THE GRIM REAPER

Takes Henry Holroyd Tuesday—Obituary of Bert Shipman

Henry Holroyd, son of Alonzo and Sarah Holroyd, died at his home in this city Tuesday morning at 1:15, after a long illness.

Henry was stricken with inflammatory rheumatism eleven weeks ago and suffered greatly for weeks. He recovered from that disease, however, but before he became fully convalescent, organic heart trouble set in laying him low. He fought bravely for life and did not give up the battle until the day before his death when he seemed to realize that the end was near.

The deceased was born in Genoa on the 15th of April, 1886, and has always resided here. Besides the parents he leaves to mourn two sisters, Mrs. Kittie Schneider of Chicago and Mrs. Susie Leonard of this city.

Funeral services were held at the house Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and at the church at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. T. E. Ream officiating.

BERT SHIPMAN

Bert Shipman, eldest son of Isaac and Susana Shipman, was born in Hughesville, Pennsylvania, on February 18, 1844, and died at St. Joseph's hospital, Keokuk, Iowa, Tuesday, Aug. 8, at 11:30 p. m.

Mr. Shipman served several years under the stars and stripes in the civil war, receiving an honorable discharge at the close. In 1868 he came west with his parents and other members of the family and located in Riley township. He continued to reside in this vicinity until about ten years ago he went to Iowa. Last winter he was ill several weeks with pneumonia and never fully recovered, finally succumbing to lung disease. Besides his mother who resides with her son, Chester, at the old homestead in Riley, he leaves three brothers and three sisters: Ed, Shell Rock, Iowa; Kline, Genoa; Chester, Riley; Emma Smith, Ney; Mrs. Minerva Gorton, Huntersville, Pa.; Mrs. Mary Stanley, Tilden, Nebr.

The body was brought to Genoa last Thursday morning, funeral services being held at the home of Chester Shipman, Rev. T. E. Ream officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the family lot in Riley township.

Those who mourn desire to thank the friends who assisted at the funeral of their loved one.

"CHERRY VALLEY"

An Excellent Cast at the Opera House Tuesday Evening

Those who attended the drama, "Cherry Valley" at the opera house Tuesday evening at the opera house weren't disappointed. It was presented by one of the best companies that ever appeared in Genoa. Messrs. Stott and Crawford are deserving of congratulations in securing attractions of such a high order.

The scene of the play is in "Old Virginy" and every role was presented true to life. "Taters," the orphan and waif, captivated the audience with her pretty face and superb acting of the part. Her rendition of the song, "Dear Old Pal" was received with enthusiasm.

The play was deserving of a full house. Two more attractions of similar character are booked for early in September.

THE GOATS LOSE TWO

MONROE BOYS BUNCH HITS IN ONE INNING AND WIN

The Genoa Meet Huntley While in Crippled State and Lose—Register Man has a Spasm

'Twas a fine game that took place between the old-time rivals at the ball park last Saturday, it being the second game of a series between the Goats and Monroe. The latter team won by a score of six to five. Both teams played good ball, but in one inning the Monroe lads bunched a few hits, forcing in four tallies. This gave them a lead that Genoa could not overcome. The Monroe team is composed of tried and steady ball players and it is by no means a disgrace to lose to them.

The Goats went to Hampshire Sunday and met defeat at the hands of the Huntley aggregation. McKee and Ackerman failed to show up and by their absence greatly crippled the team. Allen of Hampshire was engaged to catch for Genoa, and the boys felt that they could depend on him in time of need. But despite Allen's good record of the past he failed to do more than lose the game for Genoa. His wild throws to second and third put the Goats to the bad in short order. Allen was taken out and Furr put in his place, but it was too late; the work had been done. The Hampshire fans always placed great confidence in Allen, but he was decidedly out of form Sunday.

For Saturday's defeat we have no excuses to make, but it is the opinion of all who saw the Sunday game with "fair" eyes that with their regular line-up the Goats could put the Huntley bunch out of business.

Such Animosity, What?

A write-up of the Genoa-Union game appeared in burlesque form in the Republican-Journal two weeks ago, in which the Hampshire base ball fans were slightly scorched. The following article appeared in the Hampshire Register the next week:

"The Register learns from an interview with Manager Patchin of the Huntley base ball club that he decidedly disliked the Genoa Republican-Journal's account of the Union-Genoa ball game, and that he would have called the Huntley-Genoa game off had he been able to fill the date with another team."

