been before, and Ramsey looked hurt. "Well, you can laugh if you want to!" he objected in an aggrieved voice. "Any-way, the Sunday school superintendent told us when people knew they were on the devil's side they always—"

"I dare say, I dare say," the old man interrupted, a little impatiently. "But in this world might be few people think they're on the devil's side, Ramsey. The South thought the devil was on our side, you see."

"Well, that kind o' mixes it all up more'n ever."

"Suppose you look at it this way: The South was fighting for what it believed to be its right to be a country by itself; but we were fighting for 'Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable.' There's the reason we had the certain knowledge that we were going to win the war. How plain and simple it is!"

Ramsey didn't think so. He had begun to feel bored by the conversation, and to undergo the oppression he usually suffered in school. The earnest old voice of the veteran was only a sound in the boy's ears.

"Boom—" The veterans had begun to fire their cannon on the crest of the low hill, out at the cemetery; and from a little way down the street came the rat-a-tat of a toy drum and sounds of a file played execrably. A file of children in cocked hats made of newspapers came marching importantly up the sidewalk under the maple shade trees; and in advance, upon a velocipede, rode a tin-sworded personage, shrieking incessant commands but not concerning himself with whether or not any military obedience was thereby obtained. Here was a revivifying effect upon young Ramsey; his sluggard eyelids opened electrically; he leaped to his feet and, abandoning his grandfather without preface or apology, sped across the lawn and out of the gate, charging headlong upon the commander of the company.

"You get off that velocipede, Wesley Bender!" he bellowed. "You glumme that sword! What rights you got to you bein' captain o' my army, I'd like to know! Who got up this r'd in the first place, I'd like to know! I did, myself, yesterday afternoon, and you get back in line or I won't let you blong to it at all!"

The pretender succumbed; he instantly dismounted, being out-shouted and overawed. On foot he took his place in the ranks, while Ramsey became sternly vociferous. "In-tention, company! Far-wud march! Col-umn right! Right-shoulder harms! Halt! Far-wud march. Carry harms—"

The army went trudging away under the continuous but unheeded fire of orders, and presently disappeared round a corner, leaving the veteran chuckling feebly under his walnut tree and alone with the empty street. All trace of what he had said seemed to have been wiped from the grandson's mind; but memory has curious ways. Ramsey had understood not a fifth nor a tenth of his grandfather's talk, and already he had "forgotten" all of it—yet not only were there many, many times in the boy's later life when, without ascertainable cause, he would remember words and sentences spoken by the grandfather, though the listener, half-drowsily, had heard but the sound of an old, earnest voice—and even the veteran's meaning finally took on a greater definiteness till it became, in the grandson's thoughts, something clear and bright and beautiful that he knew without being just sure where or how he had learned it.

CHAPTER II

Ramsey Milholland sat miserably in school, his conscious being consisting principally of a dull hate. Torpor was a little dispersed during a fifteen-minute interval of "Music," when he and all the other pupils in the large room of the "Five B. Grade" sang repeatedly fractions of what they enunciated as "The Star Span-guh-hulled Banner"; but afterward he relapsed into the low spirits and animosity natural to anybody during enforced confinement under instruction. No alleviation was accomplished by an invader's temporary usurpation of the teacher's platform, a brisk and unsympathetic cheerful young woman mounting thereon to "teach German."

For a long time mathematics and German had been about equally repulsive to Ramsey, who found himself daily in the compulsory presence of both; but he was gradually coming to regard German with the greater horror, because, after months of patient mental resistance, he at last began to comprehend that the German language has sixteen special and particular ways of using the German article corresponding to that flexible bit of a word so easily managed in English—the

What in the world was the use of having sixteen ways of doing a thing that could just as well be done in one? If the Germans had contented themselves with insisting upon sixteen useless variations for infrequent words, such as hippopotamus, for instance, Ramsey might have thought the affair unreasonable but not necessarily vicious—it would be easy enough to avoid talking about a hippopotamus if he ever had to go to Germany. But the fact that the Germans picked out a and the and many other little words in use all the time, and gave every one of them sixteen forms, and expected Ramsey Milholland to learn this dizzy uselessness down to the last crotchety detail, with "When to employ Which" as a nausea to prepare for the final convulsion when one didn't use Which, because it was an "Exception"—there was a fashion of making easy matters hard that was merely hellish.

