A MOTHER'S DEATH

SADDENS THE HOME OF C. A. GODING OF GENOA

Mrs. C. A. Goding is Summoned Monday Morning after Short Illness—Funeral Wednesday Forenoon

Mrs. C. A. Goding died at her home in this city Monday morning after a short illness. Inflammatory rheumatism affecting the heart was the cause of death.

The news of her death came to her many friends like a thunder-bolt out of a clear sky, so unexpected was the announcement. Following is the obituary read by Rev. T. Ream at the funeral services:

"Mrs. Edna Carrie Goding, maiden name Rudolph, was born in Sycamore township, DeKalb Co., Ill., July 5, 1874 and died at her own home in Genoa, Ill., May 22, 1905, being 30 years, 10 months and 17 days of age at the time of her death.

"She was one of a large family of children of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rudolph, who moved to the town of Spring Boone Co. Ill., when their daughter Edna was but an infant, and from that time for more than twenty years her life was spent in the town of Spring where she was intimately acquainted and where all who knew her learned to love and respect her.

"When a young woman about twenty-two years of age she was united in marriage to Cleveland A. Goding, June 4, 1896, and into their home two children were born, Hazel Rudolph Goding now 8 years of age and George Goding now 5 years of age.

"For the past several years Mrs. Goding's home has been in Genoa, Ill., and while there has made a great many friends who today sorrow deeply over her sudden and unexpected departure.

"Besides her bereaved and sorrowing husband and her motherless little girl and little boy who cannot now fully understand their almost unspeakable loss, she leaves to sorrow, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rudolph and eight brothers and four sisters. Her brothers are: Alvin, Franklin, Albert, George, Fred, and Edward Rudolph all living in the town of Spring and Wm. Rudolph of South Bend, Indiana.

"Her sisters are: Mrs. B. R. Lucas of Belvidere, Ill., Mrs. Eva Taylor and Miss Mabel and Lila Rudolph of Spring Ill., all of whom are bowed down in sorrow because of this death. Besides relatives and members of her own family a large circle of friends and neighbors both in Genoa and at her girlhood home sorrow today because of her departure.

"When a child she was baptized in the Christian faith and had never through life forgotten its meaning and sacredness. She was much a woman of her home, devoting herself largely to her loved ones there.

"She quite frequently attended the M. E. church here in Genoa and was especially conscientious about keeping her children in the Sunday school. She held that it was the sacred duty of a mother to teach her children to pray and to instruct them early in the truth of the Bible, and in all this she was most faithful and conscientious.

"Her sudden death was a shock to the entire community and her most intimate friends and neighbors realize that in her death they have lost a sympathetic, faithful, praying woman.

"God's providences control still in all of life's battles and trials, in all of life's joy's and sorrows, in all of life's intricate and minute activities; and while we sorrow, even there comes that divine consolation:

"All things work together for good to them that love God."

The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the M. E. church conducted by Rev. T. E. Ream, who preached a most beautiful and consoling sermon. Members of the Elk lodge from Genoa, Hampshire and Elgin acted as pall bearers. Mesdames E. A. Robinson, C. A. Patterson, Fred Marquart and F. W. Olmsted and Miss Florence Clefford furnished the music. The floral offerings were beautiful. Interment place at the Genoa cemetery.

Pegleg Hunt Obituary

Mr. Peleg Hunt was born at New Lebanon, Columbia County, New York, August 10, 1823 and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fannie King of Charter Grove, Ill., being 81 years, 9 months and 7 days of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Hunt was united in marriage to Miss Mary Cummings, December 3, 1847, while residing in New York state.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt moved from New York to Illinois in 1845 and settled at Lisbon in Kendall Co. where they remained about two years. They then moved to Morris, in Grundy Co., Ill., where they spent the greater part of their lives.

Into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt four children were born, three daughters and one son. The youngest daughter died about two years ago. The surviving children are, George Hunt of Sycamore, Ill., Mrs. Jennette Hutchinson of Joliet, Ill., and Mrs. Fannie King of Charter Grove, Ill., all of whom are bowed down in grief over the unexpected death of their beloved father. He also leaves seven grandchildren to mourn his departure.

Of his father's family he leaves two brothers and three sisters. His brothers are James and Frank Hunt both of Morris, Ill. His sisters are Mrs. Sarah Waterbury of Nassau, N. Y., Mrs. Frances Bly of Minooka, Ill., and Miss Marietta Hunt of Minooka, Ill.