Now it is very evident from the tone of the above paragraph that the boy who acts as "editor" of the Register cannot take a joke, but unfortunately makes a ludicrous display of his long ears. His intentions were good (a slap at the publisher of the Republican-Journal) but he did not use sufficient thought in selecting a medium thru which to take a punch at us. As a result the paragraph sounds like the prattle of a little boy. He perhaps thought to "queer" us with the manager of the Genoa team. In that he failed however, for Mr. Goding is made of different kind of stuff and knows how to take a joke. He thought perhaps to make enemies for us in the village of Hampshire. In this he failed also. There may be a few "fans" who felt hurt, but the people as a whole are broad minded and would not take anything as personal in connection with a base ball write up.

The article is weak in several points and perhaps Bro. Brill realizes by this time how awkwardly he stepped on himself. In the first place the game was entirely arranged and the grounds hired by Manager Goding, and Patchin had no authority to cancel the date had he so desired. Secondly, Patchin had no such desire. Thirdly, Patchin did not care a rap what was said of the Genoa-Union game. Fourthly, Patchin did not care a second rap what was said of the Hampshire fans. And lastly Patchin informed Mr. Goding that he never told the Register reporter any such stuff. Now if the sore-head editor of the Register has any mud to throw at the publisher of this paper he will confer a favor by coming out of his shell to give vent to his animosity.

MCHENRY COUNTY FAIR

Bigger, Better and More Attractive than Ever Before

The premium list issued this year by the McHenry County Agricultural board will be most liberal and comprehensive, and the farmers are each invited to exhibit in at least one department.

The arrangements for the coming fair are more extensive this year than have ever been made for any former event of this kind in the country, and it cannot fail to inspire an exhibition of the highest and best character.

The fair will undoubtedly be the cleanest one in the history of the board as all fakirs have been invited to keep away, and those who get concessions on the ground will be required to give a strict account of themselves and their business during the fair.

Beside the exciting speed contests, automobile races and foot races arranged for, there will be a running race on Friday participated in by four county horses. These horses are owned near Marengo and have taken part in a contest or two in that vicinity recently which has created unusual interest in the prospective out come at the fair.

Among the different displays to be at the fair is the corn palace with its samples of fifty different manufactured products. It is wonderful the many things that are being made from this most important American product which, as years go by, seems to grow larger and larger among the worlds important crops.

Rural Boxes to be Painted Green

The Postoffice Department has inaugurated a new policy in the matter of painting the rural letter boxes. The rural letter carriers are now to become knights of the paint brush, and receive an additional compensation for their extra work, which, by the way will not be compulsory.

There are 3,000,000 rural boxes in the country, and before the close of the summer months these boxes will be resplendent in a coat of brilliant green paint, which paint will be furnished the rural carrier painter by the department.

Some days ago Postmaster General Cortelyou asked the comptroller of the treasury if he could employ the rural letter carrier to paint the rural boxes. The comptroller decided that the postmaster general could contract with the carriers to paint these boxes, provided it does not interfere with the mail service and the carriers were willing to do the work. The comptroller also suggested that it would be only proper to see that the work was done at a uniform price.

In a few days the rural carriers will be informed by the department that they will be allowed so much per box—the price not being yet fixed by the postmaster general—the department furnishing the paint.

Steve Abraham has been seriously ill the past week.

CONDENSED STORIES.

How the Bishop's Was Seasoned to Suit His Taste.

The late Bishop Green on one of his diocesan visitations stopped with an old friend at Sewanee, Tenn. At the early supper of the south, always a most informal meal, the bishop said he would have nothing but a dish of bonny-clabber, a little nutmeg sprinkled over. "There ain't a bit of nutmeg in the house," exclaimed the maid. "Dear me," said the hostess, sotto voce. "Go to Mrs. Darlington next door and ask her for a nutmeg." Mrs. Darlington also was out of nutmeg. "Then go to Mrs. Harding on the other side. We can't all be out at once. Then bring the bishop the dish quickly." The hostess kept up a rapid fire of bright talk to cover over the hiatus in the service until the maid appeared with the desired dish. "What an addition is the little sprinkle of nutmeg," said the bishop. "What a fine relish it gives." When the good guest had retired the mistress said to the maid: "Go to the supply store the first thing in the morning and get nutmegs and return the nutmeg to Mrs. Harding and"— "But Mrs. Harding was out of nutmeg too." "Then where did you get any?" "La, miss, I was that worried out that I jest tuck a wooden handle to a ole shoe buttoner an' grated it on." And the bishop had relished it. So much for the power of suggestion.—Lippincott's Magazine.

CONDENSED STORIES.

How an Irish Teamster Worsted General Ben Butler.