The teacher was strict but enthusiastic; she told the children, over and over, that the German was a beautiful language, and her face always had a glow when she said this. At such times the children looked patient; they supposed it must be so, because she was an adult and their teacher; and they believed her with the same manner of believing which those of them who went to Sunday school used there when the Sunday school teachers were pushed into explanation of various matters set forth in the Old Testament, or gave reckless descriptions of heaven. That is to say, the children did not challenge or deny; already they had been driven into habits of resignation and were passing out of the age when childhood is able to reject adult nonsense.

Ramsey Milholland did not know whether the English language was beautiful or not; he never thought about it. Moreover, though his deeper inwardly hated "German," he liked his German teacher, and it was pleasant to look at her when that glow came upon her face.

"What silences we keep, year after year. With those who are most near to us and dear! We live beside each other day by day, And speak of myriad things, but seldom say The full sweet word that lies just in our reach. Beneath the commonplace of common speech."

"How weak and poor beside the love that we express Now seems beside the vast, sweet, unexpressed, And aught the deeds we did, to those undone, And small the service spent in treasures won. And undeserved the praise for word and deed, That should have overflowed the simple need."

FOR COMPANY LUNCHEONS

A little cooked chicken left from a previous dinner will make a most tasty dish of Chicken Timbale. — To one cupful of ground chicken, add one egg white beaten stiff, two table-spoonfuls of minced parsley, one teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of cayenne. Line timbale molds with buttered paper, fill with the chicken mixture and cook twenty minutes in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven. Unmold on a hot plate, add two table-spoonfuls of fresh cooked peas and pour over a mushroom sauce.

Grape Parfait.—Take one-half cupful of grape juice, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, cook until it halves from the spoon, then pour over a stiffly beaten egg white, beating the mixture constantly until it is cool. Add one cupful of thick cream, adding one-half cupful of grape juice and one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice. Freeze. Fill a sherbet glass two-thirds full and garnish with whipped cream.

Cheese and Endive Salad.—Take cream cheese, roll into small balls and sprinkle with paprika. Make a nest of well-washed and drained endive, add the cheese balls and just before serving pour over a French dressing.

Boston Prune Pie.—Soak one pound of prunes in water to cover over night. Stew them in the same water until tender. Remove the stones and rub the fruit through a strainer, flavor with grated orange rind and orange juice. Add sugar to sweeten and to each cupful of prune pulp allow two eggs and one-half cupful of cream. Beat the yolks, add a little salt and fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Line a pie pan with a rich paste, turn in the mixture and bake until firm.

Hot Apple Pie.—Bake a pastry shell, fill with hot well-seasoned apple sauce, adding plenty of butter. Cover with a meringue and brown in the oven. Serve with a strip of American cheese.

"What silences we keep, year after year. With those who are most near to us and dear! We live beside each other day by day, And speak of myriad things, but seldom say The full sweet word that lies just in our reach. Beneath the commonplace of common speech."

WHAT TO EAT

A nice sandwich which the children will enjoy for their luncheon is

Raisin Sandwich.—Stew raisins until plump, in a very little orange juice. Set aside to become cold. When ready to serve prepare for the lunch basket, spread graham bread with butter; add a spoonful of raisins and some marshmallow cream; then place another piece of buttered bread on top. Cream and a nut may be used for garnishing if desired.

Potato Nut Cake.—Take three-fourths cupful of sugar, four well-beaten eggs, one cupful of cold mashed potato, one-half cupful of grated sweet chocolate, one-half cupful of milk, one cupful of chopped nuts, two and one-half cupfuls of flour, two and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one teaspoonful of cinnamon.

Afternoon Tea Crackers.—Butter soda crackers and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon well mixed. Place in the oven and when brown decorate with raisins that have been steamed.