Mr. Hunt was among the old settlers in the state of Illinois, having come from New York in the pioneer days, fifty years ago. He has not been as well acquainted in this part of the country as he was in Grundy Co. where he had been engaged in farming for more than forty years. About five years ago he came with his wife to Charter Grove, Ill., to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Fannie King, and all who made his acquaintance loved and respected him. But by far the greater number of his old friends and neighbors live in Grundy Co., and are grieved to hear of his sudden death.

A little more than a year ago his wife, his life long companion through all his toil and hardships passed away and from that time to his end there has been a heart longing on his part to go and be at rest with her.

Mr. Hunt was a good man, a man of faith, a man who followed the light as he saw the light, and conscientious and true. He loved God's word and made it his guide and he believed that not only the lips but the whole life should pray. He reckoned with death as a fact knowing that it would come to all and that it would come to him. He was ready for the day. He had not been well for some time past, and yet he was not confined to his bed but a short time. The messenger came suddenly and called him to the great future land of the souls' abode.

Of God's promises contained in the Bible concerning the salvation and the future life, speaking in his characteristic way he said, "I believe them all." And today even in our grief we can take up the poet's words:

"One less at home!
A sense of loss that meets us at the gate,
Within, a place unshaded and desolate,
And far away, our coming to wait
One more in heaven!
"One less on earth!
It's pain, it's sorrow and it's toil to share,
One less the pilgrim's daily cross to bear,
One more the crown of ransomed souls to wear
At home in heaven!"

Funeral services were held at Mrs. King's home, last Friday afternoon at two o'clock and at 2:30 at the Charter Grove church. The ladies' quartette of Genoa furnished the singing.

Rev. T. E. Ream officiated at the services and preached from the text: Romans 8: 18; "For I reckon that the sufferings of the present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us."

The funeral was largely attended by friends and neighbors from Sycamore and Genoa.

HEAP BIG INJUN

Takes Scalp of Genoa Ball Team in 20th Century Style

The Nebraska Indians proved all that is claimed for them at the base ball park last Saturday when they trimmed the Goats' whiskers to the tune of 11 to 0. It was a one sided game from the start, the locals never having a chance to get their hands on the scalping knife. The red men are ball players and in every move show their thoro training. The game was absolutely devoid of any particular features unless it was the ease and confidence with which the westerners handled the ball. They were not long hitters like the coons who have played in Genoa but were usually sure of landing on the ball.

The Goats made a better showing at Electric Park Sunday when they met the DeKalb aggregation. They suffered defeat, but by so narrow a margin that it was not even bitter, the score being 5 to 4. It was a fine game and again showed the boys as really good players. The disastrous results on Saturday were due to a great extent to lack of practice. It was a good lesson however, and they will now get down to business in earnest. Genoa will see some good games this summer. The game with a professional team should not be counted too heavily against the boys. Give them a fair show.

DAN BERRY KILLED

Famous State Senator Shot at His Home in Mt. Carroll Monday

Senator Dan Berry, for years one of the prominent lawyers of Carroll county and equally prominent as a politician in Northern Illinois, was assassinated in cold blood at his office door in Mt. Carroll Monday morning.

At 9 o'clock an unknown man called him to his office door and without saying a word as far as anyone can learn, shot at him twice. One of the bullets killed him instantly.

Senator Berry was prominent in the Illinois legislature for years. He was often mentioned for speaker.

A message from Savanna this morning states that the man Pulford, who was suspected of being the murderer, was found dead this (Thursday) morning. It is thought that he took his own life.

JACKMAN-IRVINE

Genoa Man Takes a Bride at Apple River, Illinois

At 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, May 24, at the home of the bride's mother in Apple River, Ill., occurred the marriage of Mr. W. H. Jackman of this city and Miss Mabel G. Irvine. After a short sojourn at the lakes the happy ones will come to Genoa and make their home here.

They were married according to the rites of the beautiful ring ceremony, Rev. Kearns, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Warren, officiating. The wedding march was played by Miss Mattie Snyder of Janesville.

The bride wore a gown of pink silk mull over pink silk and carid pink roses. The rooms were decorated in pink and white.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frances Irvine and has many friends in Genoa, having made this her home at one time with her sister, Mrs. S. R. Crawford. She is a winsome young lady and possessed of those qualities that tend to make and keep friends. Her many friends here will be pleased to welcome her in returning to Genoa.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Jackman. He has spent his entire life in this vicinity and is a graduate of the Genoa schools. He was recently taken into partnership by his father in the coal and feed business. Will is a hustler, has practically taken full charge of the office work and has a bright business career before him.

