CLEANLINESS IN OLD RUSSIA

Passage in Novel Would Lead One to infer it Was Not Considered Important.

The quotation in the Companion from a publication of 1640 urging that "every day one should take pains to wash one's hands, and one should also wash one's face almost as often," reminds a contributor of a passage in Tolstoy's "War and Peace." The story, which follows the fortunes of Count Rostov, pictures the way in which the ladies of his family prepared in 1809 for a ball given "by a grandee of Catherine's time."

"It was," writes Tolstoy, "the first great ball that Natasha had ever attended. She had got up at eight o'clock that morning and had been all day long in a state of the wildest excitement and bustle. All her energies from earliest morning had been expended in the effort to have herself. Sonya and her mamma dressed to perfection. Sonya and the countess trusted themselves entirely to her hands. The countess was to wear a dark red velvet gown; the two girls white crepe gowns with pink silk overskirts and roses in their corsages; their hair was to be arranged a la

"FREAK" EDITIONS OF BIBLE

On Account of Their Peculiar Errors Some of Them Are Worth Considerable Money.

Several examples of "freak" editions of the Bible recently came under the auctioneer's hammer in London.

One of the most remarkable is known as the "Big Bible." In this, the context of the Ninety-first Psalm runs: Thou shalt not be afrayed for eny bugges by night"—"bugges," in medleval times, meaning nightmares and Another curious example in the colection is the "Treacle Bible," in which the passage, Jeremiah 8:22, "There is no more triacle at Gylead." The "Murderers' Bible" takes its title from an error in the translation of Jude, verse 8, which in the Authorized Version runs: "These are murmurers, complainers:" while a curious misprint in the Beatitudes: "Blessed are the place-makers," gave ment of the laws and that my experi-ences in life fit me for the office. I re-as the "Place-makers" edition.

Altogether there are no fewer than ten "freak" editions of the great book, William F. Hemenway some of them are of considerable value.

If you are right-handed, you will slik stockings and white slippers with almost probably find that you are right-eyed.

This is due to the fact that of the two halves of your brain one is slightly more developed than the other. And the organs and limbs on that side of your body which is controlled by the more developed half are able to carry out your wishes more easily and quickly than those of the other side.

This Life, and Beyond.

For what is life that we should make such ado about it, and hug it so closely and look to it to fill our hearts? What is all earthly life, with all its bad and good luck, its riches and its poverty, but a vapor that passes away-noise and smoke overclouding the enduring light of heaven? A man may be very happy and blest in this life, yet he may feel that, however pleasant it is, at root it is no reality, but only a shadow of realities which are eternal and infinite in the bosom of God-a piecemeal pattern of the light kingdom, the city not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.-Charles Kingsley.

"If you die," interrupted his lawyer; "say when you die; there is no "if" about dying."

There is food for thought in this incident. We are all prone to look at the matter as did this wealthy man. We think of the future with the conditional stipulation-"if I die," and frame everything around that "If." As a matter of fact, there is nothing more certain than death. It is when

GIRL FOUND CARD

Wedding Followed a Romance of the War.

When Peter Fardull, a young Ohioan, threw a card, bearing his name and address, out of a car at Dickerson as he was traveling from Washington to his home after his discharge from the army, two years ago, he sealed his matrimonial fate, for it resulted in his marriage to Miss Anna Virginia Mullican, seventeen years of Farduli several days ago visited Dickerson. He and the young woman went to Rockville and were married by Rev. Nolan B. Harmon, Jr., pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

What About Churches and Business Men of Genoa?

In order to show our good will toward the church and the GO TO CHURCH Movement, which is being started now, we business men of Genoa, Illinois, gladly endorse the following:-

- 1. The church is God's institution for uplifting mankind spiritually and morally.
- 2. All good influence whatever can, in some way, be traced back to God's revelation in and through his spirited kingdom, the CHURCH.
- 3. Therefore, every sane and thinking man ought to be an active member of and for the Church.
- 4. To prove to God, Fellowman, and ourselves, our interest in the highest issues of life, we ought to attend Church.

