Lowell B. Smith Enters Partnership with John Faissler

TAKES PLACE OF WM. FULTON

Deal Was Consummated Saturday—Will Form One of the Strongest Firms in This Part of the State

Coincident with the assumption of his duties as presiding judge of DeKalb county by Judge William Fulton Saturday was made an announcement that will be of the utmost interest in legal and business circles in Sycamore and this city.

It was that a partnership agreement had been entered into between John Faissler, head of the law firm of which Mr. Fulton has been an important part, and Lowell B. Smith, former state's attorney and prominent and popular member of the bar of this county.

Both members of the new firm were enthusiastically congratulated after the session of court, Mr. Faissler, because he had been able to find such an enthusiastic, active and able young man to fill the gap in his organization caused by the election of Mr. Fulton to the bench and Mr. Smith because he had been selected to become a member of what is probably the biggest law firm in this section of the state and to participate in a practice that has a wide repute as one of the choicest known for many miles around.

The name and style of the new organization will be Faissler & Smith and they will continue to occupy the offices in the Pierce building that has been the home of the old firm.

John Faissler has been a resident of Sycamore since 1895, starting in his residence in the county seat as a humble country school teacher, coming there from Elgin. He studied in office of Carnes & Dunton and was later admitted to the bar, becoming a member of the noted firm of Carnes, Dunton & Faissler.

This firm was dissolved in 1907, when Mr. Dunton retired from the active practice of the law, to become president of the First National bank.

Mr. Faissler then practiced with Judge Carnes for a year or so, until the head of the firm was chosen to be circuit judge, after which the firm for a time was Faissler & Cochran. Mr. Cochran later moved to Chicago and for the time the firm was Faissler & Fulton, later taking Ralph Roberts in with a title of Faissler, Fulton & Roberts. Afterwards Mr. Roberts went to Chicago to practice and the firm was again Faissler & Fulton.

In addition to having a huge business in the general practice of the law, Mr. Faissler has made a specialty of corporation law and has as clients such concerns as the Illinois Power Company, DeKalb Sycamore Interurban Traction Co., DeKalb Co. Telephone Co., Rockford & Interurban Railway Co., Rockford City Traction Co., Rockford Electric Co., North western Illinois Telephone Co., Chicago Telephone Co., Chicago, Great Western Railway Co., Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co., Illinois Central Railway Co. and other corporations, and in addition has an extensive clientele in the general practice of law.

His new partner is well known around this county and very favorably, under the pet name of "Bud." He is a young man of progressive ideas and great ability in his chosen profession, that of the law. He is one of the best trial lawyers that this section has ever produced and will serve as a most admirable co-partner with the senior member of the establishment.

He was born in Sycamore 40 years ago and is a product of the Sycamore public schools. Following the completion of his course at the Sycamore high school, he studied at the state university, where he graduated and the Illinois college of law finishing in 1908.

He was for four years with the firm of Faissler & Fulton and then spent eight years in the important position of state's attorney making a record that redounds to his credit.

During his years in public life he has served as government appeal agent for the exemption board during the war and was chairman of the legal advisory board—all without pay. He was president of the Illinois

BALL PLAYERS—FANS TO MEET

Everyone Interested in a Ball Team for Genoa Be on Hand Monday Night

And now we know spring is here. The first call for players and fans to support a local club for this season has been issued and everyone interested will please be on deck Monday night at the city hall at 7:45.

It is the hope of the players and fans too, that an entirely local club can be formed, save with the possible exception of the battery. It can be done all right, for Genoa has excellent ball material and all it needs to develop a winning team is to practice.

However, come down to the hall Monday night and talk it over. The more that are present, the more enthused over the proposition everyone will become and Genoa will put on a team that will make other towns sit up and take notice.—Don't forget the time, date and place—he there.

MRS. LINA MORGAN CALLED

Was Formerly Lina Delivin of New Lebanon, Ill.

Mrs. Lina Delivin Ellithorpe Morgan, daughter of Charles and Lettie Delivin, died at her home in Sterling, Colo., Saturday, March 31 at the age of 29 years. Death was due to heart failure. Mrs. Morgan, second child of Charles and Lettie Delivin, was born February 14, 1894 and after her mother's death in 1902 made her home with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ellithorpe at New Lebanon, Ill.

On April 24, 1913, she was united in marriage with Judd L. Morgan of Hampshire. To this union was born one daughter, Faye Virginia.

In the year of 1916 the family moved to Sterling Colo., where they lived at the time of the mother's death.

Mrs. Morgan is survived by her husband, Judd L. Morgan, daughter, Faye, father, Charles Delivin and sister, Ruth, of Melrose Park.

The body was brought to Genoa Monday and funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the chapel in S. S. Slater & Son's Undertaking rooms. Rev. Robeson officiated. Interment was in Genoa cemetery.

CITY ELECTION APRIL 14

All Petitions Are Filed With Clerk—
Two Seek Office of Mayor

Petitions for the city election were filed with City Clerk H. A. Perkins Tuesday with two candidates for mayor, one candidate for each ward for alderman and one candidate for the office of city treasurer and one for city clerk.

C. D. Schoonmaker and James Hutchison are running for the mayor's office; H. A. Perkins is up for city clerk and Geo. Evans is going in for the treasurer's job. Geo. Loptien, Edgar Baldwin and Kline Shipman are running for alderman in wards 1, 2 and 3 respectively.

WM. SCHWARTZ KILLED

Gored to Death in Barnyard by Angry
Bull—Leaves Wife and Three Children

Wm. Schwartz, a farmer living northeast of Genoa in DeKalb Co. met death last Thursday noon when in attempting to do some work in the barnyard, an angry bull charged him crushing his chest and inflicting other internal injuries. Mr. Schwartz put up a brave fight but was no match for the enraged animal. His wife came to his assistance and beat the animal off with a club but not before the man had suffered fatal wounds.

A doctor was hastily summoned but Mr. Schwartz died before his arrival.

The victim of the tragedy leaves to mourn his death his wife and three children, his mother in Belvidere and five brothers. Mrs. Schwartz is a daughter of Mrs. S. J. Dunbar of Belvidere.

MRS. M. D. MEYERS DEAD

Passed Away at Her Home in Grand Island, Neb., Monday, March 26

We note with sorrow the passing of Mrs. M. D. Meyers of Grand Island, Nebraska, which occurred Monday, March 26. Death was caused directly from heart trouble. The deceased was 53 years of age and had three children all of whom are living.

Mrs. Loyal Brown is a daughter of the deceased and one son and daughter live in Grand Island.

Mrs. Meyers was a niece of the late Geo. DeWolfe and sister of Lottan DeWolfe.

NOTES FROM THE COURT HOUSE

Reece Brothers Entered Pleas of not Guilty to Arson Charges

BERT FIELDS PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Colored Gentlemen of Sycamore Engage in Friendly Knife Duel—Fined and Jailed

Albert E. Reece and George Reece, brothers, of Esmond, Illinois, were arraigned by State's Attorney Poust in the circuit court on Friday, Mar. 30 before Judge Slusser on charges of burning to defraud the Hartford Insurance Co., two charges of arson arising out of the burning of the Ashland and Barnes buildings and conspiracy.

The defendants when arraigned in court were represented by Attorney E. M. Burst who stated to the court he wished to enter the appearance of Attorneys Rothbart & Myer of Chicago as attorneys for the defendants. Attorney Burst then made a motion to quash the indictments which on motion of the State's Attorney were overruled. The defendants then entered their pleas of "not guilty" and their cases were set for trial on Monday, April 9, 1923.

Bert Fields of Sandwich on Friday last was arraigned in the circuit court by State's Attorney Poust on charge of assault with intent to rape. Fields was indicted by the February grand jury as a result of an attack on Miriam Cassidy a school teacher in Sandwich township. The brutal attack upon Miss Cassidy and the stubborn fight made by her caused a great deal of excitement in Sandwich and it was only the act of the police authorities in spiriting the prisoner away which saved him from violence at the hands of the citizens. Fields after his arrest confessed to the county authorities and later made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide.