Pickled Fish.—Cut fish in pieces as for frying. Wash well and sprinkle with salt and let stand 12 hours, then boil about five minutes. Take one cupful of vinegar, one cupful of water, add three bay leaves and a few pepper corns tied in a small cloth. Place the fish in a stone jar and cover with the boiling hot vinegar and set away in a cool place. Add a slice of onion and a few cloves before using.

Apple Marshmallow Dessert.—Peel, quarter and slice six nice juicy apples. Have ready one-third of a cupful of seedless raisins, one cupful of sugar. Arrange the apples and raisins with the sugar in layers in a buttered baking dish; add one-fourth of a cupful of water; cover and bake in a moderate oven until the apples are tender. Brush with sugar and arrange marshmallows an inch apart over the apples. Place in the oven long enough to plump and delicately brown the marshmallows. Serve with cream.

Chicken Cooked in Milk.—Cut up a chicken as for frying—one too old to cook in the usual way will be tender if cooked in milk. Cover with sweet milk and set into a moderate oven, cook slowly, then uncover the last hour of cooking to brown the fowl.

"You bet your life I hate her. 'Teacher's Pet,' that's what I call her."

Never one restless night— never one sick day!

Drawn from actual photograph of Jackson Allan Beard, son of Mrs. A. A. Beard, Priest River, Idaho.

CAN you say this of your baby? Or are you constantly worried, up half of the night, because his food is not agreeing with him?

Little Jackson Allan is a fine sturdy baby. Every child should be like him, for "he never has had a sick day" in spite of "the intense heat" of last summer. Mrs. Beard chose the famous Eagle Brand for her baby's food. His condition today justifies her choice, for he has progressed steadily ever since.

But more than that, Jackson now has a baby sister. She had a poor start. At five months she was undernourished and had rickets. Mrs. Beard promptly put her on Eagle Brand. Two months later she had gained five pounds—and is growing and getting along fine.

Don't experiment with your baby. Eagle Brand is the standard infant food. Generations of babies have been reared on it. Mrs. Beard is but one of the thousands of mothers who have written us concerning the wonderful benefits of Eagle Brand. And thousands of doctors have recommended it—for it is easily digested.

Eagle Brand is not a "prepared food". It is just milk—good pure milk combined with cane sugar—the natural food when mother's milk fails. You can buy Eagle Brand anywhere. It keeps indefinitely, so you can order a supply and have it always at hand. It is absolutely pure and uniform.

Do you want a beautiful little record book in which to keep your baby's record? You know how much you'll value it in the years to come. Just cut out the coupon and send it to us. We will mail "The Best Baby" and Eagle Brand feeding chart FREE.

Mistaken Identity. Helen was a freshman at Shortridge High school and was proud of her new ring bearing the school insignia.

The waiter at the restaurant where she went said something that to Helen sounded like "Shorridge?" to which she promptly replied, gazing at her ring, which she supposed he had noticed: "Yes, are you from there, too?"

The waiter looked bored, and then repeated his request: "Short ribs or roast beef?"—Indianapolis News.

Political vindication frequently means that the people have been fooled again.

THE ECONOMY BAKING POWDER

CALUMET

Calumet possesses the farthest-reaching baking powder economy. It is the most economical leavening agent. It saves in more ways—and makes more important savings than most other baking powders.

You save when you buy it. The price is moderate—it leaves you money over the cost of high-priced brands for purchase of other articles. Costs but little more than cheap powders—far more valuable in quality.

You save when you use it. Possesses more than the ordinary raising force—you use only half as much as is ordinarily required.

You save materials it is used with. Calumet never fails with any kind of recipe or with any kind of flour—always produces perfectly raised, delicious bakings.

You'll notice a great difference when you use Calumet. Calumet produces light, sweet, wholesome, flaky bakings. You will notice with some of the cheaper brands the bakings are soggy, heavy, dark in color, and sometimes have a bitter taste.

Used by leading chefs and domestic scientists, and by more housewives than any other brand. Made in the world's largest and finest baking powder plants. Best by test. A trial proves it.

