CARLOADS OF FRUIT

COSTLY WRECK AT ALMORA SATURDAY NIGHT

Nineteen Cars Demolished and Fruit Scattered About—Copper Bars and Meat—No One Hurt

Almora, the first station west of Elgin on the C. M. & St. P. R. R., was the scene of a bad wreck Saturday evening, fruit, meat and bars of copper being piled up in a heap.

The mix-up was caused by the wrecking of an east bound freight train, which is said to have been running about forty miles an hour. The train was a double-header, comprising about forty cars. The draw-bar on the first car is said to have given away, and upon falling caught in the frog of the switch, just a few rods west of Almora. The two engines and first car kept the track, but the next nineteen cars were stacked up in a manner which is difficult to describe. Several were left crosswise of the double tracks, and others piled on top of one another. Some went down the embankment, and others hung partially over the same. One car, the train crew state, was thrown free from the others, about fifty feet in the air, and turned completely over twice, landing beside the company's fence on the south side of the right of way.

Fourteen of the wrecked cars were loaded with California fruit, such as grapes, apples, pears and lemons. These were scattered about promiscuously, and it gave the train men work keeping the sight-seers from breaking open boxes and cases which were unharmed, but which lay about on the embankments. Much of the fruit which had been broken open was devoured by those visiting the scene. Many could be seen walking along the tracks carrying a five-pound box of grapes.

Three cars were filled with meat. Hams were seen lying in the dirt.

Two cars contained bars of copper ore. These were broken open, but the bars were so heavy that no one attempted to carry them away.

The cars at the rear of the train were not demolished. They were taken west to Hampshire. A special train was made up at Elgin to run to the scene of the wreck, carrying passengers from the east. Arriving there they walked around the debris and boarded a train from the west, which was sent back, and its passengers transferred to the special from Elgin, which took them to Elgin where a Chicago train awaited them.

The steam wrecker from Savanna arrived shortly after 6 o'clock, and soon had the west-bound track clear. The east-bound track was the one on which most damage was done. It took some time to put the rails and ties in place after the debris had been cleared away.

Some of the cars were so badly wrecked that the only salvage will be in the way of fuel, beyond saving some of the iron work.

Railroad officials state that among the merchandise carried off during Sunday were 200 hams. Besides these there were considerable other things of value. People were not contented with taking what was broken open, but broke into and carried off considerable merchandise that was unharmed in the wreck.

Geo. Sauber of Monroe lost his left hand in a corn shredder last Saturday, the member being ground between the rollers. The hand was amputated at the wrist.

THE REVIVAL MEETINGS

Manly Wilson Is Pushing the Devil to the Wall

Many Wilson, the evangelist, has been opening up on the devil and his cohorts in a fearless manner during the past week, by dealing out the plain truth without reserve.

The church was filled Sunday night, it being necessary to open the lecture room, and there was also good attendance at the forenoon and afternoon meetings. His sermon Sunday afternoon to the young men and women was rather severe, but was nothing more than the truth in every sense. The sermons tonight, Saturday night and Sunday will be of particular interest and everyone should make an effort to hear them. Mr. Wilson has no grievance with any man but he has declared war against the devil that is undermining the lives of young men and women. Those who are afraid of the truth should keep away from the meetings. The last sermon of the series will be preached Sunday evening.

The First Number

The first number of the Star Lecture Course was all that was claimed for it. The lecture by Dr. Bruner on "Uncle Billy and Aunt Harriett" was unique as well as pleasing. Mr. Bruner is an able orator and a student of nature. His description of "Uncle Billy and Aunt Harriett," or, in other words, the typical American man and woman was true to nature in every respect. Altho he possesses some peculiarities on the platform they are far overbalanced by the masterly manner in which he handles his subject. If Mr. Bruner enjoys life as he pictured it himself, he must surely be a happy man.

Mothers' Meeting

The next regular meeting of the Mothers' Club will be held in the first primary room this Friday afternoon, Nov. 18. The meeting will begin promptly at 3:05 and close promptly at 4 o'clock. The general topic is "The Home and the School."