Fields when brought into court entered a plea of "not guilty" claiming he only had come for fun. He stated he would secure an attorney from Sandwich to represent him. His case was set for trial April 9, 1923 and will take place as soon as the cases now on the calendar before his are disposed of.

Perry Rowan of Kirkland was up in the order of arraignment and he also entered a plea of "not guilty". Rowan appeared represented by James W. Cliffe who entered a motion to quash the indictment which motion was argued before Judge Fulton by the State's Attorney last Saturday.

Perry Rowan was indicted by the February grand jury on charges of violating the prohibition laws of Illinois.

W. E. Andrews of Sycamore, proprietor of the Keystone Garage obtained a judgment by confession in the circuit court on Wednesday last in the sum of $496.88 against William O'Brien and Ella O'Brien. The judgment is based on a judgment note executed by defendants on August 28, 1922 in the sum of $475 in the payment of which default had been made.

James Clapp of Sandwich was adjudged insane by a jury in the county court before Judge Poust and ordered committed to the Elgin state hospital. He is 25 years of age and married.

Sam Crosswell and William Day, both colored and of Sycamore, were brought up before Judge Poust in the county court on Tuesday last on information fled against each of them by State's Attorney Poust for an assault with a deadly weapon. The charges grew out of a shooting affray on March 20, 1923. Each of the defendants was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and to reflect in the county jail for 30 days.

M. E. CANTATA SUNDAY GOOD

A large and appreciative audience heard the Easter cantata given in the M. E. church Sunday evening and to say that the rendition of every number was good would be too mild a term; it was excellent. With Mrs. E. W. Brown as accompanist and A. Morchouse director, the music was brought out in the large choir to the "nth" degree. Mrs. Shesler, as usual, pleased the audience mightily with her well chosen readings.

YOEMEN TO INITIATE

FORMER GENOITE IN MOVIES

Colvin Brown Right Hand Man to Thos. Ince, Producer

Elgin Daily News: Elgin is on the map in the movie game.

This is the opinion of Charles B. Haselhurst of Los Angeles, a former Elgin attorney; expressed in a letter to a member of the staff of The Elgin Daily News.

Mr. Haselhurst stated that a number of persons, former employes in the Elgin National Watch factory would soon appear in a motion picture.

A part of the letter follows:

"Elgin certainly is on the map in the movie game. Earl Hudson, formerly of Elgin, is out here now and is production manager for First National pictures. He is officer Al Hudson's son. Colvin Brown, formerly city editor of the Elgin Daily News is Thos. Ince's right hand man. Leo Meehan, a former reporter on the News is one of the leading directors out here on the coast. Dorothy Howell, whose father used to be secretary of the Elgin Commercial club is now secretarial-manager at the big Schulberg studios. She was formerly with Universal. "Happy" Williams of Geneva is doubling for Wm. Farnum.

Colvin Brown resided in Genoa when a boy with his mother and three brothers. His father was killed in a railroad accident on the I. C. many years ago.

CHAS. WITT DIED IN BUFFALO

Deceased Lived in Genoa for Number of Years—Was a Woodman

Word was received at the Republican office Monday of the death of Charles Witt of Buffalo, N. Y. The deceased departed this life on Monday, March 2 due to an illness of pleurisy pneumonia. Burial was held Wednesday, March 28 in Buffalo.

The deceased leaves to mourn his death his beloved wife and seven children, Ida Houtz, Albert, Henry Richard, Charlie, Lilly and Ella Witt. He was formerly a member of the M. W. A. lodge of Genoa but transferred his membership to Buffalo upon moving to that city.

TOWNSHIP ELECTION QUIET

A. G. Stewart Received 117 Votes out of Total of 120 Cast

The township election held on Tuesday of this week was exceedingly quiet, only a few more than 117 votes, that were credited to A. G. Stewart for supervisor being cast; the exact number being 120 and one of these was thrown out because of wrong marking. O. S. Davis received 58 votes for school trustee with no opposition and R. Galliano received 3 votes for justice of the peace. G. C. Kitchen received a total of 61 votes for trustee of Ney cemetery and the other two members elected, L. D. Kellogg and H. F. Eickler received a total of 55 respectively.

INCOME TAX INCREASE

Report Shows Collections $77,063.82
More This Year Than Last

Uncle Sam's income will be boosted $428,840.05 this year thru 1922 income tax collected at the Aurora revenue office, it was announced by Earl Weeks, division chief, who has just completed checking figures on the recent drive.

"This is $77,063.05 more than was collected during 1921 on 1920 incomes and is a gauge of the increased prosperity of the community in the last two years," Mr. Weeks said. "The increase in the amount of taxes paid is surprising when the heads of families with incomes under $5,000 is considered. Altho the condition of the farmer was better in 1920 than it is today the prosperity of city people has more than made up the difference.

"Owing to sickness and bad road conditions there are a large number of delinquents this year. Those who call at the local office are being let off with a fine of $5 and an additional 25 per cent of their total tax. Failure to file means a fine of not more than $1,000 but those who come to the office before being notified of their delinquency will be given every possible consideration.

A statement received from the collector's office in Chicago shows the Aurora office second in the Chicago district in the per capita collection of delinquents.

DAD'S NIGHT AT HIGH GYM

Dad's Night at the High School will come a week from Friday. Every Dad is invited to come and enjoy the evening. And if you don't happen to have a boy or girl in high school but would like to see the fun, do not stay away. All you need do is be adopted by some boy for the evening. Official adopters will be provided at the High School for any unsuccessful candidates. So all Dads and adopted Dads, are urged to come down to the gymnasium about 7:30.

There will be plenty of action and no speeches. The seventh and eighth grade boys will put on some athletic stunts and games. The eighth and ninth will have a chance to settle a long-standing feud as to who is "top dog" in basketball. The reds and blues will wind up in the last exhibition game of the season. Next to the interscholastic games this week at the University of Chicago, this will be the great athletic event of the indoor season. It alone will be worth the price of admission—adoption by some high school boy for the evening. Every boy to compete must bring a Dad—real or adopted.

As the Dads come in they will draw numbers, and the odds will play the even at indoor ball. Any substitutions or trades will be allowed among the Dads. But each Dad must be sponsored by some boy to look after gym shoes, towel, and see that he is properly coached. W. L. Moore will have charge of this game.

Don't forget the night, Friday next. Events will move fast from 7:30 on. All the athletic stars from seventh to seniors will shine—provided they can bring a Dad. Get adopted and avoid the rush. Later on, the girls will stage Mothers' Night.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Candy Sale

The Junior class had a "sweet time" last Thursday when they sponsored a candy sale at the high school. Most of the candy was chocolate and divinity fudge, and ummm, it was good. There was a generous patronage, and when the sweet appetizers were all gone, the cashier jingled three dollars merrily in the cash box. Another sale will be staged next Thursday, and the proceeds will go toward framing the new picture, which will be presented to the school by the Junior class.

Basket Ball

Last Thursday the members of the first team, our illustrious basket ball sharps, and the two "subs" were presented with medals by Mr. Mackenzie for their activity in basket ball during the last four years. Their good showing this year makes each member deserving of his medal.

The medals are of bronze. On the front is inscribed "Illinois High School Athletic Association," with a big "G" and the year 1923. On the reverse side is the player's name and the subject, basket ball.

Mr. Mackenzie expressed his thanks to the team and the school and called upon several members of the team and of the rest of the school for their opinions concerning athletics in general and basket ball in particular.

Then the presentation was made to the following: Harry Adler, Wayne Geihman, Claude Bartle, Harold Nelson, Arthur Geihman, Stewart Hill, and Harold Durham.

NO EXAM'S. TO ENTER COLLEGES

The Following Article By Prof. Mackenzie Gives a Detailed Resume of Some School Work

Principal Genoa Twp. High School, Genoa, Ill.
Dear Sir:
At the recent meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Chicago your high school was approved for accreditating by that Association.
Your school will be placed upon the 1922-23 membership list.
Very truly yours,
W. I. Early,
Treas.
March 28, 1923

March 30, 1923
Mr. H. Mackenzie, Principal,
Township High School,
Genoa, Ill.