The Law Says 16 oz. to a Pound
 A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

1911 and continued to live with him until December 6, 1921. One child was adopted, now 6 years of age, known as Dorothy Abbott residing with complainant. The complainant further testified to numerous acts of cruelty committed by the defendant as a result of which it became necessary for her to separate herself from him. At the conclusion of the hearing the court entered a decree in favor of complainant dissolving the bonds of matrimony.

Proofs were partially heard in the habeas corpus proceedings brought for the use of Antonia Kissur against Frank Kissur of Hinckley, to obtain the custody of Sylvia Kissur. The custody of the child was awarded the mother in a divorce proceedings brought in Chicago against Frank Kissur. It was claimed that the defendant improperly obtained custody of the child and refused to give her up. At the conclusion of the hearing an order was entered continuing the cause generally and pending final disposition of the cause of the child. Sylvia is to be placed and kept in St. Hedwigs Industrial school for girls at Niles, Ill.

Court adjourned to March 13, 1922 at 10 a. m. The petit jury summoned for February term will be present.

OLE WAS OBEYING ORDERS

First Five Hundred Miles Slowly, Said Agent, and He Intended to Do as Directed.

The agent of a certain popular automobile made a sale to a Swedish farmer in a small town near Topeka. His instructions to the purchaser he said: "You must be careful."

"Also for the first 500 miles you must drive slowly—not over 15 miles an hour—or you will burn out your bearings."

"Ay do dot, dat," said Ole. "Your car has two gears, high and low. If you want to go fast put 'er in high. If you want to go slow, put 'er in low."

"Yes, stree, you can bet on Ole—ay want to go fast lak evertang ay put been in high, if ay want to go slow ay put been in low. Shure, ay no."

The next day the neighbors noticed Ole driving his new car up and down the road in "low." He kept it up until it began to sputter and steam and was developing a terrific knock.

"Ole, you mustn't do that, don't you know you'll ruin your car that way—you'll burn up the bearings," they cautioned him.

"Ya can't fool Ole. Da boss who sold me das car told ma ay shall not drive over fifteen miles hour for 500 miles. He said to go in hurry put car in high gear, to go slow, lak turtle, put been in low gear. Ay shall run 500 miles in low gear; get out vay quick, ay got 400 miles to go."

The neighbors argued, expostulated, then laughed, and Ole, with "Ya shall al go to h—l," struck out down the road at 15 miles an hour in low gear.

CAUSE OF CANCER UNKNOWN

Dread Disease Has Baffled the Best Efforts of the Medical Fraternity for Centuries.

Medical science today knows no more about the cause of cancer than was known 1,000 years ago.

Some families seem to be immune. In other families deaths from cancer occur in generation after generation, as if to show a hereditary tendency.

There are many so-called "cancer houses," in which deaths from the disease have occurred with such lamentable repetition as to destroy their market value for selling or renting purposes. An evil repute attaches to certain well-known "cancer districts," in which the death rate from this malady is extraordinarily high. There is one such district in the Berkshires of Massachusetts, another is in the middle of New York state.

One of the many theories regarding the cause of cancer is that it is attributable to an undiscovered germ, carried by the bedbug or some other insect. If that were correct, the disease would surely be more prevalent among the slum-dwelling poor than among well-to-do people who enjoy the benefit of sanitary surroundings. But such is not the case; cancer is as common among the rich as in the tenement and poorer quarters of our cities. —Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Early English History.

The reason that the Norman conquest did not subjugate the English is explained by the fact that "Jutes, Angles, Saxons, Danes and Normans" were all kindred in race and so they united in one race; the Welsh, Irish and Scots were of the Celtic race. The Normans were not Frenchmen in the beginning but pirates from Scandinavia, who had come to France and had been given a tract of land. They adopted the French language and became in time the most courteous and noble people in Europe, but when they won the battle of Hastings, they were more nearly akin to the English or Anglo-Saxons than to the French, although they brought the French language to England, and many of their words were incorporated into the language. Because of racial differences the Welsh, Irish and Scotch did not unite with the English as easily, but the centuries have obliterated many racial characteristics because of many intermarriages.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Noise.
Every organ of your body develops resisting powers as you need them. A miller gets so used to the sound of his mill wheels that he ceases to hear them and can catch a whisper.

