

NOTES FROM THE COURT HOUSE

Jack Toombs of Sandwich Assessed $100 Fine

WAS DRIVING CAR WHILE DRUNK

Another Dope Peddler Sentenced to County Jail by Federal Judge Cliffe for Four-month Term

The well-known case of Cynthia Case against Charles V. Weddel which was scheduled to begin in the circuit court on Monday, May 14, before Judge Fulton was continued on account of the engagement of one of the attorneys for the plaintiff until Monday, May 28, at 10 a. m. The petit jury summoned specially to hear the case will be present at that time.

A. H. Betz of Somonauk obtained a judgment by confession in the circuit court against Harry L. Haymond in the sum of $102.82 and costs. The judgment was based on a promissory note executed by the defendant on April 26, 1920 in the payment of which default had been made.

Jack Toombs of Sandwich was arrested by the police authorities of Sandwich on Saturday, May 12, on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Toombs it appears drove his Buick automobile in such a manner and at such a rate of speed along the streets of Sandwich that his machine crashed into the machine of one Glendon V. Weir which was standing along the curb. After the accident a bottle which had contained liquor was found in the car.

Weir, whose machine was damaged, appeared at the State's Attorney of Genoa on Monday and swore to the information charging Toombs with the bottle in his car belonged to him. He was taken in custody by the sheriff.

Toombs was brought up before Judge Pond in the county court on Tuesday morning and denied that the bottle in his car belonged to him. He finally entered a plea of guilty to the charge of driving his car while intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs.

Sheriff Crawford received another Chicago prisoner at the jail last Friday in J. E. Smith, convicted of selling narcotics was given a jail sentence of four months and sent to the Sycamore jail to serve out his sentence. At the same time U. S. Marshall Schoeling came out and got Walter Gilmore and Albert Wells, charged with counterfeiting. They were taken back to Chicago to stand trial on the charges.

Last Saturday the sheriff went over to Batavia and arrested one Bernan Winfrey, colored, charged by one Dorothy Caldwell, colored, with the parentage of her child. The girl, 16 years, complained to State's Attorney Poust, who lodged a warrant for the man's arrest. Defendant came over, married the girl and paid all the costs and returned to his job in the foundry in Geneva.

FIRE EARLY TUESDAY MORNING

The ring of the fire bell tumbled many a sleepy Genoaite out of bed about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. The fire was discovered on the rear outside wall of the Genoa bakery, by one of the men who work in the bakery. A few buckets of water from a handy cistern quenched what might have become a disastrous fire if allowed to have much more headway. It wasn't necessary to connect the hose to the city hydrant. An overheated chimney is thought to have caused the fire.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Rev. J. V. Madison of Kingston will preach at the morning service next Sunday. Rev. Madison is an able and scholarly preacher and we know you will enjoy the service of the morning hour.

Sunday evening we will give our fourth number of the stereopticon lectures, "The Negro in the Rural South". The story of the passing of the log cabin, the one room school and the "once a month" church service for southern rural villages. Methodist's contribution through schools and churches and industrial training making possible a new environment for the negro is depicted in this lecture. A silver offering will be taken.

Rev. J. T. Robeson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfors, who have been living in Windon, Minn., for the past two years called on friends and relatives in Genoa over the week end.

MANY ATTEND TRIPLE FUNERAL

Over Three Thousand Witness Burial of Odd Fellows in DeKalb

Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a funeral in DeKalb, the three odd fellows who were killed last Tuesday evening on Lincoln way en route to attend an odd fellow meeting at Rochelle, were laid to rest in Fairview cemetery.

The church building was inadequate to seat the fraternal organizations who mourned the passing of the three brothers, Richard C. DeLine, William B. Fritz and Robert C. Dacy, it being estimated that while nearly nine hundred were inside, fully two thousand were waiting outside the church. The procession of mourners extended for three miles.

Odd Fellows, Encampment members, Canton members, Rebekahs and Knights of Pythians and Pythian Sisters were in attendance. Grand Lodge Officers of the Encampment officiated while Colonel Bentley and the Canton members were the last to have charge at the cemetery. Taps were sounded for two members who were affiliated with the military branch of the order.

Many Odd Fellows from Genoa were present and say that it was one of the most impressive sights they ever saw.

ARRESTED FOR BREAKING IN CAR

John Lyons of Dubuque Taken in Custody by Officer Heed Tuesday

John Lyons, aged about 16, of Dubuque was taken into custody early Tuesday afternoon by Officer Heed near Hart, west of town, after the lad had been put off a west bound freight. The boy was wanted by Elgin authorities for breaking into a bunk house near Coleman and procuring food.

It seems, according to the story told by the boy, that he and his accomplice Elmer Ryan, left Dubuque Monday afternoon at 4:05 on a freight train and slept in a box car in Freeport all night, catching a train that landed them in Coleman on Tuesday noon. Here the lads were caught, after breaking into a bunk house for food. Lyons succeeded in breaking away from his captors only to be retaken in this city, while Ryan is now in the custody of Elgin officials.

The Lyons boy was taken to Coleman late Wednesday afternoon by a detective for the Illinois Central Railroad.

Geo. Geithman Will Show "Hunting Big Game in Africa" May 29, 30, 31

In his effort to secure good pictures for his theatre in Genoa, Geo. Geithman has leased the most sensational, realistic and popular film that has been made in years for three nights, May 29, 30 and 31 "Hunting Big Game in Africa." It is endorsed by the most noted and severe critics, by the general public and by the clergy. It is full of thrills, wild life in darkest Africa and was filmed with a long range camera that gets all of the animals in their lairs. The picture was taken by H. A. Snow who is returning to Africa for more of these same pictures in different sections of the continent.

The Republican wishes to congratulate Mr. Geithman in being able to secure this picture at so early a date, for it was run in Chicago but three weeks ago.

GENOA ASS'N ON MARKET

The Genoa Shipping Association, was on the Chicago market last week Thursday with a mixed carload of cattle and hogs consigned to the Chicago Producer's Commission Association. Hog trade opened 10 to 15 cents

GENOA NATIONALS LOSE TO KINGSTON

Score of 5 to 2 At End of Game of Many Errors

GUSTAFSON STRUCK OUT 8 MEN

The Sycamore Colored Team Will Inevitably Lose Local Diamond Sunday May 20—Don't Miss the Game

The Kingston Tigers blew into town Sunday, tucked a five to two victory under their belt and went home feeling very much contented by having evened the series with Genoa's Nationals.

The game was devoid of spectacular thrills or plays and the hitting of Al Overly, who collected two doubles and a single featured the performance.

Lilly, who twirled for the Tigers and Gustafson, who pitched for Genoa hurled good games, but the former had by far the best support, hence we give them credit for victory.

Manager Overly assures us that as soon as the weather permits the men will get three workouts a week thereby eliminating several errors that help in as many runs in every game. We agree with Ox and know that consistent practicing will work wonders in perfecting an errorless organization with a punch that wins games.

Next Sunday the Sycamore Negroes will breeze into town to try and reap victory away from the locals, but we predict a snappy contest, full of "darky humor" and the laurels resting with Genoa.

Don't miss this attraction.