Illinois Central System Ready for the Tasks of 1922

The beginning of a new year is a time when we pause to review what has transpired in the year just ended, seeking to gain from our reflection something which will be of value in deciding our future course.

The eventful year through which we have just passed has been particularly marked strictive economic demands upon the railroads. We entered the year full of hope that the business depression which had set in would soon spend its force and that business would again go along normally, but that hope failed to materialize. As a result of the falling off in business, the railroads as a whole during the first nine months of the year earned a net return equivalent to approximately 2.9 per cent upon their valuation-a return barely sufficient to pay interest on outstanding bonds, with no allowance for compensation to the owners. The improvement in net earnings during the latter part of the year has been slow, and in many instances it has been brought about only at the sacrifice of badly-needed maintenance expenditures. A demand for reduced railway rates, in the face of the failure of the railroads, as a whole, to earn a net return sufficient to their needs, also was restrictive in the uncertainty it created.

In spite of these influences, however, the railroads have given adequate service at all times. We should not be discouraged by the present situation, unfavorable as some

We should like to give you in this review a statement of how the Illinois Central System has accounted for itself during 1921, but at this time we have complete information covering only the ten months to November 1.

During the first ten months of the year, the Illinois Central System performed a freight service equivalent to carrying 10,286,296,822 tons of freight one mile, as compared with 13,200,197,416 net ton miles in the first ten months of 1920. During the first ten months of 1921, we performed a passenger service equivalent to carrying 642,365,624 passengers one mile, as compared with 859,526,161 passenger miles in the first ten months of 1920. This decrease in business is reflected in the gross earnings. For the first ten months of 1921 we had a gross income of $135,926,186, which was $6,615,074 less than the gross income of the corresponding period of 1920.

Through drastic reductions in our expenditures, we ended the first ten months of 1921 with a net income of $7,772,154. Approximately $6,375,600 was required to pay dividends on stock for the ten months' period, leaving a balance of $1,396,554 for improvements in our properties. However, during the ten months of this year covered in this report we spent a total of $16,284,809 for new equipment, over and above amounts spent in the repair and maintenance of equipment, and a total of $6,614,782 for permanent improvements to roadway, over and above expenditures for maintenance. This total new investment of $22,899,591 exceeded the amount we had left over after paying expenses and a return on investment by $21,503,047, which had to be borrowed.

We entered the year with 57,081 employes, but the drastic reductions in force made necessary by the great decline in business cut the number to 48,649 in February. Since that time there has been a steady gain in the number of employes. When it became known that a reduced scale of wages would become effective July I through the ruling of the Railroad Labor Board, we immediately laid plans for large increases in our forces, with the result that by October we had a total of 60,388 employes in all de-

In spite of the depression, the Illinois Central has made a creditable showing. One reason for this has been that our employes have striven at all times to perform their service to the public in that efficient and courteous manner which marks our organization. To them belongs much of the credit for what we have accomplished.

We take the position that we are but the trustees of a great investment which has been made in this agency of transportation, and that we are responsible to the public for our stewardship. We call the public's attention to the events of the year, and give our pledge that we shall strive to our utmost to make of 1922 a year of still greater successes. To that end we seek your confidence and good will.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

MIDSUMMER JAMS AND JELLIES.

Some of these fruits will be out of season but with canned juices one may make delicious jellies:

Apple and Raspberry Jelly. Cut up apples after washing them and removing the blossom end. Do not pare or core. Just cover with water and bring to a boil, cook until the apples are very tender and can be mashed easily. Drain through a jelly bag. To the apple juice add any amount of raspberry juice as a flavor. Measure the juice and boil hard for twenty minutes, skimming often. Allow three-fourths of the measure of sugar to the juice. Heat the sugar and add to the boiled juice, cook five minutes or until it jells from the spoon. A shaving of orange peel may be added if desired.

Mint Jelly.

Prepare apples as above and let drip over night. Measure the juice and add a bunch of mint or a rose geranium leaf, boil hard, skimming frequently, for twenty minutes; add the sugar, using three-fourths measure of sugar and boil five minutes." Pour into glasses and seal with paraffin when cold.

Blackberry Jam.

