FIFTEEN SAFE HITS

MADE BY THE GOATS IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Stillman Valley no Match for the Local —Salander Pitches Another Good Game

The husky giants from Stillman Valley, the same who humbled the famous colored Union Giants some time ago, were in turn made to look like a piece of Chinese money last Saturday by the heartless bunch known as Jack's Goats. Only two men from the Valley could cross the pan while the Genoa rooters were given an opportunity to yell ten times.

It was a disgusted lot of fans during the first inning when such favorites as Ackerman and McKee both made errors. On the other side four errors were piled up allowing the Goats to score five times. But the juggling stopped right there and the exhibition during the other eight innings was all that any base ball crank could desire. The Goats made no more errors but played ball. Two and three baggers were easy and fifteen times did Genoa connect safely. The Valley boys got ten hits but they were so scattered as to be practically valueless. Salander again pulled the team out of some tight holes. Ackerman made up for his error in right field in the first by pulling in four high flies.

Despite the fact that Furr had caught but two or three games this season he allowed but one man to steal second. Kirby won the admiration of the bleachers at first by stopping two hot ones. All batted well, but McKee held the highest percentage for the game.

GENOA 2, KIRKLAND 1

It was just a fast, pretty game played at Kirkland last Sunday when Genoa came off the victors with the score 2 to 1. There were no special features, all the players on both teams playing ball at every stage of the game.

Neurauter pitched a superb game, allowing the Reds only three scratchy singles. Matthews for Kirkland held the Goats to six singles. The latter scored in the fourth and seventh and the Reds got their one mark in the second.

MONROE NEXT SATURDAY

Next Saturday the Genoa ball tossers will meet their old time rivals, the husky jads from Monroe, on the local diamond. When these two teams meet there is always much interest shown. The Monroe team is composed of a sturdy bunch of fine fellows who know how to play the game. The first game played this season by these two teams resulted in a victory for the Goats, the score being 2 to 0.

HUNTLEY-GENOA

Next Sunday, August 12, the Genoa team and Huntley will cross bats on the diamond at Hampshire. This will be a contest to a finish. Huntley claims the championship of McHenry County and is looking over this way for something they can not beat. They will probably find that something Sunday. A large number of rooters will follow the team to Hampshire. The Hampshire fans will turn out in a body and root for Genoa.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Barns and Sheds of Daniel Meyers Burn to the Ground

During the electrical storm last Thursday night a barn on the farm of Daniel Meyers, located about eight miles north west of Genoa, was struck by lightning and together with the other barn, corn crib and sheds, was burned to the ground.

The building was struck about eight o'clock in the evening and was quickly enveloped in flames despite the heavy rain. The structure was 50x70 and practically new. Four valuable horses were cremated in this barn, it being impossible to get them out. All the live stock in the other barn was saved, but the flames had gained such a rapid start there was no chance to save anything else. The large barn contained about 50 tons of hay, while stored in other places were all the season's barley and rye, farm implements and tools.

Every building on the place was destroyed except the house and the furniture had been removed from that so close did the flames hover over.

The buildings were partly covered by insurance.

ARTHUR HOYE KILLED

Milwaukee Train Runs over Brakeman at Roselle Saturday Evening

Arthur Hoyer, a brakeman on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul R'y. met death at Roselle Saturday evening.

Hoyer was going back over the train to the caboose and just as he was about to climb from the last car to the caboose he missed his footing and fell down under the wheels. His body was terribly mangled. He had made his home in Kirkland for a number of years while a brakeman on the milk train and later as a freight brakeman. He was a member of the Masonic lodge, the Eastern Star, Mystic Workers and Foresters and was highly regarded in the community. A sad feature of his untimely death is the fact that he was engaged to marry Miss Grace Murphy, daughter of station agent Murphy, and the wedding was to take place within a few months. His death proved an awful shock to the young lady. Hoyer's mother lives in Elgin where the funeral was held Tuesday. Delegations from all of the Kirkland lodges of which the deceased was a member attended. Hoyer was a brother of Train Dispatcher E. F. Hoyer who is located at Savanna. He was 24 years old. He carried $1,000 insurance in the Mystic Workers and had insurance in the other societies.