About ninety guests were present, many being from Chicago, Janesville, Warren, Galena and Genoa. The presents were numerous and exquisite, consisting of cut glass, silverware, furniture and not a little cash.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackman have the best wishes of all their Genoa friends for a future of joy unalloyed.

The following were present from Genoa: Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Jackman, Mrs. Whitwright and son, Max, Mrs. VanAlstine, Mrs. S. R. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Brown, Miss Elma Smock and Dr. C. H. Mordoff.

Don't "Knock"

There are nine ways in which you can hurt your town, says an exchange. The following are well worthy the thoughtful consideration of every citizen: Oppose improvements, mistrust our public men, run down the town in the presence of strangers, go to some other town to do your trading, refuse to advertise in your home paper, be careful to discredit the motives of public spirited men who are working for the interests of the town, lengthen your face when strangers speak of locating here, and tell them its the worst place on earth; if a man wants to buy your property charge him two prices for it. It will be the last chance to give the town a dig; refuse to see merit in any scheme that does not benefit you or yours.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. DIED MONDAY

J. E. White of Belvidere Succumbs to Apoplexy

J. E. White, a former Kingston resident, was found dead in his bed at Belvidere by his landlady early Monday morning. The cause of death was apoplexy.

Sunday, Mr. White appeared in his usual good health and when he retired at night had his plans all made and told what he intended doing the following day. The grim visitor came and touched him with the hand of death in the early morning hours.

Coroner W. G. Hawkey was notified and an inquest was held at 8:30 Monday morning.

James Ernest White was born in Belvidere, April 3, 1855. He was united in marriage to Miss Francis Bowker of Kingston, October 25, 1882. Mrs. White died about five years ago.

The funeral was held Tuesday at 2 o'clock, Rev. E. D. Hull of the M. E. Church officiating.

Anniversary Services

The anniversary exercises given by the Epworth League last Sunday evening at the M. E. church called out a full house which was richly entertained by the evening's program. Several addresses were given upon several phases of Epworth League work, and music of a high character was rendered by the singers, of which special mention should be made, where a ladies quartette consisting of Misses Maude Benson, Ruth Benson, Grace Pratt and Blanche Pratt, rendered very fine music.

Taken all in all, the program shows that the league is quite alive and should deserve very material increase in her ranks as a result of the program.

Saved By Dynamite
Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that fire can not cross. Sometimes a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, and colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and la grippe. At Hunt's Pharmacy, price 50c and 1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

For Sale—4 acres of land, good house, barn, chicken house and other outbuildings. Plenty of fruit and shrubbery, city water. All in good repair and at a price that is right. D. S. BROWN.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Very Best

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.

If you want to buy a residence at any price from $500 to $5000 come and see me. I can fit you. D. S. BROWN, at Exchange Bank, Genoa, Ill. 15-11

A Clever Apology.
This is the classic apology of a celebrated statesman of the last generation: "Mr. Speaker, in the heat of debate I stated that the right honorable gentleman opposite was a dishonest and unprincipled adventurer. I have now, in a calmer moment, to state that I am sorry for it."—London Tit-Bits.

Better Late Than Never.
In no country in the world are courtships so abnormally long as in Bohemia, where engagements commonly last from fifteen to twenty years, in fact, there recently died at the age of 99 an old man who had been courted for seventy-five years, and who was married on his deathbed.

Ship Canal Across Scotland.
The only heavy cut necessary in making the ship canal across Scotland from the German sea to the Atlantic, near Glasgow, will be one at Lock Lomand averaging 200 feet deep for one and three-quarter miles. In the remainder of the route the average will be fifty feet.

Name Is Handicap.
Prof. Irwin Rautenstruach of Washington university has asked the courts to change his name. Very few people are able to pronounce it correctly, he says, and he is getting tired of being called "Rotenstraw," which name was conferred upon him in his school days.

Pope Smokes Cigarettes.
While many of his predecessors have been snufftakers, Pope Plus X is said to be the only Roman pontiff who has smoked tobacco. He smokes both cigars and cigarettes and has even been known to enjoy a smoke from a well-colored meerschaum.

Wants Pure Milk.
So important is the Pasteurizing of milk deemed by Russia that the imperial minister of agriculture has announced an international competitive show of apparatus for that purpose in St. Petersburg next spring.