I am pleased to inform you that at the recent meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Chicago your high school was approved for accreditating by that Association.

We trust that you and your Board may so guard the interests of your school that it may be able to retain this honor ranking from year to year. Sincerely yours,

H. A. Hollister,
Chairman, State Committee
Commission on Secondary Schools North Central Association.

The letters announcing that the High School has been admitted to membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools reached us last Saturday. This recognition of the standing of the local school should be a red-letter day in the school history of the Township. Genoa has before been on the accredited list of the state university. It has now attained the honor ranking of membership in the North Central Association.

This marks the attainment of a goal kept steadily in view ever since the writer assumed direction of the local school system under the first Township Board organized, with Mr. J. J. Hammond President and Mr. Charles Stewart chairman of the Teachers' Committee. The policy of this first Board, adhered to steadfastly by succeeding Boards under Pres. Earnest Sandall, was to build a school that in equipment, personnel and scholarship should be in the first rank in the state. Admission to membership in the North Central is official recognition that the school now stands in the front rank. It is fitting that while the honor itself is noted attention should be called to the fact that it has been realized through the determination of the men serving on the Board of Education to set the very highest standards as their goal. Communities do not grudge the money that they spend in preparing their boys and girls to face life's competition as well equipped as possible. They do want to know that the money is well spent. Good-looking buildings and fine classroom furniture do not necessarily make good schools. There must be something in the class rooms besides fine furniture. It is to set up and maintain standards of all around excellence that the North Central Association was organized. Membership in the Association stamps a school as among the best.

The North Central Association is of Colleges and Universities organized to promote the cause and raise the standards of education. All the State Universities in the middle-west, from Ohio and Michigan to Montana and Wyoming, and such institutions as the University of Chicago and Northwestern, are members. Approved high schools are admitted to membership. Among the rules of admission are the following: "The efficiency of instruction, the acquired habits of thought and study, the general intellectual and moral tone of a school are paramount factors, and only schools which rank well in these particulars, as evidenced by rigid, thorough-going, sympathetic inspection shall be considered eligible for the list."

"The Association will decline to consider any school unless such school is in the highest class of schools as officially listed by the properly constituted educational authorities of the state." Graduates of these approved high schools may enter without examination.

The Blackhawk Motor Star Lines with headquarters at Rockford, is negotiating with the Kaneville Elevator company and the Aurora Chamber of Commerce, to establish a combination bus and freight line between Aurora and DeKalb in event that the suspension of service on the Chicago, Aurora & DeKalb electric road is made permanent. The motor company is now operating a bus line from Rockford to Oregon, Leaf River and Byron.

amination any of the 200 member colleges and universities, upon certificate. Such certificates will in future be given to any Genoa graduates who have maintained an average grade of B— or better.

High schools in 18 states have been admitted to membership in the Association. Of the 700 high schools on the recognized list of the State Department in Illinois, 217 have been admitted to membership in the Association. Rockford, Elgin and DeKalb were admitted in 1905. Sycamore in 1911. Belvidere in 1914. Crystal Lake in 1916 and Harvard in 1918. Genoa has the distinction of being the smallest public high school admitted from Illinois.

The importance of a standardizing agency like the North Central Association—probably of first rank in prestige in the entire United States—can scarcely be overestimated. Communities are frequently not well-informed about the actual condition of their own schools. Class plays, basket ball teams and exhibits, while productive of school spirit are no index of school efficiency. It is easily possible to dissipate energy that should be going into productive work in such externals. There is great temptation to make the popular appeal, follow the line that makes good news copy, and leave the fundamental but less spectacular classroom work to shift for itself. Here the impartial judgment of a standardizing agency like the North Central Association is invaluable. The "Open House" and work exhibits after the opening of the new building brought interesting throngs. The basket ball teams have shown the expected improvement on the new floor. Fear has even been expressed that some such attention to basket ball meant less attention to school work. The class plays have always been popular. Now comes the North Central admission certifying that the school stands among the best in every respect: an honor ranking to be sought and, once obtained, to be carefully guarded by those jealous of the educational opportunities of their children.

It is more difficult for a small school than for a large one to secure North Central recognition. Careful working out of building plans, selection of teachers and choice of subjects has been necessary to reach the goal.

The state inspector has declared our building one of the best-planned and most up-to-date for its size, and complimented our teaching force. The teachers have shown themselves capable and willing. Their preparation is above the average. Every academic teacher has more than the required number of hours of preparation in education. Three hold degrees from Universities in addition to college degrees. All have had special work in the subjects they teach. All have had experience. Standardized tests show that the class-work is good. The pupils who enter seventh grade in Genoa enjoy opportunities much above the average.

The subjects offered have been chosen after careful study of local conditions, college and vocational demands, and the best modern high school practice. Some of our work was at first pronounced too ambitious by the state authorities. It has since received their approval. By a system of alternating classes it has been possible to offer more than could otherwise be handled to advantage with our present teaching force. Chemistry, for example, taught this year, will be offered again in 1924-25. American history and civics, advanced mathematics, advanced agriculture, taught last year, will be taught again next year. In this way the advantage of larger classes is gained and the wastefulness of many small classes avoided. The plan is particularly advantageous in the case of subjects that are so important that they should be taught, but that attract only a small number of pupils. Comparatively few pupils, for example, elect agriculture. And yet the Board has always recognized the importance of the study in an agricultural community and provided for it. By offering the work in alternate years larger classes and more interest is secured. Economy is served in administration and teaching time is utilized to the utmost. Teachers can always do better work with a smaller number of fair-sized classes than with a large number of very small ones. A greater number and wider range of subjects can be taught with the same classroom equipment and the same teaching force.

While careful attention has been given to preparation for college or technical training, the needs of those who will never go beyond the work offered here have been considered with equal care. One of the first studies made in planning the courses offered was a check-up of the local occupational demands and the vocational distribution of the graduates. These have been carefully weighed in planning the work offered.

A strong course is given in home economics. We have been fortunate in having a teacher especially well equipped to plan the courses in the first place, install the equipment, and carry the work through. In natural attitude, professional preparation and experience, Miss Susan Skinner combines unusual qualifications for her work. The work done by her classes and their annual exhibits have elicited uniformly favorable comment. The girls of the community have been very well provided for in the high school course.

Elementary and advanced courses in agriculture are offered. The elementary course gives a survey of the field, the advanced classes take up important phases in greater detail. Related subjects are taught with special reference to their agricultural bearing. A thorough course in biology is especially important as a basis for sound agricultural work. With this particularly in mind, biology was last year made a required subject by the board. All students hereafter must take it. Chemistry was this year offered, after much debate, expressly for those who would not be able to go away to get it elsewhere. It has proved one of the most popular courses in the school, with twenty pupils enrolled and a chemistry club organized. In the class are those boys who, having taken the elementary agriculture, elementary science, biology, and now chemistry, have not only the home experience but the very best foundation studies on which to build advanced work.

The theory and application of economics, especially in relation to rural life, should be studied by all who are preparing for life on the farm.

These subjects are taught by men whose interests, experiences and training fit them to understand local conditions and problems. W. L. Moore and Morris Waggoner are both graduates of noted agricultural schools—the former Iowa State the latter Illinois—both have had practical experience, both look forward ultimately to working their own farms, their interests are with the farm boy and his problems. Mr. Waggoner's summers have for years been spent in the soil survey that is mapping the agricultural resources of the state.

The qualifications and work of these teachers have been particularly noted because of the feeling that is apt to arise that in striving for scholastic recognition and preparation for college entrance the needs of that large number who will not go further than high school may be neglected, and that preparation for the few who go on may be at the expense of the many boys and girls who must take up their life work as they leave high school. Neither need suffer. The interests of both have been carefully safeguarded in building the course of study and selecting the teachers for Genoa Township High School.