A new assortment of elite gravities were arrived direct from the factory at Perkins & Rosenfield

THE CORMACK CASE

APPELLATE COURT REVERSES DECISION

Gives Cormack Legal Possession of the Boy—States Attorney Will Push Kidnapping Case

The appellate court Tuesday handed down a decision in the much talked of Cormack kidnaping case. Wednesday's Rockford Republican says:

"Among the decisions handed down by the appellate court at Ottawa yesterday was one in the Cormack vs Marshall case about which there has been much in print.

The decision in the lower court was against Cormack, the minister who kidnaped his son and fled from the state with him. Mr. Cormack and his boy have been sojourning at Appleton, Wis., while the appeal has been pending.

The decision reverses the verdict of the lower court and Cormack and son can return from exile. The action of the appellate court is a big triumph for A. D. Early, attorney for Cormack as in taking up the case and securing the decision he established a precedent in habeas corpus cases which changes the practise in vogue for sixty years."

Mr. Cormack, some few years ago, instituted before Judge Bishop a proceeding in habeas corpus to obtain possession of the child and after an extended investigation the Judge was of the opinion that it was for the best interests of the child to remain in the custody of his grandfather and entered an opinion accordingly. The decision of Judge Bishop was generally concurred in by the members of the legal profession having knowledge of the facts, in this and neighboring counties.

Mr. Cormack afterwards instituted another proceeding of like character but the supreme court, after one of the greatest legal battles in the annals of the bar of this state, by divided court, held that the decision of the Judge Bishop was binding until reversed on writ of error or appeal. This holding that a writ of error or appeal would lie from the decision of the circuit court in a habeas corpus proceedings was the first time in the history of the state that that point had been determined by the supreme court.

Cormack then sued out a writ of error in the appellate court in which suit the above decision was made. After that and while, as Mr. Marshall contends, the child was lawfully in the custody and control of Mr. Marshall under the order of the circuit court, then in full force and effect, Mr. Cormack, with the assistance of another person, came to the school house near the Marshall farm, where the boy Kimball, was in attendance, and forcibly took possession of the boy taking him to Wisconsin. During the last session of our June term of circuit court, this matter was submitted to the grand jury and an indictment against Joseph Cormack was returned and his bail fixed at $3000, since which time Cormack has remained in Wisconsin and no arrest has been made, although a warrant is now in the hands of the sheriff of this county.

Six men for every mile of track, on the average, are employed by American railroad companies. On the British roads the number of employes to the mile of track is 28. As an exchange remarks, "This may be the reason for the almost utter absence of fatal accidents on the British roads as compared with the frightful slaughter that has for years been evident on our American roads."

NEW PRIMARY LAW

THE OLD-TIME CAUCUS IS A THING OF THE PAST

New Regulations Make Primary Election as strict as the Regular—Now in Effect

The old-time caucus is a thing of the past and in its place hereafter will be held primary elections according to rules laid down by the new law. Every citizen should become familiar with the provision of the new law. It being impossible for all to secure a copy, the Republican-Journal has decided to publish the same in installments, the first appearing this week. Voters should cut these out of the paper each week and paste them together in a scrap book. They will then understand the new order of things next spring.

AN ACT to provide for the holding and regulation of primary elections.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois represented in the General Assembly: That hereafter the nomination for candidates for Governor, Representatives in Congress, Members of the General Assembly, all county officers and all officers of any city, village or incorporated town organized under any general or special act of this state, by all political parties as defined in this act shall be made by means of a primary election under the provisions hereof. This act shall not apply to cities, villages or incorporated towns having a population of less than 1,000, as ascertained by the last preceding Federal census: Provided, further, that this act shall not apply to the nominations of candidates for judges of the Supreme and circuit courts, to county commissioners in counties not under township organization.

§ 2. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent nomination of candidates for any office or offices by petition, by any party as herein [therein] defined, pursuant to the provisions of sections 4, 5 and of an act entitled "An act to provide for the printing and distribution of ballots at public expense, and for the nomination for candidates for public office, to regulate the manner of holding elections, and to enforce the secrecy of the ballot," approved June 22, 1891, in force July 1, 1891: Provided, that the petition for such nomination shall be filed with the proper officers on or before 12 o'clock, noon, of the day previous to the day fixed for the primary election under the provisions of this act.

§ 3. A political party under the provisions of this act shall be held to mean a party which, at the last preceding presidential election, cast for its candidates for electors at least ten per cent of the total vote of the State shall be allowed to place the names of its candidates, or any of them upon any primary ballot.

