HORRIBLE ACCIDENT ON LINCOLN 'WAY

Three DeKalb Residents Die In Auto Accident Tuesday Night

PARTY BOUND FOR ROCHELLE

Robert Davy, Richard DeLine and Wm. Fritz Were The Victims—Going to Meeting of Odd Fellows

Pursuing the principal lessons taught in Odd Fellowship, that of helping others when the occasion demanded, en route to Rochelle to exemplify ceremonies for the Encampment branch of the Odd Fellows, Robert C. Davy, Richard C. DeLine and William B. Fritz, met death in an auto accident near Rochelle Tuesday night about eight o'clock. Fred Busby was injured, but not seriously and is expected to leave the hospital in a few days. Perry Pearson, driver and owner of the machine which figured in the tragedy, was uninjured bodily, but he is grief-stricken to think that he was driving the car that brought about the death of three fraternal brothers.

It is stated that Mr. Pearson was driven from the cement by a roadhog. All four wheels were off the cement, and in an attempt to get back onto the road, one front wheel broke, causing the auto to turn over. Mr. DeLine was killed instantly, his neck being broken. R. C. Davy and W. B. Fritz lived but a short time after reaching the Rochelle hospital.

The accident is one of the most deplorable in the annals of the highway traffic for many months.

The Odd Fellows were scheduled to put on ritualistic ceremonies at Rochelle Tuesday evening for the encampment branch, in an effort to help Pochle lodge get better established. Triple funeral services are to be held Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock. The remains will be laid to rest with the Odd Fellows burial ceremonies in Fairview.

The bodies of the victims will be removed to the homes Saturday, that of Mr. Fritz going to the home of James B. Murray, an intimate friend for years.

Rev. B. Barrett Evans, Rev. W. L. Yard and Rev. F. M. Webster are to have charge of the services at the church, while the organizations of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will have charge at Fairview.—DeKalb Chronicle.

CITY CLEAN-UP DAY MONDAY

Set all Rubbish on Curb or in Alley—Teams Will Haul it Away

In keeping with the city's policy that has been established in the past, Genoa's clean-up day will be Monday, May 14. The city will have conveyances out to pick up the rubbish that should be piled on the side of the alley, or if none is near the house, on the curb. Under no conditions, however, will these teams be required to haul ashes. Don't forget the date and make Genoa dirt proof and fly proof for the summer.

THIRTY YEARS IN BUSINESS

J. R. Kiernan Will Celebrate His 30th Year at the Same Stand May 12

On May 12, 1893, J. R. Kiernan opened his store for business in the city of Genoa, and for thirty consecutive years since that date has maintained his office and store in the same building dealing in agricultural implements of every description.

The farm implement business has grown, even, perhaps, beyond his expectations, and this is evidenced in the huge warehouse which is stored with machinery. His success in the implement business depended on hard work and serving the people. That he succeeded exceptionally well need not be eulogized upon, it is too evident to need further discourse.

The business of Kiernan & Son, the younger member of the firm being taken into partnership in 1914, is the third oldest in town, being superseded by the Exchange State Bank and S. S. Slater, furniture dealer.

We wish to congratulate Mr. Kiernan on this momentous occasion and do not hesitate in saying that we hope that he will continue to do business for thirty years more at the same place, adding each year many customers that are now numbered in the thousands.

SPEEDER ARRESTED SUNDAY

Officer Heed Gets "Motorcycle Speed Demon"—Fined $9.15

A certain J. Krieg of DeKalb breezed through the main street last Sunday morning at about 35 miles per hour, stopping at the B & G Garage for a few minor accessories. In waiting his turn for the necessary articles, Officer Heed walked up to the man and asked him to accompany him to the office of the local justice of the peace, G. E. Stott, where a fine of $5.00 and costs was levied on Krieg for speeding.

Heed says this is the first of a series of arrests that will be forthcoming if speeding is not stopped. It is not only dangerous to the pedestrians but the drivers are taking a chance as well.

PUBLIC HEALTH MEETING

To Be Held in DeKalb on Saturday, May 19—Lunch at the Innovation

The DeKalb County Public Health League will hold its annual luncheon at the Innovation Grill Room Saturday, May 19 at 12 o'clock noon.

An unusually large attendance is expected from DeKalb county. Twelve other counties will also have representatives there.

Dr. George T. Palmer, president of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association will speak on Tuberculosis, while Dr. Q. D. Rawlings, State Supervisor of Health, will talk about Nursing Service in the Rural Schools. Both speakers are among the foremost in the state.

The Barb City Quartette will give a program of southern melodies.

With this array of talent a most enjoyable program is assured.

Splendid work has been done by the League in securing a permanent Tuberculosis nurse for DeKalb and also in keeping the Tuberculosis Sanitarium from being boarded up and closed. It was only a year ago this prospect faced the committee. Today the institution is full to overflowing with a waiting list of those who need hospitalization. It is now a question of how soon an addition can be built. All work for the League has been gratis and there are no salaries.

While the work in DeKalb County is being watched all over the state and we rank high in the work, much remains to be done.

Come and help us. The meeting is open to the public to the capacity of the grill room and tickets can be secured up to May 15, either from Mrs. Kimer, organization chairman or at the Innovation.

Why New Tree Was Fostered.

There is a popular belief that the new tree, because of its dark and gloomy foliage, is the one most appropriate for planting in a churchyard; but its presence there was at one time merely a matter of utility. No better timber than the new product can be obtained for low making and an ancient act of parliament decreed that new trees be planted in all burying grounds to furnish material for the coffins.

NOTES FROM THE COURT HOUSE

Sheriff Gets Sandwich Man In Raid On Still

DIVORCE DECREE FOR CRUELTY

David Jones of Shabbona Appointed Conservator of Estate of Herbert Norton—Exservice Man

Judge William J. Fulton of Sycamore presided at a short session of the Circuit court on Monday, May 7. One divorce case and a few minor orders were entered.