The teachers entrusted with the more strictly academic work are as well-prepared, as able and successful as the teachers of vocational and related subjects. Their work is as deserving of commendation. In professional preparation and spirit the teaching force of the school ranks very high. The students are willing and loyal. The spirit of orderly work has been noted by visitors. And now that the hoped-for recognition of merit has come, may the writer echo the hope of Dr. Hollister—that the community whose will the Board of Education and the Principal carry out may guard and maintain the honor ranking that is now ours; that Genoa Township High School, admitted this year to membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, shall retain that standing through the years to come.

Harold Mackenzie, A. M.
Principal.

Citadel of Quebec.

Quebec citadel is a strong fortification covering 40 acres of ground, and in its present form it dates from 1823. The more modern fortifications were constructed in 1830-30, substantially on the lines of the French works of 1620. The citadel has been garrisoned by Canadian soldiers since the withdrawal of British troops in 1871. It includes a parade and drill ground, 42 acres in extent, surrounded by barracks and magazines under the walls. Heavy cannon are mounted on the ramparts. A large stone building forms the officers' quarters, with the governor general's residence (occasionally occupied by him) at the east end, overlooking the river. A splendid vista can be seen from the king's bastion at the northeast angle of the ramparts. The west ramparts overlook the Plains of Abraham. Quebec citadel has been called the "Gibraltar of Canada."

All this week in our Linoleum Department, we are featuring our new spring line of Armstrong's Linoleum patterns.

You are invited to come in and see for yourself the designs and colorings advertised in the newspapers and magazines. We are displaying many unusual effects in plain colors, Jaspes, inlaid and printed linoleum. You will also be interested in our line of linoleum rugs.

Today people are buying linoleum for new houses, and to cover the old wood floors in their bedrooms, dining-rooms and living-rooms, as well as in kitchens and baths.

Armstrong's Linoleum

is inexpensive and easy to keep clean, and the beautiful colorings and designs add to the appearance of any room.

Be sure to come this week, while our assortment of patterns is fresh and complete.

Illinois Central System Helps to Arouse Interest in Better Farming

The Illinois Central System is anxious to see the fertility of farm lands on its lines maintained and the best sort of agricultural practices followed by the farmers. To this end, the road maintains in its Development Bureau a corps of farm experts with both technical and practical training whose services are free of charge to farmers in Illinois Central System territory.

During 1922 this Development Bureau held 402 agricultural meetings. Its workers do not rely upon correspondence to disseminate the information they have; they get out in the fields and do their work in that personal, heart-to-heart way which not only secures the best results, but makes for a better understanding between this railroad and its patrons.

To help make possible increased production by more economical methods, to encourage diversification that will meet the demands of every market, to improve productivity of the land, to bring about better conditions in the farm home and to cultivate a more harmonious community spirit—these are the aims of the Illinois Central System.

Surveys are made of the soil and climatic conditions in the various communities to ascertain what type of farming is best for each locality. This is done in the belief that the foundation of agricultural improvement is laid in the condition and proper use of the land. The soil is carefully inspected by Development Bureau experts who have made agronomy their major study in leading colleges of agriculture, after which the farmers are advised of the best methods to pursue.

Dairy campaigns are held every month in the year in rural district school-houses or community centers. Lectures are given and motion pictures are shown emphasizing the importance of dairying in all its phases. To encourage the establishment of creameries on its lines, the Illinois Central System has been following a practice of employing expert buttermakers for new creameries at its own expense for one year. Five of the creameries that were established in this way paid neighboring farmers $365,277.98 for butter fat in 1922. As a further aid in the development of this industry, the Illinois Central System, in some instances, lends to the farmers pure-bred dairy sires for community breeding purposes. Any farmer desiring to buy pure-bred dairy stock can call upon our dairy experts for advice. Individual farms are visited, and the farmer is advised as to the proper housing, care and feed of his herd.

Poultry raising also is encouraged. Lectures and motion pictures relating to methods for producing the best results in the handling of poultry are given in Illinois Central System communities upon the request of patrons of the road who are interested in the poultry business.

The Illinois Central System is one of the largest vegetable carrying railroads in the United States. Development Bureau agents encourage this important work by holding meetings in the vegetable growing centers, advising about the best varieties, proper fertilization and cultivation, spraying and treatment of plants for disease. Construction of hotbeds and cold frames is shown. When the crops are ready for market, demonstrations are given in culling and proper packing, and every assistance is rendered in obtaining the best price possible.

The Illinois Central System is eager for its farmer patrons, as well as all other patrons, to call upon it for any assistance that it can consistently render.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

Plans of Communists for Anti-American Drive Revealed in Foster Trial.

LEGAL PARTY MERE SHIELD?

Rising Price of Sugar Causes Investigations—Early British Intervention in Ruhr Situation Is Possible—Russia Condemns Catholic Prelates to Death—Packing Concerns Merged.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

ARE you and your friends aware of the persistent and insidious campaign that is being carried on by the communists, bolsheviks, radical socialists and other varieties of "Reds" in the United States with the purpose of undermining and destroying the government? Are you fully awake to the danger, or do you believe there is no danger to America in the work of these world revolutionists?

IN THE opinion of the American officials and many other citizens who are well informed, the people of this country are not devoting sufficient thought to the doings of the "Reds" in the United States under the instructions of the third internationale whose headquarters are in Moscow. If the information supplied by secret government agents and used by the prosecution in the trial of William Z. Foster and others for violation of the Michigan anti-syndicalism law is to be relied upon, the Russian Communist organization is planning a great anti-American drive for the immediate future. A call has been sent out for a Communist convention in May to consider the organization details of a legal political party under which the illegal activities of the Communists may be sheltered. The call, which is signed by John Richards, says in part:

"Under good and bad leadership it (the Communist party) remains our party. Within our party we are bound together by common aims, with common hopes and aspirations. Our party is a world party under the guidance and discipline of the Communist internationale.

"The executive committee of the Communist internationale has made a decision for our section, the Communist party of America. (This decision is for an open political party and an underground true Communist party functioning as one). Not one true Communist will desert or lessen his activities. We shall unite to carry out the decision."

Minutes of the governing body of the third internationale, presented at the Foster trial, show that the Workers' party in America was created by decision of the internationale. The document, discussing the American situation, says: "Under existing circumstances it is impossible for the Communist party in the United States to be a legal party. Of course the party can develop open labor organizations, such as the Trade Union Educational league, of which Foster is secretary. It can even build legal revolutionary workers' organizations. It must also launch a legal party with the purpose that the communists can enter openly its ranks without permitting the police to know which of the members are Communists and which are not."

"But the underground organization, whose membership consists entirely of Communists, must not be liquidated. On the contrary it must be built firmer and stronger."

"It is the duty of the Communist party to defeat by any means that may be necessary the capitalist government attempts to confine the revolutionary party to the underground channels. In carrying out these instructions, the Communist party must guard itself against the tendency to repudiate or neglect the illegal work—" the tendency to become legal in fact." Last week the chief witness in the Michigan trial was Charles F. Ruthenburg, secretary of the Workers' party. Through his testimony was developed the main part of the defense—that the legal party is all there is left of the Communist movement in America.

INDIRECTLY connected with the "Red" campaign—but connected, nevertheless, in the minds of thinking persons—are innumerable circumstances, events and superficially harmless movements and propaganda. The leaders of the Republican party are realizing that the party is being endangered by the activities of the radicals who remain within its ranks and apparently would be glad to have them get out and into a third party of their own. The current number of the National Republican, the semi-official organ of the Republican national committee, contains an editorial in which this paragraph appears:

"Radical organizations having their headquarters in Washington have been advising their Socialist devotees to 'bore from within' the existing old parties, with a view to revolutionizing the principles of these parties while retaining their names. Republicanism has stood for about all the 'boring from within' consistent with the preservation of the party.

"The Whig party was compromised out of existence and that fate is possible to any party whose really loyal leaders and members will not battle the hostile invaders who have come through the wall under the camouflage of a Trojan horse. It is not too much to ask that men who claim to be Republicans should believe in the fundamental principles of Republicanism and not look upon the Republican party merely as a convenient means of getting their names on the public payroll."