§ 4. Each election precinct now established, or which may hereafter be established, for the purpose of a general election, shall constitute a primary district under this act: Provided, that where an election precinct is or hereafter may be divided into election districts, each election shall constitute a primary district under this act.

§ 5. A primary election, under this act, shall be held in each primary district, at the regular established place for holding general elections, on the last Saturday, in April, A. D. 1906, and on the last Saturday in April every two years hereafter, except that the primaries for cities, villages and incorporated towns shall be held on the first Saturday of March in the years in which their officers are to be elected. The polls of said primary election shall be open from 12 m. o'clock to 7 p. m. o'clock.

§ 6. At least thirty days before a primary election, the county central committee of each political party shall hold a meeting, a notice of which shall be sent to each member of said committee at least one week prior to date of said meeting. And at said meeting the said county central committee shall first determine whether or not the several county officers shall be nominated at the primary election, or by the delegates chosen at such primary to the county convention, but in case the names of all candidates for county officers shall be printed in a vertical column on the primary ballot and the candidate who shall receive the highest number of votes shall have the vote of all the delegates from the primary district as hereinafter provided, and if the said committee shall determine that said officers shall be nominated by primary ballot at such primary, they shall next determine whether said officers shall be nominated by a majority or plurality vote at such primary, and said committee shall also file in the county clerk's office of the respective county, a call for the county convention of its party. Said call shall state the time and place of holding the county convention, the offices for which candidates will be nominated at said primary; the total number of delegates which shall compose the convention, and the number of delegates to which each primary district will be entitled in the convention. And said call, if the county candidates are to be nominated at such primary, shall state whether the nominations for said county officers shall be made by a majority or plurality vote. The decision of said committee on the question of making the nominations at the primary election and whether by a majority or plurality vote shall be ascertained by a ye and nay roll call of the committee, which roll call shall be certified to by the chairman and secretary of the committee to the county clerk and filed with the call for such convention. No committeeman shall be permitted to name a proxy or to vote thereby, but every such committeeman, if unable to be personally present, shall notify the committee in writing how his vote shall be cast on the question of nominating by a majority or plurality vote at said primary; the chairman of the county committee shall publicly read and announce such vote of such absent committeeman and the same shall be recorded on roll call in like manner as those who are present, and said call shall be signed by the chairman and attested by the secretary of the county central committee. In case there be in any county of the State more than one county central committee claiming to be the regular committee, then, in that case, the county central committee that was selected by the nominating convention of 1904 and whose candidates were placed on the official ballot shall be recognized as the county central committee to make this call. Provided, that each primary district shall be entitled to at least one delegate to each county convention.

§ 7. All county conventions shall be held on the Thursday next following a primary election as herein provided.

§ 8. At least fifteen days before each primary election, the

Geo. Buck will Start Another State Bank at Hampshire, the Necessary Money Nearly all Subscribed

Hampshire Register: Hampshire will have another bank in the near future. George Buck, president of the Farmers' State Bank of Genoa, some time ago started the project and has now succeeded in getting a sufficient number of Hampshire people interested to insure its success. It is proposed to organize a state bank, with a capital stock of $25,000, and the Register is informed that the soliciting for subscriptions to that amount will be completed in a week or two.

A contemporary says that the possession of an automobile is not a sign that a man has a lot of money, but it is a sure indication that he needs a lot of it.

A Genoa Junction man has a sure cure for cottony scale. The recipe is to procure a saw and cut the limbs of the tree off a short distance from the trunk. You will not be annoyed by the cottony scale for some time at least.

A gentleman lying on his death bed, called his coachman, and said: "Ah Tom! I am going on a long and rugged journey, worse than you ever drove." "Oh dear sir," replied Tom, "don't let that discourage you, it is all down hill."

It is reported that a parasite has made its appearance which is destroying the Canadian thistle. And it is also asserted that the insect is so numerous and is doing the job so thoroughly that dread exists of the consequence when the succulent thistle shall be exhausted and the insect turns its appetite to something more useful. Not a few farmers in this vicinity however would be willing to run the risk if they could only get the good work started on the thistles.