Elizabeth Shukis of Sycamore on Monday last filed her bill for divorce in the circuit court against Daniel Shukis also of Sycamore charging the defendant with cruelty. The defendant immediately filed his appearance and consented to an immediate hearing which was held before Judge Fulton.

The complainant testified that on February 25, 1923 she was married to the defendant with whom she resided until April 28, 1923, at which time she was compelled to leave him in consequence of ill treatment. She further testified that the defendant on March 28, 1923, struck her a violent blow on the shoulder and again on April 28 while in a rage the defendant struck her, seized her by the shoulders and threw her with force and violence out of the door of their home, injuring her head, body and legs from which she suffered great pain.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Fulton granted the complainant an absolute divorce. The complainant is allowed to resume her maiden name of Elizabeth Lobanaska and each of the parties is to be decreed divested of all rights in property of each other.

An order was entered by the court that a jury venire of forty men having the qualifications of petit jurors be drawn for service for the June 1923 term of court to appear June 11, 1923.

Ott B. Herald, a resident of Sandwich, was arrested on Monday afternoon, May 7th, by Sheriff Crawford in a raid made by the sheriff and his deputies on the home of Herald in Sandwich. A complete still and a large quantity of mash and liquor was confiscated by the sheriff which was destroyed after samples taken.

Herald spent the night in jail at the county seat and on Tuesday was brought into the county court before Judge Pond, on information filed against him by State's Attorney Post charging Herald with several violations of the Illinois Prohibition Act. Herald entered a plea of guilty to the charge of possessing a still, possessing liquor, mash and manufacturing liquor. Upon his plea of guilty he was fined $200 and costs and ordered to stand committed to county jail until the fine and costs are paid.

On petition filed by Frank Siebert of Sycamore, his wife Elizabeth Siebert, 70 years of age was adjudged an epileptic and ordered committed to the State Institution for Epileptics at Dixon. The proceedings were had in the county court before Judge Pond on Tuesday morning and the unfortunate woman was taken to Dixon on Tuesday afternoon.

After a hearing on Tuesday last before Judge Pond, David Jones of Shabbona was appointed a conservator for Herbert L. Norton, an ex-service man, also of Shabbona. Norton served in the army in the late war incurring a disability as a result of service on account of which he spent several years in Speedway Hospital. Recently he was notified by the Veterans Bureau that he was entitled to compensation to the extent of $1,000 for the past two years which would be paid to a conservator, as the bureau did not believe Norton capable of managing his own affairs.

The proceedings were taken in accordance with the request of the Veterans Bureau so that Norton can obtain the money due him on account of his disability.

SHIPPED LOAD OF HOGS

John Schnur of Genoa, Ill., was on the Chicago market Friday last week with a carload of hogs consigned to the Chicago Producers Commission Association. Mr. Schnur was in personal charge of the shipment.

CHAUTAQUA PROGRAM

Third Day: On this day the Davies Opera Co. which has been so well received on our circuits in the production of the light opera "The Mikado," will offer Audran's comic opera "Olivette," a vehicle calculated to bring out the best in the solo voices of the company, and offering at the same time many great ensemble numbers. The company is splendidly costumed and the story is interesting and easily followed, both through the dialogue and singing parts. The comedy is clean and rich and the company's appearance should insure a crowded tent.

In the afternoon a prelude consisting of a short sketch and a musical program will be followed by the Hon. W. C. McCullough, in his lecture, "The Challenge to Democracy" which deals with the vital problems now confronting the nation industrially and politically. Mr. McCullough's forceful method of delivery and his intense earnestness cannot but impress his hearers and make them think.

Fourth Day: In a program that is "different" the BARNABY ENTERTAINERS will delight the audience on the afternoon of this day. This company carries most elaborate platform hangings and has worked out unique lighting effects with spotlights, color lights and dimmers.

As an evening prelude, art work on a large easel with special lighting a most pleasing sketch entitled "Home Ties" and other delightful numbers will entertain the larger audience which will result from the afternoon program.

This entertainment will be followed by a lecture by L. H. Beeler, well-known educator. Dr. Beeler's address "Houses Without Fronts" is a study in community problems which should be heard by every thinking man and woman of the community and no city or town where a few of the active leaders will give close attention to Dr. Beeler's address, can fail to be benefited. Dr. Beeler and the Chautauqua management are anxious that arrangements be made for him to address the Chamber of Commerce or commercial body of this community, as well as such organizations as the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Parent Teacher's Association or other civic organizations. Dr. Beeler will be glad to address these organizations at luncheon or dinner gatherings or at any other time that they can be arranged.

Fifth Day: It has been some years since we have offered to the audience on our circuits an organization in which we take more pride than in GREEN AND HIS BAND. This organization of 100% Americans and 100% musicians will bring to your communities the best in music, played in the best way.

Much of the music used by this organization has been specially arranged by Herman Belstad who, for many years past, has made all the special arrangements for Sousa's Band. No expense has been spared in selecting the members of this organization; and a great deal of money has been spent outfitting the band in black Hussar uniforms.