Put 50 identical machines in a room. Workers forget the noise. But, if one machine stops, the operator knows it instantly by the changed sound.

This power of the ears to adjust themselves to environment makes city life possible. Metropolitans live in an inferno of noise. The ears ignore it, in a large sense, though the noise is there, tearing away at the nervous system.

THE RIGHT THING AT THE RIGHT TIME

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

Behavior is a mirror in which every one displays his image.—Goethe.

THE housing problem is a bigger one now than it has ever been before in this country. Therefore a good many of us are either buying or building houses and we are coming up against unaccustomed problems.

The first thing to remember, whether you buy a house from a total stranger or from your next-door neighbor, is that the transaction is purely one of business. It should be carried on in an absolutely businesslike way. Just because you know the man you are buying the house from is no reason why you should not have everything about it put down in the legal form. And just because the man who is buying the house from you is a friend of yours is no reason why you should feel any offense because he wants to be purely businesslike about the transaction.

On the other hand, the well-bred buyer or seller of a house tries always to do the courteous thing. If you are selling a house and know that it would be a great convenience to those who buy it to take possession a few days ahead of the specified time, let them do so if you can manage to.

Remember when you sell a house that the garden goes with it. If you want to transplant any of your favorite flowers after the house is sold it is the courteous thing to ask permission of the persons who have sold it to. And remember that once the deed is signed everything about the house belongs not to you, who have sold it, even though you are still living in it, but to the person who has bought it. And although you are entitled to live in it until the date agreed upon, you are not entitled to take anything away from it that goes with the house.

When you buy a new home it is quite probable that your friends will want to see it. The best way to avoid unpleasant feeling and to make matters easy for you is to specify a given date when you will be at home in the new house. It is even sometimes a good plan to give an informal tea or at-home to welcome your friends to your new house and thus to give them a chance to see it. (Copyright.)

SUNG HIS OWN COMPOSITIONS

Thomas Moore, Famous Irish Poet, Was Surely Exceptionally Endowed by Nature.

Thomas Moore, Ireland's favorite minstrel poet, was born in rooms over a Dublin corner grocery in 1779, and died a baronet, the "pote of all circles and the darlin' of his own," the idol of two continents, in 1852.

For the last thirty years of his life he lived in a cottage at Slouperton, near Devizes, Wiltshire, where he devoted himself to all manner of literary efforts. His works include not only delightful short poems of "The Last Rose of Summer" type, but also poems to form a quarto volume, such as "Lalla Rookh," for which Moore received 3,000 guineas ($15,000), and they include prose of all kinds, a series of humorous letters, biographies and even a "History of Ireland."

Moore himself was a beautiful singer and rendered his own compositions often in public, it is related. After the tragic death of his daughter he refused to sing publicly again. His daughter, the darling of his heart, was leaning over the balustrade one night to throw a kiss to her father as he was going out to dine, when she lost her balance, fell and was killed.

"The Last Rose of Summer" was one of Moore's most exquisite creations. It appears in a collection of "Irish Melodies," written for Power, a London music publisher, on a contract to supply a considerable number of songs for a volume entitled as above. The work was started in 1807 and was not completed till 1834. "The Last Rose of Summer," however, was among the early productions, and is therefore easily more than 100 years old.

LAWYER COULD NOT SEE IT

Legal Luminary Felt Himself Regretfully Compelled to Decline Offered Job of "Spellbinding."

"I want to take time by the forelock," he said as he entered a lawyer's office.

"Yes, sir! Yes, sir!" was the reply. "Always take time by the forelock and you won't get left. What it is, sir."

"Well, we are to have an election this fall for city offices, and I wanted to know if I could engage you to make a speech for me the night before election."

"Are you going to be a candidate?" was asked.