A question having arisen relative to the payment of the highway commissioners under the law passed by the last legislature, which went into effect July 1, Attorney-General Stead has rendered an opinion that the new law, which fixes the compensation of commissioners of highways at $2 a day does not apply to commissioners of highways who were already in office on July 1st. The Attorney-General is of the opinion that any other interpretation of the law would be a violation of that section of the constitution of Illinois which provides that "the fee, salary or compensation of an municipal officer elected or appointed for a definite term of office shall not be increased or diminished during such term."

The supreme court has decided the driver of an auto must stop his machine on approaching a horse or team which he has reason to believe may become frightened. The fine for not complying with this rule is not less than $5 nor more than $200, or three months' imprisonment in the county jail.

When the electric line connecting Elgin with Belvidere is completed, Superintendent Ellis of Rockford system, is quoted as saying that the cars will make the run from Rockford to Chicago in three hours. This is as good a time as is made by the average train. The cars for the new line will be similar to the ones now used between Belvidere and Rockford with the exception that they will be equipped with smoking apartments,

MAGAZINE REVIEW

With feet shod with silence, let us creep near a dense tangle of sweet-brier and woodbine late some summer evening and listen to the sounds of the night-folk.

How few there are that our ears can analyze! We huddle close to the ground and shut our eyes.
Then little by little, we open them and set our senses of sight and hearing at keenest pitch. Even so, how handicapped are we compared with the wild creatures. A tiny voice becomes audible, then dies away,—entering for a moment the narrow range of our coarse hearing,—and finishing its message of invitation or challenge in vibrations too fine for our ears.

TWO ECLIPSES

Will be Visible in Genoa During the Month of August.

Genoa people who wish to catch a glimpse of this year's eclipse of the sun will be compelled to do more than provide themselves with smoked glasses, for by the decree of the heavens those who linger in bed many minutes after sunrise will receive no intimation of the fact that the sun has just emerged from a shadow and that over in Algiers scientific parties from many parts of the world are gathered to make observations on the total eclipse.
This eclipse of the sun which occurs August 30, will be only partially visible here from sunrise at 5:14 o'clock until 6:38, when it completely emerges from the shadow, says the Belvidere Republican.

The partial eclipse of the moon on the night of August 14 will be visible for over two hours, from 8:47 o'clock until 10:51. The moon eclipse will be visible generally throughout the whole of North and South America, Africa and the Atlantic ocean and in part of Europe, Africa and the Pacific ocean. While the eclipse of the sun 16 days later, will be visible to Europe, the North Atlantic ocean, the eastern portion of North America, the western part of Asia and the northern half of Africa.

The moon will be at its full diameter on the night of August 15, and the magnitude of the eclipse will be 0.292. The first contact of the shadow will be 46 degrees from the moon's limb toward the east.

A Touching Story

is the saving from death, of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyer of Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months our little girl was in declining health, with serious throat trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and now is in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. At Hunt's Pharmacy; 50c or $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

The Patriot.

A resident of Ava, N. Y., was talking about the late Hiram Cronk, the last survivor of the war of 1812. "At the age of a hundred," said the Ava man, "Mr. Cronk still had an alert mind. Above all things he was a patriot. He believed firmly in the supremacy of our republic."

"An English traveler, out of curiosity, came to Ava to see Mr. Cronk one day. The old patriot praised America extravagantly and condemned England as an outworn and dying nation."

"The Englishman stood this talk as long as he could. Then he said hotly:

"Suppose our superb fleet were to land 25,000 British marines in New York. What would you Yanks do then?"

"Do?" said Mr. Cronk. "Why, dern it, our police would arrest them."—New Orleans States.

How Emerson Impressed the Guide.

A New York man fond of passing much of his time in the Adirondacks tells a story with reference to a visit made to that picturesque region by Ralph Waldo Emerson. According to one of the old guides, who remembered the philosopher, Emerson had enjoyed his stay immensely. "Once some one asked this guide, known as Steve, what sort of an impression the Sage of Concord had made upon the natives. "Well, sir," obligingly responded the guide, "he was a gentleman, every inch of him, as nice a chap as you'd care to see—pleasant and kind. And he was a scholar, too, allus figgerin', studyin' and writin', though we did think he'd had a better time a-huntin' an' a-fishin'; but, sir, I'm here to state that he was the almighty, home-fest critter for his age that ever came into these woods!"—Harper's Weekly.

A Labor Saving Device.