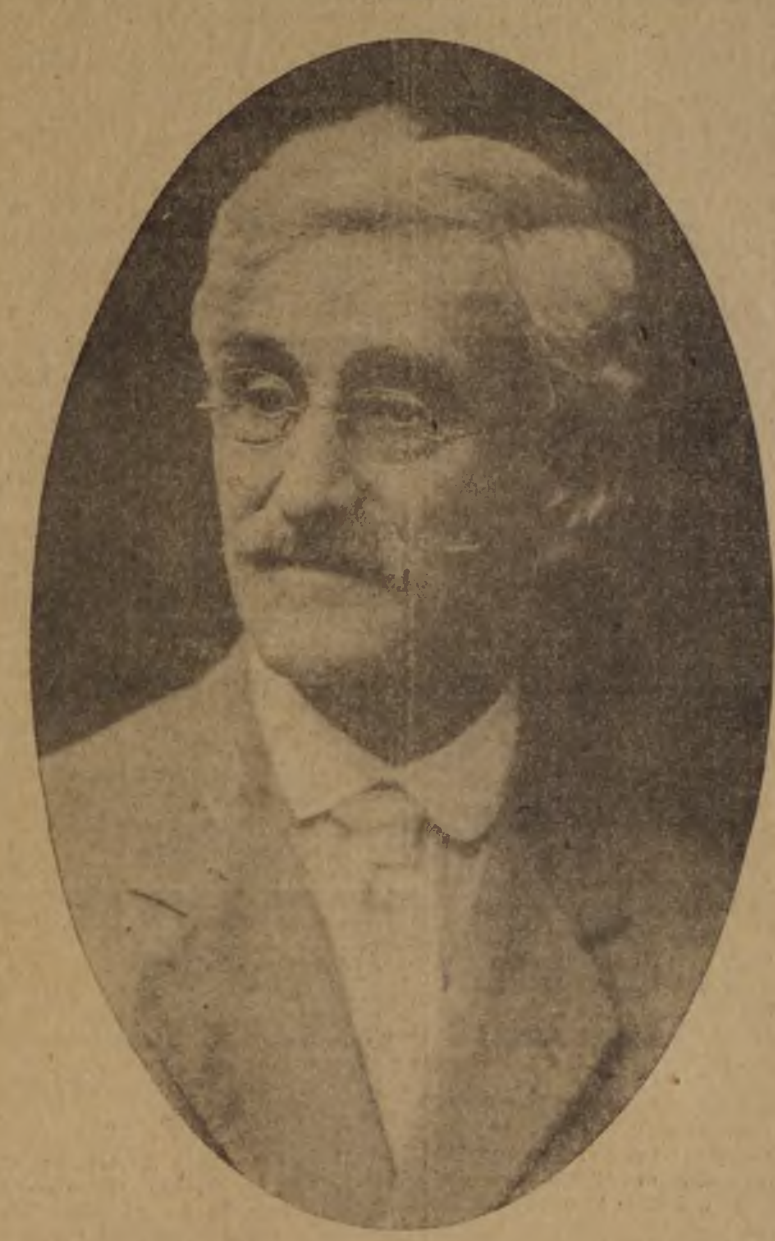

THE JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA PAGEANT This year is entitled "Uncle Sam Seeking Citizens." The thought underlying the pageant, its preparation and presentation is a development of the qualities of good citizenship among the children. The junior chautauqua will be presented the last afternoon of the chautauqua.

A "GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY" Following is a bulletin that is sent from the commander's office of the Illinois Post of the American Legion: THE AMERICAN LEGION Department of Illinois, Bloomington Special Bulletin No. 28:

"GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY" The Commander has directed me to request all Posts in the Department, American Legion of Illinois, to plan a "Go to Church Sunday" on Mother's Day.

Every post in the department of Illinois should not only have an annual "Go to Church Sunday," but should stress church attendance at all times.

Most Legionnaires recognize that God's church is the greatest force for good in America and believe that the Legion is next. To hold that position and to uphold the Preamble to our Constitution which specifically states "For God and Country We Associate Ourselves Together Constantly."

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT DIES

Geo. W. Buck Passed Away Saturday May 5, At Sherman Hospital Elgin

The Community of Genoa and surrounding territory was saddened Saturday last with the announcement of the death of Geo. W. Buck, president of the Farmers State Bank of this city.

His death was not unexpected, for he had been sick many months with kidney trouble. However, a week ago Saturday last his condition became such that necessitated his immediate removal to the Sherman hospital where an emergency operation was performed. Due to his declining years and general infirmities of old age he failed to rally from the effects of the incision and passed away Saturday Morning, May 5.

Mr. Buck, as long as the writer can remember was a kindly old gentleman whose genial "howdy go" and "hello colonel" greetings were taken as exchanges of sincere friendship and well meaning. He was always of a jolly disposition and his friends and acquaintances, who are left to mourn his passing are numbered in the hundreds.

Obituary

Geo. W. Buck was born at Hughesville, Pa., December 24, 1848 and died at the Sherman Hospital in Elgin, May 5, 1923 at the age of 74 years, 4 months and 11 days.

He was the youngest son of Daniel and Jerusha Buck and came to Illinois with his parents when a babe less than a year old locating on the farm purchased from the government five miles north of Genoa, the farm being now situated in what is called Ney.

He resided on the farm during his young manhood, attended business college and Chicago University from which he was graduated in 1872. After an extended tour through the West he returned and took charge of the farm at his father's death. A few years later he became engaged in the business of importing heavy draft horses and made several trips to France during this time.

He was always a public spirited man and was ever faithful to a trust placed in him. He held different public offices in Genoa being postmaster in 1898 and was instrumental in obtaining the first rural delivery from the Genoa postoffice.

In 1901 he organized the Farmers State Bank of this city of which he was made president and served in this capacity faithfully until death.

His wife preceded him in death six years ago. One son died in infancy. He leaves to mourn his death his brother, Alfred Buck of Genoa, besides many nieces, nephews, friends and other relatives.

Funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment at Ney cemetery. Rev. J. E. Robeson officiating.

EASY ON THE CANNED FRUIT

Genoa was visited by one of those snow storms that seem to come in May, about every third year, on last Tuesday and as a consequence of the semi-blizzard the fruit in and around Genoa will be very scarce, the cold wave nipping everything in the bud. Those ladies who were fortunate enough to put up many cans of fruit last summer need not worry, but we are sure that the cherries, spices, etc. will be opened a little more sparingly than would have been occasioned had not Jack Frost waved his parting arm on the surrounding territory.