BIRTHDAY SOCIAL

Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society Holds Joint Meeting

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies held their birthday social at the home of Mrs. Mowers last Wednesday May 9. Games were enjoyed among which was an old fashioned spelling "bee" that caused much mirth among the participants. The committee in charge, that is those whose birthdays were celebrated during the preceding three months, served a delicious luncheon.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Since the publishing of the article of J. R. Kiernan & Son of last week concerning their thirtieth anniversary we have been informed that F. O. Holtgren started a tailor shop in the spring of 1892 preceding a few months the opening of the Exchange State Bank and that H. A. Perkins opened with his father, a hardware store in 1886. S. S. Slater opened his furniture store in 1890 and J. R. Kiernan his store in 1893.

FORD SALES PASS HALF MILLION

Astounding Figures Show That This Huge Total Was Reached in 120 Days

More than half a million Ford cars and trucks sold in 120 days. That is the astonishing record just established by the Ford Motor Company, eclipsing all previous sales figures and emphasizing more strongly than ever the right of the Ford to the title "The Universal Car."

From January 1 to May 1 sales of Ford cars and trucks in the United States reached the enormous total of 561,544, nearly twice the number sold at retail during the same period a year ago when the total was 283,782.

Even with its huge production facilities now operating on a schedule in excess of 6,500 cars and trucks a day, the company is unable to keep up the unprecedented demand.

April set a new sales record for the month, just as has every other month this year, and was the thirteenth consecutive month in which sales have run over 100,000.

Sales during April totaled 165,532 Ford cars and trucks, 50,000 more than were delivered in the same month last year when 115,282 retail deliveries were made.

New production records were established by the Ford Motor Company for the week ending Tuesday, May 8, during which a total of 3,053 cars and trucks were turned out for domestic use, according to announcement by the Ford News. This exceeds by 192 the previous high record set the week before.

Daily production records went to a new high mark Friday, May 4, when 6,590 cars and trucks were assembled beating the record 6,573 established on Tuesday, April 17.

Fordson Tractor production for the week ending Tuesday was 2,578.

COUNTY BAR ASS'N TO MEET

Will Hold Banquet and Elect Delegates in Court House on May 21

A special meeting of the bar association of this county is called for 10:00 a. m. Monday, May 21, in the circuit court rooms for the purpose of electing delegates to represent the association at the meeting of the Illinois State Bar association at Peoria, commencing June 1. Each local association is entitled to two delegates and two additional for each 20 members or major fraction thereof.

The attention of the board of managers is directed to articles 6 and 8 of the by laws of the association. Nomination of officers for the coming year should be made at once for the election falls on June 6, '23.

The annual meeting and election of officers will be held at the regular default day luncheon to be held at Elks club, Sycamore, at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday, June 6. Tickets $1.00 per plate. All members are urged to notify the secretary for the reservation of plates for this luncheon at as early a date as possible.

It is desired that Genoa be represented by a good delegation. Those wishing to go call Mrs. A. C. Reid who will see that arrangements are made for your transportation.

SEN. WRIGHT FILES BILL

Is Author of Measure to Deprive Chicago of Daylight Saving Time

Senator Wright of DeKalb introduced a bill into the state senate Wednesday, that if passed, will end once and for all in the state of Illinois, the task of shoving clocks ahead 1 hour during the summer months. He is against this practice and his bill bears out the truth of the statement. The bill would prohibit daylight saving in Illinois after July 1. Sen. H. Wright would be willing, however, to have the bill amended so that Chicago could finish out the day-light saving period prescribed by ordinance this year.

The Chicago Daily Journal is quoted as saying "Senator Wright, it has been understood, will be a candidate for lieutenant governor or state treasurer next year."

Items From High School

School was dismissed Friday that the teachers might attend the conference of the cooperating secondary schools of the University of Chicago. Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Waggoner drove cars. The morning was given over to a general discussion while the afternoon was spent in departmental sessions. A banquet and program closed a very profitable day.

THE CROW

The crow's worst enemy admits that he is clever, in fact probably more clever than any other bird. He keeps the farmer busy planning scarecrows to keep him out of the cornfield, and one single crow can do many dollars worth of damage. He is an American citizen and claims his own land is anyplace from Florida to the Arctic coast and west to the arid plains.

The crow is about 20 inches in length and to see him justifies the statement "as black as a crow." His appetite is his main weakness. He eats anything from corn to snakes including toads. So you needn't worry about him being undernourished.

Crows mate early in spring and build a large stick nest in a tall tree. While the female sits on the eggs, the male provides food for her. Crows do not migrate as other birds do, but in winter often several thousand will roost together.

No wild bird taken into captivity can more readily become accustomed to domestic and modern life. Tamed crows can be taught to speak very easily by spitting their tongues.

Altho farmers will not admit it, crows are really quite a help to him in getting rid of insects.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The Juniors of the G. T. H. S. entertained the Seniors, the High School teachers, the School Board and their wives at a six o'clock dinner at the High School last Saturday evening. Toasts were given by different members of the classes and faculty. Harold Nelson being toast master. Mrs. Arthur Eickler and Miss Grace Reimer favored with solos.

READING AND ARITHMETIC TEST

The recent tests in the local school system in reading and arithmetic show satisfactory results in both subjects. The tests used have been given throughout the state, and the scores made here can be compared not only with those made in Genoa in other years but also with state averages.

In reading the classes have practically all reached the state average. Compared with these averages the upper grades make a somewhat better showing than the lower ones. Considerable increase in speed over last year.

BOOST THE HOME TOWN

Genoa A Beautiful City With Many Advantages

LET'S BOOST---MAKE IT GROW

A Cooperative Community Spirit Will Work Wonders—Let's Go—Boost

Along with the coming of spring everyone seems to feel more cheerful and up and doing things than they were wont a few months previous when cold weather and coal bills seem to take the joy out of life. Now when we are all in this rather gay and carefree mood, would it not be a good idea to get out the flag and wave it over our fair city, proclaiming its beauty and advantages to the world at large, the Republican, for one, thinks it would.

Genoa has nearly every advantage of which any city can boast—good railroads, two of them, three factories employing several hundred people, four churches, wonderful city water supply with two separate pumps, sewer system, four large garages, three grocery stores, two banks, two dry goods stores, bakery, confectionery stores, meat markets, restaurants, hardware stores, hotels, mens furnishing stores, furniture stores, shoe shops, blacksmith shops, lumber dealers, grain dealer and coal dealer, barber shops and billiard halls, jewelry store and harness shop, lumber dealers, grain dealer and drug store, implement houses, movie shows and steam laundry system, and last, but not least, a beautiful township high school that proclaims the citizenship of Genoa to be above the average. Besides all this, we have pretty homes set in beautiful surroundings. Truly every Genoaite lives in a city of which he can be proud and the way to tell the world is to boost its advantages. There isn't a town in northern Illinois of this size that can boast of the many improvements that are Genoa's and its up to us to tell the world about it. Let's go "Boost and the world will listen; "Knock and there's nobody home."

STERLING GIVES CASH ACCOUNT

Former State Treasurer's Transactions Explained in Book Filed by Him

Lieutenant Governor Sterling, in adopting a course directly opposite to that of Gov. Small in giving the accounting demand of them and other former state treasurers in the civil suits brought by Atty. Gen. Brundage was the subject of favorable comment among politicians Wednesday.