PRESIDENT HARDING, while in St. Augustine, let it be known that he thinks the statement of Attorney General Daugherty, that Mr. Harding would be a candidate for renomination and would have no real opposition, might better have been withheld for the present. The President in his study of the situation is understood to have singly in his mind the two remaining years of his administration and to feel that proper solution of the problems they will present should be subject of more thought than what is to happen to him personally in 1924. Mr. Daugherty has made it plain since giving out his statement that it was not inspired by the President. Last Tuesday Secretary of War Weeks made substantially the same prediction as did Mr. Daugherty. In his opinion Mr. Harding will have no opposition in the party convention except possibly that of Senator La Follette, representing the radical elements of the party.

BY THE death of Senator Nicholson of Colorado and the imminent appointment of a Democrat to succeed him, the Republican majority in the senate will be so reduced that La Follette's radical bloc will hold the balance of power. Woodrow Wilson telegraphed to Governor Sweet urging the appointment to the senate of Huston Thompson, one of his warm supporters and now a member of the federal trade commission. William G. McAdoo has asked the governor to give the place to Morrison Shaffroth of Denver. Mr. Sweet says he will take his time in filling the vacancy. Mr. Wilson's action is taken by many as an indication that he is ready to resume the leadership of his party, if the party is willing.

RECENT increases in the retail price of sugar, with predictions that the commodity would soon sell for 20 cents a pound, have given great concern not only to householders generally but especially to politicians. The Department of Justice has been investigating the truth of charges made by the People's Legislative service that sugar manipulators have conspired to rob the people of millions of dollars; and in response to the assertions of certain Democrats and others that the rise is due to the increased duty of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law President Harding instructed the federal tariff commission to ascertain the facts, promising to reduce the tariff if it were found excessive, as he is authorized to do. It is understood the commission has decided the advances in price have nothing to do with the increased tariff and will recommend no reduction of the duty.

All opposition parties in the house of commons made a massed attack last week on the British government's policy of inaction in connection with the Ruhr situation, and the debate brought out a statement indicating that intervention by Great Britain may come in the near future. Chancellor Baldwin, speaking for Prime Minister Bonar Law, said: "The government could have done nothing more than it has done. Premature interference by a third party in any dispute inevitably leads to disaster, but I believe the moment may come when our services to our allies and to Germany may be of immense value. The moment we believe that an intervention suggestion or anything else in the way of a step towards settlement may prove successful, we will act."

Rosenberg, German foreign minister, says Germany is ready to negotiate with France without waiting for the French to get out of the Ruhr, but he thinks it will be months before any arrangement is placed under discussion. Premier Poincare says he hopes Germany will yield before the end of May, but when questioned sharply by the opposition in the chamber he declared France would engage in no conversations with Germany, direct or indirect. "It is odious to attribute to France designs of annexation," he asserted, while the radicals laughed. "We went into the Ruhr to get reparations and for no other reason. We will leave the Ruhr when Germany pays and not before."

Socialists of England, France, Italy, Belgium and Germany, in conference in Berlin, devised a reparations program to be submitted to the convention of allied Socialists in Paris. Their plan embraces these main projects: First, that the reparations total be based on the reconstruction costs of northern France and Belgium, that the sum must be fixed by a special commission, and that it must not include pensions and similar charges. Second, that some settlement of the interallied debts, including money owed to the United States, be reached in connection with the reparations problem. Third, that England and Italy and, if possible, the United States, join in guaranteeing France's security against German aggression.

SOVHET Russia last week was on the verge of committing an act that would have outraged the feelings of the civilized world. Archbishop Zepflak and Mr. Butchkevich of the Roman Catholic church were tried before the Supreme court in Moscow for counter-revolutionary activities and were found guilty and sentenced to speedy death. Protests were received from Poland, the United States State department and the pope, and Russia's amnesty department committee granted a temporary stay of sentence and referred the appeals for clemency to the central executive committee. It is predicted the Bolsheviks will be satisfied with the deportation of the churchmen.

TWO of the world's greatest packing concerns, the Armour and Morris companies, were consolidated last week after months of negotiation. A new holding corporation was formed with a capital of $550,000,000. Morris & Co. was purchased by the North American Provision company, a subsidiary of Armour & Co. of Delaware, in turn a subsidiary of Armour & Co. of Illinois, for approximately $27,450,000, payments to be made in cash and stock. With the liquidation of Morris & Co., Armour & Co. will have total assets of approximately $530,000,000, according to available balance sheets of the two concerns. In 1921 the aggregate sales of the two companies were approximately $880,000,000.

SARAH BERNHARDT'S astonishing flight for life came to an end last Tuesday, and France, and with her all the world, mourned the passing of the greatest actress of the age. While messages of condolence by the thousands poured in from every land, the body of the Divine Sarah lay in the rosewood coffin she had made for herself many years ago, and on Thursday, after a most imposing funeral, she was laid to rest in Pere La Chaise.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(C. 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

Let's find the sunny side of men, or be believers in it. A light there is for every soul, that takes the pains to win it.

WHAT SHALL WE HAVE FOR DINNER.

A simple plum pudding which is nice to have on hand is the following:

Plum Pudding.—Take one quart of milk, nine milk crackers, one-half cupful each of molasses and sugar, one cupful of raisins, soak over night and in the morning add such spices as desired and steam four hours. Warm up as needed and serve with any pudding sauce.

Tapioca Pudding.—Take one tablespoonful of tapioca, the minute variety; one tablespoonful of corn meal, salt to taste, and one pint of milk mixed with one-half cupful of molasses. Bake and stir while cooking. Flavor with nutmeg or cinnamon.

Water Cress and Grapefruit Salad.—Cut the stalks from a bunch of cress, carefully pick over to remove all discolored leaves and cover with cold water in which is dissolved a little salt.

Pare and remove the pulp from grapefruit, cut into small, thin slices. Put into a salad bowl with three tablespoonfuls of olive oil, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, a little paprika and salt to taste. Mix gently, not to crush the fruit. At serving time put the cress into a towel and swing vigorously to remove every drop of water, mix with the fruit and serve at once.

Tamales.—Boil a fowl until tender, salt and season with onion or garlic while boiling. Remove the meat from the bones and chop fine, add a bit of garlic and a generous quantity of cayenne pepper. Make a thick paste of corn meal, salt and boiling water. Form the meal into rolls the size of a finger and incase each in the corn meal paste. Wrap each tamale in the inner husk of corn, tie with a strip of corn husk and drop the tamales into the chicken stock to cook. Add two or three Mexican peppers and cook fifteen minutes.

A hot soup on a cool night, a dish of scrambled eggs, or a rabbit prepared with tomato makes a good hot dish.

Each day a little later now
Lingers the western sun,
Far out of sight the miracles
Of April are begun.
—Arthur Ketchum.

TASTY GOOD THINGS

There is no dessert or salad so well liked as that prepared from grapefruit.

This may be served either as a salad or dessert.

Grapefruit Salad.—Cut grapefruit in halves, take out the pulp and mix with chopped pineapple pulp and maraschino cherries with sugar and the maraschino sirup to taste. Garnish with the cherries after filling the shells with the fruit.

Hominy Baked With Cheese.—Put alternate layers of cold boiled hominy and grated cheese in a baking dish, add enough milk to moisten, cover with buttered bread crumbs and bake until well-heated and the crumbs are well-browned.

Chicken Salad.—Mix one pint of diced chicken and one cupful of celery, a little chopped cabbage from the tender white center; mix with highly-seasoned mayonnaise and serve on bread lettuce.

Tartar Sandwiches.—Chop three sardines, add a cupful of hopped ham ground, three small cucumber pickles, a little chow-chow with a teaspoonful of catsup and a quarter of a teaspoonful of mustard; add a dash of lemon juice and mix well. Spread on buttered bread.

Walnut and Cress Salad.—Lay the kernels of thirty English walnuts on a layer of sliced oranges. Squeeze lemon juice over them and let them stand for 24 hours. Serve on a bed of fresh crisp water cress with a rich French dressing poured over it.