The Physical Needs of Children. Mrs. Merritt
Politeness. Mrs. Ream
Poem, "Patience with the Love." Mrs. Sykes
Read by Mrs. Sykes

Handicraft in the School. Mrs. Haines
A few minutes will be spent in discussing questions from the question box. Mothers are most cordially invited to be present.

Thanksgiving Dance

Evalina Lodge Mystic Workers of the World of Genoa are arranging to give a dance in the Genoa opera house on Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 23. Music will be furnished by Hines' popular orchestra. Arthur Shattuck and Geo. Patterson will act as floor managers. Dance tickets 75 cents; supper extra at Commercial hotel. A good time is promised.

Twins Thrice

Mr. and Mrs. William Baker of Lily Lake have just become the parents of twins for the third time. It is taken for granted that now President Roosevelt will be in good humor for writing letters on his favorite subject, and a picture of the new arrivals will be sent to Washington.

Standard Oil Dividends

Unless business picks up John D. Rockefeller will soon be a beggar. This year a dividend of only $7 a share or 36 per cent has been declared against 44 per cent last year. Standard Oil stock holders have the sympathy of all in their distress.

A CITY MOURNS

Frank Moan Dies Suddenly of Heart Failure Sunday

WAS AN ENERGETIC AND LOYAL CITIZEN

Instrumental in Making Genoa What It Is Today—Genoa Street a Monument to His Energy—Leaves Wife and Two Children—Funeral Held Wednesday

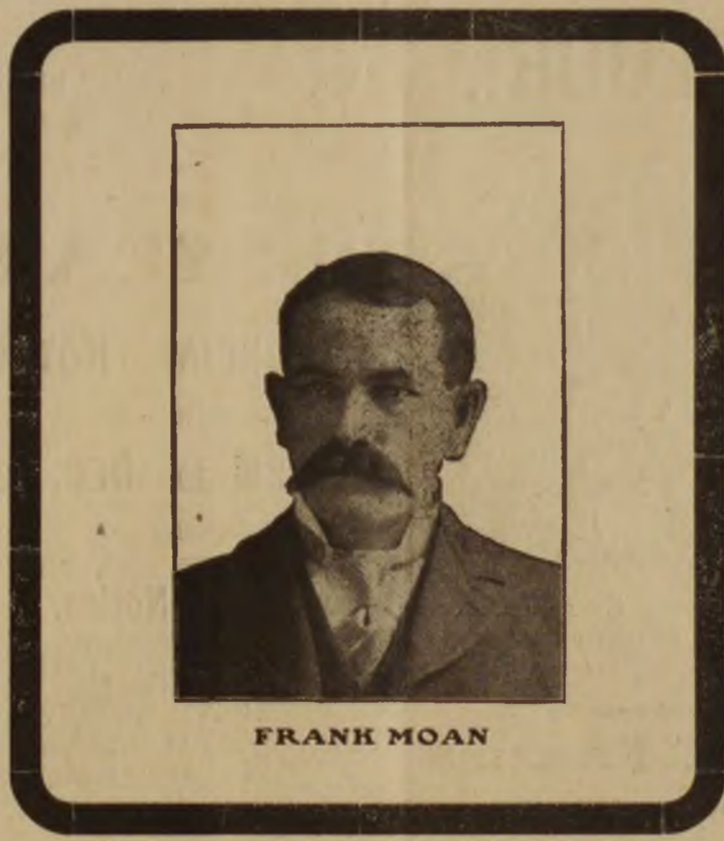

Frank Moan died suddenly Sunday morning at nine o'clock in a barber chair at Johnson's shop, of heart failure.

When the sad news was flashed about the city few people could give it credence until the facts were verified and even then could scarcely realize the awful truth. Altho Mr. Moan has been ailing with stomach trouble for some time it was not known that his heart was weak.