Bradley Martin, Jr., described at a dinner party an eccentric Scottish keeper of his employ.

"This keeper," he said, "was once guiding a shooting party that hunted up near the top of a steep and high mountain. Suddenly, when they had reached a great height, one of the beaters gave a loud yell and seized himself by the back of the neck. Through his interlocked white fingers bright blood oozed. The man had been peppered with stray shot in the nape."

"The keeper, seeing the blood and thinking the accident much worse than it really was, bawled out excitedly:

"Run, Dugald! Run down the hill! Heaven only knows how far we'll have to carry ye."—San Antonio Express.

MINERALS

Fine Display at Lewis and Clark Exposition

Did you know that eposon salts which you buy at your druggist's for ten cents an ounce are found in Wyoming in beds as big as a small farm? The salts are found in various arid regions of the state, and are almost unlimited in quantity. They comprise only one of a number of strange mineral products exhibited by Wyoming in the Mines and Metallurgy building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

The substance from which asbestos cloth is made is found extensively in Wyoming. Asbestos ore is light, and is covered with a fuzzy substance. Volcanic ash also is found in several localities in Wyoming, and Albany counties there is a bed of it four feet deep. You can rub a little of this ash on your handkerchief and clean a watch case with it. The ash is the basis of the much advertised and popular scouring soaps.

At the Lewis and Clark Exposition is exhibited by the state of Wyoming a chunk of natural soda weighing half a ton, which looks like an immense cake of ice. The soda is found in various parts of Wyoming, notably in carbon, Natrona and Albany counties, at depths ranging from a few inches to sixteen feet.

Wyoming produces also a substance called Bensonate or natural soap. It is a tasteless, odorless mineral, without grit, and strange it may seem, is used for the most part in adulterating cheap candies. Its importance as an adjunct to the soap industry has not yet been ascertained.

Odds and Ends of Soap.

Odds and ends of soap can be put to a good use if, when a number of them have accumulated, they are almost covered with alcohol. This forms a thick jelly, which is readily dissolvable in water, and will be found useful for shampooing, in manieuring the hands and in the bath.

Sangaree.

To one quart of rich, unsweetened grape juice add one-fourth cup of cold water and sugar sirup and one-half teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Just before serving grate ice in the glasses until heaped up. Serve with cake.

Black Lead Stains.

Black lead stains on carpet should be covered with a paste made of fuller's earth and water, to which a little ammonia has been added, left till absolutely dry and then well brushed.

Baking Potatoes.

A good rule for baking potatoes is to wash and boil in the usual way till nearly done, and then finish by baking. They are whiter and mealier than when baked the old way.

"DO IT TO-DAY!"

"And to think that ten months ago I looked like this! I owe it to German Syrup."

"The time-worn injunction, 'Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day,' is now generally presented in this form: 'Do it to-day!' That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TO-DAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists."

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Directions For the Cleansing of Upholstered Furniture.

Upholstered chairs, settees, etc., should be well brushed and switched, in the open air if possible, to remove all dust. A little breadcrumb well rubbed over the surface and then carefully brushed off restores their freshness wonderfully. Leather seated chairs are improved by being lightly rubbed over with a piece of flannel dipped into a cleanser made by shaking together in a bottle equal parts of boiled linseed oil and vinegar. Apply very lightly, rub well into the leather and then polish with a soft cloth. For morocco leather, after well dusting it use a very little milk applied with a soft cloth and then wipe it off carefully. Egg glair is also excellent for renovating all kinds of leather. For this whip together the white of one raw fresh egg and half a gill of water until the egg is perfectly dissolved and the liquid is quite frothy. Let this stand until the froth has subsided, when the clear part is poured off, applied to the leather with a soft paint brush and then well polished off with a clean old silk handkerchief.

Care of Musical Instruments.

Stringed instruments are to be kept from all dampness, as every one knows, but few realize that violins should never stand on the floor, even in a case, for drafts will injure both wood and strings. They should always be kept on a table or in a drawer, needless to say in cases. Many musicians say that violins should always be kept strung tight, but that mandolins should not be. Also banjos should never be hung against a chimney, no matter how pleasing the artistic effect, for the dry heat will warp the wood and soften the glue. Both of these instruments should have the strings loosened when not in use.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but use the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all dangers avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by G. H. Hunt.

OUR FASHION LETTER.