Peas and Peanut Salad.—Stew a cupful of fine canned peas in their own liquor until it is absorbed. Cool, add a half-cupful each of celery and chopped peanuts, six stoned and chopped olives and a little grated onion. Serve with a rich mayonnaise or a highly-seasoned hopped dressing. Serve on lettuce.

Bird's Nest Salad.—Color cream cheese with a little green fruit coloring, add cream to make it soft enough to mold, then roll in the size of small eggs. Shred lettuce and form it into nests, arranging three or four of the cheese eggs in each. Serve with any desired dressing.

Mutton in Green Grape Sauce.—Brown two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour, add one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and one cupful of gravy. Blend well then add one-third cupful of green grape jelly. When melted lay in six slices of cooked mutton and when the meat is hot, add five tablespoonfuls of unsweetened grape juice. Serve hot.

Economy. Let us learn the meaning of economy. Economy is a high human office—a sacrament when its aim is grand, when it is the prudence of simple tastes, when it is practiced for freedom, or love, or devotion.—Emerson.

Worse Still. "Your husband has been ill?" asked the vicar who was paying his monthly call.
"Yes," replied the worried-looking woman. "He has been feeling very bad. I do my best to please him, but nothing seems to satisfy him."
"Is his condition critical?"
"It's worse than critical," she answered, with a sigh; "it's abusive."—London Tit-Bits.

Tile-Making in Mexico. Long ago the Dominican fathers in Mexico established colored tile-making industry at Puebla, which has persisted through the years in spite of wars and revolutions.

State's Attorneys' Association and has been secretary, treasurer and vice president of that organization.
He attracted much attention during his service as state's attorney by a number of addresses which he delivered at various state conventions of the bar on a number of topics connected with the work of the prosecuting attorneys and it is a matter of knowledge in legal circles that his influence in that body had a considerable bearing on a number of important changes which have been made for the betterment of the laws relating to the curbing of punishment of criminals.
Since 1921 he has been engaged in the practice of the law in this county and has made as good a practicing attorney as he did a public official.
He is married and has two lovely children and the Smiths are as popular socially as the head of the household was in his service of the public.
With his new connection his experience at the bar will be broadened and the new arrangement is bound to make him even more successful in the future than he was in the past.

CHAPTER XIII —13— The Fate of a Prisoner.

The Seminole headed straight out into the lake. No sound of movement or speech reached West's ears from the cabin, and he settled down into moody forgetfulness, still staring dully out through the open port. What was to be, would be, but there was nothing for him to do but wait for those who held him prisoner, to act. He was still seated there, listless, incapable even of further thought, when the door was suddenly unlocked. He had barely time to arise to his feet, when the man with the red mustache stepped within, facing him, as he pushed tightly shut the door behind. The fellow's eyes saw the severed rope on the floor, and he smiled, kicking the strands aside contemptuously. "Smart enough for that, were you?" he asked. "Well, I would have taken them off myself, if I had thought about it. How did you manage? Oh, I see; rather a bright trick, old man."

The man's tone, and air of confidence was impressive; beyond doubt he felt that the cards were all in his hands. West drew in his breath sharply. "May I ask a question or two?" "Fire away; I'll answer as I please." "Who is the woman on board?" "Mary, you mean? Hobart's wife." "She came from the place on Wray street last night in an auto?" "Yes; I brought her along myself." "Alone?" "There were two of us, Mark and I—why, what are you driving at?" "Just putting some broken threads together. Then Natalie Coolidge is not on this yacht?" "I should say not. What would we be doing with her out here?" "Where is she, then?" "Oh, I begin to see what brought you aboard so easily, West. You thought we had the lady kidnaped, and was sailing off with her. Some stunt, that. What put the idea in your head?"

West hesitated a moment, but decided a truthful answer would do no harm. "I knew an automobile had driven out of the alley back of Mike's place; and that a woman was in it. When I got away a little later, I picked up a message—a note which had been dropped. It was written in a woman's hand but unsigned—"

"The little cat! She dropped it!" "It seems so. You forgot yourself that time. So she was with you, was she?" "I don't know what you mean. I told you who were with me. Go on; what did the note say?" "It was only a request for the police to search the Seminole at once." "Oh, that's the way the wind blows. But you preferred to tackle the job yourself. I am certainly obliged to you, West."

"You have no reason to be. I took that note to the police, and they are on the case. They are combing the city right now for Hobart, and if they get him, this bubble of yours is likely to be pricked."

"H—l, they won't get him. There isn't a fly-cop in Chicago who could either, for if you do, you are going to get hurt. There is a guard outside in the cabin, and we are not afraid to shoot out here on the lake. Nobody knows where you are, West; so, if you want to live, keep quiet—that's my advice."

He slipped out, closing and locking the door behind him. West, more thoroughly confused than ever over the situation in which he found himself, paced the brief length of the narrow stateroom, and then paused to stare moodily out of the port.

He had learned little of the slightest value; merely that Natalie had been of the party leaving in the automobile the night before. She, undoubtedly, had been the one who had dropped the note. Then, in spite of all they said about her, in spite of what she had told him, she was actually a prisoner, desperately begging for assistance. As to the other things Hogan had told him, the probability was they were mostly lies. West did not believe the girl had returned to "Fairlawn," the story did not sound natural. The longer he thought it all over, the more thoroughly was he convinced the girl and he were both prisoners on the same vessel. Yet what could he do? He sank down, with head in his hands, totally unmoved—it was his fate to attempt nothing; only to wait on fortune.

Mark brought in food, merely opening the door slightly, and sliding the tray in on the floor. No words were exchanged, nor was the tray removed until just at twilight, when the fellow appeared again on a similar mission. It became dark, but no light was furnished. Outside the clouds had thickened, and a heavy swell was tossing the vessel about rather roughly. Seemingly the engine was merely endeavoring to maintain head-way, with no port in immediate prospect; they were steering aimlessly into the promise of a stormy night. No sound reached him from the cabin, and finally, worn out mentally and physically, West flung himself on the lower bunk, and lay there motionless, staring up into the intense darkness.

Lying there motionless, yet wide awake, his senses alert, he could feel the labored efforts of the vessel, the slap of waves against the side, the rush of water astern. The Seminole rolled heavily, yet there was nothing at all alarming in her actions, and West felt no premonition of illness, or fear as to the sea-worthiness of the little craft. He endeavored to arouse himself, to keep awake, but finally fatigue conquered, and he sank into a deep sleep. He had no knowledge of how long this slumber lasted, or what suddenly awakened him, so startled at the moment that he sat up in the berth, staring into the blackness. Was it a dream, or a reality? Had some one spoken? He could neither see nor hear anything; the boat seemed to be motionless, not even throbbing now to the beat of the engine—the silence was uncanny. Something was wrong, must be wrong. Where were they—at anchor in some harbor or helplessly adrift on the lake? The yacht rocked gently, as though the swell of the sea no longer buffeted her; there was no sound of action on the deck above. Then he heard a voice again, outside, reaching him this time plainly through the open port.

"All set, Maps," it said sharply. "Come on down. You finished the job?"

"Ay, ay, sir," the answer gruff, but with a tinge of excitement in the tone. "She's fixed all right. Hold hard, now, mate."

West leaped to the port-hole, and, endeavoring to gain a glimpse without. If land was near it remained invisible, nor could he even be sure of the close proximity of a boat. There seemed to be a smudge there at the left, a black, lumping shadow, shapeless against the background of sea; yet he could not be sure. Even as he gazed at it doubtfully, the dim object disappeared, fading away like a mirage. Something told him that mysterious shadow was a boat, a boat filled with men, creeping away silently into the night, fleeing from the yacht, and vanishing into the darkness.

What could such action mean? Had every one gone, leaving the vessel totally abandoned, a wreck buffeted by the surges, doomed to go down, unseen, its final fate unknown? Unknown! The word rising to his brain was the answer. There was the crest of the plot. What could be easier, or safer, than this ending? Who would ever know the truth? Who could ever prove anything, even if they suspected? And who was there to suspect? It was a plot infernal.