Complete Document Explains Loans

Throughout the proceedings, resulting from the indictments of Small Sterling and Vernon Curtis, the lieutenant Governor has followed an independent course. Mr. Sterling's answer is given in printed book of 150 pages and was filed by his counsel, Frank J. Quinn and P. J. Lucey. It is pronounced one of the most complete documents of the kind ever presented in the court of Sangamon county.

It goes into all phases of the $10,000,000 loans made to Chicago packers by the Grant Park bank, which the prosecution in the Small case charged was a fictitious concern.

Mr. Sterling makes specific denial of any knowledge of the information sought by discovery in the bill of complaint or of the transactions complained of and denies all manner of unlawful combinations charged in the attorney general's bill.

FORD SMASHED EAST OF TOWN

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Kidnaping of Foreigners by Bandits in China Rouses the Powers.

PEKING'S WEAKNESS EXPOSED

French Sentence Krupp to Prison and British Answer German Reparations Offer—Curzon Hands Ultimatum to Russia—Mellon's Cheerful Financial Predictions.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

A BILL has been introduced in the British house of commons requiring all ships while in British waters to carry a reasonable amount of liquor for the use of passengers. Do you think this evident attempt to ridicule our prohibition law is a dignified and friendly procedure?

LAST week's most startling news came from China. A band of Chinese bandits wrecked an express train en route from Shanghai to Peking and kidnaped a large number of passengers, including 14 Americans and several Englishmen. Most of the women in the party were released after being roughly treated, and some men escaped, but the rest were carried off and $1,000,000 ransom was demanded by the outlaws. The American and British state departments got busy quickly and demanded that the Chinese government bring about the release of the prisoners. Chinese troops went in pursuit but the bandits foiled them by placing their captives in the front rank during the attack. The Peking government then ordered the Shantung province officials to pay the ransom demanded and promised to pardon the bandits on release of their victims. At this writing it is expected the kidnaped foreigners will be freed within a few days.

In addition to money and pardon, the bandits, who were led by Colonel Chow, an old offender, demanded incorporation into the Chinese army. If this is conceded it adds to the complications for at the Washington conference China promised to reduce its armed forces, notwithstanding which a large number of bandits were taken into the army last December. The helplessness of the government is exposed by this successful exploit of the outlaws, and there is apprehension of bandit attacks in other sections. The foreign powers realize that last week's attack was mainly for the purpose of embarrassing the government, and that the leaders of the various opposing factions are hoping America and Britain will withdraw recognition of it and lift the embargo on arms. Officials in Washington were said to be convinced the central government at Peking is unable to maintain order, and they believed the powers might adopt a plan to bring the Tientsin-Fuchow railway under foreign control in order to protect their nationals in the future.

court-martial of conspiracy against the public order and the security of the French forces of occupation. His co-defendants, directors and officials of the plant, were sentenced to varying terms of imprisonment. Some of them are not yet in custody, but Krupp already is in a cell.

Of course, there was intense indignation in Berlin over this move of the French, and President Ebert sent to the Essen workers a message denouncing it as "an act of violence which is an insult to human feelings." He court-martial of conspiracy against the public order and the security of the French forces of occupation. His co-defendants, directors and officials of the plant, were sentenced to varying terms of imprisonment. Some of them are not yet in custody, but Krupp already is in a cell.

LAUSANNE was thrown into excitement Thursday night by the assassination of M. Vorovsky, whom the Russian soviet government had sent there to represent it in the Near East peace conference. He was killed by a Swiss officer who formerly was in the imperial Russian army and who said the bolsheviks had tortured to death his father and uncle. Vorovsky had already been threatened by the Swiss Fascists.

IN ANNOUNCING the treasury's program for May, Secretary Mellon said the federal finances were in so sound a condition that it appeared probable the budget would be balanced from year to year and that economy in expenditures and the process of gradually reducing the public debt could be maintained steadily from this time. He predicted the national budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, would show a surplus of more than $125,000,000 in revenues over expenditures.

added that it "will be received with indignation and contempt by all the civilized nations that retain a feeling for right and justice." The Berlin government made formal protest to the powers against the sentences.

Another French court-martial sentenced to death Albert Schegerer, leader of a band of seven dynamiters of railroads in the Ruhr. Another of the gang was given life imprisonment and the rest received sentences of from five to twenty years. Testimony at the trial showed the men received money from the Krupp works at Essen through Count von Belfel, paymaster of the factory.

THE BRITISH government was much vexed because France and Belgium rejected the German reparations offer without consulting the other allied powers, and at the close of the week it sent to Berlin its own reply to Cuno's program, with the alleged support of Italy. This note, it is understood, held that the offer is insufficient and that Germany has been culpably careless on the question of the Ruhr, but that Cuno's propositions show that Germany is willing to pay and they should be the basis of renewed discussion on plans for a final settlement. This British note was not at all pleasing to France, which still insists that reduction of her demands on Germany is wholly contingent on a scaling down of France's war debts. Her position is thus set forth in a foreign office statement:

"This government has always considered the interrelated debts as an integral part of the world's economic problem and therefore indissolubly linked with reparations. Any reduction of our reparations claim of 52 per cent of the 132,000,000,000 gold marks ($33,000,000,000) fixed by the London agreement of 1921 must be accompanied by corresponding reductions in our debts to the allied and associated powers."

Washington, naturally, is officially silent on the proposition that America shall look to Germany for payment of the war debts to this country of France and Belgium; but unofficially the idea is received with no more favor than when it was first broached many months ago.

THOROUGHLY exasperated and disgusted with the actions of the Russian soviet government, the British government has sent a peremptory note to Moscow which, in the opinion of competent observers, is almost certain to result in a rupture of relations. Indeed, it is more than hinted that this is what the British really desire. Lord Curzon's note demands that within ten days the soviet government give satisfactory assurances concerning propaganda, admit liability for various offenses against British subjects and ships and undertake to pay compensation for these offenses, and unequivocally withdraw the two communications framed by the soviet government in reply to the protests handed to the Moscow foreign office by the British representative, Robert M. Hodgson, in connection with the recent religious prosecutions. The note specifically states that the British government has no intention of embarking upon a controversy with the soviet concerning the accuracy of its charges, which it asserts "rest upon unimpeachable authority."

INTENSE interest has been aroused by the success of Georges Barbot of France with a "flier" monoplane. He flew across the English channel and back—eighty miles—with a consumption of four gallons of gasoline and 15 cents' worth of oil, and on succeeding days flew here and there over France at the same low rate of expense. The machine has a two-cylinder motorcycle engine, and, owing to its lines and lightness of construction it can go anywhere, and it takes off and lands so slowly that the safety factor is enormously increased. Its thick, hollow wings enable it to float if it lights on the water. It is forty feet from tip to tip, but only twelve feet long.

PRESIDENT GOMPERS has started his campaign to free the American Federation from the "Red menace" within. Already he has largely reduced the national organization's monthly contribution toward the running expenses of the Chicago Federation of Labor, presumably because the latter championed W. Z. Foster's Trade Union Educational league. Also, the executive council of the A. F. of L. has demanded that the Seattle Central Labor union and the Minneapolis Trades and Labor assembly rescind their indorsement of the soviet autocracy in Russia.