Put one quart of blackberries in a pan with one-fourth of a cupful of water, boil until the berries are soft then add sugar to taste, a grating of orange peel or a bit of stick cinnamon. Cook until well broken, thicken with a tablespoonful of cornstarch mixed with cold water, cook until smooth. This jam will keep but is nice for immediate use. Serve with breakfast cereal and cream.

Rhubarb Conserve. Combine three cupfuls of chopped rhubarb with one large pineapple chopped, the juice and rind of one lemon and one orange and five cup fuls of sugar. Simmer gently for nearly an hour, then add one pound of blanched and shredded almonds and finish cooking the hour. Place in glasses and seal with paraffin when

Grape Nuggets. Take wild grapes green and crisp, halve and seed them. Add threefourths the weight of sugar and boil thirty-five minutes. The product will jelly but the haives of the grapes will be apparent. Seal with paraffin,

ACTION OF WATER ON FIRE

Just What Takes Place When the Liquid Is Employed for Quenching Flames.

Practically, water thrown on a fire drowns out the blaze. Scientifically, however, the water absorbs so much of the heat in the fire that the temperature of the fire is lowered so that the oxygen will not combine with the carbon in the burning material and the fire goes out.

It is péculiar that water, which is made of oxygen and hydrogen, will put out a fire which requires hydrogen and oxygen before it will burn. This is true, however, as the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water already have been burned or heated to a high temperature when they combined as water, and so, as no substance or gas that has been 'urned once can be

"By Hook or by Crook."

"By hook or by crook," an expres sion denoting that a person is determined to accomplish a certain thing, no matter how, was first used in Ireland in 1172. At that time, Strongbow, the great warrior, invaded Ireland and swore he would take it "by hook or crook," meaning two towns of great importance in those days near the port of Waterford.

Some authorities, however, claim that Strongbow was using a punning allusion. Ancient forest rights in England and Ireland allowed the poor to fuel. The people were not permitted to use an ax or a saw but were supposed to pick up the loose branches scattered about. The customary method of removal was to use hooked poles or "crooks" with which the dead branches could be pulled down and hauled home In the old English records this privilege of the poor is called "a right with hook and crook to lop, crop and carry away fuel."

"Running the Gauntlet."

The custom of punishing a culprit Mr. Rosenfeld and daughter, Mar- by forcing him to "run the gauntlet" Thirty Years' war" (1618-48) and to have been adopted by European armies as a mode of punishment. The culprit was stripped to the waist and then bbliged to run repeatedly between two lines of soldiers facing one another, each of whom struck at him with a short stick or switch. The word "gantlet," as here used, has not the meaning usually given it-that of an iron glove-but is simply a corruption of gantlope or gatlope, and is derived from the Swedish gatlop, meaning "running down a lane." Some etymolo gists, however, derive the word from the German gassenlaufen, which means 'running the lane," and others from the Dutch gangloopen, having the same meaning.

What Produces Freckles.

Old Sol is the real freckle dispenser His rays, on their way to earth, fall alike on the just and the unjust and so the just and the unjust have freckles; that is, those who have skins built for freckles-generally persons of fair complexion and hair. Some people never have freckles because their skin is not the same as that of the freckled ones.

The action of the sun on the skin of persons of light complexion causes a yellowish or brownish substance to exude from the second layer of skin and forms freckles. Some people even have permanent freckles, but in most people the freckles disappear when the summer is ended and they are bundled up in warm clothing when out of doors-Philadelphia Ledger.

Reindeer's Skin Valuable.

Not only is the reindeer prized highly for its flesh, but the skins are valuable for glove-making. Tanned with the hair on, they are very light, and robes made from the soft tanned skins with the hair on are for weight probably by far the warmest covering These might become extremely useful as automobile robes for winter in colder parts of the country.

GUN RUNNING.