The Accepted Costume For the Athletic Girl.

THE SHORT, SEMIFITTING COAT.

The Feather Boa as a Rival of the Empire Scarf—Waistcoats of White Pique on Tailored Coats—Lace Coats For Dressy Occasions.

The half length semifitting coat and plain gored skirt made with a decided flare at the bottom is one of the accepted models for the athletic girl's costume.

With the gored circular skirt the golling or tennis girl who goes in for picturesque effects will wear a jaunty little box coat. There are all sorts of styles in boleros for outing wear, but this summer they are not considered as smart as the longer coat models.

White serge when the outing costume is for show and dark blue or chevot mixtures are the materials most employed. On white serge frocks extra linen cuffs and collars that button on over the cloth are attractive. Red or dull blue on white serge gives a pretty touch of color. The coats are usually trimmed with large white pearl buttons.

The new long silk travelling coats are perfectly fascinating. A hood on some of these garments is a smart addition. One very stunning coat of this description is of silver gray taffeta, the double breasted fronts fastened with dull silver buttons and a pretty shirred hood ornamenting the back. The sleeves are moderately full and fit into a loose turned back cuff.

The coat illustrated is of navy blue rajah silk and is especially designed for automobiling. The sleeves are loose and full and finished at the wrist with regulation automobile cuffs drawn up with elastic through straps of the silk. The buttons are of dark blue enamel.

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

Empire scarfs this season are certainly attractive enough to satisfy Venus herself, but if the descendants of this famous beauty tire of gauze, chiffon and filmy silk about their dainty throats they may wear one of the new ostrich feather boas that come in all becoming smart colors.

The new feather boa is like a collar, going only around the neck. It is flat and made on a wide, soft band of satin ribbon, to give it body, and is full, fluffy, but not too tightly curled.

A dainty tulle boa may easily be made with a piece of satin fitted about the throat, lying flat as a foundation, which may be as deep as one desires. Rows of tulle very thickly ruffled are sewn on the lining one above the other. Streamers of tulle caught with a chou of satin ribbon to weigh them are a pretty finish, or the boa may simply fasten with a clasp.

White leather belts and shoes may be cleaned with purified gasoline, the belts either regularly washed in the gasoline or rubbed with a wet cloth. The shoes are cleaned, too, by this latter method. Ooze and buckskin belts and shoes are cleaned with pipe clay, which is put on wet and allowed to dry. When perfectly dry it is brushed off. The cool waist pictured is of pongee in natural color. It has a Byron collar inset with pale green silk, which material also makes the shoulder straps. An edging of ruffled silk outlines these straps as well as the center box plait, the fitted girdle and the tops of the deep cuffs.

COATS AND WAISTCOATS.

Waistcoats of white pique are smarter on tailored coats than those of embroidery. Velvet collar and cuffs are used on linen and cotton materials, and lingerie and linen fabrics trim woolen costumes.

Lace coats, both long and short, will be worn with chiffon, net and silk skirts for dressy occasions. All kinds of lace is employed for this purpose, including a new variety called "baby Irish," which is a little lighter in appearance than the parent Irish point.

The French are approving this summer of coats of dyed laces, particularly in straw color. A burnt orange lace blouse is considered very stunning.

Moss rosebuds that came back to fashion with the 1836 styles have survived these Victorian modes in favor. One of the most fascinating of the many pretty handbags seen is one of pale blue heavy silk made up with a gold frame and chains. A graceful design in gold sequins is worked on one side of the bag.

The chic hat illustrated is of sky blue straw turned up in the saucy style approved by Dame Fashion. A bandeau of blue velvet raises the shape becomingly from the face. It is simply trimmed with a white osprey aigret and blush roses.

COSTUMES FOR WEE FOLK.

White is the prettier color—if color it may be termed—to dress small children in all the year round, but in summer the white dress is especially attractive. Children's clothes are now both simple and pretty. Even the "best frock" is not ruined with fussiness.

A serviceable material for girls' dresses when linen is thought too expensive goes by the name of "butcher's cotton." It costs about 12 cents a yard.

Nainsook, dotted and embroidered swiss, dimities and sheer lawns are all made up into pretty attractive frocks trimmed with valenciennes lace and fine embroidery.