"I am."
"But what about the speech?"
"Why, a feller is going to run against me again who beat me by 300 votes last year. In fact, I only got two votes. I want you to come up and give me such a speech that I will beat him worse than he beat me. You will want to lay it right down to him. He killed a horse once, and stole a saw-mill, and has been married three times. If you will come up and present the case in a way to knock the feller out, I will give you $5."

The lawyer respectfully declined to take the case, and somebody will get snowed under again.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Bret Harte.

Bret Harte, American poet and novelist, was born at Albany, N. Y., August 25, 1839. While a youth he went to California, where, several years later he founded the Overland Monthly in San Francisco. In 1870 he was made professor of recent literature in the University of California, but resigned and returned to New York the following year. He was United States consul at Creford, Germany, 1878-80, and at Glasgow, 1880-85, and afterward lived in England. Among his many works are "The Luck of Roaring Camp," "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," "Condensed Novels, etc.," "The Heathen Chinee," "Poems," "Stories of the Sierras," "Tales of the Argonauts," "Gabriel Conroy," "Thankful Blossom," "Two Men of Sandy Bar," "California Stories," "A Millionaire of Rough and Ready," "A Drift From Redwood Camp" and "A Phyllis of the Sierras."

Her Daddy Was All Right.

When I was twelve years old I called upon Mary (aged eleven) one Sunday evening. I was all dressed up and had pilfered an armful of mother's cherished lilacs from the garden. I stole out the alley gate, traversed Mary's back yard and she met me at the kitchen door. We sat on the back steps. I restrained a strong impulse to flee when Mary said, "Father is coming. I think." He was a gruff, bad man. When he saw us I was terror-stricken. What he said was, "How's the boy tonight?" and he took us both in the house and sent little brother after ice cream and Mary's mother cut a cake. So I wasn't kicked out by an irate father, after all; in fact, he still likes me and often jokes about the lilacs and the kitchen steps, although another young man walked up the aisle with Mary.—Chicago Journal.

Feel Stiff and Achy After Every Cold?

Do You Have Constant Backache? Feel Old and Lame and Suffer Sharp, Rheumatic Pains? Then Look to Your Kidneys!

DOES every cold, chill or attack of grip leave you worn-out and utterly miserable? Do you feel old and lame, stiff and rheumatic? Does your back ache with a dull, unceasing throb, until it seems you just can't stand it any longer?

Then look to your kidneys! Grip, colds and chills are mighty hard on the kidneys. They fill the blood with poisons and impurities that the kidneys must filter off. The kidneys weaken under this rush of new work; become congested and inflamed.

It's little wonder, then, that every cold leaves you with torturing backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities.

But don't worry! Simply realize that your kidneys are over-worked at such times and need assistance. Get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Assist them, also, by drinking pure water freely, eating lightly and getting plenty of fresh air and rest. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Grateful Folks:

Mrs. T. Testesen, 315 W. Chippewa St., Dwight, Ill., says: "I caught cold and it settled in my kidneys and brought on backache. When I was sweeping, sharp pains would shoot through the small of my back. I was drowsy and it was hard to keep awake at times. My feet swelled so I could hardly put my shoes on. I had dull pains in the back of my head and dizzy spells came over me when I would have to put my hand on a chair to keep from falling. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and used one box and they gave me relief."

Geo. L. Richardson, retired farmer, 402 Lincoln Ave., Dixon, Ill., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for some years off and on as a tonic for my kidneys and they have kept them active and healthy. I had signs of kidney disorder such as heavy, full feeling across my back just over my kidneys, especially when I have taken cold. The kidney sections were somewhat retarded at times. Doan's have always proved a valuable remedy in curing these attacks. They keep me in good health for a man of my age. I can recommend Doan's to old people."

A Virginian, recently elected judge and feeling keenly the responsibilities of his exalted position, was coming on horseback along a road in a remote section of his district. He saw a smoke on a hillside.

"Boy," he said to a lad who was loafing alongside the road, "Is that smoke up there from a still?"

"Yes, sir, I reckon it is," the boy replied.