THAT peppery sea fighter Admiral Sims seems to have stirred up more trouble by his rather unrestrained utterances. In a dispatch carried by a news agency he was quoted as saying:

"In my opinion, the attitude of the Navy department toward the naval war college has long been a crime. The appointment of an officer who is not a graduate of the war college (Admiral Coontz) to command the great United States fleet is a crime against the people, and so is the appointment of a non-graduate to the most important position in the Navy department—that of chief of naval operation (Admiral Eberle)."

"More than half of the officers given preference in the transfers recently were not graduates of the war college. The service is disgusted with the situation—disgusted that the same old game of service politics is being played. It believes that the best place is a seat next to the dealer in Washington. Personal influences bring greater rewards than war college training."

Secretary Denby's comment was: "I find it hard to believe that Admiral Sims made the statements attributed to him. I cannot believe that any officer would show such disloyalty to the service."

UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE

John C. Knox in New York has dealt something of a blow to the Volstead law by handing down an opinion holding void that section of the act which limits to one pint every ten days the amount of liquor which a physician may prescribe for a patient. The court held that this limitation puts a restriction on sick persons not intended in the eighteenth amendment. Death might even result from depriving a sick person of liquor at critical periods, the court points out.

ANNUAL CONVENTION IN NEW YORK

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States took three important actions concerning the future of American railroads. First, the chamber as a whole adopted a resolution urging its members, civic bodies and the public in general to engage, quickly in a united effort to restore the railroads to a sound and profitable position in "the forefront of American business."

Second, the chamber's committee on governmental relations to transportation, headed by George A. Post, presented a report in which the belief was reiterated that the roads should be owned and operated by private capital under government regulation.

Third, the report of the committee on railroad consolidations, headed by Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific system, urged a general consolidation of all roads into possibly twenty great systems, but specifically maintained that such a merging of facilities should not be allowed to affect through rates based on long established rate basing points.

FIRE AND FLOOD HIT HOT SPRINGS

Water and Flames Unite in Devastation of Arkansas City.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIVES, FEAR

Flood is Result of Cloudburst in the Hills Back of the Health Resort—Water Nine Feet Deep in Places.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 15.—Hot Springs, city of many disasters, was stricken Monday night as never before when water and flames united in a general devastation that left death and disaster in its wake.

The number killed is unknown. Estimates run all the way from seventeen to fifty.

Water, raging like mad, split the city into three sections. The city of 12,000 lies in three valleys. It is built along three boulevards, which follow the course of the valleys.

It was into these sections that the flood split the town.

Flames followed in the path of the flood and at nightfall covered all sections before a survey of the damage could be made.

The flood originated in the upper basin of the mountains north of Hot Springs from a cloudburst. About 4:30 o'clock, after terrific rains for about eighteen hours, there came a slight flow of water down through Central avenue from its junction with Whittington park at the north end of the valley. In a few minutes the waters began to rush down the valley.

The water coursing through Central avenue was four to nine feet in depth, and it rushed down with such speed that fronts of stores were smashed in and even the asphalt paving was torn up. Thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise floated in the waves.

Little Rock, Ark., May 15.—Hot Springs is reported to have suffered a heavy loss by flood and fire late Monday night. One telephone message said that at least seventeen lives were lost.

The flood was the result of a cloudburst in the hills back of the city, following a deluge of rain and a heavy windstorm which broke upon the city shortly after 6 o'clock.

ENGINEER DEAD AT THROTTLE; TRAIN WITH 100 RUNS WILD

Central Islip, L. I., May 15.—While more than a hundred passengers sat unconcerned on a Long Island train and the fireman was too busy stoking his fires to notice anything wrong, Engineer George E. Cunningham dropped over in his seat dead and the train ran wild. When it kept up its mile-a-minute clip past the station at Central Islip, Conductor McKeever stopped the train with the emergency brake.

ENGLISH CHANNEL PLANE IN CRASH; SIX PEOPLE KILLED

Paris, May 15.—Six persons, including an American and an English woman, were killed when a French Goliath airplane in the Paris-London passenger service crashed at Monsure, half way between Beauvais and Amiens. The smash ignited the gasoline tanks, setting fire to the wreckage, and the bodies were burned to a crisp.

PREMIER MUSSOLINI TO GIVE VOTE TO CERTAIN WOMEN

Rome, May 15.—Premier Mussolini promised that his government would accord the vote to certain categories of women, thereby winning hearty approval from the delegates to the ninth congress of the International Suffrage Alliance, which opened its sessions here.

A GENERAL DELIVERY STOPPED

Sheriff Crawford On Job As Usual and Frustrates Prisoners' Escape
An attempt to effect a general delivery of the 14 federal and two local prisoners in the DeKalb county jail—which attempt, had it been allowed to proceed a little further, would have doubtless resulted either in the death or serious injury of Sheriff Crawford or Deputy Solomon—was frustrated last Wednesday by the vigilance and astuteness of the "chief".

There are certain ways of "listening in," and there was only a little hint—an apparently insignificant incident, that the sheriff noted—but it was enough to start him on an investigation. It pointed to Jimmie Smith, a federal prisoner serving a term for stealing clothing and for forgery.
Smith is a competent housepainter and was employed painting the cells and corridors, always in the presence of the sheriff or deputy.

The plan as revealed was for Smith to secret about his person a steel bar that had been secured from one of the cells, and when the officer's back was turned to fell him with the bar, take the jail keys from his person, unlock the doors and release the prisoners. It would be necessary to do this in daylight—but it is likely most of the prisoners could have gotten away had they not been watched.

Now they are all locked up in their separate cells each night by 6 o'clock.

Gum-Dipped Cords Gaining New Fame for Service

194% Sales Increase in Last Six Months
Shows Trend Toward Firestone

The public has emphatically spoken. The popular preference in all territories is unmistakably the Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord.

A standard of service has been set by these famous tires without parallel in the past. It has brought a sales increase of 194% for the past six months over the same period of a year ago—the greatest gain in all Firestone history.

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord is the mighty achievement which has enabled Firestone to break the tremendous record of past Firestone success.

The tire buying public has been aroused to the results in economical mileage of the Firestone process of double gum-dipping. The buying-swing toward Firestone shows how it has advanced the public's standard of tire value.

Ask owners about Firestone performance on their cars. Note the big taxicab fleets Firestone-equipped.
Watch the new cars you see—just from the factories; Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are seen everywhere in fast increasing numbers.

Get the maximum extra mileage that only the Firestone name assures you. Only by insisting on this name can you be sure of getting the genuine gum-dipped construction.