Finds Rare Skeleton.
In digging under the foundations of the Daily Chronicle office in Fleet street, London, a well-preserved skeleton of the extinct woolly rhinoceros was found. It has been sent to the South Kensington Museum.

Popular With Workingmen.
The popularity of Germany's railway minister (Herr Budde) is illustrated by the fact that nearly 20,000 laboring men bought his latest portrait—a lithograph costing 15 cents.

Makes Coal More Productive.
Such has been the improvement in engine boilers and fire-boxes that the power derived from a pound of coal to-day is nearly three times as great as it was fifty years ago.

The Weekly Fashion Letter

Chemisettes are to be seen on all the smart summer waists. The U shaped ones are the most fashionable. They are made of the finest handkerchief linen daintily embroidered and put together as carefully as the finest baby clothes with tiny beadings, laces and insertions. The collars are carefully shaped, and the whole chemisette fastens with French loops and lace buttons.

Thin buds made of brussels net is a new trimming for blouse waists. Outpassementerie. The elbow sleeves finish with a ruffle of the silk and lace.

UP TO DATE LINGERIE.
Charming sets of handmade lingerie are at hand in the shops ready for the early summer bride to add to her trousseau. Handmade underwear is always the daintiest, therefore the most expensive to buy, but many charming pieces of lingerie may be added if the bride elect is clever with her needle. Regulation bridal sets contain three pieces, and an extra short petticoat is often added.

The new gowns are made in chemise style, to be drawn over the head, and with very short or elbow length sleeves. The new feature is broderie anglaise

FEMINE FRIBBLES.
Some of the prettiest effects in shirt waist suits are to be seen in changeable silk showing red and green. The skirts are very full and tucked at the bottom, and the waist and sleeves are also tucked. These suits are quite inexpensive and wear beautifully throughout an entire season.

Sailor shapes covered with Irish point and trimmed with a ruche of gether with two soft wings of pale yellow, form a trimming about the crown. Under the brim near the edge is an inch wide band of black velvet, and toward the face are folds of yellow tulle.

HOT WEATHER MODES.
Sleeves are getting smaller every week and all semblance of droop at the wrist has vanished. The fullness, what there is of it, comes from the elbow.

With all the changes going on in styles skirts remain almost the same. For every day washtub gowns the new five gored pattern is the best to fining a yoke trimmed with valenciennes lace these buds are most attractive.

The almost impossible task of getting more fullness into the skirt about the feet is accomplished with an embroidered ruffle shaped and gathered into half circles which join at the tips. Under this ruffle is another one with all the material plaited into it that can possibly be managed. This plaiting only shows in between the sections of the ruffle, but fluffs it out in the airiest fashion.

The girl's frock illustrated is of white india silk. About the bottom of the skirt are rows of tiny tufts above a band of white silk braid. The waist falls on an all over lace yoke in two double box plaits, flanked by several side ones. Outlining the yoke are bands of the braid trimmed with silk trimming applied as a yoke. Many of the chemise gowns have V shaped yokes in front which round in the back, whence the fullness falls. Entire sleeves cut bell shaped to the elbow are made of the broderie. Both the sleeves and yoke are run with wash ribbon. The yoke is attached to the nainsook skirt with narrow beading, which also holds the shirt seams together.

Another pretty yoke is made with strips of fine sheer nainsook crosscrossed with half inch wide val lace insertion. The yoke and sleeves are edged with val beading. Ribbon is run through the beading on the sleeves and finished at the elbow with bows. The yoke has the same ribbon finish tied in a bow in the center. Yoke and sleeves can be cut first and crosscrossed with the lace afterward, but the material must be cut from under the lace after it is sewed on.

The corset cover shown in the cut is designed to wear under the new tight fitting bodices. It fastens in the back and is trimmed with insertion and medallions of lace. The material is fine shaded ribbon made full and fluffy about the crown are simple to make and very becoming.

Blouse waists this summer are not the floppy shapeless garments they were last season. To be smart they must fit perfectly. The well fitting waist has no side seams, but the underarm seam is curved to the figure, and the shoulder line curves toward the back. There is, of course, no "droop" at the waist line, and the plaits run from shoulder to belt. The sleeves are rather large all the way down, and the cuff, if cuff there be, is deep or the sleeve is put into a band.