"What are they making up there?" "Might be makin' some apple brandy."

The judge jumped from his horse. "Here, boy," he said, "hold this horse. I'm going up there and stop that. They can't flout the law in that manner in my district."

The boy took the reins and the judge climbed the fence and started toward the smoke. After he had gone a few steps the boy shouted:

"Oh, mister!" "What is it?" asked the judge.

"Effen you don't come back, what must I do with the horse?"—Saturday Evening Post.

A few weeks ago I was invited to dine with a couple of old schoolmates who had been married for some time. I was asked to bring a friend who had also attended school with us.

The dinner looked appetizing, and was progressing smoothly with all of us in good spirits.

Suddenly, Jack, my married friend, turned to his wife and said: "Vera, what's the matter with these biscuits?"

She made some sort of reply, whereupon he answered they were not fit to eat, that his mother could do better baking, and asked who baked them.

Vera, with an injured expression, answered: "Why, Jack, dear, your mother sent them over this evening."

Both, I know, wished the dinner over, and I found I had a pressing engagement directly afterward.—Chicago Tribune.

"Mac," he said plaintively, "they tells me I'm goin' to kick over. If I do, will yer ferget our fights and sort of let bygones be bygones?"

"That'll be a'right," said Mac, in great embarrassment.

"And, Mac"—here the old gob's voice grew stronger—"if I ever get well and ye remind me I ever said that, I'll knock that fat wooden block off her shoulders."

F. P. Fanning and E. Farrel played basket ball with the Genoa town team against Hampshire at Hampshire Tuesday evening.

The Thimble Club met last week Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Cole. Their next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Alfred Sexaner March 30.

J. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. A. May, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Uplinger, Miss Dorothy Himan and Elsie Anderson motored to Chicago Saturday in the former's car.

Miss Lillie Ekstrom and John Snyder were united in marriage last Saturday. They will make their home on a farm near Kirkland. Their many friends extend their congratulations.

The home of Mr. John Lenwood caught on fire last Friday afternoon from sparks from the chimney lighting on the roof. It was noticed in time to be put out with a few pails of water, just a small place being burned.

Last Saturday night Monroe Center H. S. Basketball team played the Kingston H. S. team here winning the game. Kirkland town team played the Kingston town team, Kingston winning that game. After the games refreshments were served, consisting of coffee, buns, frankfords, cake and olives.

Those from here who attended the O. E. S. School of instruction at Kirkland Monday were: Mesdames, W. H. Bell, L. H. Branch, Lee Smith, W. Cole, Leon Uplinger, B. F. Uplinger, J. Helsdon and H. Stark.

Miss Sue McDonald moved last week into part of the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Roser. Her brother, John McDonald, of Washington is visiting her.

Adelbert Gustavson, youngest son of Mr. V. Gustavson, was hit on the head last Saturday with a belt that came off from a gasoline engine, fracturing his skull. He was taken to the Sycamore Hospital Sunday. He was unconscious until Tuesday afternoon

YANK KICKS-IN WITH NEW DRUM

A certain Salvation Army corps has a new drum.

A tall, row-boned American doughboy, wearing the insignia of the American Army of Occupation, lugged the drum into the place last week.

"Say, Cap," yelled the soldier, "here's a new drum. A couple of years before the war I stole one of your drums and the gang and me had a great time.

"I thought it was a pretty good joke on you birds until the war came and I went to France. Then one day some lussies came through the trenches and banded us coffee and doughnuts.

"That was the day I promised myself if I'd ever get home again I'd buy a new drum for you.

TRAINED WORKERS WATCH FOR MISSING

Salvation Army Bureau Last Year Restored 548 Persons to Anxious Relatives.

The Salvation Army is said to be the most extensive detective bureau in existence—operating in over 7,000 cities. Trained workers keep a vigilant watch for those who have disappeared throughout the United States. This service extends to the outposts of civilization in India or Africa.

By means of a more extended organization working through county advisory boards, 548 missing persons were restored to their homes and friends last year.

The activities of the local advisory boards has resulted in greater economy and efficiency in the administration of Salvation Army affairs as the figures testify regarding the lost.