UPHOLDS SYSTEM

President Markham of I.C.R. Defends Present Transportation System

In response to an invitation rendered by the committee on transportation survey of the Illinois senate President C. H. Markham of the Illinois Central System addressed the members of the committee and other citizens in the senate chamber and denied that our national transportation system has broke down and declared that, generally speaking, the railroads are being rapidly rehabilitated and made more efficient than ever before. He cited causes and contributing factors which make the present scale of railway rates necessary. The Transportation Act, he said, is a constructive measure and should be given a thorough trial under normal conditions. The act does not in any particular guarantee railway earnings, Mr. Markham pointed out. He refuted the contention that the tentative valuation of railway property is excessive and answered the critics who advocate taking the lowest figure of railway securities on the stock market as a basis for valuations. It would be just as fair he argued, to say that fluctuations in the stock market which might range into millions of dollars in a comparatively short period reflect corresponding appreciations or depreciations of railway property. He pointed out that Illinois Central securities in 1906 were worth $222,000,000 more than now, although it is obvious that the property is more valuable today than ever before. President Markham also discussed motor trucks and paved roads and the future expansion of the railroads.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Year has been made in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. The pupils making the best scores in each grade are:

8th: Hildur Alm, Margaret Stiles, Margaret Pratt, William Schmidt, Helen Hill, Ruby Russell.
 7th: Merton Matteson, John Zeller, George Evans, Marjorie Kirby, Alma Siebens, Ben Corlon, Ethel Reid.
 6th: Ila Floto, Harold Possler, Eleanor Gabriel, Ralph Wilson, Howard Stephenson, Dillon Brown, Leon Geithman, Florence Leich.
 5th: Barbara Kohn, Jean Mackenzie, Helen McCoy, Dorothy Abraham, Ronald Buck, Marjorie Cooper.
 3rd: Janet Parker, Martha Sester, Laura Paulin, Elaine Lembke, Erma Coonley.
 4th: Edward Stephenson, Donovan Pratt, Harold Mackenzie, John Heller, Benjamin Parker.

In arithmetic every grade stands high above the average. The fourth, seventh and eighth grades have made particularly good showings. The seventh grade has made the greatest gain during the year. The fourth grade stands highest with every pupil in the grade above state average.

The pupils making the best scores are as follows:

8th: Margaret Pratt, Esther Underwood, Helen Hill, Margaret Stiles, Clara Baumann, William Schmidt, Hazel Nicholson.
 7th: George Evans, Vernon Rosenfeld, Grace Heller, Merton Matteson, Marjorie Kirby, Margaret Adler, Jeanette Jeffery, John Hadsall.
 6th: Leon Geithman, Ila Floto, Dillon Brown, Harold Possler, Phyllis Buck, Eleanor Gabriel, Claude Glass, Harold Niss.

CHECK vs. CASH

If a check is lost, mislaid, or stolen its payment can be promptly stopped at the bank upon which it is issued; whereas if currency goes astray, or falls into improper hands, there is no such method in this country of "stopping payments."

THIS is one of the most potent arguments in favor of a checking account here and is so obvious we should hesitate to mention it, were it not for the fact that the obvious is frequently lost sight of.

WOMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED

She Claims Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did It After Everything Else Failed

Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was ailing and could barely do my housework and washing I was so run-down, just from having one child. I took a lot of medicine and had doctors. Then I gave them all up and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel wonderfully good now. I do everything that comes along, and we all take your medicine as a tonic when we don't feel just so. I am thankful for what the Vegetable Compound has done for my health and for my family."—Mrs. MARY SAEBERCK, 944 23rd Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Letters like these testify to the value of the Vegetable Compound. These women speak from the fullness of their hearts. They describe as correctly as they can their conditions: First, those symptoms that affected them most conspicuously; and later the disappearance of those symptoms. They are sincere expressions of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

Spirit of Memorial Day 1923

Sleep on, proud heroes of America's wars, wherever you may lie. The fight you have made has been a blessing to mankind, and Americans in America see in a new light the tower of liberty that now faintly illumines the darkest recesses of the world. Your lives have not been given in vain. We weep because you are our kin, but we are proud that you so nobly fought and so nobly died, and rejoice that you are in God's keeping.—Representative Charles Pope Caldwell of New York.

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN SPIRIT OF MEMORIAL DAY, 1923! We all know the purpose of Memorial day. We Americans assemble to commemorate our Nation's soldier dead—to express our love and gratitude for their service and devotion by strewing flowers on their final resting places, by recounting their deeds of valor and patriotism, by seeking new and deeper understanding of this national holiday, sacred, sanctified, glorified.

In one way it is a day of celebration, of hero worship unstinted and unshamed. We won our independence by fighting for it. We are not a warlike nation, but we are a fighting nation. There is no fighting man like the American fighting man. The Star Spangled Banner has never been lowered in defeat. So we celebrate the deeds of our fighting men.

But we do not assemble to awaken bitter memories of battle and slaughter. We do not meet to rekindle the vengeful fires of hate and passion. We do not gather to exult over the defeated. We do not come together to glorify war or to exalt militarism. We meet rather to dedicate anew the power and wealth and strength of the nation to liberty, humanity and justice.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great, Fought to make and to save the State; My roses and forget-me-nots, My rosemary and bay; A scaplet poppy on my breast Will speak Memorial day!

This is part of what Memorial day means to the good American.

Too far away are Flanders fields Upon his grave to lay My roses and forget-me-nots, My rosemary and bay; A scaplet poppy on my breast Will speak Memorial day!

Many a poppy will be worn in America on Memorial day. There are eight national cemeteries in Europe six of which, are in France, one in Belgium, and one in England. There are 80,587 bodies at present in Europe, distributed as follows: Meuse-Argonne American cemetery, No. 1232; Romagne-sous-Montfaucon (Meuse), France, 13,938. Unknown, 483.

St. Mihiel American cemetery, No. 1233; Thiaucourt, Meurthe-et-Moselle, France, 4,231. Unknown, 157.

Somme American cemetery, No. 636; Bony, Aisne, France, 1,830. Unknown, 154.

Oise-Aisne American cemetery, No. 608; Serings-et-Nesles, Aisne, France, 6,071. Unknown, 608.

Aisne-Marne American cemetery, No. 1764; Belleau, Aisne, France, 2,220. Unknown, 224.

Suresnes American cemetery, No. 34; Suresnes, Paris, France, 1,497. Unknown, 2.

Flanders Field American cemetery, No. 1252; Wacromont, Belgium, 365. Unknown, 29.

Brookwood American cemetery, No. 107-E; Brookwood, Surrey, England, 435. Unknown, 66.

Many of these American graves overseas—perhaps all—will be strewn with flowers. American initiative will do much. Admiring and grateful hearts will take many a Frenchman, Belgian and Briton to these graves with blossoms. It will be long before Europe forgets the American fighting men. Who won the war? Never mind; there is glory enough for all. Just the same the American doughty left his impress. France may be irritated with America just now, but French mothers are still telling their children of the great size of the Americans, of their tender care of the young, of their kindness to the aged and infirm, of their romping over the barbed wire entanglements and jumping the trenches and storming the pill-boxes and routing the Hun. And they will go on Memorial day to the American cemeteries to strew flowers and to bless the nation that came with her men and her women; her material, money and efficiency—the nation that fed the hungry, succored the injured and freed the world.

Full soon the shell holes fill with grass And battlefields and shell holes pass Into the mist of yesterday; But still there lingers word or phrase— A touch of Western breezy slang To lend Provencal speech a tang.

Stern battles, though the flags be furled, Will boom in "Say—I'll tell the world!" And sparks of many a valiant fight Will flash in "Listen!" and "Good night!"

Boy faces grinning, wistful, kind, With each brisk phrase will come to mind; Boy faces, grim and gray and drear, That still could manage "Whoops, my dear!" Who called the world's worst war "the fuss," In vivid speech incongruous;

Who joked like boys and fought like gods, And caroled: "Bloody! What's the odds?" Reduced the hell of Marne and Roye To crisp and long-recalled patois. Those boys who said, "So this is France!" And, gayly gallant, "took a chance."