The summer girl will be beribboned to her heart's content. For her dressy white frock she may have several sets of tiny ribbon rose wreaths in empire designs with which to adorn both skirt and waist. She may also wear with the same creation a rose boa made of soft satin ribbon manipulated into roses and sewn thickly on a foundation of plaited chiffon. The boa is about half a yard long and finishes with long ends of plaited chiffon.

The pretty hat shown in the cut is of burnt straw. It turns up abruptly at the back, where it is filled in with loops of black velvet ribbon and Gloire de Dijon roses. These roses, to-use. It is slightly gathered at the back and sides and has a deep Spanish flounce quite straight, but not very full. This flounce is tucked and has a wide hem at the foot line. It is mounted to the upper part of the skirt with gathers or with a heading of embroidery or heavy insertion.

For thin narrow materials a circular skirt top is preferred. A deep circular flounce is sewed to this foundation, on which are any number of smaller ruffles.

Princess frocks are to be seen on many of the best models of handkerchief linen and batiste. They are tucked to fit into the waist line and trimmed with lace and designs in fine hand embroidery.

The coat pictured is of white linen. The collar and cuffs are applied with a bright navy blue linen. The belt coming from either side the back seams defines the figure and disappears beneath the fronts, leaving the latter free for the display of a pretty lingerie shirt waist.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Why Suffer from Rheumatism?
Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes, "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing which will relieve the pain." For sale by Hunt's Pharmacy.

A FOOLISH PLAN

"Tis a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hour! Because I rout indigestion with August Flower!"
Constipation is the result of indigestion, biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself.
"I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—yet who persist in "letting nature take its course."
What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Flower, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills.
August Flower gives new life to the liver and insures healthy stools.

C. A. GODING.

Some years ago, a farmer lad, grown restless and tired of tilling the soil and the small returns of farm life, left the comfortable home fireside to seek a quicker fortune in the gold diggings. The most independent man on earth is the farmer, for he makes the earth yield him almost everything needed for life. He knows that as he sows so will he reap. He usually keeps strong and healthy. In the same way that the earth yields food for man, so does it provide remedies for human ills. Thousands of households throughout the farming districts of the United States know the value of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is Nature's most valuable and health-giving agent—made without the use of alcohol. It contains roots, herbs and barks, and is the concentration of Nature's vitality as found in the fields and woods. This remedy has a history which speaks well for it because it was given to the public by Dr. R. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., nearly forty years ago. Some medicines, tonics or compounds, enjoy a large sale for a few years, then disappear but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has proved such a reliable blood remedy and tonic that it often enjoys the confidence of several generations in a family, and its increased sales year by year coming from the recommendations of those who have tried it, prove its lasting merit.

Death of Albert Reed

One of the saddest deaths of recent years which has occurred in this vicinity was that of Albert Reed who passed away after at the home of his parents, Thursday evening, May 18, after a short illness of but five days. His death followed an operation for appendicitis. The operation had been delayed as long as possible and his physicians deemed it the only hope of recovery.

Albert Eugene Reed was born twenty-six years ago in the house in which he died. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reed and a grandson of Hon. Geo. Reed. He also leaves one sister, Pearl, and two brothers, Thomas and Earl.

Allie was a general favorite among young associates and they regret his sad fate, but it is in the home life his loss will be most keenly felt. He was greatly attached to his home and always willing to shoulder his part of the burden and lessen the load of others.

Death at all times is sad but when it comes to one in the spring time of life, while the future an unopen book, the passing to the other shore is doubly sad and little wonder that those nearest and dearest are crushed by their sudden bereavement, and to them is extended the sympathy of the whole community.

The funeral services were held at his late home Sunday afternoon May 21 and the large number of friends and neighbors in attendance showed the high esteem in which he was held. The house and surrounding grounds were filled with sorrowing friends, many being present from Belvidere, Kingston and Genoa.

The Woodmen had charge of the services. Rev. Hull of Belvidere preached a consoling and pathetic sermon. The Misses Kepple sang several selections. The casket was covered with exquisite floral emblems. The pall bearers were friends of the deceased and were Fred Butler, Guy Powell, Chas. Lane, Wade Hatch, Mont Shattuck and Dick Stearns. The burial took place at Shattuck's Grove cemetery and there were 150 carriages in the procession.

Never was Shattuck's Grove cemetery more lovely than on that bright spring day. The services at the grave were very impressive and tears spoke more than words the sorrow felt. "Sleep on, beloved, sleep and take thy rest.

We loved thee well, but Jesus loved thee best.

Good night, good night, good night."