Numerous inquiries for the missing are made every day in Illinois. Many families were reunited and persons found in this state last year.

The Salvation Army is asking Illinois to contribute to its home service appeal, October 24 to 31, with which to carry on and extend this branch of work together with the 15 other major activities.

NEW YORK HAS UNIQUE HAT SHOP.

Some women's hats never go out of style.

In New York city there is a millinery shop which makes every sale with positive guarantee that its bonnet will be just as attractive, just as admired and even more in vogue five or ten years from now.

The place is the Salvation Army "Millinery Shop," where the famous "Blue Bonnets" of Salvation Army girls are made.

Three hundred bonnets each week are trimmed, boxed, sent to all parts of the country and started on their mission of spreading cheer and hope in every corner of the United States.

Shaped like nothing else under the sun, the familiar Blue Bonnet is a symbol of unselfish service in nurseries, hospitals and tenements everywhere.

The Salvation Army is asking Illinois to contribute to its home service appeal, October 24 to 31, for the purpose of keeping its "bonnet wearers" on the job and to extend the army service in the state.

Cut Glass.

Use lukewarm water, softened by the addition of soap, ammonia and washing soda, for cleaning your cut glass.

Do Not Reach for the Moon.

Psychological science apparently has exploded the good old notion that "babies will reach for the moon." Dr. John B. Watson states in the Scientific Monthly that when actually put to the test they will watch attentively anything they see moving, no matter what its distance, but that they will not reach for it until it is within 20 inches of them.

DON'T SWALLOW THEIR YOUNG

Popular Idea Concerning Snakes is Not Borne Out by the Observations of Scientists.

Snakes don't swallow their young. The ventral scales on a female snake are controlled by a muscle just behind the head. Ordinarily they are horizontal, but when the mother snake scents danger she contracts the muscle on the back of her neck, which immediately brings the scales to a vertical position. This opens a slit under the bottom jaw, and at the same time loosens the abdominal skin, thus forming a pouch. The younger ones dart through the slit and into the pouch, and this is what has led people to think they take refuge in the mother snake's stomach.

It requires careful and skilled dissection to detect the pouch, because the skin shrinks when a snake is killed. When the poison gland is removed it tightens the skin under the neck, and the youngsters can't get into the pouch. In the female snake, between the pharynx and the gullet, there is a peculiar, lid-like valve, and anything passing this valve can't possibly return.

Happy "Couple."

Charles and his adopted mother lived all alone, and they were the best kind of pals. One morning at breakfast Charles, who had just passed his seventh birthday, reached over and patted his mother's hand, saying: "Say, mamma, I guess we're about the happiest couple in the world."

Worth Knowing.

It is said that marks on a polished or varnished surface may be removed by first rubbing them with a cut lemon and then with a cloth dipped in water.

"Wound Up."

I had been scolding one evening. The next afternoon my neighbor dropped in to inquire about my sister Jennie, who had been sick. I said I guessed the only thing that ailed her was that she was run down. Little Bob, four years old, who had been listening, piped up: "Well, mother, why don't Aunt Jennie get wound up like dad said you were last night?" —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Novelty for Jerusalem.

Jerusalem has passed through a siege and war without being damaged by the invaders or the besieged, for the first time in the history of the city. The British airplanes flew over the Holy city frequently to observe the movements of the Turkish forces, but no bombs were dropped on its historical buildings by order of General Allenby, the commander-in-chief. It was the eighteenth time the place had been captured since the city was built.

Safety First.

Johnny, only three years old, was being entertained with some music on the phonograph. He was told by his aunt that he would soon hear a bear growl. Johnny looked very much frightened, and then whispered: "Oh, Auntie, don't open those doors on the Wicktown or bear might run out." —Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Ivory Nut.

There are two species of palms producing nuts hard enough to be employed as a substitute for ivory in the manufacture of small articles of domestic use, but the one best known to commerce under the name of ivory nut is the fruit of Phytelephas macrourpa, native of New Granada and other parts of Central America.