There was a parade up Fifth avenue of the Seventy-fifth division of the A. E. F. Far ahead of Maj. Gen. Robert Alexander and his staff, in front even of the police escort, marched 90 men, each carrying a banner bearing 100 gold stars. Behind these 90 men and the banners with the 3,000 gold stars was a gap three blocks long. Said a thick-witted man in the reviewing stand: "Why, these banner-bearers are out of place."

"You fool," stormed his neighbor, "The dead are passing now."

If all the patriot dead look upon the services of Memorial day, there is a host indeed. For it is almost a century and a half since the struggle to gain and maintain our freedom began.

By the rude bridge that arched the flood, Their flag to April's breeze unfurled Here once the embattled farmers stood, And fired the shot heard round the world.

There were giants in those days and no American but is the better American for thinking of them—Washington, Jefferson, Adams, Franklin, Sherman and Livingston, who drafted the Declaration of Independence; Alexander Hamilton; Nathan Hale, who regretted that he had but one life to give for his country; Greene, who outwitted and outfought Cornwallis; George Rogers Clark, who took and held the northwest to the Mississippi; John Paul Jones.

In the War of 1812 the Constitution and the United States and the American privateers out-sailed and outfought the British on the seas, to the astonishment of the world. Andrew Jackson won the Battle of New Orleans—a decisive American battle that saved us the Mississippi. And the successful defense of Fort McHenry called forth Francis Scott Key's national hymn, "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Oh, 'twas he it ever, when freemen shall stand Between their loved homes and the war's desolation. Blest with victory and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation.

Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just, And The Star-Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Another generation and the war-drumms beat again and the bugles blew, "On to Mexico" Palo Alto, Resaca, Buena Vista, Monterey and Chapultepec are names to conjure with even now. In the short and brilliant Mexican campaign Winfield Scott won fame. Zachary Taylor's record made him President. There Grant earned his first laurels. And did you know that on the pension rolls of a grateful nation there are yet 52 names of veterans of that war, though it closed 75 years ago?

When Abraham Lincoln left his Illinois home for the White House he said to his neighbors, assembled to wish him Godspeed:

There has fallen upon me a task such as did not rest even upon the Father of His Country, and so feeling I cannot but turn and look for that support without which it will be impossible to perform that great task. I turn, then, and look to the great American people and to that God who has never forsaken them.

He was a true prophet. All Christendom stood astounded at the magnitude of the struggle that followed, and the spirit of the combatants. It was American against American. Nor did the American people fall Lincoln. Nor did God forsake the American people. The outstanding fact in American history is the hand of Providence in the affairs of the nation.

But the Civil war is over now and its wounds are healed. Recalling what were the issues of that war and remembering that Appomattox settled those issues right and for all time, we can strew flowers alike for Grant and Lee, for Sherman and Jackson, for Sheridan and Stuart with:

Love and tears for the Blue, Tears and love for the Gray.

As for Lincoln—he stands beside Washington in the hearts of a reunited people.

It was this mighty struggle of American against American that gave us Memorial day. And it was Gen. John A. Logan who, as commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1863, established Memorial day. Logan has been in the tomb for 37 years. And now his widow has gone to join him. She was always his constant helpmeet and inspiration; it is likely that she herself brought about Memorial day. Flowers for her grave; the memory of her works will live.

It was only 25 years ago this year that the Maine was blown up in Havana harbor. That meant war, of course. The summer said it begun, fought and won. And it was an important war. It saw a reunited North and South again fighting under the Stars and Stripes. It made the United States a world power over night. It showed the world that America would fight for the cause of humanity and could forego the fruits of victory. It was notice to the nations that the 1898 American was the same old fighting man on land and sea.

Wouldn't you like to have been on "Fighting Bob" Evans' Iowa at Santiago and seen the band perched on the forward turret, grimy and half-naked, just as they came from the guns, and heard them blare out:

There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight!

It seems only yesterday that the Lusitania went down. And that meant war, too—America's entrance into the World war, the greatest of all history. Doubtless the quintessence of the nation's thought on Memorial day will be in the offerings at the tomb of our "Unknown Dead" in Arlington. Fitting indeed are these words of President Harding, spoken at the burial of this Unknown Soldier:

"We do not know the eminence of his birth, but we do know the glory of his death. He died for his country, and greater devotion hath no man than this. He died unquestioning, uncomplaining, with faith in his heart and hope on his lips, that his country should triumph and its civilization survive. As a typical soldier of this representative democracy, he fought and died, believing in the indisputable justice of his country's cause. . . . We gather him to the Nation's breast, within the shadow of the capitol, of the towering shaft that honors Washington, the great father, and of the exquisite monument to Lincoln, the martyred savior. Here the inspirations of yesterday and the conscience of today forever unite to make the republic worthy of his death for flag and country."

The KITCHEN CABINET

(©, 1923, Western Newspaper Union.) Methought I saw a robin's wing Among the budding trees! What need of chilly lingering Mid wintry reveries, When life is at the edge of spring? —Florence Converse.

WHAT TO EAT

For those who like onions the following dish will be enjoyed.

Scalloped Onions and Peanuts.—Cut the onions into quarters, cook in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and reserve the broth for soup. Butter a baking dish and put into it a layer of onions, add a layer of ground peanuts, another layer of onions and peanuts. Pour over a rich white sauce well-seasoned, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until brown. Cheese may be used in place of peanuts.

Oatmeal Bread.—Dissolve one-half of a compressed yeast cake in one-quarter of a cupful of lukewarm water. Heat two cupfuls of milk and when boiling pour it over one cupful of rolled oats. Add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar or molasses, two teaspoonfuls of salt, two tablespoonfuls of fat, and mix well. Cool and add the yeast and flour enough to make a firm dough. Set in a warm place to rise. When it has doubled in size, shape into two loaves. When light, bake one hour.

Creamed Vegetables.—Take one pint potatoes cut into cubes, one cupful of carrots diced, one medium onion minced, one cupful of celery diced, one pimiento, one-third of a cupful of salt pork diced. Fry the pork until brown, add the vegetables and cook for a few minutes, then add boiling water and a teaspoonful of salt, cooking until the vegetables are done. Add a tablespoonful of butter to one of flour, mix well and add a pint of rich milk, cook until smooth, add the vegetables and serve hot, seasoning as desired.

Can storied urn, or animated bust, Back to its mansion call the fleeting breath? Can honor's voice provoke the silent dust, Or flattery soothe the dull cold ear of death? —Gray.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

We need less meat as the days grow long and warmer. Such dishes as creamed or scalloped vegetables, souffles and chowders will be hearty enough with meat occasionally.

American Bunny.—Heat two cupfuls of milk and when hot add one-half cupful of cornmeal, one teaspoonful of salt, and cook in a double boiler for half an hour.

Add two cupfuls of grated cheese, two tablespoonfuls of fat, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of mustard mixed with a few dashes of cayenne. When the cheese is melted serve the mixture on toasted bread. Small bits of pimientos may be added instead of the cayenne.

