Putting It Strongly
Eddie was thoughtful of others. One day at lunch there was a pudding of which he was fond. He had one serving and saw there was enough for another, but he was afraid some one else might want it. After asking each one individually and finding no one wanted it, he swept all with a glance, saying "Wouldn't you eat it if I was dead?"
Kelly the Dandy.
Eccentrics have flourished in every age, but possibly they were at their height in the days of George III. and the regency, when to be odd was considered fashionable. Take the case of Lieutenant Colonel Kelly of the (then) First Foot guards, who was a very vain, emaciated looking dandy, but at the same time a gentleman. "He was haughty to the extreme and very fond of dress. His boots were so well varnished that the polish now in use could not surpass Kelly's blacking in brilliancy. His pantaloons were made of the finest leather, and his coats were lustrous. In short, his dress was considered perfect."
Kelly was burned to death while trying to save his favorite boots, and the story goes that the dandies competed among themselves to secure the services of his valet, who knew the secret of the blacking. Brummel was one of the competitors, but the man told him that the £150 a year he had been accustomed to receive was not enough for his talent and that he should require £200, upon which the Beau replied, "Well, if you will make it galveus I shall be happy to attend upon you."—Westminster Gazette.
Alaska's Natural Submarines.
The channels of the Alaskan waterways vary as you sail on to the northward. Now they widen into great lakes; now they are rivers as narrow as the Hudson or Rhine. At times you pass through gorges walled by islands and the mainland, and at times you are in fords like those formed by the half sunken Andes along western Patagonia, near the strait of Magellan. This part of our territory is made up of the heads of submerged mountains, and in places there are great rocks as steep, as high and as sharp as the Washington monument, which come within twenty or thirty feet of the surface. These are terrible pinnacle rocks that rip open the hulls of the steamers. They are searched for and marked with buoys by the wire drag of our coast and geodetic survey.—Christian Herald.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Things you Don't see

when you buy a mattress, are its most important features

For instance there is a stuffing called "linters," which is made up of left over wads of cotton, seeds and dirt. You can buy one very cheaply. The ticking may be the same as on a high priced mattress, but the bumps will come soon and nobody on earth can take them out.
A good mattress, made of layers of white, fluffy cotton, absolutely pure and clean, is worth every penny you pay for it. It will last a life time and "come back" fresh and new every time you use it. In our mattresses we pride ourselves on cleanliness and big value. A mattress of the right kind is one of the best investments you can make. Come in and get more facts about them. We will fit any bed.

WEEK'S SOCIAL EVENTS

MRS. HELEN SEYMOUR, Editor

Camp Fire Girls

Friday evening, the social given by the Camp Fire girls was carried out successfully. The girls belonging to the Camp were all dressed in their camp fire ceremonial dresses, and they seemed to belong to the beautiful decorations, which consisted of flowers and red leaved brush.

The program—
Piano solo, Marjorie Hemenway.
Reading, Ione Stott.
Piano duet, Dorothy and Lorene Glass.

Reading, Laura Crawford, with piano accompaniment by Marjorie Hemenway.

Vocal duet, Pearl Russell and Myrtle Pratt.

Reading, Edith Soderberg.
At the close of the program the lights were put out and Myrtle Pratt lit the three candles, placed them on the floor and played for the other girls to march in from the side door, stand around the candles in a semi-circle and sing our Camp Fire song "Wohelo." The march was played again as they marched out.

Games were played and everyone spent a very social and enjoyable evening. The church basement was decorated for the purpose of serving refreshments and in the latter part of the evening this plan was carried out.

The Camp Fire girls were as much pleased as the guests over the success of the evening. The money which was taken in was immediately after the social handed over to Rev. Pierce to help pay the church debt.

Saturday afternoon the Coconoko Camp Fire Girls met at Pearl Russell's home. Miss Aldrich and Miss Ibbotson were guests at this meeting as Miss Aldrich belongs to the Elgin Camp. It was the first meeting conducted by the new officers and carried out nicely. Miss Russell served refreshments after the business meeting. Myrtle Pratt, correspondent.

Her Eightieth Birthday

On Monday, Sept. 25, Mrs. T. L. Kitchen celebrated the eightieth anniversary of her birth in a manner that was entirely fitting as well as a great surprise to that estimable lady. She was invited, just before the noon hour, to the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Schoonmaker, for dinner. Upon her arrival there she found a number of relatives, including seven nieces, ready to assist her in making the date one to be remembered. Altogether having passed the four score mark, Mrs. Kitchen is in comparatively good health and none enjoyed the celebration Monday more than she. The guests brought loads of good things to eat with them and dinner was served at one o'clock in cafeteria style. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kitchen, Mesdames S. A. Waite, R. Robinson, Estella Howlett, Elizabeth Chamberlain, E. J. Whitney, all of Genoa; Mrs. Harriet Portner and daughter, Myrtle, of Chicago; Mrs. J. W. ### Luncheon for Miss Burroughs

Miss Emily Burroughs was the honored guest at a one o'clock luncheon given by Mrs. E. W. Brown and Mrs. Merle Evans at Mrs. Brown's home Saturday afternoon. The table decorations were in golden-rod and yellow field daises, with place cards of cupids and wedding rings. During the afternoon the guests sent telegrams to the bride to be, all of which began with the nine different letters in the word honeymoon. Miss Burroughs then read them and chose the one written by Mrs. Minard Scott as the prize winner. There was also a rather unique guessing contest in which the ladies had to make out the different household furnishings from a lot of jumbled words. Mrs. Roy Beardsley proved to be the winner in this and was presented with an elegant "bank." The party was in the nature of a basket and bowl shower and Miss Burroughs was the recipient of many of these pretty and useful articles.

Four tables were made up and progressive five-hundred was played. A delightful three course luncheon was served. Baskets, tied with pink and white chiffon and filled with pink asters, formed the decorations for the table.

The members of the Fortnightly Club with their families and the school teachers, enjoyed an outing in Mrs. Robinson's woods west of the city, Monday afternoon. ### Small Girl's Compliment

We had recently remodeled our home, making it into bungalow style, having a long, almost steep roof, with bungalow windows in it. A little girl came up to my husband one day and said to him: "My, you've made your house over, haven't you? It looks awfully cute. It looks just like a barn, doesn't it?"—Chicago Tribune.

Mind That Scorns Defeat

I know of no such unquestionable badge and ensign of a sovereign mind as that tenacity of purpose which, through all changes of companions or parties or fortunes, changes never, bates no jot of heart or hope, but wears out opposition and arrives at the port.—Emerson.

Waste Beyond Recovery

The $7,000,000 declared to be lost annually in the garbage of 199 American cities is not in articles dropped in to the waste, but in the waste itself, which is estimated to be worth that fortune if properly reduced and put to the uses science has discovered for it.