Butler was a frequent visitor in the town of Nottingham, N. H., where an uncle resided, and among the many stories related of him is one concerning his examination of Pat Murphy, a local character. Tim Dolan had been accused of selling liquor, and the prosecution summoned Pat to testify in the case. Now, Pat was a job teamster, and Butler endeavored to make him admit that he had delivered liquor to the defendant. Butler asked, "Did you ever take any freight from the railroad office and deliver it to Tim Dolan?" "Yis, sor." "Part of this freight was a barrel, wasn't it?" "Yis, sor." "Pat, what was in that barrel?" "I don't know, sor!" "Don't know! Wasn't the barrel marked?" "Yis, sor." "Then how dare you tell the court that you don't know what was in it?" "Because, sor, the barrel was marked Tim Dolan on one end and bourbon whisky on the other. How did I know which was in it?"—Boston Herald.

Beer Consumption.

The statistics of beer consumption, which are available for only seven countries, show a total consumption of 5,604,000,000 gallons annually. In 1904 Germany consumed 1,783,000,000, the United Kingdom 1,501,000,000, the United States 1,494,000,000, Austria 492,000,000, France 289,000,000, Hungary 38,250,000 and Italy 6,750,000.

A Maine Fish Story.

To date the champion fish story of the season has been told by the Boston Globe. It says that two Maine men went out fishing lately and saw a big fish under their boat. The fish would not be hooked, so one of the men dived overboard and caught the fish by the tail with his teeth. The second man pulled the two into the boat.

MRS. CLARK DEAD

Passed away Monday at Home west of Town

Mrs. Robert Clark died at her home in Kingston township, Monday morning, August 7, at 2 o'clock, after a lingering illness of heart trouble.

Susan Gathercoal was born in Wisbech, Cambridgeshire, England, December 25, 1816. She was married to Robert Clark, November 12, 1845, and came with her husband to America about 1852, coming to DeKalb county where she has since resided.

To them were born ten children, seven of whom survive. They are Thomas Clark of Sycamore, Henry of Kingston, Mrs. Mary Clark of Fairdale, George of Lewellyn, Neb., Mrs. Susan Stark of Kingston, William of Alcester, S. D., and James of Kingston, who lived with his mother.

A Touching Story

is the saving from death, of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyer of Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months our little girl was in declining health, with serious throat trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and now is in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. At Hunt's Pharmacy; 50c or $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Making Butter Balls.

In making butter balls cut the butter into pieces of equal size convenient for serving. Place them in ice water to chill. When the butter is hard dip the paddles in hot water, then in ice water. Hold a paddle firmly in the left hand and for the butter balls roll each piece with the right paddle until round. If the butter sticks to the paddles it should be chilled longer. The paddles must be kept free from butter by dipping them in hot water, then in ice water.

Squash Puff.

Press dry cooked summer squash through a sieve. To one and one-half pints of squash add two table-spoonfuls of melted butter, one-fourth cupful of milk, one-half tea-spoonful of salt and one-fourth tea-spoonful of pepper and two beaten egg yolks. Mix thoroughly. Fold in two beaten egg whites and turn into a buttered mold. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in the oven until center is firm. Serve from the mold, accompanied by a rich cream sauce.

Fly Paper Mishaps.

Of course there are bound to be two or three accidents with sticky fly paper in the course of the season. But for such mishaps it is a comfort to know that where all varieties of soap and water, ammonia, alcohol and all cleansers fail, a liberal application of butter dissolves the sticky stuff at once, and it can be washed or wiped off without the slightest effort.

Slicing Cold Meat.

An extremely sharp knife with a thin blade should be used for slicing cold meats. Slice the meat across the grain as thinly as possible without being thin enough to break. Remove superfluous fat and all gristle. Arrange the slices neatly on a platter and garnish with parsley, celery tips and watercress.

A Use For Old Love Letters.

An account of a recent wedding is thus given by the Lynchburg correspondent of the Baltimore Sun: At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the home of the bride, Miss Bessie Leitch Wyatt was married to Mr. John W. Jenks. Preceding the bridal party entered little Bessie LeRoy Franklin and Clayton Fleming, each carrying a white satin pillow containing love letters written to each other by the affianced couple. They were placed in front of the floral altar.

A Bright Census Man.

A census enumerator in Jersey City, N. J., reported to his chief that an Irishman whom he had asked for information as to his place of birth said he first saw the light of day on Mars. The enumerator made the entry in his books. He explained that he never heard of the country and had been unable to find Mars on the maps in his son's geography.

A Chance For Inventors.