Synopsis. — Captain Phineas P. Scraggs has grown up around the docks of San Francisco, and from mess boy on a river steamer, risen to the ownership of the steamer Maggie. Since each annual inspection promised to be the last of the old weatherpeaten vessel, Scraggs naturally has some difficulty in securing a crew. When scraggs naturally has some dim-culty in securing a crew. When the story opens, Adelbert P. Gib-ney, likable, but erratic, a man whom nobody but Scraggs would hire, is the skipper, Neils Halvor-sen, a solemn Swede, constitutes the forecastle hands, and Bart Mc-Cluffey a westral of the Gibney sen, a solemn Swede, constitutes the forecastle hands, and Bart McGuffey, a wastrel of the Gibney type, reigns in the engine room. With this motiey crew and his ancient vessel, Captain Scraggs is engaged in freighting garden truck from Halfmoon bay to San Francisco. The inevitable happens; the Maggie goes ashore in a fog. A passing vessel halling the wreck, Mr. Gibney gets word to a towing company in San Francisco that the ship ashore is the Yankee Prince, with promise of a rich salvage. Two tugs succeed in pulling the Maggie into deep water, and she slips her tow lines and gets away in the fog. Furious at the deception practiced on them, Captains Hicks and Flaherty, commanding the two tugboats, ascertain the identity of the "Yankee Prince" and, fearing ridicule should the facts become known along the water front, determine on personal vengeance. Their hastile visit to the Maggie results in Captain Scraggs promising to get a new boiler and make needed repairs to the steamer. Scraggs refuses to fuifill his promises and Gibney and McGuffey "strike." With marvelous luck, Scraggs ships a fresh crew. At the end of a few days ous luck, Scraggs ships a fresh crew. At the end of a few days of wild conviviality Gibney and McGuffey are stranded and seek McGuffey are stranded and seek their old positions on the Maggie. They are hostilely received, but remain. On their way to San Francisco they sight a derelict and Gibney and McGuffey swim to it. The derelict proves to be the Chesapeake, richly laden, its entire crew stricken with scurvy. Scraggs attempts to tow her in, but the Maggie is unequal to the task and Gibney and McGuffey, alone, sail the ship to San Francisco, their salvage money amounting to $1,000 apiece. His crew having deserted him, Captain Scraggs induces them to return. Poor McGuffey was stunned when he heard the news that night from Scab Johnny. When he retailed the information to Scraggs next morning, Scraggs was equally perturbed. He guessed that McGuffey and Gibney had quarreled and he had the poor judgment to ask McGuffey the cause of the row. "Those Who Dance Must Pay The Fiddler"

There's a settlement in profit or loss, for nearly every indulgence.

Sometimes the pay day is long deferred, and in that case the settlement may bear compound

Often a payment in ill health is required for the dance had with tea or coffee during earlier years. Sometimes the collection comes in sleeplessness, sometimes in headaches, sometimes in high blood pressure, or in nervous indigestionsometimes in all these penalties.

Nerves won't always stand the whipping of tea and coffee's drug, caffeine.

If you've been dancing to tea or coffee's fiddling, why keep on till payment time comes? If you're beginning to pay, now, why not cancel the There's an easy and pleasant way to avoid tea and coffee's penalties, as thousands have found who have changed to Postum. It is a delight with any meal-rich, comforting and satisfying -and it never harms. Even the little children can have a breakfast cup of Postum, with no fear for what may happen to sensitive nerves.

Instead of paying penalties for your mealtime drink, let it pay benefits to you, by giving natural health a full chance—and begin the new arrangement today. Any grocer will sell you, cr any good restaurant will serve you Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water.

Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

THE REO WINS

Taking prizes in a beauty contest is a new and rather unique role played by a REO Sedan and Touring Car. But this is what happened at the International Wheat Show in Wichita Kansas the other day, and a description of the beauty parade has just been received by Rykert & Son, 138 S. California St., Sycamore, Ill., De-Kealb County Reo distributors.

The REO Touring Car was entered in the $1000 to $2,000 class, and the Sedan was entered in the $2000 to $3,000 class. The points upon which the judges based their decicsion were enthusiasts. During the exhibit every appearance, smoothness of operation, car entered in the beauty contest was and ease of control. The REO Sedan put through its paces the same as a took first place and the NEW REO horse, and both the REO Sedan and rying is done largely by women por-LIGHT SEVEN outranked everything the REO LIGHT SEVEN surpassed ters.