Soon after Mr. Moan had reached the chair in the barber shop he asked Mr. Johnson for a drink of water. While the latter gentleman turned to get the water the spirit of Frank Moan took its flight. He died without a struggle, the only indication of anything wrong being a groan from the lips of the stricken man. Dr. Austin was hastily summoned, but his services were of no avail, as death had come almost instantly. The features of the dead man gave no evidence that he had suffered any pain and he lay in the chair as in peaceful slumber. Mrs. Moan was called at once and she was soon at the side of her husband's body. She could not at first realize the truth, but when the full significance of the situation dawned upon her her grief was heart-breaking. Many men who stood near shed tears of sympathy, for which they need not be ashamed. The body was cared for by Undertaker Slater and carried to the home.

It is likely that Mr. Moan was subject to heart failure and the sudden climax was no doubt brought about by unusual excitement. He had entered the shop just after a heated argument and the tension was too much for his weak condition.

From the moment he took up his residence in Genoa Mr. Moan worked for the interests of the little city and what he has done for the city is a matter of local history. He was a loyal, energetic citizen and in any venture for the betterment of conditions he was in the front ranks with the leaders. The extension to Genoa street will always stand as a monument to the efforts of this man. In five short years he had transformed an oat field into one of the prettiest streets in DeKalb county. Where oats were growing six years ago is a street four blocks long, well graded. Cement walks extend the full length on either side. Here are many beautiful homes in which Mr. Moan took just pride. He always took particular pains to keep the street clean and in good condition and even assisted those who purchased lots in grading their lawns in order to make a uniform level. Very few of those beautiful houses would have been put up had he not been behind the project with his vim and determination. He was just as careful and energetic in public affairs as in his own. At the time of death he had charge of the canning factory proposition, which, if it materializes, will be another great boon to Genoa.

It would seem fitting to change the name of Genoa street to Moan street. Such action would no doubt have the approval of every appreciative citizen. It would be a lasting monument to the memory of the man who made it.

Frank Moan, son of Patrick and Mary Moan, was born at Syracuse, N. Y., July 31, 1851, being 53 years of age. His parents came to Illinois in 1852. In June, 1871, Mr. Moan was joined in the holy bonds of wedlock to Miss Marcella Merriman. One child was born but died at the age of eleven months. Mrs. Moan passed away

FAREWELL PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Moore Entertain Friends at Their Home

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Moore of New Lebanon, who will soon leave for their new home near Fresno, California, were agreeably surprised last Monday evening when it became apparent that the friends and neighbors were about to call in a body to bid them farewell. Altho there were a large number present, it was only a few of the host of people whom this estimable couple call friends. They were excellent neighbors and Mr. Moore a citizen that the community can ill afford to lose. Our loss however is gain for California.

Mr. Moore was presented with a handsome suit case, while his wife was the recipient of two nice rugs, gifts that will be cherished for many years as a reminder of the old friends in Illinois.

DANFORTH-DIVINE

Popular Young Man of Genoa Takes Sycamore Lady for Wife

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Divine, in Sycamore township, on Thursday, Nov. 10, at 12 o'clock, noon, occurred the marriage of Dr. J. H. Danforth and Cora Divine.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. E. Ream, pastor of the Genoa M. E. church, in the presence of the members of the family only. After the ceremony and congratulations all sat down to a sumptuous dinner. Dr. and Mrs. Danforth left Sycamore Thursday evening for a short tour. For the present they will reside at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Divine and has a large circle of friends in the community where she resides. The groom is a veterinary surgeon of ability and has a lucrative practice in this city, a practice which he has established thru honest efforts and a full knowledge of his profession.

Law and Order League

Meetings to consider the suppression of the illegal sale of liquor, and other demoralizing infractions of the ordinances of Marengo, were held in that city recently. A law and order league was organized and will be incorporated under the laws of the state.

Two little children of Mrs. William Krausch of Center, Wis., tried to cut their baby sister's head off after seeing their mother cut the heads off chickens. The little fellows laid the baby's head on a block, and the older boy lifted an ax and struck at the child's neck. He went wide of the mark, and as he raised the ax to strike a second time he was stopped by a farmer, who happened to drive by and saw what the children were doing.