Cream of Peanut Soup.—Mix three tablespoonfuls of flour with one-half cupful of water; when free from lumps add six tablespoonfuls of peanut butter; when well blended add five cupfuls of milk and cook the soup in a double boiler for thirty minutes. Stir frequently to prevent lumping. Season with salt, pepper and chopped green or red pepper.

Doctor McCollom of Johns Hopkins advocates the serving of salad twice a day. As a salad is made or marred by its dressing, one should use care to serve the best that can be made. A simple French dressing of oil, vinegar, salt and pepper, using one part vinegar to three or four parts oil, may be varied by the addition of chopped onion, peppers, adding chili sauce, Worcestershire, chopped olives and celery. The seasoning of the salad dressing is most important.

Letuce With French Dressing.—Wash head lettuce and shake dry. Serve with French dressing, using four parts oil to one part vinegar, half a chopped green pepper, a sprig of parsley and three slices (finely minced) of Spanish onion. Beat and mix well and chill before serving. Such a dressing will keep several days in the ice chest. Keep in a Mason jar and shake well before serving.

Chili Con Carne.—Soak one cupful of kidney beans over night, or better, use the canned. If dry, simmer in fresh water until tender. Discard the seeds in two chill peppers, soak them in warm water until soft; scrape the pulp from the peppers into the water in which they were soaked and discard the skins. Cut two pounds of round steak into small pieces and cook in a little fat until well-browned all over; add four tablespoonfuls of flour to the fat in the pan, stir until well-browned then add the chill and water; stir until boiling. Cut gashes in a clove of garlic, add it with the meat and other ingredients, adding hot water as needed and simmer two hours. When the meat is tender, the sauce should be of the right consistency; add salt and pepper and three tablespoonfuls of butter to the beans, shake well and serve with the meat.

Los Angeles Woman Tells of Wonderful Experience.

MRS. GUSSIE E. HANSEN.

Mrs. Gussie E. Hansen, of 916 West 52nd Street, is now numbered with the multitude of Los Angeles men and women who have realized the wonderful merits of Tanlac. In relating her experiences, Mrs. Hansen said:

"It is wonderful what Tanlac will do for one suffering from stomach trouble, nervousness and run-down condition. I have tried it.

"Before taking the treatment everything I ate disagreed with me so that I actually dreaded to sit down to the table. I suffered from constipation, had awful pains across my back, and was so nervous and run down I was in misery all the time.

"Tanlac was helping so many others I thought it might help me, too, and it certainly has. Why, my appetite is just splendid, and my stomach is in such good order I eat to my heart's content. My back doesn't bother me any more, and I sleep like a child at night. I can't say too much for Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists—take no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Rust Takes Huge Toll.

Of the world's output of iron and steel during the 80 years from 1860 to 1920, approximately about 680,000,000 tons were lost by rusting. Taking the average yearly output for that period as 31,000,000 tons, and the average yearly wastage as 11,000,000 tons, the depreciation due to rust was more than one-third of the output.—Exchange.

WHY TAKE LAXATIVES?

Discovery by Science Has Replaced Them.

Pills and salts give temporary relief from constipation only at the expense of permanent injury, says an eminent medical authority.

Science has found a newer, better way—a means as simple as Nature itself.

In perfect health a natural lubricant keeps the food waste soft and moving. But when constipation exists this natural lubricant is not sufficient. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

As Nujol is not a medicine or laxative, it cannot gripe and, like pure water, it is harmless and pleasant.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals. Get a bottle from your druggist today.—Advertisement.

Aviators to Study Bird Life. British aviators are asked to help solve the secrets of bird life. With Europe's network of air lines constantly increasing, it is hoped to make some illuminating observations on birds on which heretofore only casual reports have been made by aviators. For instance, it was a common custom for men attached to the Royal air force stations to race swallows and swifts, and although the swifts usually were defeated by the planes, it was noticed that these birds traveled unusually fast. The only European bird that seems to be jealous of man's rivalry in the air is the eagle. British pilots crossing the Pyrenees have been attacked by eagles.

Canada Offers "Last Chance" for Virgin Farms

THINK of what you could produce on a farm of virgin fertility, without the burden of high-acreage cost. Think of what 20-to-40 bushel wheat would mean to you under these conditions, and of dairying and stock raising on cheap pasture land. Land pays for itself in a few crops—no artificial fertilizer—no heavy investment. You have evaded the farmer who got his start when land was cheap. Here's your chance, perhaps your last chance, for the same brand of prosperity.

Western Canada—Your Opportunity!

Western Canada is the farmer's land of opportunity. Thousands of settlers who started not many years ago with little or nothing, are today the owners of fine farms, with comfortable homes and barns, thoroughbred stock, dairy herds—all the marks of prosperity. Yet land is not dear—only $15 to $20 an acre for rich, virgin, prairie convenient to railroads. Land is not dear in Western Canada—yet—because there is so much of it. But many settlers are expected in 1923, and now is your opportunity, before the best farms are taken. Get started. Taxes are reduced, not raised, on land brought under cultivation. On farm buildings, improvements, machinery, personal effects, automobile, etc., there is no tax at all. Canada wants workers—it wants its land farmed—and the farmers, through their municipal councils, have practical control of all local taxation.

Special Renter's Plan—Buy Out of Profits

To aid and encourage the honest worker with perhaps little capital, the Canadian Government has a "Renter's Plan", whereby one may work a new or improved farm—try it out—for several years if desired—and buy a farm of his own out of profits.

Thirty-Two Years to Pay
For the benefit of those wishing to buy land, a national non-profit sharing organization—the Canada Colonization Association—has been established, with head office at Winnipeg, and United States office at St. Paul. This Association offers selected land convenient to railroads—much of it at $15 to $20 per acre—on very small cash payment; no further payment until third year; balance extended over thirty years, but purchaser may pay up and obtain title at any time, if desired. Interest six per cent on deferred payments.

Special Excursion Rates to Western Canada

In order that you may inspect the land—see for yourself—judge of its value and fertility—special excursion trips of inspection will leave United States points on the first and third Tuesday of each month. Single fare plus $2 for the round trip, available from all principal centers. Take advantage of these low railroad rates to inspect for yourself the opportunities which Western Canada has to offer you. Seeing is believing. The nearest Canadian Government Agency will give you all information. The men in charge are Government officials, interested only in the service of the prospective settler. We help you find your opportunity. Let us know something of your position and receive free book with maps and information how special railroad rates can be arranged for a trip of inspection. Mail the coupon.

Free Homesteads are still available in some localities. Canada welcomes tourists—come and see our country for yourself. No Passports required.

The Custard Cup

"A HELLUVA TEMPER"

SYNOPSIS.—Living in a barn, converted into a dwelling, Mrs. Penfield is manager of an apartment building known as "The Custard Cup," originally "Cluster Court." Her income is derived from laundry work, her chief patron being a Mrs. Horatius Weatherston, whom she has never seen. Living with her are "Crink" and "Thad," homeless small boys whom she has adopted. They call her "Penzie." Thad tells Penzie a strange man was inquiring for her under her maiden name. A tenant, Mrs. Gussie Bosley, induces Penzie to take charge of a package, which she does with some misgivings. Searching a refuse dump for things which might be of value, Crink, veteran at the game, encounters a small girl, Lettie, who proves a foeman worthy of his steel.