C. M. & ST. P. TRAIN WRECKED

A car on the special freight train going west last Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock, doubled up near the tower at Henrietta and drew four other freight cars off of the track with it, tying up the traffic on both tracks until 9:30 at night. About this time the chief roadmaster arrived and a wrecker removed the debris from the east bound track permitting traffic. The west bound track was not cleared until five in the morning. It is thought that the car which doubled up was "weak" for there wasn't enough of it left to make kindling wood.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

In compliance with the state department order of the American Legion in bulletin No. 28, issued by the department commander, Charles W. GENOA NATIONALS WIN OPENER

Take Kingston Tigers Into Camp Sunday By 10 to 6 Score

GUSTAFSON GETS 13 STRIKEOUTS

Kingston Will Invade the Local Diamond Sunday, May 13—Admission 15 cents and 35 cents

Before a crowd of some five hundred base ball enthusiasts, Genoa's aggregation of horse hide clouters humbled the Kingston tigers in their fair on Sunday last to the tune of 10 to 6. Under the management of Ox Overley our boys auspiciously lifted the lid to victory on the first game; which bespeaks many more for our diamond stars before the fall weather comes again.

With Gustafson hurling in mid-season form and numbering 12 strike outs to his credit and Crawford catching in rare form things went along smoothly until the eighth inning with Genoa holding the lead at 4 to 1. At this point in the crucial combat the Nationals brot in two more runs and apparently had the game on ice. However a tiger is known for his stealth and cunning and, the Kingston players in order to live up to their names hammered out five runs in their half before they could be retired. Genoa still held the lead after this serious fracture in the row of goose-eggs they were hanging on the home team and just to make sure that nothing more would develop to dampen our spirits in a victory lost and won Overley's warriors knocked in two more runs in the ninth for good measure.

The game itself was an exceptionally good clean game to watch and we predict a royal battle when these same teams hook up in another encounter Sunday on Genoa's diamond, beginning at 2:30.

The admission will be 13 cents for children, plus 2 cents war tax. For adults the price of 32 cents will be charged plus 3 cents war tax.

We award the diamond studded toothpick to All Overly for hitting Sunday, his little old bat coming in for two doubles and a single.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GETS BANNER

Awarded the Prize for Largest Delegation at Shabbona Last Saturday

As usual, Genoa walked off with another prize last Saturday at Shabbona when the M. E. Sunday school was awarded the banner for the largest attendance in percentage to the number enrolled and the miles traveled in getting there. The Supt. of the Sunday school was complimented as well as the pastor and teachers, on having the best Sunday school in DeKalb county and for the amount of interesting work accomplished.

Every one was royally entertained.

The French cabinet at Paris unanimously rejected the new German reparations proposal, delivered from Berlin. The reasons given for rejection were lack of guaranties and the insufficiency of the sum offered by Germany.

Germany's New Reparations Offer Rejected by France as Wholly Inadequate.

SUMMARY OF CUNO'S PLAN

French Ultimatum to Turks Concerning Syrian Border—Supreme Court's Ruling on Liquor on Vessels at Sea—Communist Ruthenberg Convicted in Michigan.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

HAVING read the latest reparations offer of Chancellor Cuno, what chance do you think it presents for final settlement of the problem? Have you any confidence in the good faith of Germany?

CHANCELLOR CUNO'S long awaited reparations offer was presented to the allies and the United States last week, and though it was promptly rejected by France as wholly inadequate and impossible, it is believed at this writing that Premier Poincare will intimate that the proposals may be, when revised, a basis for renewed negotiations. That is as far as the most optimistic opinion can go.

Germany offers a total of 30,000,000,000 gold marks ($7,500,000,000) as the utmost limit of her capacity to pay, and expresses some doubt of her ability to pay that much, though it is a minor fraction of the sum she agreed to pay under the Versailles treaty. She proposes that two-thirds of this be raised before July 1, 1927, by a bond issue floated in the international money market; that 5,000,000,000 marks more be raised before July 1, 1929, in the same manner, and the remaining 5,000,000,000 marks similarly before July 1, 1931. The plan provides that in case the three loans do not produce the required total, "an impartial international commission must decide, if, when, and how the balance must be covered. The same commission will decide how the interest on these loans, not provided for, may be raised."

This commission, the note says, should be "either the consortium which floats the loan or an international commission of business men corresponding to the proposition made by Secretary of State Hughes, on which Germany would be represented with equal rights, or an arbitration tribunal, composed of a representative of the reparations commission, a representative of the German government, and an arbitrator designated by the President of the United States in the absence of an agreement on this personage."

Cuno says Germany is ready to enact legislation that would make her entire economic system contribute so as to assure the interest on the loans, and to make conventions for deliveries in kind. He proposes that security as between France and Germany be assured by an agreement to submit any future disputes to arbitration or other conciliatory process, suggesting the Bryan arbitration plan.

Conditions hedging the offer include the immediate evacuation by France and Belgium of occupied territory whose occupation is not authorized by the Versailles treaty, and the restoration of all expelled persons to their homes and positions.

The Cuno proposals are in every respect wholly obnoxious to the French. As to the loans, the French attitude is expressed thus by a high official: "The whole reparations question is handed over to a few groups of bankers, chiefly German financiers operating in the United States, England, Holland and Switzerland, as the note provides that if the 20,000,000,000 gold marks foreign loan is not floated the whole question will be referred to an international committee. Obviously it is reasonable to suppose that hypnotized German bankers in foreign countries will float most of the loan. Obeying instructions from Berlin they will manipulate the operation into a failure and automatically the whole question will be taken from the hands of the allies and handed to financial experts or bankers who are interested in their own affairs and utterly indifferent to reconstruction of the devastated regions or the payment of obligations which Germany incurred when she was defeated.

IN THE Ruhr the most interesting development of the week was the arrest of Dr. Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, head of the great Krupp works, by the French. He and three of his directors are accused of responsibility for the fight in the Krupp plant on March 31, when French soldiers killed 14 and wounded 29 of a mob of workmen that attacked them. If they are found guilty, the penalty may be death.