But if Natalie Coolidge was also prisoner on board, what of her? Wasn't that the very thing most probable? Of course it was; how foolish he had been. These men, recklessly criminal, as they were, would never sacrifice the yacht, and risk their own lives, merely to put him out of the way. He was not important enough for that; he was but an incident. While this was—must be—a carefully arranged plan. The girl then must be the real victim—his own plight arose merely because he chanced to be there, and the villains dare not leave him alive to tell the story. The certainty of this acted like an electric shock. He must find the girl, and serve her. Surely she must welcome his coming to her assistance now. She would be alone, free to reveal the truth of all this strange mix-up of affairs; perhaps the old trust, the old confidence between them would be renewed. The hope instantly inspired action. His eager eyes searched the narrow confines of the stateroom for some possible weapon with which to assault the door. The stout stool alone seemed available. Swinging this over his shoulder, hampered by the narrowness of space, he struck again and again, with all his strength, until suddenly the lock gave, and the door burst open.

He stepped cautiously forward, with hands outstretched, and his groping fingers came in sudden contact with the cabin wall, which he followed, creeling to the left. In this manner he succeeded in finally locating the door opening out on to the deck, and veiled his way across to the right-hand stateroom door. It was locked, the key gone. He must break a way in; but first he must explain to her, so as to spare her the sudden fright of such an assault. He rapped sharply on the panel.

"Miss Coolidge; you are there, are you not?" "Yes; who is that?" almost a cry of delight in the voice. "You—you have a voice I know."

"I am Matthew West; but do not ask questions now. The yacht is going down, and I must break this door in to release you. Stand back while I smash the boards. You hear and understand?" "Yes—yes; I am safely away; have no fear."

A lantern's flickering light revealed the weapon he required—a heavy hatchet, and he snatched it up, and began to splinter the wood with well-directed blows. He worked madly, feverishly, swinging the sharp blade with all his strength and skill, gouging out great splinters of wood, and finally forcing the lock to yield. He sprang eagerly through the opening, the hatchet still in his grasp, and faced her.

An instant both paused, and then she cried out in sudden relief. "Oh, it is really you, Captain West. I know now. What has happened? How did you come to be here?" "Not now," he insisted. "Don't ask me now. Just come as quick as you can. There is no time for anything but action. Quick; let me take your hand."

She permitted him to draw her through the door on to the black, deserted deck. West, bracing himself to the sudden plunging, managed to reach the rail. He drew back, sick at heart at the sight of the waves lapping the side almost on a level with the sloping deck on which he stood. The sight brought him home as never before, the drear deadly peril in which they were. He would find some means of rescue; he must! He was back instantly, grasping her arm.

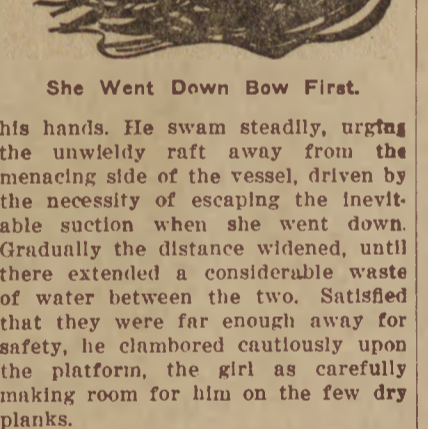

"Quick," he cried. "You knew this yacht; what small boats did she carry?" "Only the one; the other was so warped it had been taken ashore." "Was there no life-raft? There must surely be something of that kind." "Yes, there is; I remember now. It is forward there, near the engine-room hatch." The deck was already sloping to port in a dangerous degree, and West was compelled to cling to the rail, as they slowly made passage forward through the darkness. He located the life-raft at last, securely fastened to the side of the deck house, and, leaving the girl to hold herself upright as best she could, began to hack it loose. Working with feverish impatience, he realized suddenly that his companion had deserted the place where he had left her and was also tugging and slashing at the lashings of the raft. These finally yielded to their blind attack. Without the exchange of a word the two grasped the sides and shoved the thing hard down against the port rail.

"What do you suppose became of the man who deserted the yacht?" she asked, her voice natural and quiet. "Ashore, perhaps, by this time. They were certain they had done a good job, and eager to get away safely. Hogan never deemed it possible for us to get away alive. As it was, the escape was almost a miracle."

"A miracle?" softly. "Perhaps so, yet I know who accomplished it. I owe my life to you, Captain West," she paused doubtfully, and then went on impulsively. "Won't you explain to me now what it all means? How you came to be here?—and why those men sought in this way to kill me?" "You do not know?"

(TO BE CONTINUED.) A good-natured, bad-tempered man allowed to scold more than any other she went down bow first.

She went down bow first. He swam steadily, urging the unwieldy raft away from the menacing side of the vessel, driven by the necessity of escaping the inevitable suction when she went down. Gradually the distance widened, until there extended a considerable waste of water between the two. Satisfied that they were far enough away for safety, he clambored cautiously upon the platform, the girl as carefully making room for him on the few dry planks.

There was nothing to say, nothing to do; for the moment at least they were safe, and perhaps morning would bring rescue. Suddenly West straightened up, aroused by a new interest—surely that last wave went entirely over the yacht's rail; he could see the white gleam of spray as it broke; and yes, there was another! Then, almost without warning, the end came. She went down bow first, the stern lifting until West could discern the dark outlines of the screw, and then dropped like a stone, vanishing almost instantly.

"That is the last of the Seminole," West said, feeling the necessity of strengthening her. "But it is nothing to frighten you. We are safe enough here. But you must keep your nerve; we may be afloat for hours yet before we are picked up."

Mothers Advise Their Daughters to Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Keep Them in Health

A Mother's Advice Prevents Operation
Corona, N. Y.—"I had a terrible pain in my left side and had to go to bed every so often. Doctors had told me I must be operated on, but I do not believe in the knife and would rather suffer than go through it. My mother also did not believe in it and she made me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it had helped her. It has also helped me for I am better and able to do all my work. I recommend your medicine and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. BUSCH, Jr., 11 S. Railroad Avenue, Corona, N. Y.

A Sickly Child
Mahoningtown, Pa.—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would drop into a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day!'" I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now she is a healthy, happy, hearty, strong girl and weighs 120 pounds. She has no difficulty in doing her 'gym' work, and she works at home every night and morning, too. I am a mother who can certainly praise your medicine, and if it will be of any benefit you may use this letter as a reference."—Mrs. GEORGE E. WHITACRE, 621 W. Madison Ave., Mahoningtown, Pa.

Every girl wants to be healthy and strong, and every mother wants her daughter to do well in school and to enjoy herself at all times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for young girls just entering womanhood. Mothers may depend upon it. Remember it is prepared from roots and herbs, contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they will work in a healthy and normal manner. For nearly fifty years it has been used by women of all ages, and these women know its great value. Let it help your daughter and yourself.

English "Upper Classes" Proved Not to Have Been Dependent on Commercial Product.
Relics of "ye olden days" show that beer was brewed on their own estates by the nobility in very ancient days. On the site at present occupied by Hay Hill once stood a farmhouse belonging to the Berkley estate, which comprised the land upon which Devonshire house stands. Recent clearing away of debris in the fine old gardens has brought to light the old vaults belonging to the original farmhouse, which dated back from the late Tudor period. When Berkley street was cut through in 1600 the old farmhouse was pulled down, but only to the street level, so that the original vaults have been found preserved below the street. The brewing house has been cleared of debris. Brickwork believed to go back beyond 1600 has been found, and it is believed that the two masonry towers bearing the lettering "D.D." now on view in the vaults of Devonshire house, were brought from the original brewery.—London Mail.

What to Eat and Why A Natural Supply of Vitamin

The word "Vitamin" is new, but the thing itself is as old as the human race. It is the energizing, vitalizing, growth-producing element in the right food. Its absence is a serious fault of the wrong food. When the food is right, there is no need to go to the drug store for Vitamin.