The government of The Netherlands has instituted a competition with the object of discovering a process of cutting diamonds which will dispense with the use of an alloy dangerous to health. For a complete solution of this problem a prize of $2,275 is offered. The answers must be written in English, French, German or Dutch and submitted to Professor L. Aronstein, chemical laboratory of the Polytechnic school, Delft, Holland, on or before Jan. 1, 1906.

Hamlet.

"Why is it that all actors want to try Hamlet?" "Well, you see, in 'Hamlet' the ghost walks at every performance."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Warning to Mothers.
Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but use the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all dangers avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by G. H. Hunt.

OUR FASHION LETTER

Beautiful Hats Being Devised For Autumn Wear.

WHITE WINGS AS TRIMMINGS.

Suspender Styles in Costumes Still Hold Good—Sailor Suits With Scarlet Ties—Smart Belts in Bright Leathers—Brussels Net.

A dainty lingerie hat is made on a wire sailor shaped frame and covered with broderie anglaise. A tiny ruffle of val lace finishes the edge of the brim. At one side of the crown are placed three of the new silky, stuffy looking pompons, pastel blue, pink and yellow in coloring. Milliners are turning out stunning evening hats, to be worn late into the fall, of soft gray or white felt trimmed with soft white wings.

A new belt is of white kid cut out at intervals in large round holes. The leather is then backed with a colored silk, which causes bright spots of color to shine through in an alluring manner.

The coolest underwear is of Italian silk, which is thin, but in closely woven webbing. It comes in white, blue or pink and washes perfectly.

A dainty sleeve for a white dress is made on the kimono order of a moderate size and reaches only to the elbow.

Suspender styles still hold good, in spite of the fact that in the early part of the season their life was despaired of.

Bands of wide liberty satin ribbon set at long intervals apart are a smart trimming for this gowns. These bands are sometimes edged top and bottom with ruffles of the materials or narrow lace.

The fetching frock pictured is of cinnamon and cream checked cologne. The skirt is a double affair, and the open coat is laid in flat stitched plaits. A smart little double breasted waistcoat of pastel blue cloth fastens with amber buttons. The coat sleeves have turned back cuffs of blue.

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

Sailor suits in white pique, linen, duck and serge are wonderfully good style worn with scarlet ties knotted loosely in front. Lawn and nainsook, series and dimity make up into dainty afternoon dresses. The gowns are made with low necks, either rounded or square.

A simple and inexpensive little flowered dimity is made with a full, straight skirt, shirred in four or five rows at the waist. This shirring is repeated on the waist, around the low back and at the bottom of the waist line, defining a girle and connecting it, as it were, with the skirt shirring. The short elbow sleeves also finish with more shirring. A girl of sixteen gowned in such a frock is suggestive of a Dresden shepherdess.

A very attractive and hygienic collar for the business woman is the Windsor, with round sailor effect, which leaves the throat free when she bends over her work.

The waist pictured is of handkerchief hem work in English embroidery.

ery. It opens in the back, and the front is laid in a wide box plait, on each side of which are six tucks, held in place by large French dots that form a yoke. The design on the waist is carried over to the sleeves.

HINTS OF LA MODE.

A few extremists are lacing their shoes with ribbons to match their gowns. The effect is somewhat queer. Conservative, well bred shoes still insist on having their lacings match in hue.

Some very smart belts are shown in the shiny leathers. The latest whim is one that is curved outward at either edge so that it fits exactly to the curve of the figure. In black coltskin this belt is particularly good, since it does not peel or crack, and, furthermore, the black centre makes the waist line appear much more slender.

A graceful parasol is of white silk worked over with silk applique and little black chiffon roses.

Some fascinating frocks there are in the bobbinets, both silk and cotton point d'esprit, in sheer mull and batiste, in old fashioned tannour muslins, in dotted swiss and flowered organdies that are so pretty and with a silk slip do service all winter as house gowns.

Among the new ruchings none is more serviceable than fluted brussels net, which sells for 25 cents a yard.

There seems to be a protest for some reason or other against the wearing of foulard, which is such a serviceable, cool and economical silk.

The lingerie hat pictured is designed for girls not over five. It is placed from ruffles of plaited taffeta folded about the brim and soft tam-o-shanter crown. The rosettes and strings are of satin ribbon. A wreath of tiny roses encircles the crown.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

Tussore traveling coats are extremely good style when made semifitting with lapped and stitched seams. An attractive addition is a hood of the tussore, lined with a contrasting color.