FRANCE and Turkey still are threatening each other in Syria. The former relies on the full support of Greece and the allies, and the latter, according to reports, is being egged on by representatives of Germany and soviet Russia. General Pelle, head of the French delegation at Lausanne, told Ismet Pasha that unless the Turkish troops concentrated on the Syrian frontier were withdrawn, France would quit the peace conference. The Turkish government's only reply was to increase the troops on the boundary from 20,000 to 30,000. Only the exercise of the utmost self-restraint by both sides will save the Lausanne parley from disruption.

Trouble over the Chester concession is fading away. To the French protests were added those of Great Britain against "the Chester grants giving American financiers powers to work the railways and mines within the borders of Iraq." Then Minister Grew, the American observer at Lausanne, gave General Pelle reason to believe that the American government would not support any part of the Chester concessions which had been legally acquired at some earlier date. The American conception of the open door in Anatolia, Mr. Grew explained, means the open door to the other nations as well as the United States.

INTERNATIONAL misunderstanding and retaliatory measures by foreign nations are likely to result from the decision of the United States Supreme court concerning the extension of the American prohibition law to vessels at sea. That is the belief of Justice Sutherland, who, with Justice McReynolds, dissented. Summarized, these are the chief points in the decision:

American ships may carry liquor and sell it as a beverage to passengers beyond the three-mile limit.

Foreign vessels may not bring liquor within the three-mile limit, even if sealed as ship's stores.

The claim that "prohibition follows the flag," heretofore maintained by the government, is not sound and must be bolstered up by additional law to make it effective.

Congress has power, which it may exercise at will, to prohibit intoxicating beverages on American vessels anywhere at any time.

Attorney General Daugherty announced that every agency at his command would be used in enforcing the law against liquor on ships, as interpreted by the Supreme court, the enforcement to begin at the expiration of the 30-day period when the mandate of the court becomes effective. He said there would be no favor, partiality or discrimination. The dry leaders already are preparing a bill to be introduced in congress as soon as it convenes, barring liquor from American ships everywhere. Meanwhile, Chairman Lasker of the shipping board will not issue orders for the resumption of the sale of liquor on American vessels without instructions from President Harding or the entire shipping board. At first it was thought the court decision would put a crimp in the government's plans for naval action against the fleet of rum runners that has been lying off the Jersey coast, but after a revenue cutter had gone out there and searched some of the vessels the two "flagships" of the fleet pulled up anchor and steamed away.

It is not unlikely that the administration will ask congress to change the prohibition law in respect to foreign ships so that complications with other nations may be avoided.

CHARLES E. RUTHENBERG of Cleveland, one of the communists accused in Michigan of criminal syndicalism, was found guilty by a jury at St. Joseph, Mich., last week. If the verdict is sustained on appeal, the Red may be sentenced to a prison term of ten years and fined $5,000, or both. This conviction is a source of great satisfaction to all who believe in America and its institutions. It assures the retrial of William Z. Foster, the first of the Reds to be tried. In his case the jury disagreed, standing 6 to 6 with its one woman member leading the acquittal faction. Ruthenberg already has served time as a draft obstructor and also was in Sing Sing prison for 18 months on conviction of having written the manifestos that formed the notorious radical left wing of the Socialist party.

SPEAKING of Reds, one may call attention to the all-Russian church convened in Moscow, where the speakers lauded the soviet regime for its "evangelical" aims, denied that there was persecution of religious thought in Russia and asked for prayers for Lenin, declaring that he was dear to the church. Among the speakers was Bishop Edgar Blake of Chicago, bishop of the American Methodist Episcopal church of southern Europe. He said in general the church cannot stand aside, but must follow revolutionary upheavals and accept every movement looking toward a greater brotherhood.

TWO more notable Americans have gone to the long rest. Knute Nelson, United States senator from Minnesota since 1895, who died suddenly on a train en route from Washington to Chicago, was one of the most influential and picturesque figures in the upper house. Born in Norway in 1843, he came to America at the age of six, served through the Civil war in a Wisconsin regiment, and became a leading politician in Minnesota, where he held many public offices before being sent to Washington. At the time of his death he was chairman of the powerful judiciary committee of the senate.

Emerson Hough, one of the best known and most popular of present-day American writers, died in Evanston, Ill., after a short illness, at the age of sixty-six years. Besides his work as a novelist he was a naturalist and a pioneer in the West, and wrote continually on all manner of topics.

THAT good may come from evil appears in the announcement from Washington that tuberculosis, influenza, paresis and other ills may be prevented or cured by the use of some of the poison gases developed during the war. Experiments conducted by the chemical warfare service of the army indicate that epidemics of influenza, gripes and colds can be stopped almost instantly by the use of chlorine; and other experiments by Lieut. Col. E. B. Vedder of the army medical corps have demonstrated that mustard gas is a specific for tuberculosis. The burning gas known as Lewisite, it is said, has been found to be an efficacious remedy in cases of paresis and locomotor ataxia.

Another cure for pulmonary tuberculosis is announced by Dr. W. P. Nolan of Jeannette, Pa. It consists of the "inhalation of practically pure carbon in amorphous form, and calcium in the form of carbonate, phosphate, chloride and lactate." Seventy-two cases, mostly far advanced, he said, had responded to the treatment so well that they could be pronounced cured.

Isn't this better "front page news" than murders, scandals, international quarrels and criminal trials?

LEUTS. John A. MacReady and Oakley G. Kelly of the army air service made a record-breaking flight, from Hempstead, N. Y., to San Diego, Cal., without stop. The distance was about 2,635 miles and the time was 26 hours, 50 minutes, 48 2/5 seconds. They used a big monoplane with a Liberty engine.

A MEANS OF BIRD PROTECTION

It is a common sight in the spring to see boys shooting birds with their sling-shots and air rifles. They have formed the habit of doing this and it has become a pleasure for the reason that they have never been taught the value of birds and the cruelty in killing them. It is the parent's fault because they have never stopped their boys from so doing. First of all it is the parents' duty to teach their child the value of the birds and the enjoyment they give the people. Then why not show the children the cruelty of killing our singing companions? There are plenty of things the children can find pleasure in doing without killing birds. If they are bound to use their guns and sling-shots let them kill rats, mice and things which bring harm to the community.