Grape-Nuts, the famous ready-to-eat cereal, supplies the natural Vitamin from the wheat, and a further supply is included in the cream or milk with which Grape-Nuts is eaten. Grape-Nuts is delightfully crisp and appetizing, with a flavor which happily suggests the wholesome, health-building goodness which the food contains. Phosphorus and iron, as well as Vitamin, with a

Woes of Foreign Travel.

Jesse Lasky, the movie magnate, was talking about the woes of post-war foreign travel.

"In Paris the other day," he said, "I met an American in the bar of one of the hotels de luxe.

"It is costing me here in this hotel," the American said, as he forked out about $2 for a glass of beer—well, it is costing me here just 8,000 francs a week.

"But your quarters," said I. "Very spacious, eh?"

"Quarters? he grunted. 'You mean eightths.'"

Find What CANADA has to offer YOU!

If your dream of success seems like a hopeless ambition, if you are discouraged trying to get ahead on high priced land, if your present location fails to give you opportunity, there is a new deal for you, a new chance in the fertile, virgin farms of Western Canada, where wheat produces 20 to 40 bushels to the acre, where in the 1922 crop was biggest in history, where oats, barley and hay and fodder crops are the basis of a great dairy industry, and a man's work brings him success and prosperity.

Low Priced Land—the Last Great West

In Western Canada you still can buy virgin prairie land at $15 to $20 per acre, on long terms if desired, near to town, railroads, etc.—land such as has for many years produced the world's prize winning wheat, oats, barley, flax, rye, alfalfa. Canada has no "war time" land boom; prices are not inflated—you get in on the ground floor.

Taxes Favor the Farmer as Values Increase

The tax laws of Western Canada encourage the producing farmer. The tax on land is reduced when it is brought under cultivation—while on your buildings, machinery, improvements, personal property, automobile, there is no tax at all. A single crop is often worth more, acre for acre, than the cost of the land.

Rent Now—Buy Later Pay Out of Profits

Canada welcomes the industrious settler. If your capital is small, or you cannot sell your present holdings to advantage, rent a fertile Canadian farm and "try it out" for a season or two. Make a good living, increase your capital, and buy later. Farms may be rented from successful settlers on easy terms; in some cases with option of purchase.

Buy on Exceptional Terms—32 Years to Pay

For the benefit of those wishing to buy land a national non-profit clearing organization—the Canada Colonization Association—has been established with head office at Winnipeg, and United States office at St. Paul. This Association offers selected land convenient to railroads—much of it at $15 to $20 per acre—on very small cash payment; no further payment until third year, balance extended over thirty years. The purchaser may pay up and obtain title at any time if desired. Interest six percent per annum on deferred payments.

FEAR, SUSPICION CURSE OF MAN

Lord Cecil, noted Briton, Pleads Persuasion as World Redeemer.

FIRST SPEECH IN AMERICA

In Address Before Foreign Policy Association of New York He Says Minds of Nation Must Be Turned From Force.

New York, April 3.—Fear and suspicion, twin demons which have possessed the world, and which can be exorcised only by some form of an association of nations, are the forces that stand between France and Germany in the settlement of the reparations question, as they stand in the way of settlement of every other international question, Lord Robert Cecil, noted British exponent of the league of nations, declared in an address before the Foreign Policy association.

Addressing his first American audience, Lord Robert declared it was essential for world safety to "turn the minds of nations from force as the only remedy."

"Take the question of reparations," he said. "What is it that makes that question so intractable? It is that though the French are anxious for the Germans to pay, they are also anxious left if they are allowed to get on their feet sufficiently to pay they will become again a danger to the security of France."

"Do not think I am attacking the French on that account. No one who has read the history of these countries even cursorily will say the fears of France are unreasonable—or, for the matter of that, the fears of Germany either."

"There is a long history behind the reparations question of the present day. And if we are to bring some remedy to this state of things, the first thing we have to do is to allay international fear and suspicion. We have to get a new spirit among the nations of the world. We have got to turn their minds from force as the only remedy. We have got to teach them that persuasion, public opinion, are far greater potency than mere physical compulsion."

Declares Tanlac Overcame Stomach Trouble, Restoring Health, Strength and Weight.

"I am now strong and happy and go about my housework singing, so I think it is only natural that I should praise Tanlac, since that is what has given me such splendid health," declared Mrs. J. Miller, 119 Johnston Ave., Kearney, N. J.

"For a year before I started taking Tanlac I was simply in wretched health from stomach trouble and a run-down condition. My appetite left me, I was eating scarcely enough to keep going, and was often so weak I could hardly do any housework. My food often disagreed with me, and I would have suffocating spells and heart palpitation that nearly drove me frantic.

"My mother had been helped wonderfully by the Tanlac treatment, and when she advised me to take it I started right in. It has built me up five pounds, my digestion is perfect, my appetite splendid, and I am always talking Tanlac now. It is simply grand."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

The young people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rankin Thursday evening to help Charles Zadnichek celebrate his birthday. Games were played and ice-cream and cake were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Comfort of Palatine called on Mr. and Mrs. Otto Swanson and Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Burton Sunday. Mrs. Comfort was formerly Miss Christie McLane, daughter of Dr. McLane a former doctor in this village.

At the township election Tuesday the offices were given to the following: Supervisor, L. H. Branch; school trustee, Ira Bickler; park commissioner for full term, W. H. Bell; park commissioner to fill vacancy, A. M. Simmons.

E. G. Bell of Elgin spent one day here last week with his father, W. H. Bell. He announced his marriage to Ella Smith of Elgin, which took place February 6. She is employed in the Watch factory in Elgin in which city they will make their home.

Miss Dorothy Deverill was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith Monday evening in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent in playing bunco and dancing. High scores were won by Charles Zadnichek and Wilda Witter. Low scores by Paul Sherman and Marian Witter. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and wafers were served.

REG. LETTER INDEMNITY RAISED

May Now Insure Registered Mail up To $100 for 20 Cents

Heretofore the maximum amount that the postoffice department has paid for the loss, rifling or damage to first class registered mail has been $50 and the registry fee has been 10 cents in all cases.

Beginning April 1, the amount of indemnity will be raised to $100 and the fee will be 10cents up to $50 and 20 cents for sums over that amount up to the maximum of $100.

The March issue of the Postal Guide says: "Incorrectly addressed letters are the bane of the postal service."

In the same issue is shown a picture of a great stack of letters with this inscription "Above is shown one week's receipts of dead letters at the Washington branch of the dead letter office. There are over 300,000 letters in this stack." Think what that means—over 300,000 letters in a week so badly addressed that none of them can be delivered. Do you direct your letters plainly and properly?—Earlville Leader.

GENOA ELKS HOST

Banquet 300 At Elk Club in Sycamore Monday Night—Good Entertainment

Genoa Elks entertained their brothers royally at the big dinner given in the banquet hall of the Sycamore Elk club Monday night at 6:30 to over 300 members of the lodge.

This dinner was supposed to have been given two weeks ago, but as the weather was anything but agreeable it was postponed until last Monday night. Not only did the Genoa men serve a splendid dinner, but the entertainment afterwards was in every way a success, several numbers being rendered by Sycamore people of local prominence.

Those from Genoa who are members of the club are: Frank Rudolph, Lawrence Duval, Charles E. Saul, Merle Evans, Francis Furr, William J. Prain, Charles Welter, Dan Emerson, Frank Elklor, O. M. Leich, Charles L. Whipple, Albert Rudolph, A. D. Hadsall, Dr. Danforth, Everett Smith, Everett Naker, Elmer Prain, John Canavan, Bryce Smith, John Floto, Ed Rudolph, F. O. Swan, F. Hasler, Radley White, Harry Whipple, Sheriff Crawford, Lee Wyld, Amos Story and Frank Blundy.

To Clean Aluminum.
The best way to clean aluminum is to squeeze the juice of a fresh lemon over a cloth and apply this to brighten the metal. When the aluminum is very much soiled a paste of whiting and water will help to clean it.

Man's Duty to His Fellows.
A man without visible means of support comes under suspicion nowadays more quickly than he formerly did. The reason is that men who do not contribute to production have no right to take from it.—1717.