LIFE'S LAST CHAPTER

Thomas Gathercoal Succumbed to Cancer of the Stomach Friday

The earthly life of Thomas Gathercoal, which for the past three months had been one of intense suffering, was brought to a close early Friday morning. He had been confined to the bed for the past eight weeks, and owing to his condition but little medical assistance could be rendered. His many friends in both DeKalb and Boone counties, where he had spent many years of his life, are grieved over his demise.

Thomas Gathercoal was born in Cambridgeshire, England, May 23, 1843. With his parents, he came to Belvidere in November 1853 and made his home here until 1872 when he removed to Kingston township, where he has resided continuously.

On July 3, 1872, he was united in marriage to Miss Zerniah Raymond of Kingston township, who with one daughter, Hattie, survive. There are left to mourn one brother, John, of Chicago, and six sisters, Mesdames Clark and Ashford of Sycamore; Mesdames Balcom, Carr and Scott of DeKalb and Mrs. Wm. Watson of this place.

Mr. Gathercoal was converted in 1887 and united with the church. At the time of death, he was a member of the Freewill Baptist church of this place. In the work of the several departments, he was closely associated and did all in his power for the uplifting of the Christian faith.

Brief services were held from the home at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and at the Baptist church at 11 o'clock, Rev. R. W. Bennett, assisted by Rev. C. S. Clay, officiating. Interment at North Kingston cemetery.

DEATH ON THE RAILS

George R. Pratt Run Down on Speeder Saturday Night While Returning From Work

EMPLOYED AT KINGSTON TOWER

Had Been in the Service of the C. M. & St. P. R. R. for Twenty Years—Funeral Services Conducted Tuesday Afternoon and Largely Attended

One of the most distressing accidents occurred last Saturday evening at 7:20 o'clock when George R. Pratt, day operator at the Kingston tower, was instantly killed by the evening passenger while returning from his labors.

As is usually the case, Mr. Pratt has gone to and from his work on a speeder. On the night in question, a wreck had occurred on the St. Paul road at Almora, necessitating some delay in the traffic of through trains, a few of which were run over the Northwestern line and reaching the main line via Henrietta. While returning from work, Mr. Pratt started homeward on the east-bound track, but in some manner must have been confused in the position of trains and the lights, for when struck he was on the west-bound track within a short distance from the depot.

At the coroner's inquest both engineer and fireman admitted they were running at a rapid rate and had no time to sound a warning when the object on the rails came within clear of the head-light. Coroner Morris was summoned from Kirkland the evening of the accident and an inquest held Monday afternoon at which time the jury composed of L. C. Shaffer, F. P. Smith, James Nead, Stuart Sherman, I. A. McCollom and E. E. Bradford rendered the verdict that George R. Pratt came to his death by being struck by train No. 23 while returning from his work at the tower, one mile east of Kingston. The witnesses called were Engineer Thomas Brown, Fireman Maher, Conductor George Cook, Roy Gibbs, O. W. Vickell, Earl Pratt and H. S. Heckman.

George R. Pratt was born at Waukesha, Wis., May 7, 1852. He was united in marriage to Miss Lillian Tupper and to them were born two sons, Ray and Earl, and four daughters, Mrs. Roy Gibbs, and Misses Grace, Blanche and

About fifty friends of Frank D. Arbuckle very pleasantly surprised him last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd. J. Stuart were guests of Mrs. N. A. Stuart and daughter, Miss Alta, at St. Charles the first of the week.

Frank Arbuckle left Tuesday morning for Norfolk, Va., after a ten days' visit with his parents. He will again board the U. S. S. Newark for a cruise of another year.

Probably a good idea is to burn as many of the leaves as possible this fall. It may help some to get rid of the insect pests that have been unusually troublesome this summer.

Many from this locality have attended revival services now in session at Genoa. Every young man and woman should not fail to attend the services next Sunday afternoon and evening.

The Woodmen of the World who have lately organized a camp here installed officers last Thursday evening. A bus load from the camp at Sycamore and one from DeKalb were present. Deputy Fox of DeKalb was the installing officer. Eight candidates were initiated making the membership 25. The camp will be known as White Oak camp No. 42. After the ceremonies refreshments were served.