Smaller children can be taught to love birds. The parents can teach them to help the birds while they are building their nests by putting out strings, pieces of cloth, etc. They will also take an interest in feeding the birds and giving them water. Many parents let their children own little bird houses and in this way they can become acquainted with the different kinds of birds and their habits. If children are taught to care for birds when they are young they are more likely to be in favor of bird protection when they grow up. At the present time bird protection is necessary in every community.

Why not work for bird protection in this community? First of all, let's stop the boys when we see them killing the birds. We have tried to show the people of Genoa a few of the benefits derived from birds and now make it your duty to save these valuable friends.

Items for the Week

The domestic science department ended its year's festivities with the annual school board dinner in the high school dining room Tuesday evening. The girls of the advanced cooking class previously served two luncheons to their mothers. The guests at the two functions were: Mesdames Sowers, Coon, Shierk, White, Kiernan, Drake, Adler, Miss Lorene Brown and the instructor, Miss Skinner.

The tennis courts have been put into shape and are in use most of the time between eight and six o'clock. Pupils whose average is B- are permitted to play during school hours, not to exceed three periods a week. Interest is stimulated to meet the challenge to a tournament with the Sycamore high school.

The girls of the indoor baseball team with Miss Irwin hiked seven miles last Monday after school.

H. Mackenzies and E. Adler attended the afternoon and evening session of the superintendents and principals held at the DeKalb Normal School last Friday.

Supt. Payne of Richmond and Supt. Davis of Pearl City, Illinois, have been recent visitors at the high school. The latter said that when he had inquired at Rockford concerning good schools to observe, he was directed to Genoa. This indicates that the Genoa Township high school is already attracting the attention of progressive school men in the state.

The senior class play this year will be a novelty in that it will be a 'wo. act far used as an interlude in a minstrel show. Miss Reimer is directing the minstrel show. The cast includes members from the six classes in high school.

RADIO PATENTS

Radio Corporation Sees the Situation at the Present Time

The following statements by Gen. Harbard, President of Radio Corporation of America.

I think you will appreciate that it is impracticable in a new art such as radio to make a statement which will at the same time be prophetic and accurate. It might at any time call for a restatement because of change of conditions.

For the present, the best that any company in the radio industry can do is to make month to month decisions.

The Radio Corporation has aided in the development of radio art, and has furnished the first American owned and controlled means of direct commercial telegraph communication with the principal foreign countries making the United States the great center and leading factor in world radio communication. To achieve these ends it has been obliged to coordinate the inventive genius of many individuals. It has made great outlay for research and development work in perfecting its own inventions, and to advance the radio art it has also been considered wise to acquire the inventions of others. In no other could the various improvements be best features of the numerous one of them adequate in itself—each are regarded as requisite to satisfactory radio service, have been embodied and made available for the public in any one line of apparatus.

There has been some criticism against the Radio Corporation for bringing suit against various radio manufacturers for the infringement of patents. The Radio Corporation had the absolute right to enforce every patent which it owned against every user. It did not, however, adopt this policy, but instead, in keeping with the high ideals which have characterized it since its inception, decided that if an amateur wanted to build his own set for his own amateur use he could do so, and that it would not, until further notice, treat such procedure as an infringement of its patent right.

We must have it clear in our minds that a patent under the constitutional laws of the United States grants to the inventor or to the person to whom he has assigned the patent, the exclusive right of its use. This means that with perfect legality and due regard for the ethics of the situation, the Radio Corporation has such exclusive right to its property in patents.

There has been a suggestion for a cooperative pooling of radio patents in order that all companies can manufacture radio apparatus without fear of patent difficulties. According to the best of my information, no cooperative pooling of patents in any industry has ever been effective until this initial stage has been passed. The pooling arrangement does not take place during the nebulous period under which the developed art passes. Future inventions and developments will probably very greatly change the radio art as we know it today.

How to Kill 1,000,000 Flies at Once
Let us trace the short life of the house fly, and then we shall best know how to get rid of them. Each year a certain number of flies and their larva live through the winter. As soon as warm weather appears, the female who has been hiding behind the picture molding or bit of torn wall paper, comes out and looks for a place to lay her eggs, where moisture and filth exist together. In side of one day, the first batch of 150 eggs has hatched to small white larva or maggots. After about five days, each maggot goes into a pupa stage in which the baby fly is wrapped in a tough, protective shell. About five days later, a full grown fly emerges from each shell. Since the maggot which developed in only a few days can travel considerable distance, the only way to check fly breeding is to remove garbage and manure twice a week, if these articles are not screened and treated with chemicals to destroy the eggs..... 23.25

Manure piles may be treated with borax at least once a week, one pound per horse. Iron sulphate also may be used. This prevents flies from breeding in manure heaps. But unless care is taken in cleaning a stable, flies may breed in small heaps of manure that have been overlooked from cleaning. Fly traps are also another way to get rid of flies.

98 OUT OF EVERY 100 WOMEN BENEFITED

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

As a general thing, progress waits upon the elimination of some as whose intentions are good.

A Delicious Dessert.

With a small jar of preserved fruit a delicious dessert can be made in a few minutes with Plymouth Rock Gelatine. One box of Gelatine will make four pints of jelly flavored exactly as you like it.—Advertisement.

There are times when every small boy wonders what parents are good for.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

She wouldn't think it was house-cleaning if she left one room fit to live in during the process.

WAYS OF SERVING VEGETABLES

The parsnip is a great favorite in the spring; served boiled then fried in butter, there is no more tasty vegetable. Parsnips, carrots, cabbage, turnips and potatoes in a boiled dinner cooked with a good-sized piece of fat, corned beef with a piece of fresh pork for further flavor, is a most enjoyable combination for those who have a good digestive apparatus.