The new way of wearing the hair is to draw the tresses up on the top of the head and crown all with a shower of artificial curls. The pompadour is arranged low and irregularly over the forehead, and a few stray curly locks are hung from it.

Gray is predicted as a favorite fall color. It is to be worn in light and gun metal shades. In chevrons and tweeds the gray mixtures are always good.

Not many sleeves differing from the bodice have been seen as yet, but the elbow sleeves have frequently been so curtailed that the lower sleeve assumes an importance not otherwise accorded it. White lawn sleeves and vests accompany even dark cloth costumes and are considered very chic.

Puffed undersleeves of openwork embroidery are very smart. The sleeve indeed is by far the most important part of a dress at present. As a rule, it is small and in evening dress is often entirely absent.

The illustration shows a perfect little gem of an embroidered muslin scarf, made of the filmy muslin beloved of our great-grandmothers and handed down as heirlooms.

A BIT POETRY

Tom Sager Writes to Party up North and Receives Answer

On a recent date Tom Sager sprung a bit of timely poetry on the party of Genoa people up in the north woods and received answer in like form from Prof. Stout who takes the gray as band of the woods. The two poems follow:

To The Boys
When the gray's on the pancakes
And the sausages are hot,
When the steam is floating upward
From the old tin coffee pot.
When George stirs up the batter
That he set the night before,
And little Carl and George
Smack their lips and yell for more;
Oh! its then a man is always
Feeling pretty near his best,
If there isn't any trouble
With the works beneath his vest.
And its then he ought to humbly
Thank the Lord for what he's got
When the gray's on the pancakes
And the sausages are hot.

Tom

Dear Tom, we write to tell you
We're Johnny on the spot,
When the gray's on the pancakes
And the sausages are hot.
And I tell you, too, we're stowing
Quite a lot beneath the vest,
And of the whiskers we have got,
Linc Holroyd's are the best.
We sit around the fire at night
And stories fill the soul,
Till Mrs. Johnson says good night,
And Lincoln calls the roll.
We have good grub and coffee,
So hot 't would make you squeal,
And when the women are in camp
We have sass at every meal.
And while the ladies jaw a lot,
We men just work like slaves
Poor Mr. Johnson, pity him,
Is the only one that shaves.
The chipmunks chip along the logs,
And eagles sail the sky,
And George and Carl, while them we watch
Steal cookies on the sly
The skies are bluer up here, Tom
We have our troubles shed,
For Mr. Holtgren cuts the wood
And his wife bakes the bread.
The porkies wander round at night
And grunt their earthly woes,
Whiles Mrs. Johnson hears their song
And thinks of bears, I suppose.
At night when shadows draw around
And we have done our chores
We go to bed and sleep like lead,
And Mrs. Johnson snores.
And now so long, we've said our say,
And said our found adieu;
Another time you feel just right,
Why then, it's up to you.

Wolves in Genoa

Wolves have been seen recently on G. C. Rowan's farm north of town, no doubt having been drawn in that direction by the scent of the sheep herd. No lambs have been missed up to this time. Mr. Rowen has decided to put poison out at night for the prowlers and advises that all dog owners keep their canines locked up at night. The poison will be taken up in the morning.

If you have trouble with dizzy spells, headache, indigestion, constipation, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well and keep you well. If it fails, get your money back. That's fair. 35 cents. Slater & Douglas.

We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.

SOCIETY BUDS.

YOUNG GIRLS COMING OUT.

The beautiful young girls who are coming out this year are prettier and healthier looking than ever before. The fact is our American girls are giving more attention to their physical well being, to calisthenics and physical culture, to out-of-door sports than ever before. The young girl just blossoming into maidenhood, on that peculiar border line between girlhood and womanhood, should have every care and thought. Parents are often to blame for their daughters' health by allowing them to overwork at school, allowing them to go out too much, attending parties and other places of amusement and the indulgence of other habits which tend to excite the nervous system. There should be a good understanding both on the parents' part and that of the young girl, and we can heartily recommend a book called the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," edited and published by Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., which can be obtained by sending 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound, or 21 one-cent stamps for a copy of the paper edition, which will be sent by mail.

The young girl or matron is at times weighted down by periodic disabilities. What is needed is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Few women in this country have not heard of its splendid remedial qualities. It can be depended upon when women suffer.

The proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus or Falling of Womb. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

In order that the Elgin board might be represented at the reciprocity convention to be held in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday of this week, President Newman appointed D. W. Willson, S. E. Davis and M. Long a committee to attend the convention.

This is expected to be one of the largest affairs of its kind that has ever taken place in the country, and it is that the important matters regarding railroad rates will be discussed.