Florence Mr. Pratt has made Kingston his home for eight years and was well known in the community. He bears the distinction of having been a railroad telegrapher 33 years and in the C. M. & St. P. R'y service for 20 years.

Death in any form is sad enough but when it takes from the home the protecting care of a father then nothing can measure the loss. In their sorrow they may be somewhat comforted in the thought that their grief is shared by the many who had known and loved the one who is gone. His life like every other life which God has made has its own meaning and teaches its own lessons, and thus in death there is a vacancy which none can fill.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. W. Bennett at the Baptist Church at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. S. Clay of the M. E. church assisting. The floral emblems were beautiful. Interment at Kingston cemetery.

Among relatives present were Mrs. Mary Sherman and Mrs. May Catlin of Chicago, Mrs. Grace Duell of Sandwich, Roy Jenks of Evanston and I. S. Tupper of Chicago.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by G. H. Hunt.

An Example of Yankee Shrewdness.

"Talk about Yankee shrewdness," said the traveling man. "I was in a little tavern up in Connecticut not long ago, and a farmer came in with eggs to sell. The transaction took place in the barroom of the establishment. The proprietor agreed to take two dozen, and when the farmer came to count over the contents of his basket he found that he had twenty-five eggs. The proprietor wanted the extra egg thrown in for good measure. The farmer didn't see it that way, and they argued the matter. At last the proprietor said he'd take the twenty-five eggs, give the man a drink and call it square. The farmer agreed and pocketed his money.

"Now, what'll you have?" asked the proprietor.
"The Yankee farmer was ready with his reply.
"Sherry and egg," said he."

TIMEKEEPERS

"The Way of a Watch"

All American movements of good grade are well made, accurately assembled, rigidly inspected, carefully lined and put on the market, supposedly in fine shape, but—there are many ways in which they can get out of order before they finally reach the user.

THE SUPREME TEST

Lies in the "fitting up" process. The extreme care we use in fitting each movement in the cases, testing every vital part to see that it is properly oiled and adjusted, is what insures its being a good timekeeper—this is what makes the name "Rovelstad" synonymous with "good watches" for miles around.

A STOLEN STATE LINE MARK.

The Lake Michigan end of the state line between Indiana and Illinois has been lost or stolen, and the police of two states are hunting for it. The mark for years has been a stone at One Hundred and Eighth street and Indianapolis avenue. On one side was cut the word "Indiana" and on the other "Illinois." The stone was four feet long and two feet high, one and a half feet projecting above the ground. Not only has it been removed, but the hole from which it was taken exactly where it stood. The police believe some householder, more thrifty than honest, has imbedded the stone in the foundation of a residence or used it as a base for a lawn flower pot. The next boundary stone is five miles inland, and a survey will have to be made from that point before the place for a new Lake Michigan mark can be established.—Chicago Tribune.

A CITY MOURNS

in the spring of 1874. On April 26, 1896, Mr. Moan was again married, Miss Mary Sharkey of Charles City, Iowa, being the bride. The marriage took place in Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. Moan resided in Chicago a few years after their marriage where the former had a position in the sheriff's office. They later came to Genoa. Two children were born to this union, Frank, who is now seven years old, and Agnes, five years old.

Besides the parents, who reside at Harvard, four brothers and one sister survive. They are Will, of Emmetsburg, Iowa; T. J. and P. H. of Belvidere; Fred of Bonus; and Mrs. Maria Nolan of Harvard. Mrs. Amos Porter of this city is the mother of Mr. Moan's first wife.

Mr. Moan was a man whom it was a pleasure to meet. He was a devoted husband, loving father and a friend of all. He was especially fond of his little boy and girl and the happiest moments of his life were spent with the children in the pretty home on Genoa street.

The funeral was held at the home Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, services being conducted by Rev. Father Huth, pastor of the Roman Catholic church of Hampshire. Rev. Huth preached a consoling sermon. It was filled with words of sympathy for the mourners and hope for the departed spirit.

The floral offerings were beautiful.

The remains were laid to rest in Genoa cemetery, a large concourse of friends being present. It was pleasing to note that nearly every business man in the city attended the last sad rites over the body of the man who had done so much for Genoa.