Fricassee of Parsnips.—Cook four parsnips and three cupfuls of milk in a saucepan for fifteen minutes, add a tablespoonful of butter, salt and pepper to season, then place in the fireless cooker for four hours. Thicken the gravy with a little well-cooked flour before serving.

Cauliflower Hash.—Allow one cupful of chopped steak to two cupfuls of cauliflower, both previously cooked. Moisten with cream sauce or gravy, season to taste, cover with bread crumbs and bits of butter and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven.

Asparagus With Parsley.—Cook and drain the asparagus until tender by steaming. Drain, melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add a tablespoonful of flour, stir until well blended, add slowly one and one-half cupfuls of the water in which the asparagus was cooked, season with salt and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, add the asparagus and cook five minutes, then serve.

Peas in Turnip Cups.—Cook a dozen or less of small new turnips in boiling salted water. When tender scoop out a hollow with a sharp spoon and fill the cavity with creamed or buttered peas. Pour a rich white sauce over all and serve very hot.

Navy Beans With Cream.—Soak the beans over night and parboil until tender, seasoning with salt and pepper. Add two tablespoonfuls of butter and just before serving one cupful sweet cream, a spoonful of chopped parsley or a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Serve hot.

Away with clocks and sundials! Time and I Have made a compact—this to be my boon—To hear the evening thrush, and know the hour, Yet feel it noon. —Jean Dwight Franklin.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

Most people will enjoy a baked potato at any meal and for a person who has any intestinal trouble it is the only way to serve it. Long potatoes are more quickly baked than the shapely round ones. When the potato is thoroughly done, score with a cross on top and push back the skin, insert a piece of butter and serve at once.

When it is hard to think of anything for supper serve baked potatoes and sliced cold meat or codfish gravy.

A supper dish for a cool night or a good dinner dish is:

Fish Chowder.—Fresh fish cut into small pieces may be used in this dish, or codfish that has been freshened and softened in water. Take a quarter of a pound of salt pork, cut it into dice and fry in the chowder kettle until crisp and brown. Add six small onions sliced, stir until a golden brown, add six or eight medium-sized potatoes sliced thin, and sufficient water to cover and cook the vegetables. When they are nearly tender add the fish; if fresh, cook until it loosens from the bones; if codfish a few minutes' cooking will be sufficient.

Add one quart of hot water six milk crackers soaked in milk and seasoning as needed. Serve hot. Once tried this will be a dish that the family will ask for again and again.

Pork Chops and Parsnip Stew.—Put six or eight pork chops into a saucepan with five good-sized parsnips which have been washed, scraped and cut into one-inch pieces; add five diced raw potatoes, one onion, season with salt, pepper, and cook slowly for twenty minutes; thicken with a little flour, cover closely, adding moisture as needed and cook two hours.

Filling for Pineapple Pie.—Send a can of pineapple in a double boiler. Sift six tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and one cupful of granulated sugar; stir into the pineapple and cook until the starch is thoroughly cooked. Now add two tablespoonfuls of butter and the juice of half a lemon. Pour into the baked shell, cover with a meringue and brown lightly. Serve cold.

Oatmeal Gems.—Take one-quarter cupful of honey, one cupful of sour milk, one egg, one cupful of Graham flour, a little salt, one-half teaspoonful of soda; mix well, then add three tablespoonfuls of melted shortening. Pour into gem pans and bake in a moderate oven.

BIG CHECK FRAUD ON N. Y. MARKET

Most Colossal Scheme of Kind Ever Attempted on Wall Street.

STARTS A SELLING STAMPEDE

Spurious Buying Orders Involving $10,000,000 in Worthless Paper Starts Tide of Liquidation—Financiers Optimistic.

New York, May 8.—One of the most colossal frauds ever attempted was launched in Wall street Monday and before it was discovered had started a selling wave that ultimately all but demoralized the stock market. Although not widely responsible, the gigantic hoax, which was in some quarters credited to unscrupulous professional bear operators, was an important contributing factor in the stock market, which carried average prices to the lowest level this year.

At the close most financial and stock market interests were disposed to take a constructive view. It was asserted that the decline in securities had extended beyond reason, and there was evidence near the close of good support coming into the list as well as a fair amount of "bargain" buying. High-grade securities seasoned in character and with an established earning power behind them, held comparative well during the day and received their greatest support from banking and investment interests, but the volatile speculative stocks showed wide declines.

Closing prices of twenty high-grade industrial securities Monday night averaged 95.41, as compared with 96.73 on Saturday and 98.38 a week ago.

It is estimated that the fraudulent checks circulated involved nearly $1,000,000, which although small, was sufficient to unsettle sentiment and start a new tide of liquidation. The fraud took the form of spurious buying orders tendered to brokers accompanied by checks with forged certifications. They were mailed from numerous out-of-town points, mainly small cities in Pennsylvania and New York. Accepted as genuine, execution of the orders had the momentary effect of advancing the market, but when the banks notified brokerage houses of the falsity of the checks there was a rush to unload, as a protection to the firms that had been duped.

Youngblood was adjudged in contempt of the legislative committee when he refused to testify after having criticized the legislature.

Shanghai, May 8.—A report received in official circles says the bandits who raided the Peking express early Sunday morning at Suchow, Province of Kiangsu, capturing a large party of passengers, including foreigners, have demanded $2,000,000 (Mexican) ransom for all of the captives.

TERRY PRESENTS MORE EVIDENCE

Declares Tanlac Restored Him Recently for Second Time.

"About six years ago I sent in a statement for Tanlac and had a great many people ask me if it were really so that the medicine did so much for me. My answer was, 'Yes, indeed, even more,' and I am glad to say it all over again that Tanlac has no equal," said John L. Terry, 926 N. Third St., Springfield, Ill., the other day.

"Six years ago I was a sick man—completely run down and unable to get a particle of relief from my troubles. My old friend, Bob Clark, the druggist, put me on to Tanlac and the treatment fixed me up to where I felt like a new man, and I told Bob it couldn't be beat.