"Could, too." With a shriek, she lifted one hand and landed a lightning blow on Crink's right cheek. "Want me to pick your gizzard out?" There seemed to be so much possibility behind this question that Crink freed one hand and struck into the girl's neck. With the yell of a tortured demon, she doubled both fists and lighted into him with a quick rained of blows. Her lean arms proved as strong as steel, her knuckles like sharp twists of metal; and her skill was not a matter for dispute. On the instant, Crink abandoned the wheel and devoted himself to methods of defense.

Kicking, striking, choking, they beat and scratched, pushed and pulled, clawed and twisted, slipping in the ashes, stumbling over charred lath and lumps of plaster, till they landed down in the grass in an angry snarl. Picking themselves up, they glared at each other through a breathless moment, their hard young bodies intact, their hard young spirits unconquered.

Crink was conscious of an unwelcome feeling of respect for his antagonist. She was no larger than he—smaller, if anything—but, golly, couldn't she hit out?

"What's your name?" he inquired, for the first time honoring her with individuality.

"Lettie. What's yours?"

"Crink."

Since both belonged to a stratum in which superfluties were lopped off, these brevities were all that either expected.

"Gee!" he continued, venturing on the wily path of strategy. "You're the quickest thing I ever saw. I guess you're 'bout a ten-second kid. I guess

"Lettie," he shouted, plunging into the lull in his excitement. "Penzie, look what I brought you. It's Ten-Second Lettie."

Mrs. Penfield set down her fatiron and turned to see what she had unexpectedly acquired. A pair of bright black eyes stared back at her unwinkingly out of a small sun-browned face.

"Bless my soul!" exclaimed Mrs. Penfield genially. "Ain't this nice! Come right in, Lettie."

Lettie did not move. Her expression was noncommittal—the hard, wary expression of over-experience estimating, preparing for possible combat. Her curly black hair framed her face in ragged waves. Her presentation gown was of the simplest—a one-piece garment, obviously intended to close in the back, but long since refusing to close at all. Finding this a hindrance to untrammelled action, Lettie had faced the garment about and laced it down the front with bits of twine, making use of the original buttonholes and accidental perforations. Her emancipation from shoes and stockings was no affair of recent date. With the mere substitution of a trifle of fringed grass for her scrap of shredded cotton, Lettie might appropriately have punctuated the pebbly beach of a sunny island in the South seas.

Mrs. Penfield, feeling her way in a situation which she was far from understanding, took refuge in general hospitality.

"Sit right down here, Lettie," she invited cordially, shoving along a tub of soaking clothes and wiping the bench free of spatters. "I guess likely you're a friend of Crink's, ain't you?"

The cautious Lettie was not prepared to say. She took the offered seat, but immediately fixed her wary eyes again upon her hostess.

"Do you live somewhere 'round here, Lettie?" inquired Mrs. Penfield gently.

No answer!

Crink, wriggling uneasily by the door, felt that the time had come to tuck up his exhibit.

"She's awful strong, Penzie. Ain't any bulldog stronger'n she is, by crucky!"

Lettie visibly expanded, wrapping this tribute about her as a lady might her silken robes. For the first time her gaze wandered—to a busy saucepan on the stove from which issued savory odors no longer to be ignored; for the first time she spoke.

"I'll stay to supper," she conceded, with marked condescension.

"Sure you will," agreed Mrs. Penfield warmly. "We're going to have a grand parsnip stew."

Crink, vastly encouraged by the reception of the first point, proceeded with another.

"Say, you oughter see Ten-Second Lettie fight. I never saw nothing like it—honest, I never! She spits and scratches and pulls and—"

Lettie, immensely pleased, looked brightly into Mrs. Penfield's face. "I've got a helluva temper," she acknowledged placidly.

whole attention to the saucepan, working her thin nostrils after the manner of a hungry dog. Mrs. Penfield's keen eyes took in this detail, as she turned the final fold in a pillow slip and ironed it flat.

"Where you been living, Lettie?"

"Living? Hain't been living. I been hanging out with two old women—old devils, both of 'em." Lettie, totally at ease as the center of flattering attention, threw off this information with great carelessness.

"And your father and mother—do you remember 'em at all?"

"Never had none." With a scornful grunt, Lettie repudiated all natural connections.

"Yes, you did. 'Course you—"

"Shut up," flashed Lettie, turning on Crink in wrath. "Shut up! Don't you dare to sass me."

"Never mind, children," said Mrs. Penfield, setting her iron on the back of the stove. "Tain't always a matter that amounts to much. Don't nobody stay long at the starting-point; question is, what's he doing right this minute? Land, if I ain't most forgetting that I got combread in the oven! Ain't it wonderful we're having an extra-special supper just the night we got company?"

"Ye-ah," rejoiced Crink, clasping one foot and dancing around on the other. "And say, ain't it grand the way she fights at you? Say, Penzie—"

He came to the floor on both feet and stooped to wheeling. "Don't you think she's had 'nough off so't we can keep her?"

Mrs. Penfield, down on her knees in front of the oven, was critically examining the combread. "Well, I—"

"Have you, now?" inquired Mrs. Penfield conversationally. "That's good. Ain't nothing can move things faster'n temper. All you got to do is to learn when to use it, else you're likely to give the wrong thing a shove."

Lettie was unwilling to allow even this modification to dim the luster of her chief virtue. "I don't leave nothing standing when I get to going," she continued; "not nothing, nowhere—nor nobody."

Having swept the earth clean of all obstacles, Miss Lettie devoted her

A CAT MOTHERS SQUIRRELS
 The fact that a mother cat at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Wier, living east of Lacon, Ill., adopted a couple of baby squirrels and is giving them as much attention as she does her own kittens, has caused quite a stir in metropolitan newspapers.

Several days ago, it appears, that Wier cut down a tree and in the inspection which usually follows a piece of woodcraft, discovered two baby squirrels only a few days old in a nest. Not knowing what to do with them, it occurred to Mr. Wier that a cat at the house had two kittens and that perhaps she would mother the squirrels. To his surprise, the feline accepted the squirrels with "open arms," figuratively speaking, adopting them as her own. The mother cat lies on the floor and the kittens and squirrels are busily engaged in getting their "dinner". The cat is evidently as proud of the adopted children as she is of her own. The strange story is bringing country-wide fame to Lacon.—The Lacon Journal.

 Father starts it—mother finds she can add a little—even the kiddies will contribute their pennies and in a surprisingly short time, the whole family is enjoying the pleasures of owning a Ford. Here is how you can do it through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan
 Bring the first $5 in to us. Enroll under the terms of the new, easy way to buy a Ford. Select the car you want. We will deposit your money in a local bank, at interest. Add a little each week. You will be surprised at the rate the money piles up when everyone is helping. Soon the payments, plus interest paid by the bank will make the car yours. Come in—let us give you full particulars.

FLOOR FINISH
 a good pounding. We ask you to do it. Then you'll know why so many people use it to wearproof their floors, inside and outside piazza floors. It looks better and wears longer than any other floor finish made. We warrant this with a money-back guarantee if it doesn't prove all we claim.

We carry at all times a complete stock of Stains and Varnishes as well as paints for refinishing Furniture and Interior wood work