For these thin dresses the two piece models are best. By making the skirt separate from the bodice the flare which is so necessary a part of a very smart frock is insured. These skirts are very short, the shorter the fuller.

Dark and gay plaids in gingham are being made into dainty gullepe dresses. The little white gullepe relieves the dress from seeming too heavy a coloring for summer.

Lingerie hats are worn with these thin dresses, and in the morning tan shoes are the proper things if mother finds white footwear too expensive for all occasions.

Russian and sailor suits for boys are the approved style, carried out in linen, duck, chambray, gingham and any material that is sturdy and at the same time smart.

The dainty chaille frock in the cut is especially designed for cool days in summer. The short skirt is trimmed at the bottom with a puffing of chaille. About the emplacement of lace on the bloused waist is a like puffing. A tight cuff of lace reaches almost to the shoulders, where it meets tiny puffed sleeves.

TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Wm. Clefford of Cherry Valley Becomes Dependent With Sickness

William Irvin Clefford, a resident of Cherry Valley, committed suicide Tuesday afternoon in a pasture, about 2½ miles south of the village. The deceased was a nephew of A. B. Clefford of this city and for some years with his parents resided on the latter's farm near Genoa.

The body was found by his brother, Edward, shortly after three o'clock.

The weapon, a shot gun, was found lying across the body. A portion of the head had been blown away by the discharge and it was almost impossible to recognize the features, identification being made by the clothes.

Edward Clefford and family are in camp along the Kishwaukee. Mr. Clefford had been notified by his brother William that the latter would be in camp Tuesday afternoon and accordingly Edward awaited his arrival. After waiting some time Edward, accompanied by Seth Hall, started on a tramp along the river. As they were making their way back to camp they came upon the body, lying near a small bush.

Deputy Coroner Louis Marsh was notified of the shooting and went to Cherry Valley in the afternoon to conduct the inquest.

Edward Clefford testified that his brother was of unsound mind, at times giving evidence of being insane. He had been ill at various times and for more than half a year had not been well. It is that that his illness made him despondent, and it was during that state that he committed the deed.

The jury returned a verdict of suicide by shooting while temporarily insane.

The deceased was born in Indiana 29 years ago. He had been a resident of Cherry Valley township for the past six years.

The remains will be taken to Hobart, Ind., for interment.

"Cherry Valley"

The magnificent production of "Cherry Valley" that comes to the Genoa opera house, Tuesday, Aug. 15, like "The Old Homestead" and "Sag Harbor" appeals to the general public tastes. It deals naturally with life as it is among the sun-kissed hills of Virginia, where the scenes are laid. There is no claptrap or artificial element in the play. It is a mirror of human nature that is graphically pictured. Being a melodrama of course there are exciting incidents, villainy and pathetic scenes but they are relieved by wholesome comedy so the play possesses light and shade in various forms. The company is a competent one and the scenery new and picturesque.

Recent Experiments.

A pin prick and a drop of blood on a glass slide will tell whether your blood is in a healthy condition or not. Every healthy man should have five million red blood corpuscles to every square millimeter of blood. If there are too many white blood corpuscles the person is said to be anemic and run down. A chemical test of the water from the human body will tell whether the kidneys are in good health or not. These tests of health are conducted by expert physicians and chemists every day. Such examinations are made without cost. This is only a very small part of the work of the staff of physicians and surgeons under the direction of Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the founder and director of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of that city. To build up the body that has been weakened by an attack of grip, pneumonia or typhoid, write Dr. R. V. Pierce for advice, giving all your symptoms, and he will give you the best medical advice, and without cost. For those who are weakened by the after effects of a bad cold, cough or grip, nothing will eradicate poison from the blood so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. A most stimulating tonic because it goes to work in the right way, assisting the stomach to assimilate the food thus furnishing the blood proper nourishment, which in turn feeds the nerves. The blood should contain red blood corpuscles, which are capable of warding off the attack of germs if they get into our systems. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is just what is needed and it has received the praise of thousands of people throughout the United States.

The fire came at a bad time as plans were being made for a new residence. The family have much sympathy in their loss.

such a place as will enable them to see each person as he offers his vote and said challengers may remain within the polling place throughout the canvass and until the returns are signed. The challengers shall be permitted to remain so near that they can see the judges and clerks are faithfully performing their duties. All challengers shall be qualified primary electors in their respective districts and shall have the same powers as challengers at general elections.