"I stayed in fine trim until two years ago when I felt run down again, so I took the treatment the second time, and haven't felt the need of medicine since. There's only one medicine for me."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

She Is, Is He?

It was while the World war was raging in Europe that a woman from the rural districts of a southern Kentucky county, visiting some new acquaintances in town, made the following remark:

"Yes, my niece is 'over there,' right in the thick of all that fightin'."

"Is your niece a Red Cross nurse?" asked the young woman hostess very much interested.

"No, he's a soldier."

QUITE A "PROMINENT FELLER"

Fact That "A. Louer" Was Very Much in Evidence in Paris Impressed Jay Gould.

Mrs. Barton French, who had taken a villa on the sea near Monte Carlo for the winter, said at a dinner party: "We Americans are poor linguists as a rule. I remember a story that Lord Dunsen once told me about Jay Gould.

"Jay Gould was visiting Paris, and Lord Dunsen devoted a day to driving him over the city. There happened to be a good many apartments to let at the time, and to let signs—A Louer—were stuck up everywhere. Jay Gould didn't seem to notice the Arc de Triomphe, or Notre Dame, or anything. A queer, silent little chap, Lord Dunsen said.

"But at the end of the day's sight-seeing Mr. Gould displayed a little interest at last.

"Who's this here A. Louer, Mr. Dunsen?" he said. 'Seems a pretty prominent feller.'"

She Doesn't Go So Far Back.

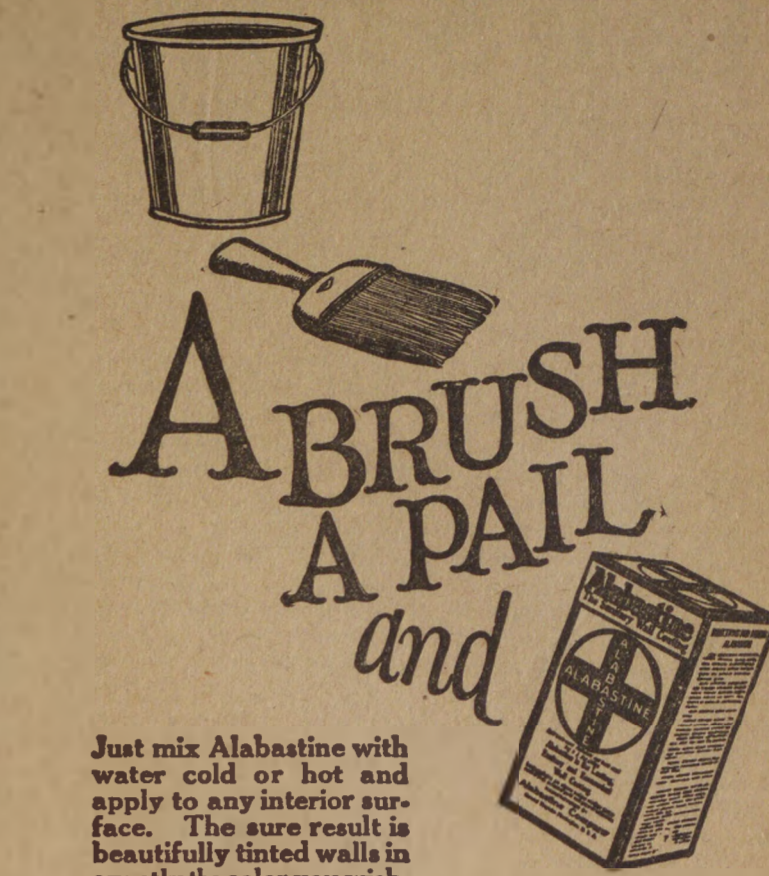

"I can remember the days of Adeline Patti," admits Mrs. Leonidas W. Van Quentin, "but I certainly have no recollection of the days of Bel Canto, of whom the older music critics are always speaking."—Kansas City Star.

A Woman's Reason.

Harsh Criticism.

Senator Ashurst of New Mexico tells this story: "The best story I know of is on myself. It happened several years ago, when I was making a speech in a little town in New Mexico and the crowd, of course, was made up of women as well as men. Up in the front row was an old lady, and I noticed her following intently every word I said.

"I launched into a defense of my policies, and, naturally, made the pledges I might be expected to make in the political campaign. Along toward the end of the speech the old lady in front got up and started to leave.

"Sweetened wind," was all she said as she stalked out. The crowd roared."—New York Herald.

Roman Remains in Britain.

Excavating for the foundation of a new factory to be erected at Keynsham, near Bristol, England, workmen recently unearthed Roman remains. The Daily Chronicle of London reports the discovery of coffins containing skeletons, a Roman needle about six inches long, a spoon and a brooch. The brooch is believed to have put the finishing touch upon the toga of a Roman gallant.

Rich Harvest of North Sea.

It is estimated that the quantity of fish caught annually in the North sea would fill a procession of two-ton trucks reaching from New York to San Francisco by way of New Orleans.

Radium's Energy.

An atom of radium in full activity is shown on a slide available to amateur microscopists in England. The mineral pitchblende is the source of radium, and under a strong lens a piece of this is seen to maintain a ceaseless and brilliant bombardment of particles which strike a screen. The sight gives an excellent and realistic example of terrific energy.

Why divide the family at breakfast?

WHY take coffee for yourself, while saying "No" to the children? It is true, as most parents are careful to explain, that little folks should not endanger health and growth through the drug element in coffee and tea, but—

Your health is valuable, too—and their desire for a hot drink with breakfast may be as great as yours.

There's complete satisfaction in Postum, and safety alike for young and old. Postum is a pure cereal beverage. It is coffee-like in color and flavor, but free from any element that can harm. Thousands who are now saying "No" to themselves as well as to the children, as a safeguard against coffee-ills, have found better comfort and better health, in Postum.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either is about one-half cent a cup.