SUIT FOR SLANDER

Mrs. Sheffner of Hampshire Sues Village Marshal, E. L. Grierson

E. L. Young, a hardware dealer, and Roy L. Grierson, marshal of Hampshire, were last Friday made defendants in a sensational slander suit for $5,000, says the Elgin Courier. Mrs. Antonette Sheffner, wife of S. V. Sheffner, one of Hampshire's well known business men, authorized her attorneys, Botsford, Wayne & Botsford, to begin proceedings. Interesting developments are promised.

Last summer when Mrs. Sheffner's name was coupled with that of one of Hampshire's most prominent business men, who has since moved away from that village, Mr. Sheffner made a vow to give the aggrieved parties the benefit of the doubt and to fathom the stories alleged to have been told by Grierson.

A slander suit was instituted at the time, but later the papers were withdrawn.

The Ladies Aid society of the church of which Mrs. Sheffner was a member discussed the matter pro and con and finally called a special meeting, at which every member present voted to drop Mrs. Sheffner's name from the membership roll. Mrs. Sheffner was present at the first part of the session, but withdrew before the actual business began. She was not informed as to the purpose of the meeting, and remained only a short time because of the chilly reception accorded her.

The suit is the outgrowth of stories concerning Mrs. Sheffner alleged to have been circulated by Grierson.

The defendants have retained the services of Russell & Hazelhurst of Elgin.

TORE OUT THE WALLS

Crowd Demolishes Tabernacle to Hear Billy Sunday Preach

Evangelist Billy Sunday has ended a revival at Keokuk, Iowa, which was one of the most successful that has ever been held in that city. An immense tabernacle, about the size of that used in Rockford, was built, but before the meetings closed it was necessary to tear down the sides in order that people who desired to hear might catch the words of the evangelist. The following is a review given by the Daily Gate City of Keokuk, Iowa, as to the meetings:

"Mr. Sunday was in Keokuk 31 days. During that time he preached 75 sermons to a total of 130,000 people. There were nine hundred conversions in all; the greatest number of these at any one meeting during the series was 190.

"The tabernacle in which the great revivalist delivered his sermons was built at a cost of $2,000. On the last Sunday more than two thousand dollars were collected as remuneration for the work of Mr. Sunday—and the people feel that the good he has done there is much more than the price.

"Large crowds attended all of the meetings, but on the last Sunday there was a crush that was somewhat alarming and almost painful to look upon. The climax of the month's meetings came in the last two days, when the attendance, power and number of conversions were at their height. At the final session the audience numbered nearly seven thousand persons.

"The crowds kept coming, and before seven o'clock the situation became unbearable, and the crowds were pressing against the building with such force that it was in danger of collapse. Then the man who superintended the construction of the tabernacle got a hammer and began tearing down the side walls and through the openings thus made many of the outsiders were thus able to see and hear the speaker. But in spite of all this those who arrived less than an hour before the sermon was begun were obliged to go home disappointed."

GOOD CLOTHING

Copyright 1904 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

IN THESE TIMES of keen competition, when dealers are trying to undersell one another, there is one thing that has to suffer--that one is quality. We look after the quality first and fix the price afterward. Which is cheapest--to pay from $5.00 to $10 for a Suit of Clothes and have it lose its shape after you have worn it once and break down completely after a few times wear, or pay from $15 to $20 for a Suit that will wear from one to two seasons or more and hold its shape as long as you wear it? We know what your answer will be.

When it comes to cheap Suits, we have them as well as other dealers, but we also have better Suits than most dealers dare to buy. These are the ones we want to get you interested in. Good goods make friends, poor goods don't. You will number us among your best friends after you have bought some of our good Clothes.

Our many years of experience in the Clothing business enables us to judge on qualities and the large amount of merchandise bought and sold by us every year is the reason why we can sell you a better grade of goods for the same price that smaller dealers charge you for inferior goods.

It will pay you to come and take a look at our immense stock of Suits, Overcoats, Fur Coats, Boots and Shoes, Rubber Goods, Underwear, Hats and Caps, etc.
